(From Tuesday's Daily)

All records for heavy rainfall and high water have been broken by the downpour which began Saturday morning about 3 o'clock and lasted until late last night, the culmination being in a veritable cloudburst which came about five o'clock yesterday afternoon and lasted until about eight without a let up. Weather Observer Randle reports that eleven inches of rain fell during that time.

Little River rose with such rapidity that it soon overflowed the Illinois Central tracks and started with almost the speed of a mill race up Ninth street. Reaching Main the water spread up Main street and almost continued up Ninth nearly to Virginia before its force was spent and it began to recede. Every basement on Main and Ninth street was flooded and those business houses which are located in the Lwer portion of the business section, about Main and Ninth, were flooded to a depth of from eight inches to three feet. The water began to rise about six o'clock and by nine o'clock t was rising at the rate of forty inches per hour. It was four o'clock this morning before the heighth was reached and the flood began to subside.

As soon as the water came over the Illinois Central tracks and started up Ninth street with such speed, the business men whose places were located in the threatened neighborhood began to protect their stocks by piling their goods out of reach of the water. Even at this the full extent had not been calculated in some cases and goods which had thus been removed were caught and ruined.

Enormous Loss.

The property loss is estimated a from $50,000 to $100,000 and may even exceed this amount. The heaviest sufferers will be W. F. Garnett & Co., Kress' 5.10 and 25c store, P'Pool & Baugh's Racket store, W.H. Martin's drug store and Davis, Kennedy & Co.'s millinery store.

The foundations of the Racket store and W. H. Martin's drug store were so weakened that they collapsed causing a wreck of thes two buildings and a total loss of the stocks contained therein. The damage to the buildings which were three stories in height and belonged to Garnett & Co., is estimated at $20,000. Waller & Rogers, who had recently bought the stock of furniture of A. W. Pyle on the second floor, will lose from $1,500 to $2,000. P'Pool&Baugh's loss is estimated at $3,000, W. H. Martin's at $3,000 to $3,500, W. H. Olvey's at $350, while Davis, Kennedy & Co., will lose heavily as the water rose over three feet in their building.

Besides these, other Main street merchants will lose heavily. Kress & Co. will suffer great damage as their basement was flooded and the large reserve stock which is kept there will be a total loss. The heating plant in this basement was covered by the water. Bassett & Co., will suffer considerably but only from the dampness as they put their goods out of harm's way and the walls of the building have showed no indication of falling. The First National bank basement was filled and their heating plant put out of business but they were not otherwise harmed. The rooms occupied by the Singer Sewing Machine Co., and by the Postal Telegraph office were inundated to a depth of twenty-seven inches and considerable damage resulted. Yost's harness store suffered heavily, as did their storeroom in the rear. B. B. Rice's grocery and Anderson's dry goods department had water in them fourteen inches deep but in neither place was serious damage caused as everything had been moved. The clothing and shoe department at Anderson's was not flooded but the basement was filled to the brim and here another heating plant was put out of commission V. M. Williamson's coal office on Water street, was sub merged.

Buildings Flooded.

On the opposite side of Main street the damage was also heavy. Waller & Rogers's furniture store was flooded from back and front and the furniture, while it was moved, will suffer from dampness. The Kentuckian office was flooded about ten inches deep but $100 will probably cover the loss. Miss Fannie Rogers had moved her stock of millinery and her loss will be very small. The Moayon Co estimate their loss at from $1,500 to $2,000 as no attempt was made to save anything and much valuable laces, shoes, etc. were ruinek. Tom Datillo's fruit store was damaged about $200, while Anderson-Fowler Drug Company will suffer heavily from the water which rose in their store several inches. The Commercial & Savings Bank's loss was small as was the Hopkinsville grocery and E. H. Williams saloon. Other Main street stores suffered but not to any amount.

On Ninth street the waters caused much damage. The I. C. depot was flooded to such a depth that at 11 o'clock last night the employes were forced to vacate. The depot is thought to have been floated from its foundations to some extent and the platform surrounding the building was so torn up that it will have to be replaced entirely new. The track suffered considerably but fortunately in every instance where it was washed away in one place there was a parallel track over which trains could pass without delay Two freight trains were held here last night but passenger trains went through without much delay, the worst being the delay of two hours to the southbound train this morning. A considerable amount of lumber, which was stored here for repair work on the railroad, was floated off and 150 bags of cement several barrels of lime and other material were ruined. The damage to the railroad can only be estimated but will not be less than $2,000.

The freight depot was not flooded. The water lacked only about two inches of getting into Mrs. Wall's boarding house just across from the depot and the inmates took up all the carpets on the lower floor and packed their furniture and belongings in safe places but the flood was stayed just before it reached the level of the first floor. Persons living across the street were run out of their homes by the water. The storeroom of F. A. Yost & Co., in which was stored a large number of buggies and wagons was flooded so deep that the water rose into the beds of vehicles. The Western Union Telegraph office, C. E. West's bicycle store and other places along Ninth street were flooded.

The water rose two feet and six inches higher on Main and Ninth streets than ever before.

Held By Water.

At both the West Seventh and North Main street bridges the waters flowed around the end of these and persons could only get across either by boat or vehicle. At the northern end of the North Main street bridge a wire fence was washed away and lodged across the road thus effectually preventing passage until the water subsided. On Ninth street the East fork of Little river rose fully a foot higher than was ever known before, the water reaching the bed of the bridge over the stream and flowing through it to a depth of probably a foot. The water rose to a corresponding depth in Cate's mill but here also everything which could be damaged had been piled out of reach of the destroying element and the damage will be very slight.

The lime kiln of Palmer Graves was again set on fire by the water coming in contact with the lime and his loss will amount to from $300 to $500. Mr. Graves states that the water at his place was at least four feet higher than in November, 1900, at which time his kiln was destroyed in the same manner.

No Electric Lights.

The power house of the City Light company was flooded early last night and both the street and incandescent lights were put out. James Ducker, the night engineer, stuck bravely to his post until the water rose to his waist before he gave up the fight and retreated to a place of safety. The loss to the power plant will amount to about $500 and until repairs can be made there will be no more electric lights, this being for three or four nights.

The Home Telephone Company had a large number of 'phones put out of business by reason of their underground conduit on Main street becoming flooded. This occurred yesterday morning and last night the trouble was made worse by the river which flowed into this conduit until it was filled entirely, and then as the water rose higher, the signal lamp which had been hung over the manhole was submerged and put out. The Cumberland came off better, they only having a comparatively small number of 'phones interfered with and these being from the fuses burning out and not from water.

Dry Branch, just outside the city limits on West Seventh street, rose equally as rapidly as did the river and this morning presented an expanse and depth which would have been adequate for the largest boats. The stream was probably a quarter mile or more in width where it crosses Seventh street and was up to the cross arms on the telephone poles.

Moseley's Swim.

'Squire Joe Moseley had a narrow escape late yesterday afternoon. He was on his way home from Fairview and attempted to ford Little river in his buggy. The swift current washed the horse and vehicle down stream. The horse came near drowning, being hampered by the harness. Mr. Moseley cut the animal loose. By this time man, horse and buggy were in deep and swift water. Mr. Moseley swam to shore and a Gypsy, who was camping nearby, rescued the horse. The buggy, which was not greatly damaged, was taken from the stream this morning. Little river at this point, Mr. Moseley reports, is four feet higher than it has ever been before in the memory of citizens.

On account of the flooding of the basements of the three public school buildings, and the water across Seventh street, preventing the pupils and teachers from reaching the West Side building, there was no school at all today.

The pumping station of the Water company was not reached by the water, and this morning was pumping away as usual. The quarry of the Dalton Stone Co., was flooded to a depth of several feet though and it is probable that their machinery will suffer somewhat.

Work of Rescue.

Negro cabins, which are built thickly all along both forks of the river, were flooded in large numbers and in many instances the occupants had to be rescued. In this work the police patrol wagon did valiant service, it being run through the entire night and bringing out several who were threatened. In one instance people living on Elm street heard a negro living back of them screaming, and they called the patrol wagon. When they arrived they found a negro woman who had gone to sleep as usual and had not awakened until the water reached her as she lay on the bed. Enoch Phelps, the janitor at the Planters Bank & Trust company building, fell asleep in the basement and rolled off the bench on which he reclined and was found with his body partially submerged by the water which had entered the basement.

Remarkable Escape.

Druggist W. H. Martin, whose store was wrecked, had a miraculous escape from death when the roof fell in. Mr. Martin was in the store getting things in as good shape as possible when the crash came. Fortunately he was near the front and the front door was open. The roof fell first at the back of the house and the air thus forced out literally blew Mr. Martin out of the door and flat on his face in the water which covered the pavement. He was unhurt.

At the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane the water from the river reached the road in front of the institution and inundated the pumping station but did [no serious damage.

In the County.

The damage in the country districts is nothing like as serious as that of the town. The New Era has had communication by telephone with practically every community and while correspondents stated that the rainfall was grater than ever known before the damage was confined to the washing away of fences, a few small houses and similar destruction. Gracey is a pond four feet deep in some places, but the high walks made it possible for citizens to get to their places of business. The rural route carriers left Gracey at the usual hour this morning, but returned in a short time, having found the roads impassable.

At Pembroke negroes living in a two story house near the rock quarry were surrounded by water and were rescued from the second story of the building.

Bolivar, Howell, Fairview, Crofton and a dozen other points report unprecedented rainfall.

Mills Shut Down.

Both the Acme and Crescent mills were forced to shut down Monday afternoon on account of the water which rose in the engine room of the former and in the boot of the elevator in the latter. Pumps were set to work in each and the damage will be very slight. Cate's Mill was more seriously flooded but the owners state that they had removed everything to a place of safety and they suffered only slight loss.

The big tobacco warehouse of the Wm. H. Cummings & Sons Co., on Elm street was several feet deep in water, the damage to the building and contents amounting to fully $3,000. Many negro cabins in this vicinity were flooded causing considerable loss.

Tabernacle Damaged.

The union tabernacle suffered heavily as the water which stood in it at a depth of four feet caused the floor to buckle up causing a damage which it is estimated it will take $1,000 to repair. When the doors were opened yesterday morning the benches were found floating about the immense building, the interior giving the appearance of a large enclosed pond. The damage to the benches will also be considerable.

The corn crib of G. B. Underwood, on North Campbell street, toppled over on one side, this being caused by the giving way of the earth. The crib contained a large quantity of corn which falling against the lower side caused it to bulge outward.

The pump house at the water tank on the Illinois Central railroad also toppled over and will add to the already heavy loss of the road.

Golay's & Hurt's stable on Virginia street was flooded so deep that the horses and vehicles had to be removed and stored in the stable of Howard Brame.

Gloomy Gus.

The Commercial & Savings bank received their share of the surplus water but their damage will be light. The doors of the bank were closed all day yesterday while the interior was being cleaned up. It looked rather strange to see Cashier Gus Brannon wading about in a huge pair of rubber boots instead of smiling from behind his counter. The bank is open as usual today.

At The Cemetery.

Hopewell cemetery was covered to a large extent by the overflow from the river and the water which collected in the low places. A number of the private lots suffered considerably from washing as did the driveways and practically the entire fence next to the river was washed away.

The streets of the city were also terribly washed and damaged. The street had just about gotten in shape for the winter, there being only one which was really in need of work.

Rural Districts.

In the country the damage will amount to thousands of dollars, although in nearly every instance the individual loss will be light. Fences were destroyed by the wholesale, the full extent probably never being known. Thousands of barrels of corn which had not been gathered were swept away, in some sections practically the entire crop this year being lost. The wheat which was sown this fall and which had just begun to come up nicely was drowned completely in low places. Several bridges, all of them so far reported being small but causing great inconvenience in overland travel nevertheless, were swept away. One of these was the wooden bridge over a branch near George Pierce's on the Cox Mill road.

Carriers Hampered.

