STANLEY'S SPEECH

Refused the Mails as Supplement to Newspapers.

(From Thursday's Daily)
Postmaster Breathitt Wednesday refused to permit the Kentuckian, containing a four-page supplement giving in full Hon. A. O. Stanley's speech, which was delivered here on August 31st, to go through the mails at the postpaid rate, on the grounds that the supplement did not conform to the regulations as laid down by the postoffice department. The same refusal was made to the Independent, and they got their papers through by paying postage at third-class rates. They will appeal the matter to the postoffice department and expect to recover the excess which they paid, basing this hope on the government's will deciding the supplement is legitimate and entitled to the use of the mails at the postpaid rate.

The Kentuckian took the supplements out of their paper Wednesday night after the mail had been sent to the postoffice. The same supplements had been sent to the New Era, and, although the complete outline of the speech as furnished by Mr. Stanley, was printed last week in both the Daily and Weekly, it was intended to send out the complete speech to our subscribers.

DATE CHANGED

The Eagles carnival which was scheduled for the week of September 23, has been postponed for one week and will begin on September 30, this change having been effected yesterday by Col. Sam H. Joseph, the representative of the noted Robinson Amusement company.

HAD SECOND FIRE

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 12.—Fire which broke out late yesterday afternoon, for a second time endangered the plants of the Courier Journal and Times, and threatened to destroy that portion of the Courier Journal office building left intact after the disastrous fire of ten days ago. The flames were brought under control with a loss of $25,000.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS WISH TO PRESERVE
HOUSE IN WHICH JEFFERSON DAVIS WAS BORN.

BIRTHPLACE OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.

(From Wednesday's Daily)
Letters have been received in the city from prominent Confederate veterans requesting information concerning the birthplace of Jefferson Davis at Fairview with a view to its preservation.

The Courier-Journal announces that at the re-union of the Orphan Brigade at Glasgow tomorrow, General Simon Bolivar Buckner will move that steps be taken to preserve the Jefferson Davis house in which the first and only president of the Confederate States was born.

The old Davis home, a double log cabin, was exhibited at the Tennessee Centennial Exposition by the Rev. J. W. Bingham, a Methodist minister who is now living in Florida. Its present whereabouts are not known here.

A handsome edifice of worship known as the Bethel Baptist church marks the spot where Jefferson Davis first saw the light on June 3, 1808. The farm at that time lay wholly in Christian county. After the Davises moved away the old place changed hands several times and was finally sold to Capt. Lewis Clark of Clarksville, Tenn., and several other men who were followers of the Lost Cause. They in turn presented it to Mr. Davis who deeded the property to the Bethel Baptist church, one of the oldest religious organizations in Kentucky.

The log cabin was moved to another site and a church was erected exactly on the spot where it stood. It was dedicated Nov. 21, 1896, in the presence of Mr. Davis, then 78 years old, and hundreds of people from all parts of the country. A slab of Tennessee marble announces a gift of the site to the church by Mr. Davis as "A Thank Offering to the Lord." Mr. Davis also presented the church with a beautiful silver communion service which is still in use. It was tendered recollections of his old Kentucky home at Fairview which inspired Mr. Davis to give the corresponding French name "Beauvoir," to the retreat of his old age.

ON SUBSCRIPTIONS

VOTES ARE ISSUED IN THE CHILDREN'S CONTEST

Beautiful Pony and Buggy and Gold Watches For Those Who Will Secure Ballots.

All through Christian and adjacent counties the uppermost topic of conversation among all classes is the Kentucky New Era's great children's popularity contest in which the prizes will be eleven gold watches and a Shetland pony, buggy and harness complete, the pony outfit alone being worth every penny of $250. This contest is open only to children under sixteen years of age, but when the little ones are interested they soon get the older ones wrought up and this is the case now. This contest only started last Tuesday but already quite a large number of votes have been cast and the full count will appear next week in the New Era.

The city and county are divided into districts, there being three in Hopkinsville, seven in the county outside of Hopkinsville and one outside of the county. (See list with boundaries on another page.) In each of these districts a gold watch will be given to the child who gets the highest number of votes. Then to the one who gets the highest number of votes, no matter what district may be, will be awarded the handsome Shetland pony and outfit. Of course, only one child can get the pony and outfit, but the eleven gold watches which are offered in addition to the capital prize, will be well worth the striving for.

This is strictly a subscription contest and no votes will be issued except upon payments on subscription to either the Daily or Weekly New Era. Payments on back subscription count just as much as if paid in advance, 100 votes being given for every dollar paid. The conditions are very simple and easily understood. The buggy is now being manufactured according to special plans and specifications by West & Lee, of this city, and the harness will be made especially for the pony by the harness department of the Forbes Manufacturing company.

Children in the country have an equal showing to win this pony outfit as do those living in town, and they would thoroughly appreciate the outfit. All who are interested are invited to communicate with this office at once, as many have already done, and have their names entered now so that it may appear in next week's paper.

TAKE NUPTIAL VOWS

(From Thursday's Daily.)

In the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, Miss Anna Woodridge and Mr. Herbert L. Haydon assumed the sacred vows of matrimony Wednesday evening. The wedding was the happy consummation of an ideal courtship.

The ceremony took place at 6 o'clock at residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Willie Woodridge, on Jesup avenue, and was impressively performed by the Rev. Edward H. Bull, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The bride is an unusually handsome and attractive young lady, and not long ago was awarded a beautiful diamond ring in a large popularity contest conducted by a carnival company. The fortunate bridegroom is a highly esteemed and successful young merchant being a partner in the produce firm of Wiley & Haydon. He is past chancellor of Evergreen lodge, Knights of Pythias, and a member of the Elks lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Haydon will board with the Mr. Luther Haydon, the bridegroom's father on East Ninth street.

MEETING OF D. A. R.

The September meeting of the Col. John Green Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held at Hotel Latham, with a large attendance.

The chapter decided by unanimous vote to inaugurate a movement looking to the erection of a memorial tablet in Hopkinsville in honor of the brave pioneers who went from this immediate region to the Revolutionary war. The names of these men and their history are being collected by the daughters.

The chapter also determined to offer a gold medal appropriately inscribed to the student in the public schools who writes the best patriotic essay. Details of this contest will be announced later.

Mrs. John R. Green, of this city, was elected delegate to the state convention, D. A. R., which meets in Louisville next month, and Mrs. J. H. Henry and Mrs. Ashby Edmunds, of this city, and Mrs. Herschel Porter, of Louisville, a member of the local chapter, were elected alternates. The Christian county chapter is in a very flourishing condition.

Twin Cantaloupes.

A. W. Hord who lives five miles east of the city, brought to the New Era Monday a genuine freak cantaloupe. In fact it is really two cantaloupes which have grown together much like the Siamese twins. Mr. Hord says that the double formation is undoubtedly the result of a double bloom and that is the first time in all his history of cantaloupe raising that he ever saw or heard of such an occurrence. Even the stem shows plainly that it is two stems grown together. The two melons are of average size and are perfectly shaped and well ripened, and give forth as delightful and order as any single cantaloupe. The melons are only attached to each other at the ends bearing the stem and the growth which holds them together extends about two inches.

WORK ON THE BRIDGE

The work of tearing away the North Main street bridge will probably be begun tomorrow, the Meacham Engineering company, who were awarded the contract for the concrete and stone work for the new bridge, being hard at work today hauling their tools and material to the scene. After today the bridge will be closed to the public and persons wishing to either go or to return from that portion of North Main street on the other side of the river will have to traverse Elm street which has been opened along the river and connects North Main and Elm streets.

The work on the West Seventh street bridge is progressing nicely and already the great good which it will do is apparent.

AN AERIAL NAVIGATOR.

YOUNG INVENTOR WILL FLY
THROUGH THE AIR.

IS NOW HEADED FOR KENTUCKY

State Fair Management Announces
His Appearance in Passenger-Carrying Ship.

The problem of aerial navigation has at last been solved. The inventor to attain this desired end is Captain Roy Knabenshue, of Toledo, O., the first American to make a successful flight in an airship. This first flight was made during the World's Fair at St. Louis in October, 1904, when Knabenshue was only in his twenties. He is yet a very young man, but he has talents that he has successfully applied. During the past winter, he has spent his entire time in perfecting a piece of craft to fly the clouds which will carry passengers.

Fortunately for those who will attend the Kentucky State Fair to be held at Louisville, September 16th to 21st, the services of Captain Knabenshue and his passenger-carrying airship have been secured for daily flights during this great exhibition week at the metropolis of Kentucky. The State Board of Agriculture, under whose auspices the fair is to be given, closed a contract with Captain Knabenshue several weeks ago, stipulating therein that his visit to the Kentucky State Fair was to be his only personal appearance in his passenger-carrying airship either in Kentucky or in Southern Indiana.

The big airship will be displayed in an aerodrome when not in operation, permitting visitors at the fair to make a close inspection of it, who will also have an opportunity of taking a ride through the air with Captain Knabenshue if they desire.

Captain Knabenshue is guarding very firmly the secret of the mechanism that enables him to carry passengers into the air, but he has permitted us to give a brief description of his marvelous invention. The elongated gas bag has a capacity of 20,000 cubic feet of hydrogen gas, giving a lifting power of 1,800 pounds. The envelope is 120 feet in length and about 35 feet in diameter. Two mammoth aeroplanes, which serve to resist the wind pressure and propel the vessel, are built on either side. Two delicately constructed engines of twenty horse power each furnish the drawing power, enabling the craft to sail through the uncharted skies at a speed of sixty miles per hour. This speed is attained only in a calm, while in a moderate wind the velocity is reduced to about forty-five miles an hour. With his new airship, Captain Knabenshue is able to sail under any weather conditions.

Resembling very closely the modern coach of a street railway, the carrying car is ninety feet long with cushion seats provided for the passengers. The operator sits at the bow of the vessel and guides it in its journey. Captain Knabenshue has built the propeller and rudder along entirely different lines than heretofore, and the vessel, taken as a whole, but faintly resembles the smaller crafts which heretofore have been shown in this country.

The engagement of Captain Knabenshue and his passenger-carrying airship at the State Fair is for a flight daily for six days, and one or more flights at night, when the world's greatest aerial navigator will use an immense searchlight to guide his passengers.

CAPTIVE BALLOON ADDED.

