Union City ABC Agents Making Border Arrests

Two Alcoholic Beverage Control agents from Union City, along with several other officers, seized more than 2,000 half-pints of liquor at a motel near Corinth, Miss., last Friday afternoon after two days of undercover work, Union City Agent Charles L. Stanley reported.

ABC agents and members of the Tennessee Highway Patrol made the raid and confiscated 2,088 half-pints, the officer said. Tennessee taxes had not been paid on any of the liquor, Agent Stanley said.

Arrested in the raid were Mrs. Louise Hancock, owner and manager of the Shamrock Motel, and two employees, Bea Burk and Howard Carroll. Carroll and Burk were charged with selling whisky and Mrs. Hancock with possession.

Agent Stanley said he and Agent Philip Holt of Memphis stayed at the motel for two days and personally made purchases of whisky from the two employees before the raid was conducted. The motel is located near the Mississippi state line on Highway 45-W, the officer said.

Also on the raid were Agent Robert E. Rhea of Union City, Alfred Evans of Jackson, ABC supervisor for West Tennessee, and the following members of the Highway Patrol: Capt. T. R. Brooks of Huntingdon, Lt. Joe B. Williams of Jackson, Sgt. R. L. McCallahan of McNairy county, and state troopers James Piercey and Sug Lewis of Jackson and trooper Jimmy Rogers of McNairy county. Agent Stanley said the haul was the biggest made in West Tennessee since the ABC opened its Union City office and expanded its operation in Northwest Tennessee a few months ago.

Derby's Beer Sales Suspended For Violations

The retail beer license of the Derby Cafe on Highway 51 by-pass has been suspended for five days, A. B. Meade the Malt Beverage Administrator with the Alcoholic Beverage Board in Frankfort announced today. The restaurant was charged with permitting its patrons to drink whiskey on the premises in violation of Kentucky Statute 243.020.

The suspension began on January 23 and continues through January 28. According to the ABC board's report the restaurant's attorney, Rodney Miller, pled guilty to the charge and waived rights to appeal the suspension.

In a citation issued on December 9, 1965, the malt beverage administrator wrote the Derby that "you, your agents and/or employees did permit two patrons to consume distilled spirits on your premises licensed only for the sale of beer at retail."

"At said time and place, a waitress in your employment served ice cubes and set-ups in order that said patrons could mix distilled spirits drinks which they did in the presence of other persons on the licensed premises and in the presence and with the consent of the said waitress, in violation of the above statute." Leonard Press, ETV Director To Speak Here

O. Leonard Press, executive director of the Kentucky Authority for Educational Television will be a guest speaker at the Fulton Women's Club on Friday, February 4 when the Drama Department of the club is host to the general meeting.

Mrs. Ben Davis, program chairman for the day said that Mr. Press will have an important message to bring to the local clubwomen about the future and progress of educational television and how it will affect the local school systems.

The meeting will be held at the clubhouse beginning at 1:30 p. m. All interested parties are invited to hear this prominent speaker.

Mrs. Paul Westpheling is program leader for the day.

Mrs. Morris, 41 Dies Saturday In Memphis Hospital

Mrs. Delydia Nell Morris, 41-year-old South Fulton resident, was dead on arrival at a Memphis hospital Saturday afternoon after being flown there for treatment of a gunshot wound.

Mrs. Morris, wife of Eddie Morris, owner of the Melrose Chemical Co., was shot in the right temple at her home on West Paducah Street, and was rushed to Hillview Hospital in Fulton. She was later flown to Memphis.

The body was returned to Hornbeak Funeral Home in Fulton. Mrs. Morris, a native of Weakley County, Tenn., is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Lillie Nora Blaylock, South Fulton; seven children, Bobby Gene, Elaine, Norene, Charles and Roy, all at home, Morton Morris, Livermore, Calif., and David W. Morris, Ft. Benning, Ga.; three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Payne, Harris, Tenn., Mrs. J. W. Starke, South Fulton, and Mrs. Harold Arnold, Route 2, Fulton; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mrs. Morris were held Monday afternoon at two o'clock in Hornbeak Funeral chapel, with Rev. Gerald Stow, pastor of the South Fulton Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Obion County Memorial Gardens.

Local Schools To Join FDEA, Others In Salary Protest Day February 3

Bobby Snider, president of the Fulton City Education Association said that the members of his organization would join in the salary Protest Day scheduled for February 3. At a meeting held Wednesday afternoon in Hickman the Fulton County Education Association also voted to join in the protest movement.

Snider Writes Teachers' View Of Protest Day

FULTON CITY SCHOOLS
Fulton, Kentucky

January 20, 1966

Dear Editor:

The First District Education Association gave added support to the Kentucky Education Association's call for a one-day walkout Feb. 3 in a campaign for higher teacher pay by unanimously endorsing the proposal in a well-attended meeting at Murray State College Monday night.

In the form of a resolution, FDEA gave its support to action taken by the KEA delegate assembly in a Jan. 15 meeting at Frankfort.

The First District group's resolution said:

"It is the sense of this body that all certified personnel of the First District of the FDEA should comply with the request of the KEA, and we commend that all of the membership of the FDEA observe Feb. 3 as a professional protest day in which schools will not be in session."

"And we recommend that on that day the teachers of the various school districts meet, and in a carefully-planned way, spend the day in serious discussion of their common school interests and their mutual problems, and thus seek constructively to improve the schools and the teaching situation in our state. We suggest that we invite interested citizens to counsel with us."

Following approval of the resolution, delegates from the various school districts overwhelmingly voted to turn their Feb. 3 protest into a district-wide gathering at Murray State College. Time of the meeting will be announced later.

Monday night's action by the FDEA group, numbering around 500 persons, followed a report by Leon Smith, superintendent of McCracken County schools, on the KEA's 1966 legislative program.

The resolution relating to the Feb. 3 walkout and meeting was presented by Bradford Mutchler, Paducah, president of FDEA.

Mutchler told the group:

"We covet the understanding of boards of education in our endeavors."

The resolution adopted Monday night also said:

The Fulton City Education Association met in called session Tuesday, January 18, 1966. The association voted by a comfortable majority to support the plan as set forth by the KEA Delegate Assembly to hold a "Professional Protest Day," on February 3, 1966.

The members of our association wish to express our appreciation to the local Board of Education for their every effort on our behalf. This includes providing full raises for all faculty members even though we have more teachers than minimum foundation classroom units. We realize the Board has done all it can to help us.

The organization would like to express our thanks to the people of Fulton for their cooperation and for their loyal support of the bond issues for school improvement, and everything they have done in the interest of better educational opportunities for our youth.

We do feel that we must accept the leadership of our "Parent Organization, KEA," in trying to make the people across the state of Kentucky more aware of the very low position Kentucky occupies in teacher's salaries and in money spent per pupil.

We would like to take this opportunity to urge you to support us in this cause which affects every child in the State of Kentucky. We would like this to be our common goal that we provide a better education for every child in the State of Kentucky.

State's Congressmen Favor 4-Year Terms

President Johnson's recommendation of a four-year term for House members won strong support among Kentucky's seven House members.

But it's a different story with the state's two senators.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., indicated that he leans toward the idea but said he would make no commitment.

He added, however, that if four-year terms are initiated he would prefer to see them staggered with half the House membership elected every two years.

Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky., said that as a former House member he is aware of the time and effort involved in biennial campaigning.

But, he added, the two-year term is "one of the clearest safeguards to the system of checks and balances envisaged by those who wrote the Constitution."

The founding fathers, Morton said, were wise in setting up safeguards against tyranny. Although they gave a substantial amount of power to the executive branch, he said, they checked it by making the House the people's branch of government.

Chief advocate of the four-year term among Kentucky House members is Rep. Frank Chelf, Democrat, sponsor of a proposed amendment to the Constitution to initiate the four-year term.

The President's recommendation in his State of the Union message, however, came as a surprise to Chelf.

Johnson's proposal differed from Chelf's by calling for election of the entire House at the same time a President is chosen. The Chelf bill would stagger the four-year House terms with half the members elected every two years.

Also favoring a four-year term are Kentucky Reps. Carl D. Perkins and Frank A. Stubblefield, both Democrats, and Tim Lee Carter, the state's only House Republican.

Water Valley Man Piles Up Trouble

A Water Valley, Ky., man was stopped by Union City police on Reelfoot avenue last week and wound up in jail with five charges against him.

Police Chief John King identified the man as Kelly V. Rose, 58. Police signed warrants charging Rose with the possession of an illegal weapon (pistol), possession of liquor, driving while intoxicated, driving without a license and resisting arrest.

Poe and Lohaus Honored At Kennel Banquet

Sara Jane Poe and Wayne Lohaus, seniors at Fulton High School, were named recipients of the 1966 "Citizenship Award" last Saturday night at the annual FHS "Kennel" banquet held at the Derby Cafe.

Approximately 50 attended the dinner and preceding the announcement of the awards were addressed by Prof. L. H. Edmondson of the Murray State College Journalism department.

Both of the Citizenship Award winners have been outstanding students throughout their four years at Fulton High; they were chosen "Mr. and Mrs. FHS" this year.

Barkley Special, Scouts Aboard First To Cross New Barkley Dam

Commemorating the recollection of one of Paducah's most famous sons Alben W. Barkley, the Four Rivers Council Boy Scouts of America in cooperation with the Illinois Central Railroad will run a special train, the "Barkley Scout Special."

The "Barkley Scout Special" will leave Paducah January 29th at 9:00 AM and arrive in Princeton, Kentucky at 10:30 AM. It will load from the site of the old Union Station.

This will be the first passenger train to cross the new one hundred forty million dollar Barkley Dam. The train will travel at a slow rate of speed so that all passengers may enjoy the scenery.

All registered Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, leaders and parents are invited to participate. Cost of the train (round trip) will be $2.00 per person. Fares will be collected by Unit leaders and turned in at the Four Rivers Council Office - 1501 Broadway - immediately.

Special Barkley souvenir tickets will be stamped by conductors aboard.

Passengers will bring a sack lunch. Drinks can be purchased on the train.

The "Barkley Scout Special" will unload in Princeton where everyone will hike one block to the High School for lunch and program. The "Les Voyageurs" authentic Indian Dance Team and a group of folk singers will provide entertainment.

Highlighting the program is the possibility of I. C. President Wayne A. Johnson appearing for a brief address. Mr. Johnson is a member of the National Council Boy Scouts of America and has been very active in Scouting for many years.

Martin Rowland, local Scout Office, said today that the success of the project would demand an immediate response from local Cub Scouts and Boy Scout leaders.

Medicare Cards Mailed To 10,000 In This Area

Health Insurance Cards are being mailed, beginning January 24, to about 10,000 age 65-plus residents of the eleven-county Paducah Social Security district, according to district manager, Charles Whitaker.

"This first mailing of Medicare cards", Whitaker said, "will go to those who have signed up for both Hospital Insurance and Medical Insurance. Those undecided about enrollment in the Medical Insurance, available for a $3 monthly premium, will receive their cards later as they still have until March 31st to enroll."

"An increasing number of people who had delayed applying are now signing up", Whitaker continued. "Over 600 applications were received in the local office during the last two weeks."

Of the Hospital Insurance applications cleared during January (for final approval) 92 percent applied for both types of insurance, 5 percent applied for Hospital Insurance but decided not to enroll for Medical Insurance. The others have not yet decided.

Statistics as to enrollments of Social Security beneficiaries are not yet available on a county basis (as the cards were mailed directly to Baltimore). However, Whitaker feels that locally, early enrollments were less than 90 percent but many local beneficiaries who decided against Medical Insurance are now changing their minds.