Rural route carriers were greatly hampered yesterday by the water in making their rounds. Carrier Elbridge Bradshaw, on route No. 1, could only go as far as the first bridge on the Clarksville pike or or Cate's Mill on Ninth Street. E. F. Coyner, on route No. 2, made his complete circuit, but had to double several times. D. W. Hanbery, on route No. 3, could only get to the bridge on the Cox Mill road and to Syarrow spring on the Palmyra road. Carrier Dillman, on route No. 4, could only go to the bridge on the Canton pike. Dry Branch was the limit reached on route 5, while the entire circuit of route No. 6 was made.

MORMONS IN KENTUCKY

Joe Smith's Followers Preparing to Invade This State.

HENDERSON, Ky., Nov. 30.—The Mormons are preparing to invade this state and trying to secure a foothold. The state convention of the Mormons of Indiana was held last Saturday at Evansville, Ind., opposite here, and it was decided at this meeting to send missionaries into Kentucky and try to start several churches. There are over 500 Mormons in Indiana, about twenty-five of whom live in Evansville, and several churches have been established in that state. The people of Henderson county and Western Kentucky do not look kindly upon the followers of Joseph Smith, and their decision to invade this state is not welcome news. It is said that the Mormon church has made great headway in the Central states during the past year. Missionaries now in Evansville are expected here within a short time to begin holding meetings. In several sections of Southern Indiana they have met with kind treatment and in Dubois county, in that state, about a year ago several missionaries of the Mormon church were chased out of the community where they had been holding revival services.

BY MR. EWING

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED.

General Manager Thinks Association Has Much to Be Thankful For.

To the Members of the Planters Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia (Incorporated)

Whereas: The presidents of the United States are pleased to follow the beautiful custom of emphasizing the national gratitude to Almighty God for his care and bounteous kindness to the country by public proclamation setting apart some day in every November as a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

And, whereas: Our ancestors were sincere worshipers of the living God and fully realized their obligations and duties to him.

And, whereas: Our association has made such wonderful and successful progress, that has redowned to our benefit against such overwhelming forces of intellect and wealth combined,

And, whereas: In Holy Writ we learn that "neither he that planteth is anything, neither he that watereth, but God that giveth the increase."

Therefore, let us as one common body of tobacco planters demonstrate our gratitude to Jehovah by observing "in true spirit and in truth," Thursday, Nov. 29th, the day of thanksgiving, as proclaimed for that purpose by President Roosevelt Oct. 22, 1906, at Washington, D. C.

In so doing we are strengthened in every possible sense, as we are but naturally performing our duty for we are thoroughly persuaded that there is all to be gained and nothing to lose by all people, unitedly and individually, realizing their obligations of gratitude to their Creator, Preserver and Benefactor.

Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much, or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

The announcement of Col. Pete Barker's discovery of a valuable pearl in a Red river musself, is followed by a press report of a Philadelphia policeman who nearly choked to death on a pearl in oyster and found out after he had recovered it and his wind that it was worth $50, which, of course, makes it one of those good chokes that we so frequently hear about and seldom see.

The Cadiz Record says:

The people of Trigg and adjoining counties deeply regret the defeat of Senator R. C. Crenshaw for commissioner of agriculture in the recent Democratic primary, who is a native of this county. We are all true Democrats, however, and meekly submit to the wishes of a majority of the party and are now heartily for Senator Newman.

Glenn's Graphic rises to propose:

"Next to the cow and the pig the common old-fashioned farm yard hen is the most valuable asset of the people of the United States. The rooster may appeal to the strutting, bragging and blowing politician, but to us the hen appeals with much more effect.

"If the Democratic party will adopt the hen as its emblem we will make a sacrd promise never again so long as we live to vote against the ticket. We have no dout that if the women of the country are ever permitted to vote they will adopt the hen as their emblem"

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tacket, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. Evansville, Ind, 16.—Two church suits, telling of controversies between the Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian Churches, one from Knox county and the other from Daviess county, were venued here to-day and will be tried in the Superior Court.

The Knox county suit was brought by the "unionists" at Monroe City against the "loyalist" and asks that they be enjoined from interfering with them in any way in their efforts to bring about the consolidation of the two churches.

The Daviess county suit is brought by the "loyalists," and they seek to get possion of the church property at Washington. The cases will probably to tried here December 11, and prominent counsel has been employed.

THE largest railway company in this country has recently borrowed fifty million dollars on its bonds from the people of France. This is remarkable owing to the large loans recently made by the same people to the Russian government and elsewhere in Europe.

Where do the French people get all this money? John D. Rockfellow, just returned from Paris, tells the secret in seven words. "The people of France save their money." Would it not be well for you to begin saving now? This bank will welcome you

UNIT LAW OF STATE

TO BE TESTED IN SUITS FILED IN ELKTON

Attempt is Made to Enjoin Authorities From Holding Prohibition Elections in Todd County.

Four suits have been filed at Elkton in the Todd county circuit court against County Judge Duffy and Sheriff Shelton; the purpose of which is to enjoin those officials from holding the prohibition election in that county on Dec. 7. Notice is given that plaintiffs on Tuesday will apply to Circuit Judge Sandidge at Russellville for this injunction.

The main ground up in the petition asking the injunction is that after the filing of county petitions certain signers who had put their names to these petitions asked the court that their names be withdrawn, giving as a reason that they did not know the purport of such petitions at the time they signed them, and that they are not, in fact, desirous of holding an election in the whole county. These signers are from Guthrie and Adairville, and it is claimed if their names were withdrawn there would not be a sufficient number of signers to justify the calling of the county elections. The petition also sets up the claim that the various towns in the county have the right to decide the question for themselves, and this will doubtless bring up the constitutionality of the county unit law.

FROM DAY TO DAY

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Allen and little son, Stewart, will regret to learn of their removal in the near future to the far west. Mrs. Allen, formerly Miss Sarah Darnall, has for the past thirty years been one of Christian county's most efficient teachers. Doubtless few, if any, have ever taught so many consecutive years in the same schools.

Hopkinsville drug clerks seem to be in demand just now, the latest one to accept an out of town position being Tom Payne, who has been with Cook & Higgins for the past several years. Mr. Payne has accepted a position with Dr. Sory, of Madisonville, and will leave the first of December to assume his duties.

A license has been issued for the marriage of Clarence Cayce and Miss Fredonia Edmundson, of the Lafayette vicinity.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy at Gulfport decided that only veterans are entitled to wear crosses of honor, and that descendants may keept but not wear them.

In all the latest magazines "Hearts and Masks", by Harold McGrath is announced as a Christmas publication, price $1.50. New Era readers will soon have the pleasure of reading the story free of charge. It will be run in this paper as a serial, beginning in a few day, and it will take only about two weeks to complete it. Here's what the critics say: "A simply delicous detective story."—Boston Journal. "A peculiarly ingenious story, light and cheerful."—New York Herald. "Done in a most readable manner."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Owensboro friends of Collector E. T. Franks are starting a boom for him for the Republican nomination for governor. But Western Kentucky Republicans, as a whole, seem to favor Judge Breathitt. A Paducah press telegram says:

"Communications are being received by Republican leaders in the First district from headquarters at Louisville, sounding them as to their choice for the Republican candidate for governor. Several have answered, and the choice in the west end of the state seems to rest on Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville. It is probable that the communications will serve to line up this section for him. Judge Breathitt is quoted by a close friend as being willing to make the race if no attempt is made to hold him up for a big campaign assessment. Judge Breathitt is an orator of exceptional ability."

John D. Rockefeller and the Vanderbilts do not seem to worry about those little fines that the juries have assessed against them, but in the sweet bye and bye when the real trust busting begins they will show more concern.

DR. BOARD TO RESIGN

WILL BE RE-APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT OF ASYLUM.

Officers Of the Institute Will Be Named Some Time In the Coming Month.

According to a despatch in Sunday's Courier-Journal from Frankfort, it is reported at the capital by those in position to know, that Dr. Milton Board, of Breckenridge county, member of the state board of control of charitable institutions, contemplates resigning his position on the board very shortly. It is said that when he does so he will be reappointed superintendent of the Western asylum for the insane at Hopkinsville, and that he will again take charge of that institution, probably about the first of the new year. Dr. Board has been a member of the state board of control since it was created by the last general assembly, and he dislikes being compelled to be so much away from his home.

The state board of control is expected some time in December to select the officers of the four institutions under its management. By the terms of the law creating the board these officials will be elected for four-year terms. So far there has been no activity by candidates for the several good places at each institution, but applicants very shortly will make themselves known to the members of the board. There is no intimation here as to who will succeed to a place on the board should Dr. Board retire and resume the place of superintendent at the Hopkinsville asylum.

SKY'S FLOOD GATES

WERE OPENED AND WATER FELL IN TORRENTS.

Streams Swollen and Higher Than They Have Been Since the Flood Of 1900.

(From Monday's Daily)

The heaviest rain which has falle since the forty hour deluge whic culminated on November 24, 1900, and which caused the river to rise nearly to Virginia street, fell here Saturday and Sunday and has kept up intermittently today. Citizens of this section were crying for rain to relieve the dryness, especially the farmers, so that tobacco would come in order and could be handled. Now, however everyone has had enough and it is the general hope that the downpour shall cease.

The rain was accompanied by heavy thunder and vivid flashes of lightning, an unusual phenomenon at this time of the year, if in no other way for the length of time which it lasted. The downpour was heavy and almost incessant from early Saturday morning until late night. It broke off Saturday night and did not begin again until yesterday afternoon, but when it did start it kept up all the night. Today it has been showery, the showers being heavy and the indiciations are that it is not yet over.

The river reached the highest point it has reached since 1900, the banks being overflowed in many places and the water lacking only two or three feet of coming up on the Illinois Central tracks. No damage has been reported and now the surplus water has been carried off to such an extent that the stream is safely back in its channel.

The Illinois Central railroad's schedule has been badly interfered with on account of landslides between this city and Nashville. Several of these occurred Saturday night, and while there were no accidents trains were all delayed. For instance the northbound Chicago Limited due here at 9:45 p. m., did not reach here until 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Last night this same train was five hours late, and its experiences were those of all other trains on that division. Southbound trains, almost without exception, reached here on time, but after leaving here they were forced to go so slowly on account of obstructions and several bad places in the track that they steadily lost time and always pulled into Nashville late. Every effort is being put forth to improve the track in every way and to remove the debris from the landslides as rapidly as possible, and the disarrangements of the schedule will soon be overcome.

FORTY-ONE PASSENGERS WERE DROWNED WHEN BOATS COLLIDED IN PUGET SOUND

SEATTLE, Nov. 19.—Forty one passengers out of seventy-nine were drowned as a result of a collision between the passenger steamer Dix and the freighter Jeannie in Puget Sound last night.

The Dix sank in a few moments.

Having no other chance of escape, those who were rescued jumped into the water and were picked up by the Jeannie.

The sea was smooth, with no fog. The Jeannie ran into the Dix near Alki Point. The blame for the disaster has not been fixed.

REVIVAL IS BEGUN

DR. JENKINS ENTERS UPON HIS WORK HERE.

Bishop Woodcock at Grace Church.—Dr. Piner Goes to Florida.—Presiding Elder.

With the introductory service of a revival meeting which is to continue indefinitely, the Rev. Millard A. Jenkins entered Sunday upon his duties as pastor of the Baptist church. The congregation was very large. Every seat in the auditorium was filled and scores of people sat in the Sunday school room. Dr. Jenkins delivered an excellent sermon on responsiveness to God as king, shepherd and father, to Christ and to the Holy Ghost. Mr. Holton, of Chicago, the singer who will have charge of the music, has a beautiful baritone voice and is an able director. The music promises to be a delightful feature of the revival. In the afternoon there was a prayer service, and Dr. Jenkins preached again at night. Despite the inclement weather, the attendance was large and deep interest was manifested. The meeting promises to result in great good in the community. Services will be held daily this week, except Saturday, at 10 a. m., and 7 p. m. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. On Saturday there will be but one meeting, a children's service which will be held in the afternoon.

The Bishop's Visit.