Visitors to the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville, during the week of September 16th, who are not willing to risk their lives in Captain Knabenshue's passenger-carrying airship or in the balloon races, may satisfy their desire to see "how it feels to be in the air" by going up in a captive balloon, which is to be one of the attractions. This balloon, as its name indicates, is firmly tied to the earth, and by means of a winch it is allowed to rise in the air to a height of 600 feet. It will carry passengers every ten minutes.

GREAT TOBACCO DISPLAY.

Largest Amount of Money Ever Offered to Be Given at Kentucky State Fair.

The State Board of Agriculture, under whose auspices the Kentucky State Fair is to be held at Louisville, September 16th to 21st, has appropriated $475 to be given in premiums on tobacco during fair week, and this has been supplemented by the Louisville Board of Trade with an appropriation of $250. This amount of money should bring together the finest lot of samples ever shown. The premiums offered by the Board of Trade are as follows:

Burley Types.
Best sample representing burley of not less than 800 pounds net. Bright Burley Leaf Tobacco. $75
For the best sample representing burley of not less than 800 pounds net. of Red Burley Leaf Tobacco. $50

Dark Types.
Best sample representing burley of not less than 1,200 pounds net. of Fire Cured Leaf Tobacco. $75
Best sample representing burley of not less than 1,000 pounds net. of Unfilled Leaf Tobacco. $50 Best sample competing for those awards sealed by the Louisville Board of Trade. Inspection, no final award.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF
AND SPEEDY CURE

"My baby was about nine months old when she had rash on her face and feet. Her feet seemed to irritate her most especially. They would cause her to be broken of her rest, and sometimes she would cry until she was tired out. I had always used Cuticura Soap myself, and had heard of so many cures by the Cuticura Remedies that I thought I would give them a trial. The improvement was noticeable in a few hours, and before I had used one box of the Cuticura Ointment her feet were well and have never troubled her since. I also used it to remove what is known as 'cradle cap' from her head, and it worked like a charm as it cleansed and healed the scalp at the same time. Now I keep Cuticura Ointment on hand in case of any little rash or insect bites, as it takes out the inflammation at once. Perhaps this may be the means of helping other suffering babies. TAXATION AND
REFORM IN OREGON

The legislature of the state of Oregon has been working out taxation problems during its last session. In line with other progressive states, an amendment to the Oregon constitution is proposed. The citizens interested in tax reform want an amendment giving the legislature the broad power of classifying the subject of taxation and deciding what will be taxed for state and what for local purposes.

Oregon has had a taxation commission at work for some time. From its report, recently submitted, the conclusion reached there is that the general property tax is not working well and that it ought to be abolished in part at least. It is suggested that it would be well to have separate sources of revenue for state and for local government, and the only way to attain this is by amending the constitution.

IMPROVING TAX LAWS.

Taxation is the subject of investigation and discussion in many states and three reports have been made by special commissions which give an interesting indication of the present trend of expert opinion.

New York's commission recommends the abolition of the tax on personal property and the imposition of a progressive tax on inheritances. The California commission is also opposed to taxing personal property, but asserts that if it is to be taxed the revenue should go to the counties exclusively with the revenue from the tax on realty. It is further recommended that all corporations and franchise taxes be reserved to the state.

The report of the Massachusetts commission proposes the taxation of direct as well as collateral inheritances, of billboards and of stock transfers, the retention of all franchise exactions by the state, and a graded tax on automobiles. It is asserted that with these additional levies, the Bay State could readily enough abolish the tax on realty as well as on personal property, except for municipal purposes.

Here in Rhode Island the system of taxation is inadequate and inequitable, but no effort toward a betterment has been or is likely to be made as long as the country towns are in the ascendant.—Providence News-Democrat.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson XI.—Third Quarter, For
Sept. 15, 1907.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Deut. vi, 1-15.
Memory Verses, 4-7—Golden Text, Deut. vi, 12—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1907, by American Press Association.]
It was in the eleventh month of the fortieth year after they left Egypt (1-3) that Moses rehearsed to Israel all the Lord's dealings with them and urged them to wholehearted obedience. The Lord might bless them to the full and so magnify Himself in them before all nations that they, too, might learn to know Him and be blessed by Him. All through their history they were continually reminded that God had never dealt so with any nation (Deut. iv, 7, 8; II Sam. vii, 23, 24; Ps. cxxvii, 20; Isa. lxiii, 11-14), but it was to so reveal Himself in and through them that others might be blessed. The word to Abram in Gen. xii, 2, stands all through their story and ours: "I will bless thee, and thou shalt be a blessing."

Anything like a selfish or self-centered life is wholly contrary to God's plan. "He died for all that they who live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him who died for them and rose again" (II Cor. v, 15). Then there is this great fact so often overlooked—God always does for us before He asks us to do aught for Him. No commands were given to Israel until He brought them out of Egypt; then all commands were based upon that (Ex. xx, 2; Deut. v, 6; Ps. lxxxi, 10). God justifies us freely by His grace, assures us of "no condemnation in Christ" and then asks that we walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit, fulfilling the righteousness of the law (Rom. iii, 24; viii, 1, 4).

Notice in connection with today's lesson the difference between the unconditional covenant with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, in which God assured them of things He would do for His own name's sake, and the covenant at Horeb, which depended upon their faithfulness (Deut. v, 1-3). In redemption God does all for Jesus' sake by reason of His great sacrifice (Eph. i, 6, 7; I John iv, 12) and then asks for our obedience (Rom. xii, 1, 2; Eph. iv, 1) that He may reveal Himself yet more fully to us.

God brought Israel out of Egypt that He might bring them into the promised land, and it was in the land that He expected from them this obedience (vi, 1, 2, 21-25), assuring them that thus their days would be "as the days of heaven upon the earth" (Deut. x, 18-21), the only place where I have found this expressed. I suppose that the saying "Heaven to go to heaven in" is founded upon this. If we may learn something of the nature of heaven from the angels, it is "doing His commands, hearkening unto the voice of His word" (Ps. ciii, 20). Hear, observe, do seem to be the three prominent words (v, 32; vi, 3, 25), reminding of Isa. lv, 3, "Hear, and your soul shall live," and verse 2, "Hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness." Compare John v, 24. Our blessed Lord summed up the whole law as "loving God with all our heart and soul and mind and our neighbor as ourselves" (Matt. xxii, 37-40; Luke x, 26-28), and the Spirit through Paul says that "love is the fulfilling of the law" (Rom. xiii, 9, 10); but we must remember that "we love because He first loved us" (I John iv, 19).

In verses 6-8 of our lesson we learn that His words must first be in our hearts, for only as they are there will we use them as these verses teach us. We are to "let the word of Christ dwell in us richly" (Col. iii, 16), hide it in our hearts (Ps. cxix, 11; Ezek. iii, 10), receive it with all meekness, hold it fast and hold it forth (Jas. i, 21; Tit. i, 9; Phil. ii, 16), that God may be glorified in us, for, like Israel, we are a holy people unto the Lord our God, a special people unto Himself above all people (Deut. vii, 6; Tit. ii, 14; R. V.; I Pet. ii, 5, 9).

As in the case of Israel, the good land into which the Lord brought them was one they had no claim to but by His grace. Cities they builded not, full houses which they filled not; wells they digged not, vineyards and olive yards they planted not (verses 10, 11), so all the fullness of God which is ours in Christ (Col. i, 19; ii, 9, 10) is ours wholly and only because of His great sacrifice. We are a good deal like the ten spies, acknowledging the truth of it all, yet refusing to enter in, and the little we seem to enjoy we are ungrateful for, like nine of the ten lepers who were healed.

"Beware, lest thou forget the Lord" (verse 12) is an appropriate word for us always, for the majority of present day believers as well as Israel of long ago too often give occasion to have it said of them, "They forget His works and His wonders that He had showed them" (Ps. lxxviii, 11). If ever troubled by fears or people we need to hear, "Who art thou that thou shouldst be afraid of a man?" and forgettest the Lord thy Maker" (Isa. ii, 12). The Lord, having brought Israel from the bondage of Egypt, loved with everlasting and unchangeable love (Jer. xxxi, 3; Mal. i, 2; iii, 6), desired her wholly for Himself that He might do for her all that was in His heart, and so He is called a jealous God (verse 15). He is so called here and in six other places—Ex. xx, 5; xxxiv, 14; Deut. iv, 24; v, 9; Josh. xxiv, 19; Nah. i, 2.

A Traveling Man's Experience

"I must tell you my experience on an east bound O. R. & N. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grade, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with several other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp, colic, her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whisky. I went to my suitcase and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. (I never travel without it), ran to water cooler, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. She could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." RENEWING EFFORT

TO AROUSE INTEREST IN PROTECTION OF GAME

Specially Desired That the Farmers Will Lend Their Aid in The Matter.

The following circular letter is being sent out from Winchester, Kentucky, by J. D. Evans, secretary-treasurer of Kentucky division of the League of American Sportsmen throughout the state.

Dear Sir:—

This letter is to inform you that a renewed effort is being made by the League of American Sportsmen to arouse interest in game and fish protection, and in this your help is solicited.

Special effort is being made to enlist farmers in this undertaking. The farmer is vitally interested in the preservation of insectivorous birds, and a system of wardenship, that will protect his premises against reckless trespassers. Will you kindly give us information along lines suggested by the following questions, and later we may be able to furnish you matter that will help build up a proper sentiment on this important subject:

1. Is the sentiment in your community favorable to protection of game and fish?
2. What changes in the present law would you suggest for same?
3. What varieties of game or fish exist in your community?
4. Have you a warden?
5. What success has the same met with?
6. Is the present warden system a success or failure?

Will you kindly send us the names of a few progressive farmers and sportsmen who would take this matter up and give it some attention.

Yours truly,
J. D. EVANS,
Sec.-Treas. of Ky. Div.