Local beneficiaries who have misplaced the enrollment cards mailed to them last year, or who responded but wish to change their decisions, should get in touch with the Paducah Office.

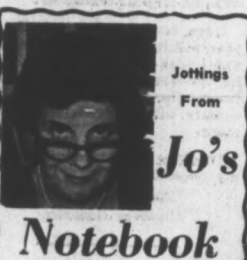

Whitaker reminded all eligibles that those who have not enrolled for Medical Insurance by March 31st will not be entitled to complete Medicare benefits this July, when the plan will be effective. Enrollment in the next scheduled period (October-December 1967) would not be effective until July 1968.

Public Invited To "Open House" Here Next Sunday

With Fulton's Municipal housing units completed and ready for occupancy (some already are), the Housing Commission is "showing off" three of its units next Sunday in the Westwood site, one which is shown above. The public is cordially invited to inspect interiors of three selected units at this site Sunday, and to tour the grounds of the other two sites. See page 3, second section.

Please read our editorial page today. You'll be fascinated at the letters and the progress being made even this early with the Banana Festival program.

Speaking of the editorial page, I just want you to look opposite the editorial page and see that perfectly magnificent photograph done by Gardner's Studio on the church page. I have always known these folks to be experts, but each week when another church picture is brought in, I marvel even more. Tell them you admire them too, won't you?

What a nice telephone visit I had with Mrs. John Oswald, the dynamic president of the equally dynamic president of the University of Kentucky on Wednesday. Roz, (she prefers being called that) is off to Chicago today (Thursday) to attend a meeting of President Johnson's new commission on arts. Roz will be going with Mrs. Barry Bingham and Mrs. Rex Blazer, a couple of other wonderful women. Roz and I talked at length about her Commission's participation in the Banana Festival. She said that if plans can be worked out she wants to make a showing of some truly significant art, American and Kentuckian, for said she, "To the Commission must keep its program on a very high plain, lest we shall never succeed."

In talking of housing for the exhibit some of us thought that we had the ideal place. More about that later.

Incidentally Roz gave us a recipe for eating bananas the most delicious way in the world... it's a custom that has been in her family for generations and it's going down to many more.

Says she: Cut your bananas coin-size, put them over cereal, sprinkle with sugar and then squeeze a lemon rind over them and they're... umm-m-m-m-m-m, peeling good.

Dear Gustavo:

Thank you for your letter dated January 21st. I am well aware that you were appointed to the XX Assembly at the United Nations.

Mrs. Westpheling is truly a fine person, with a tremendous amount of dedication and drive toward the Banana Festival which fits in so well with the purposes and aims of Ecuador. This year's Festival is already in the planning stage and should be even greater than last year's.

Banana Festival Program Commands Respect Of Nation; Your Help And Talents Needed

From time to time we have been publishing in our "Letters of Interest" column various communications that have been received in connection with the activities of our now famous Banana Festival.

We have published them primarily because we are proud of the reputation our communities have established for staging an activity of such international significance. Secondly, we publish them because we feel that all 7000 of us have an obligation to make people-to-people friendships on a continuing, year-round basis.

It takes years of hard work and dedicated planning to capture the interest and support of the proper individuals, agencies and organizations for a program such as ours. The Banana Festival has now transcended the category of a community, publicity gimmick and is now on firm ground as a worthwhile and sincere effort to exhibit the "coincidence of interests" we have with our Central American neighbors.

To prove this we think you will be interested in an incident that happened just this past week.

The President of the Banana Festival received a call last Thursday from Joseph Farland, former Ambassador to the Dominican Republic and to Panama. Ambassador Farland revealed that General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is national chairman of the People-to-People program, had written him regarding our Banana Festival and asked that Ambassador Farland make contact with us regarding support for our future activities.

Ambassador Farland is executive director of the national People-to-People program. He asked that we send him all the material available on past festivals and future plans so that he may review them to determine their participation in this year's event.

On this page you will notice too, that Stuart Morrison, executive director of Operation Amigo is working on this year's program, as are the Tourist Commissions of Guatemala and Ecuador.

This week-end a representative of the Banana Festival will be in Frankfort to attend a meeting of the Kentucky Partners for the Alliance. A call Monday from the executive director of that organization advised that concrete plans will be made to have our twin cities "adopt" Guayaquil in Ecuador as a "sister" city. Guayaquil is known as the Banana Capital of the World. What better "sister" could the Banana Crossroads of America have as a partner to cement friendly relationships with that far-away city.

It is no secret that almost every worthwhile community effort is a vehicle for making friendships, not only with people we see every day, but with people in high places whose respect we wish to command; be they industrialists, diplomats, government officials or just good, everyday kind of folks.

We would rather imagine that there are still a number of people in our twin cities who might view the Banana Festival as "much ado about nothing." We hope that this attitude stems not from a lack of community spirit, but from a lack of knowledge as to what the Festival really means and what it can accomplish if all of us contribute our special talents to making it a success from year to year.

Each year there are new "converts" to the cause of the Banana Festival. Last year some of the most renowned skeptics and opponents were won over with the success and meaning of our Operation Amigo program. This year we hope that the conversion will be complete and unanimous.

We bring you up to date on the comments received from last year's Festival because soon we will be in the throes of planning and staging another bigger and better event.

If you are called upon to help with the program and for financing, won't you please respond in the same manner that our twin cities have always responded to the call to duty.

Remember... it's better to light one candle than to curse the darkness. If the road to understanding and friendship with our far-away neighbors seems hazardous and futile sometimes, remember the old-Chinese proverb that warns "in order to take a thousand mile journey we must take the first step."

We have travelled farther than the first step with our Banana Festival. Let's not pause in the journey, difficult and tiresome though it may be!

Our Curious Times

The National Education Association reports the story of a determined janitor in an Akron, Ohio public school.

For nine long years Clarence Bradshaw pushed mops and brooms by day and attended college at night. He finally achieved his goals: degree, teaching certificate and elementary school teacher's position.

He also qualified for a cut in pay. As a teacher he earns $350 a year less than he did as janitor.

POETRY CORNER

From: RENAISSANCE

All I could see from where I stood
Was three long mountains and a wood;
I turned and looked the other way
And saw three islands and a bay.
So with my eyes I traced the line
Of the horizon, thin and fine,
Straight around till I was come Back to where I started from;
And all I saw from where I stood
Was three long mountains and a wood.
Over these things I could not see;
These were the things that bounded me.
The world stands out on either side
No wider than the soul is wide;
The heart can push the sea and land
Farther away on either hand;
The soul can split the sky in two
And let the face of God shine through;
But east and west will pinch the heart
That cannot keep them pushed apart;
And he whose soul is flat - the sky
Will cave in on him by and by.

Kentucky Windage

Did you ever notice? ... In reporting new and "higher" federal budgets every year, the stories usually add something like this: "however high this year's budget may be, the government expects to spend just a very little more than it will take in", meaning that the national debt will rise just a slight bit higher. (maybe just another billion or two).

We are firmly convinced that Washington is populated with an overabundance of knuckleheads whose sole career is to spend every dime that can be grunged out of the nation's taxpayers.

This week, for instance, the budget for FY 1967 was announced as the highest in history, but announced that "receipts are soaring, and the deficit was estimated to be only 1.8 billion..." the smallest since 1960. Further down in the story one learns that this year we have gone $6.4 billion dollars further in debt. If we have enough zeros on our line-type, that amounts to $6,400,000,000.00.

And yet they say we are a rich nation. If we are so darn rich, why cannot we begin retiring our national debt and save that 11c out of every budget dollar that is doing nothing but paying interest on what we already owe???

That life is soon going to grow to 15c, and then to 25c, and then, if we are still in business as a federation of States, on and on until we are no more. I simply don't understand it. The City of Fulton wouldn't stand for a Mayor and Commission that annually increases public indebtedness; ditto for the Fulton County Fiscal Court. Even the Governor of Kentucky and his party are held to an accounting every four years by the voters of this State, and their criticism is quite frank and personal. And effective.

Is the Federal government so far removed from the personal feelings of the citizens that it can spend millions here and millions there without honest regard for necessity? ... but rather, concern over "pressure" groups, lobbyists, cloak-room flinching and swapping personal empire-building. And such? We are supposed to have some of the country's most educated brains in Washington; are they such lousy businessmen that they can't make ends meet?

If Frank Stubblefield, or "Fats" Everett, or Senator Cooper happen to read this, I'd be curious to learn your individual explanations.

See where Jackie Gleason is going to suspend his "American Scene Magazine" TV skit for a year, and what a shame. If he is getting bored doing it, that makes it all the better to present, and all the more humorous and true-to-life.

Lou Edmondson, head of the Journalism Department over at Murray and a long-time friend and former fellow-student at Missouri ('yea long years ago'), tells me he is STILL looking diligently for good college newspapermen and gals. Lou supervises production of a first-class weekly college paper at Murray that has a circulation of around 7000, and production and writing is all done by a student staff.

"If you'll send us a good student interested in working on the College paper (some jobs are even paying jobs), we'll put him or her to work and be glad to get the help". Lou continually tells me. In past years we sent him Wayne Anderson, Karen Dublin and Kay Morris, and he spoke highly of all three for the work they did. And although Jimmy Wright didn't continue his artwork on the College News at Murray which he began back when he was cartooning and doing miscellaneous drawings for the Kennel at Fulton High, he has gone on to an art career from this modest beginning.

So to you students working on the Fulton and South Fulton school papers (as well as others on other papers in this area), I say that if you like newspapering in any of its forms, and plan to attend Murray, go see Prof. Edmondson and ask for a job. And the more experience you can get beforehand, the better... but if you don't have any, don't let that worry you. Lou confides that some of his best talent comes from students who have no previous high-school paper experience.

The demand for college-trained people in the communications field has far exceeded the supply every year.

Was telling Gaylon Varden this week about a gal hereabouts who owns a new Mustang and who got to wondering if she had enough anti-freeze in it early this week during the snowstorm. "I guess I have enough", she mused, "it starts all right every morning, these cold days". She was startled to learn that anti-freeze doesn't have a darn thing to do with its ability to start.

"Well now, I'll tell you one", Gaylon replied. "Not long ago an intelligent fellow—a college graduate, mind you—to whom we had sold a new car, called in here with this: 'Say, how do you add water to this thing?'"

And while I'm on the subject of Mustangs, here's another that I'm sure that some of Fulton High students will get a kick out of: Gaylon mentioned that his wife (who drives a Mustang) was in a hurry to get to Union City recently, was nearly out of gas, rushed into a service station, filled up and headed out. About half way there the motor began emitting all kind of strange explosions, and sputtering as though it was out of gas. A worried call from Union City brought help, and the trouble was finally located: she had the tank filled with diesel fuel. (If Gaylon thought I was going to mention that one, I'm sure he never would have told me).

The guide on a sight-seeing bus informed his passengers that at that moment they were passing one of the largest breweries in the country. A bored man in the back suddenly came to life. "Why?" he asked.—Ala. Service Station News.

Carl Bostick bought the Harley Henderson farm near Watts Station and has moved there. Willie Johnson has moved to the Kenneth and Daniel Gardner's home. Herschel Meadows has moved back to his home and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Vaughn have moved to the Hughey Hicks house until the completion of their new home. Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Moore moved to Fulton.

From Austin Springs: Mrs. Ernest Poyner entertained with a miscellaneous shower for her brother, Cecil Alderdice, and his fair bride, the former Miss Dorothy Caldwell of Fulton, on January 18 at her home near here. Many nice and useful gifts were bestowed on the Christmas nuptials, along with good wishes for a happy wedded life.

Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts have moved to their home, after recently purchasing the Russ Ray farm.

Dear Jo:

I have received newspapers from Quito reproducing the pictures taken in Fulton. They have brought to me the most pleasing remembrances of the fugacious but unforgettable three days in that lovely city and with so marvelous people by occasion of the International Banana Festival.

Could you send me a few copies of your distinguished newspaper with the original chronicles?

I am sure the Festival of this year will be even more successful, and I wish it will be a new occasion for the warmhearted relations between these twin cities and my country will be strengthened even more.

Thanking your kind attention to my request, I am

Rev. Kitterman succeeds Rev. Glenn Kapperman, who resigned in August.

The Paris District Susannas met on January 20 in the parsonage of Murray First Church, with Imogene Ramer serving as hostess, assisted by Opal Underwood, Neva Maxedon, Bessie Tucker, Ethie James, Ruby Weather and Laura Galloway.

The meeting was called to order by the district president, Frances Barnes, and the devotion was given by Nancy Wheatley.

A very interesting program was given by Lela Diggs, after which a delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses.

South Fulton Department Of Safety Beneficial To Taxpayers, Citizens

(Ed's Note: The following communication has been received from Henry Dunn, Jr., city manager of South Fulton, Tenn., setting forth an explanation of the Department of Public Safety in that city, its benefits to the taxpayers and the safety for its citizens.)

The city of South Fulton began an integration of the Police and Fire Departments in May of 1965, with the passage of an Ordinance abolishing the Police and Fire Departments, and the establishment of a Department of Public Safety.

The Ordinance as passed provides for a Director of Public Safety to head the Department, with the abolition of the position of Police Chief and Fire Chief in the service of the city.

While the Ordinance as passed calls for complete integration with only the position title of Public Safety Officer in the Department, the positions of Policeman and Fireman being abolished, actual practice has demonstrated that in order to successfully establish such an organization, it is necessary to combine the Departments on a partial basis.

This partial combining of Departments has been successfully carried out by employing a Director to head the Department, and appointing a Fireman to fill the position of Fire Chief. In actual practice, the Director of Public Safety is also the Police Chief, yet the entire operation is under his authority and direction. We had not planned on having the position of Fire Chief in our administrative organization, but found that it was to our best advantage to maintain and fill this position.

In employing a Director of Public Safety, I did something which is somewhat "unique" based on standard personnel standards, in employing someone without specific experience in Police and Fire functions, yet, who was the best qualified person available for the job.

Our pay scale did not permit us to employ someone fully experienced in law enforcement and fire fighting techniques. Yet, it was realized that we needed a Director who was intelligent, tactful, and diplomatic for the position, in addition to other qualifications.

The person employed as Director of Public Safety is twenty-eight years of age, has three years of college education, and served as an officer in the US Air Force for five years. This combination of education and experience has permitted him to carry out the duties of the position in a most effective and efficient manner.

South Fulton has a population of 3,400, with 7 full time personnel working on public safety functions. The functions of police, fire, including fourteen volunteers, and civil defense are all under the Director of Public Safety.

Those personnel originally employed as either Police or Firemen are not required to work in the other function if they do not wish to do so. Some have elected to work in both functions and some have not. However, all personnel take training in both police and fire functions.

Since the inception of the Department, a Police Procedure Manual has been compiled, and monthly reports of all activities are now prepared in a comprehensive manner.

Two written reports which have proved of great value are the Incident Report, which is compiled on any crime, accident, fire or arrest; and the Assignment Report, utilized whenever any police officer is dispatched for any reason.

In 1965, we had a 32 percent reduction in the number of Fire Alarms, compared to 1964, the 1965 number being 49, with 72 in 1964. Also noteworthy is the reduction in the cost of the volunteer service to the city, which was $499 less in 1965 than it was in 1964, the above figures being the calendar year ending December 31st.

It is become apparent that there is a much better understanding of the use of equipment since the partial combining of the two departments, and over a long period of time, I firmly believe the City will have a much more efficient and qualified public safety activity than they would have had with completely separate departments.

Introducing Our Churches - God's Agency For Spreading His Love

SOUTH FULTON BAPTIST CHURCH TELEPHONE 479-2331

The South Fulton Baptist Church was organized November 17, 1946 with 61 charter members. The church met in a building next door to the South Fulton City Hall. In May 1947, the congregation moved to a store building on East State Line. At the end of the first year, 71 new members had been added to the church. In the spring of 1948, a lot was purchased on Central Ave. and construction began on a church building. A storm destroyed the building before it was completed and the church then bought a house on East State Line.

The church's last move was to its present location where the first structure was erected in 1955. In 1960 the second building, an educational unit was completed, and the permanent auditorium was completed in 1965. Total property evaluation is in excess of $200,000.

The church places primary importance upon evangelism (the winning and training of converts to faith in Jesus Christ) and missions. The church cooperates with over 10 million other Southern Baptists in this country to support over 2000 missionaries around the world.

REV. GERALD L. STOW
Pastor

The teaching agency of the church is the Sunday School which meets every Sunday morning at 9:45 A. M.

The Training Union meets at 5:00 P. M. Sunday evenings. The Teacher Trainer class and the Pastor's New Member class meet at the same time.

The Men's Fellowship and Women's Missionary Union complete the church organization.

Regular worship services are held each Sunday at 11:00 A. M. and 6:00 P. M. Prayer meeting is Wednesday at 7:00 P. M. Community visitation is Thursday at 7:00 P. M.

A unique ministry of the church is their regular broadcast "Moments of Hope". This is a broadcast of the Sunday morning worship service over WFUL at 12:30 P. M.

Rev. Gerald Stow has been the pastor of the church since June 1964. He came to the church from Fort Worth, Texas. He is a graduate of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and holds the B. S. and M. S. degrees from the University of Tennessee. They make their home on Circle Drive in South Fulton.

Kentucky Baptists Conduct 40-State Program Meetings

During the week of January 24-28, the Kentucky Baptist Convention personnel will conduct "Church Programing" conferences in 40 areas of the state. Every church does some programing, for programing is "planning in detail the activities of a church". The Convention is trying to give assistance in this planning through materials and men of the staff who are concerned with the growth of the churches. This is called "Church Programing" — a Plan for Church Advance.

Ten teams will each go to four areas during the week in an effort to cover the entire state. The team will be composed of a Kentucky Baptist Convention representative, a Southern Baptist Convention representative, and a representative from the local association.

SOPHOMORE PRESIDENT!

Paul Blaylock, a liberal arts sophomore at UTMB, has been elected president of the Sophomore Class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blaylock of South Fulton.

Two sessions will be held each day. An afternoon conference from 4:00 to 5:45 will present "Setting Church Goals". The evening conference, 7:00-9:00 will present "Selecting and Planning Church Strategies" or "ways" for carrying out the goals set by the church.

Baptist pastors, deacon chairmen, Sunday school superintendents, training union directors, brotherhood presidents, W. M. U. presidents, music directors, stewardship chairmen, and treasurers plus associational leaders - missionaries and moderators will attend. Interested laymen are also invited. Meeting in this area will be held at Mayfield First Baptist Church, Jan. 24, 1966, host pastor John C. Huffman.

LOCAL TEACHERS

"In view of the action taken by the governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky in appointing a committee of 20 members with himself as chairman and the state superintendent of public instruction as vice chairman, and consisting of six legislative, six private citizens and six from the field of education for the express purpose of making a thorough study of our educational problems' with emphasis on financing, which committee has been called to meet today.

"And in view of the interest shown by other committees and citizens' groups we feel that we have new reasons for hope that conditions will be improved in our Commonwealth."

First District delegates at a special assembly of KEA at Frankfort on Jan. 15 played a key role in the passing of two motions, including the call for an official protest day.

The two motions, introduced by Mrs. Martha Dell Sanders of Paducah, president of the KEA's Department of Classroom Teachers, called for:

1. A "Protest Day" not later than Feb. 4 in which every teacher and other person involved in operating schools stay out of work to make the public more aware of the education crisis.

2. After all known avenues have been explored towards solving or meeting the educational crisis, machinery for sanction of the severest kind be set in motion.

Sanction in the "severest form" would mean that Kentucky could be "blacklisted" by the National Educational Association after an investigation by an NEA team determined that sanctions were called for. If invoked, sanctions would notify placement agencies throughout the nation.

What are young ladies made of? The same things as little girls. They're made up of big brown eyes, a winning smile and a family who loves them because they're so nice!

You can see that I'm not a poet, but I wish I were. Because if I were I could say so many things that make sweet poetry for all parents who enjoy the great happiness that comes when a daughter reaches "sweet sixteen."

Our Mary Jo reached her sixteenth birthday yesterday (January 26). In spite of the horror of using a tired, old cliché, I must say I can hardly believe it. And yet I should! She has always been a kind of "leader of the pack" in our household. Even as a tiny little girl I can remember how most of the mischief she and R. Paul got into was perpetrated by her. Like the time both of them, about four and six, got into the basement and threw pop bottles against the concrete walls just to hear them snap, crackle and pop.

She dreamed that up and then decided to hide in the coal bin when the maid called me from the office to report the near catastrophe. I went home to find both little blonde heads so black with oily stoker coal it took a week to make them look human.

And Mary Jo just laughed and laughed, just as she has been the center of most happy laughter in our household. On long trips, as I have told you before, she is a real comedian.

Once driving home from St. Joseph, Missouri, from our annual Thanksgiving visit, the weather outside was frightful, but the fun in our car was delightful, because Mary Jo made it so.

And now she's a young lady. The little, yellow organdy pinafores are now sleek, sheath evening dresses for beauty revues. The mud pies has been replaced by so many modern cosmetics we can hardly clean her dresser. The laughter and the wit is still there, but for her birthday the laugh is on her.

She wrote her first check and it bounced. She bought a pair of shoes "with her own money," gave a check on her savings account, which Bill Scott at the Fulton Bank says you just can't do, young lady.

But we covered it! She'll get sixteen dollars for her birthday, one for each year, as she has been getting since her year one.

She'll also get a driver's permit. So if you see me thumbing a ride on West State Line, you'll never know why.

"Sweet Sixteen," ... never has it meant so much to so few. Happy Birthday Miss Mary Jo.

David Dunn, Max Omar and Joe Hoodenpyle went on a little safari last Saturday, either proving that they are grown men or adventurers. All three took the very early train to Memphis for reasons known only to themselves. If it was a shopping spree, the Memphis stores got cheated, for the bundles they brought home could be put in their vest pockets. Their failure to shop there is a compliment to our local stores, but gee it was a long way, and a cold way to see the big city.

For the past two week-ends we have had "do you remember when" sessions that have been out of this world. This past week-end Lou Edmondson, a member of the Murray State College Journalism Department was our house-guest, coming here to be the principal speaker at the annual Kennel banquet held Saturday night. Lou and Paul graduated from the University of Missouri at Columbia and besides that they are fraternity brothers (Delta Tau Delta.)

Lou came in the afternoon, went to the banquet, then came back for a long talk session before a log fire in the den, where he and Paul devoured the contents of Paul's college scrapbook. Every picture brought back a memory and some special incident about the person, much to their delight.

I left them about eleven o'clock and went to bed. They were still yakking when I got up, so they must have reminisced to their heart's content.

The week-end before that was a joy to behold.

Kitty Stull, a very dear and very old friend from our days in Washington, D. C. called from McKenzie, Tenn. to tell us that she had chaperoned her daughter and three other young ladies for a week-end of fun at Bethel College. Her plane landed in Paris, Tenn. She sent the pilots on back to Asheville, N. C. where she lives, thinking that she could get a rent-a-car and drive on over to Fulton to visit with us.