The Rt. Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, bishop of the diocese of Kentucky, delivered two splendid discourses at Grace church Sunday. In the afternoon he preached at the chapel of the Good Shepherd. Bishop Woodcock's visits to Hopkinsville are always looked forward to with keen pleasure not only by the Episcopalians but by a host of friendss irrespective of denominational lines. His ripe scholarship and rare eloquence make him a charming speaker and his Christian zeal makes him a power in the religious world. Bishop Woodcock will return to Hopkinville in December to perform the rites of confirmation.

Dr. Lewis Praised.

Rev. John A. Lewis, presiding elder for this district, held his first quarterly meeting for this circuit at this place last Saturday. His sermon in the forenoon was one of the best that we have heard for a number of years. The churches in the charge were shown to be in good condition and the reports made were much better than at the same time last year. The Methodist church here in the city paid almost half of the year's assessment and Brother Nicholson is well pleased with his people. The elder is one of the strongest preachers in our conference and the work of the church will certainly build up under his ministry. In sending Brother Lewis to us the conference did wisely and we are graciously blessed.—Lyon County Times.

Moves to Tampa.

Rev. W. K. Piner, who was formly pastor of the Methodist church here as well as at Bowling Green, Louisville and other cities throughout this state, embraced in the Louisville conference; has been transferred from the Methodist church at Oklahoma City to one of the largest churches in Tampa, Fla. Mr. Piner has already moved his family to his new home. The change was brought about on account of Mrs. Piner's health. Durhis stay in Oklahoma City, Dr Piner, besides improving his church in every department, raised money and built a beautiful and costly new building.

WHISKY AND A GUN

COMBINATION KNOWN OF TOO WELL IN COUNTY.

Youth Shoots a Companion and the Latter Is Lying at Point of Death.

(From Monday's Daily)

Henry Wunch, aged twenty-four years, was shot and probably fatally wounded Sunday night, about three miles west of New Empire, by Vern Samples, a seventeen-year-old boy. The men boarded at the same place, each being employed in digging coal in the neighborhood mines. Both had been drinking and when they got home last night they fell out over some trivial matter and Wunch, who is related to the people with whom they were boarding, is said to have told Samples, "You can hunt you another boarding place in the morning." It is alleged that with this Samples jumped up and seized a shotgun which was standing nearby and fired point blank at Wunch who was only about five feet distant. Nearly the entire load of shot entered Wunch's left thigh.

Dr. S. H. Williams, of Crofton, was summoned but when he arrived the wounded man had lost a large amount of blood. Dr. Williams picked 116 No. 5 shot out of Wunch's thigh and did all that was possible to relieve him, but he spent a bad night, and his death at any time is expected.

SUFFERINGS OVER

MRS. ROBERT M. ANDERSON HAS PASSED AWAY.

A Devout Christian and Her Life Was Useful.—Former Resident Dies in Owensboro.

(From Monday's Daily)

Mrs. Melissa A. Anderson, the beloved wife of Robert M. Anderson died Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at her home on Sixth street of a complication of diseases. She had been an invalid for months and several times her life had been despaired of. Her condition had seemed to be better last week and she was able to sit up Saturday. The end come unexpectedly.

Mrs. Anderson was a life-long and consistent Christian, a loyal friend and a devoted, self sacrificing wife and mother, and her death causes general sorrow. She was born December 30, 1842 in Shelby county, Kentucky, and her maiden name was Milissa A. Woods. She was married February 27, 1860 to Mr. Anderson. She is survived by her husband and three daughters, Mrs. F. F. Henderson and Mrs. E. M. Moss, of this city, and Mrs. W. S. Elgin, of Nortonville, and also by five brothers and one sister.

The funeral took place this afternoon at two o'clock at the late residenoe, and was conducted by the Rev. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the Baptist chuech, of which the deceased was a faithful member. Interment in Hopewell cemetary.

Native of Christian County.

Mrs. Virginia Hermon, wife of William E. Hermon, died at nine o'clock yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Atchison, on Frederica street. Her death resulted from infirmities incident to old age.

Mrs. Hermon was born in Hopkinsville, Ky., November 23, 1833. She was, before her marriage, Miss Virginia Cabiness, and was descended from an old Virginia family. After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Hermon made their home in South Carrollton, but for several years past lived with their daughter, Mrs. Atchison. Mrs. Hermon was a devoted Christian and a member of the Methodist church.

She is survived by her husband and two children, Mrs. J. D. Atchison and John P. Hermon, both of Owensboro.—Owensboro Messenger.

TO EXPEND $25,000

IN THE NEW BUILDING AT OLD MASONS' HOME.

Present Quarters Are Too Small.—Something About the Present Place Near Shelbyville.

Last week the directors of the Old Masons' Home of Kentucky met at Shelbyville and authorized the erection of a building, not to exceed in costs $25,000 on the farm owned and conducted by the Masons of the state one mile from the city of Shelbyville.

In 1895 a movement was inaugurated in the grand lodge of Kentucky looking towards the establishment of a home for the old mason's of the state who are unable to care for themselves. Subscriptions were solicited from individual members and lodges and over $50,000 was raised. Several years ago a farm consisling of 166 acres of fine land near Shelvyville was purchased and the home thrown open for the reception of old masons. A dairy was established and stock raising in a small way engaged in. At this time there are 14 old masons at the home, the average age of whom is 72 years. The present quarters are becoming crowded and a new modern building is to be erected with a capacity of caring 50 old men. The building will be equipped with electric lights, electric bells, water and steam heat, with everything arranged for the comfort and convenience of the old men. The institution is mainly by voluntary subscriptions and profits from the dairy sales and that of the cattle.

The present herd of milch cows number 38 fine Jerseys, and there is also a drove of twenty-odd promising heifers. Some of the finest Berkshire hogs are to be found on this farm, two of which were awarded the blue ribbon at the late fair held at Lexington. This farm, purchased by the Masons several years ago, has increased almost 50 per cent. in value, and the success of the enterprise is assured.

KEPT FROM FUNERAL

OF HIS FATHER BY SEVERE ATTACK OF ILLNESS.

Superintendent John W. Logsdon, Former L. & N. Agent Here, Confined To His Bed.

While confined to his room, himself so sick as to be unable to attend the funeral, Superintendent John W. Logsdon of the St. Louis and Henderson divisions of the L. & N. railway, and formerly L. & N. agent at Hopkinsville, received a message telling him of the death of his father, J. S. Logsdon, at Horse Cave, Ky.

For five weeks Superintendent Logsdon has been very sick at Evansville and the blow strikes him at this time was an added severity owing to the fact that he was unable to attend his father's funeral.

The elder Logsdon was taken suddenly very sick about three weeks ago. At the time his daughter, Miss Bessie, was in Evansville nursing her brother. She was compelled to leave for the bedside of her father and has been constantly with him since.

He gradually grew worse and Friday evening his life was despaired of. He died Saturday morning at 4 o'clock but his son was so ill that the message was not conveyed to him until late in the day.

The funeral was held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock with burial at Horse Cave.

The elder Mr. Logsdon was a farmer and business man of considerable prominence in central Kentucky, but had led a retired life for several years. He leaves, besides John W. Logsdon, another son, J. E., who is the L. & N. agent at Horse Cave, and two daughters, Miss Bessie, who lives at home with her father and brother, and a married daughter in Mt. Vernon, Ill.

"All the constituents of a 150 pound man are contained in 1,200 eggs," said the chemist.

"There is enough gas in a man," he went on, "to fill a gasometer of 3,649 cubic feet. There is enough iron to make four nails. There is enough fat to make 75 candles and a large cake of soap. There is enough phosphorous to make 8,064 boxes of matches.

"Furthermore, that man who is aeronautical will be pleased to know that there is enough hydrogen in him to fill a ballon and carry him up to the clouds.

"The remaining constituents of a man would yield, if utilized, six cruets of salt, a bowl of sugar and ten gallons of water."

U. S. Senator Thomas C. Platt and his wife, formerly Mrs. Lillian T. Janeway, have agreed to separate. The law firm of Marsh, Winslow & Weaver, acting for Mrs. Platt, made the announcement. The deed was signed by both, but not in the presence of each other.

"The prevalence of appendicitis is an admitted fact," said a surgeon. "I have myself operated on 719 persons for the disease. Crossing the legs is responsible for a good deal of this trouble. That sounds strange, doesn't it? Nevertheless it is a theory advocated by more than one great surgeon. Indeed, I know some men who say that if people never crossed their legs appendicitis would quite disappear. You see, crossing the legs squeezes the delicate veriform appendix. Squeezed and cramped, the appendix becomes irritated. Inflammation sets in. Intense pain comes. Then—presto—you are on your back, the sweet and heavy fumes of chloroform are choking you, and the appendicitis specialist bends over you with a sharp knife."

According to the statistics gathered by a trade magazine, the United States spent during 1905 $222,000,000 for nonalcoholic drinks and $1,324,000,000 for alcoholic drinks. The figures, apportioned to the various classes, are: For cocoa, $8,000,000; for tea, $72,000,000; for coffee, $162,000,000; for wines, $96,000,000; for whisky, $457,000,000, and for beer, $771,000,000. The quantities consumed are estimated to be, in millions of gallons, coffee, 1,652; beer, 1,538; tea, 600, spirits and wines, 135. The total consumption of these liquids was about 4,000,000,000 gallons.

The peanut crop in the United States now amounts to 11,000,000 bushels annually. The total sales amount to between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000.

Jewelry manufacturers are trying to fill orders which have been rushed upon them as never before known in the trade. A canvass of the shops in New York showed that with most of the plants running day and night the demand cannot be supplied. There is a scarcity of skilled labor, and this has led to advance in wages. The demand for bracelets is said to be the direct cause of the strain upon the capacity of the factories.

Those in quest of the eternal "something new" will doubtless be somewhat interested in the announcement of the forthcoming Uncle Remus' Magazine.

No, it's not to be in dialect for Roosevelt spelling.

But something unique and out of the usual run of things is promised by the fact that Joel Chandler Harris—writer of and maker of folklore, writer of novels, something of a poet and incidentally one of the most brilliant figures in journalism of the last quarter of a century—is to be editor.

There have in the past been many Southern magazines. Few have left the post and even less have taken the first jump; but this has some $250,000 behind it.

The first issue will appear next March, bearing the April imprint.

CONTRACTS MADE

BY THE CITY COUNCIL FOR LIGHTS AND WATER

Price is Practically Same as Before But City Gains Thirteen Lights.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The city council met in regular mid-monthly session last night. While considerable business of importance was transacted the meeting was unusually short.

The feature of the meeting was the renewal of the light and water contracts. The water contract expired five years ago and a new one was never made. Last night an agreement was reached between the city and the Hopkinsville Water company whereby a total of 110 hydrants are to be secured for $4,320. The city also has the privilege of changing the location of several hydrants. This price is $320 less than the old contract.

The new light contract which takes the place of the one which expired last June, secures ninety arc lights of the new pattern which has recently been installed for $6,300. This is an increase of thirteen lights over the present arrangement and three of these additional lights have already been ordered put in. This price is $300 in advance of the old contract. The two contracts represent an expenditure on the part of the city of $10,620.

It is also provided that in the future these contracts shall be renewed annually and not allowed to run along after expiration as has been the case this time, especially the water contract.

The resignation of Policeman Amos Haydon was presented and accepted by the council. W. T. Broderick was appointed to fill the vacancy until the election which will be held next month.

Several other matters, one of which was the final settlement with City Assessor J. G. Cooper, were disposed of.

INJUNCTION REFUSED.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 17.—Federal Judge Evans today refused an injunction against the Louisville & Nashville railroad which was prayed for by the telegraphers on the grounds that the road had discharged men belonging to the union.

NO COMPROMISE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—It is announced that President Roosevelt will not consent to any compromise whereby the oil trust can plead guilty in civil actions and thus escape criminal presecutions. The president is anxious to see some of the main men in the octopus punished.

DANGERS FROM DYSPEPSIA

Imperfect Digestion Most Prolific Cause of Serious Disease.

Few people seem to realize the real dangers in disturbed, deficient or defective digestion.

While health reports do not give indigestion as a cause of death yet it is in reality often fatal, as it so weakens the stomach that one becomes readily susceptible to an attack of typhoid fever, kidney disease, nervous prostration or other serious or fatal disease.