WHAT IS COMING THIS SEASON TO HOLLAND'S OPERA HOUSE

Manager Holland's booking for the season which opens next week is already extensive and contains some excellent attractions. He is still in correspondence with many well-known shows and theatrical agencies and promises the public an unusually interesting season. Several of the performances scheduled are particularly meritorious. One of these is "The Lion and the Mouse," Charles Klein's famous play, and it is likely that a Hopkinsville favorite, Walter Edwards, will be seen in the role of John Ryder. "The Gingerbread Man," the biggest hit of last season, has been secured again, and among other musical comedies will be "Toyland," "The Show Girl," and "Miss Bob White," with Frank Deshon in the leading comedy part. Santell's big vaudeville company comes early in the season. A notable dramatic offering will be "A Daughter of Judea." Of repertoire companies there will be several, including the popular "Kennedy Players." Lovers of minstrelsy will be delighted to learn that the country's premier burnt cork troupe, Al G. Field's own company and himself, will be here for the first time in a good many years. The booking to date follows:

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription write in appreciation of the cure which dispenses with the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for female women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secreting, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days trust on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of exonerous cost. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held strictly confidential.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate and regulate stomach, liver and bowels.

DEATH OF MRS. KING

PASSED AWAY UNEXPECTEDLY NEAR GARRETTSTOWN.

Paralysis, Which in Previous Attack Rendered Her Dumb, Was Cause of Demise.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Mrs. Martha King died suddenly Sunday at the home of Col. S. J. Lowry near Garretttsburg. Paralysis, from which she had once before suffered and which had left her speechless, is supposed to be the cause. Col. Lowry was at church, only his wife and some of the children being at home. Mrs. King was able to be up about the house, though she had to lie down at frequent intervals, and yesterday morning she seemed to be in good health and spirits as usual. Soon after Col. Lowry left the house she became ill and died within a short time.

Mrs. King was sixty-five or seventy years of age and was a devout member of the Olivet Baptist church at Garretttsburg. She was a devoted Christian and her life was spent in ministering to others. Three children, Mrs. Lowry, George King and Mrs. Lee, of Seattle, Washington survive her. Interment took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Moss burying ground.

Stomach troubles, heart and kidney ailments can be quickly corrected by a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to the restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the stomach, etc. A weak stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak stomach nerves or weak heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free, write for them. A test will tell. Your health is worth this simple trial. Sold by Anderson & Fowler Drug Co. (Incorporated.)

NEW ORGANIZATION

OF MILLER STORE COMPANY AT KNOXVILLE.

Capital of Concern Increased From Hundred Thousand to Two Hundred and Seventy Five Thousand.

The Knoxville Journal and Tribune says:

One of the most important and far-reaching of local business transactions of the year, took place yesterday afternoon in the reorganization and capitalization of the Miller Store company. Several weeks since we announced that Messrs. J. H. Anderson, of Hopkinsville, Ky., H. L. Dulin, of Springfield, Tenn., and Oscar Handly of this city, had purchased stock in this well known firm, but not until yesterday was the organization perfected.

The first step of the new company was to increase the capitalization from $100,000.00 to $275,000.00, thus giving a combination second to none in this section in point of financial strength.

Another important step was to establish a New York resident office which will be located at 45 and 47 Lispenard street, where they will retain a resident buyer, thus keeping in constant touch with the eastern market, and enabling them to secure not only the newest and very latest novelties in every line, but also a better and higher class line of merchandise throughout than ever before in the history of the store.

By the acquisition of this new blood into the firm The Miller Store company, of Knoxville, becomes the "hub" of one of the biggest buying syndicates of this whole country, by which many millions of dollars worth of merchandise will be purchased each year—as The "Miller-Anderson-Dulin" combination will supply all the stocks for the following large department stores in southern cities:

The Miller Store Co., Knoxville, Tenn.

Miller Bros. Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Miller-Mitchell Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

S. W. Anderson Co., Owensboro, Ky.

J. H. Anderson Co., Hopkinsville, Ky.

The Sprague Co., Winchester, Tenn.

In speaking of the new organization, Mr. Anderson states that arrangements have just been perfected whereby the new firm will secure the lease of the building now occupied by B. W. Akers & Co., jewelers, and within the next thirty days this building will be occupied by the clothing department, thus giving them increased facilities for handling the business in this line as these three rooms will be made to connect directly with the main store. This arrangement, however, is only temporary, as they intend a little later to build upon this site a twin building for the main store, thus giving Knoxville one of the largest department stores in the entire south.

The growth and success of this Knoxville store, under the management of Mr. J. D. Varnell, who retains his interest in the new incorporation, reads like fiction.

In January, 1901, the Miller Store company open for business at 319 Gay street with a small stock, not exceeding $10,000, and occupied one room, 25x110 feet—today they occupy their own new building—75x150 feet, five stories and basement, together with the clothing and shoe annexes, 529 and 433 Gay street, thus giving them something over 70,000 square feet of floor space and the largest wholesale and retail business in the city. During this time the firm has at all times taken an active and earnest interest in everything that pertained to the growth and up-building of Knoxville, and in fact this entire section. Mr. Varnell will still retain his holding, and devote his entire time towards forwarding its interests, at all times, manifesting his characteristic push and vigor.

We bespeak for this new concern, with its increased capital and facilities, most unprecedented success in their enlarged field and scope.

GEN. BOOTH AT 80 TELLS HOW TO LIVE 100 YEARS.

GEN. WILLIAM BOOTH.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Gen. William Booth, head of the Salvation Army, who is now in his eightieth year, and who expects to live for many years to come, has just given to the world the rules he has formulated on "How to live 100 years."

Avoid doing things which will cause your conscience to wear and tear your mind. Many people are broken down in health and made old by bad consciences.

Cultivate cheerful spirits. It is an evidence of youth in an old person to be cheerful.

Eat only as much as is required—wholesome food and not poisonous luxuries.

Sleep regularly a given number of hours in every 24, and don't get in the habit of missing rest one night by hoping to catch up the next.

If you are single and can afford it, get married.

If you are married, and your wife is cross, buy her some ribbons.

Take recreation. By recreation I don't mean golfing and cricketing, which becomes a kind of work, but rather something more simple, as romping with the children.

Live within your income.

Have a purpose, and to give you any genuine pleasure it must be a purpose which will benefit others.

COUNCIL MEETING

FRIDAY NIGHT AND CONSIDERABLE BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

Interesting Debate Between Young Attorneys Over Liquor License.—Application Rejected.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The city council met in regular session last night with the mayor and all members of the board present. The reports of the city officers were approved and filed and the monthly accounts allowed.

A cluder walk was ordered put down on north side of East Seventeenth street from railroad to Virginia. Paving was ordered to be put on Fifteenth street from Kelly property to Pursley place, and the concrete paving on Alumni avenue was ordered completed. Michael & Dean made application for saloon license on Sixth street in Candler block, which was protested by H. Bohn and other citizens. J. T. Danbury represented the property owners and John B. Russell appeared for Michael & Dean. The attorneys furnished the council and audience with an entertaining debate in setting forth their respective client's cause. The application was rejected, the motion not getting a second.

There are a great many people who have slight attacks of indigestion and dyspepsia nearly all the time. Their food may satisfy the appetite but it fails to nourish the body simply because the stomach is not in condition to do the work it is supposed to do. It can't digest the food you eat. The stomach should be given help. You ought to take some thing that will do the work your stomach can't do. Kodol for Digestion and Dyspepsia, combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids, digests the food itself and gives strength and health to the stomach. Pleasant to take. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

[Big Stone Gap, Va., News.]

On last Wednesday Miss Gertrude Muncey and Mr. Otto Mullen went over to Bristol and were quietly married. Muncey and is one of the most popular young ladies of this town. She has a peculiarly kind and friendly disposition which has won for her a host of friends who are devotedly attached to her.

The groom is a popular young man of Hopkinsville, Ky., who has been a star member of the local base ball team this season. While he has not been here very long, he has the bearing and characteristics of a true gentleman, and is in every respect worthy of the splendid prize he has won.

All parental clouds have happily cleared away and the happy couple returned Thursday night in response to a telegram announcing that the coasts were clear.

Who's Say So Is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives.

Dr. Pierce's medicines form a striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these wellknown medicines. Among these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale of the same city; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, O.; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, O.; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anteversion, retroversion and corrects irregularities cures painful periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The blood is filled with impurities and germs which are being constantly fed into the place through the circulation, until all the surrounding flesh becomes diseased and the sore an obstinate and permanent trouble. Every symptom of an old ulcer suggests pollution; the discharge, the red, angry looking flesh, the inflammation and discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that the ulcer is prevented from healing by the constant drainage through it of impurities from the blood. This impure condition of the blood may be hereditary, or it may be the remains of some constitutional disease, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption of the refuse of the body which has not been properly expelled through the natural channels. But whatever the cause, the blood is so weakened and polluted that it does not properly nourish and stimulate the place, and the sore cannot heal. Salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the sore or ulcer clean, relieve pain, and perhaps reduce inflammation, but can never permanently heal them because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very fountain-head of the trouble, drives out all poisons and germs, builds up the weak, sluggish blood, gives energy and strength to the system, and by sending a fresh, healthy stream of blood to the diseased parts, allows the ulcer to heal naturally and permanently. Nothing reaches inherited taints like S. S. S. It cleanses the circulation of every trace of hereditary disease or impurity, and those who have nursed and treated an old sore for years will experience good results as soon as the system becomes influenced by S. S. S. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D.D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 8.—In this sermon the preacher lucidates the lesson that God rules all things and can turn the apparent trivialities of life into events of the mightiest importance and highest beneficence. The text is I Kings xxi, 24. "And a certain man drew a bow at a venture and smote the king of Israel between the joints of the harness."

I once held in my hand a little Bible that had been carried by a soldier all through the civil war. It had been given to him when he was a young recruit. He always kept it in his breast pocket just over his heart. In one of the great battles a Confederate bullet plowed its way through three-fourths of that book and knocked the man senseless, but that Bible stopped the bullet on its journey. "And," said the old soldier, "God saved my life by that book on account of my mother's prayers." Do I believe that? Most certainly. Paul tells us in the epistle to the Ephesians that the shield of faith is able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked, so in times of battle God can direct the course of every bullet and every missile. He can protect his children in times of danger as well as save them from destruction after they have become helpless.

During the late civil war the two armies were being concentrated near Hawk's Nest Bluff in West Virginia. One day an Ohio regiment was seen to emerge from the woods. Some sharpshooters were watching it, among whom was William Phillips, afterward General Phillips. No sooner did the Union soldiers appear than young Phillips borrowed a long range rifle and took steady aim at the colonel riding at the head of his troops, but the sharpshooter's rifle was aimed just a little too high, and instead of crashing into the brain, the bullet took off one of the plumes of the colonel's hat. Thirteen years after the war was ended General Phillips was visiting the White House at Washington. In the presence of Rutherford B. Hayes he was telling of this incident. President Hayes remarked: "Yes, I remember that shot. I was that Ohio colonel you shot at." God had a bigger work for Rutherford B. Hayes than to let him be slain in skirmish. He wanted him to live to become the chief executive of our nation. God never lets a man die before his life's work is finished. He can protect his children in times of danger as well as rescue them after they have been overthrown by misfortune and become helpless.

