WEEKLY NEW ERA.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1927

VOLUME XXVI, NO. 39

ELECTIONS TO BE HELD BY THE PLANTERS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

County Committeemen Will be Chosen On The First Saturday in September, And on The 14th Prox. Chairmen Will be Named.

The first Saturday in September will be a day of much moment to the members of the Planters Protective Association for at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day the members of that organization all over the Black Patch will meet at their respective voting precincts and elect county committeemen from each magisterial district.

On the next Saturday, September 14, it will be the duty of these committeemen to meet at the courthouse of their respective counties and elect a chairman for the county committee who, by virtue of this office, becomes a member of the executive committee for the entire dark tobacco district.

It is therefore an important matter to the farmers to be looking forward to this election and when the time comes to attend the meeting at their voting precincts and elect as committeemen the best and most energetic men in their community to serve on the county committee. In this way they assure themselves of securing the best timber available for the transaction of the business of the association. The duty then devolving upon these committeemen is equally as important in the selection of a chairman.

It is probable that Christian county will make no radical changes in its committee or in the chairman. W. W. Radford, of Howell, has been chairman in this county now for the past three or four years and he has made a capable and faithful officer. Mr. Radford says he is not seeking a re-election but that if his fellow associates on the county committee think he is the man to keep at the head in this county he is ready and willing to continue in his present position. Mr. Radford is considering moving to Hopkinsville in the early fall, so that he may be more centrally located and that he may put his children in school. He has not yet decided positively whether he will take this step or not.

It has not yet been announced how the officers of the association, such as president, advisory board, secretary, treasurer, etc., will be elected this year. Heretofore this election has taken place at the big annual reunion at Guthrie, but now that this has been called off some other plan must be adopted. It is the general opinion that at the precinct meetings which will be held on the first Saturday in September the members of the association will instruct the committeemen whom they elect as to their choice for the various offices and that these committeemen will so instruct their chairman when he is elected. When these chairmen then assemble at Guthrie as an executive committee they will then be in position to cast their votes as their county wants them to.

The couple were married in this city on July 13, 1905. The bride lived at Crofton while the groom hailed from San Francisco and at the time the wedding attracted considerable attention from the lavish manner in which the groom spent his money while in the city.

Mrs. Word, who is under 21 years of age, charges her husband with confirmed drunkenness, cruelty and threatening her life.

TENTH OF OCTOBER

BOOKS OF ASSOCIATION WILL BE CLOSED.

Chairman W. W. Radford, of the Christian county executive committee of the Planters' Protective Association, was in the city today and when interviewed announced that the books of the association in this county would be finally closed on October 10. This is a positive announcement and Chairman Radford went further and stated that any member of the organization who took the pledge of any outsider after that date would be heavily fined for so doing. It is supposed that this announcement will have the effect of bringing into the association a large number of those farmers who have up to this time refused to join.

The next regular meeting of the Christian county executive committee will be held in this city on the third Monday (August 19) and a full attendance is desired.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded. No mind and judgment are checked, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

SALARIES THEY GET

CAUSE ASSOCIATION OFFICIALS TO BE CRITICISED.

"Old Shanks," Influential Member Of Organization, Makes a Sensational Speech.

A despatch from Clarksville, Tenn., to the Nashville Banner says:

A sensation has been caused among the members of the Dark Tobacco Growers association over a speech delivered at Keysburg, Ky., by W. P. Anderson, "Old Shanks," one of the most prominent members of the association, condemning the inner workings of that organization. Mr. Anderson said by way of explanation:

"It befalls my lot to deliver to you my neighbors and friends, some news which I have just discovered. In the inner workings of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association.

"It is the most painful duty that it has ever fallen my lot to perform, yet I have never shirked a duty and I consider the facts I have should go before the people." He then criticised severely the high salaries of the officers. He said that the very thing had happened that the enemies of the association said would happen.

"The officers, or a few of them," he said "have voted themselves salaries that are out of all proportion to the duties or the labor they are called on to perform."

"The three members of the advisory committee are paying themselves $2,100 a year, the treasurer $2,500, secretary $1,500, John Allen, speaker, $1,800.

"The president, Chas Fort and his brother Joel Fort, have been poorly paid, the former receiving $5 at each meeting of the executive committee, while the latter drew $100 per month as orator and paid his own expenses.

"He has contributed more to the success of the association than any three men connected with it, yet in order to get him out of the way the officials have made it so unpleasant for him that he has handed in his resignation, and his brother's was to follow."

Mr. Anderson went after certain officials in strong terms. He has taken an important part in the organization and stands high with all the members.

DON'T PUT IT OFF LONGER.

Get Rid of That Indigestion at Once By Using Mi-o-na.

Either through slackness or carelessness, hundreds of people slowly poison themselves by chronic indigestion. By neglecting to cure at once any sluggishness of the important organs of digestion the system is filled with fermenting and decaying food that results in sick headaches, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, specks before the eyes, sleeplessness, nervous troubles and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion.

The want of a perfectly safe yet effective cure for indigestion and stomach troubles in their many forms was felt up to the time of the successful investigation that resulted in the production of Mi-o-na stomach tablets. They quickly cure the worst cases of indigestion, and the pain and distress which are often felt after meals disappear in a few days—such in the wonderful curative power of Mi-o-na.

The old-fashioned medicines for stomach troubles merely digest the food, while Mi-o-na strengthens the digestive organs so that they soon become able to care for the food that is eaten.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets cost but 50 cents a box and do more real good than a dozen boxes of the ordinary digestive tablets. L. L. Elgin will give an absolute, unqualified guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na fails.

Women Inclined to Constipation

Women, owing to their peculiar functions, are prone to constipation, and many of their other ills are due to this congestion in the bowels which fills the blood with impure matter that permeates the entire system. In most cases foul breath, bad complexion, sick headache and such like ills are primarily caused by constipation or indigestion.

Women should be happy to learn of a remedy that cures constipation and indigestion, and that has such other ingredients as purify the blood and tone up all the digestive organs. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which can be bought at any drug store for 50 cents or $1 a bottle. Women have been curing themselves with this remedy for sixteen years, and the offer of years ago still stands today, that you buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin with the understanding that it will do as claimed or your money will be refunded.

This great herb laxative compound is especially suited to the delicate system of women because of its gentle but prompt action. Its pleasant taste and its freedom from griping, it does not weaken like purgatives and cathartics, but builds up and strengthens. It is a guaranteed permanent cure and should be as readily taken as one would a good laxative should be, and does so gently. Mrs. Eyer, of 828 Madison Ave., St. Louis, Mo., is glad to say that it cured her constipation and stomach trouble and commends it to American womanhood. She is but one of thousands who are loud in praise of it. You will have never used it should begin today. You will have your freedom from sickness to the day that you start the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Your druggist will send you a bottle under our absolute guarantee.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by enclosing the coupon. This offer is to grow that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Gentlest yet most effective laxative for children, women and old people. Guaranteed permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure." Write for free literature. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Co., 119 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

The Democratic newcomers in the senate next December will be John H. Bankhead of Alabama, succeeding the late Senator Morgan, Jefferson Davis of Arkansas, succeeding Jas. H. Berry, Thos. H. Paynter, of Kentucky, succeeding Joseph C. S. Blackburn and Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee, succeeding Edward W. Carmack.