At the first symptoms of indigestion, Mi-o-na stomach tablets should be used. If there is a feeling of heaviness in the stomach, distress after eating, nervousness, dizziness, nausea, headaches, sleeplessness, pains in the side and limbs, specks before the eyes or a peevish, irritable condition, with debility and weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once.

It will build up the stomach and digestive organs so that you can eat anything at any time without fear of distress or indigestion.

A 50-cent box of Mi-o-na tablets will, in most cases, give prompt relief and cure, although in chronic and long-standing weakness of the stomach, two boxes or more are sometimes needed, but L. L. Elgin guarantees Mi-o-na will cure, in all cases, no matter how chronic or serious, or money will be refunded. You run no risk whatever in buying Mi-o-na. 18 --1

IS THE UNITED STATES ARMY AT PRESENT.

The Report of Surgeon General Is Anything But One to Be Proud Of.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The U. S. army is the drunkest in the world, according to figures contained in the report of Surgeon General O'Reilly, head of the medical department of the army, which has just been made public.

Though Gen. O'Reilly does not so state, this undisputed eminence has been attained since the abolition of the canteen system. Several commanding generals have made this plain. The report also makes clear that many of the diseases from which soldiers suffer are caused by driving them outside the posts for amusement.

The British army is the sickest in the world, according to General O'Reilly, the death rate there being 7.13 per thousand men per annum. The American army stands next with a death rate of 6.28, while the Prussian army has the lowest with a death rate of 2 per thousand.

The American army, however, has the shortest average duration of sickness.

Many countries have a low death rate, explains the report, because their soldiers when fatally sick are promptly discharged and allowed to die outside the army instead of on the hospital rolls.

A warning to congress that unless the appropriation is increased and more medical officers appointed there will be another "lamentable breakdown in case of war," is included in the report. "It will be impossible for the medical department to reach a high degree of efficiency without this assistance," states Gen O'Reilly. "It should not be postponed until war is imminent, as it requires years of time for the selection and training of medical officers."

CADIZ TO STAY DRY

ANOTHER LOCAL OPTION ELECTION REFUSED.

Should Have Taken Vote Prior to September 15. - Whisky Men Barred by Vote in County.

CADIZ, Ky., Nov.—In the county court here this week County Judge G. B. Bingham passed upon the petition that was filed in his court in October, by the whisky interests of Cadiz, asking for an election upon the question of saloons in Cadiz, on December 7. The question was voted on throughout this county on September 15, under the county unit law, the county going dry. In passing upon the matter, Judge Bingham does not decide whether the county unit law is constitutional or not, but holds that the people of Cadiz had a chance to vote separately upon the question, prior to September 15, but as they failed to avail themselves of this opportunity, and as Cadiz went "dry" in the recent election, they are therefore barred from again voting upon the question in Cadiz precincts for the next three years. He refused to consider the petition.

GREAT MEETING

Rev. M. F. Ham Concludes Successful Revival at Beaumont, Texas.

An account of the closing of his great revival meeting at Beaumont, Tex., by the Rev. M. F. Ham, of this city, has been received by Dr. J. S. Dill in a private letter from the evangelist, says the Bowling Green News.

As a result of his work, 152 persons have joined the First Baptist church at Beaumont and a number of others different churches of the city. Among others, four gifted young men were converted who feel called to special service, two of whom will enter the Moody Institute in Chicago and another the Southern Baptist Seminary. The fourth, who will assist Mr. Ham with the music in the latter's evangelistic work, is one of the musical marvels of South Texas, who has heretofore been the pianist at the opera house and played for balls in the city.

Mr. Ham is now beginning a revival at Houston, Texas.

COWS USE TOBACCO

NO DOUBT THEY'LL BE SMOKING CIGARETTES NEXT.

Housatonic Valley Jerseys Enjoy New Cuds and Moo For More.—Bill Parcells Shocked.

KENT, Conn., Nov. 17.—The cows in this part of Connecticut are a progressive lot. Early in the fall they nearly all have stomach ache from eating too many apples. Now they have got to chewing tobacco.

"Goshhang it," said Bill Parcells, 'they'll be smoking cigarettes next. There's too much education floatin' around. I'm off."

Old man Roberts, who has a tobacco plantation near South Spectale Lake, introduced the chewing habit among the cows. After he had cut his tobacco he turned his Jeseys into the field to see if they would eat the stalke. For years the farmers have been afraid to do it, but Roberts said he would take the chance, as it was a shame to let such big green stalks go to waste.

Roberts' cows ate all the stalks and mooed for more. Their milk was not affected either in color or taste. The good news spread and now everybody's cows in the Housatonic valley are chewing the real cuds.

The only thing is that when the cows chew too much they grow a little bit cross-eyed, and their mouths hitch up at one side. This is supposed to be a nervous affection. They also have a strong breath, which is to be analyzed by a professor from Yale.

OLD SORES OFTEN LEAD TO CANCER

Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal and shows signs of becoming chronic, it should arouse suspicion, because many of these places lead to Cancer. It may appear as an ordinary sore at first, and is given treatment as such, with some simple salve, wash or plaster, with the hope that the place will heal, but the real seat of the trouble is in the blood and cannot be reached by external remedies, and soon the sore will return. After awhile the deadly poison begins to eat into the surrounding flesh and the ulcer spreads rapidly, becoming more offensive and alarming until at last the sufferer finds he is afflicted with Cancer. Cancerous ulcers often start from a boil, wart, mole or pimple, which has been bruised or roughly handled, showing that the taint is in the blood, perhaps inherited. Another cause for non-healing ulcers and sores is the remains of some constitutional disease or the effects of a long spell of sickness. S. S. S. goes down to the very root of the trouble and cures so thoroughly that there is never any sign of the trouble in after years. As soon as the system gets under the influence of S. S. S. the place begins to improve, the discharge gradually grows less, the inflammation leaves, the flesh resumes its healthy color, and soon the sore is well, because every vestige of the cause has been removed from the blood. Book on sores and ulcers and medical advice without charge.

I was suffering greatly from a cancerous ulcer on my left breast, which had begun to eat, and at times would discharge very offensive matter. I knew the trouble was hereditary as an only sister, my mother and two of her sisters died of Cancer. I am fully satisfied I would have gone the same way but for S. S. S., which cured me.

ST. LOUIS, MO., November 21.—E. C. Andrews of Nashville, Tenn., who is stopping at the Planter's Hotel, has refused $1,500 for a pearl which his brother extracted from a fish captured in the Red River in Kentucky. The fish was of the cat variety. When taking it from the hook Mr. Andrews felt something hard in its stomach. To satisfy his curiosity he cut the fish open and discovered the pearl. He took the gem home and had a jeweler examine it. The jeweler pronounced it of great value and rare beauty.

IN BAD CONDITION

IS UNION TABERNACLE AND MONEY IS NEEDED.

The Public Is Called On to Contribute to Funds to Make Necessary Repairs.

Mr. Editor:—

The Tabernacle is more or less a wreck, caused by the recent rains and high water. The entire interior was flooded, the water stood about four feet at the ticket office, at front entrance door, and must have been eight or ten feet deep at the stage. The entire floor is torn, and twisted, and the house is in wretched condition. All the loose fixtures like benches, stoves, piano stools seemed to have floated for hours. It has been roughly estimated that the repairs would cost $1,000 or more, and my first thought was that the course arranged for 1906-7 must be called off. But as these attractions have all been contracted for this is no easy matter. At the meeting of the tabernacle board last night, it was decided to ask the public for voluntary subscriptiosn, which may be left at the Bank of Hopkinsville, and these lists will be published every day in the city papers. The ministers were also asked to take up a special offering at an early date. We hope in this way to raise enough money to put the house in repair again.

We hope the friends in the county, who enjoy this institution, will join with the local public, and subscribe to this good cause. There is no other building that would accomodate the course audiences, and if the repair is not made in a short time, we must of course wire the different bureaus, that the course has been declared off, until the building is put in shape.

It seems that the general public could not afford to let this building remain in this condition, and if it is to be repaired, it will cost less now, than it will to wait longer.

CITY ENJOINED

Madisonville is Having Trouble Over Lighting Plant.

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 21.—Richard W. Overall has filed a lengthy petition before Circuit Judge J. F. Gordon restraining the city of Madisonville from further proceeding to erect its municipal electric light plant. The petition names the following defendants: I. N. Vickers, mayor; the city council, Madisonville Improvement Co., Ryan Constructing Co., and Charles Fleming, who is superintending the work of the new plant.

The petition alleges that the council made the contract with the machinery Sales Co., of Cincinnati, to supply the machinery at a meeting when a quorum was not present and that said contract is illegal and void.

The city council has been busy for several weeks establishing the municipal light plant. The power-house is about completed, and for the past week poles have been put on the street, and would have been ready for the wires in the course of a few days. A hot legal fight is now assured, as the best lawyers in western Kentucky have been retained by both sides.

Drug Store Fails.

The People's drug store, a Sixth street colored establishment, has filed a deed of assignment, naming Attorney W. G. Southall as trustee. Liabilities, $700; assets, about $500.

FOR THE INDIANS

LEGISLATION OF IMPORTANCE BY LAST CONGRESS

No Previous One Has Equaled it, Says The Commissioner Of Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The annual report of Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs, has been made public. Mr. Leupp says that no congress passed so much legislation of vital importance to the the Indians as the last session of that body.

To promote the training of the Indian in the culture of sugar beets and to secure legislation looking to an equitable division of tribal funds, thereby making the red man a free and independent citizen, are the two projects for which the commissioner is working hardest as future accomplishments. To carry out the beet sugar plan legislation is needed authorizing the extension of Indian land leases beyond the five-year period.

Regarding the allotment of tribal funds, the commissioner says that while he would prefer modifications of the Lacey bill, which passed the house and is now before the senate, he would rather see the measure become law than to have no action taken.

Indians have been encouraged during the past year to seek labor outside the reservations, with a showin of benificial results, which leads the commissioner to regard this as a valuable means of developing self-supporting ipdependence. The cooperation of white and Indian children in the public scholls have been encouraged. To this end contracts have been made with county school authorities wherever practicable, and results have been gratifying.

The expenditure for the Indians for the fiscal year aggregates $12,742,859. The commissioner explains that the items of largest increase was the one fulfilling treaty stipulation—$1,715,921—and the irrigation project, on which $3,194,793 was spent.

Mr. Leupp declares the Burke law of the last session will enable the Indian officers to manage the affairs of the helpless class of Indians with undisputed authority, and to remove from the roll of wards and depencents the large and increasing number of Indians, who no longer need any supervision from a buren in Washington.

Pythians to Return Money.

A meeting of the board of trustees of the new Knights of Pythias Widows and Orphans' home will be held here next Saturday. The board is composed of Emmet Orr, chairman, of Owenton; R. M. Hunter, of Nicholasville; McHenry Rhoads, of Henderson; Lucian Davis, of Hopkinsville, and W. C. G. Hobbs, of this city. The chief object of the meeting will be the repayment to the county of $4,000, which was contributed by the court when the home was established here, but which the grand lodge decided should be returned, so that the home should be independent of the county. This money is to be paid by the board of trustees, who will be reimbursed by the Lexington lodges. A superintendent for the home will probably be selected at this meeting of the board. The board will take possession of the property which has been purchased for the home, on March 6.—Lexington Despatch.

New Summer Resort.

PEMBROKE, Ky., Nov. 20.—A new $10,000 hotel is soon to be built at Salubria, north of here. The sulphur spring at that place is said to be the finest in the state, its curative properties having been known for half a century. It is now thought that if the hotel is built an electric line from Hopkinsville to this place would soon follow. Such a road has been talked of, and is thought by all would be highly profitable to both cities.

Official notice has been received by E. T. Franks, collector of internal revenue for the Second district of Kentucky at Owensboro, that all deputy internal revenue collectors have been put under civil service. The ruling, which was announced by the secretary of the treasury, affects about 1,100 government employes in the United States, and about seventy in Kentucky.

