WEEKLY NEW ERA.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, AUGUST 23, 1917

VOLUME XXVI, NO. 41

WOMEN ROB AGED MAN OF HIS MONEY

ROBERT MASON, OF GRACEY, VICTIM OF NEGRESSES.

HAD LARGE SUM IN WARDROBE

Female Thieves Stole a Part.—Good Detective Work Lands Them in Jail.

(From Thursday's Daily)

Charged with robbing Robert Mason, an aged and wealthy Christian county farmer who resides near Gracey, of over three hundred dollars, Susie Parks, Alberta Mockabee and Hobbie Caudle, young negro women, are in jail, having been arrested by clever detective work on the part of W. B. Hammonds and Deputy Marshal Henry Steele.

Mr. Mason, who is partially paralyzed, was sitting yesterday morning at the rear of his dwelling when the three colored women approached him from the back yard and asked him the whereabouts of a servant on the place. While two of the women engaged him in conversation, Susie Parks said she would go and hunt up the person they pretended to be looking for. Instead, she slipped around to the front of the place and entered the front door. She went to a wardrobe in Mr. Mason's bedroom, and prized the fastenings from its door. Securing what money she found, she slipped out and rejoined her companions, and all three soon left the place.

When Mr. Mason returned to his room he discovered that he had been robbed. He had sold his tobacco and had placed the proceeds amounting to over $1,300 in the wardrobe until he could get an opportunity to send it to the bank. Mr. Mason found that $311 was missing.

He immediately sent for his friend, Mr. Hammonds, and told him of the robbery. Mr. Hammonds notified Deputy Marshal Steele, and they both started on the trail of the negroes. Through rain and mud they trailed the thieves for six miles and came upon them last evening, after hours of searching, in a cabin on the Dade farm. When the women saw the men approaching they made a desperate effort to hide the money which they were in the act of dividing. First they stoutly protested their innocence, but one of them broke down and told where the booty had been concealed. Some of it was hid under furniture and a good part had been thrown under the house. The officers were able to recover $231 and the women declare that was all they got. The negroes were brought to Hopkinsville this morning and placed in jail.

At Public Sale.

As I must leave Hopkinsville by Sept. 1st I will offer my brick cottage on Clay and Eleventh Sts. Hopkinsville, Ky., at public sale on Wednesday Aug. 28th at 1 o'clock. Sale to take place in front of the residence. Terms made known when sale begins.

W. D. MRS. MARY S. DUCKER.

DEATH IN TODD.

ELKTON, Ky., Aug. 21.—F. M. Pepper, one of the old residents of the county, died at his home near Kirksmansville. He was 79 years old and leaves a wife and several grandchildren.—John Hardin, a farmer near the city died of typhoid fever. He leaves a wife who was a Miss Davis, of Christian county.

LAST SALES

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 22.—Yesterday marked the closing sale of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association at the local salesroom. Salesman McMurray offered 229 hogheads, and 200 were sold at graded prices. This sale practically cleaned up all association tobacco on the local market.

TOO MUCH WORRY CAUSED SUICIDE

EX-MAYOR BARTH SENSITIVE TO CRITICISM.

MADE A BUTT OF CHEAP WIT

Sent Bullet Crashing Through Brain.—

Left No Statement.—Dr. Sargent Called In.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 22.—

Paul C. Barth, for a year and a half mayor of Louisville and ousted recently by the decision of the court of appeals, shot and killed himself yesterday. Mr. Barth ended his life in his private office at the headquarters of the Utica Lime company, of which he was general manager. The shot was heard by his business associates, who rushed into the room to find Mr. Barth unconscious on the floor with a bullet hole in his head. He never recovered consciousness and died about 1 o'clock.

Dr. Andrew Sargent, formerly of Hopkinsville, was called in to attend him, and found immediately that the wound would be fatal.

Mr. Barth was a man of means and was president of the board of aldermen for several years. It was Mr. Barth who welcomed President Roosevelt when the president made his southwestern tour two years ago.

The cause of the suicide is unknown. Since the ousting of Mr. Barth's administration, by mandate of the court of appeals two months ago the acts of the officials during his term have been subjected to severe scrutiny by the officials who came in with Mayor Bingham, appointed by Gov. Beckham. Nothing was found that reflected any discredit on Mr. Barth personally, but the methods of conducting some of the city institutions has been under fire both in official reports and in the press. Mr. Barth was very sensitive to criticism, and his friends at times remarked that the condition of affairs seemed to gall him.

However, he gave no evidence that he was in any danger of breaking down, physically or mentally, and, since the ouster, had been conducting his business affairs as had been usual before he assumed office. He was not only manager of the Utica Lime company, but had a large interest in the Ohio River Sand & Gravel company, of which he was active head.

Mr. Barth was forty-nine years old. He was a widower and leaves three young sons.

DEATH WAS SUDDEN

A GREAT BLOW TO THE CITY OF CLARKSVILLE.Apoplexy Was The Cause.—Had Many Friends and Admirers in This City.

(From Thursday's Daily)

The announcement in yesterday's New Era of the death of Capt. Matt Gracey, one of Clarksville's wealthiest and most influential citizens, was read with much regret in this city where the deceased was well-known and had many friends.

Capt. Gracey was in his usual health Tuesday, and that night he was out with his wife. He retired at 9:40 o'clock feeling perfectly well. An hour later he was stricken with paralysis and died two hours later. The funeral took place at Trinity Episcopal church, of which he was a member, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Capt. Gracey was born in Eddyville, Ky., in 1847, and with his brother, Capt. Frank P. Gracey, went to Clarksville in 1866, the two engaging in business under the firm name of Gracey Bros. This business has been continued ever since. Gracey Bros. were the general agents for the Louisville & Nashville railroad and the Ryman line of Cumberland river steamboats. They did a big business and no firm stood higher in the commercial world.

Deceased was married in November 1876, to Miss Marion Castner, sister of Mr. C. B. Castner of Nashville. Mrs. Gracey and four children survive.

Capt. Gracey was one of Clarksville's most enterprising and progressive men. While quiet and retiring in his disposition and a man who paid close attention to his business, he was a leader, and always to be depended on in any forward movement. He was personally esteemed and honored by all who knew him and the entire community mourns his loss.

Miss Annie Rutherford, of Louisville, is visiting Mrs. R. L. Woodard.

Mrs. Frank H. Bassett and children are spending the week at Pembroke.

Miss Martha Foulks, of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting her uncle, E. L. Foulks.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hogan and daughter, Isabel, of Trenton, are in the city today.

Mrs. John P. Young, of Tishomingo, I. T., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James West.

Mrs. M. C. Forbes, Will Forbes and Miss Forbes have returned from Crittenden Springs.

Miss Ruth Beazly, of Rutherford, Tenn., is the pleasant guest of Miss Adelia Williamson.

Miss Katie Pearl Hardin, of Henderson is visiting the family of Mr. W. T. Williamson.

Dr. Joseph R. Armistead has returned from an extended visit to his sons at Montgomery, Ala.

Miss Olive Dobbins, of Columbia, Tenn., will arrive in the city tonight to visit Miss Galbreath on South Virginia street.

Mrs. Jennie Scobey Shrigley, of Franklin, Tenn., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank W. Dabney, on East Seventh street.

James H. Hillman was in the city yesterday en route to Birmingham, Ala., after a visit to his family at Trigg Furnace.

Miss Etta Keith Meisner, of Point-au-View, left Thursday for a two months' visit in Chicago and Gibson City, Ill.

Miss Nellie Thompson of Hopkinsville, niece of Mr. J. R. Drake, is visiting at his home for a few days.—Bowling Green News.

Miss Irene Lloyd, a pupil of Fox's business college has accepted position as stenographer with Farmer's and Merchant's Bank at Pembroke.

Medley Dennis, of Bessemer, Ala., accompanied by his little nephew, William H. Dennis, Jr., is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Dennis.

HAMMACK IS HERE

KNOWS ABSOLUTELY NOTHING
OF ANY THE BELLS.Has Not Been to Evansville For Many Months.—Separated by Mutual Consent From Wife.

When Muir Hammack, after a trip to Alabama on a tow-boat, arrived at Dawson Springs a day or two ago on his way to his home in Christian county, an old friend eyed him curiously and laconically asked: "Say, what's been eatin' you?" "What do you mean?" said Hammack.

Then his friend poured forth a bushel of questions about Evansville, a girl named Lula Bell, the Salvation army, a prison cell, a deserted wife and a lot of other things that Hammack couldn't make heads or tails of. When he finally got the straight of the very much mixed up affair in the Indiana town in which his name figured conspicuously he was amazed.

Mr. Hammack came on to Hopkinsville. He is just back from a trip in the South, has not been near Evansville for month, never heard of the girl in the case, Miss Lula Bell, and says very positively that he did not desert his wife at Madisonville, but that they separated by mutual agreement. Mr. Hammack is visiting his parents near Casky.

It will be remembered that the girl told the Evansville police that Muir Hammack had induced her to come to that city under the promise of marriage. The police arrested a man they thought was Muir Hammack, and put him in jail. Mrs. Muir Hammack arrived from Madisonville and said the man was not her husband. The father of the Bell girl also showed up, and identified the prisoner as Elmer Bell. How Hammack name got into the mess he is utterly unable to understand, but he has had nothing to do with any of the Bells and never heard of them until he reached Dawson.

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery"—was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical experts, chemists and writers on medicine. Not only so, but the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised by the best remedies for the diseases for which it is used.

A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, hang-on coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

SHORTAGE OF CARS

WILL PREVAIL IN KENTUCKY
AGAIN THIS WINTER

Railroad Commissioner Siler Says It Will Be More Pronounced Than Last Winter.

That the car shortage in Kentucky which came near causing a coal famine last winter, will be even more pronounced during the season 1907-1908 is the belief of A. T. Siler, a member of the state railroad commission, says the Louisville Herald.

Mr. Siler, who was at the Seelbach yesterday, said that the demand for coal has been such that the roads have not had a chance to get in condition to anticipate a shortage, and that dealers in the cities should stock their yards and prepare for a time when it will be difficult to get coal into the city.

"The situation, as it appears to me," he said, "is serious." It does not seem as though the car supply will be larger, and owing to the general and constant demand it is likely to be even smaller. The development of the coal regions, while offering a larger means of transportation, and these the railroads may not be able to furnish."

Mr. Siler said that the roads said last year, during the time of the shortage that they would make strenuous efforts to prevent a repetition of the trouble. He added that the commission intends to wait until this fall to see what the developments are, and that if the situation shows no sign of ceasing a conference will probably be called to take action looking to the relief of the shippers.