The deaths of Senators Morgan and Pettus and the retirement of Senators Berry, Blackburn and Carmack, leading or veteran Democrats leaves important committee vacancies on the minority side to be filled when congress reassembles.

Jesse R. Grant has been making a tour through Texas, Louisiana and other states of the South and West, sounding the sentiment of prominent Democrats on his chances of obtaining the Democratic presidential nomination.

Dr. Milton Board, former superintendent of the Western District asylum at Hopkinsville and now a member of the state board of control, which has charge of all the state hospitals, has arrived in Paducah and will practice his profession in the office with Dr. J. Q. Taylor in the Columbia building. Dr. Board is living at the Palmer House. Mrs. Board will arrive this fall, when Dr. Board expects to purchase a home in this city. Dr. Board for four years was at the head of the Western District asylum and when the new state board of control was created he was one of the members. Dr. Board will retain his residence in Breckinridge county until his term as state Democratic committee man from the Fourth district expires. He is a member of the Democratic campaign committee, representing the Purchase. The duties of Dr. Board's position requires four days a month of his time, the board of control visiting each hospital once a month.—Paducah Sun.

It is said that if Senator Culberson of Texas, is chosen minority leader of the Senate next December he will most likely be given the vacancy on the appropriation committee, if he elects to have it. Senator Culberson's more important committee assignments now are judiciary, Philippines, postoffices and post roads and public buildings and grounds. The vacancy on the appropriation committee left by Senator Berry of Arkansas, is probably the most prized of any of the places on senate committees left by a Democrat.

Senator Bankhead of Alabama is the only new Democratic Senator who comes straight from the house to the senate. He had served his tenth term (twenty-years) in the house, the fifty-ninth congress being his last, and will go to the senate with the regular session of that body in the sixtieth congress.

The Republican convention of the new state of Oklahoma made the following nominations: governor, Frank Frantz; lieutenant governor, N. J. Turk; secretary of state, L. N. Rybinnett; attorney general, S. P. Reid; state treasurer, M. Stillwell.

DIED IN HER ARMS

MRS. ALSBROOKE SAW HER HUSBAND KILLED.

Near Crofton.—Takes Charge Of Inquest Held By Coroner Allensworth.

Coroner James Allensworth has returned from Crofton near which place he held an inquest over the remains of Ephraim Alsbrooke, who was shot and killed by James Dunning. The facts ascertained were substantially those published in the last edition of the New Era. Neither Mr. Dunning nor his two young sons testified, as they had come to Hopkinsville to appear before Judge Breathitt to ask for bail. The principal witness was Mrs. Alsbrooke. From her home some distance from scene of the encounter, she witnessed the meeting of the men, and heard the flash of Dunning's gun and the report of the shot which entered her husband's throat. She ran as fast as possible, followed by her daughter, and reached her husband's side few minutes before he breathed his last.

He died in her arms. The verdict of the coroner's jury simply recited the essential facts and expressed no opinion as to the justification of the shooting. The men, who lived on adjoining farms, had been at odds for about 18 months, the feeling growing out of a lawsuit which was tried in Hopkinsville. Coroner Allensworth brought to this city the moving blade and shotgun, which were the weapons in the uneven duel.

DEMAND IS STRONG

AND STOCK ON MARKET IS RAPIDLY DECREASING

Report of Inspector, With Comparative Figures.—Association Is Getting Good Prices.

(From Friday's Daily)

The report of the inspector for the local tobacco market for the month of July shows that the month was very active, seemingly increasingly so as the stocks on sale perceptibly diminished. The demand has now reached the point that only in rare instances does a seller fail to secure the price asked without any quibbling, although in most cases the prices are set at figures which a comparatively short time ago would have been regarded as utterly out of the question. The demand is not confined to any certain grade or grades but anything from trash to the finest leaf is bought as soon as offered. The report of the inspector showing comparative figures for this year and last, is as follows:

|                         |       |        |
|-------------------------|-------|--------|
| Receipts past month...  | 1907  | 1906   |
| Receipts for year...    | 225   | 390    |
| Sales past month...     | 4,355 | 4,020  |
| Sales for year...       | 985   | 2,249  |
| Shipments past month... | 3,950 | 5,084  |
| Shipments for year...   | 741   | 2,189  |
| Stock on sale...        | 8,538 | 10,288 |
| Stock sold...           | 560   | 928    |
| Total stock on hand...  | 904   | 2.1    |
|                         | 1,404 | 1,189  |

Prices Ruled as follows:—Lugs, low, $6 to $6.50; common, $6.50 to $7; medium, $7 to $7.50; good, $7.50 to $8; fine, $8 to $9.

Leaf—low, $7.50 to $8; common, $8 to $9.50; medium, $9.50 to $11; good $11 to $15; fine $13.50 to $16.

The farmers association makes no monthly report but the conditions existing on the general market are also true of this branch—all offerings find ready takers at the price asked. These prices generally show an advance of from 50c to $2.50 per hundred over the schedule. Neither does the association report the amount of stocks on hand but it is estimated that they have less than 1,000 hogheads yet unsold.

The growing crop is coming nicely. The early planting is being topped while the late planting is coming rapidly but will doubtless come in before frost. No reports yet of damage from worms.

FAIRVIEW CRIMES

SEVERAL EXCITING EXPERIENCES UNDERGONE SATURDAY NIGHT.Store Robbed, Residence Entered and
An Attempt at Hold-up Made.—
Reward Offered.

Two houses were entered and an attempt was made to hold up a pedestrian at Fairview Saturday night. It is thought that the same parties are guilty of all three of the crimes.

The general store of J. W. Yancey was entered and about $50 worth of shoes, clothing and jewelry was secured. The thief entered by breaking the big glass in the front door and crawling through the aperture was made.

The residence of Mrs. Bettie McGee was also entered. The family, which consists of Mrs. McGee, her son and her daughter, were all asleep and Mrs. McGee was awakened by some one feeling over the bed. She screamed and sprang out and lighted match which the intruder blew out. She lit another and he knocked it from her hand and then jumped out of the window. Nothing was taken and it is thought that probably the thief had just entered the house.

Davis Tandy was walking along the road about a quarter of a mile out of Fairview when he was halted by a would-be highwayman who ordered him to throw up his hands. Mr. Tandy had just opened his pocket knife for the purpose of cutting off a chew of tobacco and instead of obeying the order he slashed at the robber with such vigor that that he took to his heels and vanished in the darkness.

Fairview people have an idea as to who the guilty parties are and they have offered a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of the miscreants. Yancey's store is in Christian county and the officers of this county would have jurisdiction in this case. The other two crimes were committed in Todd county.

MIKE MARTIN, RURAL MAIL CARRIER, WANTONLY MURDERED AT GRACEY.

Shot Down In Cold Blood By Duke Lewis, a Negro.—Duel With Town Marshal Followed and the Slayer Made His Escape.

THE BLOODHOUNDS WERE UNABLE TO TRACK THE MURDERER

M. M. Martin, a popular citizen of Gracey and carrier on rural free mail delivery route No. 3, out of that place, was shot and killed Saturday night by a negro named Duke Lewis. Mr. Martin was acting as deputy marshal for that night, assisting the regular marshal, Gano Waters.

About 11 o'clock Mr. Martin was walking up the railroad track, looking, it is supposed, for hoboos. Just where the main street of the town crosses the L. &amp; N. railroad he met Lewis, and the negro asked, "What are you doing here?"

