MAN MISTAKEN FOR DETECTIVE
WAS BEATENVictim of the Lash Applied by Night Riders.—Sought Protection in Gracey Lock-up.

A stranger giving his name as Geo. Swift walked into Gracey on May 2. The man presented a very disorderly appearance which he claimed was due to his having been captured the night before by a gang of masked men and severely whipped. He was so frightened that he begged for protection during the night and was locked up in the town lockup.

According to Swift's story he lived in Nashville, but had been at Reelfoot lake and was making his way home on foot. After passing through Princeton his money gave out and he began soliciting work from the farmers along the way. When he got to the neighborhood he was directed from first one farmer to another and was finally told to wait at a country store and in a short time a farmer would be there who would employ him. He says he waited until nearly night and then started off but soon noticed that a gang of men were following him. He claims that these caught him and charged him with being a detective and notwithstanding his denials they beat him severely after they had threatened to kill him. He says he was kicked and cuffed about and finally told to run, to do which he needed no second bidding. Swift says he was followed all that night and up into the next day.

The next day he appeared at the house of a farmer named Wilson and at this time was minus one shoe and other articles of clothing.

When he was examined several bad bruises were found about on his limbs and a long one on his back. He seemed to be very much afraid of being caught and whipped again and asked that he be allowed to sleep in the lockup.

The next morning the people of the town furnished him with a new pair of shoes and socks and he was brought to this city where he evidently lost no time in getting away for he has not been seen since.

The alleged whipping occurred on the same night that Mrs. Hollowell is said to have been shot in Caldwell county. The place where Swift says he was whipped is said to be about five miles from the Hollowell home.

The New Era telephoned to Cobb today and inquired as to the truth of the man's statement. The person to whom we talked stated that no one knew whether the whipping was actually given or not but that a rumor to that effect was in general circulation.

SLEUTHS AT WORK

TO DISCOVER IDENTITY OF THE NIGHT RIDERSThe Louisville Times Publishes a Story of Much Interest in This Region.

To the end that the perpetrators of the recent barn-burning outrages in Trigg, Christian and Caldwell counties may be brought to justice the better element of residents of the three counties have banded together and raised a fund sufficient for the employment of T. J. Cundiff and T. B. Pedigo and a score of detectives, who will work under them, in ascertaining the guilty parties and securing their conviction.

Cundiff and Pedigo, both of whom are deputy United States marshals, will leave for Hopkinsville tonight to assume charge of the investigation. The government authorities are taking no hand in the investigation, but Cundiff and Pedigo by their peculiar fitness for the work and their knowledge of the men and the country caused them to be selected in preference to Pinkerton detectives.

The victims of the barn-burners and the people of the counties where the outrages were perpetrated who deplore the work of the mobs have become dissatisfied with what they term the inaction of the county and state officials and have determined to prosecute the cases. The fund raised in the three counties and deposited with a bank at Hopkinsville is said to be in excess of $10,000, and the men who are in charge of the fund declare that amount can be quickly secured if it is found necessary in carrying out the plans of the organization.

Cundiff and Pedigo, both of whom have had years of experience among the moonshiners and are unknown to fear, will work openly, but the men under them will not be known to any other person. They will open headquarters in Hopkinsville, and will direct the work of their assistants from that point. The sections wherein the majority of the outrages have occurred will be honeycombed with detectives in the employ of the Good Citizens' league and the officers are confident they will soon have the ringleaders, and the rest, they say will be easy.—Louisville Times.

themselves would create a profound interest in the hearts of all Confederates, but when they are associated with a journey to Richmond, the capital of the Confederate States, for the defense of which there was consecrated so much of treasure and so vast a sacrifice of the best blood of southern manhood, around which gathers such historic and heroic memories, there will necessarily be a numerous pilgrimage of the fast decreasing representatives of the "Lost Cause."

A large majority of the sons of Kentucky, who so unselfishly went forth from the borders of this commonwealth to make common cause with the defenders of the rights of the southland, were descended from Virginia ancestry, and to these a visit to Richmond will partake of a home going which will quicken patriotic impulse and kindle anew the undying love of Kentuckians for Virginia.

As these Confederates shall return to the home of their ancestry, it is both natural and reasonable that they should in every way possible give expression to their devotion to Virginia and their unchanging interest in all that concerns her glory and renown.

He has appointed as sponsor for the Kentucky division Miss Marion Morgan Mulligan, of Lexington, Ky., daughter of Judge James H. Mulligan, whose eloquence and genius have shed lustre on Kentucky, in whose veins flows the blood of the Morgans, than whom none were braver nor truer.

Miss Elizabeth Monroe Buckner, of Hopkinsville, Ky., has been designated as first maid of honor.

Her connection with the Monroe family which endured and suffered so much for the southern people, will give her a warm place in the hearts of Kentucky Confederates.

Miss Mary K. Hoge, of Frankfort, Ky., daughter of Col. Charles H. Hoge, who, as a mere lad, saw the last of the army of Virginia at Appomattox, has been named as special maid of honor.

Mrs. Lilly McClellan Troendle, of Hopkinsville, Ky., whose people, the Sharps and McClellans, rendered splendid service to the cause of southern liberty, has been named as matron of honor.

To these women may safely be committed the task of maintaining the reputation of Kentucky as the home of all that is attractive and resplendent in womanhood.

Report of Association Committeemen.
—Monthly Statement of the Hopkinsville Market.

(From Friday's Daily)

The county committee of the Planters' Protective Association met in regular bi-monthly session at the opera house in this city Monday. There was not a full attendance of members, but quite a crowd of farmers and business men were on hand to make up the deficiency.

The reports of the various committeemen on the outlook for the 1907 crop were interesting. Not a single member reported a sufficient quantity of plants to set what the farmers had planned to put out. Every member also reported a reduction in acreage of from 20 to 40 per cent as compared with last year. The reports indicated that large numbers of farmers had decided to leave off tobacco this year entirely. Some members reported labor leaving the farms to seek employment elsewhere. If these reports are anything like accurate, and they should be, as it is a part of the business of these members to gather these statistics for the use of the committee, it will be impossible for Christian county to produce more than half the tobacco that it produced five years ago. Then our tobacco crop averaged something like 17,000,000 pounds annually. The last crop fell down to something like 11,000,000 pounds. Out this 25 to 40 per cent, and the reader may gain some idea of how really short the tobacco crop will be. —Pembroke Journal.

The past month has been quite active for common to medium grade tobacco at full prices. Loose floor sales are about over as the crop is about all delivered. Association prizes are still receiving and prizeing the late deliveries and are selling freely as fast as sampled at schedule prices and higher. Lugs—low to good, 6.00 to 8.50; leaf, 8.00 to 16.00. Independent sellers have commenced sampling and find ready sale for all common to medium grades. No good or fine offered. Lugs—low, 5.75 to 6.00; common, 6.00 to 6.50; medium, 6.50 to 7.00; good, 7.00 to 7.50; fine 7.50 to 8.00. Leaf—low, 7.00 to 8.00; common, 8.00 to 9.50; medium, 10.00 to 11.50; good, 12.00 to 13.50; fine, 14.00 to 15.00. Crop prospects only fair, scarcity of plants and labor. Bugs and depredators on plant beds will hinder crop and make situation stronger as time passes by.

THE ATHENAEUM BANQUET

The fourth annual banquet of the Athenaeum took place Friday night at Hotel Latham and was a charming event. After a reception in the parlors from 8:30 to 9 o'clock, the members of the club and the friends repaired to the dining hall and enjoyed a delicious and excellently served supper. Grace was invoked by Rev. W. L. Nourse, D. D.

What They Ate.

This was the menu:

Bouillon en Tasse Mixed Pickles
Radishes
Fillet of bluefish-ala Bordelaise
Pomme Parisienne
Gingembre Sorbet
Smothered Chicken-ala Persillade
New Potatoes Delmonte Tips
Plum Pudding Hard Sauce
Fruit Salad
Neapolitaine Ice Cream
Strawberries Assorted Cakes
Coffee.