FOR OUR READERS.

To Prove That Hyomei Will Cure Catarrh, Every Reader of The New Era Can Have Special Guarantee.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to the power of Hy-o-mei, the medicated air treatment, to cure all catarrhal troubles, the remarkable offer made by L. L. Elgin should expel that doubt. He gives all his personal guarantee with every dollar outfit of Hy-o-mei that he sells, to refund the money unless it gives satisfaction; he takes all the risk of cure, and no reader of the New Era can afford to suffer longer with catarrh when an offer like this is made.

With every Hy-o-mei outfit is a neat pocket inhaler, and Hy-o-mei breathed through this inhaler, reaches the most remote air-cells of the nose, throat and lungs, destroying all catarrhal growth, and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Hy-o-mei really gives you a health-giving climate in your own home, so that when you breathe its medicated air, your nose, throat and lungs will be filled with air like that one the mountains high above the sea level, where grow balsamic trees and plants, which purify the air with their volatile antiseptic fragrance so healing to the respiratory organs.

You will notice relief and benefit from the first use of Hy-o-mei, and it will not take many days' treatment to convince you that in this remedy you have found a complete and lasting cure for all catarrhal troubles.

AWFUL ITCHING
BURNING SPOTS

Formed on Legs and Exuded a Watery Matter—Then Spread to Arms—Kept Ankles Bandaged Over a Year Until Skin Was Made Smooth and

TORMENT WAS STOPPED
IN 3 DAYS BY CUTICURA

"In December 1905 I had a blood-red spot about as large as a nickel come on my left shin about three inches above the ankle and in about two weeks the same kind of a spot came on the right shin. I did not know but it was poison from some black stockings but my wife said it could not be for she had washed them thoroughly twice. The spots spread until they went to my elbows and across. Then my shins and under my ankle-bones commenced to break out in a fine rash which extended about halfway to my knees. The burning and itching were something terrible and later the rash began to exude a watery matter. Finally it went to my elbows and above and below them. I doctored with two doctors but it did no good. I kept my ankles bandaged for over a year. One day a friend of mine said he believed the Cuticura Remedies would help me. I sent for them and in three days after using the Cuticura Remedies there was a complete change. The skin cleared up smooth and the itching stopped. I am still using the Cuticura Remedies for once a week or so, some little spot will break out in a fine rash and commence to itch. But washing with Cuticura Soap and putting on Cuticura Ointment drives it all away. I am seventy-one years old to-day. Geo. N. Weston, Postmaster, Ceylon, N. Y., Apr. 29, 1907."

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest, by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and voiding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HOME SWEET HOME

FORBIDDEN TO MR. WHITE BY
"NIGHT RIDERS."

Hopkinsville Business Man Is Warned That He Must Not Visit His People In Caldwell.

Robert W. White, of this city, manager of the Geiser Manufacturing company, has received a large number of threatening letters from "Night Riders," warning him to stay away from his old home in Caldwell county. The letters accuse Mr. White of being an anti-association man and of influencing his relatives not to join the organization. It has long been Mr. White's custom to pay frequent visits to his father, Mr. R. G. White, who resides about six miles from Cobb, Ky., and to his foster-mother, Mrs. W. L. Pollard, whose home is four miles from Cobb. The elder White joined the association some time ago, but Mr. Pollard, husband of the lady who raised young White, did not join until his plant beds had been scraped and he had received numerous threats. The anonymous letter writers have been deluging the Hopkinsville man with epistles several weeks, threatening him with violence if he should visit his people again. There have been over thirty of these missives in many different handwritings and mailed at Cobb, Princeton, Cerulean Springs and Wallonia. They are all of the same tenor and charge that Mr. White by his visits has stirred up feeling against the association. The Night Riders threaten to whip Mr. White if he appears in that community again, and if that is not sufficient to use harsher means. In some of the letters his life has been threatened. Notwithstanding the warnings Mr. White visited the Pollards and his father a day or two ago. On his return he received letters telling him that he had been warned for the last time, and his life would pay the forfeit of the next visit.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

No skin disease can exist without an underlying cause, and in most instances that cause is either a humor in the blood or an excess of fiery acids in this vital fluid. These humors and acids get into the blood, generally because of an inactive and sluggish condition of those members whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse of the body. This unhealthy matter is left in the system to sour and ferment, and soon the circulation becomes charged with the acid poison. The blood, in its effort to rid itself of this foreign matter, begins to throw off the humors and acids through the pores and glands of the skin. These coming in contact with the delicate tissues and fibers with which the skin is so abundantly supplied produces irritation and inflammation on the surface, and Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, or some other troublesome and disfiguring skin disease is the result. External applications, while they soothe the itching, and are beneficial in keeping the skin clean, can never cure skin affections, because they do not reach the blood where the real trouble is located. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only permanent cure for skin diseases. S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers, is the best treatment. It cures by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the circulation so that the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased by the exuding acid matter, is nourished and soothed by a cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, removes the foreign matter and thereby permanently cures every form of skin trouble. Do not expect to cure a blood disease with local applications alone, but begin the use of S. S. S., and when you have removed the cause the skin will be free from disease. MAYOR MEACHAM TELLS REV. MR. HYDE HE IS MAKING INFLAMMATORY SPEECH AND MUST CUT HIS REMARKS SHORT.

Sensational Incident in Monthly Open Session of Planters Protective Association County Committee.—Lawlessness is Condemned in Strong Terms By the Members.—Resolutions to Be Sent Gov. Beckham.

(From Monday's Daily.)

An important and largely attended meeting of the Christian county executive committee of the Planters' Protective association was held today at the courthouse.

One sensational incident occurred when Mayor Meacham interrupted Rev. B. F. Hyde in the speech the latter was making. The mayor stated that the speech was inflammatory in its nature and must be cut short. Rev. Mr. Hyde stated that if he had said anything that could be construed as favoring lawlessness or disorder in any form he was sorry, for such was not his intention and he closed his talk with a fervent plea for the farmers to stand by the association at all hazards and to respect and obey the law in its every detail.

Following this Judge W. T. Fowler, vice-chairman of the committee, rose and said that what he should say was not to be taken as a criticism in any degree of Mr. Hyde, for he regarded him as a honest and God-fearing man, but he was forced to take exception to that part of his address in which the speaker had showed an inclination to make a jest of such a serious matter as the present delicate conditions in this region; that the members of the organization, should not, even in jest, say anything which could be taken advantage of by the opposition and he so reported and construed as an expression voiced by them favoring the lawlessness.

The general condemnation of lawlessness was the theme permeating the entire proceedings. As the various committeemen made their reports as to the conditions in their districts they would be asked about whether or not there was any lawlessness apparent in their neighborhood. All of them stated that there was no indication of such a state of affairs in the county. Some of the committeemen said if the raids should make their appearance they would be among the first and most determined in bringing them to an end. Vice Chairman Fowler reported that since the last meeting a number of new names had been added to the membership of the association and that the acreage thus pledged aggregated 336 acres. The reports of the committeemen showed that several of the districts in the county were solid for the association while all reports indicated the steady increase in the membership. The condition was reported as averaging about 75 per cent while the acreage was about the same figure.

There was much discussion of a resolution which was presented that the chairman of this county should have a voice in the selection of the salesman and other officials for this market and fixing their salaries, and suggesting to the district executive committee that the office of general inspector should be done away with. There was a wide difference of opinion and many speeches were made upon each side, but when the vote was taken it was shown that that part favoring the giving of the county chairman a voice in selecting the officials had been carried, while the other clause was lost.

Judge Fowler then introduced a resolution in which it was urged that should the executive committee select a new advisory board that C. F. Jarrett, the present salesman for this market, should be placed in nomination. It has been currently rumored that when the new advisory board was selected that a man from each of the three districts in black patch should be named so as to give representation to each district. This was the reason for the resolution.

Judge Fowler also suggested to the committee that they adopt a suitable resolution calling upon Gov. Beckham in a formal manner that in so far as his power lay that he co-operate with and assist in every possible way Gov. Patterson, of Tennessee, in an effort to put a stop to night riding. This motion was unanimously carried and Judge Fowler, R. B. McGaughey and W. A. Glass were appointed to draft such a resolution.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness it Would Bring to Hopkinsville Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back. Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains come from sick kidneys.

"Would save much needless woe. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys."

Hopkinsville people endorse this: Miss L. A. Hester, 826 North Main street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "I honestly believe that there is little done of any one suffering the torture of backache when such an effective remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills can be secured at L. A. Johnson's drug store. The prompt and thorough relief which followed their use in my case has given me abiding faith in their merits. In the summer of 1903, I was suffering greatly from soreness and lameness across the small of my back and other difficulties arising from a weakness of the kidneys. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills was all I required to free me from the distressing pain in my back and restore my kidneys to a good healthy condition. I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills at that time and during the four years which have elapsed, I still hold the same good opinion of the remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Caution: Beware of cheap imitations. Doan's Kidney Pills are the only ones that will cure.

CALL IS ACCEPTED

REV. MR. BRANCH TO COME TO HOPKINSVILLE

Will Succeed Dr. Fogartie as Pastor of the Ninth Street Presbyterian Church.

LEXINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Rev. C. H. H. Branch, pastor of the Maxwell-street Presbyterian church, announced to his congregation last night that he had decided to accept the call of the Presbyterian church of Hopkinsville and would offer his resignation to a congregational meeting to be held two weeks from yesterday. Mr. Branch's resignation will take effect October 1 and he will then go at once to Hopkinsville. Mr. Branch has been one of the most popular and influential ministers of Lexington and the regret of his congregation at losing him is shared by the general public of the city. He came here from Connersville, O., and on October 1 will have been in charge of the Maxwell-street church five years.

"We never regret of eating too little," was one of the ten rules of life of Thomas Jefferson, president of the United States, and the rule applies to every one without exception during this hot weather, because it is hard for food, even in small quantities, to be digested when the blood is at high temperature. At this season we should eat sparingly and properly. We should also help the stomach as much as possible by the use of a little Kodol. For indigestion and dyspepsia, which will rest the stomach by digesting the food itself. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration seems to be between 50 and 60 years; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by Cook & Higgins and Cook's Pharmacy. 50c.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures indigestion, dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

BUMBLE BEE'S DAY

HE IS IN CLOVER NOW SURE ENOUGH.

Farmers Almost Willing to Be Stung To Have Them Buzz Around The Place.