KENTUCKY IN LINE

FOR REPRESENTATION AT JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

Brief Time Makes Hard Work Necessary For a Creditable Display.

With but little over five months in which to accomplish its task of bringing about a proper representation of the of the state at the Jamestown Exposition, the Kentucky commission is now bending every energy to the work. From the commission headquarters, which have been established in the Commercial building at Louisville, of the canvass for funds for the building and exhibits is taking place. The commission wishes to raise not less than $40,000, this sum to be expended in the erection of a state building and the collection and installation of exhibits that will represent Kentucky's resources and the products of her factories, mines and mills.

Center of Great Population.

The Jamestown exposition promises to be the most picturesque international fair ever held. From the standpoint of attendance, it is almost certain to far eclipse any other exposition ever held on American soil when the amount of money expended and the size of the fair are taken into consideration. Within twelve hours' ride of Hampton Roads, in which it is located, dwell 21,000,000 persons. Nearly 40,000,000 people live within a twenty-four hours' ride of the exposition site. The whole region around Jamestown is one of important seaside resorts, and without the added attraction of the exposition hundreds of thousands of persons travel from the West to these places each summer.

Drawing from the populous eastern section of the county and from foreign nations, the Exposition will be a fitting place, so the commissioners declare, for Kentucky to display before the most interested audience the products of her factories and soil. From a commercial standpoint the argument is frequently given that this will be one of the rarest opportunities for the business interests of the state to reach outsiders. In a sentimental way Kentucky will, of course, want representation, being the most promising child of Virginia.

Subscription books have been opened at the Kentucky commission headquarters and the canvass is being prosecuted with vigor. Every section of the state will be invited to contribute, and the canvass will cover all forms of business, as well as professional and educational classes throughout the entire state. It is necessary that the subscriptions pour in at a rapid rate in order that the commission may have as much time as possible to devote to the erection of a state building and the collection of exhibits. Kentucky's building will be replica of the Fort of Boonesboro.

ON CRIMINAL LIBEL

Phil H. Brown, editor of the Morning News, the colored paper of this city, is in trouble with Methodist preachers of his race. A month ago he wrote up the Rev. C. H. Phillips, of Nashville, who had an interview in a paper which gave offense to Brown. His criticisms were so severe that one preacher named Parker, of Madisonville, took it up, and Brown then turned his batteries on Parker, denouncing him in strong terms and calling on Bishop Lane to stop him from preaching. Last week Mopping, the local preacher, who sympathized with Parker, was drawn into it and came in for a severe roast. The result of the controversy is that both Parker and Mopping have sworn out warrants charging Brown with criminal libel, and he has been put under bond of $100 in each case to answer to the February grand jury.

Challenge From L. L. Elgin.

L. L. Elgin is seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Hopkinsville or vicinity to test Dr Howard's new specific for the cure of those diseases.

So confident is he that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that he offers to refund the money should it not be successful.

In order to secure the quickest possible introduction L. L. Elgin will sell a regular fifty cent package of this medicine at half price. 25 cents.

This specific of Dr. Howard's will cure sick headache, dizzy feelings, conspipation, dyspepsia, and all forms of malaria and liver trouble. It does not simply give relief for a time; it makes permanent and complete cures.

SALOON SHOOTING

CURRIE OLDHAM, COLORED, PROBABLY FATALLY WOUNDED.

Ed Barker, Who Used a Pistol, Made His Escape.—Negress at Bottom of Trouble.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Ed Barker shot and probably mortally wounded Currie Oldham yesterday afternoon. Both are negroes. The encounter occurred in Kirkpatrick's saloon on Sixth street. The saloon was crowded with negroes when Barker entered the room and walked up to Oldham who was standing at the bar.

"I'm tired of you bullying me and I'm going to have it out right here," Barker is reported to have said.

"Let me explain," replied Oldham. "No, I'm going to kill you," cried Barker, pulling a revolver from his pocket and firing three times at Oldham. All three shots took effect. One entered the negro's stomach, another his arm and the third his hip.

Barker ran out of the front door and escaped. The police are searching for him. Oldham was removed to Dr. Duncan's office where his wounds received attention, after which a colored woman, about whom the trouble is said to have occurred, and who is reported to be Barker's wife, carried Oldham in a hack to her dwelling. There is slight chance for his recovery.

KENTUCKY IS RICH

ONLY TWO SOUTHERN STATES ARE WEALTHIER

With the exception of Missouri and Texas, Kentucky is the richest state in the South in point of actual wealth. This interesting fact is disclosed by figures given out by the United States census bureau, which has been engaged for some time in ascertaining the wealth of the country.

The wealth of the Bluegrass state as computed by the government experts for the year 1904 is $1,527,486,230. Of this $859,246,991 consists of real estate and improvements thereon; $155,772,000 of railroad property and equipment; $91,489,357 of live stock; $30,907,185 of manufacturing machinery; $59,718,312 of street railroads, telegraphs and telephones; $41,372,598 of gold and silver coin and bullion; unclassified wealth amounts to $271,295,852 and in addition there are several other smaller sub-divisions.

Kentucky's wealth exceeds that of the state of Maryland by $15,000,000, the figures for the valuation of Maryland being $1,511,438,172. The wealth of other Southern states is as follows: Virginia, $1,287,970,180; North Carolina, $832,072,218; South Carolina, $585,853,222; Georgia, $1,167,445,671; Florida, $431,409,300; Tennessee, $1,104,223,979; Alabama, $865,014,261; Mississippi, $688,249,022; Louisiana, $1,032,229,006; Arkansas, $803,907,972. Missouri's wealth amounts to $3,759,497,451, and that of Texas to $2,836,322,003. In the matter of ready cash, that is, gold and silver coin and bullion, Kentucky leads all but two of the Southern states.

Against her $41,372,698 of this form of wealth, Maryland has only $27,193,340; Virginia, $35,570,389; North Carolina, $35,669,724; South Carolina, $24,891,807. Georgia has $42,509,959, and Missouri, $82,726,039.

The aggregate wealth of the United States is placed at $107,104,192,410. In 1900 it was $88,517,306,777, an increase of $18,587,000,000, or 21 per cent. Kentucky's wealth in 1900 was $1,365,130,718, which means an increase by 1904, the census year, of $163,000,000, or 12 per cent.

Indiana's wealth is placed at $3,105,781,739, as against $2,606,403,004, in 1900. The assessed valuation of property in Kentucky is $700,881,340, or nearly 50 per cent. of the total wealth; that of Tennessee is $428,715,337, and of Indiana $1,532,896,640. It will be observed that the Kentucky assessment is much lagger than the adjoining states; it is likewise larger than the average assessvalue for the country.

JUSTICE HARLAN

MAY BE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

Leaders at Washington Favor His Candidacy.—Aid of President Will Be Asked.

FRANKFORT, KY., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Despatches from Owensboro to the effect that the Hon. E. T. Franks, the Second district Republican leader, would seek the nomination of his party for the governorship next year has set Republican politicians here to gossiping, and developed that Mr. Franks will find opposition for the honor of heading the Republican ticket for state offices next year.

A well-known Republican here, who spends much of his time out in the state, and who is close to the leaders of the party, says that within the last few days, since the Democratic nominations have been made a movement has been set on foot to induce Justice John M. Harlan, of the United States supreme court, to return to his old home and round out his public career by leading a fight of his party. It is said that the matter has been discussed with John W. Yerkes at Washington, and that it will be taken up with President Roosevelt during the next few weeks, with the idea of preventing a "machine made" nomination in Kentucky. Judge Harlan, this Republican says, has been talked with upon the subject, and that, while he did not give assent to the proposition at once, he seemed pleased with the idea. Judge Harlan's name was mentioned some time ago, and attracted much favorable comment from Republican leaders in different sections of the State.

Others who are mentioned by Republicans here are Judge Edward C. O'Rear, of Montgomery county, member of the Court of Appeals; former Judge A. R. Burnam, of Madison county, and State Senator William H. Cox, of Maysville. It is said here that fully 60 per cent. of the Republican voters out in the State favor the candidacy of Judge O'Rear but that he is not inclined to make the race. He likes the judicial work in which he is engaged, and aspires to go to higher place upon the bench.

Judge Burnam would, it is thought, look favorably into the matter if a boom should be started for him and would have considerable following to start with. He is said to be favored by several influential federal office-holders in Kentucky.

Senator Cox may be expected to announce early in the new year for a place on the state ticket. He would like to be the nominee for governor, but would accept the post of lieutenant governor for which he thinks his years of service in the state senate would especially fit him.

Another man who has ambitions in this direction is State Senator A. S. Bennett, of Ohio county. He was one of his party's leaders in the last assembly, and since it adjourned has been engaged in fighting in the courts to have the redistricting act declared to be unconstitutional and void. Representative W. C. Halbert, of Vanceburg, Lewis county, a leader of the minority side in the house of representatives at the last session, is spoken of for the nomination for attorney general.

HEAVY COUNTY LOSS

LIVE STOCK WAS DROWNED IN SEVERAL VICINITIES.

Thousands of Rats Washed From Their Holes. — Buildings in Flood District Tested.

With the bright sunshine and crisp atmosphere of today the evidences left by the disastrous flood of Monday night are rapidly being effaced and conditions are again becoming normal, although the watery visitation is still the topic of conversation.

All late reports continue to indicate that the damage will at least reach $100,000, while some persons estimate that the loss in this city alone will reach this sum. If this be true, the loss in the county will amount to nearly half as much again. The flood is rated as by far the greatest calamity which has been visited upon the city since the big fire of 1882 when the business section was practically wiped out. The present damage is even greater than that in proportion, for this time the loss is total by reason of there not being any insurance which covered loss by flood or collapsing walls. The entire burden therefore falls upon the property owners who suffered.

All buildings in the flooded district have been carefully inspected by experts and in every instance they have been reported as safe.

The complete list of the individual losses of those persons who lived along the course of the river, principally negroes, and whose houses were flooded by the water, will never be known. All of these however suffered heavily according to their financial standing and the aggregate damage would run into the thousands of dollars. Those stores which were flooded to any great extent have been putting forth strenuous efforts toward getting out the damaged goods and doing everything possible to save it. Bassett & Co., the John Moayon Co., Davis Kennedy & Co., and Kress & Co., are the heaviest losers in this respect. In some of the stores there is a strong odor, the cause of which cannot be accurately stated. Some claim it is caused by the dampness while others assert that it is dead rats which were caught by the water and drowned. The water caused rats everywhere to forsake their holes and seek other refuge, in many places the rodents being seen in large numbers on the tops of houses and running about the streets.

In the county heavy loss is reported in nearly every section. Bridges were washed away in large numbers, three of these being iron structures over Tradewater, none of them being actually washed down stream but rendered impassable and to repair which it will cost the county a considerable sum. It is also reported that the bridge at Stegar's Mill was badly damaged. The East approach to the bridge at Cate's Mill was also badly washed.

Farmers sustained their share of the general loss. A large portion of the corn crop along the water courses had not been gathered and wherever the water reached it, it was washed away. New sown wheat along the river bottoms and in low places was drowned out by the water. Several farmers report the loss of hogs and cattle by drowning. Fences along the streams were swept away almost entirely and this item alone will amount to a large sum.

Not only did the rivers show the effects of the deluge but ponds and lakes are higher than ever before known. The large lake which forms every winter on the farm of R. T. Stowe near Newstead, is a regular sea it being fully three miles long and from a half to three quarters of a mile in width, the highest ever known. Ponds are out of their usual banks in many places, some of these covering roads.

The big lake completed this summer on the Greenville road by the Hopkinsville Water company is full up to the brim and Hopkinsville need not fear a water famine for a long time. The immense dam holding this great body of water stood the strain without the least indication of a crack anywhere, as did the dam at the pumping station. The dam at Cate's Mill also held without giving any signs of giving away.

While there has been so much destruction and loss caused by the high water, one ray of brightness breaks through the general gloom. This is the season which has come to the tobacco in the barns and of which the farmers are taking advantage and are stripping out their crops as rapidly as possible. The heavy and continued rains caused a good season, this being the first since the crop was housed and cured. In this regard the farmers are very much pleased with the rain.