God's Omnipotent Power. But, though God can protect a man when he wishes, he can also destroy a man when he wills. He can direct the stone from the sling of David to the forehead of Goliath and cause him to die. He can foretell the death of Jezebel by the walls of Jezreel, and no matter what the arrogant queen may do or where she may go, she cannot escape. And God could also foretell the fate of King Ahab. When Elijah pointed the finger of condemnation at the murderer of Naboth and said, "In the place where dogs lick the blood of Naboth shall dogs lick thy blood, even thine," he was the messenger of God foretelling how Ahab was to die. And when three years later King Ahab was in battle and an unknown soldier put an arrow to his bow and pulled it up to the tip and let it fly God directed the course of that arrow, and it smote the king in the joints of his armor, and he died, and thus was the prophecy fulfilled.

Now, the whole point of my sermon is this—the soldier who shot that arrow did not know where it was going, but God directed its course. And today I want you to be very careful about the random arrows you let fly. It is never safe for a man to shoot off a gun unless he knows where he is shooting or else he might hurt somebody. There are other injuries, too, that we may do. A heedless word or an inconsiderate act may do another an irreparable injury. We may have malice against him, but casually, inadvertently, we may cause a wound that will never heal. "And a certain man drew a bow at a venture and smote the king of Israel between the joints of his harness."

A Lesson From a Legend. If this fact be true, then, my brothers, I want you to be very careful how you deal with your fellow men in reference to your public profession of faith in Jesus Christ. I start on the premise that you are a Christian. You may be a very poor Christian; I grant that. You may be leaving undone those things which you ought to do and may be doing those things which you ought not to do. But if I should ask you today what is your hope of immortality you would emphatically answer, "My only hope of a hereafter is my firm belief in the pardoning and saving power of the atoning blood of Jesus Christ."

You are like St. Veronica as described by the legend of old. According to tradition, St. Veronica was a pious woman of Jerusalem. When Jesus was being led forth to his crucifixion, staggering under the weight of his cross, the blood and the perspiration were rolling from his face and body. Christ was tottering along from weakness. Taking pity on him, St. Veronica took her head cloth to wipe his face and cleanse his brow. When Jesus gave Veronica back her cloth, the lineaments of his face had been imprinted upon it, and the old legend tells us it was from this imprint that the present idea of Jesus' features have been copied. Has it not been so with the children of godly parents? The Christian mother has so loved Jesus that his spiritual image has been impressed on her very garments and on the wrappings that she puts around her child. We have seen his face in the garments of our childhood. We see today his face in the mantles of manhood and womanhood, and we shall also see his divine face in the crucifixion which shall yet clothe our dead bodies. Yet if I should come to some of you today and say, "Are you a follower of Jesus Christ? Do you stand before all the world and say, 'He is my Saviour and my Lord?'" some of you would have to answer, "No." You believe in Christ in your heart, but you are not willing to profess him with your lips. Now comes the pertinent question: "Why do you not make this public profession? Why not say: 'Christ is my all in all. He is my only support on this side and my only hope for the other side of the grave?'" I ask you again, Why do you not do thus?

The Worthiest Christian. "Well," you answer, "what is the good of my doing it? In the first place, I am not wealthy. If I make public profession of Christianity and join the church, I cannot afford to give much money, and the church does not want me unless I am able to pay. Then I cannot attend church often. I am so bound down to the store and the home that when Sunday comes I am just too tired to go out. Then I have not any special ability. I cannot sing or pray in public or teach a Bible class. It does not matter much whether I join the church or no. I might as well stay out as to go there and be a perfect nonentity." No, my brother and sister, you may make those excuses, but you know deep down in your heart you are not telling the truth. You know that the most influential Christian men and women in your life have not been the speakers nor the wealthy men. They were not men and women of great social prominence, but they were men and women who went to church because they could not stay away. There their gospel faith beamed from their eyes and smiled from their lips and greeted you in a warm handshake. Though they did not know it at the time, they were leading you to Christ in spite of your selves. Now, as these humble Christians of the past generation led you to Jesus by their public professions, cannot you today lead others to Christ in the same way?

But we must not stop here. It is important for us to make a public profession of our faith in Jesus Christ. It is also important for us to lead our fellow men to Jesus by our business dealings as well as by our public prayers. A man cannot be a Christian on Sunday and a sharp, scheming, avaricious, unprincipled business man during the week. He cannot be a true elder of the church and pass the sacred bread at the holy communion and then as a usurer or a produce exchange manipulator cheat the farmer out of his yearly harvestings on week days. He cannot be a servant of God in the church and yet deny him in the store. And it is in the store that our religion is put to its severest test. If we are willing to give to God a consecrated pocketbook, there will be no difficulty about God giving to us many souls for our hire.

Christ in Business. Do you see that young man standing over there? Who is he? "Why," you answer, "he is one of my new clerks. I have just hired him. I do not know who he is, except that he has lately been put upon our payroll." Is that all you know about that young man? Well, I will tell you who that young man is. He is one of your spiritual children. As the sculptor can take a lot of soft clay in his hand and mold it and twist it into the figure of the plaster cast, so you today are molding the spiritual life of that young man. He is as putty in the hands of the glazier. He comes to you fresh from his mother's arms. He knows nothing about the great wide world. You are to be his next teacher. It makes a great deal of difference to him whether you go to church. It also makes a great deal of difference whether you have decreed that honesty and truth shall remain supreme in your business establishment. If you allow your clerk to sell goods under false pretenses you are going to corrupt him. If you compel your employees to be dishonest in dealing with your customers they will make him true and honest and pure. You did not think you were a city set upon a hill. You did not know your gospel light was shining before men in the store. But today, as a business man, you are a spiritual archer, and you cannot help yourself. You are fighting for or else you are fighting against Christ in the store, and your arrows are flying everywhither.

But if it is important that we should use our influence for Christ in our financial dealings is it not also important that we should use that influence for Christ in our social intercourse? Indeed, I often think it more important how we deal with our fellow men for Christ in our social intercourse than in business, for then we are able to study men's peculiarities and find out "the joints of their harness." And every man has his vulnerable spot in which he can be reached for Christ. When we meet men in social intercourse we find them off their guard. Then it is so easy to bring them to Jesus if we can only touch the right spot. I never had this fact so powerfully presented to me as by an old friend, who was telling me an incident connected with the laying of the Atlantic cable. Some years ago Charles Kingsley was on a lecturing trip through the United States. He was in company with Cyrus W. Field, his friend of many years. These two famous men, with a friend of my informant, were traveling together in the same coach. To lighten the tedium of the journey Mr. Field began to tell some of the incidents of the laying of the cable. He had completely failed to raise enough money for the undertaking in America. Then he went to England for help, but skepticism confronted him everywhere. The people said an electric current could not be sent a distance of 3,000 miles under the sea. It was an impossibility. At last, completely discouraged, he was about to come home when he went to bid farewell to Charles Kingsley. "No," said Mr. Kingsley, "don't give up yet. I want you to go and call on Lord So-and-so. I believe he will help you out." "No," said Mr. Field; "there is no need of going. Lord So-and-so cares nothing for a scientific proposition. It would only be wasted time." But at last, under the persuasion of Kingsley, he decided to go.

He found the noble lord in his park surrounded by his dogs. He was so interested in his pack that he gave little attention to Mr. Field's project. He would point out the excellence of this or that animal all the time Mr. Field was explaining his plans. Mr. Field was disappointed, for the nobleman had the money, and if he could get him interested it might be the success of the enterprise. He saw that he must reach him through his dogs, so he said: "I am surprised that your lordship should say I cannot send an electric current 3,000 miles. Look at that dog," pointing to a fine greyhound. "How long does it take the nerves of that dog to notify his brain that his tail is being hurt? Now, I want to stretch such a nerve across the Atlantic, so that when I pinch the dog's tail in New York he will bark in London." "Ah, ah!" laughed the lord. "Very good! Let us hear how you can do it." When Cyrus Field left the house he had the lord's order on his bankers for $50,000 in his pocket. The rest of the money raising was easy. So every man has his vulnerable spot for Christ, as the member of the British navy had his vulnerable spot for the purposes of an Atlantic cable. Dare we, can we, afford to fritter away our social moments, which may be used for winning souls for the Master? You have no idea how far your gospel invitations may sink when you deliver them for Christ in the parlor or in the street car or at the dining room table.

Mighty Facts. The story is told that many years ago the Geneva evangelist, Caesar Malan, was at a fashionable dinner in the west end of London. He was seated by a beautiful young girl. During the banquet he quietly said to her, "Are you a Christian?" She flushed up at once and answered sharply, "That is a subject I do not care to have discussed here this evening." "Well," answered the minister, with a gentle, earnest voice, "I will not persist in speaking of it, but I shall pray that you may give your heart to Christ and become a useful worker for him." That was all Dr. Malan said. A few days later that lady came to Dr. Malan's study, begging him to show her the way of life. She then and there gave her heart to Jesus. That young lady's name was Miss Charlotte Elliott, whose memory will be honored as long as the Christian church shall last, for out of that simple question of a humble evangelist there came forth from her pen that matchless hymn which has won multitudes of sinners to Christ.

Just as I am, without one plea,
But that thy blood has made for me,
And that thou bidst me come to thee,
O Lamb of God, I come, I come!
My brother, in the face of these two mighty facts which I have enunciated today I would ask, Can you afford to fritter away your sacred moments when you are in social intercourse with your fellow men? You may think the hour unpropitious, but sometimes the time that seems to man most inopportune for the presentation of the gospel is the most opportune time for Jesus. O Christian friend, draw your bow in the parlor, in the banquet hall, in the street! Shoot the arrows of gospel invitation everywhere. You know not but in the most unexpected of places you may win another Charlotte Elliott for Christ.