Bumblebees, once regarded as a dangerous and most unwelcome pest are now holding a position high in the estimation of the farmers of this country, who, instead of hunting the nests and destroying the bees wherever possible, now preserve the homes of the insects as carefully as if it contained some priceless treasure.

The reason for this change is not that the bees have lost in any degree their inclination or ability to sting a person, but the farmers now hold to the theory that the bumble bee is the means by which the luxuriant crop of clover of this season was made possible. Several years ago the bumble bees died out or migrated from this country. Almost immediately the clover crop began to fail and continued until this year when the bees reappeared in their wonted numbers. The change in the clover was at once noticeable. It began to thrive and grow and as a result of the prolific yield nearly every farmer has his hay mow filled to the limit and fine clover hay, than which there is none better, can be had on any market. Aside from the financial benefit derived from the growth of this crop, the farmer reaps a still richer harvest when he takes into account the great help clover is to his land. The plants absorb nitrogen from the air and deposit it in little white globules at the ends of the roots. Nitrogen is nature's own fertilizer and is better than anything else for enriching land which has run down.

Where the bees get in their good work is in transferring from one plant to another certain particles which fertilize the plant receiving them. In other words the farmers claim that clover plants are of two natures, male and female, and that for the latter to be made fertile and produce blooms and seed as they should it is necessary for them to be inoculated with certain qualities which are possessed only by the male plant. This is the office which the bee performs as he buzzes from plant to plant gathering the pollen and which becomes an impossibility without his beeship.

Therefore, the bumble bee is now the lord of the clover producing farms around here, and while he may sting any member of the family just as viciously and without cause he escapes without injury for the word has gone forth that he must be preserved at all costs.

"Everybody Should Know"

says C. G. Hays, a prominent business man of Cliff, Mo., "that Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn or wound, or to a case of piles. I'm used to it and know what I am talking about." Guaranteed by Cook & Higgins and Cook's Pharmacy. 25c.

ADLAI STEVENSON

FORMER CHRISTIAN COUNTY BOY
SEPTUAGENARIAN.

Full of Interesting Reminiscences—Passes Time Quietly With Children and Grandchildren.

Adlai E. Stevenson has been almost completely out of the political limelight since 1900, when he was Bryan's running mate in the national campaign. Few Washingtonians who recall him so pleasantly realize, perhaps, that he is and old man. He has passed the allotted three score and ten, being now seventy two years old.

He served in congress on three decades ago, and then came back in Cleveland's first administration as first assistant post master general, when he became widely known as the head-man, owing to the many changes made in the minor post offices.

Retiring in 1889 he returned to the capitol in March 1893, as vice president having been elected on the ticket with Cleveland in his second successful race.

Mr. Stevenson was much esteemed in the United States senate, and when his term expired was the recipient of a magnificent silver service suitably engraved, as a testimonial from the senators. Then he was made a member of the commission that was sent abroad in the effort to bring about international bimetalism. This was his last public service.

In a recent interview he expressed himself in favor of the nomination of Mr. Bryan by the Democrats this year. During his visit to Richmond and the Jamestown exposition recently it was noticed that the former vice-president had aged greatly.

He is full of interesting reminiscences of his life in Washington and association with statesmen now gone to their last rest. Mr. Stevenson still lives at Bloomington, Ill., but passes a good deal of his time with his children and grandchildren.—Washington Herald.

Olvey-Allen.

Mrs. Belle Olvey and James L. Allen, both of Hopkinsville, Ky., came to Nashville Thursday and were quietly married at the home of the bride's relative, Tom Wade. The ceremony was performed by J. H. Wright, and was witnessed by a few friends. After a bridal luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Allen left for their future home in Hopkinsville. Mrs. Allen wore a brown tailored suit with a hat to match.—Nashville American.

AS SEEN AFAR OFF ON SERIOUS CHARGE

G. V. Bryan, formerly a prominent Hopkinsville citizen and now manager of the Bull's Head Oil Works at Eureka, Cal., in a letter to the New Era expresses his sorrow and shame over the Night Riders' outrages that have occurred in this region, to which his heart has always fondly turned as "home" and of whose "civilization, refinement and old-time hospitality" he has always been proud to boast. He vigorously expresses his opinion of "the cowardly and dastardly deeds done by midnight marauders supposed to be neighbors and friends," and says:

"As many well know who read these words of sorrow and shame, I was born and reared in dear old Hopkinsville, and it has been my pride and boast wherever my wandering feet for over thirty years have led me, that I was a native of our 'Old Kentucky Home.' And when, as has often happened, I have been asked, 'What have you to say of the many outrages, murders and feuds in your state, what of the notorious moonshiners?' I have replied, 'They are an ignorant lot of wild mountaineers with no education, without ambition, with no civilizing influences to make them better men and women.'"

"In God's name, what could I have replied had my friends seen and read the many stories of the worse than shameful occurrences in my dear old home and neighborhood? It should be stopped, and at once, by such an uprising of law-abiding, peaceful citizens, as would bring dismay, disgrace and punishment to those who are connected with or responsible for such crimes. If the hand of the law is so powerless let the people form vigilance committees if necessary in every neighborhood and seize these dastardly midnight marauders. I actually dread to open the pages of your paper which I have had followed me and have interestedly read for about forty years, lest I find still greater cause to blush with shame at the mighty fall from law and order to the depths of cowardly deeds of crime. Call on good men to do their duty. I subscribe myself yours sorrowfully, a once proud and boastful Kentuckian who cannot help but bow down with shame that such things can be."

"G. V. BRYAN."

IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Hopkinsville Library association is enjoying the greatest prosperity in its history. Many persons who have not heretofore been subscribers are adding their names to the list, and the numerous good things to read are having a wide circulation this summer. With a view to the season, a goodly proportion of the literature recently placed on the shelves is just the sort that harmonizes with a hammock and a fan. The library is well supplied with standard works and books of reference and at the same time a special effort is made to keep abreast with the times, and the libraries of the larger cities are supplied with the "best sellers" and popular works of fiction generally no earlier than the one here.

In Mrs. Virginia Lipscomb the institution has an ideal librarian, and it is to her excellent services that a great deal of the credit of the success attained during the last several years is unquestionably due. Everybody in Hopkinsville who enjoys reading should have a ticket in the library. The fee is small and the benefits are large. The library is open on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons. The following novels came in with the latest shipment of books and are now on the shelves:

Richard Harding Davis.
Fraulein Schmidt and Mr. Anstruther.
The Author of Elizabeth and her German Garden.

DEPUTY MARSHAL IS HELD UNDER BOND.

Accused of Pretending to Arrest Two Men And Robbing Them of Their Money.

Jim Wynn, a deputy marshal of Nortonville, is charged with robbery by Norman Wilson and Jake Kenney, who live in the Pond River country. The men claim that they were on their way to Crofton when Wynn, pretending to arrest them, took their money and, when accused of the crime, cursed and abused them.

Wynn was tried Monday in the Hopkins county court, and according to Wilson's story, the facts were about as follows:

On August 9, Wilson and Kenney, came by way of Central City to Nortonville on their way to Crofton. The train on which they came to Nortonville being late, they failed to make connection with the L. & N. train and were compelled to remain over night in Nortonville. The men concluded to stay out in the cool night air the remainder of the night and save hotel expenses. About 11 o'clock, while sitting on the edge of the railroad track near the depot, they were approached by Wynn, who is a deputy marshal. Wynn informed the men that he would have to arrest them.

Wynn carried the men down the railroad towards the lock-up, and when about fifty yards from the depot searched Wilson and took two $5 bills from his pockets. The marshal then told the men to go to a grove near by and they would not be molested further. Shortly after going to the grove mentioned the men were approached by a gang of negroes who demanded money and whiskey. Becoming frightened and fearing bodily harm at the hands of these hoodlums, the men again started to the depot, and when a short distance from it were met again by Wynn and another man. Wynn told them he would arrest them again and, coming over to Kenney proceeded to search his pockets. He secured a one dollar bill and one silver dollar from Kenney and told the men to go to the depot and they would not be further molested. This was the last that Wilson and Kenney saw of Wynn that night.

The next morning the men saw Wynn on the streets of Nortonville. Wynn approached them and said he had heard they had accused him of taking money from them. Wilson and Kenney informed Wynn that he was the man who took their money, whereupon Wynn cursed them roughly and walked away.

At the trial Wynn was bound over to the grand jury under $300 bond, which was furnished by friends of the accused.

THEY FOLLOW SUIT

The Montgomery county executive committee of the Planters' association, at a meeting this week adopted the following resolutions along the lines of those adopted by the Christian county committee:

Be it resolved by the Montgomery County Planters' Protective association, in regular meeting assembled, that we condemn in unmeasured terms the recent acts of lawlessness committed in this and adjoining counties. We cannot believe that any member of this association could so forget his duties as a law-abiding citizen as to commit or be a party to such acts, but we condemn the acts and the persons who committed them regardless of who those persons might be. It is the sense of this meeting that it is the duty of every member of this organization to assist in finding and punishing the guilty parties and also to do everything in his power to stop and prevent such lawlessness. Our organization stands for law and order at all times and under all circumstances, and any man who thinks otherwise has a gross misconception of the aims and purposes of our splendid organization."

$30,000 Damage Suit.

One of the biggest damage suits ever filed in this section has been instituted in the Webster county circuit court by George B. Hale, administrator for the late Ben Jones, who was killed while at work as an employe for the West Kentucky Coal company in its mines at the Caney Fork colliery in Webster county. Damage to the extent of $30,000 is demanded. Negligence on the part of the company in letting one of its coal cars be dumped upon him is charged.

From Day to Day

(From Monday's Daily)

The Rev. Dr. James W. Kramer, of Quincy, Ill., the distinguished Baptist divine who filled Dr. Jenkins' pulpit Sunday morning and evening, bears striking facial likeness to William Jennings Bryan, and has frequently been mistaken for the Democratic statesman. Dr. Kramer's discourses were heard by large and deeply interested congregations. He is a pulpit orator of notable charm and force. He is a southerner by birth, but has been living in the north for a good many years.

News has been received in the city that Charles H. Nash, Jr., is lying at the point of death at the of his parents, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Nash, at Temple, Tex. He has typhoid fever.

Hallie Erminie Rives—Mrs. Post Wheeler—has written a new novel which has just been issued from the press of the Bobbs-Merrill company. Its title is "Satan Sanderson". Mrs. Wheeler and her husband, who is secretary to the American legation at Tokyo, Japan, have been spending the summer in this country.