Mayor Charles M. Meacham, the president of the club, acted as toastmaster, and his inimitable wit finely fitted him for that part. He cordially welcomed the guests and introduced the speakers most happily.

The Program of Toasts.

The speakers and their subjects follow:

"Family Affairs." Eld. H. D. Smith
"Behold I have created the Smith that bloweth."—Isa. 54:16.

"In Our Town." Judge J. T. Hanbery
"Such is the patriot's boast where'er we roam,"

His first, best country, ever is at home.

—Goldsmith.

"When a Man Marries." Mr. T. C. Underwood
"Needles and pins, needles and pins, When a man marries his trouble begins."

—Mother Goose.

"Poles and Persimmons." Mr. Ira L. Smith
As dead sea fruit that tempt the eye But turn to ashes on the lip,
Virginia Diospyros
Will draw the puckers every nip.

"In Fancy's Realm." Mr. J. W. Downer
"Then upon the velvet slinking,
We betake ourselves to linking Fancy unto fancy."

—Edgar Allen Poe.

"Before Adam." Prof. H. Clay Smith
"There I came upon a tribe of Tree people. I crouched in a thicket and watched them at play. They were holding a laughing council, jumping up and down and screeching rude choruses."—Jack London.

Rev. Mr. Smith discussed the Smith Family in a way that delighted his audience. He told of the origin of the Smiths and their achievements. The derivation of the name showed they were born to "Smith" evils and "Smooth," troubles and they had nobly performed their mission. In concluding Mr. Smith eloquently read Eugene Field's noted poem, "John Smith, U. S. A." Judge Hanbery had a congenial topic in setting forth the virtues of Hopkinsville. It was one of his ablest efforts and full of fun as well as facts. His peroration was a glowing tribute to the Hopkinsville girl.

Mr. Underwood's talk was in a lighter vein. He accused the toastmaster of wickedly attaching the cynical sentiment on the program to his subject and endeavored to show that "When a man marries his trouble begins" to fade away and vanish.

Mr. Ira L. Smith's response had sparkling wit and much wisdom gracefully interwoven. Mr. Smith is an adept at the skillful use of words and his puns and paradoxes were exceedingly clever.

Mr. Downer's graces and elegance of oratory were well exemplified in his toast. Its literary charm, richness of metaphor and classical allusions made it a veritable pastel in prose.

Prof. Clay Smith is always entertaining and edifying, and his speech was particularly captivating. Its vim and brilliancy electrified the hearers and despite the "wee wee" hours of the morning when his toast was spoken his hearers would have been glad for him to have talked on indefinitely.

The banquet was one of the most successful from every point of view the club has held. It was essentially a Smith program, "a sort of family reunion," as Mr. Ira L. Smith suggested. "We have four Smiths in our society," said the president in his opening remarks, "and seventy-five per cent of them are on the program."

Those Who Were Present.

The members of the Athenaeum and ladies present were: Mayor and Mrs. C. M. Meacham, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Blakey, Mr. J. W. Downer and Mrs. Greer Henry Russell, Col. and Mrs. Jonett Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. C. Underwood, Prof. and Mrs. Barksdale Hamlett, Mr. B. G. Nelson and Mrs. M. H. McReynolds, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Gary, Prof. H. Clay Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hanbery, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Robt. L. Woodard.

SHOOTING A WOMAN

IS LATEST OUTRAGE OF THE NIGHT RIDERS.

Mrs. Hollowell Had Testified Before Grand Jury.—Members of the Mob Not Masked.

(From Friday's Daily)

A special dispatch in yesterday's New Era told of the shooting of a woman by night riders in Caldwell county. A Princeton telegram to the Courier-Journal gives additional details of the outrage. The despatch says:

The first blood to flow from the long siege of lawlessness perpetrated in this and adjoining counties in connection with the tobacco war was that of a woman, the wife of Robert Hollowell, living about nine miles south of town, halfway between Hopson and Demit.

Early this morning between the hours of 1 and 2:30 o'clock, an armed mob of between twenty-five and forty men, appeared at the home of Mr. Hollowell, and after giving orders, began firing through the windows and doors of his home. Mr. Hollowell and family, which is composed of his wife and little son, were ordered out of the house, the men saying they had come after Mrs. Hollowell. Mrs. Hollowell against the advice of her husband, left the family room for the front door, and on reaching the hall was shot in the face with small bird shot.

The woman cried out: "You people have shot me."

The answer came back: "That is just what we came to do."

According to Mrs. Hollowell's statements, one of the members of the mob in the yard gave a sign or signal and the firing ceased. She was told, however, that they intended killing her if she did not quit talking so much and leave the country.

No attempt was made to harm Mr. Hollowell and his son. Mr. Hollowell, as was also Mrs. Hollowell, were taken off to one side of the house or yard, and according to reports, were given orders to leave the country.

Mr. Hollowell's tobacco bed was among the tobacco beds destroyed by night raiders a few weeks ago. He is a cousin of J. W. Hollowell, the chairman of the tobacco association of this county.

Mrs. Hollowell was residing in Princeton when the tobacco stemmeries were destroyed last December and was a witness before the grand jury at the March term of the Caldwell circuit court.

When Mr. and Mrs. Hollowell came to town this morning to have the shot picked from her face, the news of the shooting caused great excitement and indignation. The members of the mob were not masked.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

S. S. S. is recognized everywhere not only as the best of all blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics, but the one medicine that can be taken with absolute safety by everyone. Young or old, those in robust health, or those whose systems are delicate and run-down, may use it with the same good results, and equally without fear of any unpleasant or injurious after effects. Next in importance to removing the cause of any disease is the condition in which the system is left after a course of medical treatment. Medicines containing mercury, potash or other strong mineral ingredients often do permanent injury by eating out the delicate lining and tissues of the stomach, producing chronic dyspepsia, unfavorably affecting the bowels, and so deranging the system otherwise, that even if the original disease had been removed from the system it is left in such a weakened and deranged condition that the health is permanently impaired. S. S. S. enjoys the distinction of being the only blood medicine on the market that does not contain a mineral ingredient of some kind. It is made entirely of the healing, cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks gathered directly from the forests and fields of nature, under our own supervision, and when they reach our laboratory contain all their original valuable tonic and blood purifying properties. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral in any form. Being made entirely from these vegetable ingredients S. S. S. is absolutely harmless to the system, and while curing disease adds health and strength to every part of the body. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles by removing the cause and supplying the circulation with health-giving and strength-producing qualities.

The state encampment of the Kentucky department of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in Louisville May 15 and 16. The meetings of the encampment will be held in Germania hall, First and Jefferson streets, beginning at 9:30 o'clock, May 15. The meeting will be called to order by George T. Grinstead, department commander, whose headquarters will be at the Enterprise hotel.

Considerable interest is centered in the race for department commander for the ensuing years. Col. Thomas Sheehan, of the George H. Thomas Post, of Louisville, is mentioned prominently for the place, as is also Col. F. A. Tabor, of the William Perkins Post, of Albany, Ky. It is generally conceded that Col. Sheehan will be elected.

The arrangements for the entertainment of the old soldiers from out in the state are in the hands of a committee from the Louisville posts. The chairman of the local committees on arrangements are as follows:

General arrangements, M. Minton; hall and decoration, D. W. Capito; music, L. W. Lindley; transportation, M. Minton; hotels, A. G. Moore; program, Amicus Whedon; treasurer, J. H. Brown.

The ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic and the ladies of the relief corps will also meet in Louisville during the state encampment.

CONDEMN OUTRAGES

GENERAL INDIGNATION OVER
LATEST OUTBREAK

Farmers at Stock Sale Discuss The Matter and Declare Vigorous Action Should Be Taken.

(From Saturday's y) Daily

Quite a number of Hopkinsville and Christian county men who are interested in horses attended the sale of fine stock held yesterday and today at Guthrie. All reports are that the stock offered, about 175 head in all, sold at high prices. Renshaw & Son, of this city, sold a pair of heavy draft horses for the round sum of $600.