The Gospel's Influence. But, lastly, I want that we should be careful about our gospel influence over our enemies as well as over our friends. We should strive to lead those to Christ who are attacking us as well as those who are living with us under the same roof. We should be careful about our influence over those who hate us as well as over those who love us. As a rule, we deem our enemies the last people we are likely to have any influence over, when in fact there are no classes of people we can more influence for God than those who dislike us and are misrepresenting us and are trying to destroy us.

The story is told that many years ago Dr. Newman Hall was sharply brought face to face with this truth. Newman Hall, as all know, was one of the greatest preachers London ever produced. He was the author of that celebrated tract called "Come to Jesus," which was printed by the million and scattered broadcast over the English speaking world. One day Newman Hall was most outrageously abused and misrepresented by one of his enemies. He was so indignant that he sat down and wrote the most exhorting of letters. He called his enemy almost everything in the criminal calendar. But before he sent this letter he read it to one of his friends. "What do you think of that letter?" asked Dr. Hall. "Fine!" "Fine!" answered his friend. "A man could not write a more crushing and overpowering letter than that. But what are you going to call the letter? You must give it a caption." "What do you mean?" asked Dr. Hall. "What would you suggest?" "Oh," answered his friend, "I would suggest you entitle that bitter letter, 'Go to the Devil,' by the author of 'Come to Jesus.'" Dr. Hall looked up in amazement. He hesitated a moment; then he said: "My friend, you are right. You have taught me a lesson."

Speak For Christ. Instead of sending that bitter letter, Newman Hall sat down and wrote a loving note to the enemy who had done him such wrong. Brother, can you not do the same to your enemies? You say, "It would do no good." How do you know? You say that what your enemy needs is a club. No; I think not. I believe that what your enemy needs is a message of Christian love from you. It may be only a random shot, but by the power of the Lord God Almighty that gospel arrow may strike his heart and bring him, a loving penitent, to Jesus. Anyway, it is worth trying. You have shot arrows dipped in poison long enough. Now try to crush your enemies by winning them with gospel love. You can do it. By the power of the Holy Spirit I feel, I know, you can do it.

I am overwhelmed as I think of the opportunities we all have for serving the Master. You may not think your words and deeds amount to much. But let us consecrate every one of them to the utmost of our power, and then he must look after the issue. With the weakest of agents God can achieve the most infinite results. Are you ready today to be one of God's spiritual agents? Are you ready to do all you can in every way you can, even though all your efforts may seem to be very little? There was a half-demented boy who used to be a member of one of my eastern churches. The different members were telling what they would do for Christ during the coming year. When this demented boy's time came he arose and said: "I cannot do much. I know I am half-crazy. But I can always be in my place in church, and when the time comes I can hold up my hand for Jesus." Oh, in the dark hours of life, when I have felt my own work to amount to but little, I hear ringing in my ears the words, "Can you not hold up your hand for Jesus?" God will look after the results. Can you not under all conditions lift your hand for Christ? Tell me, friend, though your arm may seem to be weak, can you not under all conditions lift your hand for Christ? You must leave the results with him. Your duty is to raise your hand as high as you can for Christ. Will you lift your hand high for him now?

WEAK HEART'S

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach and digestive tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After seeing, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

MORE OUTRAGES.

The good name of the association is being foully besmeared and the pride of Christian is humbled to the dust by the outrages of the Night Riders.

The authorities should find a way to break them up, and the association owes it to itself to ferret out the perpetrators of these cowardly crimes and bring them to justice.

As long as evil and terrible deeds are done in the name of the association, the organization must suffer in the estimation of the world.

With thousands of members of the very best type of citizenship and with money in the treasury, anything like concerted and loyal action should be able to discover the offenders and make their punishment swift and sure.

One or two men might pull up tobacco plants or fire a shot into a house and not be detected, but one hundred, men or anything like that number, cannot band themselves together and ride about the country doing devilry without many people knowing who are in the gang.

And those people who from sympathy or cowardice fail or refuse to disclose the identity of these scoundrels are themselves law-breakers.

That there is in localities in this region a spirit of anarchy that has bred night riding is most lamentable and distressing, and any disposition to allow these crimes to go unpunished and unpunished would taint the entire community.

The good fame of Christian county is in jeopardy; the association has a horrible blot on its 'scutcheon. Let the authorities and the association work together intelligently, earnestly and tirelessly until night riding is stamped out. It ought not to take long.

BECKHAM AND HAGER.

Says the Louisville Post in the same editorial: "Looking at what has been accomplished, contrasting the general conditions of the state, social and political, at the beginning of Gov. Beckham's term, with the conditions of the state today, we believe a large majority of the people will heartily commend the governor's work and will be glad to see him win the senatorship."

And—

"For the work to be done in Kentucky, we believe Mr. Willson and the policies for which he speaks are more to be trusted than Mr. Hager and the faction in the Democratic which secured for him his nomination."

Editor Knott again manifests himself as a political anomaly. He stands with one foot on land and one on sea. He takes salt and sugar in his coffee and mixes vinegar with his sweet milk. In their excellent policies, promises and performances, Gov. Beckham and Judge Hager stand together.

Messrs. Ladd, Crowe and Smiley do not say that the reports about the Night Riders have been "grossly exaggerated."

With the advent of September, lovers of seafood can eat oysters with perfect assurance. According to epicures, oysters never are fit to eat during any months but those which have an "r" occurring in their names.

And now they have organized a sulphur trust. Is there anything in hades or out of it that these fellows won't take hold of? By the way, sulphur enjoys a tariff protection of eight dollars a ton.

Buffalo Bill will give us the go-by this season; but with two circuses this month, the opening of the theaters, a street fair just ahead, the theatricums working day and night and John Feland's campaign for just a little recognition from the Republican party, there oughtn't to be any terrible dearth in the amusement line.

The removal of Rev. J. A. Kirtley from this city to Madisonville will cause sincere regret irrespective of denominational lines, and among his South Union and Locust Grove congregations there is genuine sorrow. He is a preacher of fine ability and an excellent pastor and he is a first rate citizen. Madisonville deserves congratulations.

BRYAN SPEAKS HERE

Arrangements for the speaking campaign in Kentucky by Wm. Jennings Bryan were completed at a conference held at the Old Inn in Louisville, by Henry B. Hines, chairman of the state campaign committee; Urey Woodson, national committeeman, and Dr. Milton Board, chairman of the speakers' committee. Mr. Bryan will make a tour of Kentucky on a special train and he will probably be accompanied by Senator James B. McCreary, Gov. Beckham, Judge S. W. Hager and Mr. Woodson. Thus will the two so-called factions in the party—the administration and the anti-administration elements—be brought together.

They are now at the home of the groom's parents on the Cadiz road.

TAYLOR STILL BALKS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 11—Ex-Gov. Taylor was informed that Circuit Judge Stout, at Frankfort, had entered an order suspending the warrant for his arrest and promising immunity from arrest if he would return to Kentucky. He was inclined to be skeptical. He said: "The suspension of the warrant could be revoked at any time. It would afford no real immunity."

RATHER DULL WEEK

SHOWN BY REPORTS OF TOBACCO MARKET.

Stocks Are Small.—Association Sells 110 Hogsheds at Good Prices.

—Wednesday's Sale.

The first week of September has been rather dull on the local tobacco market, this being due to lack of stock. The demand continues strong and prices are firm at former quotations.

Stocks have been sold out very close, and there remains but little which can change hands. The buyers, however, continue to visit the warehouses regularly and always are ready and willing to buy anything which may be offered. Prices are high and the outlook for next season indicates that prices will go even higher.

With the farmers association sales of 110 hogsheds were made for the week at prices which are very satisfactory. It was expected that the tobacco on hand would be in shape for holding a wind-up sale, but this had to be postponed until Wednesday. At this time about four hundred hogsheds will be offered which will about clean up everything now in the association sales-rooms. There are yet some scattering hogsheds among the country prizes, which will be delivered from time to time and will serve to keep the business going for some time yet.

The season with the association at this point has been by far the most satisfactory of any since the organization was effected, and the farmers are confidently expecting even greater things next year.

The growing crop is suffering in many places from worms which have appeared in countless numbers. Most of the farmers have been forced to use Paris Green to stop them, and this has to a large extent had the desired effect. Those farmers who refuse to use it are at their wits' ends, as it seems they cannot secure labor enough to keep the worms picked off. With this exception the crop promises to be the finest which has been raised in years.

CALL IS ACCEPTED

The Madisonville Hustler says: Rev. J. A. Kirtley, of Hopkinsville, has answered the call made him some three weeks ago by the Baptist church of this city, and will move here shortly. Bro. Kirtley has met with grand success in his work in South Christian, and will be a welcome addition to ministerial society in Madisonville. It is not known when he will take up his residence among us, but we hope it will be on no distant day.

BIG BARN BURNED

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The big tobacco barn of Atkins & Ellis on their farm about three miles from town on the Canton pike, was entirely destroyed by fire this morning about 8 o'clock. The fire originated from the fires which were being kept up in curing the tobacco.

There was about 12,000 to 14,000 pounds of unusually fine tobacco in the barn. It had been fired for some time and had dried out well. In some way the blaze this morning caught the dried tobacco and before anything could be done the entire interior of the building was ablaze and the structure and its contents were destroyed. The loss will amount to about $2,000 on which here was no insurance.

NORMAN-PETTER.

Kelly Case Continued.

The case against former Master Commissioner John W. Kelly, of Trigg county, was called in the circuit court at Cadiz Monday and was postponed. The postponement was due to Judge W. T. Fowler, of this city, who was appointed to assist in the preparation, resigning. Judge Fowler resigned from the case on account of his health. John Stites was appointed in his stead but not having had time to familiarize himself with the details of the case he asked for a continuance which was granted. The case will be tried on the seventh day of the February term of court.

CAMPAIGN OPENED

BY GOV. BECKHAM, CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATOR.

COLUMBIA, Ky., Sept. 10.—Gov. Beckham opened his campaign for the United States senate here in the presence of one of the largest crowds ever gathered in the eleventh district to hear a Democratic speaker.

The governor's address was enthusiastically received, and despite the fact that Adair county is a Republican stronghold, his speech made a deep impression and he was warmly congratulated on all sides.

In concluding his address, Gov. Beckham said:

"It is a notorious fact that the party organization of the Republican party in Kentucky has for years been controlled by those who had at heart more the question of the distribution of federal patronage than the general welfare of the party or of the commonwealth. I state this proposition without fear of successful contradiction, the Republican masses of Kentucky, and especially in the mountains, have fared better under Democratic administration than they did under Republican administration."