Prof. William A. Evans, of Newport, who will be a member of the faculty of the Hopkinsville high school next session, has arrived in the city and has taken board with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Gary. Mr. Evans will teach the sciences and have charge of the athletics of the school.

Squire Thomas M. Barker, of Kennedy, is in the city shaking hands with his many friends. It is his first visit in town since his recovery from a severe spell of pneumonia. He was ill for a long time but has about recovered his health.

The grand lodge of U. B. F., in session at Paris, Ky., re-elected Hiram Smith, col., of this city as state grand master. The treasurer's report showed that $40,000 was handled last year. An industrial school for negroes will probably be established on the U. B. F. farm near Louisville.

The Rev. Joseph D. Armistead, of Norwood, Cincinnati, Christian church, preached Sunday at the courthouse for Rev. H. D. Smith's congregation. The young minister is a former Hopkinsville boy, and a host of friends here are following his useful and brilliant career with great pleasure. His subject Sunday morning was "The Noblest of the Fine Arts," his text being 1 Cor. 3:9. Character building was the theme and the sermon was one of the finest he has ever preached in this city.

ALL GO BACK HOME

With the mystery surrounding their appearance here only partially solved, Thomas Woodside and his runaway daughter Lillie, left yesterday for their home in Kentucky. Having no charge on which to hold him, Chief of Detectives Davis released Elmer Bell, who has been such a mystery to the department. Mrs. Hammack and her two small children who came here Wednesday from their home at Madisonville, Ky., in search of husband and father, have gone to the home of Mrs. Hammack's cousin, Theodore Hill, 109 Fountain avenue, where they will make their home until they learn what has become of Hammack.

After Woodside came here yesterday evening, claimed his daughter, refused to prosecute Elmer Bell who he identified as the man who deserted his wife and five children to run away with his daughter, there was nothing left for the officers to do but release him. He said he was going to return to his wife.

The whereabouts of Muir Hammack, who became entangled in the case by the girl's use of his name to hide Bell's identity, are a mystery. —Evansville Courier.

A DOZEN HUNDRED.

NUMBER OF CLASSES AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

PRIZES AGGREGATE $25,000.

Every Department Will Be Filled With the Cream of Displays From Other Fairs.

Fairs—international, national, state, county and municipal—have been held almost since civilization had its beginning, and passing years have not only not dimmed their light but have served to make it more brilliant. At no time perhaps in the history of Kentucky have there been so many county fairs as have been held or will be held in the state during 1907. The number has grown to more than fifty. These county fairs serve to draw all classes closer together and it is fitting that they should form the spokes of the big hub which is known as the Kentucky State Fair.

The State Board of Agriculture, early in maturing the plans for this year's exhibition, which will be held in Louisville, September 16 to 21, arranged to have personal representatives at all of these fairs. These representatives have carried with them catalogues of exhibits and premiums, and attractive advertising matter. At every place they have met a most cordial welcome. Exhibitors, both of live stock and in other departments, were solicited and it is in no sense an exaggeration to say that the cream of the exhibits of every county fair will meet in competition at the Kentucky State Fair.

At the September exhibition, the competition will be for prizes that aggregate $25,000 in cash. The classification covers horses, mules, jack stock, beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep, goats, poultry, collie dogs, pigeons, tobacco, field seed and grain, melons and vegetables, plants and flowers, woman's work, children's work and table luxuries.

There are 1,175 different rings in which good money is offered, while there are a total of over 300 different lots. The horse money is divided among horses suitable for light harness, five-gaited saddlers, roasters, combined harness and five-gaited saddlers, American carriage, three-gaited, plantation saddlers, runabouts, high steppers, Shetland ponies, thoroughbreds, and what are classed as fine horses. The mule premiums are most elaborate on pairs and single horse and single mare mules, while good money is offered on jacks and Jennies.

In beef cattle, the classification is complete on Short-horns, Herefords, Polled Durhams, Aberdeen-Angus and Red Polls. Most attractive premiums are offered in the dairy cattle department for Jerseys, Holstein-Friesians, Ayrshires, and Guernseys.

The swine department includes Berkshire, Duroc-Jerseys, Poland-Chinas, Chester Whites, Tamworths, Yorkshires, Hampshires, etc. The money for sheep is divided among Shropshires, Cotswolds, South Downs, American Merinos, Oxford Downs, Hampshires and Dorsets. Interesting classifications are arranged for bucks and does in the Angora Goat department. The poultry premium list covers every known fowl in which this section of the country is interested and the same is true of the pigeon department.

Recognizing the great interest that farmers are displaying in the Collie Dog, as the successor of the Shepherd a department is given to the former and some very handsome money offered. The departments for vegetables and melons, tobacco, field seed and grain, cover premiums that will appeal to all who are growers of these products. In horticulture there are scores of awards in cash to be made on apples, peaches, pears, grapes, etc. Plants and flowers are not neglected and the money offered should prove a great inducement both to the amateur with the hothouse, and to the professional florist.

In no department is there a more interesting collection of premiums than in that set aside for woman's work, children's work and table luxuries. It is confidently expected that farm implements and machinery will be shown to a much larger extent than ever before at a Kentucky State Fair.

Bell Bros., of Woodford county, are showing their faith in their horse, Montgomery Chief, in a most substantial way. They are offering $250 in two special premiums for best 1907 foal of Montgomery Chief and for best foal of any age of Montgomery Chief, at the Kentucky State Fair.

The concerts daily at the Kentucky State Fair by Natiello and his premier band of fifty all-star artists from the "Land of Music" should prove an announcement that should strike joy to the hearts of everyone at all musically inclined.

"The World's Greatest Living Color Page of Amusement Enterprises" briefly describes what may be expected among the other big things of the Kentucky State Fair.

The Kentucky State Fair management has arranged an amusement program running way into thousands of dollars, united with an exhibition plan never before attempted.

The Kentucky State Fair management will gladly send a catalogue and descriptive booklet to anyone applying for same.

More Than $25,000 in Prizes!

A State Fair ribbon has the backing of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. It's a trophy with a big value, aside from the money that accompanies it.

Joe W. Morris, of New Castle, has been appointed superintendent of the Kentucky exhibit at the Jamestown exposition, succeeding J. Birch Walker, of Christian county. Mr.
Walker was compelled to leave to take up his work as an institute lecturer under the state board of agriculture, forestry and immigration.
Mr. Morris, who is a prominent merchant and Democrat, was on a visit to the exposition when he received a letter from Secretary of Agriculture Hubert Vreeland giving him the appointment.

For the twenty-third time since the close of hostilities, the surviving members of the Orphan Brigade, C.
S. A., will assemble in reunion this time at Glasgow, and on September 2. This will be the second day of the Barron county fair, and special provision has been made by the fair directors for the entertainments of the veterans. The Orphan Brigade has members in it from ninety-six counties, and in the call signed by John H. Weller, president, and Thomas D. Osborne, secretary, it is requested that the state papers give local notice of the reunion.

The Republican campaign in Kentucky was opened Monday at May-was not as large as has been expected. Judge James Breathitt, of this city, candidate for attorney general, was unable to attend the appointment on account of the illness of two of his sons who have typhoid fever.

Judge Breathitt said this morning that it would likely be fifteen days before he could enter upon a speaking campaign.

ADOPT RESOLUTIONS.

Planters' Protective Association Of Christian County Ask Gov. Beckham To Join With Governor Of Tennessee and Put An End To Night
Riding In This Region.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Christian county executive committee of the Dark District Planters' Protective association, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted and ordered sent to Gov. Beckham.

Whereas, It has been brought to our attention that Hon. Malcolm Patterson, governor of Tennessee, has taken a determined stand to suppress lawlessness in certain counties in his state, by offering rewards and assistance to the various county and district officers; and has called upon Hon. J. C. W. Beckham, governor of Kentucky, to cooperate with him in his efforts,
And whereas, certain newspapers and various citizens have assumed that members of the Tobacco association have been connected with these various depredations committed in Kentucky and Tennessee, and seek to hold the farmers' organization responsible for the violations of law that have occurred,

We, the Christian county committee of the Dark Tobacco Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia in regular meeting assembled hereby commend Governor Patterson and Governor Beckham for the action they have heretofore taken to suppress the dreaded "Night Riders," and to bring to justice each offender of the law and to rid the state of the disgrace that has thus been brought upon her people; and hereby offer support in suppressing lawlessness and crime of every nature; and as a means of stamping out the crimes being committed in various sections, we hereby call upon the governor of Kentucky to co-operate with the various district and county officers in an effort to apprehend and convict the guilty parties.

The Dark Tobacco Protective association believes in the maintenance of law and order. It has on all occasions disavowed and condemned the violation of law. Its leaders and officers and its members are among the best people of our land. The organization, its officers and membership stand ready to assist and co-operate with the officers of the law in ferreting out the guilty parties, and bringing them to a speedy trial.

Low Rate Granted.

Effective September 14 all railroads entering Louisville will grant reduced rates on account of the Kentucky State fair, which will be held from September 16 to 21. The rate will be one fare plus twenty-five cents for the round trip from all points in Kentucky, eastern and western Tennessee and from all points along the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. The state fair officials are perfectly satisfied with the low rates granted and believe that they will serve to draw thousands of visitors to Louisville, thus benefitting both the fair and the merchants.

WILL BE BEAUTIFUL

BUTTERFLY CARNIVAL AT HOL-LAND'S OPERA HOUSE.

Scores Of Children Will Be Seen In the Production.—Many Striking Scenic Effects.

The beautiful Butterfly Carnival
—a juvenile arrangement of Shakespeares Midsummer Night's Dream
—will be presented at Holland's opera house one week from tonight.
The entertainment is to be given under the auspices of the Christian county chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy and rehearsals, under the efficient direction of Miss Pugh, a noted professional trainer for the production, have been in progress for some time. All this week the children are practicing at the opera house, and good judges confidently assert that the entertainment bids fair to eclipse any event of the sort ever given in this part of the state. The scenic effects will be striking, and the costumes remarkable for their beauty and variety.
Wherever the production has been seen the press and public alike have proclaimed its perfect success.

Ice Cream Supper.

Will be given at Haddock school house, for the benefit of the school house on Saturday night Aug. 31.
Everybody invited.

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

L. L. Elgin, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money for he is selling a regular 50-cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist L. L. Elgin that this medicine could be bought for less than 50 cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount.
The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr.
Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. w23d28

Adjudged Insane.