One man who attended this sale remarked about the general condemnation which was expressed on every hand for the increasing frequency of raids by the night riders. He said that he heard dozens of farmers discuss the matter and without a single exception they denounced the outrages in the strongest terms and declared that the outrages should be apprehended if such a thing were possible and punished to the fullest extent of the law.

When the Courier-Journal came in on the morning train and the news of the shooting of Mrs. Hollowell in Caldwell county became generally known the expressions increased in vigor and the opinion of every one was that the miscreants merited the most rigorous treatment which could be meted out to them.

These expressions are a healthy indication of the direction in which the wind is blowing and when the public generally takes up the matter and publicly condemns the outrages as did the farmers at Guthrie yesterday and as several of the members of the executive committee of the Planters' Protective Association did here at their meeting, it will only be a short while until something drops and somebody will be caught under the weight which falls.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Clody, a merchant of Plunk Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Buckley's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at Cook & Higgins Cook's Pharmacy.

IN GREATER HOPKINSVILLE.

Have you taken a trip around the town any time lately? If you haven't, don't delay any longer than possible. After you have completed the circle you will be prouder than ever that you are a citizen of Hopkinsville.

A drummer stated in this office the other day that Hopkinsville was the best town he knew of, and this same man makes Clarksville, Bowling Green, Madisonville, Henderson and numerous other places in this region, and he is not the sort of man to say that about any town he happens to be in.

We saw a matrimonial advertisement in a St. Louis paper recently signed with the initials and giving Hopkinsville as the address of a young lady who wanted a husband. This was a surprise to us, for we thought that every girl in Hopkinsville had trouble in deciding which suitor she would take and not in finding just one whom she would take at the very first opportunity.

An evidence of Hopkinsville's growing importance is the granting of one fare plus 25c rate on the railroad for the May music festival which is to be given May 21, 22 and 23. This is the same rate given to Louisville, Nashville and other cities and places up on the same footing with them in furnishing attractions to the outside world.

The local tobacco market will handle more tobacco this year than probably ever before in its history. The independent dealers have concentrated their purchases here and have employed home labor in working it up and shipping it out. The farmers' association is selling tobacco here in constantly increasing quantities and at as high, if not higher, prices than are secured almost anywhere else in the entire district.

Hopkinsville merchants are as good as there are in America, and are on the inside just as much and can buy goods about as cheap as can anybody, anywhere. The people are fully aware of this and there are really very few who are led astray by the tempting offers of the mail order concerns of the large cities. If you expect home people to patronize you you must patronize home people.

We heard one of our most prominent citizens, one who lives in the country by the way, say last week in discussing investments, that he would rather put his money in a home enterprise and realize a nominal income, or even let it stay there without any returns, than to invest in some of the get rich quick concerns which are so freely advertised. His reason was a good one—that the home enterprise benefited the people of this community.

It is the town which stands together, every man with an eye single to its advancement in every way possible, which does things. Such a town is Hopkinsville. And it already is attracting the outside world by doing things, but—just watch it do even greater things in the future.

There are always some knockers though. These will assert that crops will fail if it doesn't rain, if the bugs don't eat it up or if it rains too much, but somehow or other there is always enough to go around and a little left over for outsiders. So, we will have to put up with the knockers and go on in the even tenor of our way, and boost all the harder.

All that is necessary to make a booster out of a knocker is for him to just reflect on the countless number of things which we have to make us the greatest town in the country. Nowhere are there prettier or more gracious women; our men are as true and chivalrous gentlemen and as astute and capable business men as anywhere; the children have unlimited mischief in their small frames, but it is very rarely that one fails to make a man or woman of whom his parents and community are proud; our town is noted for its schools and churches; we have more paved sidewalks than any other town in the state and our streets are unsurpassed by any; our manufacturing have so eaten into the supply of labor that hundreds of families have moved in to supply the deficiency and more are coming every day. And so ad infinitum. Take these things in consideration and don't lose an opportunity to speak a good word for your home town—Greater Hopkinsville.

attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt

FIRE MARSHAL AYRES

ISSUES REPORT TO STATE IN- SURANCE COMMISSION

Losses in Christian County.—Night Rider Outrages.—What His Department Has Done.

The annual report of State Fire Marshal Mott Ayres directed to State Insurance Commissioner Henry S. Prewitt has been received in this city. This is the first annual report made since the creation of the office.

The total number of fires taking place in all parts of Kentucky from June 9, 1906, to January 1, 1907, was 959. The total loss by fire in Kentucky during this period was $597,- 896. The total insurance on these losses was $379,896.

Col. Ayres in his report also reviews the efforts that he has made to assist in bringing the night riders of western Kentucky to justice. It contains a photographic reproduction of a threatening letter sent from Wallonia to a Lyon county farmer, and Col. Ayres states that the department knows the author of the letter. The table of fires from June 6, 1906 to January 1, 1907, shows that a total of ten occurred in Christian county, six of frame and four of brick or stone. The total value involved was $108,350, with $24,- 775 insurance. The total loss thereon was $4,958 and the total insurance loss was $4,488.

Poor Outlook for Plants.
The Mayfield Mirror says:
Mr. Charley Humphries, on his trip last week through the counties of Trig, Christian and Caldwell, being a close observer, says that he does not remember when the prospects for tobacco plants was so poor.
A mild winter and a hot March set the plants to growing, along with destructive insects that put the plants in a poor plight to pull through the intense blight of frosts and ice cold blasts of the better part of April in each of the sixteen dark tobacco producing counties. These adverse conditions most especially prevail in Graves, Marshall, Calowway, Ballard, and Carlisle.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his Favorite Prescription "published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble, groveling retraction, with its incospicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies'
Home Journal, for $200,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business, furthermore, that no alcohol, or other injurious, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatever, and that Mr. Bok's malicious statement was greatly injured by the "Favorite Prescription" from eminent chemists all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs.
These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of persons in small type and in an incospicuous position, read the wickedly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and in an incospicuous position, rendered a verdict in the Doctor's favor.
Thus his traducers were grieved and their base standards were refuted.

WHOLE WORLD

Swelling the Tide of Humanity Pouring Into New York Port.

NEW YORK, May 3.—All records for the number of immigrants arriving at the port of New York in a single day were broken in the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock last night.
At that hour 14 steamships had brought into the harbor since 8 o'clock that night 20,729 immigrants from nearly every section of the civilized world. This exceeds by fully 5,000 the largest number of immigrants ever landed here in a single day. From Naples five steamers brought 8,297 steerage passengers.
The steamer Bulgaria alone had 2,734 passengers in her steerage.
With the facilities of the Ellis Island immigrant station already severely taxed as a result of unusually heavy arrivals during the past few days, many of those who came in today will be forced to undergo a long wait before they are permitted to land.

A little Kodol taken occasionally, especially after eating, will relieve sour stomach, belching and heartburn. J. B. Jones, Newport, Tenn., writes: "I am sure three one dollar bottles of your Kodol positively cured me of dyspepsia, and I can recommend it as that was three years ago and I haven't been bothered since with it." Kodol is guaranteed to give relief. Sold by R. C.
Hardwick.

tlement of what was perhaps the twenty-year bonds. Forty thousand dollars of the $100,000 of accrued interest was also paid.

Good Words for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs.

"I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This rem-

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's

SENATOR CARMACK

WILL BE ORATOR AT MAY MUSIC FESTIVAL.

Agrees to Deliver Patriotic Address at the Production of Frederick Innes' "Americana."

(From Friday's Daily)

The Hon. Edward W. Carmack, of Tennessee, whose ability as a statesman and brilliancy as an orator in the United States senate won him national fame, will deliver a patriotic address at the Hopkinsville May Music festival.

This announcement will be read with delight and eagerness by the host of Senator Carmack's friends and admirers in this region.

The concluding evening of the great musical event will be devoted to a production of Frederick Innes' masterpiece, "Americana," and will be the crowning feature of the festival. The motif of the music is America's march of progress to the van of the nations of the world. And this too, will be the theme of Senator Carmack's oration. What the famous statesman will have to say in words, Mr. Innes and his band and the larger choruses will interpret in music.

Manager McPherson, of the tabernacle, has been trying for several years to secure Senator Carmack on the lecture courses, but had not been successful owing to conflicting engagements.