Gov. Beckham concluded with a promise to be as faithful in the performance of his duties if elected senator as he was when governor, and made an appeal for the election of the entire state ticket.

AN ODD CHARACTER

ARRIVED FROM WASHINGTON, D. C. TO REMAIN TEN DAYS.

An Individual Who is Rapidly Earning a National Reputation For His Firm.

Francis D. Haas, President of The Haas Shaker Herbal association, of Washington, D. C., who arrived in our city yesterday, is a most eccentric and peculiar individual, who is earning a national reputation. Stories concerning him come from every locality he visits and are very unusual.

Mr. Haas not only believes in the Golden Rule but is somewhat of a socialist as well, inasmuch as he believes in giving a portion of his earnings to his less fortunate and afflicted fellowmen. Haas' financial success has been obtained entirely by the sale of a formula that came into his possession several years ago, and is said to contain almost miraculous healing powers. Mr. Haas' visit here is for the purpose of introducing his firm's celebrated remedies in this locality.

Mr. Haas' special fad seems to be not only rendering financial aid to the poor, but furnishing the remedy free of charge for healing the sick and destitute, as he says he cannot take money from the poverty stricken. He says, almost anyone may give to the poor a dollar but few can give to the sick health.

Mr. Haas says that this firm has appointed L. A. Johnson, sole agent for the sale of these celebrated remedies in Hopkinsville, and that the remedies will be sold on a positive guarantee, and should they fail to give satisfaction, the money will be refunded. Anyone who may be afflicted and is not able to purchase these remedies, will be given a sufficient amount free of charge by simply calling at L. A. Johnson's drug store and stating the facts to Mr. Haas or one of his demonstrators, who will be with L. A. Johnson in his drug store from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. for the next few days.

These are the remedies that created such a sensation throughout the entire south some months ago. Statements from New Orleans, Memphis and Nashville say that by the use of these remedies deafness and paralysis were relieved in a few minutes' time.

Marries Indian Girl.

Prof. U. L. Clardy, formerly of Christian county, who has been teaching in Indian schools several years, has married an Indian maiden, his bride's home being Thunder Butte, S. D. The Forest City, South Dakota, Press says:

"News was heard that a marriage took place at Thunder Butte lately. Ohas, Blue Horse performed the ceremony. Mr. Clardy was the bridegroom and a granddaughter of Knife the bride. They are expected to leave for Kentucky on their wedding tour soon."

Cast your votes in the party contest by tomorrow (Friday) night as the first count will be made then. The result will be published in Saturday's paper.

that I lacked in age and practice I have faithfully tried to make up in earnestness of purpose and devotion to duty. With what measure of success my efforts have been attended to for the just and fair-minded people of Kentucky to say. Without claiming any credit for what has been accomplished, I can at least rejoice, when I turn over the office to my successor, in contemplating the vast difference in the condition of affairs from what they were in the years gone by and some when I first became governor. To its successors this administration will have the gratification at the close of this year of passing on to the government of the Commonwealth in the most prosperous condition it ever enjoyed, and its people happier and more contented than ever.

During past years the New Era has held various contests in all of which the prizes were offered to grown people, but now a contest has been inaugurated solely for the children in which eleven Gold Watches and a $250 Shetland Pony outfit will be the prizes. The winners will be determined by the votes of our subscribers, 100 votes being given for every dollar paid on subscription to either the Daily or Weekly New Era, no matter whether it is payment of back dues or in advance.

The city and county has been divided into districts as will be explained later, and in each of these eleven districts a valuable Gold Watch, the case being guaranteed for twenty years and fitted with either an Elgin or Waltham movement, is offered for the highest number of votes secured in that district. Then for the highest number of votes secured, irrespective of the district, the Pony and outfit will be given. This pony is a genuine Shetland, guaranteed to be sound in every particular and fully broken to harness and safe for any child to drive. The buggy is being manufactured by West & Lee, of this city and will be the best and handsomest turnout which they can get out and will be fitted with wire spokes and rubber tired wheels. The harness will be made especially for the pony by the harness department of the Forbes Manufacturing company.

An Ounce of Prevention

Is worth a pound of cure. There are many poor sufferers. Consumptives who are hopeless of getting well—who, if they had taken care of themselves, would now be well. A cough is the foundation of consumption. Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. Mrs. S. Great Falls, Montana, writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for years—my children never suffer with coughs." Sold by L. A. Johnson & Co.

She Found Relief.

If you are troubled with liver complaint and have not received help read this. Mrs. Mary E. Hammond, Moody, Tex. "I was in poor health—with liver trouble—for over a year. Doctors did me no good and I tried Herbine, and three bottles cured me. I can't say too much for Herbine, as it is a wonderful liver medicine. I always have it in the house. Publish where you wish." For sale by L. A. Johnson.

District No. 11.

All sections outside of Christian county, Ky.

The Plan.

Any white girl or boy under sixteen years of age is eligible to enter this contest.

The contest begins on Sept. 10 and will close Dec. 10, 1907, at 6 o'clock p. m.

For every dollar paid on subscription to either the Daily or Weekly New Era, either new subscriptions in advance or on arrears on old ones, a coupon good for 100 votes will be issued. These coupons must be voted within 20 days after being issued.

No coupons will be issued for payments of less than 50c at a time.

In addition to the coupons given with each dollar paid on subscription, a coupon good for one vote will appear in each issue of the Daily and Weekly New Era. These coupons must be voted within the time specified at the top, but to equalize distances all such coupons will be counted when the postmark on the envelope shows that they were duly mailed before the time had expired. These coupons should be clipped from the paper and neatly trimmed around the border and plainly filled out. In order to obviate extra work however these ballots may be pinned together and only the top one filled out, in which case the entire bunch will be counted for the person whose name appears on the first one.

All that is necessary to enter a candidate is for some friend to cast one or more votes for him or her.

The plan of distributing the prizes by districts insures one child at least from every section of the county will be the beneficiary of this offer, while candidates living outside the county are also given the opportunity to get one of the watches and possibly the pony outfit.

The vote will be published each week in the Weekly and as often as practicable in the Daily. This count will be made by the employees of the paper but all counted ballots will be saved for a recount should it be necessary to settle any close races or disputed questions.

No person connected with this office, nor any member of his or her immediate family is eligible as a candidate, neither can they cast votes.

A candidate must reside in the district from which he or she is entered but should they remove during the contest all votes cast for them will be counted for them from the district into which they move. This is the only way in which transfers of votes will be made.

A person living in one district may cast his vote for a candidate in another district and candidates can be voted for anywhere but in such cases the ballot must bear the number of the district in which the candidate lives and not that of the voter.

The price of the Daily is $5.00 per year, either by mail or carrier, $2.50 for six months or $1.25 for three months. The weekly is $1.00 per year by mail only.

This contest is for the purpose of increasing the circulation of both issues of the New Era and coupons will not be issued on payments for other business. Neither will old papers be sold in quantities so that coupons may be clipped. No coupons will be allowed on subscriptions given to agents unless the full subscription price is paid.

Address all communications to this office and make remittance by check, bank draft or express or post office money order. DO NOT SEND STAMPS.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease. Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who tend themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. A number of society women of Hopkinsville are suffering from the effects of ptomaine poisoning. No ill effects from the refreshments were felt by any of the ladies until about half past nine that night. Nearly everyone who had eaten the ice cream and cake became ill and a number of them suffered severely. The services of physicians were required in some of the cases. Members of Mr. Abernathy's family were exceedingly ill and had to have medical attention a good part of the night. The poisoning is not regarded as serious in any of the cases.

A Mild Laxative For Baby's Bowels

The infant or the child should not be given salts, purgative waters or harsh pills or tablets when the bowels are constipated, and neither should any medicine be used that contains a narcotic. It is well for mothers to remember that there is no better, gentler or more effective remedy for children's stomach and bowel troubles than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Its purity and mildness make it especially adapted to young people's use. It works gently but surely, and containing, as it does, many tonic ingredients, it not only cleans out the congested bowels, but tones the system and makes the child feel better in every way.

Among the thousands who are using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is Mrs. Spalding, of Mayfield, Ky., and she writes that she gives it to her baby regularly and that she would not be without it. She has used it herself for a long time and ought to know.

Mothers will find this an invaluable remedy for old and young in constipation, dyspepsia, liver trouble, diarrhea, colic, worms, and the many other ills that afflict the stomach and bowels. It is guaranteed to do what we claim, and by its use a home cure at very little cost is easily brought about.

Children are often troubled with skin diseases, are backward in school, lose weight and do not care to eat or play, when all that is really the matter with them is stomach trouble that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will correct. Go to your druggist to-day and buy a bottle and see how quickly the child gets well again.

It is a good thing for the whole family to use in stomach, liver and bowel complaints. A 50 cent bottle has often restored an entire family.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. WAS A YEAR WEDDED

DR. LONG KEPT HAPPY SECRET FROM HIS FRIENDS.

Pretty Wife Arrived in the City And Affectionate Greeting Told The Story.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The first intimation that Dr. L. Dudley Long, a popular young Hopkinsville citizen, who only recently graduated from a Chicago medical college, was a married man was last night when a handsome young lady got off an L. & N. train and running up to him gave the doctor an affectionate greeting right before the people who had assembled at the station. The crowd at first was so much astonished that they could only gasp and blink their eyes, but curiosity soon overcame every other feeling and they began to ask questions and then it developed that Dr. Long and the young lady, who, prior to her marriage was Miss Florence Ullrich, of Seattle, Washington, had been married for nearly a year.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. Mr. McAfee, a Methodist minister, at Wheaton, Illinois, a small town forty miles out from Chicago, on Oct. 6, 1906. Only the minister, the contracting parties and three members of the faculty of the medical college knew of the marriage and these kept their secret so closely that not even the students of the college guessed it.

Both Dr. Long and his wife are graduates of the same college, the Hahnemann Medical college, of Chicago. They entered at the same time, were in the same classes and it was not long before an attachment sprang up and Dr. Long began showing Miss Ullrich marked attention. They graduated at the close of last session and Mrs. Long is also Dr. Long. When the school was out for the summer vacation Dr. Long came here and has been spending the time with his father, Squire W. B. Long, while Mrs. Dr. Long went to Indianapolis where she visited her brother. They will remain here until the latter part of September when Mrs. Long will go to Seattle to visit her parents. Dr. Long will remain here until October when he will return to Chicago where he was awarded an internship in a hospital for a year. Here his wife will join him and after the year is out they will locate for the practice of their profession probably in Denver or Seattle.