"I am attending to my business," replied the officer. For some reason this infuriated the negro and he drew his pistol and fired twice, one of the bullets striking Mr. Martin on the right side and ranging across his chest and entering the tracks and although Dr. Bell reached him a few seconds he lived only about ten minutes.

Mr. Waters had witnessed the shooting from a distance and he started at once to the scene. The negro saw him coming and started to run and fired the remaining shots at his pursuer as he made off. Mr. Waters emptied his pistol at the negro but none of the bullets took effect. He would probably have caught the murderer but he was the first to reach Mr. Martin and the latter begged so piteously that he stop and hold up his head, that the officer gave up the chase and ministered to the dying man.

Lewis then made his escape in the darkness. Bloodhounds were brought from Morganfield but the trail had either grown so cold or had been obliterated by persons walking over it that they could do no good.

The shooting caused great excitement at Gracey. The people were incensed at the murder and had the negro teen caught there might have been a lynching.

Lewis is a brown skin negro, six feet tall and weighs about 180 pounds. He wore a brown suit, a brown slouch hat and a black shirt. His father, Charles Lewis, was arrested in Gracey shortly after the killing and two pistols were found concealed on his person. He is in jail.

The slayer of Mr. Martin had been living in St. Louis and was at home on a visit. Coroner Allensworth held an inquest Sunday and the verdict, which was in accordance with the facts published above, charged Lewis with wilful murder. Legal authority was issued by the coroner to Guy Wolf, L. R. Hill and G. M. Wartels to search any houses in Christian and adjoining counties in search of the murderer.

Mr. Martin was about thirty five years of age and a valuable citizen who was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He leaves a widow and five children. For many years he taught school in Trigg county, the larger part of his education having been secured in the schools at Cadiz. He worked up the rural route on which he was carrier. The body was buried Sunday afternoon at Roaring Springs.

The cabin occupied by Lee Wilford and family, colored, on the farm of B. B. Nance, near Pee Dee, was destroyed by fire Saturday night about 10:30 o'clock, and a two year old child was cremated.

The blaze originated in the kitchen and when discovered the roof of the cabin was falling in. The family, which is a large one, barely escaped with their lives and in the hurry the two year old child was overlooked.

CUTS THROAT OF ANOTHER
TALKING TO HUSBAND.Mrs. Louis White Uses Razor on Mrs.
William Goodman, Who Will Probably Die.

GRAYSON, Ky., Aug. 5.—Mrs. Louis White cut the throat of Mrs. William Goodman at the railroad station at Olive Hill.

Mrs. Goodman was standing talking to the husband of the White woman on the rear platform of a passenger train. When Mrs. White discovered the two in conversation she sprang onto the Goodman woman with a razor, slashing her throat in a serious manner. White pulled his wife away from the wounded woman, but not until she had probably fatally wounded her.

The affair has created a great deal of excitement, as all parties are prominent and well connected. Mrs. White was arrested and is being held until the condition of Mrs. Goodman is known. She is thought to be fatally cut.

JOHN K. HENDRICK

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL.Something About the Lawyer, Statesman and Orator Whose Opponent Is Judge James Breathitt.Under the caption "A pair of good fellows", the Frankfort Journal says of the Democratic nominee for attorney general of Kentucky.

What's the matter with John K. Hendrick? He's all right! He is the Democratic nominee for attorney general, and he's going to be elected. More than that, he's the best campaigner on the ticket, and he will be heard on the stump during the summer and fall from one end of the state to the other. When Col. Hendrick announced his candidacy, a learned jurist said to him, "Why, John, you are not eligible for the office of attorney general." "Why?" asked Col. Hendrick in surprise. "Because you are a real lawyer," replied the jurist. This was spoken in jest, for at very rare intervals the attorney generals of Kentucky have really been lawyers. John Hendrick is a lawyer all right. He is yet young, but he has had experience. His first public office outside his county was in the state senate in 1898, when he stood with the lamented Goebel in his fight for the rights of the people. He afterward served with credit in congress from the first congressional district. During the Goebel gubernatorial campaign, Col. Hendrick took an active part, and during the contest he was one of Goebel's chief advisers. He was also chosen a member of the Goebel reward commission, in which capacity he still serves. He was one of the counsel for the commonwealth in the trial of Henry Youtsey for the murder of Goebel. He was a candidate for governor in 1903, but withdrew before the primary. When elected, he will bring to the conduct of the office a ripe experience, a thorough knowledge of the law, an earnest desire to do his duty, and a capacity for work that will be a revelation in that particular branch of the government.

Nothing but good can be said of his opponent on the Republican ticket, Judge James Breathitt. He is honest, able, clean and clever. But every adjective of praise you can bestow on Breathitt could be said ten fold of Hendrick. So what's the use of an independent voter hesitating a moment about voting for Hendrick and the entire Democratic ticket?

CINCINNATI, Aug. 3.—Taft and Bryan will be the candidates of the Republican and Democratic parties, respectively, according to the poll that was announced by the Cincinnati Post. Of these 208 stated that Roosevelt would carry their congressional districts if nominated. With the president eliminated, the vote for Republican posi-

CATALOGUE IS OUT.

MAY BE SECURED FROM SECRE-TARY HUGHES.Many Matters About the Kentucky State Fair in The Pages.

The regular edition of the Kentucky state fair catalogue, printed in three colors and handsomely illustrated, came from press this week and thousands of copies are being mailed daily from the headquarters of the fair at Louisville. The preliminary list for the state fair was issued over a month ago. It covered eighty odd pages. The regular catalogue has 152 pages. The classifications in all departments are complete together with the speed program and an announcement of the big amusement enterprises of the fair.

There are also eight fine half-tone views of the new grounds and buildings recently purchased by the state board of agriculture as permanent location for the state fair.

One page is devoted to a description of the balloon race during the fair, with three views of the balloons in the air. The captive balloon is shown in a large half-tone.

There is a page out of Captain Knabenshue in the passenger carrying airship which is to make daily flights and exhibitions at the state fair Sept. 16-21. This to be Captain Knabenshue's only appearance in Kentucky or southern Indiana. His passenger carrying airship will only make six appearances in America this year. Sectional views of the airship are printed for the first time in the state fair catalogue.

Two pages are given to points of interest in and around Louisville, while there is some valuable information on the railroad depots and ticket offices, together with the steamboat lines.

One of the most attractive views in the book is a zinc etching of the eruption of Vesuvius, which is to be shown nightly during the state fair week, together with Pain's famous fireworks.

Natiello and his all-star band from the "land of music" which is to give three concerts daily during the state fair, occupies two pages in half-tone.

An entry blank accompanies each catalogue, also a souvenir post card in seven colors which the recipient is asked to mail to some friend.

Anyone desiring a catalogue will be sent one by applying to R. E.
Hughes, at Louisville, Ky.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the un-tutored Indian has learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses.
The Indian never liked to work so he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible that she might do the work and let him hunt. Therefore he dug "pappose root" for her,
for that was their great remedy for female weakness. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful disrangements peculiar to women.

Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower region, with backache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down pains or distress should not go unheeded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and generally effect a permanent cure if persisted in a reasonable length of time.

For constipation, the true, scientific cure is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Mild, harmless, yet sure.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60 years; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by Cook & Higgins and Cook's Pharmacy. 50c.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 4.—In this sermon the preacher shows that the highest joy of life is not to be found in the pleasures of the senses, but in personal consecration and active Christian service. The text is Philippians iv. 4, "Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say, Rejoice."