Today, after several weeks of correspondence, supplemented by personal requests from friends of the senator, Mr. Carmack telegraphed Mr. McPherson that he would speak here May 23.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

WIT AND HUMOR

BY JOE BLACKBURN.

THOUGH the fighting and silver tongued senator from Kentucky was defeated for re-election, people of the Blue Grass State as well as those of Washington will long remember his quarter of a century's service in the two houses of congress, his stock of good stories and his bright repartee.

As a sample of the stinging language Blackburn sometimes uses may be cited his characterization of a western judge whom he had introduced to President Cleveland late in the campaign of 1888. After this judge returned home he gave out an interview in which he professed to quote the president as having given up the election because of the treachery of Senator Hill of New York, Mayor Hewitt and others. Blackburn characterized the whole statement as false and wound up his sizzling roast in this fashion:

"I can do no more than to crave the president's pardon for having been misled into introducing to him a caricature upon humanity, for whose existence the Lord in fair dealing owes an apology to mankind."

Here is another sample of the sort of English Blackburn slings when he is feeling well. He was detected reading the president's message, and as he read he chuckled to himself. Finally one of his colleagues approached the senator from Kentucky and asked for the joke.

"It has just occurred to me," solemnly observed the senator, "that Mr. Roosevelt's English does not coruscate with the pyrotechnic scintillations of obsolescent linguosity which so extensively illuminated the lucubrations and ululations of President Cleveland."

Since he hails from Kentucky many of the tales concerning Blackburn naturally relate to the beverage which cheers. Here is one: A friend recently met the ex-senator at the station on his return from a trip to the country.

"How are you, Joe?" his friend asked.

"I'm up against it," was the reply. "I lost the best part of my baggage en route."

"Did you misplace it, or was it stolen?" his friend inquired solicitously.

"Neither," said Blackburn. "The cork came out."

When questioned about this story later, however, Blackburn denied it.

"Not a word of truth in it," he said. "You know I would be more careful of the cork."

Blackburn's fondness for speechmaking is a matter of common knowledge. At one time he was on an outing trip with some friends along the Kentucky river when a few dozen residents of the neighborhood joined the party. The food was of the best, and there was plenty of liquid refreshment. Blackburn, however, did not seem to be enjoying himself. One of his friends asked him what was the matter. "I don't like this crowd," Blackburn responded. "Why, Joe," his friend remonstrated, "there's not a man here who wouldn't die for you." "I know that," returned Blackburn. "It's not the quality I'm objecting to, but the quantity. The crowd is too big for an anecdote and not big enough for a speech."

One day Secretary of War Taft appeared before the military committee of the senate, of which Blackburn was a member, advocating the view that junior army officers should not marry.

"But how," asked Blackburn, "can you make that accord with the administration views on race suicide?"

Secretary Taft met this question with a characteristic roar of laughter.

Blackburn was a stanch silver man and therefore opposed to the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman law. Representative Caruth and a party of other Kentuckians called on the senator and told him he was hurting himself politically, as most of the towns in the state were passing resolutions favoring the repeal.

"What do I care for the resolutions of the towns?" rejoined Blackburn. "They are passed by bankers, lawyers and dry goods merchants, and no countrymen were at the meetings."

"How do you know?" asked Caruth. "How do I know? Why, Asher, I know it darned well. Every town in Kentucky is reached by a tollgate, and the poor country people haven't money enough to pass them. That's the reason I know. Here, Jim, give these fellows a drink of Bourbon and let them go."

Blackburn one day invited Secretary Shaw and Vice President Fairbanks, who was then senator, to have something. When Shaw was asked what he would take, he replied:

"Well, I guess I'll have a glass of lemonade."

Blackburn then turned to Fairbanks and said:

"And what will you have, senator?"

"I'll have a glass of moxie," was the reply.

The bartender said to Senator Blackburn:

"And what's yours, senator?"

"Oh," said he, scarcely able to conceal his disgust, "I guess I'll have a piece of squash etc."

—CHATTERBOX.

BEWARE OF "DIGESTIVES."

The ordinary "dyspepsia" tablet has ruined more stomachs than all other causes combined. Giving temporary relief, it leaves the digestive system weaker than ever, and the tablets must be continued with increasing frequency.

Mi-o-na excites the secretion of gastric juice, and when the food is swallowed, the stomach is ready to digest it.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are never sold in bulk, but in a neat box convenient for the purse or vest pocket, at 50c.

A guarantee is given by L. L. Elgin with every box of Mi-o-na, that money will be refunded if the remedy fails to give satisfaction. This shows he has faith in the merits of the remedy.

LITTLE POCKET PHYSICIAN.

Thousands who have been cured by Hyomei call the inhaler that comes with every outfit the "Little Pocket Physician," as it is so small that it can be carried in the pocket or purse.

There is really no excuse whatever for anyone having catarrh now that Hyomei is so readily obtainable. If you have any doubt about its value, L. L. Elgin will let you have a complete outfit, with the understanding that unless it cures catarrh, it will not cost you a cent.

The complete Hyomei outfit consists of the "Little Pocket Physician" and a bottle of Hyomei and costs only $1.00.

The promoters of the Salubria hotel request the New Era to state that the report to the effect that the hotel would not be completed within the time it was expected to be finished is entirely without foundation. Work is progressing very rapidly on the big building and the contractors have a large corps of carpenters and workmen constantly employed, and will, it is stated, probably turn the hotel over to the company even before the time promised. It will be ready for patrons this summer, and the prospects are that it will start the first season most successfully.

The "festibal" season was ushered in Saturday night, when at a celebration near Pee Dee, Arthur Wilson was shot through the bowels by George Dulin, Jr. Wilson married Dulin's sister and at the festival it is said that he slapped her and that the shooting resulted from this.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will meet Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Hotel Latham.

Lesson VI.—Second Quarter, For
May 12, 1907.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Gen. xiv, 1-15;
1, 15-21—Memory Verses, 4, 5—Golden Text, Eph. iv, 32—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1907, by American Press Association.]

We have before us the task of summarizing and getting the heart of the last nine chapters of this wonderful book of beginnings, the topic of the portions assigned as the lesson being "Joseph's Forgiveness of His Brethren," which will have an analogy in Jesus' forgiveness of Israel when they shall receive Him at His coming in glory and, turning to Him with the whole heart, shall say, "Lo, this our God; we have waited for Him, and He will save us" (Isa. xlv, 9). The gospel which does not proclaim forgiveness of sins as the first thing freely given is not the gospel of God, but "another gospel" of man's device (Gal. 1, 6-12; Acts xiii, 38, 39; Luke xxiv, 46-48).

If Jesus has been truly revealed to us, then we have heard Him say,
"Come near," and life and conscious forgiveness are ours in Him (xiv, 4, 10, 11, with which compare Eph. ii, 13; 1, 6, 7). To question the reality and sincerity of this forgiveness, as Joseph's brethren did (1, 17), is only to display the contemptible meanness of our sinful nature and to accuse the Lord of forgiving as we do. No wonder Joseph wept when after all his kindness to his brethren he found them so misjudging him. Our similar treatment of our blessed Lord is enough to make Him weep too.

"What an abundant revelation of the heart of Christ is to be found in His three weepings—at the grave of Lazarus, over Jerusalem and in Gethsemane! We would do well to consider in this lesson study the seven weep-ings of Joseph (xiii, 24; xiii, 30; xiv, 2, 14, 15; xvi, 29; 1, 1, 17), five times over his brethren and Benjamin and twice over his father.