Mr. John Downey, a bachelor, 70 years old who lives with his brother O. P. Downey in this city was adjudged insane in Judge Wilson's court this morning and ordered sent to the Western Kentucky Asylum at Hopkinsville. He will be taken to that institution this afternoon in charge of an officer. Mr. Downey's mind became affected several weeks ago, and shortly he became violent and the action taken this morning became necessary.—Madisonville Hustler.

DOGWOOD NOTES.

The meeting at the Christian church conducted by Rev. Mr. Ford closed last Friday night. There were several additions to the church.

Mr. Ben F. Clark of Olive Branch, Ill., is spending this week with the family of Mrs. G. W. Clark. Mr.
Clark is a son of B. F. Clark Sr., who has been dead a number of years, and a brother of the late G.
W. Clark deceased. He is also an uncle of E. W. Clark editor of the Hopkinsville Messenger. Out of a family of nine children he is the only one living and this is his first visit to Kentucky in seventeen years. His old friends and relatives gave him a cordial welcome.

Misses Vannie Lacy and Myers Fruit attended the camp meeting at Carl Sunday.

Mr. Willie H. Clark who has recently returned from Terre Haute Ind., spent a few days at home last week.

Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Hyde of Hopkinsville visited friends in this neighborhood last week.

Dr. O. E. Wright's father and sister from Texas has been visiting his family for several weeks.

Mrs. Ida Simmons and daughter are on the sick list this week.

There will be a box supper and contest given at Fruit Hill school house Saturday night Sept. 7, 1907.
Everybody cordially invited to come.

How to Cure Liver Trouble

There are usually several ways to do a given thing, but it is the aim with all of us to find the best and shortest way. It is just so in the cure of disease. People suffering from liver trouble imagine that all they have to do is to take something that will physic them. There is more than that in the cure of so serious a disorder as liver trouble.

When that drowsy, clogged up feeling comes on you go to a drug store and ask for a 50 cent or $1 bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Take a dose or two and watch results. It will not only clean out the bowels and stimulate the liver, but it will get the blood circulating so that you feel like your old self again. A simple laxative or purgative could not do that. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is not only a wonderful laxative but it has tonic properties, so that, unlike so many other things, instead of leaving you weak and drawn it builds you up and strengthens you.

It does not gripe—it acts smoothly, oiling the intestines so that the passage is smooth and agreeable. It is gentle but effective, pleasant to the taste and pure in quality. It is an excellent, economical Home Cure, and its results are permanent. It is absolutely guaranteed to do what is claimed for it.

Use it for occasional or chronic constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, sour stomach, bloated stomach, flatulency, diarrhea, and the dozen and one other ills of the stomach, liver and bowels. It is the greatest of household remedies and no family should be without it because in a family someone at any moment may need such a laxative and then you will appreciate having Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the house.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Gettest yet most effective laxative for children, women and old folks. A guaranteed, permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "The Laxative so good and sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN." SEEMED TO BE DEAD

BUT RECOVERED UNDER TREATMENT OF PHYSICIANS

Two Colored Women Were Rendered Insensible By Lightning While at Work Near Pembroke.

Annie White and Frances Gordon, colored women, had a narrow escape from death Monday afternoon, says the Pembroke Journal. They were washing in the back yard at S. H. Dickinson's residence, on Jackson street, when an electrical storm came up. Lightning struck a tree under which they were at work and both were knocked down and rendered unconscious for some time from the shock. Mr. Dickinson went out to see what damage the lightning had done and found the women lying as if dead. He immediately summoned two physicians, who worked for nearly an hour before life was restored.

BIG MULE SALE.

Forty-One Sold By Layne & Leavell For $8,350.

Layne & Leavell of this city, yesterday sold forty-one mules to Rinehart & Dinnes, of Washington, D. C., for the round price of $8,350 or an average of about $203.50 apiece. The mules were shipped at once to Washington where they will be used in railroad construction work in which the purchasers are large contractors.

While there have been fancier prices paid for individual animals this is regarded as one of the best sales of the season for a car load.

WORK IN PROGRESS

WIDENING OF SEVENTH STREET BRIDGE BEGUN.

(From Friday's Daily)

The work of widening West Seventh street and the bridge at that point over the river, was begun yesterday by the Oriental Construction company which was awarded the contract for the stone work.

The work now under way is the removing of the earth embankment which was used by the Illinois Central railroad as a bumper for its cars. This dirt is being thrown back a distance of several feet. The wall which now stands at the edge of the street will be torn down and rebuilt nine feet further over on the property of the railroad. When the wall is completed the dirt will be thrown back behind it and the street thus widened about eleven feet more than at present. The bridge will come in for its share of the extra space, the drive way being made as wide as the entire bridge is at present while walk ways for foot passengers will be added on each side.

OLD SHANKS SAYS

SOME THINGS THAT WILL INTEREST MANY PEOPLE.

Discusses In Detail the Salary List and Other Matters Connected With the Association.

"Old Shanks" has issued the following public statement which will be read with general interest:

Not long since there appeared an article in several newspapers purporting to be a speech delivered by me at Keysburg, in which I was misquoted. Besides, I gave no man or newspaper my consent or authority to publish same, and since I have been referred to in the papers as talking something, I think it is due the members to know just what I have been talking about.

First, I will notice some of the errors in the article referred to above. The picnic spoken of in the article was not at Keysburg, but on my own premises, two or two and one-half miles from Keysburg, and to members of the organization only, as I believe, but in reference to one man I and others were deceived.

I did not in that talk say that Joel B. Fort had done more for the organization than any three men, but more than any man, referring to speakers, of course. I did not say that the advisory board had voted themselves a salary, but that the executive committee had voted them a salary. I did not use any hot shot or any other kind of shot toward any man, but, to the contrary, stated that while I thought that some of the salaries were too high, if I were getting them my vision might be colored different.

What I said on this occasion was but a repetition of what I said before the executive committee at Guthrie a few days previous. As other parties have been proper to discuss these matters before the public, I feel justified in stating what I said before the committee at Guthrie. I did not at Guthrie or any other place question the honesty of any man connected with the management, for I have got no prejudices toward any one of these men, but I do claim the right to criticize measures—that is, if free speech is not to be suppressed and a censorship placed on the utterances of private members—an obligation I do not take. Why, I even have the right to petition the president of the United States for a redress of grievances.

But what were those grievances. First, that some of those salaries were too high in proportion to the services rendered; second, that there ought to be an account rendered unto the membership for the receipts, disbursements and expenditures of their money; third, that there ought to be rules adopted clearly defining the duties of the head of all departments and holding them responsible for a faithful performance of the duties of their office and moneys coming into their hands; fourth, unjust discrimination toward some of the officials and speakers; fifth, protest against raising the price of pricing tobacco; sixth, no more revenue collected from the people than is sufficient for an economical administration of the affairs of the organization.

So many topics to be treated of in one article can only be treated in a very brief way.

First—in reference to the salaries. The treasurer's salary is all out of proportion to the services rendered. I have been informed that several banks would perform these duties and execute bond for no salary at all, simply for the benefit of these deposits.

If this is true, his salary of $2,500 could be saved to the organization. I see no reason why the general inspector's office should not be abolished. The various subordinate inspectors could execute bond to the committee and perform the duties of inspectors as they do, in a saving of perhaps $2,000. If I am correct in my deductions, his office is that of a sinecure. If I am mistaken in this yet his salary is out of proportion to the services rendered.

As to the advisory board, when we consider that there is no capital invested and this $2,180 is for personal services and for meeting. I believe, about two days in the week. These salaries look mighty fat to the man with the overall on who follows old Back up and down between tobacco rows.

As to the other salaries I have nothing to say, but I do say that these salaries should be arranged as much on a scale according to a poor man's ideas of economy as well as that of a rich man's ideas, because there are more poor men in the as-

Don't Push

The horse can draw the load without help, if you reduce friction to almost nothing by applying to the wheels. No other lubricant ever made wears so long and saves so much horse power. Next time try MICA AXLE GREASE.

Second—As to an accounting. The organization has been going on for three years and the members kept ignorant of its receipts and expenditures. At least that is true as to this county.

Even Joel B. Fort our leading speaker who has to defend the organization against the world did not know it. It is claimed that each county chairman had a statement of these matters—our county chairman stating that had one at his private residence.

Is every member in this county to go to his private residence begging like a dog for information that ought to be put into the hands of every district chairman and given by him to the members, or at least read out by the county secretary in each county in executive session. It is no more than right for the management to have the member's confidence than it is for them to take the members into their confidence—that is, if this organization is to be an organization of the people and for the people and by the people.

It is urged by some that our enemies would get hold of this report and break our heads with it. If this report should be what it ought to be, and what I believe it would be, there would be no stick in it for any one to break our heads.

Third—I am informed that rules have been adopted governing the management. They ought to be sufficiently circulated to enable the members to become acquainted with them.

Fourth—The discrimination spoken of has been corrected and I have nothing further to say on that.

Fifth—This question is not of such vital importance as each farmer can prize his own tobacco and not pay the increased price.

Sixth—In the absence of a report it cannot be stated whether there is more revenue collected than is necessary to economically defray the expenses of the organization or not. The 1 per cent commission cannot be justified by comparing it to the robberies of the tobacco trust or the methods of John D. Rockefeller. If it creates a fund larger than is necessary to meet the legitimate expenses of the organization it ought to be reduced, otherwise not. As to the cry of disruption, nobody but one who has a selfish purpose unduly excited or a fool would raise such a cry. There is no intimation here on the part of anyone of kicking out of the traces.

We are not the kicking out kind. On the contrary, this is as much our organization as anybody's organization. This structure was built by labors, sacrifices and devotion of the people and we don't propose to give up our rights of suggesting reforms lest there come a time when we might want our rights to exercise and could not get them. The organization is now firmly fixed and established. The dominions of the tobacco trust cannot be set up here again for ages. With what few faults we have, as I see them, if they were multiplied a thousand times it would then be a million times better than any tobacco trust.

These questions are of easy solution. If the members want any salaries reduced, they will instruct their representative to vote for a reduction. If they want an accounting, they will so instruct, and which ever way the majority goes every fair-minded man will cheerfully abide. Let the power remain with the people and not be centralized anywhere. I am against these high salaries and am trying the best I can to represent the interest of the man with brogan shoes, patches on his pants (I am one of them), the widow and orphan, the poor tenant, God Almighty and the barefooted boy, for some of these salaries come out of the pockets of the poor. In future I expect to have but little to say in the papers unless some fellow jumps on me in which case I will give him the best rough and tumble fight that I am able. I will now go out and saw some wood.

