Monsieur Beaucaire

By BOOTH TARKINGTON, Author of "The Covered Wagon" and "The Comstock of Conscience"

CHAPTER I

The Englishman red-out, "It is the story of work, of standing by with you and 'neat hands' and on your own.

Beaucaire smiled, as though he were of the secret society that had come suddenly to the attention of the Englishman. "I would like to forget the name of the Englishman."

The Englishman turned, and saw what he had been thinking of, the man seated on the chair, who seemed to be wrapped in a silken robe. Beaucaire turned his head, as though the Englishman were looking at his face. "What does he mean?"

The Englishman watched his eye still and harsh, already gathering in his mind. The steady purple of his own color was returning. His voice was as low as his tones. "I hold my head and wait."

"I have heard of you, sir," said Beaucaire, "I have heard of your name."

"I know you," said the Englishman, "I know you."

"I am Monsieur Beaucaire," said the Frenchman. "It is a poor man's folly to be a beggar's son."

"I am Monsieur Beaucaire," said the Frenchman. "I am the man who is the author of "The Covered Wagon.""

CALL OF POLITICS

HAS BEEN HEARD BY A REPUBLICAN EDITOR.

Gay, Clark Announces That He is in the Race for Nashville for Representative.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The plan of representing Christian country by the Republicans, especially in Tennessee, has been one of the most notable features of the campaign. Gay, a native of the state, is a member of the Republican party, and is a candidate for the office of Representative from the state.

The annoucement was made by Gay, who said: "I shall be a candidate for the office of Representative from Tennessee. I shall be a candidate for the office of Representative from Tennessee. The people of the state have given me their support, and I shall do my best to carry out their wishes."

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The disease is due to the growth of bacteria and germs in the blood, which are the cause of many diseases. The treatment of chronic ulcers is to remove the cause of the disease, which is the polluted blood. The treatment consists of using an ointment that contains the medicine "Kodol." Kodol is a concentrated glyceric extract of medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

HARWOOD SPRINGS, Ky. — Frank Logan lived and nearly died early this week when a fire swept through his home in the small community of Harwood Springs, Ky. The fire started in the attic and spread quickly, causing extensive damage to the house.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor at about 3:00 a.m. when smoke began to pour from the windows. The neighbor immediately called the local fire department, which arrived on the scene within minutes.

The fire was contained within the attic and did not spread to the rest of the house. However, the attic was completely destroyed, and the rest of the house suffered minor damage.

No one was injured in the fire, but the family lost everything they owned. The family is now in need of assistance and is seeking donations to help them get back on their feet.

The cause of the fire is currently under investigation by the local fire department. The family is working with the fire department to determine the cause of the fire and to prevent similar incidents in the future.

Anyone wishing to assist the family can contact the fire department at (502) 555-3456 or donate to the local Red Cross chapter.

Talmage Sermon
By Rev.
Phineas T. Barnum, D. D.

Last summer I read a book by Dr. C. M. Mann, called "The Life of Joseph." I was much interested in the story of Joseph, and I thought it was a wonderful story. It was a story of how a young man went from the humblest of circumstances to the highest position in the land.

But there is another reason why I am interested in the story of Joseph. It is because I believe that the story of Joseph is an allegory of the life of man. I believe that the story of Joseph is a story of how a man can rise from the lowest to the highest position in life.

Let us do faithfully the work we have been given to do and not waste our lives doing the work of others.

Joseph was a prime minister of Pharaoh's kingdom. He was a man who had been given a great trust. He was a man who had been given the responsibility of ruling over a great nation.

When the years of famine were gone, the huge rivers had overflowed their banks. The vast fields were covered with grain. The people were no longer in danger of starvation.

Joseph was pure. He was a man of integrity. He was a man who had been given a great trust and had used it wisely.

But there was one mistake he made. He did not forgive his brothers. He did not forget the wrong they had done him.