"Last week's lesson left Joseph ruler over all the land of Egypt at the beginning of the seven years of dearth and in full and absolute control of all the corn to be had. If life was to be prolonged, it could only be by application to Joseph, and the corn had to be paid for. In our case there is no life
but in Christ, yet it cannot be bought,
but must be accepted, as Joseph's brethren obtained theirs, freely (1 John v, 12; Rom. vi, 23). The testing of Joseph's brethren in chapter xiii and the planning of the seven years of dearth
and in full and absolute control of all the corn to be had. If life was to be prolonged, it could only be by application to Joseph, and the corn had to be paid for. In our case there is no life
but in Christ, yet it cannot be bought,
but must be accepted, as Joseph's brethren obtained theirs, freely (1 John v, 12; Rom. vi, 23). The testing of Joseph's brethren in chapter xiii and the
planning of the seven years of dearth

In chapter xiii Judah consenting to become surety for Benjamin and his plea in chapter xiv, 18-34, are among the most eloquent parts of the whole story, and particularly so as we remember that our Lord came from Judah and is spoken of as the surety for Israel in Jer. xxx, 21, revised version, margin. The words "peace," "welfare," "well," "good health," of xiii, 23, 27, 28, are all the same word and remind us of Mordecai in Est. x, 3, but especially of Him who is our peace,
our health, our salvation.

In xiv, 1, Joseph made himself known to his brethren. Jesus must make Himself known to us, and this He longs to do by His spirit through His word. We must have a heart of readiness to be taught without seeing Jesus, for otherwise it may be true lost. It is beautiful to see Joseph recognizing the hand of God in all the events of the past (xiv, 5, 7, 8, 9; 1, 20) and sending the messages of love and good cheer to his father from the long lost son.

Two of Joseph's words to his brethren as he sent them to bring his father should become watchwords with believers—"Hoged not your stuff, for the good of all the land of Egypt is yours," and "See that ye fall not out by the way" (verses 20 and 24). God would have us as strangers here, regarding not this world's goods except in so far as we can use them for Him, but rich toward God in Christ Jesus, have our affections set upon things above and avoid all strife as we journey on.

In proportion as things unseen become real all things seen and temporal become unreal. Jacob in his old age is careful to walk with God, and as he is about to pass out of the land of promise to go down to Egypt he seems to have some misgivings and to desire a message from God. He is therefore granted a comforting and assuring message from his faithful God (xv, 1-4) and so goes on his way to greet his long lost son. He could not believe that Joseph was still alive till he saw the wagons which Joseph had sent for him. It is well when there is visible evidence in our lives that Jesus lives and has sent us to bring people to Him (Eph. ii, 10; Tit. iii, 8).

Do not fail to note the meeting of Jacob and Pharaoh and Jacob's testimony (xvii, 9); also Jacob's blessing upon the two sons of Joseph (xviii, 13-20) and the wondrous fullness of the blessings upon Joseph himself (xix, 22-29). Compare the last words of Jacob and Joseph in xix, 21, and 24, and note the assurance of deliverance from Egypt as foretold to Abraham in chapter xv, 12-16. See Joseph's twice repeated "God will surely visit you" (1, 24, 25) and think of the testimony of that coffin in Egypt to many a discouraged one these long years of oppression as Moses led them out. We look not to a dead person, but to a risen, living, returning Christ, who will fulfill every promise of God to every believer.

The election for school trustees Saturday, the terms of Dr. F. M. Stites and Mr. W. A. Long having expired, resulted in the re-election of the incumbents. The vote stood:

Mrs. W. M. McGee, who lives in the Highlands on east Seventh street, was painfully injured this morning by falling on a rock which may have caused internal injuries. Mrs. McGee went out to get a bucket of water from the hydrant in the yard. The ground was slippery from the rain which had fallen during the night, and her feet slipped from under her and in falling her side struck a rock. The rib was not broken but it was pressed against the lung in such a manner that the lady was caused much suffering.

A person is "traveling some" when he undertakes to keep up with the industrial pace of the southern states. The Tradesman, in its review for the short period of one week, gives a list of 137 new industries established in the southern states during the week. The capitalization of 112 of these is reported as an aggregate of $13,237,000, or an average of about $120,000. Apply the same average to the 25 concerns who capitalization is not stated, gives a grand total for the week of 162 new industries capitalized at $16,237,000. If this is not industrial progress, a new definition of the term is needed.

NEW CHARGES

OF DISCRIMINATION ARE FILED AGAINST ILLINOIS CENTRAL

William Eades Makes Strong Charges Against Superintendent
A. H. Egan.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—In the way of a sequel to the two-days' hearing of Judge Judson C. Clements, of the interstate commerce commission, of complaints of alleged discrimination on the part of the Illinois Central railroad in the supplying of cars to coal operators in western Kentucky, comes, less than a week after the adjournment of the hearing, another complaint from William Eades, president of the Hillside Coal company, and who was chief plaintiff in the former inquisition. Not only does he complain of further alleged discrimination on the part of the railroad, but makes strong charges against A. H. Egan, superintendent of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central, alleging abuse of himself by Mr. Egan and personal violence offered by Mr. Egan to W. W. Jenkins, of Sturgis, who was a witness at the recent hearing.

He charges that Superintendent Egan on the afternoon the hearing before the interstate commerce commission closed met him in the Seventh-street station and cursed and abused him and told him that he need not ask for any favors, for he would not get them. He also speaks of Superintendent Egan striking some one on the same evening in his complaint to the Kentucky railroad commission. He urges that he be afforded some relief from the discrimination as practiced against his mine by the Illinois Central.

The letter of complaint from Mr. Eades to the Kentucky railroad commission has been sent by Chairman C. C. McChord to Edward A. Moseley, secretary of the interstate commerce commission, at Washington, D. C.

NICK AND ALICE

HAD TROUBLES GALORE IN TRIP FROM LEXINGTON TO LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6.—Drenched by a chill rainstorm and delayed on the road several hours by breakdowns of their big touring car, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, accompanied by Lexington and Cincinnati friends, arrived in Louisville last night at 10 o'clock to see the Derby run this afternoon at Churchill Downs. In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were former Mayor Julius Fleischmann, Mrs. Fleischmann, and Clough Anderson, of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. D. Gray Falconer, of Lexington. They have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Falconer at Lexington for several days and attended the race meeting at the old association track.

They spent yesterday morning in sightseeing at various stock farms about Lexington, and the party left at noon in two big touring cars for this city. Their first stop was at Versailles, where J. N. Camden, the president of the Kentucky Racing Horse Association, entertained them at luncheon. Leaving Versailles, they had a pleasant trip through Woodford and Franklin counties until they came within about six miles of Shelbyville, where a series of accidents occurred, which delayed them several hours.

First a tire on the big sixty-five horse power machine which Mr. Fleischmann imported from France at a cost of $16,000 burst and it was necessary to stop and repair it. This was done in a short time, but the car had not gone two miles before another tire was punctured and another stop was necessary.

This delayed them until nearly 6 o'clock and then darkness began to gather and the rain added to the discomforts of the trip. Another stop of fifteen minutes was made at Shelbyville in order that chains might be placed on the automobile wheels to prevent them from skidding.

A note was sent to the Longworth apartments asking for the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Longworth as to Kentucky, and the following reply was received:

"Mr. and Mrs. Longworth are charmed with the beauty of Kentucky and the courtesy and hospitality of her people."

KILLED A NEGRO

PREACHER, ACTING AS SPECIAL OFFICER, RESENTS INSULT.

Was Attempting to Close Immoral Resorts Which Police Had Winked at.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 6. Chattanooga's Police department promises to get in bad as the result of a shooting yesterday in which Pete Freeman, a negro, met his death at the hands of Rev. S. L. Crouch, an ordained minister, who for the time is a special officer on duty at Loomis & Hart Mills.

The shooting grew out of efforts made by Crouch to close up a negro house of ill fame existing with the full knowledge and consent of the Police department at the foot of Pine street.

Crouch is the head of a highly respectable household that occupies a cottage in unpleasant proximity to the "disorderly" house. For weeks he has tried to have the place closed, but the police did not act. The objectionable resort, which has been frequented by whites as well as blacks, is a part of the Dugger estate, heirs to which are identified with the city government.

Yesterday the negroes sought to harass Crouch on account of his efforts to close the house. Freeman was a "funky" at the immoral resort, and he met Crouch on the street and insulted him. Crouch did not hesitate a moment, but drew his pistol and fired. The shot proved fatal, the negro dying before medical aid could be secured.