AT JAMESTOWN

The Exposition is Now Drawing Larger Crowds.

W. A. Wilgus, who is boosting his big trip through the east is in receipt of the following clipping in reference to the Jamestown exposition which was taken from the Baltimore American and sent him by General Passenger Agent C. B. Ryan of the Seaboard Air Line.

"It is gratifying to note that the attendance at the Jamestown Exposition is beginning to reach something like the daily numerical largeness which the historical importance and the display merits of the exhibition should attract.

"There was undoubtedly a widespread disposition following the opening date to await developments. The impression became somewhat general that the entertainment would be in more attractive shape at a later date. It is in more attractive shape and visitors from the north, south and west are traveling toward the exposition in continuously swelling tides. The Knights of Pythias from Ohio way poured through the gates at the beginning of this week, and the Knights of Columbus from a half a dozen states are to arrive today and tomorrow in numbers that are expected to aggregate nearly 30,000.

The reasonableness of that 400 acres of spacing begins to appear as the exposition crowds multiply. When 60,000 or 70,000 people are gathered they make some density of showing, even when distributed over a 400 acre area.

The exposition has got beyond the self conscious and somewhat nervous stage of the early days. It has acquired the easy-going swing of a smoothly running mechanism. There is much advantage in this to those who are there to see what can be seen and to know as much as they can absorb during the time at their disposal.

"The exposition is in a state of paretness. There never has been a time since the opening day when a visit would not be rewarded with varied and interesting entertainment. But those who have been standing off for the highest possible exposition values need not wait longer.

SINKING FORK ITEMS.

Where is Your Hair?

In your comb? Why so? Is not the head a much better place for it? Better keep what is left where it belongs! Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, quickly stops falling hair. There is not a particle of doubt about it. We speak very positively about this, for we know.

Does not change the color of the hair. Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

Indeed, the one great leading feature of our new Hair Vigor may well be said to be this—it stops falling hair. Then it goes one step further—it aids nature in restoring the hair and scalp to a healthy condition. Ask for "the new kind."

BULL DOG OFFICER

BILLY, CANINE DETECTIVE, ALWAYS ON DUTY.

Has Made Several Captures.—Tried Escaped Prisoner Up a Telephone Pole.

According to the pay rolls, the police department of this city numbers only nine men all told, but there is a tenth member of the force who, while he does not draw any salary, wears a uniform or swing a club, is none the less valuable in preserving the peace or more efficient in fulfilling his duty.

This tenth member is "Billy", a big four year old white bull dog which belongs to Patrolman W. T. Broderick, but who serves with any of the officers just as cheerfully as with his master. One thing about "Billy" is that he is on duty nearly all the time. When he gets sleepy he goes into the police office and takes a short nap and is soon out again. When he gets hungry he goes to any shop in the city and rolls over in the middle of the floor until the butcher's attention is attracted and he is rewarded with scraps enough to satisfy his appetite.

"Billy" is not just an ornament or pet, for he's made numerous captures of fleeing prisoners after it seemed they would surely outrun the policemen. Among those who have served sentences in the city prison, several charge their capture, and incidentally the loss of a considerable portion of the rear part of their trousers, to Billy's good work. Only a short time ago a negro thought he could get away by taking to his heels but Billy was put on the job and the fugitive was glad to seek safety up a telephone pole where Billy guarded him until one of the officers arrived.

It has reached such a point that when a negro starts to run it is no unusual thing for some of his companions to yell out, "You better stop; here comes dat bull dog."

When the Third Regiment Kentucky State guards, went to Jamestown recently, Co. D., of this city, took Billy along as their mascot, but as soon as camp was established he was honored with this position for the entire regiment and the several companies vied with each other as to which could show him the most attention. He was taken everywhere and his presence was an important factor in preserving the peace of the camp. One night a crowd of soldiers took him with them in a trip down the Warpath and one of the shows which they visited was called "Hell." In this show a man disguised as the devil would scare people by springing at them unexpectedly. He did this when Billy came in but he met a different reception, and as one of the soldiers expressed it, "If that devil has quit running yet, somebody stopped him."

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments. The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, cases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well to the system. For positive local help, use as well to the system.

OF TYPHOID FEVER

YOUNG LADY WHO WAS VISITING IN CITY IS DEAD.

Infant Passes Hwy at Julien—Prof. S. Grogge Dies at Russellville.

(From Saturday's Daily)

Miss Bessie White of Herrin, Ill., died yesterday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter East on O'Neal avenue, of typhoid fever after an illness of six weeks.

She was fifteen years of age and was visiting here when stricken with the disease. Miss White's family formerly resided in Hopkinsville and removed to Illinois two years ago. She was an orphan and made her home in Herrin with her grandfather and an aunt. Funeral services will be held at Mr. and Mrs. East's residence this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and the remains will be interred at Riverside cemetery.

Little One Taken.

The fifteen months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hord of Julien, died yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock. The interment will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Riverside cemetery.

PROF. FROGGE DEAD.

The Greenville Argus says:

Prof. F. S. L. Frogge, who was superintendent of public schools in Greenville, this county and was stricken with paralysis last December, died at his home near Russellville Sunday morning Aug. 4. He was about 57 years of age.

He leaves a widow and an adopted son. Prof. Frogge was well known throughout the state as a scholar and teacher, having conducted schools at Frankfort, Uniontown, Middlesboro and other points—for a number of years he was superintendent of schools of Christian county.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

Those who have stomach trouble, no matter how slight, should give every possible help to the digestive organs, so that the food may be digested with the least effort. This may be done by taking something that contains natural digestive properties—something like Kodol. For indigestion and dyspepsia, Kodol is a preparation of vegetable acids and contains the very same juices found in a healthy stomach. It digests what you eat. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

ESCAPED MURDERER

He was put off of a Pennsylvania train here in an intoxicated condition, and shortly after he was arrested.

He drew a revolver on James Jackson, a white barber of this place, which caused his arrest.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circulars free.

Runaway Accident.

A horse belonging to a man named Brown ran off on East Seventh street yesterday afternoon. The animal started somewhere east of the railroad and between Clay and Liberty streets ran into a telephone pole, wrecking the front part of the spring wagon to which he was hitched and tearing loose from the vehicle. The horse continued down Seventh as far as Virginia where the Southern Express company's wagon blocked the way and rather than run into it the animal stopped on his own accord. Mr. Brown was thrown out when the wagon struck the telephone pole but was not injured. The wagon had to be sent to a repair shop and the horse went off limping in one front leg.

Children in Pain.

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18.—In picturesque imagery the preacher in this sermon shows the significance of the testimony of Israel's great leader to Jesus as the Messiah. The text is Luke xvi, 31. "If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead."

The symbol of the graveyard is used by Jesus for his gospel teachings, just as many artists use skeletons for their models in great artistic masterpieces. The parable of Dives and Lazarus is nothing more or less than a great panorama, a collection of verbal pictures, showing the eternal tragedy of a misspent life.

Scene the First.—An eastern prince is in his palace. All that wealth and power and temporal grandeur can give is his. His clothes are of royal purple. His dining room is a banquet hall. His walls are of white marble. His floors are mosaics. His hallways and bedrooms are filled with statues and richest tapestries and beautiful artistic masterpieces. Upon his doorstep crouches a poor beggar, starving to death, malodorous and offensive from innumerable ulcers and abscesses which have broken out over his body on account of improper nourishment.

Scene the Second.—Two graves and the celestial advent of the beggar and the eternal incarceration of him who had once been king among men. The earthly pauper has been crowned. The earthly prince has been stripped of his all. Then Dives, down in the region of the lost, looks up and sees Lazarus, who had once sat at his doorstep a despised beggar, but now cherished and cared for by Abraham, the father of the faithful, and he cries out: "I pray thee, father, that thou wouldst send Lazarus to my father's house, for I have five brethren, that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment."

Then what happens? God seems to reach down and lift a skeleton out of its grave and clothe it again with flesh. He stands this resurrected dead man before us and points to him as he says: "If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead." The statement practically is that if a man is open to conviction he will be convinced by the writings of Moses and the prophets; if he is not convinced by them, nothing would convince him—not even the testimony of a specter. This is a startling assertion. Have we ever fully realized that those words are so convincing? What was there in the life and writings of that ancient lawgiver that makes them so influential?

The Rank of Moses.
Moses by the law of adoption took the rank of one who was well born. He was the adopted son of Pharaoh's daughter. He was the heir apparent of the greatest throne on earth. He had all that wealth and position and honor could give him. He was born great. He was reared in a golden cradle and fed out of a golden spoon and had servants innumerable to run his bidding. When he was carried forth in one of the royal chariots the people used to kneel and say, "There goes the child who will one day rule over us as king." In the sight of the law he was not a pauper, a slave or a Hebrew. He had been raised to royal rank. All that he had to do was to keep his lips closed, and he might live in affluence and inherit a throne. And yet this Egyptian prince, this adopted child of Pharaoh's daughter, was ready to surrender all of kingdom, wealth and position for the sake of a God. Now, every effect must have a logical cause. A man does not surrender a great prize of life just for a whim. There must have been some great impelling force in Moses' life to have led him to serve God and espouse the cause of the Hebrew slave.

We have read of men and women surrendering their faith for an earthly throne, but did you ever know of a man surrendering an earthly throne for his religion unless he deeply and conscientiously believed in that religion? When a German princess a few years ago married Emperor Nicholas and became Empress Alix of all the Russias, she renounced the Lutheran church and joined the Greek church, of which her husband is the spiritual head. When the English Princess Ena of Battenberg became Queen Victoria of Spain, she left the Episcopal church, in which she had been confirmed and baptized, and joined the Catholic church, which is the established church of her adopted country. These two princesses changed their religious creed in order to win a royal diadem. But what would you say if the present Prince of Wales should join the Roman Catholic church? What would you say if he should turn from the Episcopal church and give his religious fealty to the pope of Rome as did Cardinal John Henry Newman? If he did this, he would be that act surrender all his rights to the British throne. The British people will not have a Roman Catholic for their king. When they got rid of James II, the last king of that religion, they made a perpetual stipulation that none but Protestants should sit on the British throne. The prince knows that the price he would have to pay for joining the Roman Catholic church would be the loss of his throne. If he concluded to join that church in spite of that penalty, you would say that man must be sincere. No man lightly renounces a throne. And yet this is just what Moses did. He was the son of Pharaoh's daughter. He had, in the sight of the law, the right of succession, as if he had really royal blood in his veins. The Egyptian throne was his if he simply kept still and said nothing. And yet here was a prince, here was a young man born great—one to whom every selfish purpose of the heart said, "Be still; do not ruin your chances of an earthly throne." Declaring, "Nay, I will worship the true God and will be faithful to my enslaved people." A man who could come to such a decision, who actually renounced a throne that he might obey the dictates of his conscience, was a man whose words are entitled to weight. If a man would not listen to him, would not be convinced by him, he would not be convinced by any one, not even by a spirit.