An aged minister once said to me: "The entire character of my preaching has changed with my advancing years. As a young man I used to preach on the terrors of the law, on the wrath of God, on the warnings against sin and on the awful picture of the lake of fire drawn by St. John in the Apocalypse. But as I grew older I found my favorite texts in the tender passages of the Psalms, in the loving words of Christ to his disciples set down by the beloved disciple and in the eloquent exhortation on charity or love by the Apostle Paul. I find that the nearer I come to heaven the more my heart burns with an unutterable desire to see Christ's face and to have a part in the never ending reunion of the redeemed, and therefore the less I think about the terrors of the judgment. Faith to me is becoming more and more the substance of things hoped for, and I am looking forward to peace and joy rather than backward at the drawn sword of an avenging angel standing at the gate of paradise." These are not the exact words of my venerable friend, but they convey the substance of his thought. Truly what this aged man said about his ministerial life every minister who is conscious of advancing years feels as his soul grows riper and richer in spiritual development. More and more he loves to preach about the joys of the gospel rather than about the destruction that is inevitable to one who leads a sinful life.

Paul's letter to the Philippians was written near the close of his life. He had passed beyond the carnal part of his religious experience. He does not now think so much of Christ presiding in judgment as he does of the Jesus of salvation. He does not dwell so much on the leaping flames of the bottomless pit as he longs for the songs of Moses and the Lamb and is thrilled at the thought of all the mercies and blessings with which Jesus will welcome him. Thus he comes to us not groaning a dirge, but singing a psalm of praise. He comes to us with joy smiling upon his lip, with joy shining forth from his eye, with joy throbbing in his heart and with joy in his congratulatory handshake. He comes to us with a rapturous exhortation as he bids us take an inventory of our spiritual opportunities. He says, "Rejoice in the Lord always." Then, as though he had not made this gospel salutation emphatic enough, he repeats his words as he says, "Again I say, Rejoice." Now, today I am not going to talk to those who look upon the cross of Jesus Christ only as a means of escaping the horrors of eternal anguish, but I am going to talk to those who have so developed in the Christian life that their gospel faith is a pleasure and a joy and a never ending consolation. As I speak to you today I shall tell you why you should rejoice in the Lord always and why you should come to him with never ending praise and with eternal thanksgiving.

Joy is a fruit that will not grow in nature's barren soil; All we can boast till Christ we know Is vanity and toll; But where the Lord has planted grace And made his glories known, There fruits of heavenly joy and peace Are found, and there alone.

Rejoice in the Lord Always.

My Christian brother, you of the deeper and holier religious experience, you should in the first place rejoice in the Lord always because you have by your side a divine friend who will guard you and keep you and be a very present help in all your troubles. He has a keener eye than you. He has a stronger arm than you. He has all the powers of heaven and earth at his command. He has a heart so tender and loving and self-sacrificing that he is willing to surrender all and do all if he can in any way help you in your struggle of life. He is not an absent friend a thousand miles away who is going to meet you by appointment at the brink of the grave, but he is a friend so near that you can whisper to him and he will hear you. He is so near that you can put out your hand as a little tottering child, and he will grasp that hand and keep you from falling. He is so near that like a living mother, he will guard you when you are asleep, and he will greet you with a smile when you awake in the morning. He will go with you to the breakfast table. He will follow you in the street and stand with you by the store counter. He is an ever present friend. But he is also omnipotent and omniscient as well as omnipresent. Now, ought it not to be a joy to you that this divine friend, this Son of God, is always by your side to help you and care for you and love you?

You know what the power of a sanctified and holy and purified human friendship means. Years ago, in the dawn of young manhood, there came into your life a young girl. You thought you loved her at the time. You did not believe you could ever love any one more. But you did not truly know what love was. Life for you at the time was a picnic in the woods. You thought mostly about what you were to eat and drink and where you were to live and what jolly companions were to be your associates. You married that girl. When you married her you thought your honeymoon was to be the never ending life of a bee in a flower garden, finding nectar whenever you went. But that honeymoon was of very short duration. After awhile came the struggles of life and the storms and the bitter trials. Then that merry companion of your youth changed. She stood by your side in the crisis. She stood near you in the sickroom. When death invaded your home her hand joined yours in placing the flowers about the open casket. She literally poured out her life for you.

Real Lovers Now.

Now, in the evening twilight of life, it is not so much the beautiful face that you love, or the merry laugh, or the golden curls, but it is the tender, true, faithful heart of that woman by your side who has shared your troubles as well as doubled your joys. Though she may not talk of love as much now as she did when a girl, yet you are never happy unless she is in touch with you. When evening comes and you are sitting by the library table, the book is never interesting, nor does the fire in the hearth burn brightly enough, nor do the children play right, unless she is on the other side of that table. You who have been married for a quarter of a century, you know what it is to have a devoted, unselfish companion by your side. You know what it is to have that love pour out its life's blood for you. Like the aged poet, you can sing this sweet love song in your old age:

Oh, no, not even when first we loved
Wert thou as dear as now thou art;
Thy beauty then my senses moved,
But now thy virtues bind my heart.

Although my heart in earlier youth
Might kindle with more wild desire,
Believe me, it has gained in truth
Much more than it has lost in fire.

The flame now warms my inmost core,
That then but sparkled o'er my brow;
And, though I seemed to love thee more,
Yet, oh, I love thee better now!

Real Love For Christ.

Well, that is my idea of the Christian life. In the beginning we accepted Christ from selfish motives. Perhaps we were in some great religious meeting, and the evangelist was picturing the tortures of the lost. We became so frightened that we gripped the church pew for fear we should fall over the precipice of eternal doom. But after we accepted Christ with such a low motive the Christ love began to grow upon us. We see how he has been protecting us and how he has been leading us. We see in another place how he has clothed and fed us. When death came into our home we saw his great tears of compassion and love. Even in our financial distress or social persecution he was always by our side. Then we began to realize how good and kind and loving he is. As we grow in grace we are never happy unless we feel his presence near. We talk to him as we do to a dear friend. We find ourselves saying, "Jesus, thou knowest best. Thou art leading me. O Master, thy love surpasses all understanding. Keep me close to thy heart. Let me never stray away from thy touch." Church members, are you strangers to the rapturous joy of the close companionship of this divine association? Then you have never reached the higher development of the Christian life. Believe me, there is something yet for you to pray for and struggle for in your Christian experience. Do not think today of Christ as an enemy. Think of Jesus as an ever present personal, tender, loving friend. That can be one of your greatest joys of the Christian life. He can be a friend who will never leave your side.

But the true Christian finds in the higher spiritual life more than this divine companionship. No sooner do we truly become one with Christ than we enter into the elevating associations of the best and purest men and women living upon the face of the earth today. We enter into a holy association with those who have felt the divine touch and who have been recreated and made over and been stamped with the divine image. These children of God are different from all other men and women, for they are radiating with the power of the spirit filled life.

Fun and Religion.