Well, she couldn't get a commercial rental car, but the airport attendant was nice enough to lend her an old model Ford for her private transportation to McKenzie. It didn't take long for her to realize that the car wasn't up to making a long trip so she called us to tell her story of woe.

We didn't take long to come to the aid of our party. Paul drove over to get her. We started talking the minute she got in the door, and were still at it when Jean and Bill McCarthy drove us back to McKenzie where we joined the teenage excitement.

Kitty is the wife of Phil Stull, former executive vice-president of Hercules Powder Company of Wilmington, Delaware. Phil is now the president of the American Enka Company of Asheville, a plastic manufacturing firm, whose parent company is in Holland. They fly back and forth across the Atlantic with as much regularity as we cross Harris Fork Creek.

In between the bantering and wondering where some of our former friends are now, Kitty told of her interesting family trip around the world last year. We almost feel like we ought to have sent you postcards the visit was so interesting. But most of all the visit brought back so many pleasant memories of war-time Washington, where our home in Chevy Chase was a clearing house for almost every agency in the Federal government.

Kitty was with the War Production Board; I was with the Office of War Information; another was secretary to General George C. Marshall; another a ghost-writer for the White House, and on and on and on.

We hadn't seen Kitty in 18 years, but have kept close contact with each other all these years.

Richard Moss Overcomes Many Obstacles ... And A Profession To Get An Education

Richard Moss has fun while studying electronics

Richard Moss is 21 years old and a student at the Vocational and Technical Training School at Newbern, Tenn. Normally this is about all you can say about a fellow following the normal pursuits of acquiring a profession, but not so with this McConnell, Tenn. resident.

Richard graduated from South Fulton High School with the class of 1964, but one thing is for sure, he did it the hard way.

While a high school student at South Fulton, Richard left his classmates behind to join the Navy and see the world—and that he did. He served for 27 months doing duty all over the world, including India. On being discharged from the Navy Richard was hospitalized for 17 months, thus delaying his intention to go back to school and get that coveted high school diploma.

But his illness did not keep Richard from wanting the diploma bad enough to study for it while he was sick and he did that diligently. He was told by school officials that he could take an examination in the prescribed studies, and if he passed he could be graduated. He studied, he took the examination and he passed.

With a diploma proudly tucked away to his credit, Richard entered the Vocational and Technical Training School at Newbern, Tenn. and is putting his every effort into studying electronics. Upon completion of the course he hopes to go on with more study in that field with his final goal a degree in electrical engineering.

The Newbern School, in operation about a year, is giving similar opportunities to area students to learn a skilled trade. With an enrollment of about 200 day students, it is operated under the auspices of government supervision. So successful have been the courses that the school has opened night courses with already about 100 students enrolled.

Richard is the son of Mrs. Veneda Moss and R. H. Moss. Mrs. Moss is a nurse at Hillview Hospital. She is "right proud" of her son she says, and has a right to be. Any fellow who is diligent enough to serve his country, overcome an illness and still keep the desire to get an education is a right special kind of a guy, anyway you look at him.

Owners Required To List Property With Tax Commissioner By March 1

Owners are required to list property with the county tax commissioner before March 1, according to State Revenue Commissioner J. E. Luckett.

He pointed out that the Court of Appeals has ruled property must be assessed at its fair cash value. The law places the responsibility for listing and valuing property upon the owner, Luckett emphasized.

The 1965 special session of the Legislature enacted laws that every taxing district reduce rates so that property will produce no more revenue in 1966 than in 1965. A county, city or local district school board may increase total general fund revenue by not more than 10 per cent in fiscal 1966-67 and 1967-68 after a public hearing.

The law requires the county tax commissioner to list and value property if the owner fails to do so. Unless the owner does this or inspects the tax roll during the week of the first Monday in May, he may lose the right to appeal the assessment, Luckett said.

He pointed out that while the total property tax revenue for any taxing district shall not be increased, except for new property and the local 10 per cent permissive increase for each of two years, individual tax bills may be changed.

If a taxpayer has had an average assessment in the past, his 1966 tax bill should change little, any, Luckett said. If he has had higher than average assessments, he should receive some decrease. If he has had an assessment below average, he should receive an increase in his tax bill.

Since the Court of Appeals ruling, the county tax commissioners, under the supervision of the Department of Revenue, have been making advance preparation for the 1966 assessment as directed by the Court. In most counties, tentative full values already have been made on all real estate.

Luckett said the procedures being used by the county tax commissioners are based on one of the most widely accepted property appraisal principles—the use of comparable sales.

Under this method, the tax commissioner compares properties which have not sold with like properties which have sold recently. If properties are different, allowances are made for the differences.

Luckett suggested that property owners who have owned their property for many years and are unsure of present value might use this method by comparing similar properties that have sold in recent years.

Lynn Thomas Callahan, III To Wed Miss Betsy Anne Bonifant In June

Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Dement Bonifant of Oak Lea Farm, Silver Spring, Maryland, announce the engagement of their daughter, Betsy Anne, to Lynn Thomas Callahan III, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lynn Thomas Callahan II, of Manor Club Estates, Rockville, Maryland.

Miss Bonifant attended the University of Maryland. Her fiancé is a pre-medical student at Wake Forest College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. He is the grandson of Mrs. L. H. Howard of Fulton.

A June wedding is planned.

Miss Bonifant

New Vets Law May Increase Some Benefits

Veterans and dependents of veterans on Veterans Administration compensation and pension rolls who have school age children will receive a special questionnaire with their January checks, due about February 1.

Olney B. Owen, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Louisville, Kentucky, said today that the VA needs additional information from parents in order to authorize benefits provided in a recent law. Not only have higher rates and additional payments for school children been allowed but the maximum age limit has been increased from 21 to 23.

The questionnaire also asks for the payee's Zip Code number in keeping with current postal regulation intended to speed up the delivery of both checks and correspondence.

A space is also provided for the payee's Social Security number, if available, so that identification files may be kept up to date.

This is particularly important to a veteran if he requires VA hospitalization since all admissions are now filed by Social Security number.

Chestnut Glade Homemakers See Flemish Flowers

The regular January meeting of the Chestnut Glade Home Demonstration Club was held in the home of Mrs. Harvey Vaughan.

The song was directed by Mrs. W. C. Morrison, and a very inspiring devotional from the 23rd Psalm was given by Mrs. Jim Burke. Each member answered the roll call by naming the small appliance most used by her.

Mrs. Helen Wiley, home agent, gave a most interesting lesson on the proper selection of garments and on designing personal patterns. Mrs. Margaret Futrell, bookmobile librarian, gave information concerning the reading project for the year and assisted in selecting books.

At the noon hour a bountiful dutch luncheon was enjoyed.

In the afternoon Mrs. W. C. Morrison, vice president, presented the craft leader, Mrs. Jim Burke, who gave an interesting demonstration on the making of Flemish flowers. Mrs. V. C. Simpson, garden leader, gave interesting and timely information concerning the care and selection of plants and shrubs.

Mrs. Laverne Owensby directed a clever word contest, which was won by Mrs. Harvey Vaughan.

Welcomed visitors were: Mrs. Jess Pate, Mrs. Maude Matheny, Mrs. Naomi Teague, Mrs. Irvin Brundige, Mrs. Johnnie Hazelwood and Tena, Mrs. Josephine Johnson, Mrs. Helen Wiley, Mrs. Margaret Futrell and little Miss Kim Webb.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. V. C. Simpson at 10 a. m., February 17. Visitors are cordially welcomed.

NEW FEDERAL REGULATIONS ON PRESCRIPTIONS

Prescriptions calling for certain drug products are restricted under new regulations of the U. S. Government FEBRUARY 1, 1966.

Under the new law, prescriptions containing these certain drugs may not be refilled more than five times. Nor may such a prescription be used after six months. This is now the FEDERAL law. It must be obeyed to the letter. Violations are subject to the imposition of criminal penalties. You can discuss this new law with your doctor or with us. We'll be glad to help.

Insect and Plant Disease Meeting Monday Night

The farm school going on in Obion County continues Monday night, January 31, with a session on insects and plant diseases conducted by Mr. Bill Johnson and Mr. Al Chambers from the University of Tennessee. Insects and plant diseases that damage crops in Obion County that will be discussed in detail include: European corn borer, Southern corn rootworm, alfalfa weevil, soybean cyst nematode, corn stunt, cotton seedling diseases and others. If you're bothered by any of the above insects - it'll pay you to attend the meeting Monday night.

Insect and Disease Short Course

Next week, January 31-February 1, the farm short course at Milan will be on plant insects and diseases. In this course, you will study the important insect and disease problems of the major crops in West Tennessee. A portion of the course will relate to safety in handling pesticides and how to survey and detect insect and disease problems. This section will deal with life cycles, insect distribution and control recommendations as well as current research on each problem area.

FARM DATES TO REMEMBER

- January 31 - Farm School - Insects and Disease - Obion County Central.
- February 3 - Farm Bureau Membership Kick-off Meeting - Union City.
- February 4 - West Tennessee Angus Sale - Brownsville.
- February 7 - Farm School - Swine Production - Obion County Central.
- February 9 - Farm School - Chemical Equipment - Obion County Central.
- February 12 - West Tennessee Polled Hereford Sale - Brownsville.

County 4-H Girls Plan Training Meet

Clothing Leaders for Fulton County 4-H girls enrolled in clothing projects will have a training meeting Friday, January 28, 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. in the Extension Office in the basement of the Hickman Post Office building.

Mrs. Anna C. Thompson, Fulton County Home Demonstration Agent, will conduct the meeting. The session will include discussions about 4-H clothing projects and ideas for working with the club members. All leaders and mothers who are interested in working with 4-H club clothing projects are invited to attend this meeting.

AUSTIN SPRINGS

By Mrs. Carey Fields

Rev. Russell Rodgers filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday at 11 a. m. Due to weather conditions and roads, the attendance of Sunday School dropped to 39.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Horn of Chicago are visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wess Jones, near here. They were in Jackson, Tenn., last week, where Mr. Horn is seeking employment.

Mrs. Buton Lassiter spent several days in Martin the past week, house guest of her children, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lassiter, who reside on Marshall Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay McConnell left Friday for their home in Chicago, after spending a week's vacation with their dad, W. J. Reed, District No. 17, and seeing all friends 'round about here. They had a nice visit, so the report goes.

Henry Copeland returned home from Madison County Hospital in Jackson, Tenn., after treatment there for a fractured hip. He is now laid up in bed while his fracture heals. Cards would cheer him, so everyone could send him that cheer. He is on Dresden Route.

Huse McGuire is feeling some better at this writing, at his home in the 1st District, and able to get around, although his eyesight is impaired.

M. E. Vincent is visiting his children, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ward near Desloge, Mo., where the young couple are engaged in teaching this winter.

Bobby Rickman spent the past week here with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rickman. He is a student at UTMB in Martin and his visits home are always a delight to everyone.

Mrs. Pete Chambers is a patient in Baptist Hospital in Memphis, where she is undergoing some treatment. We hope she is responding at this time.

Snow fall first of the winter came the past week, when flurries covered the ground about the middle of the week, followed by a much deeper snow Friday night and Saturday. It measured some five or six inches, temperature tumbling to 10 degrees, some areas reported lower mercury. I hope all you readers remember to feed the birds, our feathered friends. It's a reward to you watching them come regularly to your feed.