There is a strong feeling in the city tending to sustain Crouch in his crusade against vice, and also in his act committed yesterday afternoon in merely repelling an insult.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. NOT GUILTY

WAS VERDICT OF JURY IN MOOT COURT

Vernon Lindley Acquitted of Stealing Chickens.—Trial Was Interesting.
—Nice Sum Was Realized.

Had a stranger in Hopkinsville stepped into Moayon's Hall Saturday night and heard the proceedings which were taking place there, he might have thought that the surroundings were rather lacking in grandeur and impressiveness, but he never would have doubted that he was in a real court of justice.

The occasion though was nothing more serious than a moot court which was being held for the purpose of raising money to buy baseball uniforms for the Company D team.

Vernon Lindley was the prisoner and the charge against him was that of stealing chickens. Joe McCarroll, Jr., was the judge and he presided with a dignity and decided the knotty points which were raised with a readiness and impartiality which would have done credit to any justice of the higher courts. Ernest Gravens was sheriff and James Breathitt, Jr., was clerk and both fulfilled their duties well. On account of Herbert Holmes being unable to be present Stanley Bassett was left alone in the prosecution except for what assistance he got from the clerk but it must be said that he made out a strong case against the prisoner, even proving it by eye witnesses and the confessions of accomplices.

His argument was eloquent and convincing. The defense was represented by Alvan Clark and Caldwell Feland and they showed much skill in their management of the case. They proved by several witnesses that Lindley had bought the chickens from a negro. Their speeches in support of their testimony and their pleas for his acquittal were masterpieces of oratory and logic. The jury was made up from among the audience and contained the prescribed twelve men. When the case was given into their hands they retired into an anteroom and deliberated for some time. So long in fact were they out that it was persistently rumored that they had failed to reach an agreement, but they finally announced ready and when the verdict was read it was not guilty.

Quite a nice sum was realized from the trial.

VETERANS WILL TAKE PART IN MAY MUSIC FESTIVAL

Confederates and G. A. R.'s Will Be Seen in "Americana."—Albert
D. Shaw Secured.

At meetings held Saturday afternoon the members of both the Ned Meriwether camp of Confederate Veterans and G. A. R. Post No. 96 unanimously agreed to take part in the presentation of "Americana" on the last night of the May Music Festival. The presence of these old veterans who opposed each other in the great war between the states, but who will then come together for the purpose of helping in a common cause, will add a touch of realism to the scene which will contribute much to its success. The old veterans will sing the battle songs which fired them to deeds of valor on the battlefields, and will march and counter-march as they did in those days when they were filled with martial ardor.

In addition to the veterans, Innes band the two big choruses, etc., which have been arranged for, still other organizations will take part. Among these will be Lebkuecher's band of this city, which needs no introduction to Hopkinsville people. The First regimental drum corps of eight pieces from Clarksville will be another feature of the great allegorical drama. The drum corps will be commanded by Capt. Lee Hodgson.

Manager McPherson has also received a letter from Albert D. Shaw, the great English tenor, stating that he had forwarded a signed contract for his appearance here at the Music festival. The only hitch in the negotiations for Mr. Shaw's presence was in the fact that he had previously signed up for a round of oratorio appearances in England and he had to find out whether or not he could so arrange these as to give him the necessary time here. This has now been done and another feature added to the already long list which promises the greatest success for the music festival, for Mr. Shaw is undoubtedly one of the greatest tenor singers of the day and his services are always in demand.

Prof. Mayo is rapidly getting the two choruses into shape, each organization having improved wonderfully during the past few days. Rehearsals will be held this afternoon and tonight as usual.

EDUCATION IN KENTUCKY.

Mr. Barksdale Hamlett, President of the Kentucky Educational Association, has issued an address calling for approval and applause. He says, amongst other pertinent things:

"In thousands of communities in the state of Kentucky may be seen by a close observer, in the shadow of the turrets of costly and elegantly appointed stock barns, little houses unfit and inadequate for the shelter of sheep in a winter blizzard, where the majority of the sons and daughters of the great commonwealth of Kentucky find their own emancipation from the slavery of ignorance. The facts are irrefutable. They stand out in bold shameful relief before us. The salary of our horse trainer is incomparably better than the salary of him who spends half of his life in preparation for the training of our youth in the ways of citizenship and social usefulness. In almost every county in the state of Kentucky the educator, be he a district school teacher, a county superintendent, a city superintendent or college president, would reap financial gain by exchanging places with those who have charge of the criminal and insane. Much could be said and has been said already by others, showing how woefully neglected has been the cause of education in Kentucky."

"Gratifying, however, is it to know that a change is at hand. The educational uplift manifest throughout the land is at work in Kentucky. We cannot lag behind. Our interest demands progress. Shall we have it?—Bowling Green News.

M. W. Davis, of Eades & Davis, dealers in goal on East Seventh St., at the L. & N. R. R., and who lives at 508 North Main St., Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "I advise the use of Doan's Kidney Pills in all cases similar to that of my son, who for some time complained of backache and was troubled with a kidney weakness which was very annoying at night. We tried many different remedies and he was treated by the family physician but nothing seemed to do him much good. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Thomas & Trahern's drug store. He used them and there was a noticeable improvement in a short time. After he had taken all of the contents that which had proved such an annoyance was entirely relieved. We consider Doan's Kidney Pills certainly worthy of strong endorsement."

VERY ACTIVE

WAS THE LOCAL TOBACCO MARKET LAST WEEK.

Planters Association Sold 600 Hogsheads at Good Prices.—Market Shows Signs of Awakening.

The local tobacco market was very active during the past week, sales showing a heavy increase and prices ruling strong, and some instances showing an advance.

The Planters Protective association, through their local salesman, report that they sold here during the week 600 hogsheads, this being as much as they had previously sold during the entire season. This was all of the lower grades, lugs and common to medium leaf, but prices ruled from $6.25 to $11. The demand for association tobacco is firm and all offerings are easily salable.

About 100 hogsheads were sold on the open market, this also being of lugs or leaf seconds. It is yet rather early for this branch of the market to show much activity but indications are that sales here will increase from now on. Prices ruled: Lugs, low, $6 to $7; common, $7 to $7.50; medium to good, $7.50 to $8.50; leaf, common, $8.50 to $7.50; seconds, $7.50 to $9. No offerings of better grades being made.

On the loose floor prices were reported to be higher than at any previous time this year, although offerings are steadily declining in amount, due to the closing of the season. Here also only low grade tobacco were offered, these being all of the lower grades, lugs and on which prices ranged from $5 to $7.50.

The independent rehandling houses are rapidly winding up their purchases, the Imperial plant closing out with the end of the week. While no figures were given out it is understood that this plant handled during the season several hundred pounds of tobacco, which, after being prized here was shipped directly to England.

The reported scarcity of plants does not seem to be overestimated, and a very short crop is therefore expected.

The Limit Passed.

If the reported shooting of Mrs. Hollowell is true, it is time that stronger measures than newspaper criticism were adopted to put an end to the conditions existing in the dark tobacco district.

When forty armed men, in order to defend their "rights," feel called on to shoot down a woman who has done no more than her duty in testifying to the destruction of property by incendiaries, the time and occasion are met when such defense of such rights should be made to furnish a speedy introduction to vigilante methods or the enforcement of law, the courts having proved themselves either unwilling or unable to furnish protection to property or to guard the good name of the state against a series of outrages more skillfully devised to injure Kentucky than the destruction of every crop of tobacco ever raised within her confines. Revolt against the methods of the tobacco trust was natural. The form that revolt has taken is abhorrent.—Louisville Times.

Passed Matter Up.

The court of appeals declined to dissolve an injunction granted by the Woodford circuit court to restrain a tobacco raiser from breaking a contract into which he entered with the Burley tobacco society and selling his crop to the American tobacco company.

The full bench of the court sat with Judge Barker, by invitation, and heard the motion and argument and unanimously agreed, because of the wide difference of opinion among them on the questions presented, to overrule the motion and thus pass the whole matter over to be heard with the case on its merits when it comes regularly on appeal before the court.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 5.—That life is a battle with the gigantic forces of sin, but that he who seeks divine help is assured of victory, is the lesson of this sermon. The text is Numbers 13, xxxiii, "And there we saw the giants, the sons of Anak, which come of the giants."