"But," says some church member, "I do not want to live in a prayer meeting all the time. I do not want to be singing psalm tunes morning, noon and night. Sanctified people may be all right in their places, but a steady diet of 'angel's food' nauseates the stomach. I like to frolic and play other kinds of games. I like to fish. I like to hunt. Indeed, I like fun just as much as I did twenty years ago. In other words, I like to do something besides going to church and talking about the Bible and foreign and home missions." So do good people like fun. So do the purest and best of God's disciples like recreation. There is no class of men and women that have a better time than Christian people. But, my friends, it makes a great deal of difference what you call fun. If you cannot find your best enjoyment in life as well as your best spiritual exhilaration among God's children, then there is something wrong with your own spiritual life, and you had better get down on your knees and ask God to place you in one of his spiritual kilns to refine your nature so that you will be able to find your joys in holy companionship.

An old proverb goes thus: "What is meat for thy neighbor may be poison for thee." That means the food upon which your brother's physical organism thrives may be that which will not nourish your body. This proverb is emphatically true in reference to the enjoyments of the spiritual and the worldly life. The pleasures that fascinate the ungodly are generally pleasures that are repugnant to the spiritual man. I was never more impressed with this fact than when visiting San Francisco some weeks ago.

I have seen San Francisco under all conditions. I visited it twice in my youth. I visited it in its strength and power a year before the earthquake. I saw it burning and in ruins. A year later I also visited it when its walls were about half rebuilt. I never enter this city of San Francisco but my mind runs back to the old mining camp of 1849, which was established when California gold was first discovered. The mining camp had some good people in it. But the adventurers of the east, the libertines, the gamblers, the lost women and dissolute characters from all over the United States, flocked there by the thousands and the tens of thousands. Now, what was the result? Just as the stature of the Frenchman has been shortened because the Napoleonic wars killed off a large percentage of the strongest and bravest of the French youth, so the sins of the old mining camp of 1849 are today bringing forth their evil harvest in sinful San Francisco. In my time I have been almost everywhere. I have traveled around the world. I have been in nearly all the cities of America and have been three times to Europe and am stating what ninety-nine men out of a hundred who live on the Pacific coast are willing to state—namely, that San Francisco is the vilest and the most sinful city upon the face of the earth. It always was a wicked place, and it is wicked now, after the fire, than ever before.

Worse Than Before.

Troubles either drive men closer to God or farther away from God. The troubles of San Francisco have made its good men better, but those troubles have made its bad men worse. There you find the most corrupt of all political intrigues. There you find the places of sin crowded to the doors and the churches of Jesus almost empty. There you find the places of infamy doubled and quadrupled year by year and the churches going back. Presbyterianism in San Francisco is not as strong today as it was ten years ago. There you find the people for the most part living in rooms and dining in restaurants and turning the Sabbath day into a gala day. Do you believe that the majority of the people living in San Francisco would find the sweet influences of home life a pleasure as you and I look upon an evening spent in the society of our children as a pleasure? No. To a great extent their lives crave the unhealthy and vitiating and blasting stimulant of sin.

It is an alarming symptom of a man's spiritual condition if the wholesome influences of home life are repugnant to him. My brother, although you may be a church member, your appetite for pleasure is a sinful craving if you cannot enjoy the pure, clean, refreshing joy of Christian association. If that is so, for God's sake get down on your knees and pray to your Heavenly Father that he will purify you so that you may find your greatest enjoyment among his people and among his true, consecrated followers.

But there is another joy which comes to the higher spiritual life, and that is the joy of Christian service; that is the joy of the noble hearted men who always want to share their blessings with every one else; that is the joy of the true man who, when he has plenty of bread, wants to share it with the hungry. When he has a cure for the blinded eyes, he wants to give it to those groping about in darkness. When he can untie the deaf ears, he wants to make the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak. No man is a true man who, when he has an abundance, is not ready to share his plenty with those who are in want. The poet well defined this thought when he wrote:

Who seeks for heaven alone to save his soul
May keep the path, but will not reach the goal.
While he who walks in love may wander
Yet God will bring him where the blessed are.

A Picturesque Castle.

Many years ago a noted painter, Alexander Nasmyth, went to visit near the towering cliffs in the vicinity of picturesque Blair castle, in old Scotland. While he was watching those massive, overtopping crags he said, "Is it not too bad yonder bare rocks are not crowned with a covering of green?" Then he bethought himself of two huge cannon which were mounted in the yard of the old castle. "Ah," he said, "I know what I will do. I will have some canisters made to fit these old cannon. Then I will fill those canisters with all kinds of grass seeds. Then I will shoot those canisters against yonder cliffs, where no foot of man has ever trod. Then those canisters will break, the seeds will scatter and take root, and yonder cliffs will be covered with a mass of green foliage." This is just what the Scottish painter did. Many of those seeds were lost, but some took root and they sprouted, and now those crags near old Blair castle are the most beautiful of all the surrounding hillsides. Thus it is with the consecrated gospel life when the true Christian is filled with the Christ love. When the face of Jesus becomes to him a living, loving, inspiring and all absorbing reality, then that Christian says, "I must bring this Christ love into other lives. I must have Christ do for others what he has done for me." Then the true Christian, as soon as he has developed into the higher spiritual life, fills his hands with the gospel seed. He goes forth into the waste places of the earth. He scatters those seeds up in the mountains and down in the valleys; he scatters them in the homes of the rich and in the hovels of the poor; he scatters them everywhere. And one of the chief reasons why I know some of you have never been truly filled with the Christ love is because you do not find any joy in bringing this Christ to your fellow men. Next to seeing Christ's face ourselves our chief joy should be found in bringing that divine love into the hearts of a sinful world.

The Greatest Joy.

But, lastly, I remark that one of the greatest joys of the Christian is the comfort we have in dedicating our dear children and our loved ones to his service. Every true parent knows that when he attempts to raise a family there comes a time when he realizes he must have supernatural aid. We feel our children gradually and yet surely slipping out of our hands. They are going forth into the great wide world, with all its manifold temptations. We lift up our hands at times in agony and cry, "O God, if we could only keep them by our sides!" But we cannot. It is an overwhelming thought, but surely and swiftly the children are moving away from our side. Now comes the question: How can I keep my children in the path of virtue and of truth? The Bible tells me. My God is a covenant keeping God. My God says, "I will save thee, and through thee I will save thy children." He speaks to me exactly as he spoke to Abraham of old. He promises that if we will teach our children about him, if we set them a good example and commit them in prayer to his keeping, he will take care of them and make them his children.

The chief trouble with our spiritual experience is that we do not come near enough to Jesus Christ. We do not give ourselves up in our entirety to his service. The reason that we find the spiritual life a burden, an irritant and a troublous duty is because we are not developed high enough in the gospel graces. My brother, the great trouble with your religious life is that you are like a timid bather on the beach—afraid to make one big plunge and go chin deep and heart deep and head deep into the depths of God's mercy. You want to love him by inches and not with your entire being. You are like the rich young ruler—you are not willing to give all for your Master, Friend, if you would rejoice in the Lord always, come closer to the mercy seat. Friend, if you would have the Pauline rapture, then leave your sinful self at Damascus and start for your martyrdom at Rome. Unless you and I are willing to consecrate ourselves to the higher spiritual life then will the joy of the gospel appeal to us in vain. "Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say, Rejoice," means "Surrender thy whole love to Jesus Christ in order that thou mayest enjoy Christ's whole love for thee."