Farmer Gets

37 Cents Of $1

CHICAGO — What does the farmer get out of the dollar you spend for food? He averages 37 cents. Here are some examples: Two and one-half cents for the corn in a 29-cent box of cornflakes, 54 cents of each $1 spent for choice beef, 2.5 cents for the wheat in a 21-cent loaf of white bread, about 11 cents from a 26-cent quart of milk, about 27 cents for the cotton in a man's $4 business shirt and about 25 cents stumpage for each $1 worth of pine lumber produced from his woods.

Teens Heard Vice President At 4-H Congress in Chicago

Six Kentucky teen-agers agree that "happiness is being a 4-H member," as they enjoy the satisfaction that comes with top state recognition in their respective fields.

Sue Ellen Hoehmer, 15, of Morganfield, was presented with a handsome wrist watch by the Ralston Purina Company for her achievements in the 4-H dog care and training program.

The others were awarded expense-paid trips to one of the most important events on the 4-H calendar—the recent National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago—as state award winners in their projects.

Donna Hoskins, 16, of Hustonville, was first in the 4-H beef program, and Beverly Humble, 18, of Mt. Olivet, was honored in the home improvement project. Achievement in 4-H conservation won honors for Carl Wicklund, 18, of Independence, while top quality field crops were responsible for Barbara Wolsing, 18, also of Independence, receiving a trip, and an almost perfect bread demonstration took Donnese Clevinger, 17, of Pikeville, to the Windy City.

The Kentucky delegation was part of a group of 1,500 4-H members representing the 50 states and Puerto Rico. For five fun-filled days, they participated in panel discussions, took educational tours and danced to the music of well-known bands. They also heard an address by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Miss Hoehmer used lollipops to reward "Gretchen," her German shepherd, during training sessions. A Rally Day demonstration given during her first year in the dog care and training program brought instant success and a blue ribbon. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoehmer.

Miss Hoskins began her beef project when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hoskins gave her two registered heifers six years ago. This has since developed into a project valued at almost $6,000.

Her reserve grand champion sold for $2,525 at the Kentucky Angus Sweepstakes this year. Miss Hoskins' 1965 efforts have also merited more than $300 in premiums, three silver trophies and blue, purple and champion rosette ribbons.

Reflecting on these achievements she says, "But more than the awards I have received, I treasure the friendships I have made and the valuable experiences gained in 4-H work." Her trip award was provided by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company.

Miss Humble, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Humble, has improved six rooms in their home.

One night she worked until 2 a. m. finishing a quilted bedspread in time for a Blue Grass Fair. "I sewed awhile and then I cried awhile," she recalls, "but the recognition it received at county, district and state levels made it all worth while." The S&H Foundation, Inc. supports this 4-H program.

Wicklund, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wicklund, has based his championship conservation projects on the family's 74 acres. —20 of which are timber land. Since enrolling in the John Deere-sponsored conservation of natural resources program two years ago, he has used these projects to improve their farm land.

Wicklund was selected to serve as king of his 4-H Club last year. He is majoring in agriculture at the University of Kentucky, Northern Community College, where he is a Freshman.

Miss Wolsing's concern for the cost of a college education led her to concentrate on tobacco as part of her 4-H field crops effort. She received a trip award from the Arcadian Products Department, Allied Chemical Corporation. She entered Villa Madonna College last September.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wolsing.

Miss Clevinger, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clevinger, said her family usually gained weight before 4-H rallies while she practiced her way to a bread championship.

Her Swedish tea ring demonstration at the State Fair took top honors and brought her the congress trip sponsored by Standard Brands Incorporated.

Agricultural Leader Is Named Easter Seal Chairman For '66

Horace S. Cleveland, agriculture and tobacco leader of Pleasantville, has been named state chairman of the 1966 Easter Seal Campaign.

His appointment was announced by O. L. McElroy, Eminence, president of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children, which conducts the annual appeal. The campaign will run from March 1 through Easter Sunday, April 10.

As chairman, Cleveland will spearhead the widespread activities of thousands of volunteer leaders in Kentucky's 120 counties who will participate in the statewide fund raising appeal. He was co-chairman of the state campaign in 1964 and 1965.

Money raised during the campaign will be used to finance the Society's program of therapies, medical and hospital care, hearing and speech services and resident camping for children crippled by many causes.

Cleveland is secretary-terasurer of the Western District Warehousing Corporation and a director of the Fourth District Farm Credit Board.

A long-time resident of Kentucky and a Transylvania College graduate, he was the first president of the Henry County Farm Bureau. He lives on and operates a 317-acre tobacco, grain and livestock farm.

Cleveland was the recipient of the annual award by the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation in 1965 for distinguished service to Kentucky agriculture.

Horace S. Cleveland

He has also been president of the Producers Livestock Marketing Association, Louisville, and a director of the National Livestock Producers Association.

Cleveland is a former trustee of the University of Kentucky and also served in the state legislature.

Markets Made By Research

Some people have a not-too-complementary image of what the word research means. Some think of research as a mysterious, and probably not very practical, activity taking place in laboratories cluttered with test tubes. Many, though, have a much better opinion of research. Through time, we have acquired a vague feeling that it is important to National defense and helps to raise standards of living. Few of us, however, really understand what research is and what it does.

One reason is there are two types of research. First, we have exploration solely for the sake of learning something new. The researcher tries something that has not been tried before. He is only interested in whether the results are positive or negative, or if they will have a practical use. In either case he has discovered one more fact to add to the vast storehouse of man's knowledge. This is known as BASIC research. Most of us seldom hear about it and it does not affect us often directly. Without this basic type research, however, no other kind would be possible.

Then there is the other type described as APPLIED research. This research puts basic knowledge to useful work in the form of new processes or products. This is the research that affects each of us when we watch television, read a newspaper, hear a jet plane or use a new feed additive to put extra gains on a steer.

Most livestock producers know how the production side of their business has been affected by the applied research work of State Experiment Stations. New varieties of grain and grass, meat type hogs and beefier cattle, higher milk production and special purpose tools, fertilizers, insecticides, and new methods to fight diseases . . . are but a few of the products and processes developed by research men to make livestock production more efficient and profitable. Not so well known, perhaps, is the story at the other end of the production line of how research makes markets by developing new meat products or by discovering new ways to present old ones. No food processor or producer could stay in business very long without a full scale program of research to create more markets for his product. Mrs. Homemaker is in fact, if not in name, the director of research for the whole livestock and meat packing industry. You do not have to look far in order to find the evidence of her influence. For example, hogs used to come to market carrying too much fat. Mrs. Homemaker Director decided she not want to spend her money in this way, so by turning up her nose she issued orders for something to be done . . . now! Results: meat type hogs that more nearly meet the demand of consumers. With the same instructions the consumer over the years changed the beef cattle from the long horn, narrow bony animals, to the more meaty types we see on farms today. Results like these do not just happen, a great deal of time and effort goes into research before it becomes a reality.

There is a real question as to just how exact production researchers can be in providing exactly the type meat Mrs. Homemaker Director wants. This is where product research comes into the picture. To fully carry out the consumer's orders is requiring major research effort by meat processors to improve the quality of meat at slaughter. There is a great deal of evidence to show that no characteristic of meat is more important than tenderness. Aging, of course, improves tenderness, but this is not entirely adequate for the leaner type meat for which Mrs. Homemaker Director has shown a preference. There are other characteristics she desires in her meat purchases.

In recent years, consumers have indicated clearly their desire for food products that are easy to buy, store, and use. The response of research to these orders has brought revolutionary changes in the food retailing business. It is by making foods easier to use, as well as easier to buy, that research men really have earned the title of "Market Creators". A quick look inside a retail food store will show just what has been done. In 1941 a typical food store handled approximately 1,500 items, now compare this with today's figures of over 5,000. The number of basic foods remain about the same. The tremendous increase in number of food items has come about through conversion of basic foods into a much greater variety of forms. This conforms to our busy life where more Mrs. Homemaker Directors demand foods for fast preparation. In most cases these new forms are the result of shifting the food preparation from the kitchen to the processing plant. This many times will increase the total cost of the food for the family.

Research outside the laboratory also plays an important part in the creation of new markets for meat. What do consumers want? How will they accept a new product? What is the most effective method to merchandise such a product? Consumer and market research will provide the answer as long as Mrs. Homemaker Director speaks by accepting or rejecting something new.

Mayfield School Adopts Trimester School System

The trimester plan, a method for completing a four-year college course in three years, was established, effective January 3, 1966, by the Mid-Continent Baptist Bible College, formerly the Baptist Bible Institute, of Mayfield, Kentucky.

Under the trimester system, the school will offer three 16-week terms annually, beginning in January, May, and late August. A student may earn a full semester's credit in each of the three terms, thus completing 128 semester (or trimester) hours in about three years by continuous attendance. Under the plan, there will be one week of vacation between each term, with an extra week at Christmas.

Due to the change from the semester system, involving an earlier beginning for the term, applications are still being accepted for the First Trimester.

The Mayfield school exists primarily for the training of Baptist ministers, but other qualified students will be considered. A men's dormitory is available. Students will be accepted regardless of previous educational background, and remedial work is provided for the non-high school graduate.

The Bible College, supported by Southern Baptist associations in Kentucky, Illinois, and Tennessee, also publishes a weekly paper which will be sent on request to anyone interested in the work.

Parnell Garrigan To Head Angus Ass'n.

Obion County, Tennessee, Angus Association members elected Parnell Garrigan, Hickman, Kentucky, to head their local organization at their recent annual meeting.

Elected vice president of the group was T. C. Sowell, Union City, Tennessee, and Charles Cannon, South Fulton, Tennessee, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Directors of the organization, in addition to the officers, include: Harry McKinney, South Fulton, Tennessee; Fred Grisham, Rivers, Tennessee; and Charles Moon, Fulton, Kentucky.

CONSTITUTION WIND-UP—Governor Edward T. Breathitt addresses members of the Constitution Revision Assembly at their final meeting in the Old State House in Frankfort Jan. 3. The members signed the draft of the new document at the session which was the site of their first organizational meeting nearly two years ago, and the place where the 1890-91 Constitution was written. Assembly Chairman Earle C. Clements was the first signer of the draft, which now goes to the General Assembly which will determine how best to submit the charter to a statewide vote.

Constitution Revision Group Approves Change To Elect Only Four Officials

Significant changes in Kentucky's Constitution have been approved by the Constitution Revision Assembly (CRA) in its work of updating the 75-year-old, 1890-1891 document for submission to the 1966 General Assembly convening in January.

The changes adopted by the full assembly at a series of meetings in the Senate Chamber of the State Capitol here affect all branches of government.

But they will not and cannot become effective until and unless the final, total draft is approved by the CRA; then by the new Legislature; possibly by a convention of 100 elected delegates, and ultimately by a majority vote of the people in a statewide election.

One of the major changes approved by the CRA is to shorten the state ballot from nine to four elected officials. These four would consist of the governor, the lieutenant governor, state auditor and attorney general.

The five officials eliminated from the state ballot would be the superintendent of public instruction, clerk of the Court of Appeals, treasurer, secretary of state, and commissioner of agriculture.

Presumably, the five offices eliminated from the ballot would be filled by appointment. By whom or what agencies these appointments would be made had not been determined on December 1.

One of the outstanding sections approved was to allow the four elected officials to succeed themselves in office, which none of the nine presently elected can do under the current constitution.

Repeal has been approved of the basic law under which full power of the governor automatically passes to the lieutenant governor when the governor is out of the state.

A new line of succession to the governor in occurrence of a vacancy also was approved, consisting of the lieutenant governor, president pro tem of the Senate and speaker of the House.