The most dangerous and yet one of the most important duties assigned to a soldier in time of war is that of a spy. No soldier but the bravest and the most intelligent is ever selected by a commanding general for this dangerous mission. After the retreat from Long Island, George Washington needed information in reference to the numbers and the geographical position of the enemy. So he selected the brilliant Nathan Hale to penetrate the British lines and scan the fortifications of Sir William Howe. We all know the tragic end of that journey. Nathan Hale died uttering the words, "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." But in the sacrifice of that one life he bequeathed to the American people the legacy of an example of heroism and faithfulness which is a perpetual inspiration for every generation since his day and which will be a perpetual inspiration to all unborn Americans to the end of time.

When the traitor Benedict Arnold was about to betray his trust and surrender West Point into the hands of the enemy, Sir Henry Clinton, the British commander, had to send a spy into the Gibraltar of America's fortifications. So he selected the Nathan Hale of his army, Major Andre. This officer was without doubt one of the most promising young soldiers of King George's army. He entered the American lines. He met the renegade Arnold. As a spy he was captured at Tarrytown and hanged by the neck until he was dead, as was the brilliant young American soldier Nathan Hale. I am using these two noted historical illustrations to show the risk that a spy runs in order that his general may learn the position and the strength of the enemy. I am also using them to prove that only the ablest and the bravest and the best soldiers of an army are ever detailed by the commanding officers to perform the duty of a spy. A spy once caught in the enemy's lines is always executed as soon as a court martial can be summoned.

Spies For Moses.
Moses may have been an orator like Aaron, but he had the eloquence of action. He was one of the wisest leaders of men who ever lived. With marvelous executive skill he led the children of Israel out from the Egyptian enslavement. He led them through the Red sea. Now he was face to face with his intrenched foes. The promised land was before him. Moses was like Hannibal about to invade the Roman empire. He was like Xerxes with his million followers about to cross the Hellespont or the strait of Dardanelles. He was like Julius Caesar invading the land of the Gauls. Moses knew not what was ahead. Therefore as a wise general and leader of men he selected his spies and sent them forward to find out what kind of people lived in Canaan. He wanted to find out what were the fortifications of his enemies, what was their military discipline and the easiest way for the Israelites to attack them. He did just what General James Wolfe did when about to attack Quebec. He sent forward his spies to learn the way up the heights of Abraham. Then when the British commander knew the way he commanded the troops to advance to the onslaught.

Now, what did the children of Israel hear about their foes when these spies came back with their reports? "Why," said most of these spies, "we can never capture those lands. The inhabitants are a race of giants. A little five-year-old child has just as much show of whipping his father as we have of slaying those men. Those giants are also intrenched in impregnable fortresses. Each city is a huge walled town. These men are not only giants, but their numbers are as multitudinous as the sands of the sea. There are many nations there and all working together. Oh, why did we come? Oh, why did we leave our homes in Egypt?" Thus did most of the spies report who went into the promised land. Yet forty years afterward the sons of these men overcame the giants and their strongholds, as they themselves might have done if they had put faith in God. So some timid disciples of Christ in our day shrink from attacking the forces of sin in their intrenchments. They think of their own weakness instead of the omnipotence of God, who will fight for them. Our fault is that of these ancient Hebrews. Instead of going boldly to the fight we hold back and whimper, "We saw the giants, the sons of Anak, which come of giants."

They Were Not Pygmies.
In the first place, these Hebrew spies saw men of tremendous physical proportions. The inhabitants of the promised land were not pygmies, such as Stanley found in the heart of Africa. They were the sons of Anak. They loomed up before the Hebrew spies like some of the Kentucky men who are six or seven feet in height. They were like the Goliath whom David, the shepherd boy, fought. They were formidable human monsters of bone and sinew and muscle. They were men of mighty physical proportions. The same kind of giants are inhabiting the Judean hills today. When the tourist travels through the Holy Land and sees a long line of Bedouins riding past upon their beautifully caparisoned Arabian thoroughbreds, they loom up so big that it seems as though they could take you up as a child and with their mighty arms crush you as easily as a huge boa constrictor could strangle a little fawn. There are living today in Palestine among the Bedouin tribes men just as great and strong as was the Philistine adversary whom David heard taunting and defying Saul's army.

Do you, as wise men, think it was wrong for these Hebrew spies to take a true measurement of the physical proportions of these giants? I do not. If I had been one of those spies I would have said to Moses and the people waiting for my report, as I would say now to the Christian young man going into the temptations of the world: "You are going to have giants to fight in this world. You are not going to fight a lot of pygmies. You must develop your brain. You must develop the strength of your arm. You must clean your weapons and put them in the finest trim. No man is ever able to successfully triumph over the mighty giants of life unless he fully draws upon all his resources of body, mind and soul." He would be a foolishly David who went forth to battle against a Goliath who was a son of Anak unless his sling was in perfect condition, unless he chose the smoothest and roundest stones from the brook and unless he had practiced at a target week in and week out until he can hit the smallest mark with the accuracy of a William Tell shooting the apple off the head of his son.

No False Reports.
Moses did not want his spies to bring back a false report of the giants dwelling in the land of Canaan any more than God wants a mother and a father to belittle the temptations and the struggles which are ahead of their children in the battle of life. And one reason why so many children go morally and spiritually astray is because their own parents do not take those children lovingly and tenderly aside and tell them how powerful are the temptations that may come to them and the necessity of those children throwing themselves upon the divine power in order to resist those temptations.

Let me see. Your boy is about fifteen years old, is he not? He is just verging on young manhood. He has grown up under your protecting love and care. You have taught him the Bible. You have sent him to Sunday school. You have surrounded him with noble, uplifting influences. You have been so careful of him that you would not allow him to stay away from your home at night. But tell me, what have you taught your boy about the secret sins of life? What have you told him about immoral acts and thoughts? "Oh, no," you answer, "I never told my son about the evils of this world, because I did not want him even to think of evil. He is as innocent as a little child. He is too young yet to know." Is he too young? The enemy does not think so. Why, last week one of his classmates showed him a vile picture and told him what it meant. You say he is innocent? Yes, but do you not know that his very innocence may be the occasion of his moral overthrow? Do you now know, O mother, that many an innocent young girl has been led astray through her mother's neglect to warn her of the snares that may be laid for her feet? Those young men did not intend to do wrong. They thought they were trifling with a pygmy, and they suddenly awoke to find out they were in the grasp of a mighty giant. If fathers and mothers should not warn their children against the nature and power of temptation, who should? Yes, yes, the spies were right when they reported to Moses that the Israelites had to fight giants. When we want a friend against dangers we do not destroy the friend, but we may save him by putting him upon his guard.

Be a Giant Killer.
Again, I notice that these spies reported other giants in the land besides the sons of Anak. This showed their wisdom. The other giants might not be so formidable in appearance as the Anakim, but they might be just as powerful an enemy through being better equipped and armed. Some of these savage giants might fight with arrows and spear, some with a hand net, some with snares and stratagem, some with poisoned arrows, some by starvation and cold. So in our fight. Though a man is able to resist one gigantic temptation of life, that does not prove that he can resist all temptations. You are not a drunkard, but that does not prove you may not be overthrown by the giant of sensuality, or by the giant of avarice, or by the giant of jealousy, or by the giant of the evil tongue. In an old legendary story we once read about the boy called Jack the Giant Killer. Now, every man, woman and child, if he is to be a true Christian, must be a giant killer. We all have some especial giant to fight, and every giant attacks his victims in a different way.

There was another fact to which the spies called Moses' attention. These giants were intrenched. They said, "The cities are walled and very great." They were not a lot of harmless nomad tribes, living in tents and wandering about from place to place in search of rich pasture lands. They were giants who were rich in gold and silver and precious stones. In order to protect their increasing wealth they erected huge walls. These walls were almost impregnable. They could not be battered down. They were too high to be scaled. If the cities within these walls were ever captured it must be by stratagem. The cities of Jericho, Ai, Heshbon and Jahaz were the Gibralters of those days. If the inhabitants were on their guard and had enough food and water to resist a long siege they were safe from capture.