"Senator Dick has gone to New

"Tat" wishes it," says the Richmond

"When Roosevelt got through

SCALY ERUPTIONS
COVERED HIS BODY

Itched Constantly—Scratched Until Blood Flowed—Suffered 10 Years
—Doctors and Medicines Were Fruitless—Tries Cuticura and Is Completely Cured

BY THREE BOXES OF
CUTICURA OINTMENT

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs. I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards both of those limbs became so sore that I could scarcely walk. When I had been suffering for about a month the sores began to heal, but small scaly eruptions appeared where the sores had been. From that time onward I was troubled by such severe itching that, until I became accustomed to it, I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow.
This would stop the itching for a few days, but scaly places would appear again and the itching would accompany them. After I suffered about ten years
I made a renewed effort to effect a cure.
The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctor in my native county advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which gave almost intolerable pain. In addition I used other remedies, such as iodine, sulphur, zinc salve, and a salve, but it did no good. A few months after having used almost everything else, I thought I would try Cuticura Ointment, having previously used Cuticura Soap and being pleased with it. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored, after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 to $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my cure. B. Hiram Mattingly, Ver-million, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1906.

Ex Senator Carmack does not regard his vice presidential boom favorably. He says: "I would not want the nomination or the office if I could get it without effort. The duties of a vice president are simply to look solemnly and draw his salary. I had rather be a school commissioner and have something to do. Mr. Carmack is now at his home in Columbus, Tenn."

Hoke Smith, the new governor of Georgia, is perhaps the only governor of a southern state who has gone into office on a strictly anti-lynching platform. In his recent inauguration address Governor Smith declared he would "make strenuous endeavors to prevent lynching."

Francis Kay Pendleton, whom Mayor McClellan has appointed corporation counsel of New York city, is a son of the late Sen. or George Pendleton of Ohio, who was the candidate for vice president on the main ticket on which the mayor's father, General McClellan, was nominated for president in 1861.

The actress who married the "Prince of Thurn and Taxis" has lost him. If you see a "stray" prince travelling around anywhere send him back to the owneress.

The general disposition to look on the Cuticure as a joke may be due to hot weather. And then again, it may be due to the fact that the Cuticure is a real cure.

A member of the United States Congress cannot resign. A member of the United States Congress can, but he never does.

None of the critics of the navy has yet offered to stand out and let one of those "defective" battleships take a shot at him.

A tramp has beaten all known records by swimming 27 miles in 30 minutes. He did not mean to do it.
He merely tried to steal a ride from St. Louis to Chicago on the rear of a locomotive tender. When the train started he fell over backward through the open manhole, into the water tank.
The noise of the train drowned his cries for help, and he was obliged to swim until the first stop was reached, at Alton. When taken out he was nearly dead, but the engineer was so unfeeling as to call his attention to the fact that the water was only four feet deep, and he might have stood up. The conductor, also unfeeling, asked him for his ticket, but the tramp said he had not come by rail, but by water.

There is much religiousness and so
called religious work that is probably
of the devil, for all that is not of God
must be of the devil, and as one has recently said, his aim seems to be to lift men up in their own estimation
in any way that he can apart from God.
That he may cause their destruction.
God must be sanctified and glorified
before people in those who come nigh
to Him, and nothing sanctifies but His
truth and His Spirit (John xvii, 17).
When God speaks in chastening, it comes to us to hold our peace, as Aaron did (verse 3), however closely the chastening may touch us.

We must say as David did: "I was dumb, I opened not my mouth because Thou didst it" (Ps. xxxix, 9).
The commands given to Aaron's sons
in verses 6, 7, make us think of the restrictions laid upon Ezekiel in the day of his bereavement (Ezek. xxiv, 16-18). In the verses 8-11 there is possibly a hint of the reason why
Moses and Aaron acted as they did,
and yet it is possible to be drunken and not with wine or strong drink
(Isa. xxxix, 9). Let us beware of unbelief and pride. It is our privilege to be Nazarenes, and concerning such see
Num. vi, 1-4, 8, 12. Let us be separated unto Himself (Ps. lv, 3) and filled
with His Spirit at any cost to self (Eph.
v, 18).

belief and pride. It is our privilege to
be Nazarenes, and concerning such see
Num. vi, 1-4, 8, 12. Let us be separated unto Himself (Ps. lv, 3) and filled
with His Spirit at any cost to self (Eph.
v, 18).

There is much religiousness and so
called religious work that is probably
of the devil, for all that is not of God
must be of the devil, and as one has
recently said, his aim seems to be to
lift men up in their own estimation
in any way that he can apart from God.
That he may cause their destruction.
God must be sanctified and glorified
before people in those who come nigh
to Him, and nothing sanctifies but His
truth and His Spirit (John xvii, 17).

comes to us to hold our peace, as Aaron

ening may touch us.

We must say as David did: "I was
dumb, I opened not my mouth because Thou didst it" (Ps. xxxix, 9).
The commands given to Aaron's sons
in verses 6, 7, make us think of the restrictions laid upon Ezekiel in the
day of his bereavement (Ezek. xxiv, 16-18). In the verses 8-11 there is possibly a hint of the reason why
Moses and Aaron acted as they did,
and yet it is possible to be drunk-
en and not with wine or strong drink
(Isa. xxxix, 9). Let us beware of un-

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circulars free.

Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills was all I required to free me from the distressing pain in my back and restore my kidneys to a good healthy condition. ## INSTITUTE PLANS

OUTLINED TO FARMERS BY COMMISSIONER VREELAND.

Detailed Information of Gatherings To Be Held During the Next Three Months.

State Agricultural Commissioner Vreeland has sent out to the farmers of the state, through the Institute clubs in each county, copies of the Farmers' Institute bulletin for 1907, giving in detail information as to the holding of the annual institute meetings in the several counties during August, September and October next.

In sending out copies of the bulletin, Commissioner Vreeland addressed the following letter with each to the farmers:

My Dear Sir: I am sending you herewith a copy of the Farmers' Institute bulletin for 1907, which will give you the dates and speakers assigned your county for your institute. I regret that it became necessary to fix the dates in this office, but I am sure you will fully appreciate the fact that the only economical way such a large number of institutes can be held is to hold them consecutively.

It has required no small effort on the part of this department to arrange for a two-days Farmers' Institute in each of the 119 counties of the state, and it will, no doubt, require hard work at your end of the line to complete the arrangements for a high-class institute. I rejoice that it is no longer necessary to urge the importance of these institutes among the intelligent farmers of the state, and I am exceedingly proud of the hearty co-operation given me in this work by the farmers of Kentucky. As it is only a short while until your institute will be held, I suggest that a meeting of your club be held at once, and the preliminary work of the institute be started.

It will be well to hold frequent meetings and to appoint committee to look after the various features of the meeting. I would appreciate a letter from you stating the prospects etc., and I assure you that anything you may do to advance the cause will be deeply appreciated. I regret to say that this will be the last institute I shall have the pleasure of conducting as your commissioner of agriculture. I trust that my work in behalf of the farmers of the state has been fraught with some good results, but you are the best judge as to that, and I can only say that I have endeavored to do my duty as I saw it, working earnestly, honestly and conscientiously to bring about better conditions among the farmers of Kentucky. I therefore respectfully urge that you lend your assistance in making this, my last institute, the success I desire it to be.

As in the past, I must insist that no politics be allowed to creep into the organization nor in the meeting. These institutes are supported by the tax payers of the state, and every farmer, no matter of what politics, allegiance or religious belief, has the same right as his neighbor. Thanking you in advance for your co-operation, and trusting that the distant future will still find you working for the cause of a greater agricultural Kentucky, I beg to remain, very sincerely yours,

HUBERT VREELAND,
Commissioner.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF GRAND DUKE

EXPLOSION UNDER TRAIN NOT FAR FROM ST. PETERSBURG.