The Legislature, by approval of the CRA, would become a "continuous body", meeting annually. It now meets in regular session 60 days every two years. Sessions under the new plan would be limited to 90 days a year, in segments of 60 and 30 days, with the 30-day segment optional.

The 38 senators and 100 representatives presently are paid $25 a day seven days a week while in session, with $25 a day for expenses, except on Sundays and legal holidays. The CRA proposes putting the legislators on "annual compensation and allowances."

Given Assembly approval on December 1 was a proposal to increase the terms of senators from four to six years, and of representatives from two to four years.

The CRA at first approved and then recommitted for further consideration a proposal to create a unified court system with four levels of justice instead of the three provided by the present Constitution. The new system would be topped by a seven-member supreme court.

The three inferior levels would consist of an intermediate court of appeals; a trial court organized upon the present concept of a circuit court, and a new court of limited jurisdiction, the district court, which would hear all actions now heard by county, quarterly, magistrate and police courts.

Internal Revenue Service Offers Tax Assistance

G. C. Hooks, District Director, Internal Revenue, announced today that the local office of the Internal Revenue Service in Louisville is once again offering to representatives of business firms, instructions in the preparation of Federal income tax returns. These representatives, in turn, assist their fellow employees in the preparation of their returns.

Mr. Hooks further said that the class this year will be conducted in Room 446, Federal Building, Sixth and Broadway, Louisville, Kentucky, on Friday, January 21, 1966, from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. He also said that in addition to free instructional literature, comprehensive lectures will be given. Mr. Hooks said that those firms wishing to attend should make reservations by calling 582-3321, or by writing Internal Revenue Service, P. O. Box 1146, Louisville, Kentucky 40201, Attention: Edward J. Mudd.

State Parks Openings Are Listed Today

Opening dates of Kentucky's resort parks with overnight accommodations, have been announced by State Parks Commissioner Robert D. Bell.

Bell listed these dates for the following parks:

Buckhorn Lake, Buckhorn, May 1; Carter Caves, Olive Hill, April 1; Kenlake, Hardin, Feb. 25; Lake Cumberland, Jamestown, March 11; Natural Bridge, Slade, April 1; Pennyville, Dawson Springs, May 13; Pine Mountain, Pineville, May 6; Rough River, Falls of Rough, April 1; and Audubon State Park, Henderson, (housekeeping cottages only), April 1.

Lodges at Kentucky Dam Village, Gilbertsville; General Butler, Carrollton; Jenny Wiley, Prestonsburg, and Cumberland Falls, Corbin, have been open the year round.

Reservations for accommodations at all parks for dates in 1966 may be made beginning January 1.

Bell said reservations may be obtained by calling the central telephone reservation-information service office in Frankfort (232-2326). Toll-free calls may be made from the metropolitan centers in Louisville (583-9796), Lexington (252-4913) and Cincinnati (261-2463). Persons writing for reservations may write to the park of their choice.

Federal Loan Helps Finance New Industry

Approval of a $1,068,000 loan to help finance a new metalizing plant in La Grange, Kentucky, was announced today by Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development Eugene P. Foley.

The funds are being provided by the newly created Economic Development Administration set up under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 to provide financial assistance to distressed areas of the nation.

The loan will go to Mo-Vac International to help pay the cost of a $2,205,000 vacuum metalizing plant which will turn out plastic, glass and metal products with a metallic finish.

The Kentucky Industrial Development Finance Authority is providing $180,700 toward the project cost.

The new plant is expected to open up about 45 new jobs in the area with the possibility of further employment opportunities later.

The EDA loan is to be repaid in ten years at 4 1/4 percent interest.

STATE CHAMBER HONORS JONES—J. Foster Jones (right), Paducah, who retired December 31 as assistant division manager of Kentucky Utilities Company, is shown receiving a plaque from the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce in appreciation of his development work. The presentation was made by R. S. Gregory, Morganfield, K. U. division manager, on behalf of the state chamber. Mr. Jones has been chairman of the chamber's "Opportunity for Progress" program in the first district since 1963. The plaque recognized Mr. Jones' "devoted service to the Economic Development Programs of Kentucky; by his inspired leadership the entire Commonwealth profited."

Your Telephone Manager

Quiz!! Test Yourself!

Are you a Saver or Waster of your time?

1. Do you always check and make sure you have the correct number before you start to dial? Yes—No—

2. Do you always listen for and hear the dial tone before you start to dial? Yes—No—

3. Do you always pull the dial all the way to the finger stop and then release it? Yes—No—

4. Do you dial "1" plus all 7 digits of the listed telephone number on long distance calls within our own 502 area? Yes—No—

5. Do you dial "1" Plus the Area Code plus all 7 digits of the telephone number on calls outside our own 502 area? Yes—No—

If you answered Yes to all five questions, you are a "Saver of your time" and will not reach recordings and wrong numbers.

If you answered no to any question, chances are you will reach recordings and wrong numbers. (Call the operator immediately and tell her when you have reached a wrong number on DDD. She will see that it will not be on your bill.)

I recommend that you study the first few pages of your telephone directory. You too can become a "Saver of your time."

Mrs. L. T. Caldwell

Mrs. Thomas Connell entertained with a miscellaneous household shower in the Baptist Church recreation center last week, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Moss.

Miss Linda Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Phillips, and Mr. Richard Henry Moss, son of Mrs. Veneda Moss and R. H. Moss, were married in the Baptist Church on Friday afternoon, January 21.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Arant have moved to their new dwelling just east of here.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moss have moved to the dwelling formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Arant.

Mrs. Frita Moss will have a check-up at a Paducah hospital this week-end.

Preston Boggess will return to Anchorage, Alaska, this week-end. He has been visiting his children, Brad and Luan, for the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kennedy, of Martin, were dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Gill, on Monday night.

The many friends of Mrs. John M. Parrish were grieved to learn of her passing on January 7 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cody Fankbonner, of Salem, Illinois. Mrs. Parrish had been an invalid for the past four years. Her body was returned here for funeral service and burial. Service was conducted at the McConnell Baptist Church and burial was in a Fulton Cemetery. She has seven children. One son, Thad, lives in this vicinity.

The many friends of Mrs. Nell Blaylock Morris, wife of Eddie Lee Morris, who resided in South Fulton, were grieved to learn of her tragic death. Mrs. Morris resided in this village in her early life and is well remembered by her many friends here. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blaylock. We extend our deepest sympathy to her family in their loss.

We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haynie, of Paoli, Ind., on the birth of a son, William David born in the Weakley County Hospital on January 13. Mrs. Haynie is the former Louise Meadows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meadows. Her husband is a Church of Christ minister at Paoli, but formerly worked with the McConnell congregation. Louise has spent the last few weeks with her parents here, but returned to Indiana last week.

McCracken Given $47,457 War On Poverty Grant

Congressman Frank A. Stubblefield today announced a $47,457 war-on-poverty grant to the Economic Opportunity Council of Paducah-McCracken County, Inc. for the operation of a Small Business Development Center to serve 20 counties in Western Kentucky.

Informed of the grant by Sidney H. Woolner, the Office of Economic Opportunity's Acting Mid-Atlantic Regional Director, Stubblefield said the Center will help obtain Small Business Administration loans for the 20-county area. These loans will provide business and job opportunities to the unemployed and underemployed citizens who reside in the counties to be served. The Center's staff will also provide counseling services to small enterprises in an effort to increase efficiency and employment opportunities.

The Small Business Development Center is governed by a Board of Directors which represents a broad selection of community interests. Among those on the Board are bankers, small businessmen, farmers, school officials, city and county officials, labor union officers, and representatives of minorities, and the groups to be served by the program. Each county is represented by at least two members on the 43-member Board.

The 20 counties served are: Ballard, Caldwell, Calloway, Carlisle, Christian, Crittenden, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, Livingston, Also Lyon, McCracken, Marshall, Muhlenberg, Todd, Trigg, Henderson, Hopkins, Union, Webster.

In addition to the main offices in Paducah, two branch offices will be opened in Hopkinsville and Mayfield.

Breathitt Kicks Off Scout Camp Drive

Governor Edward T. Breathitt recently kicked-off a $450,000 drive to raise funds for the construction of a new Scout camp near Russellville.

Breathitt, once an Eagle Scout himself, called the fund campaign "a vital link in the great chain of Kentucky's progress."

He said the camp would help boys develop their talents and leadership fully. Target date for completion of the drive is March 1. The camp would serve a 26-county area in Western Kentucky.

FOUNDERS' DAY BALL SET AT UK FEB. 19

A 60-member committee composed of students, faculty and alumni has been appointed to stage the University of Kentucky's Founders' Day Ball. The social event will be held in the UK Student Center the night of Feb. 19. Coordinator is Dr. J. W. Patterson.

Annual Sales Reach Top

From The SFM "Hades Herald"

This year the Annual Sales have reached an all time high. Two hundred and fifty annuals have been sold by the hardworking salesmen. Great enthusiasm was shown by these salesmen in this achievement. The students, teachers, and business establishments were all loyal in buying their annuals.

The annual staff wants to express their thanks to Florence Wiggins who donated her time in order to help sell annuals to the businesses. Without Florence these last twenty-five annuals wouldn't have been sold.

Fulton High School Opened Doors To Students In Fall Of 1922

The story of Fulton High School starts with a board meeting on November 28, 1921, when it was decided to offer to the voting public a $50,000 bond issue for the purpose of building Fulton High School. The bond issue passed and the contract was let for construction of the school, with W. H. Spradlin named as architect.

Fulton High officially opened its doors for students in the fall of 1922 with Mr. A. J. Lowe serving as the first principal and Mr. Vance L. Broyles as superintendent.

The first graduating class was in 1923 and they edited a yearbook called the Mirror. The 1922 football white, played on the old fairgrounds field and lost a game to South Fulton. The fact is, as per quote from the Mirror, "It seemed that fate had decreed that they should drink deep of the bitter cup of defeat in most of their contests."

Basketball was played in what is now the basement of the school, both girls and boys. The first game was with McFerrin of Martin, Tennessee, a game which they lost 22-18. As to the girls team, again quote from the Mirror, "They met the best teams in this section of the country and though they did not win, they fought a good fight and for a first year team, they showed wonderful teamwork and fighting ability, and the games they played gained for them a warm spot in the heart of every true student of Fulton High."

With the construction of Science Hall in 1928, the best gymnasium in this area was available to the students for use by the Bulldogs. District and regional tournaments were held here for several years and even the University of Kentucky and the House of David bas-

FHA Chapter To Sponsor Talent Show

The Fulton Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held its first meeting of the new year on January 13 in the farm room.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Judy Olive, with the opening ceremony. Membership cards were then given out by the secretary, Cindy Homra.

Mrs. DelMyer announced that Judy Olive is the Fulton High School winner of the Betty Crocker contest. The chapter then decided to sponsor the annual talent show, which will be held in the Fulton gym on March 16.

The program was turned over to Susan Crittenden, who gave the devotion. Cheryl Underwood spoke on project Hope, part of the work on her state degree. Brenda McBride, assisted by ten of the FHA members, presented a program on good citizenship.

The meeting adjourned with the closing rituals.

SENIOR MEETING

The Senior Citizens Club will meet this (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 in the dining room of the First Methodist Church. A representative of the office of Health, Education and Welfare from Paducah will be present to discuss Medicare and the accompanying insurance.

Cub Scouts See "Working On Railroads"

Den 14, Pack 40, Cub Scouts met last Thursday, January 20. The den mothers took the boys from school to the Illinois Central Railroad's freight yards, where M. M. Matlock and R. T. Bodker escorted them on a tour through the yards. A big thrill for the scouts was when they were given a short ride on an engine and then on a car-boose.