NIGHT RIDERS FIRE REVOLVERS AND GUNS INTO DWELLING OF A FARMER IN NORTH CHRISTIAN

WIFE AND SEVEN CHILDREN WERE IN THE ROOM.

THREE NOCTURNAL VISITS

Victims Told They Must Join The Association or They Would Be Severely Dealt With.

(From Monday's Daily)

Night Riders visited three citizens in North Christian Saturday night. They shot up one man's house and destroyed tobacco plants on the farms of the other two. In all three instances they demanded that their victims join the association.

There were about 100 men in the gang and they were heavily masked and under the leadership of one they called the "Old Captain." Many of the Riders were under the influence of liquor, but, it is stated, they obeyed implicitly the orders of the leader.

The first place visited was the farm of W. J. Ladd, a highly respected citizen near Era. Mr. Ladd and his wife and seven children were sleeping in the two front rooms of the dwelling. They were awakened by shouts from the marauders who demanded that Mr. Ladd go out to them. Clad only in his night clothes he opened the front door and stepped out on the porch.

The men ordered him to show them his tobacco patch. He told them he would go with them if they would allow him to put on his shoes. When he stepped back into the hall and closed the door, the gang began firing at the house with revolvers and guns. Not less than one hundred shots were discharged. Most of them lodged in the log walls of the house, but many penetrated the bedrooms in which were Mrs. Ladd and the children, and several passed through the door and flew by Mr. Ladd's head. He slipped on his shoes and went out to the men, who continued to fire into the house until he reappeared. He told them where his two tobacco patches were located, but informed them that he had cut a part of his tobacco and had it in his barn. They made him lead the way to the barn, which they threatened to destroy.

After reaching the building the Night Riders told Mr. Ladd that they would not burn it if he would promise to join the association and try to persuade several of his neighbors, whom they named, to join. This he agreed to do and the men let him go back to his house.

Mounting their horses, which were in the road about fifty yards away, the Night Riders galloped by the house and proceeded to the home of J. M. Crowe, another good citizen of the vicinity. They fired no shots here but, calling Mr. Crowe to his door, told him they would give him until today to join the association. On Mr. Crowe's place about one hundred and forty plants were pulled up, and fewer on the other place.

The victims of the outrages and other persons in the neighborhood report that the Night Riders came from the direction of Bainbridge and rode off in that direction after completing their work.

The telephone wires leading into the houses of their victims were cut.

All of the men visited have obeyed the demand of the Night Riders and joined the association. Mr. Crowe signed up with Walter Litchfield, neighbor who had a list, and Messrs. Ladd and Smiley came to Hopkinsville this morning and signed at the office of Judge W. T. Fowler, the vice-chairman of the Christian county executive committee. The Night Riders not only told the men that they must join the association but must publish the fact in the newspapers. It is understood that Squire Rogers and Mr. Clark have also signed the association's pledge.

Athletics At the Schools.

SPECIAL attention will be paid to athletics for the coming winter and fall in both the Public High school and South Kentucky college. In both schools football and basketball teams will be organized and regular schedules of games will be made out.

At the head of the work in the high school will be Prof. William A. Evans, who is himself an athlete and who will play with the football team from that school. Prof. Evans has already begun to practice the candidates for the football team and although the material is light and the boys are rather young, he says they are most willing and he expects them to make up in energy and science what they lack in brawn. Suits have been ordered and from now until the football season is over they will put in all their spare time in practicing. Mercer park has been secured and the practice will be had there and all at home games will be played there.

Several games will be played these being about evenly divided between the local grounds and those of other schools. A basketball team will also be organized right away and this is expected to be able to give any of them a tussle. Last year's good work of the basketball team whetted the desire of the public schools for athletics and they say that this year they will put an even better team in the field.

At South Kentucky college the interest is equally as great. Prof. W. A. Cunningham, of Vanderbilt University, who was a member of Vandy's last year's football, basketball and baseball teams and an all around athlete, has been engaged to coach both football and basketball teams and the practice will begin this week. Phillips, the old standby, will not be at South Kentucky this year, and others of last year's stars will be missing, but new material has come in to take their places and it is confidently expected that equally as good, if not better, teams will represent the college this year as did last. The grounds back of the college will probably be leased for a term of years and if this is done the field will be graded and placed in the best of condition and seats will be erected.

Suits for the football and basketball teams will be ordered this week. Already several games have been arranged for the coming season, and many more will be added to the schedule. A number of these will be played on the home grounds.

HAMMACK TURNS UP

KNOCKED IN HEAD BY NEGRO WITH BRICK.

In Hospital And Will Recover From His Injury.—His Family Is With Him.

The Evansville Daily Courier says: Muir Hammack, whose name appeared in print a month ago when Elmo Bell of Marion, Ky., came here and passed himself off as Muir Hammack, was struck in the head with a brick at the corner of Devon street and Shanklin avenue last night by a negro. He was taken to St. Mary's hospital in the patrol wagon. He will recover.

Hammack and his wife and two children came here two weeks ago from Pembroke, Ky., and have been boarding with Jeff Parsons at 115 State street. Mrs. Hammack, who thought her husband had deserted her at Hopkinsville and came here to locate him, went back to her Kentucky home after it was found that Bell was not Hammack, and at Hopkinsville later found her husband, who had never been in Evansville at all.

Bicycle Officers Wiltshire and pringer from the sub-station went to the spot and after sending Hammack to the hospital in the patrol wagon, tried to locate the negroes. They were unsuccessful and later went to the hospital to get a description of Hammack's assailant. Hammack says he would know the negro if he ever sees him again.

and Detroit newspapers say the show is worth seeing.

More than usual interest is taken in the coming of these consolidated shows on account of its being the only circus which has the wonderful trained wild beasts which were a feature of the St. Louis World's fair. The collection of enemies of the field and forest and frozen water will perform together in an enclosed steel arena.

There is a sea lion which juggles a football, catches caps on its nose and twirls a baton while riding a horse. Imagine a trainer putting wild animals through drills and as a climax to the act having them eat raw meat from his hand! Think of a lion which rides a horse and jumps through hoops of fire! Think of a tiger which rides on the ponderous back of a monster loping elephant!

The circus features of the show are high class. Les Rowlandes, Parisian riders, create a sensation everywhere. There are seven members of this troupe and they appear in a tally-ho drawn by four horses and perform acrobatic feats in the carriage and on the backs of the horses. In leaving the ring five of them ride on a single horse and all stand up while the racer runs. The acrobats and gymnasts and high wire experts are the best obtainable.

DEAD FISH

Are Floating In Little River Near Cates'

For several days past, numbers of dead fish have been found floating in Little River above Cates' Mill.
These fish were mostly of the red perch and sucker varieties and of all sizes.

They were first noticed last Tuesday and every day since have been in evidence.

It is supposed that they were killed by something which was turned into the river which poisoned them as there is no evidence that dynamite has been used anywhere. The river itself shows evidences of being foul and this is attributed to the cause.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause.
Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers.
Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a cure, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets surely distribute the unnatural blood pressure.
Bruise your finger and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

BY COUNTY BOARDS

SYSTEM FAVORED BY SCHOOL
SUPERINTENDENT.

Will Conduct a Campaign in Kentucky Looking to Adoption of Such a System.

A campaign for the county board system of control of public schools will be made up by the county superintendents of Kentucky. This was decided upon at a meeting of the executive committee of the Kentucky educational association held at Frankfort this week. The meeting was called by Dr. E. E. Hume, president of the Educational Improvement association, and was presided over by State Superintendent Fuqua.

The educators who were assembled discussed problems pertaining to rural education. It was the unanimous opinion that the district trustee system of controlling schools is obsolete and that some other system must be adopted. They believe that the county board system will come very near solving the problem.

It was decided to present the matter to the legislature at its next regular session and the chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to make a draft of a bill. This work will be done carefully and with deliberation and the educators hope to draft a bill that will meet with the approval of a majority of the legislators.

The plan is to have all schools of a county under one board of trustees or commissioners, doing away with the district boards of trustees. The system will be practically the same as that now in vogue in the cities of the state. Under the present system a county superintendent frequently has to deal with a hundred or more separate boards of trustees. Many of the superintendents have come to the conclusion that it is absolutely impossible to do thoroughly efficient work under this system.

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR BEGINS
NEXT MONDAY, SEPT. 16.

Entries of Live Stock Break All records—Many New Amusement Features Added to Program

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 9.—The Kentucky State fair management announced today that the final touches on Churchill Downs, getting it in shape for the state fair, which begins next Monday, Sept.
16th, had been made. A large force of carpenters have put in two full weeks building additional sheep and hog pens and fitting tables in the buildings where the exhibits of horticulture, vegetables and melons, field seed and grain, tobacco, woman's work, table luxuries, etc., will be shown.

The owners of Churchill Downs at Louisville, where the state fair will be held this year, turned over to the state fair management the entire plant, with 850 stalls in modern stables, free of all cost, the board of agriculture only being required to put the grounds back in the condition they were found.

Taking the entries that have been made up to a week before the opening of the fair, as an indication, practically every one of those stalls will be used. The display of horse flesh, all kinds of cattle, sheep, swine, mules and jack stock, will be in keeping with the state fairs of commonwealths that have supported these institutions for a quarter of a century. The poultry and pigeon department and the Collie Dog show given quite as satisfactory promise, while the other departments are certain to fill to capacity.

Turning from the educational feature of the fair, to the lighter side, the state fair management announces that the amusements will be far beyond the best of the kind even seen in Louisville. These will include Pain's $100,000 fire works spectacle and the eruption Vesuvius;
Captain Roy Knabenshue, personally, in his airship balloon races, an Igorrote Village, direct from the White City of Chicago. Mundy's trained wild animal show, etc., etc.

The racing program of the week will be especially attractive. There will be trotting, pacing and running races, in addition to automobile races and balloon races.

The railroads have made a rate of one fare for the round trip to Louisville, tickets going on sale Sept. 14th, good returning until Sept. 23rd. The freight departments have announced that exhibits will pay full tariff going to the fair, and will be returned free, if ownership is not changed.