No One Was Injured.—Other Efforts Have Been Made to Kill Russian Nobleman.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—One of the "accidents" that occur frequently while members of the imperial family are traveling happened today while Grand Duke Peter Nicholas, fifth cousin of the emperor and one of the leaders of the reactionary group at the court, was en route to St. Petersburg from Peterhof. As the train was within ten miles of St. Petersburg a petard, which had been placed on the rail, exploded. The force of the explosion, however, was not great enough to derail the train and no one was hurt.

A short distance outside of St. Petersburg on April 10 last an attempt was made on the lives of

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else. It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

Thousands Have Kidney

Trouble and Never Suspect It. How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or watery deposit indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

OPEN SEASON NOW

THE SLAUGHTER OF DOVES BEGAN ON THURSDAY.

Hunters Did Not Bag Very Many On Their First Day's Hunt.—Birds Are Backward.

The "open season" for the shooting of doves began Thursday and although a number of sportsmen have protested against the early shooting of the birds a large number of people were out with their guns.

While reports have been made that doves would be plentiful the hunters did not bag very many of their first day's hunt. The late spring is said to have caused the birds to have been backward in nesting and the young birds are not full grown yet, while the old ones have not had time to fatten since they raised their young.

The open season for quail will not begin until November 15.

BRONCHIAL TROUBLES.

Readily Yield to Soothing, Healing Treatment of Hyomei.

Bronchial troubles are purely local. They cannot be helped by stomach dosing. They are caused by irritation in the air passages that can be relieved and cured by medication alone. In this lies the secret of the great success of Hyomei in the treatment of bronchial troubles.

The Hyomei medication, laden with nature's remedies, is breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, reaching every part of the bronchial tubes and killing at once the disease germs. It allays all irritation and heals the inflammation of the mucous membrane with astonishing rapidity.

Treatment with sprays, douches and atomizers in bronchial troubles is condemned by the best physicians as they cause further irritation. The first breath of Hyomei's medicated air seems to soothe inflammation, stop the cough, and thus relief soon becomes permanent and a cure results.

Hyomei has made many remarkable cures in the worst and most chronic forms of bronchial troubles and is sold by L. L. Elgin with the same guarantee as we give when Hyomei is purchased for catarrh, that is, to refund the money in case the remedy does not give satisfaction. The complete outfit cost but $1.00.

INSTITUTE IS ENDED

MEETING HIGHLY SATISFACTORY
IN EVERY WAY.

New Plan Pleases Everybody.—Two Deaths During Year.—Prof. Gray's Good Work.

The teachers' institute adjourned Friday afternoon after one of the most successful meetings ever held in this city. The plan adopted this time of having lectures made by Dr. Willis and Miss Westcott, both specialists in their respective lines, on the different phases of school work and the best methods for getting the most satisfactory results, proved to be highly gratifying and instructive and all of the teachers expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the method which had superseded the old plan of having the teachers make the talks. The attendance was up to the average, the rolls showing a daily attendance of eighty-one in daily attendance, some of these, however being visitors.

Dr. Willis was very much pleased with the institute and before it adjourned, he complimented the teachers by telling them that he had never before seen a more attentive or interested lot of instructors together nor any who showed more intelligence or interest in their work and professional enthusiasm.

The regular work of the institute kept up until 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, after which the closing exercises were held. The committee on necrology repeated with suitable resolutions on the death during the year of Prof. J. G. Wright and Mrs. Mattie B. Doss, both members of the institute. The committee on resolutions also made their report. The resolutions will be published later.

Prof. W. E. Gray, county superintendent, deserves much credit for the successful session which was held. He has been very energetic in arranging for the institute and has contributed materially in many ways to its generally satisfactory nature.

DROWNS IN FLORIDA

JOHN D. CROUSE MEETS WITH SAD FATE.

Popular Young Traveling Salesman
Who Formerly Made His Home
in Christian County.

John D. Crouse was drowned Sunday evening at Palatka, Fla. The news of the accident was received in this city in a telegram to P. M. Owen. The despatch simply stated the bare facts and no details are known. Mr. Crouse was a former citizen of Christian county and had many friends here. He formerly resided in the country about three miles from Hopkinsville and Mr. Owen was a relative and one of his neighbors.

The deceased was thirty years of age and a traveling salesman for the Wrought Iron Range Co. of St. Louis. He was in Florida in the interest of his house when he was drowned.

Mr. Owen was requested in the despatch to notify Mr. Crouse's family. The sender was evidently of the opinion the Mr. Crouse's family still resided in Christian county. Mr. Crouse's mother and sisters removed some time ago to Calloway county and Mr. Owen forwarded the despatch containing the sad news to them.

FINE OF $29,240,000, LARGEST ON RECORD, IS ASSESSED AGAINST THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY

Imposed by Judge Landis in the Federal Court at Chicago.—Appeal Will be Taken and if Decision is Sustained The Sum Will Go to $31,000,000.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 8.—Judge Landis, in the federal court this morning, after hearing the reports of the grand jury and dismissing that body, took up the case of the government against the Standard Oil company, and assessed the maximum penalty under the law for rebating.

The fine is the heaviest in all the history of criminal jurisprudence, aggregating $29,240,000.

The charge proven against the company was the violation of the Elkins law in the shipment of more than 6,000 cars of oil from Whiting, Ind., to East St. Louis.

The jury found the Standard guilty on 1482 counts, and the maximum sum of $30,000 was fixed by Judge Landis on each indictment.

By the time the company has appealed and a verdict is handed down by the supreme court of the United States, the interest that will be added to the original fine will fix the sum at about $31,000,000. District Attorney Sims said that a decision should be had in a year.

Assistant District Attorney James H. Wilkerson was asked in what manner the government would proceed to collect a fine so large as $31,000,000 from a corporation having a capital of $1,000,000 only, as scheduled by the Standard Oil Company of

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

One of the founders of the Standard Oil monopoly, who claims he is no longer in active control of the great trust.

Indiana, the offending agent. Mr. Wilkerson replied that his understanding was that the Whiting, Ind., plant was worth $50,000,000.

"But whether it is worth that much," he continued, "if the courts sustain Judge Landis the Standard Oil company, I imagine, will promptly pay what it is called on to pay, without evasion. The company would be foolish to resist."

FOUR INDICTMENTS

MUST BE FACED AT CADIZ BY BURGESS

J. M. Burgess has been taken to Trigg county, on indictments on four different charges. For several years he has been in more or less trouble in Western Kentucky. Several months ago he escaped from jail at Elkton, but was caught in Nashville about May 1 and returned to jail. Recently he was tried on the charge of breaking jail and acquitted. Two indictments charge him with obtaining money under false pretenses, one with attempting to bribe an officer and one with an attempt to bribe a witness. Burgess is well known in this section, having been in the lumber business for several years.

Monsieur Beaucaire

By BOOTH TARKINGTON, Author of "The Gentleman From Indiana" and "The Conquest of Canaan."

Copyright, 1900, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

"Oh, no!" the ambassador cried out. "He would not be content with me. He would wander over a strange country."