A Prince in Intellect.
But Moses was not only a man of high station; he was a prince in intellect as well as a royal prince. He had one of the greatest intellects the world has ever produced. But more than that, he had one of the greatest opportunities for developing that intellect. The best Egyptian teachers were his. The greatest knowledge of the then known world was concentrated in Egypt. And Moses was educated in the most famous schools of that land. Who can fully estimate the knowledge of those ancient Egyptians? Some time ago I saw one of the most dramatic pictures ever published in a newspaper. Its title was "The Body of an Ancient Pharaoh Under the Electric Light." There in his sarcophagus lay the mummy of Amenophis II., who reigned in Egypt in 1500 B. C., about fifty years before Moses was born. The face of the ancient ruler was just as perfect as on the day when the embalmer laid him away for his last sleep. Right over his forehead in the picture was a modern electric light, shining full upon the face of the ancient king. There in the background of the picture was a band of tourists looking down upon the quiet sleeper. As I looked at that picture that electric light seemed to be saying to the old king: "Awake, Amenophis! Wake up! Look about and see how much the twentieth century has accomplished." Then in imagination I saw the old mummy open his eyes and look around. He seemed out of place, as did old Rip Van Winkle when he came down from the mountains after his long sleep. Then in imagination I saw one of the tourists as a guide take the hand of the old king and lead him about Cairo. He pointed to the wonder and that wonder of the twentieth century. Then I fancied I heard the aged ruler say: "You, you have marvelous wonders here, but I want to tell you that my people were a race of giants. Where is old Egypt? Where is old Egypt, of which these pyramids and monuments are mere remains of her former grandeur? What old Egypt has forgotten almost as much as the twentieth century has ever developed. Egypt was a storehouse of arts which today are lost forever." Was it only a dream? Was not the Egypt of ancient Amenophis the home of erudition and knowledge?

If the ancient Egyptians were not erudite, how can you account for the great pyramid of Cheops, which was without any doubt built as an astronomical observatory? So great are the massive stones of this pyramid that to this day scientists are unable to understand how they were lifted into place. How can you account for the vast canal and irrigation system of Egypt, thousands of years old, yet a system from which modern irrigators can well learn their lessons at the present time?

Egyptians Not Ignorant.
The Egyptians were not an ignorant people. It is a very grave question whether they did not know as much in their time as we know in ours. They had their written forms for the conveying of knowledge just as we have now. A. H. Sayce, one of the most famous modern Egyptian archaeologists, tells us in his wonderful book, entitled "Monument Facts and Higher Critical Fancies," that "the Babylonians of the age of Abraham was a more highly educated country than the England of George III." Then he goes on to show that Egyptian literature dates back to the time of King Menes, in 5702 B. C., or over 4,000 years before Moses was born. He goes further and shows that no Egyptian in the third and fourth period was looked upon as a gentleman unless he knew how to read. The business men, the farmers, the overseers, as well as the priests and scribes, were conversant with Egyptian literature. "So universal was knowledge among the ancient Egyptians of Moses' time that they did not believe there was immortality for any Egyptian unless he, as a resurrected spirit, could read the sentences which were carved upon his own tomb." Thus it is not only Moses as a prince who is testifying to us today about the ways of God; it is Moses the sage as well; it is Moses who had studied all the philosophies of his day; it is Moses the erudite scholar, with the vast libraries of his time by his side, who comes to testify to us of Christ. Do not the words of my text have a deeper significance when you realize the transcendent intellectuality of this Egyptian prince than when you simply look upon him as the adopted son of Pharaoh's daughter and the heir apparent of the Egyptian throne? By character and by attainments he is entitled to our attention. "And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the more these miracles sink into insignificance before one tremendous fact of Moses' life. That fact is greater than Moses crossing the Red sea. It is greater than Moses and the Ten Commandments. It is the fact that Moses could have led 3,000,000 Israelites out into the wilderness and supported them there for nearly forty years, where there was not a grain of grass growing and practically not one drop of water. How did he do it? That fact is the greatest miracle of all the Bible. Believe that and you can believe the miraculous conception of Jesus Christ and the resurrection of Easter day and the ascension from Mount Olivet. Aye, you can believe anything written in the Bible. I care not where you may find it.

His Creative Brain.
But Moses' brain was not simply receptive. It had a creative as well as a receptive intellect. He could give as well as take in. You know that there are certain intellectual men who seem to lack the creative faculty. They learn as pawns learn. When they take a book they can read it through and repeat the pages a most perfect imitator. They can imitate their masters so that you can hardly ask them a question which they cannot answer. They are like some of the honor students of our college days who always stood at the head of their classes, yet when they entered life's struggle they were subject failures because they never could create any new ideas of their own. Like sheep, they may be led, but unlike the shepherds, they cannot hunt up new pastures, and when lost they have not intelligence enough to pioneer their way into a safe fold.

Now, Moses had a creative as well as an absorbing intellect. As we study this gigantic genius we know not which to admire the most—the power by which he absorbs knowledge or the power by which he creates new knowledge. Study him any way you will and you cannot but be amazed. Study him with reference to his hygienic laws. We have gone on in our investigations in dietary developments. We have our vegetarian theories and our "two meals a day" theories and our hot water theories and all that. Yet today it is admitted by hygienic authorities that no dietary system has yet been devised which can give more assurance of longer or healthier life than that system which Moses promulgated in his hygienic laws for the Hebrew people nearly 4,000 years ago. Study his land laws, under which the people every seven years received back the titles to their old homesteads. Do you not believe that Moses' way was better than our way, where a few men can gobble up all our coal lands and copper lands and timber lands and farm lands and then say to the rest of the people, "Now starve, for we are to be the land kings forever." Take the protection which he gave to the people in the right of trial by establishing the ten cities of refuge. Take all those marvelous precautions for protecting human life which he made, including even the building of battlements or balustrades about the roof of the house so that a guest might not fall off and kill himself. And then, most wonderful of all, in those times of theft and debauchery and licentiousness, study those marvelous Ten Commandments which he gave to the people from Mount Sinai. My friend, if the Lord God Almighty did not write those Ten Commandments for Moses, then Moses himself was the greatest of the world's legislators.

Moses as Miracle Worker.
But Moses was a direct creator of laws. He was a direct miracle worker as well. He was such a worker of miracles that if we do not accept those miracles as emanating from him then we should be compelled to regard him as a fabulous character. But he was a miracle worker as Christ was a miracle worker. "Oh," I hear some man say, "I believe in Jesus, but not in his miracles." Why, say friends, I have no love for Jesus unless you believe in his miracles, for Christ continually appealed to his miracles as the credentials of his teaching. And so Moses, through the power of God which was given to him, founded his life work upon miracles.

Now, study Moses for a little while down in Egypt. Here are the Egyptians, the greatest, the most warlike people upon the face of the earth at that period. What the Grecian conquerors were in the Alexandrian era, and the Roman conquerors in the times of Julius and Augustus Caesar, Egypt was in the time of Moses. Pharaoh had the mightiest warriors, the greatest number of chariots and a body of cavalry of which the world has not produced a superior. This kingdom had its great river bordered with splendid cities and the finest wheat lands of the world. Now, in contrast to these great warriors and intellectual giants, there was a collection of Hebrews. These Hebrews were slaves, deprived of all books. They could not learn the science of arms. They were brutally abused. They were killed off every year by the hardest kind of manual labor. As a people they were more cowed and downtrodden than the black slave ever was. Now, who liberated these men? Who was the Spartan who rallied the Hebrew people about him? There was no Spartacus, because there were no Hebrew slaves who in the slightest respect knew the science of war. These Hebrew slaves were liberated—that is true—but how? By one man walking into the king's palace and defying the king with one little wand. But behind that wand was the omnipotent God. That one man, by the power of that one stick, made the mightiest nation on earth bow its knee and beg for mercy. Oh, you say, I deny that was ever done. Then, my friend, as a student of history you have to deny the facts which we find recorded upon the tombs and the monuments of the dead Pharaoh. How are you going to get around this testimony of the miracle worker Moses in reference to his life?

But I am not done with this miracle worker Moses. I used to think that the most marvelous facts recorded in the Bible were those plagues of Egypt. When as an imaginative boy I read them I could feel in horror the locusts crawling over me and the frogs jumping at me and the grasshoppers or the locusts buzzing about me, and I could taste the blood of the river Nile, and I could feel the awful darkness pressing down upon me. But the older I grow the more these miracles sink into insignificance before one tremendous fact of Moses' life. That fact is greater than Moses crossing the Red sea. It is greater than Moses and the Ten Commandments. It is the fact that Moses could have led 3,000,000 Israelites out into the wilderness and supported them there for nearly forty years, where there was not a grain of grass growing and practically not one drop of water. How did he do it? That fact is the greatest miracle of all the Bible. Believe that and you can believe the miraculous conception of Jesus Christ and the resurrection of Easter day and the ascension from Mount Olivet. Aye, you can believe anything written in the Bible. I care not where you may find it.

The Wilderness Was Barren.
The wilderness of the Old Testament is a wilderness of rock and sand. That region lies to the northeast of Mount Sinai. That region is the driest region in all the east outside of the Sahara desert. There is no living creature there except the venomous serpent. You may have seen the horrible picture called "Death Valley and Its Harvest." There in the valley where so many miners have met their death is a poor, starving, thirsty, dying prospector. In his delirium he sees mountains and brooks and bubbling springs. But sand, endless sand, only is around him. So is the desert where Moses led the children of Israel and kept them there for nearly forty years. It is a wilderness of rock and desolation. How did he feed these 3,000,000 men and women and children? How did he give them drink where no river was flowing? Tell me, ye scoffers of the Bible, how did this Hebrew leader do it unless he did it by the power of God? Why, the miracle of a dead man rising up out of his grave and testifying to you of the divinity of Jesus Christ is not to be compared to this miracle worker in the desert of the forty years' wandering. If ye will not believe Moses and the prophets, neither will ye believe though one rose from the dead. Hear it, man! By Moses' testimony hear it!