RETURNS CANVASSED

NOMINEES OF PRIMARY FORMALLY DECLARED.

State Committee Completes Its Work. —Expenses Were Below Estimate And Balance is Returned.

The Democratic state executive committee, in session at Louisville, canvassed the returns from the primary election held throughout the State on November 6 last and declared the nominees. Democratic voters to the number of 154,081 participated in the primary election. Their votes were distributed and nominees selected as follows:

For United States Senator - J. C. W. Beckham 82,599; James B. McCreary 71,482. Beckham's majority 11,117.

For Governor—S. W. Hager 86,115; N. B. Hays 55,233. Hager's majority 30,882.

For Attorney General — John K. Hendrick 69,368; Lillard Carter 36,827. Hendrick's majority 33,551

For Superintendent of Public Instruction—M. O. Winfrey 56,065; E. A. Cullion 50,491. Winfrey's majority 5,574.

For Commissioner of Agriculture—J. W. Newman 54,072; R. C. Crenshaw 48,752. Newman's majority 5,320.

For Lieutenant Governor—South Trimble 87,118.

For State Auditor—Henry M. Bosworth 86,274.

For Secretary of State—Hubert Vreeland 83,253.

For Treasurer—Ruby Laffoon 81,643.

For Clerk of Court of Appeals—John B. Chenault 85,416.

These figures represent the official returns from 116 counties of the state. No election was held in the county of Martin, in the Eleventh district, and returns have not come in from the counties of Butler and Union and only partial returns from the county of Edmundson, it reporting only in the races in which there were contests for nominations.

Interest centered, of course, in the contests for United States senator and for governor, and the largest vote was polled in these races. The largest vote of the primary was cast in the gubernatorial contest. More than one hundred thousand votes were cast in every race in which there was a contest.

In the race for the governorship Judge Hager, the nominee, carried ninety-four of the counties officially reported, and Gov. Beckham for senator carried eighty counties. Congressman South Trimble, for Lieutenant Governor, received the greatest number of votes of any candidate before the primary, polling 87,118 votes. Judge Hager polled the largest vote of any candidate having opposition, receiving 86,115 votes.

Of the congressional districts Judge Hager, for governor, carried nine of the eleven districts, losing only the Fifth and Sixth. In the senatorial contest Gov. Beckham carried seven districts and Senator McCreary four districts, the Second, Fifth, Sixth and Eighth.

The expense of conducting the primary election was $29,007.23. It was estimated beforehand that it would cost above $30,000, and the candidates were assessed the sum of $32,300. This leaves to be refunded to the candidates $3,344.62. The committee has decided that $500 of this money should be held by the subcommittee to meet any bills which may later be presented, and that the remainder should be at once prorated to the candidates.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON VIII, FOURTH QUARTER, INTERNATIONAL SERIES, NOV. 25.

Text of the Lesson, Isa. v. 11-23. Memory Verse, 11—Golden Text, I Cor. ix, 27—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1906, by American Press Association.]

This temperance lesson, with its golden text, concerning keeping under the body, coming in between our lessons on Gethsemane and Calvary, has the very strongest possible setting for a life of self control, or, better, self renunciation, which is the only true temperance. Verses 1 to 7 of the lesson chapter describe Israel as the vineyard of the Lord of hosts, but notwithstanding all the care bestowed upon it, bearing only wild grapes. In Hos. x. 1 it is written, "Israel is an empty vine; he bringeth forth fruit unto himself," and living unto oneself is intemperance out and out. The Lord Jesus never in any way sought to please Himself. His whole life was for God and for us, and as branches in Him, the true vine, there is no opportunity for any form of self life, but only for the life described in these words, "Not I, but Christ, * * * Who loved me and gave Himself for me" (Gal. ii, 20). Verses 8 to 10 describe the selfishness that would buy up the earth if possible (verse 8, l. c.) and control it all for selfish interests. All the trusts and monopolies of today are illustrations of this, but the worst is yet to come (Rev. xiii, 16, 17) under the antichrist, of whom it is said that "he shall exalt himself and magnify himself above all and shall prosper" (Dan. xi, 36, 37).

Verses 11 and 12 describe the prodigal son's style of selfish living, the strong drink and music and revelry of riotous living, the indulgence of the animal nature, and that is a slander upon animals, for the wildest beasts would not do so. We have an illustration in the drunken revelry of Belshazzar, who dared to use the golden vessels of the house of God and praised the gods of gold and silver and wood and stone, but that night he was slain, and for the sequel to his story see Luke xii, 20; xvi, 22, 23, in connection with verse 14 of our lesson.

Blinded by the great adversary and devourer, they cast away the law of the Lord of hosts and despise the word of the Holy One of Israel and regard not the work of the Lord nor the operation of His hands (verses 12, 24). In chapter xxviii, 7 it is written that the priest and the prophet, those who should be wholly for man before God and for God before man, have erred through strong drink and are swallowed up of wine. In xxix, 9, we read of those who are drunken, but not with wine; who stagger, but not with strong drink, and the context shows that this comes from neglect of the word of God. The bondage of Egypt with its iron furnace or the captivity in Babylon or the famines experienced from time to time by the children of God, as recorded in the Scriptures, suggest something worse than that which affects only the body. The famine of hearing the words of the Lord (Amos viii, 11, 12) leads to the perishing of multitudes who descend into hell because they are taught by the precept and example of those who profess to be guides that there is no hell and no need of salvation by a substitute and that a desire to do as near right as we know how is all that is required of us.

When the Lord alone shall be exalted (verse 16; chap. ii, 11, 17) they shall see the madness of having resisted Him, but it will be too late, and in vain shall they call upon the mountains and rocks to fall upon them and hide them from the face of God and the Lamb (Rev. vi, 15-17). How heartrending the cry of Him who came from heaven to Calvary that we might not perish when He wept over Jerusalem and said, "If thou hadst known * * * because thou knowest not" (Luke xix, 42, 44). One of Isaiah's contemporaries said by the Spirit: "There is no truth nor mercy nor knowledge of God in the land * * * My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge * * * They have left off to take heed to the Lord" (Hos. iv, 1, 6, 10). And again, "Their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God" (Hos. v, 4). Thus the people of God whom He redeemed from Egypt and on whose behalf He wrought as He never did for any other people went on from bad to worse, sinning, as it were, with a cart rope and mocking God (verses 18, 19) till there was no remedy but to give them over to their enemies because they mocked His messengers, despised His words and misused His prophets (II Chron. xxxvi, 16; Jer. xii, 7).

The professing church of today is rushing on to her doom, drunken with her own pride and self conceit and unbelief, saying, like the people of Noah's time: "What doth God know? What can the Almighty do?" (Job xxii, 13, 17.) Wise and prudent in their own eyes, not knowing that they are deceived by the wicked one, they, like Eve, count that desirable which God has said they must not take. Their hearts follow their eyes (Job xxxi, 7) till ruin overtakes them. In Prov. xxvi, 12 we learn that there is more hope of a fool than of a man who is wise in his own conceit. Wine and strong drink muddle men's brains and blur their vision and wake up all the evil that is in them and make them seek their own sinful gratification at any cost.

But there are many who never touch strong drink who are so drunken with their own intense selfishness that their desires must be gratified no matter who may suffer. To be saved by Christ and to become wholly occupied with Him is the only remedy both for those given to strong drink and for all who are overcome by any form of intemperance. He is able, and He will deliver.

LAST NIGHT WAS REV. MILLARD A. JENKINS.

New Pastor of Baptist Church Meets His Members. Other Religious Notes.

(From Saturday's Daily)

An informal reception was given at the Baptist church last night to the Rev. Millard A. Jenkins, who assumes charge of the church next Sunday. The large auditorium and Sunday school room were thrown into one, and elaborately and beautifully decorated in vines, palms and ferns. Mrs. J. H. Anderson played several organ selections while the crowd gathered and met the new pastor. Mrs. Barksdale Hamlett sang a solo, after which Prof. Edmund Harrison spoke a few words of welcome. Mr. Kirtley led in prayer, Mr. Jenkins made a short talk in response to the welcome, and Mr. Smith, of the Christian church, made an appropriate talk in which he paid a beautiful tribute to the former pastor, Rev. Charles H. Nash. At the conclusion of the informal program ices and cakes were served. About 450 people were present.

Sunday's Atlanta Journal contains the following story of Dr. Jenkins:

"Rev. Millard A. Jenkins, who recently resigned as pastor of the Dublin Baptist church, has accepted a call to the First Baptist church of Hopkinsville, Ky.

"Although only thirty-three years of age, Mr. Jenkins is one of the most popular ministers of Middle Georgia. He is a native of North Carolina, the state that has produced a number of prominent Baptist ministers, such as the Dixons, the Broughtons, the Truetts.

"He was educated at Sand Hill Academy, Judson and Wake Forest Colleges, all of that state. He has traveled extensively, practically all over the United States and through some twenty foreign countries of the world.

"He has been a student of men more than of books, and preaches a practical gospel rather than a gospel of theory. He has been pastor of the First Baptist church of Waynesville, N. C.; Tattnall Square Baptist church, the University church of Macon, Ga.; East Side church, Macon, Ga.; the First Baptist church at Dublin, Ga., where he has served five and a half years. At all of these churches the growth was marked. During the Dublin pastorate some four hundred were received into the church.

"Quite often he has been called to the platform and his lectures, 'The Builders,' 'Smiles and Wrinkles,' 'Reconstructed Paradise' and 'The Dreamers,' have won for him the highest praise.

"He has been offered platform work, but would not make any contract with bureaus that would interfere with his pulpit work.

"His evangelistic gifts have called him as far west as the Rockies and as far north as New York City, while he has conducted meetings in some of the largest churches in the south.

"Recently after closing a series of meeting in New York City, he was notified of unanimous calls to Brantly Baptist church, of Baltimore, the largest Protestant church in Maryland, and the First Baptist church of Hopkinsville, Ky., which ranks among the leading churches of the south.

"It was his first intention to go to Baltimore, but suffering from malaria contracted in South Georgia, his physician advised him to take a work less taxing for the present Hopkinsville pays a handsome salary and he is to go abroad again ext year."

Nature has just one pigment on her pallette with which she produces all the marvelous tints o beauty, and that one pigment is the blood. The shell-like pink beneath the finger nails, the delicate rose of the cheek, the cherry ripeness of the lips, the irridescent brilliance of the eyes are all produced by the blood. Just as the permanence of a beautiful painting will depend upon the purity of the colors with which it is painted, so the permanence of beauty depends on the purity of the blood. Paint, powder and cosmetics won't avail to preserve beauty. Beauty begins in the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a true beautifier, because it provides for nature that pure blood with which alone she can paint. The use of this medicine will cleanse the skin, neighten the complexion, brighten the eyes, and give to face and form that radiance of health which is the greatest charm of beauty.

This is not a "patent medicine" because every bottle bears upon its wrapper a full list of the ingredients. Send for free booklet to Dr. R. V Buffalo, N. Y.

SCALY ECZEMA ALL OVER BODY

Eruptions Appeared on Chest, and Face and Neck Were All Broken Out—Scales and Crusts Formed—Iowa Lady Has Great Faith in Cuticura Remedies for Skin Diseases.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I had an eruption appear on my chest and body and extend upwards and downwards, so that my neck and face were all broken out; also my arms and the lower limbs as far as the knees. I at first thought it was prickly heat. But soon scales or crusts formed where the breaking out was. Instead of going to a physician, I purchased a complete treatment of the Cuticura Remedies, in which I had great faith, and all was satisfactory. A year or two later the eruption appeared again, only a little lower; but before it had time to spread I procured another supply of the Cuticura Remedies, and continued their use until the cure was complete. It is now five years since the last attack, and have not seen any signs of a return. I have taken about three bottles of the Cuticura Resolvent, and do not know how much of the Soap or Ointment, as I always keep them with me; probably one half dozen of each.