"Ha, ha, my Mirepoix! And what is better, one evening I am obliged to fight some frien's of M. de Winteret there, and some ladies and cavaliers look on, and they still think me a servant. Oh, I am a great actor! 'Tis true there is not a peasant in France who would not have then known one 'born'; but they are wonderful, this English people, holding by an idea once it is in their heads—a most worthy quality. But my good Molyneux here, he had speak to me with courtesy, jus' because I am a man an' jus' because he is al-ways kind. (I have learn' that his great-grandfather was a Frenchman.) So I sen' to him and tell him ev'rything, and he gain admittance for me here tonight to await my frien's."

"I was speaking to messieurs about my cousin, who will meddle in the affair' of his relative'. Well, that gentleman, he make a marriage for me with a good and accomplish' lady, very noble and very beautiful—and amiable." (The young count at his elbow started slightly at this, but immediately appeared to wrap himself in a mantle of solemn thought.) "Unfortunately, when my cousin arrange' so I was a dolt, a little blockhead. I swear to marry for myself and when I please or never if I like. That lady is all things charming and gentle, and, in truth, she is—very much attach' to me—why should I not say it? I am so proud of it. She is very faithful and forgiving and sweet. She would be the same, I think, if I—were even—a lackey. But if I was a dolt, a little unsensible brute. I did not value such thing' then. I was too yo'ng, las' June. So I say to my cousin, 'No, I make my own choosing!' 'Little fool,' he answer, 'she is the one for you. Am I not wiser than you?' And he was very angry, and, as he has influence in France, word come' that he will get me put in Vincennes, so I mus' run away quick till his anger is gone. My good frien' Mirepoix is jus' leaving for London. He take' many risk' for my sake. His hairdresser die before he start', so I travel as that poor barber. But my cousin is a man to be afraid of when he is angry, even in England, and I mus' not get my Mirepoix in trouble. I mus' not be discover' till my cousin is ready to laugh about it all and make it a joke. And there may be spies. So I change my name again and come to Bath to amuse my retreat with a little gaming. I am al-ways fond of that. But three day' ago M. le Marquis send me a courier to say that my brother, who know where I had run away, is come from France to say that my cousin is appeas'. He need me for his little theater, the play cannot go on. I do not need to espouse mademoiselle. All shall be forgiven if I return, and my brother and M. de Mirepoix will meet me in Bath to felicitate."

"There is one more thing to say—that is all. I have said I learn' a secret, and use it to make a man introduce me if I will not tell. He has absolve' me of that promise. My frien's, I had not the wish to ruin that man. I was not receive'. Meestaire Nash had rebuff me. I had no other way except' to use this fellow. So I say, 'Take me to Lady Malbourne's ball as "Chateaurien."' I throw off my wig and shave, and behold, I am M. le Duc de Castle Nowhere. Ha, ha! You see?"

The young man's manner suddenly changed. He became haughty, menacing. He stretched out his arm and pointed at Winteret. "Now I am no 'Beaucaire,' messieurs. I am a French gentleman. The man who introduce' me at the price of his honor and then betray' me to re-deem it, is that coward, that card cheat there!"

Winteret made a horrible effort to laugh. The gentlemen who surrounded him fell away as from pestilence. "A French gentleman!" he sneered savagely and yet fearfully. "I don't know who you are. Hide behind as many toys and ribbons as you like, I'll know the name of the man who dares bring such a charge!"

"Sir!" cried de Mirepoix sharply, advancing a step toward him; but he checked himself at once. He made a low bow of state, first to the young Frenchman, then to Lady Mary and the company. "Permit me, Lady Mary and gentlemen," he said, "to assume the honor of presenting you to his highness, Prince Louis-Philippe de Valois, duke of Orleans, duke of Chartres, duke of Nemours, duke of Montpensier, first prince of the blood royal, first peer of France, lieutenant general of French infantry, governor of Dauphine, knight of the Golden Fleece, grand master of the Order of Notre Dame, of Mount Carmel and of St. Lazarus in Jerusalem, and cousin to his most Christian majesty, Louis XV. of France."

"Those are a few of my brother's names," whispered Henri of Beaujolais to Molyneux. "Old Mirepoix has the long breath, but it take a strong man two day' to say all of them. I can suppose this Winteret know' now who bring the charge!"

"Castle Nowhere!" gasped Beau Nash, falling back upon the burly prop of Mr. Bantison's shoulder.

"The Duke of Orleans will receive a message from me within the hour!" said Winteret as he made his way to the door. His face was black with rage and shame.

"I tol' you that I would not soil my hand with you," answered the young man. "If you send a message no gentleman will bring it. Whoever shall bear it will receive a little beating from Francois."

He stepped to Lady Mary's side. Her head was bent low, her face averted. She seemed to breathe with difficulty and leaned heavily upon a chair. "Monseigneur," she faltered in a half whisper, "can you—forgive me? It is a bitter—mistake—I have made. Forgive."

"Forgive?" he answered, and his voice was as broken as hers; but he went on, more firmly: "It is—nothing—less than nothing. There is—only jus' one—in the—whole worl' who would not have treat' me the way that you treat' me. It is to her that I am goin' to make reparation. You know something, Henri? I am not goin' back only because the king forgive me. I am goin' to please him. I am goin' to espouse mademoiselle, our cousin. My frien's, I ask your felicitations."

"And the king does not compel him!" exclaimed young Henri. "Henri, you want to fight me?" cried his brother sharply. "Don't you think the king of France is a wiser man than me?"

He offered his hand to Lady Mary.

"Mademoiselle is fatigued. Will she honor me?"

He walked with her to the door, her hand fluttering faintly in his. From somewhere about the garments of one of them a little cloud of faded rose leaves fell and lay strewn on the floor behind them. He opened the door, and the lights shone on a multitude of eager faces turned toward it. There was a great hum of voices, and, over all, the fiddles wove a wandering air, a sweet French song of the voyageur.

He bowed very low, as, with fixed and glistening eyes, Lady Mary Carlisle, the beauty of Bath, passed slowly by him and went out of the room.

S.S.S. RIDES THE SYSTEM OF MALARIA

Malaria is an atmospheric poison which we unconsciously breathe into our system. The blood in its constant passage through the lungs absorbs the germs, and they destroy the rich, red corpuscles of this vital fluid and reduce it to such a weak, watery condition that it is unable to properly nourish the system, and disease gets a foothold. Then the symptoms of Malaria, such as pale, sallow complexions, weak vitality, poor appetite, deranged digestion, and perhaps chills and fever show that the trouble is affecting every part of the body. Malaria also affects the liver, producing a chronic state of biliousness, and often a long spell of fever follows when the blood becomes fully contaminated with the poison. Chronic Sores and Ulcers, boils, aches and pains, and skin affections of various kinds often result from this insidious disease if the poison is allowed to accumulate in the blood in sufficient quantities. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. This great remedy goes down into the blood and drives out all germs, microbes and poisons, and permanently cures Malaria. S. S. S. not only cleanses the blood of the cause, but furnishes it with the healthful properties it needs, so that instead of a weak, germ-infected stream, spreading disease throughout the system, it becomes a rich, red fluid, nourishing the body and enabling it to resist disease. S. S. S. is also the greatest of all tonics, and builds up and invigorates the entire system while ridding the blood of the germs of Malaria. Persons who are suffering from Malaria will be pleased with the prompt and pleasant results produced by the use of S. S. S., and can take it with confidence because it is an absolutely safe medicine, being free from harmful minerals of any kind.