As there is to be a big night program every evening during state fair week, it is believed that many visitors will come to Louisville to spend at least two days and a night.
In this connection, it may be announced that Louisville's hotels and boarding houses are ready to entertain thousands, and the rates will not be advanced.

SOME BAD STORMS

ARE PREDICTED AS LOT OF SEPTEMBER.

Ir. R. Hicks Sees Prospects of Phenomenally Unpleasant Times This Month.

Ir. R. Hicks, the St. Louis weather prophet, is of the opinion that September will be disturbed, if not phenomenally stormy. The astronomical outlook, he says, strongly points to such results.

In his forecasts Mr. Hicks says that storms will sweep progressively over the country from the 4th to the 7th of September, and that seismic shocks will be felt in many places within 48 hours of noon of the 7th. The second storm period will be central on the 9th, 10th and 11th, and this he calls "the annual crisis of magnetic unrest." He adds that heavy storms of rain, wind, hail and thunder will move out of the northwest and be followed by a great change to cooler with probable frosts.

Severe storms are to be expected, according to Mr. Hicks, from the 14th to 19th. This he calls the crisis of the autumnal equinox, with Jupiter, Saturn, Mercury, Vulcan and Venus all concentrate in disturbing energy. He adds that this period and this whole central part of the month is full of perturbing causes and phenomenal possibilities, and that "the chances are that general storms and atmospheric unrest will continue until after."

Another storm period is predicted for the 20th to the 22d, the forecaster adding that many volcanic and seismic convulsions also will be reported within forty-eight hours of sunset on the 21st. Fierce gales and an "almost early winter out of the Northwest" are among the probabilities. He says that all the "lake regions especially should beware of these storms and the change following."

The fifth storm period, according to Mr. Hicks, will be central on the 27th, and its culminating days will be Friday to Sunday, 27th to 29th. There will then be a change to warmer with falling barometer, with a return of marked storm conditions.

The forecast closes with the statement that there will be a notable increase of sun spots, and that "unless there is a compensating resultant of warring forces that we cannot now see, the meteorological record for September, taking the whole world over will approach the phenomenal."

MAX HANBERY SORE

CADIZ, Ky., Sept. 6.—The Hon. Max M. Hanbery, the leading Republican of this county, and one of the most prominent politicians of the First congressional district, is out in a long statement in which he says he is not in favor of ever making another nomination in this county so long as the negroes are permitted to participate. He says in part: "I am in favor of taking away from these characters who pose as Republicans, the market for their disgraceful votes. If the time ever comes that these unworthy, so-called citizens will join the Democratic party and let that party bear the odium of having them as its members, then, and never until then, will I agree to name any more candidates for them to sell. I believe, in fact I know, that nine-tenths of the white Republicans of this county are tired, yea sore, over negro domination in our party."

Pastor Emeritus.

Rev. Francis Lee Goff, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city, on account of a complete failure in health has been forced to resign his work at Euclid, Florida, but by a unanimous vote of both the church and presbytery he has been made pastor emeritus of the church at Euclid. Mr. Goff and his wife, formerly Miss Lula Graves, have gone to the mountains of Tennessee where it is hoped that Mr. Goff will fully recover his health.

Kentucky's Labor Problem

Kentucky has a labor problem. For that matter, you cannot point out a state that is not the regretful possessor of the same elephant. But it is Kentucky's that concerns us most. It is closest home. We need farm hands and household servants, and we need them badly. That is why the state board of agriculture, forestry and immigration has decided to send an agent into Switzerland to pick out good Swiss folk to see if they will not come over to Kentucky to work and live. We need them by the thousands, and it is to be hoped that they may be induced by the thousands to come. Kitchens are idle, housewives are desperate, society is all tumbled up because of the lack of servants. Farms are lagging, farmers are sighing and crops are suffering because of the want of labor. Kentucky must have labor.

The despatch of a representative to the other side is apt to prove more fruitful of good than would have been to plan to station him at Ellis Island. In Switzerland he may see what he is actually going to get, and know that he is actually going to get it. At Ellis Island he would have to take his chances of finding some available and desirable laborers among the odds and ends of humanity that come over unreserved. Taking chances, though, is not taking immigrants. It is immigrants rather than chances that Kentucky needs.

An inflow of Swiss ought to relieve the situation somewhat by increasing the supply of workers for the enormous demand. The Swiss as a race are thrifty, steady, energetic and faithful.

So the state board of agriculture, forestry and immigration has taken a prudent step in undertaking to help the conditions in the state by seeking relief for the farmers and housewives. Other states beset by the same trouble as Kentucky have been for years conducting a systematic canvass for desirable immigrants. They found that America was not producing sufficient labor to meet the demand. Then the shortage had to be made up from abroad. Hundreds of thousands of immigrants have been pouring into the country each year, yet the cry goes up for more labor. So more immigrants of the right sort—always of the right sort are demanded. Rascals, degenerates and parasites necessarily get into the country among the hordes of immigrants, but for the most part the newcomers are contributors toward the solution of the American labor problem.

Despite their arrival, the problem is still with us. Kansas, for instance, just a few weeks ago sent out a call for 50,000 farm hands. They are imperatively needed for the handling of the Kansas crops. That is a sample.

A disposition is being manifested in some of the European countries to have laws passed for the purpose of restricting immigration to the United States, or to any other place of course. The plea is made that the populations are being depleted by the steady outflow; the immigrants are as a rule young men and young women; that, therefore, labor is becoming scarce in those respective lands.

Yesterdays cable dispatches from Madrid told on an immigration bill introduced into the Cortes by the minister of the interior. The bill provides a system of inspection and gives the government power temporarily to forbid immigration. It prohibits the treaties with other powers for the prevention of clandestine immigration.

It appears from these circumstances that both England and America are in the coils of a labor scarcity. Countries on both sides of the Atlantic either wish to keep what they have, or having not, to take from those which have. Kentucky has set about its task of helping farmers and households in a definite, systematic way. It is earnestly to be hoped that that way will be fruitful of happy results.—Louisville Times.

TICKETS GO FAST

PEOPLE APPRECIATE MAGNITUDE OF LYCEUM STARS.

Troglodyte Frederick Warde and Other Entertainers Will Draw Very Big Crowds to Tabernacle.

The sale of season tickets for the next Tabernacle course justifies the assertion that if the Hopkinsville people are given good, clean attractions at a reasonable price, they will patronize most liberally. From the way the sale has commenced, this season will be a record breaker for attendance, and as the attractions are the very best in the different lines, it will prove satisfactory to all concerned. The mere fact that Mr. Frederick Warde will be on the course has created no little enthusiasm, and it is predicted that the audience that greets him will be one of the largest pay audiences that has ever attended the Tabernacle course. At Henderson last month, the Chautauqua managers could not seat the great crowds, who attended the Frederick Warde performances. The Royal Hungarian orchestra, who gave such entire satisfaction last season will also be greeted by a large audience. This famous organization never fails to "make good" and their press and committee reports wherever they have appeared are most satisfying. This season the company includes as soloists, a pianist, violinist, flutist, and cellist. One of the literary features of the coming season will be Mr. Montaville Flowers. This standard and always reliable lyceum artist has never appeared before a tabernacle audience. His available dates have been eagerly sought after by northern and eastern managers where he has appeared year after year on the largest and most successful courses.

Number of our patrons have asked that he give his master programme, Ben-Hur, when here, but as yet this has not been fully decided upon. The three numbers as mentioned above, are well worth the price paid for a season ticket, but in addition to these three numbers, there will be five others equally as good, and the entire course of eight (8) attractions will be sold to purchasers of season tickets for $2.00 per ticket. Only think of it a moment, you hear these attractions of National and International reputation, for the small sum of 25c per number. Aside from this, the season ticket reserves his or her seat for the entire season, free of charge, they are the first to select locations, and in every way are given preference.

Don't delay securing these tickets, as after the season ticket sale has stopped, the single attraction tickets, will range in prices from 50c to $1.00. Then by the time you have gone to two of three shows at most, you have paid out $2.00 or more, and have lost the other numbers on the course. If you will be here during the season, it is very foolish not to procure the season tickets. Perhaps some one attraction does not suit your particular fancy. (You know the course must be bought with the idea of pleasing the most people.) If this be the case, let some friend use your ticket. Lastly, don't forget to secure these tickets, this sale will not last indefinitely, but will stop with the first number on the course.

GOOD NEWS

Many Hopkinsville Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast" and the thousands of bad luck sufferers in Hopkinsville are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Many people are telling the good news of their experience with the old Quaker remedy. Here is an example worth reading: R. H. Buck, living on South Franklin street, Madisonville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills is an exceedingly good remedy for kidney complaint and backache. I was never seriously troubled until about nine months ago I was taken with an attack of backache caused I think by a strain from overlifting. I was annoyed a good deal. I saw Doan's Kidney pills advertised and concluding to give them a trial, got a supply. They proved very satisfactory, curing the attack in a short time. Some time later there were symptoms of a recurrence and I appealed to Doan's Kidney pills again. They relieved me in a short time and they kept my kidneys in an excellent condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Goes to Pen.

(From Friday's Daily) Policeman E. N. Miller carried Hervie Davis, colored, to the penitentiary at Eddyville yesterday where he will serve a twenty one year sentence for manslaughter. Davis was convicted at the June term of court but a motion was made for an appeal which was granted and the usual time given for the filing of the papers. This time expired without this step being taken and the prisoner was therefore carried to the penitentiary.

ETTLINGER
CLOTHES

Your new Fall clothes are ready for you now in our store and we are going to hold a special opening reception to introduce you to them. You're invited; and when you come you'll meet a lot of the finest clothes you ever saw. We feel that our good friends and our good clothes ought to know each other better.

These are Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; and you can put it down as a fact that better clothes, more stylish, more perfectly tailored, never came from the hand of a tailor.

The new suits are in a number of very smart models, and the patterns are varied enough to suit every taste—grays, browns, tans, in stripes, plaids and checks.

The new Fall overcoats are certainly very snappy; you'll find your kind here. It is hardly necessary to say that Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are always all-wool; you get no cotton mixture stuff under that name.

Other departments are full also of fine seasonable goods; hats of the latest blocks; shirts and neckwear like a regular flower garden of color and rich design.

We are showing all that's new and up to date in Men's Fine Shoes, Hats, Furnishings and Neckwear and can please the most fastidious. Swell Fancy Vests, Dress Shirts and Hosiery.