No man unless he has traveled in the east and has seen the width and the height of those walls encompassing the ancient cities has any adequate conception of their enormous strength. When Cyrus the Great, with his conquering host, came to the Babylonian walls in 539 B. C., the ponderous masses of brass were slammed shut in his face, and he was absolutely helpless. Day after day, week after week, month after month, the siege went on. Cyrus was no nearer the conquest of Belshazzar's capital at the end of twelve months than he was in the beginning. The Persian general could have scattered the Babylonian troops like chaff before the wind if he only could have reached them. But Belshazzar and his soldiers simply laughed at and mocked him because the Babylonian walls were between them and the besieging army. Had not Belshazzar and his army got drunk one night while celebrating the king's birthday and allowed the lower gates under the river to be left open, and had not Cyrus that night diverted the river Euphrates from its channel and marched through the dry bed into that city during the vassal, the Persian general might never have been able to capture it. Cyrus might be able to take Babylon by stratagem, but never by battering down or scaling Babylon's impregnable walls.

Taken by Stratagem.
When Agamemnon ended his long ten years' siege of old Troy, he was just as helpless at the end of the siege as in the first month. Those walls, the impregnable Trojan walls, were still between him and his prize. Did Agamemnon after ten years' experience uselessly continue to batter his head against those impregnable stones? No. He resorted to strategy. He constructed a wooden horse and filled it with soldiers. Then he pretended that the siege was raised and that he was about to sail away to his own land. But no sooner was the huge horse drawn into the city by the Trojans and the gates had fallen than the soldiers leaped out from the wooden hiding place and, rushing to the gates, swung them open. There the invading army was waiting. Agamemnon rushed in and captured the doomed city. Walled in Troy had resisted direct attack, but it was captured by stratagem. Thus those Hebrew spies looked upon the towering walls of Jericho and Ai and Heshbon and Jahaz. They said: "Moses, the walls are too high. They are too thick and too strong to be overthrown."

Thus timid Christians look at the mighty intrenched walls of sin. "Why," say some men, "what is the use of attacking the saloon? It is a giant that is intrenched behind the walls of politics. You can never dislodge him. You cannot find a people or a nation on the face of the earth that does not crave and use stimulants. There is an unpalatable desire gnawing at people's palates which must be satisfied. On account of this almost universal craving the saloons today own the ballot box. They own our city and state and national governments. The churches are helpless." "What is the use of attacking the giant avarice?" says another. "Why, even the church members themselves are in the midst of struggle for gold." I know that the giants of avarice and of drunkenness and of licentiousness are intrenched in society. The walls those giants have built cannot be captured and overthrown by direct attack. But cannot they be overthrown by Christian stratagem? Did not the Lord God Almighty overthrow the Jericho walls by the blast of the ram's horns? Cannot the Lord God Almighty, who turned the Nile into a river of blood and who divided the waters of the Red sea, make even the mighty fortress of Jericho totter and sway and fall before the archangel's trumpet, whose blast shall yet sound the deathknell of all worlds and universes and times? Cannot God still win the battle for us over sin where human agencies fail?

Timid Counsels.
But again I hear those Hebrew spies say: "Moses, there is still another danger. These giants, the heroes of many battles, are now upon their guard. They have heard of the marvelous miracles which took place in Egypt. They know they will fight until their last brave soldier drops dead. We have been in those cities. We have heard the giants talk. It is simply useless for us, an untrained band of ex-slaves, to cope with those giants who are insured to war and who will now fight us to the end." Thus these Hebrew spies spoke. Thus Christians often speak in reference to the giants the intrenched giants of sin are making at the present day.

Now, all hunters know how dangerous it is to attack even harmless wild beasts when they are driven to bay or defending their young. For instance, the coyote or the small black bear or even the mountain lion at sight of man in the open will turn and run, but when the curling lips will show their white teeth, and the claws will work convulsively. Thus it is with the giants of sin in our day. They know the forces of righteousness are moving on their fortresses. They know that they must conquer or be annihilated. Therefore we must not be surprised if the struggle is desperate.

O men and women who are facing the giants of evil in mortal combat, can you not cry out as did Paul in times of old, "I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me?" If you have not already received that divine strength by prayer and supplication, will you not seek it now at the throne of grace? During the reign of Bloody Mary a poor martyr was about to be burned at the stake. When the soldiers brought him toward the fagots he kept crying, "I cannot burn; I cannot burn!" Then he lifted his voice in earnest prayer as he cried out, "O God, give me strength to burn!" Suddenly a seraphic smile lighted his countenance as he cried: "Lord, I thank thee. Now I have strength enough to burn!" Friends, facing the giants of life, facing the giants of temptation, facing them in your own physical and temporal weaknesses, will you not plead at the throne of grace that God may give you divine strength to accomplish all things in his dear Son's name? God is saying: "Men, women and children, will you conquer? Will you defeat the giants of sin? Will you go over the Jordan and take the promised land?" His strength is at our disposal, as it was at the disposal of those ancient Hebrews. Shall we do as they did—turn back from the struggle because we are afraid? Then God will withhold the blessing from us, as he did from those Hebrews. Or shall we not rather go forward trusting in his omnipotent power and learn that in his strength we can overthrow giants?

ARMY WORMS CAMP

IN SOUTH CHRISTIAN AND ARE DOING DAMAGE.

Havoc Wrought On Some Farms—Digging Trenches to Arrest Their Devastating March.

Army worms have made their appearance in large numbers in some sections of south Christian. They are more general in the Newstead neighborhood, W. A. Glass and other farmers having reported their arrival on their places.

Perhaps the worst sufferer so far heard from is Dr. John Bell, of Bell Station. Dr. Bell stated Wednesday that the worms appeared on his place Thursday of last week and that by Tuesday night of this week they had cleaned up six acres of meadow and six acres of corn which had sprouted and was growing nicely. Both fields were eaten off as clean as if swept by a broom. After completing their work in these fields the worms started for a field of clover, but Dr. Bell put his farm hands to work and ditched the field and so arrested their progress. He says the ditch he dug was about twelve inches deep and that it is nearly half full of the worms which fell into the trap thus laid for them.

This ditching is about the only way in which to stop their ravages, and in years when they are unusually numerous, whole farms have to sometimes be ditched. These ditches must be dug with the walls sloping inward, so as not to furnish a place where the worms can crawl up. If the least roughness is left they will take advantage of it and make their way out of the ditch and into the fields.

Where the worms come from is a mystery. They travel from one field to another and will eat anything green except winter oats. As they travel their route can be plainly seen on account of the destruction of every vestige of plant life in their path. Farmers say that the worms are always preceded from a week to ten days by a black bird with yellow spots. These birds have been seen in various sections where the worms have not yet appeared and the farmers of those localities are very uneasy.

IN LARGE NUMBERS

FARMERS ARE NOW JOINING THE ASSOCIATION.

Membership in Christian County is increasing very rapidly.—Report of Vice-Chairman Fowler.

Judge W. T. Fowler, assistant chairman for Christian county of the Planters' Protective association, reports that the farmers of this county are rapidly and voluntarily signing the pledges of the organization. Wednesday he exhibited a list bearing the names of 276 farmers who had joined within the past week, these same farmers having pledged an aggregate of 2,352 acres.

The association is much pleased over the increase in its membership in this county, which up to this time has been the poorest organized in the entire district. They say it is only the beginning of a general rush to its ranks and that within a short time the county will be almost solidly organized.

BUSINESS SATISFACTORY

According to Report of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association.

GUTHRIE, Ky., May 9.—The officials of the Dark Tobacco Growers' District association here report a most satisfactory state of business. This, as is well known, is the official headquarters for the association. They report 4,500 hogsheds of the 1906 sold, prices on lugs ranging from $6 to $8.50, and on leaf from $8.66 to $16, with few of the finest grades yet sold. The estimate on the 1906 crop is about 40,000 or 45,000 hogsheds. Sales are being made rapidly.