From the railroad yards they went to the scout cabin, where Gordie Wade served refreshments. The meeting was closed with the living circle.

On Monday night, January 24, at a pack meeting held in Carr gymnasium, Michael Milner was awarded his Lion's badge. Keeper of the Buckskin Brad Boggess

Wonders Of Kentucky Seen In 703 Theatres

"The Wonders of Kentucky," which promotes the industrial and tourist attractions of the Commonwealth, played in 703 United States theaters during the first five months of its release, the film's producer reports.

Foster Films Incorporated, New York City, says records of Columbia Pictures, the movie's distributor, indicate it will play in 6,000 U. S. theaters during its first five months and eventually will reach about 8,000 theaters.

The movie is being shown in Armed Forces bases, in foreign lands, and on cruise ships and will be given wide television distribution.

"Wonders of Kentucky" was sponsored by a committee composed of state development leaders and officials of business and industry.

Most Progressive Fair To Be Announced Soon

The most progressive local agricultural fair in the state will be announced at a meeting of the Kentucky Association of Fairs and Horse Shows Jan. 20-22 in Louisville.

Wendell P. Butler, Kentucky Commissioner of Agriculture and chairman of the Agricultural Fair Council which makes the selection, will present a plaque and trophy to the winner.

Awards will also go to fairs judged as first and second runners-up. The Scott County Fair received the 1964 award.

Criteria used to choose a winner includes the total number of crop and livestock exhibits and the amount of premium money spent as compared with the preceding year.

McDade Construction Company
MIDDLE ROAD FULTON, KY.

If YOU are planning some blacktopping work in the Spring, let us discuss it with you now. Free estimates; no obligation!

It's quite normal for sickening odors to fill the chemistry class, but it is very rare that a typing class should have this characteristic. Mrs. Robertson has her own special formula for deodorizing her room—a can of fly spray plus a hate for flies' determination.

You lucky chemistry students!!! Just wait till you start those scrumptious smelling experiments, and be thankful that Betty Beades has completed that course. Last year—about half way through every experiment—Betty would start turning pale green and finally stagger from the room with her hand securely clasped over her mouth.

Yes, there are many fond memories of good ole chemistry class! Remember the semester test that the girls cried all the way through, the yellow fingers and thumbs of which we were all so proud, the hysterical screaming when someone got sulfuric acid in a cut, the mornings we got up at five o'clock to go to school to do our experiments over, and the times we wept and hit our heads against the wall when we found out we had made 15 out of 100 on an experiment we had been diligently working on for two weeks. Only now, having completed this inspiring course, may we understand the true meaning of those famous words, "these are the times that try men's souls".

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE

by
Wendell P. Butler
Commissioner
Ky. Dept. of Agriculture
Frankfort

The industry of agriculture is receiving considerable attention today and is the center of many discussions. This is only natural, for not only is it one of our major industries, it is also our most vital. We should all concern ourselves with not only problems of the industry, but also its potentials.

Every nation is facing a growing population, with some labeling their growth as an "explosion." Many of these nations are experiencing problems in feeding their present population, and further growth is certainly an area for concern. We all know that as the population grows, demands for food and fiber will also increase. The American farmer today is said to be producing enough food for himself and 29 others. If the world population grows, as many experts predict, our farmers must be prepared to produce food for an even greater number of persons.

Production of an abundant food supply isn't the problem facing our farmers. In fact, they have been producing in surplus quantities for a long time. Too, every agricultural state has many acres of farmland that can be brought into higher production if the need arises. This, along with the use of better practices and modern technology, can raise our farm production to fantastic levels.

In view of this, it would appear that we can feed the population of the future. In short, we can take care of the consumer. But what about the farmer? What can we do to insure his having a satisfactory standard of living? Must he continue to receive a good price when the supply is low, and a lower price when a particular commodity is in abundance?

ETB Says Miss Peden Won't Run

Commerce Commissioner Katherine Peden will not seek a U.S. House post, Gov. Edward T. Breathitt said Wednesday night on an interview on WPSD-TV.

For several months rumors have been circulating that Miss Peden would oppose First District Congressman Frank Albert Stubblefield.

Gov. Breathitt said Miss Peden "has no intention to run this year for Congress." The state's chief executive added the services of Miss Peden were needed in Kentucky.

Answering questions of four television newsmen in Kentucky and Tennessee, Breathitt said his strip mine bill involves Kentucky's heritage, pure water and land.

He restated his position in favor of stricter laws governing coal strip mining and said the struggle is between the "people and the strippers." He showed photographs of strip mining operations in Eastern and Western Kentucky and a restored area in Pennsylvania, which has strict strip mining laws.

The governor's strip mine bill is based in a large part on the Pennsylvania law.

He said 50 counties presently are affected by strip mining operations in Kentucky. "And in a few years taxpayers will be buying land to restore it, and I do not feel that it is the taxpayers' burden," he said.

Miss Peden May Oppose Stubblefield

HOPKINSVILLE — Commerce Commissioner Katherine Peden left the way clear Friday for her candidacy for Congress, either this year or in 1968.

Miss Peden has been mentioned among candidates for the Democratic nomination in the 1st District.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt had been quoted earlier as saying she would not make the race this year and added she was headed in Kentucky.

"It is true that Gov. Breathitt has asked me to continue in my post as commerce commissioner during the four years of his administration," she said in an interview.

"However, he is well aware of my desire to serve the people of Western Kentucky in Congress. At such time as I feel I have completed my efforts of industrializing as many Kentucky communities as possible, I will then make a determination as to the congressional race.

"There are several weeks before the deadline for filing for the 1966 race," she continued, "and there is always a filing date two years from now."

Go Slow On Bombing, Cooper Urges

LOUISVILLE — Basing his opinion on his observations during two recent trips to Viet Nam, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., says President Johnson shouldn't be anxious to resume bombing of North Viet Nam.

"We have made a worldwide public offensive for peace," Cooper said in a Washington interview Friday. "If we give up too soon, other nations will think we were merely putting on a show and that we did not try hard enough to bring about negotiations."

Cooper visited South Viet Nam with fellow congressmen about five months ago. He returned recently with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and special ambassador Averell Harriman.

The Somerset Republican also counseled Johnson to consider including Viet Cong representatives in peace talks, as North Viet Nam has demanded as a pre-requisite to any talks.

Jesse Stuart To Be Author In Residence At Eastern State

RICHMOND, Ky. — Dr. Robert R. Martin, president of Eastern Kentucky State College, has announced that author Jesse Stuart will serve as author-in-residence during the school's spring semester. Stuart, a Kentuckian, will work in the English department, but will also give lectures in other departments, Martin said.

WATER, WATER, EVERYWHERE ???

Remember the grim and dreary poem of the Ancient Mariner, with "water, everywhere, and not a drop to drink"? Remember how you used to have to memorize it, or even—horrors!—recite it?

Two thirds of the earth's surface is covered with water, and yet right now the 19th century poetic fantasy is facing us as a menacing truth. There is a growing shortage of fresh water in many areas, including such populous metropolitan centers as New York, where you have to ask for a drink in a restaurant.

Worse, much of our water is poor in color, clarity, taste or odor, and some of it actually contains chemical wastes, filth and bacterial growth. Among the most serious of water pollutants are the growing amounts of detergents in use in home and industry.

Water in Our Bodies

The human body is composed of about two-thirds water, by weight. This high water content of the body has been called "the sea within you." It is, literally, salt water plus other essential substances in solution.

One of Six Nutrients

Water is included among the six essential nutrients, the other five being proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals and vitamins. All foods contain a percentage of water, and some valuable ones, like whole milk (87 percent) and tomatoes (93 percent) contain a great deal.

Water is essential to all chemical processes in the body, which must take place in solution. The water used in our bodies daily must be replaced as the used water is excreted. The interchange represents several pints a day by kidneys, bowels, perspiration and exhaled breath. Variations occur depending on activity, temperature, salt balance, illness, and drugs which may cause increased loss through bowels, kidneys or skin.

Mineral Elements

Most drinking water contains traces of minerals elements from the soil through which it passed on its way to your kitchen. Some of these, like iodine which prevents simple goiter or fluoride which lessens dental decay, are important nutrients which must be supplied in the total diet if they are not naturally present in proper quantities.

City Supplies Protected

City water supplies, as a rule, are now adequately protected against contamination; rural supplies must be protected by the owner's own initiative. It is important not to waste water, which is no longer cheap and plentiful. Dripping faucets and unmetered supplies waste millions of gallons annually.

You are lucky if you have a reliable stream of cold, clean, fresh and safe water when you turn your kitchen faucet.

SPOTLIGHTING KING MOTOR CO.

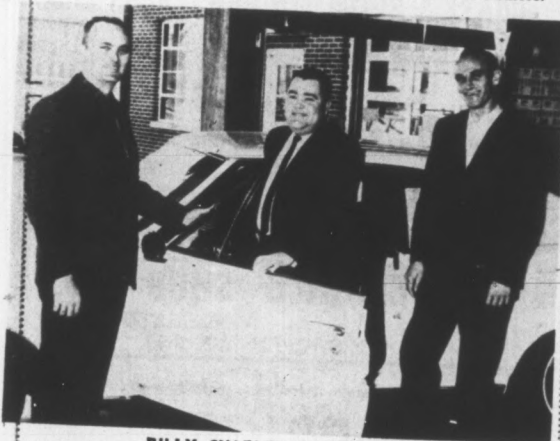

King Motor Company, Inc., Home of 'King size deals' has been in their present location since 1957, but W. H. 'Mollie' King has been in the business since 1940. With his son, Charles, they are the local dealers for Rambler and Pontiac and they supply satisfied customers in a wide area in both Kentucky and Tennessee. By handling both new and used cars they are sure to have just the right machine at the right price, and are happy to talk 'trade' anytime or anywhere. Charles has been in the business most of his life, though he has also operated a service station in Fulton as well as a crop dusting service. He is considered by those in the know (and not incidentally) as one of the best pilots in this area. Ten employees are ready to serve the public with sales, service and parts. The pleasant voice which answers your phone call belongs to Virginia Perry, who not only 'tends to' the office and book-keeping, but somehow manages to keep up with the rest of the personnel too. In the service, maintenance and parts departments we find F. A. Byrd, Charles Sills, Jessie Brownlee, James Blair and Richard Knuckle.

Methodists Give Record Amount For Missions

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. — Methodists gave more for missions in fiscal 1965 than ever before, a report says, but individually they contributed $3.56 a year or about seven cents a week.

Dr. H. Conwell Snook of New York, chief financial officer of the Methodist Board of Missions, said the board had for the fiscal year a total of $36,732,064, an increase of $622,711 over fiscal 1964, the previous record year.

Low Bid On Murray Dormitory Is $1,576,124

FRANKFORT — Two Tennessee construction firms are the apparent low bidders to construct a women's dormitory at Murray State College, Blair Wright and Associates and Crouch Construction Co., bid $1,576,124 Tuesday. The bid included cost of electrical and mechanical installation at the eight story building.

HE GETS LETTERS—Governor Edward T. Breathitt looks over the mail he has received in response to his proposed strip mining legislation. The large stack of mail on the right favors the measure—Senate Bill 3. The small one on the left expresses opposition. The governor's mail is running about 11 to one in favor of the bill.

Bill To Pay Legislators $150 Expenses Monthly Offered

FRANKFORT — A bill to give legislators $150 a month in expenses, signed by 61 representatives, was introduced Wednesday in the House.