"I decided to give the Cuticura Remedies a trial after I had seen the results of their treatment of eczema on an infant belonging to one of our neighbors. The parent took the child to the nearest physician, but his treatment did no good. So they procured the Cuticura Remedies and cured her with them. When they began using Cuticura Remedies her face was terribly disfigured with sores, but she was entirely cured, for I saw the same child at the age of five years, and her mother told me the eczema had never broken out since. I have more faith in Cuticura Remedies for skin diseases than anything I know of. I am, respectfully yours, Emma E. Wilson, Liscomb, Iowa, Oct. 1, 1905."

TO STOP MARRIAGE

OF BLIND AND OTHER AFFLICTED PERSONS.

Object Aimed at By Committees Now at Work.—A Thorough Investigation Begun.

A Washington telegram concerning the control of the government of the marriage of persons deprived of of one or more of there senses says:

"By the appointment of a committee on eugenics Assistant Secretary of Agriculture W. M. Hayes has taken a step which, it is expected, will result in a great improvement in the human race through more favorable conditions in the relationship of the sexes.

"It is the object of the committee to devise a way to prevent the marriage of two blind persons, should it be determined that their union would result in a transmission of their deficiency.

"Members of the committee are: Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, Washington; Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University; Major Charles Woodruff, M. D., U. S. A.; Dr. Charles B. Henderson University of Chicago; C. W. Ward, of New York, and the Rev. J. C. Gilbert, Washington.

"Eugenics is defined as 'the science of generative or procreative development; the doctrine of progress of evolution, especially in the human race, through improved conditions in the relationship of the sexes.'

"The committee will submit a report to a meeting of the American Breeders' Association in Columbus, O., Jan. 15.

"The committee, Assistant Secretary Hays says, will investigate and report on heredity in the human race: devise methods of recording the values of the blood of individuals, families, peoples and races; emphasize the value of superior blood, and suggest methods of improving the heredity of the family, the people, and the race.'

"The committee on eugenics will take up such questions as whether two blind persons or two persons otherwise deprived of the senses should marry. If it is shown their marrying would cause the transmission of their deficiency to their progency, some method will be suggested whereby the marriage may be prevented."

Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 18.—The influence on character of the occupation of the evening hours is the topic of this sermon, which is especially timely at the beginning of winter. The preacher pleads for a wise and careful method of spending the leisure period of the day. The text is Psalm civ, 23, "Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labor until the evening."

I never take a walk or ride upon a street car or enter a store or finish a journey upon a railroad train without being impressed with the universal fact that this is a busy world. Most people are in a treadmill of ceaseless activity. Of course there are individual exceptions to this rule, but the vast majority of the human race are working just as hard and as long hours as it is possible for them to do. We may think that some men are not working up to the full limit of their mental and physical capacity, but if we once put ourselves in these men's places invariably we will find out that we could not work harder than they if we tried to do their kind of labor. "What a lazy fellow!" once said a gentleman who was impatiently watching a workman emptying a tank of water into the drain by means of a bucket. "Why I could fill that bucket twice to his once!" At last he determined to set his workman an example of the right kind of industry. So he took the pail out of his employee's hands and went to work with intense zeal. The water simply flew out of that tank. Instead of filling the pail two or three times a minute, he emptied six or eight bucketfuls of water a minute. "There," he said to his workman. "Why do you not work like that?" "Please your honor," answered the workman, "would you be kind enough to go on working that way for another twenty minutes? I never doubted that six pails could be emptied in a minute, but what I want to know is how long you could keep on working at that rate if you had to work all day long." It is easy enough for a good race horse to run a mile under three minutes, but how many miles could he cover at that rate? Yes, I am right when I assert that the vast majority of people are working up to the full limit of their physical and mental capacity. If they were compelled to do much more, they would soon have a physical collapse, as an overdriven horse might be easily killed if forced to go far at racing speed.

All Still at Night.

This worldwide work starts at early dawn and continues right on to sunset. Hour after hour the watchman paces his lonely beat during the long, dark hours of the night. No one seems to be anywhere around. The great city seems to be dead. One o'clock passes. Two o'clock comes. All is still. Then 3 o'clock and 4 o'clock. Then the milk wagons begin to rumble. The electric cars begin to roll. By and by the myriads upon myriads of people breakfast. Then the day workmen begin to climb their scaffoldings, and the mechanics to sit at their benches, and factory wheels begin to turn, and the stores are crowded with customers, and the law courts are filled with busy lawyers, and the various human beehives hum and buzz with life. But as the day speeds on the tired laborers begin to look at their watches. Three o'clock in the afternoon comes. Then 4, 5, 6. Then the factory whistle blows. The great business centers of the town are emptied. The shutters are put up. The securities are locked away in the vaults. The showcases are covered with protecting cloths. Man may work eight, ten or even twelve hours, but the evenings for the most part are his own.

Now, I want to consider with you what we shall do with our evenings. I am not here to talk about what we shall do as clerks down at the store, when the eyes of our employers are on us. But what shall we do with our winter evenings, when we are practically our own masters and can do with our time as we will?

The evening, in the first place, should be the home hour. It is the time when a man should get acquainted with his family. It is the time when he should become a child again. Then, instead of being like Paul and putting away "childish things," he should drop the cares of the store and play bean bag with his children and shoot marbles with his boys across the figures of the carpet and tell stories to his little ones, as Eugene Field used to make rhymes for his babies. It is the time when you should try to beat your biggest boy at a game of checkers and when you should read your eldest daughter's latest composition and find out how she likes her new teacher. Then, after the babies are put to bed and the good night prayers have been said and the kisses given, it is the time when you should draw your chair up to the sitting room fire alongside of your wife's chair. While she is darning the stockings is the time when you should open to her your whole heart and tell her everything about your hopes and your plans. Before you married her you did not think any winter night too cold or too damp when you waded through the snow to visit her in her father's home. Surely you can afford to spend a few evening hours with her alone, as you used to do before she became the mother of your babies. But, alas, alas, how many men there are who look upon an evening spent at home in the family circle as a wasted night! How many there are who when you talk about their days of courting shrug their shoulders and say: "Yes, yes; I know. But those days are gone for good. I suppose we all have to be silly once in awhile, but I have outgrown my lover's age a long time ago."

Outgrown the Lover's Age.

My brother, have you a right to outgrow your lover's age? Have you a right to steal from the home those sacred hours which you ought to consecrate to the companionship of your wife and children? Shall we do as many men are doing who never have their children think of their fathers except as money making machines? Shall we let our wives work and slave for us and yet have that aching heart void which only a true husband's love and companionship can fill? It is said that when Seargent S. Prentiss was about to die during the long weeks of suffering which preceded his death he would never let his wife out of his room. With his great yearning eyes he watched her every step. I wonder what were his thoughts. Happy the man in such situation who, looking at the partner of his life, feels no twinge of an accusing conscience, has no recollection of hours wasted away from her and from his home. I wonder if when we come to die some of us will spend most of our time regretting the evenings which we have spent away from our children and from our dear wives who have done so much for us? Indeed, my brother, do you not regret even now the evenings you have spent away from home?

"Where were you last night?" I ask. "Oh," you say, "just as I was finishing up my work at the store an old college friend called me up and said: 'Jones, what are you going to do tonight? Come and take dinner with me at the hotel. Then we will go out to the theater.' As I had not seen him for a long time, I went." "Well, what did you do the night before?" "Oh," you answer, "I always spend that night each week at the lodge." "Well, what did you do the night before?" "Well," you say, "I had a business engagement that night. I wanted one of my customers to buy some goods. So I thought the best way to sell them was to ask him down to the club. I introduced him to some of my friends there and gave him a fine dinner. I got him feeling good, then I clinched the bargain that night and netted a good sum by the deal. Not a bad night's work for me, was it?" Thus you go on telling me how you spent this night away from home and that night and the other night. "But," I ask, "did you not spend any night at home last week? Did you not give your wife and children at least one evening?" "Yes," you answer; "I was home last Monday evening. I came home sick. I had caught a bad cold at the store. I came home feeling wretched. I intended to go out that night, but a fearful rainstorm came up, and my wife emphatically put her foot down and forbade my going. But I did not see the children much that night. I was too sick and felt too miserable. Immediately after supper my wife put me to bed and gave me a lot of hot drinks, and I got up a good sweat, and so I was able to be back at the store next morning." What, out of all last week have you only spent one night at home, and that was because you were too sick to go out? You ought to be ashamed of yourself. With such a wife and such children can it be that you never reserve any evenings which you can spend in their company?

Tell Them to Come Home.

Your children when they grow up should be able to look upon you as something different from a mere boarder. When Major D. W. Whipple, the evangelist, some years ago was suddenly called upon to preach to a great audience which had assembled in Pittsburg, he turned to his wife just before he left the hotel and said, "My dear, what shall I preach upon?" Major Whipple's little daughter spoke up and said, "Papa, tell them to come home." By that she meant, "Tell them to come to a heavenly Father, who has never ceased to love his children, who will never leave them unprovided for and who will never let them wander beyond his care." That was what the one sentence symbolized. Tonight in the eyes of your children stand as the representative of a loving heavenly Father. Have you by your actions taught your children to feel that there is no place in all the wide world where you would sooner be than by their side? Have you taught them that they can come to you in every trouble and that you will be to them a loving, tender, protecting, gentle, forgiving friend? As a father and as a breadwinner you must work from early morning until the sunset hour. But what have you been doing with your evenings? Have you given them to the club, and to the lodge, and to business, and to outside pleasures and not devoted any of them to holy associations with your family?

The evenings also should be held sacred for mental improvement. They should be the time when we should lay out a systematic course of reading and study. They should be the time when we find out what is happening in the great wide world and what progress the world has been making in the last fifty or hundred years. It is just as easy to discuss the characters of great men and learn about the policies of governments as it is to gossip about your neighbors' affairs. It is far more beneficial to the mind and restful to the fagged out mental and physical energies to try to study the origin of China's superstitions than it is to enter into the quarrels of some husband and wife who are living on the opposite corner to your own home. By personal observation I know that when a man and a woman do not rigidly keep their evenings employed for their own mental and spiritual development they are apt to get into mischief.

There never was a truer proverb written than that which says, "The devil has to seek the lazy man, but the industrious man hunts the devil." Martin Luther well illustrated this fact when he said: "When I am assailed with heavy tribulations I rush out among my pigs rather than remain alone by myself. The human heart is like a millstone in a mill—when you put wheat under it, it turns and bruises the wheat to flour. If you put no wheat in it, it still grinds on, but then it is itself it grinds and wears away." Luther was right. You must set yourself some allotted task during the winter evenings, else you will get into mischief. You will be like the millstones grinding themselves away. You must have your evenings occupied with useful duties, else you will drift into sinful pleasures. There is no exception to the rule.

Too Tired to Read.

"But," you say, "what is the good of your talking to me about giving my evenings up to work? When I come home from the store I am so dead tired I can hardly move. What my brain needs is not an intellectual uplift, but just complete rest. If I can only go to some vaudeville performance and have a good laugh or go and have a good dance, all is well. I do not want work, but rest, complete rest." Oh, no, my friend, you are wrong. The mind and body are never properly rested and recreated by doing something foolish and mentally enervating. You are depleting your mind and emasculating it, as some people spoil their children. The little boy comes to his mother and says, "Mamma, I am hungry. Can I have a cake?" "No, Charlie," says his mother, "but if you wish you can have a glass of milk and some bread." Charlie lies down on the ground and begins to scream. Then the mother says, "All right, Charlie, go and get the cake, only stop that kicking and crying." A couple of hours later, at dinner, Charlie absolutely refuses to eat anything but some pie. He says, "I am not hungry, I do not wish to eat anything." About two hours later Charlie comes to his mother and says: "Mamma, I am hungry. Can I have some candy?" She says, "No, Charlie." With that Charlie's face begins to twist and his mouth to open. Then, in order to stop his crying, the mother says: "Yes, Charlie. Here is the candy. Take it and don't cry." What is the result? Instead of giving that boy healthy food which will develop bone and muscle and sinew she develops for him a pernicious appetite. The boy gets into a condition where he absolutely refuses to eat food which is healthy for him.