Then we have Moses the prophet as well as Moses the miracle worker. I wish I had more time to speak upon this theme, but my time is already gone, and I must be brief. But I will say this—Moses was not only a prophet whom the Lord saw face to face, but he was also a prophet who could lift his finger and raise the curtain which separated the present from the future and look away down into the coming centuries until he saw into the manger of Bethlehem and saw the cross and saw Jesus' celestial triumph. You have often read how Christ spoke of Moses. Did you ever stop to think that Moses in inspiration saw the incarnated face of Jesus Christ? Moses not a Messianic prophet? He has come for that wonderful sentence of Deuteronomy xviii, 15, "The Lord will raise up unto thee a prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken." To whom was Moses alluding but to Christ? "Was Moses a prophet?" I asked a great Bible student. "A prophet?" he exclaimed. "Why, Moses was nothing if he was not a prophet. He saw the coming of the Messiah if any one ever did." Yes, this miracle worker is a prophet as well. What will you do today in reference to his testimony? Will you reject it, or will you let Moses' God be your God?

But I must pause a moment before I close. I now present to you the most overwhelming fact of all this sermon. Some of us have not only rejected the testimony of Moses, but we have rejected the testimony of one who has risen from the grave as well. Did you ever stop to think this text may be a two edged sword which cuts both ways? The thing Dives asked for has been done. A greater than Lazarus has risen from the dead; but, as he said, men are not convinced. We have not only rejected the testimony of a Moses in reference to God's love, but we have also rejected all the testimony we have of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Can it be that any one here today is committing that awful double sin? Let me close by reading the text with a little change. "And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, even though Christ, who shall be crucified and buried, shall rise again from the dead." Brother, is that doubter of God's love here? Is he in this building today? Is Jesus of the parable speaking to thee?

Couldn't "Soak" This Yankee.
"Deliver me from buying anything in Paris," said a Pittsburg young woman to a number of friends who had assembled to welcome her home from abroad. The above remark was brought out when one of the party asked if she had bought many articles while in the City of Light. "No, indeed," continued the young woman. "Paris has two prices, one for Parisians and another for Americans. I thought it would be a great treat to 'do' the stores over there, and I must say that Americans receive courteous treatment from tradesmen, but there is a method behind it. Most of the stores have what we call 'spotters,' they spot Americans when they come in, then follow them about the store, whispering to each saleswoman at the table where they stop that they are Americans and to increase prices. In one store an effeminate little chap with baggy trousers followed me about and told the saleswomen in choice tablecloth language, loud enough for me to hear, that I was an American and used an expression each time which was the equivalent of the Pittsburg vernacular of 'soak' her. At last I became tired of his actions and told him in good French that I refused to be 'soaked.' Say, girls, I wish you could have seen his expression. Really, I thought his blood had congealed."

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish form after marriage. The beauty of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

Gaines Calls On Citizens To Help Put Down Lawlessness in Dark District.

Hon. John Wesley Gaines writes
as follows:
The Dark Tobacco Planters' Protective association was organized in September, 1904. Compare, if you please, prices of leaf tobacco, Clarksville market, as printed in the Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle, Dec. 12, 1903, and Aug. 17, 1907, which I here reproduce, as follows:

1903.	1907.
Dec. 12, 1903. Aug. 17, 1907.
Low lugs... $3.00@3.50	$ 6.50@ 6.75
Com lugs... 3.50@4.00	7.00@ 7.50
Med lugs... 4.00@4.50	7.75@ 8.25
Good lugs... 4.50@5.25	8.50@ 9.25
Low leaf... 4.50@5.25	9.25@ 9.75
Com leaf... 5.25@5.75	10.00@10.75
Med leaf... 6.00@6.75	11.00@12.00
Good leaf... 7.00@8.00	13.00@14.50
Fine leaf...	15.00@17.00
Choice selection...	18.00@20.00

I do not hear of the tobacco buyers saying they are not making a "good living" buying this tobacco at from $6.55 to $20. I wonder what kind of living they made in 1903, when they bought it at from $3 to $8? About three years ago it cost 6 cents to raise tobacco. What kind of a living did the growers make in 1903, selling their leaf at from $3 to $8?

Can any just man condemn the growers for banding together to demand living prices for their leaf?

Duke, in 1890, began to crush or buy out all competitors in the United States. This about done, he went to England in 1902 and gobbled up the Imperial company, that competed with him there and in the United States. He formed (1902) the British-American Tobacco company, known as the tobacco trust. Duke was born and reared in North Carolina, and began business there. Look at the table below given and see how prices fell in Winston, N. C., as soon as Duke began his combine in 1890, practically completed in 1902. This table and comment is found in the report of the Industrial commission, 1900, and covers leaf tobacco sold in Winston for the period named. Here it is:

SALES OF LEAF TOBACCO, WINSTON, N. C.
Year.	Pounds.	Value.	per 100 lbs.
Average
1887-88	8,669,470	$ 966,739.36	11.11
1889-90	12,147,045	1,169,374.08	9.62
1890-91	11,198,043	1,387,904.60	12.39
1891-92	15,080,573	1,912,690.97	11.89
1892-93	15,865,133	1,443,727.97	9.10
1893-94	13,841,235	1,227,415.10	8.66
1894-95	15,108,939	965,101.37	6.32
1895-96	13,110,050	930,124.77	7.09
1896-97	15,234,855	1,011,561.92	6.64
1897-98	14,081,912	888,177.98	6.32

(From North Carolina Labor

"It is to be noted that though the quantity has been kept pretty constant, the total and the average value has tended to decline. Within the period considered the average price fell from $11.11 per 100 to $6.32 per 100, or 43 per cent. This, too, in one of the best manufacturing markets in the country.

Leading tobacco growers of North Carolina testified before this commission that this tobacco trust had depressed and controlled the prices of their product.

Coming back close to home, let me say, neither the Night-Riders nor the tobacco trust should be permitted to destroy the Dark Tobacco Growers association. It was conceived in righteousness. It was formed and is upheld to protect home, in all that word means, against the rapacity of the tobacco trust. Let the Night-Riders, wherever they are, whether in or out of the association, be identified by the grand jury and otherwise, if possible. Let the guilty be convicted and punished. Let the association be maintained in its strength and vigor. Let every member thereof and every citizen in the dark district help to put down this lawlessness, thereby doing his full duty in restoring order and peace throughout the dark district.

JOHN W. GAINES.

Over $50,000,000 Spent Last Year
For Tobacco and Three Times
Much for Drinks.

An official report just given out from the internal revenue bureau at Washington for the fiscal year ending June 30, shows that much work yet remains in this country for prohibition laws, reform waves, temperance crusades and anti-smoking and chewing clubs.

The report discloses that there were millions of gallons more whiskey and beer consumed, more than half of a billion or more cigars used, nearly a billion and a third more cigarettes and thousands of pounds more of snuff consumed than in the previous fiscal year.

Worse than all else there were used many millions of pounds more oleomargarine, cheese, adulterated butter and such.

All this is shown by the statement of the internal revenue bureau as to the receipts of that bureau for the fiscal year that closed June 30. The total receipts from all sources for that year were $269,664,022.55 as compared with $249,102,738 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

From the different sources the receipts were as follows: Spirits, $156,386,901.89, compared with $143,394,065.12 for the previous year; tobacco, $52,811,069.69, against $48,422,99.38; fermented liquors, $59,567,818.18, compared with $55,641,858.56; oleomargarine, $887,641.81; compared with $580,087.39; adulterated butter, $12,743.60, last year $9,258.43; renovated butter, $161,795.79, last year $138,078.09; miscellaneous, $886,052.39, last year $925,452.49.

Matter of Rewards.

The Nashville American says: W. D. Scruggs, secretary to Gov. Patterson, received a communication from Edw. O. Leigh, secretary to Gov. Beckham, of Kentucky, in which the latter stated that Gov. Beckham was absent from Frankfort for some time, but that the matter of putting an end to the depredations in the dark tobacco district would be left before him upon his return.

This communication was in reply to a lengthy letter addressed to the governor of Kentucky by Gov. Patterson a few days ago in which he laid before Gov. Beckham various depredations which have been committed in Montgomery and Robertson counties, and asked that the state of Kentucky co-operate with Tennessee in order to cope with the situation and quiet the disturbances in the dark tobacco belt.

Twenty-two Lunatics.

Twenty-two colored lunatics, ten from Lakeland and twelve from Lexington, were transferred last night to the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane. They arrived on the L. & N. accommodation in a special car. A number of guards were with them. Conveyances from the asylum met the train, and the lunatics were taken out to the institution at once. One negro objected to the trip and violently struck two guards in the face before he could be subdued.

ANSWERS SUMMONS

HENRY L. HOLMES GOES TO HIS REWARD

He Was a Federal Veteran, a Mason and a Member of the Methodist Church.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Henry L. Holmes, a highly respected citizen and a Federal veteran, died a few minutes after one o'clock this morning at his home on Jesup avenue. He had been an invalid for several months and death was due to a chronic throat trouble. The deceased formerly conducted a bicycle and repair shop on Seventh street. He was a member of the Methodist church, and was a Mason. He is survived by his widow and by several grown children of a former marriage who reside in the west. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Methodist church, conducted by the Rev. A. P. Lyon, and the remains will be interred in Riverside cemetery.

A REIGN OF TERROR. (Nashville Tennessean.)

Governor Patterson's action in offering liberal rewards for the arrest and conviction of Night Riders, and his threat that he will go further if necessary to stop their depredations, must meet with hearty approval.

The brutalities committed by these organized outlaws, have terrorized one of the most prosperous communities in the south. Their acts are brutal and cowardly in the extreme, crops and buildings are destroyed, law-abiding citizens are dragged from their homes and cruelly beaten and at the present gait the people of the black patch may well wonder if their fair land is not to become a howling wilderness.

One thing alone will put a prompt and effective stop to night riding, and that is when public opinion is thoroughly aroused against it. Then the law officers of the counties will be able to make arrests with some hope of conviction. And the press of the black patch region can arouse public sentiment to a point where night riding will become a most unhealthful occupation. In this connection we are glad to call attention to the vigorous editorial utterances recently printed in the Clarksville Leaf Chronicle and the Kentucky New Era condemning the acts of night riders.

Night riding looks to us to be nothing more than organized arson and destruction of property. Gov. Patterson's vigorous effort to break it up is highly commendable and we hope will give courage to the press, officers and people of the afflicted region.