It was drafted by Rep. Fred Morgan, D-Paducah, who says the purpose: "is to provide reimbursement of necessary expenses in amounts sufficient to permit and encourage members of the General Assembly to perform growingly important and demanding legislative duties."

Morgan's plan would not affect the $50 a day lawmakers now receive while in session. The expenses would be paid out of session. The state expense would be an estimated $200,000 a year.

Republican measures were offered in both the Senate and House to raise teachers' pay by $900 during the next two fiscal years.

The administration's proposed budget, passed in the House and sent to the Senate, provides an average of $400 in annual increases.

Other bills introduced: To raise election officers' pay to a maximum of $12 instead of the current $10. By Rep. Guy Nell McNamara, D-Mount Sterling.

To raise the pay of Circuit Court jurors from $5 to $10 a day. By Rep. Siler Floyd, R-Yosemite.

To allow cities to annex certain unincorporated areas despite any existing ban on such annexation. By Sen. John Moloney, D-Covington.

To prevent police officers from towing away a vehicle after the driver is arrested unless the motorist consents unless the vehicle is blocking traffic. By Sen. Pleaz Mobley R-Manchester.

To require an officer to inform a motorist of intention to arrest him and the offense involved. By Mobley.

To require all primary schools and colleges to keep accurate records of accidents to children, teachers, and administrators. By Rep. W. R. Smith, D-Hindman.

To change local school board elections so that members are elected in the county at large instead of divisions — but with one resident of each division to be elected. By Rep. Albert Dempsey, R-Inez.

To reduce the interest rate of small loan companies to a maximum of 16 per $100 instead of the current ceiling of 20. By Rep. William DeMarcus, R-Stanford.

To impose a one to five-year prison term on anyone convicted of assaulting a peace officer performing his duties. By Sen. Donald Johnson, R-Alexandria.

To require that police and firemen of second- and third-class cities be registered voters in the county containing their city of employment. By Sen. Wendell Ford, D-Owensboro.

LACY POTATO PANCAKES, piping hot and seasoned with onion, dress up this tender pot roast of beef and vegetables. On the side, serve gravy made from the pan drippings, and a bowl of spicy applesauce.

Budget Meals Fatten Family Pocketbook

Dinner for a cold day should be hearty and flavorful, but it need not be expensive. A platter of old-fashioned beef pot roast served with vegetables, lacy brown potato pancakes and spicy applesauce exactly fills the bill.

Budget beef chuck is used to make the delicious pot roast. Although it's one of the less expensive, less tender cuts of beef—when cooked slowly in moist heat, it becomes juicy and fork-tender, and develops a flavor fine enough for informal company dinners.

Have everyone ready to sit down for dinner before making the potato pancakes—they're best served piping hot, right out of the pan.

Beef Pot Roast

- 4 or 5 lbs. beef chuck
- 1 tablespoon shortening
- 1 cup sliced onion
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 6 whole peppercorns
- 1 small bay leaf
- 1 cup water
- 8 medium carrots, thick sliced
- 8 small onions
- 1 tablespoon flour

Brown meat in hot shortening. Add sliced onion, celery, garlic, 1 teaspoon salt, peppercorns, bay leaf and 1/4 cup water. Cover and cook slowly until meat is tender, 2 to 2 1/2 hours. Arrange carrots and onions around meat 30 minutes before end of cooking time; sprinkle with remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cover; cook until vegetables are tender. Arrange meat and vegetables on serving platter; keep warm. Remove peppercorns and bay leaf from pan drippings. To make gravy, blend flour in drippings; add remaining water, cook and stir until smooth and thickened.

Potato Pancakes

- 3 cups well-drained, shredded raw potatoes
- 1/4 cup grated onion
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine potato, onion, flour, salt, pepper and eggs; mix. Heat a small amount of butter or margarine in skillet over moderate heat. Spoon 1/4 cup potato mixture into skillet for each pancake. Spread carefully to make a 3-inch cake. Cook until browned on both sides, turning one, 8 to 10 minutes. Repeat as necessary. Yield: 12 pancakes.

Another inexpensive, but tasty, meal is Western Chili Casserole, beef and bean salad, corn-bread sticks, and Double-easy Fruit Dessert.

- Western Chili Casserole
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 1 15-ounce can chili con carne

with beans

- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups corn chips, slightly crushed
- 1 cup shredded, sharp process cheese

Brown meat; add 1/4 cup onion and the celery; cook till just tender. Drain off excess fat. Add chili and pepper; heat. Place layer of chips in ungreased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Use alternate layers of chili mixture, chips, and cheese, reserving 1/4 cup chips and 1/4 cup cheese for trim. Sprinkle center with reserved cheese and onion.

Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes or till hot through. Border casserole with corn chips.

Beef and Bean Salad
Combine 1/4 cup clear French dressing, 1/4 cup minced onion, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon rosemary, dash of pepper. Drain one 1-pound can whole green beans; pour dressing over beans. Chill several hours, spooning dressing over beans often. Drain.

Arrange one 1-point jar sliced, pickled beets on leaf lettuce, top with beans.

Corn-bread Sticks

- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup yellow corn meal
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup soft shortening

Sift flour with sugar, baking powder, and salt; stir in corn meal. Add eggs, milk and shortening. Beat with rotary or electric beater till just smooth, about 1 minute. (Do not overbeat.) Spoon batter into greased corn-stick pans, filling 2/3 full. Bake at 425 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes.

Double-easy Fruit Dessert

- 1 No. 2 1/2 can (3 1/2 cups) fruits for salad, well drained
- 1 cup tiny marshmallows
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Mix all ingredients and chill for several hours. Top with maraschino cherries. Serves 5 or 6.

Bill Would Allow More Exemptions From Garnishee

FRANKFORT — Twelve House members have signed a bill to allow extensive exemptions from attachment by a creditor seeking payment of a debt through garnishment. The bill was introduced Friday by Rep. Eugene P. Stuart, R-Louisville. Under provisions of the bill, 75 per cent of a debtor's wages would be exempt from garnishment unless the debt was for necessities, in which case 50 per cent would be exempt. Also exempted would be $1,500 in household goods, $1,500 in tools, equipment, and livestock, and one motor vehicle used in connection with the debtor's job.

Beatles Go For Baroque

NEW YORK,

— Those who prefer Bach to the Beatles have a surprise in store for them. Perhaps the Beatles are more closer to Bach than anyone suspects.

At least that is the impression that a person gets after hearing "The Baroque Beatles Book" (Elektra EKS-7306). Here is a concert featuring the Baroque Ensemble of the Merseyside K a m m e r m u s i k g e s e l l s c h a f t, conducted by Joshua Rifkin.

All the music in this collection is the work of Beatles John Lennon and Paul McCartney. The tunes include "I Want to Hold Your Hand," "Help!" and "Hard Day's Night," among others. It's strictly for the Beatles.

But Josh Rifkin has rearranged all the Beatles tunes in the manner of Bach and the pre-Bach baroque composers and all who hear this record are in for a surprise. The Lennon-McCartney compositions, as heard in this session sound as though they were written by a Bach or Vivaldi.

It just proves one thing. You can't say there isn't a germ of classiness in the Mersey sound.

HOUSING FOR K.S.G. FACULTY—This is architect's sketch of the faculty apartment building to be constructed at Kentucky State College, Frankfort. Plans to construct the apartments were announced by Governor Edward T. Breathitt. The four-story building will contain 20 two-story apartments. Bids will be asked for in June and construction will take from six to eight months.

Hershey Says Some College Students To Be Drafted

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has indicated some college students may face induction if draft calls continue to increase above 30,000 monthly. "I think 30,000 as a diet is too great for us; that's 300,000 a year," Hershey said, apparently meaning that if calls exceed that figure college students who fail to meet specified requirements may be drafted. Monthly draft calls lately have been running around 40,000.

As for the requirements, Hershey said "the odds are strong" there will be a return to a system of testing and consideration of class standing, as was used during the Korean War, in granting deferments to college students. The draft director met during the day with Eastern and Midwestern state draft directors.

He said a decision will have to be made within the next 10 days—by Feb. 1—in order for any testing to begin before the end of the current academic year. The results would apply then for the 1966-67 college year. Local draft boards could use the results as guides in deciding on student deferments. But Hershey emphasized that the local boards are not required to follow the test results.

MADRID — In 1964 Spain registered 299,968 mechanically propelled vehicles, an increase of 50,159 over 1963.

South Fulton Devils Fall Twice To Palmersville

Excessive fouling in one game and outstanding opponent shooting in another were the prime reasons for a double South Fulton defeat Tuesday night. The Palmersville girls won 54-41 while the boys took a 57-46 victory.

South Fulton's girls spent most of their time watching Palmersville shoot from the free throw line. Of Palmersville's 54 points, 34 were from the free throw line. The Palmersville girls shot an unbelievable 48 free throws during the game.

Before the game was over both Jean Neeley and Joyce Forehand of South Fulton had fouled out and two other players had four fouls each.

Palmersville took a 7-6 lead and stretched it to 20-10 by halftime. Linda Prescott had 31 points, 23 of which were free throws. Linda Collier, South Fulton's converted guard, had 15 points while Teresa Pennington got 14.

Palmersville's fantastic accuracy from the floor was the Red Devil's downfall in the nightcap. Frank Wright led the way, hitting 65 percent of his shots and collecting 31 points. The team shot 51 percent while South Fulton hit only 37 percent of its shots.

Palmersville held a 31-22 halftime lead and was in front 43-33 at the end of the third frame. The Devils were able to pull within five points in the final frame but a couple of fouls killed the drive.

Cheerleader Loses Lens—The Hard Way
SOUTH FULTON, Tenn., Jan. 18—It is not uncommon for persons to lose their contact lens, but a South Fulton High School cheerleader did it the hard way.

She swallowed one of hers. Donna Peoples had removed the lens from one of her eyes and placed it on her tongue to wet it.

In some manner—probably during a tense moment in the South Fulton-Martin basketball game—she swallowed the lens.

Miss Peoples was rushed to a hospital where it was determined later no harm was done.

Murray 103, Fulton 61

MURRAY, Ky.—Eleven Murray High School basketball players displayed fine shooting form as they trounced Fulton 103-61 Friday night in a scoring deluge. Although Murray had a substantial lead of 24-14 at the end of the first stanza, they turned on the steam in the second quarter to sweat out a 45-26 lead at the half.

Clinton Will Use

County Assessments

CLINTON, Ky., Jan. 22—The Clinton City Council has given final approval to using the county assessment of property inside the city limits for 1966 taxes.

The council also took action to abolish the office of city tax assessor along with the board of equalizers.

In another action, the council fixed the mayor's annual salary at $300 and increased the pay of each councilman for attendance at any session of the council from $6 to $10.

FULTON COUNTY SHERIFF

NOTICE

To Fulton County Taxpayers:

The Tax Commissioner's office is now open for listing both real and personal property for state, county and school taxes for 1966.

On June 8, 1965, the Kentucky Court of Appeals rendered a decision that Section 172 of the Kentucky Constitution must be obeyed. The law, as stated in the Constitution, says that all property shall be assessed at a fair cash value, estimated at the price it would bring at a fair, voluntary sale. The listing date is between January 1 of each year. I feel a greater number of tax payers can contact me at the office, so I am urging you to come in between now and March 1 to discuss and list your property for 1966 taxes. If you do not do this, it is my responsibility to the state, county and schools, under KRS 132.450, to list your property from available records and such other evidence that I may be able to obtain. Since I would not like to do this, I urge each taxpayer to see me.