Thus some of us treat our minds like spoiled children. We say: "I am resting my mind. I will go to a cheap theater or to a dance hall." No, you are not resting it. You are feeding it with cakes and candy. Rest of mind simply comes from change of work. What you need to do is to give your winter evenings to good reading, to good thoughts and to high ideals. This means work, but it will mean work that will recreate and strengthen your energies, depleted by the struggles of the day. Are we willing to pay the price by which our evenings can provide us with a true, beneficial mental development?

True Development.

But I take a step farther and declare that a large per cent of your evenings should be consecrated to direct service to Jesus Christ. These should be the sacred hours when you say, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" not "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do for my own self or for my own family?" You should say, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do directly for thee?" You know that the Lord commands us to give a tenth of our income to him. But that is not enough. We must also give to him our time and our service. Most of us cannot give this time and service during the day. Those hours belong to our employer. "Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labor until the evening." But we can give to God's service part of our evenings. And we must give to him these hours if we are to do the work he wants us to do.

"But," you say, "I cannot understand you. Is not this inconsistent with your advice to stay home with our families? Now, how can I visit hospitals and go to sickrooms and look after the poor unless I turn my back upon my family? Can a man be in two places at the same time? Can a farmer help a neighbor build his barn and plow his own fields on the same day? How can one look after his own children and yet associate with those who need help and who are not members of his own family?" I am glad you mentioned that. You are just the person with whom I want to talk. You say you are a family man. You say you would be willing to give up certain evenings of your life to serve Christ if thereby you would not have to neglect your home duties. Go forth and invite to your own home the young men and the young women who are living in boarding houses. Ask them sometimes to supper. Surround them with the influences of your Christian home. You cannot serve God better than by working for him in just this way. I want to tell you the history of a noble Christian woman and what she did in a city of the east.

This lady was not wealthy. She had but little money and a family of growing children. She had to do her own housework. Man may go forth into work and to his labor until the evening, but this woman had to work in the evenings as well. So she said to herself: "I can do little, but that little I will do for my Master. My home shall always be my Saviour's home, and every one I can welcome here in his name I gladly will." She went to work for Christ. She gathered up a large Sunday school class of boys who, for the most part, were homeless. By that I mean those boys who were away from their fathers and mothers and living in boarding houses. There were eighteen or twenty of them. These she used to invite to her home. Every week she would have some of them to dinner. Her parlors were their parlors. Her books were their books. When they were sick she took them into her own home and cared for them. Would you like to know the result of that humble Christian woman's life? When I was called to my Chicago church I found every one of the members of that Christian lady's Sunday school class harnessed up in Christian work. Although these young men had been boarding house boys when they first came to Chicago, they were then grown up men, all of them members of the church of Jesus Christ and workers in his vineyard. Cannot you do the same for Christ? Can you not make your Christian home the place of spiritual refuge for those who have no Christian homes and who can be won for Jesus by gathering them around your fireside during the winter evenings?

But I cannot close this talk on evening occupations without placing a special emphasis upon the fact that at least a part of each evening should be consecrated to God for studying his holy word and for prayer. It should be the time when we should go off alone to read the Bible or to open the dear book in the midst of our loved ones and find in it the messages which God has written for us and the divine commandments which teach us how to live and how to die. The majority of people never study the Bible intelligently. They rarely read it at all. It is to them a sealed book except as it is interpreted for them by the pulpit. It is just as much a sealed book as during the dark ages, when no layman was allowed to touch it any more than profane hands could touch the holy of holies during Mosaic times.

Reading the Bible.

You rarely read the Bible. Yet you are an intelligent woman. You are one of the leaders of the woman's club. You take a very active part in that organization. Only a short time ago you read before it an essay on Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning. Why did you not take that Sunday school class of young girls the other day when our Sunday school superintendent asked you to do it? You made this excuse and that excuse and the other excuse. You did not tell the real reason. The real reason why you did not become a teacher of that class of young girls was because you did not know your Bible, and you were ashamed to expose your ignorance.

Your ignorance of the Bible is so appalling that I do not believe you know whether the book of Corinthians is in the Old Testament or the New. I do not believe you could tell me, to save your life, why Jesus was born in Bethlehem or why Moses was not allowed to enter the promised land. Now, you would laugh at a woman who was so ignorant as to suppose that Goethe wrote "Hamlet" or that Alfred Tennyson was the author of "Thanatopsis." Yet you are so ignorant of God's word that you could not become a teacher of a Sunday school class of little girls. So, my friends, some part of each evening ought to be held sacred for Bible study and prayer. Carefully guard at least half an hour as sacred for Bible study and for prayer. Then you should turn to God and say: "Master, teach me thy will. Master, let me talk to thee. This is thy quiet hour when thou canst put thy anointing hand upon me to fit me for the duties of the coming day and for holy communion with thee on the approaching Sabbath." In this darkening twilight can you not, with an earnest, prayerful voice, repeat these beautiful lines of Emma C. Embrey:

Morn is the time to act, noon to endure,
But, oh, if thou wouldst keep the spirit pure,
Turn from the beaten path by worldlings trod,
Go forth at eventide in heart to walk with God.

One night during the last sickness of the sailor-preacher, Father Taylor of Boston, the nurse heard some one talking earnestly in the next room. He was very much surprised, because he had left the aged preacher only a few minutes before lying in bed alone. So he went into the sickroom, and there he found the evangelist standing in his nightgown before a looking glass and pleading with himself to accept Christ. The old man was saying to himself: "You are a sinner. Don't you know you are? You are an old man. The grave is directly in your path. Repent of your sins. Accept Christ now. There is yet time." Was not that a beautiful way for Father Taylor to spend his last night on earth? Aye, would not that be a beautiful way for us to spend a part of every evening on earth? After the hard work of the day is over, after our babies have gone to bed, let us steal away a little while and open our Bibles. Let us see ourselves in God's looking glass. Let us talk with God. Let us plead with God. Let us then empty ourselves of self and be filled with the spirit of Christ. Then will our evenings be spent aright. Then, with a renewed spiritual power, shall we go forth to labor for God in the work of the coming day.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

OF KENTUCKY JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION COMMISSION.

The Kentucky Jamestown Exposition commission has incorporated with a capital stock, and the highest amount of debt is $40,000. Its avowed object is to collect private and public subscriptions to defray the expenses of an exhibit and building at the Jamestown Exposition, representing Kentucky. The members of the commission who are the incorporators are J. Stoddard Johnston, Louisville; John B. Atkinson, Earlington; Charles E. Hoge, Frankfort; Hubert Vreeland, Frankfort; Charles J. Norwood, Lexington; Malcolm H. Crump, Bowling Green; James M. Benton, Winchester, and Will Lindsay, Frankfort.

At a meeting of the commission it was decided that the Daniel Boone cabin shall be the model for the Kentucky building at the exposition. The carrying out of the plans of the commission will require the expenditure of about $40,000. Col. W. B. Haldeman announced his intention of taking the First regiment to Jamestown for its encampment next year. The members of Co. D. and their friends will be glad to learn that it is considered probable that all of the other regiments will go to Jamestown at the same time.

RUMOR UNFOUNDED

HOLLAND'S OPERA HOUSE IS STRONGLY BUILT

But False Reports and Bad Weather Cause The Management to Cancel Stock Company's Engagement.

R. H. Holland, proprietor and manager of Holland's opera house, is justly indignant at the report circulated yesterday that the theater building was in danger of collapse and had been, or would be, condemned for that reason.

The fact is, that the building is one of the best built in the city. Architects and builders generally agree that there is no business house on Main street that is more safely or strongly built. Its foundations are four feet wide and the house had the first concrete foundation constructed in the city. The walls are thick and the building is an exceptionally strong one.

Owing to the continued bad weather and the fact that street and incandescent lights would probably not be in use for a day or two, coupled with the rumors about the building, Mr. Holland and the management of the DePew-Burdette stock company decided to cancel the troupe's dates here, and there will be no attractions at the opera house this week.

MR. EWING'S HEALTH.

Glenraven, Tennessee, November 20, 1906.

To our officials and employees:

Believing that all our people are interested in Mr. Ewing's health I deem it proper to inform you, of a letter I have received from Mrs. Ewing, relative thereto. You doubtless know, that when the sale season was practically over, Mr. Ewing was urged by hundreds of people to devote to the recovery of his health, the same effort that he had bestowed upon the tobacco cause itself. His health has been shattered by the long arduous duties and fierce struggles of the planters against corporate greed. Mr. Ewing went to Tate Spring more than a month ago, hoping that the rest, quiet and beneficial effect of the water would build him up sufficiently, (as it has done before,) to enable him to continue the great work, but it did not do this, and finding that he was losing ground steadily, instead of gaining it, he decided to go to New York, and put himself under the care of a celebrated nerve specialist, Dr. Mac Phee. Mrs. Ewing writes that the doctor says Mr. Ewing has nervous prostration and must have absolute rest and freedom from any business, and if he does this, there is no reason why he should not get well. The doctor cannot say how long it will be, before Mr. Ewing will be well, but it will be some weeks.

Passage had been engaged twice for Europe, so Mr. Ewing could study tobacco conditions there and thus benefit our members, but each time accomodations had to be given up on account of continued ill-health. Mrs. Ewing says, that although Mr. Ewing is physically unable to write a letter, it is very easy to discern that his heart is still as deeply in the work as ever, and that it was a great struggle for him to throw everything aside and think only of his recovery. The letter further states, that Mr. Ewing's only wish is for every member to remain loyal to his pledge and that notwithstanding he knows the enemy is sharpening his battle-ax, prices will be considerably higher.

It is his wish after the next meeting of the Committee to offer to the very large buyers, tobacco which they require, at prices, although very considerably advanced, yet perfectly fair, in consideration of all changed conditions, and that if these parties do not see proper to accept prices offered by the executive Committee, prices will be immediately advanced upon reliable information, that any better offer had been made to any "hill-billy." Mr. Ewing has no doubt the executive committee will acquiesce in his views on this subject.

I hope from time to time to be able to give you a very encouraging account of Mr. Ewing's continued progress toward complete restoration.

Yours truly,
(Mrs.) N. E. GREENE
Secretary.

ON RURAL ROUTES

GOOD ROADS TO BE MADE A REQUIREMENT.

The Government, it is Announced, Will Give More Attention to The Subject.

It is announced that the government will look more carefully to the enforcement of its rule regarding the roads over which rural free delivery is established. The present requirement is: "Roads traversed shall be kept in good condition and unobstructed by gates; there must be no unbridged creeks or streams not fordable at any season of the year."

In many cases residents on proposposed routes have made improvements that enable them to obtain rural delivery service, but sometimes the efforts to keep up the roads are relaxed. But the government has decided that unless the roads traveled by the carriers are properly maintained the service will be withdrawn. The postoffice department now calls on carriers for reports on the roads, and will stop the service where the highwas in question are bad.

The 35,973 rural delivery carriers now employed cover 863,363 miles daily, and it is unreasonable to expect them to contend with neglected roads, or to work for communities lacking the enterprise to keep their common highways in decent shape. Wherever a route is discontinued the inhabitants themselves will be to blame for it, for if alive to their own interests and their duty to the public they would give their roads vigorons and constant attention. The idea that a route once organized is necessarily permanent is a mistake. Advice on the best road method is supplied by the agricultural department, and the neighborhood that loses its rural free delivery must itself bear the discredit for so unpleasant and humiliating an event.

KILLED INSTANTLY.

PIERCE PERKINS DEAD BUT SLAYER NOT KNOWN.

Killing occurred in Hopkins County late Sunday afternoon. Pierce Perkins, 24 years of age, was shot and instantly killed by a pistol fired by either Marshal J. H. Boyd or John Maxwell, and it is impossible to find who fired the fatal shot.

Perkins and several other young men had been to Nortonville and were returning home on the interurban, when a quarrel began, and the Marshal tried to quiet the boys. A shot was suddenly fired and young Perkins fell dead. The Coroner's verdict is to the effect that Perkins came to his death from a pistol shot in the hands of J. H. Boyd or John Maxwell. Warrants have been sworn out for their arrest.
