YOUNG MAN SHOT AND KILLED HIS FATHER IN SELF-DEFENSE

FIRED AS HE ADVANCED WITH UPLIFTED AX

TRAGEDY OCCURRED IN BARN

John White's Mental Condition Was Unsettled.—The Son is Exonerated at the Inquest.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

John White, aged sixty years and a farmer of the southern portion of the county in the Casky neighborhood, was shot and instantly killed Wednesday afternoon about three o'clock by his son, Ed White. In a fit of insanity, White, armed with an ax, attacked his son who shot him in self-defense.

Father and son, Ed Hayes, a son-in-law, and a colored man were at work in barn. Mr. White became incensed at his son over the manner in which the latter was doing his work and threatened him with a knife. His son pleaded with him to keep his temper and work was resumed. In a few minutes, White again abused the boy and brandished an ax over his head. The other men started to restrain him but he turned on them with the weapon and they ran out of the barn. Then he made a dash for his son and penned him up in a corner. The young man warned his father not to come any closer but the old man continued to approach with the ax uplifted and at last the son drew his pistol and fired. Two bullets passed through Mr. White's left arm and into his side and a third went directly into the side. Death was instantaneous.

Justice Parker went to the scene last night and held an inquest. The verdict entirely exonerated the young man.

Mr. White had been showing increasing indication for some time of unsoundness of mind. During the past few days he had been making threats to such an extent that considerable uneasiness was caused. He would also take his shotgun and fire it off at anything about the place and storekeepers in the neighborhood had been notified by the family that they must not sell him any more ammunition.

Besides the principals in the tragedy there are in the family three or four more children and their mother. The dead man was the father of John White who for many years was with Dr. M. W. Williams at his stock farm on South Virginia street.

ON FEDERAL CHARGE

Irvin Powell, for whom a federal warrant was issued some time ago charging him with having shot into a rural mail delivery box, was arrested today by M. M. Smith and delivered to Commissioner Yonts. Commissioner Yonts had the prisoner locked up in jail as it will be necessary to have a federal marshal come here and summon the witnesses before the case can be heard. If convicted the case will go pretty hard with Powell as the law prescribes a fine of from $100 to $1,000 or imprisonment of from one to three years. The government is especially careful of its mail service.

The Last Sad Rites.

(From Thursday's Daily)

The remains of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Latham were tenderly laid to rest this morning in the Latham mausoleum in Riverside cemetery. Simple service was held at the residence, conducted by Rev. George C. Abbit, rector of Grace church. The casket bearers were J. E. McPherson, Thomas W. Long, A. W. Wood and F. W. Dabney.

LOOK FOR TROUBLE

TOBACCO SITUATION IN STATE IS SERIOUS

Society of Equity Riders Urge Buyers To Leave the Field.—The Burley Growers.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 31.—With "peaceful armies" of invasion in the dark tobacco districts and the burley growers having reached decision not to raise any crop next year, the tobacco situation in Kentucky appears to be serious.

From the western end of the state, and especially in the Green river and Henderson stemming districts, reports of rather an unsettling nature were received. Bodies of growers claiming to be members of the American Society of Equity are riding through McLean county notifying buyers to quit the tobacco fields until the 1908 crop is sold and urging growers to pool their crop with the society. The same thing has already been done in Daviess county, of which Owensboro is the county seat; in Henderson county, of which Henderson is the chief city, and in several other neighborhoods.

In many instances the buyers have agreed to quit and the majority of the growers have expressed their determination to pool their crops, but, especially in Henderson county, there has been opposition of the plans of the growers. In fact the buyers of Henderson have refused to accede to the request of the growers and another meeting is in progress there to consider what is to be done in the premises. The growers are determined to carry their determination not to be bluffed into taking any action that may be detrimental to their interests.

Every warehouse of any consequence in Henderson and Owensboro is guarded by armed men and there is considerable uneasiness. Especially is this true as the time for delivering the tobacco which has been bought outside the pool approaches.

Despite the fact that the growers declare they will not pursue any lawless methods, their banners when they first came into the Henderson stemming district in a body, bore the legend, "Peace today, war tomorrow," and the people of the stemming district find it difficult to believe that there will be no trouble. One of the most remarkable meetings held in this state for some time was that of the National association of tobacco growers in Shelbyville, Ky., yesterday which was attended by about 2,500 to 3,000 growers from all parts of the country. The association ratified the action of the Burley Tobacco Growers' association which decided at a meeting at Winchester not to raise any tobacco next year.

PEACEFUL END TO WELL SPENT LIFE

JOHN H. BELL, SR., PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME.

AFTER PROTRACTED ILLNESS.

Native of Christian County and Was Eighty-One Years Old.—Interment at Riverside.

Mr. John H. Bell, Sr., a venerable citizen who was held in affectionate regard and the highest esteem by all who knew him, passed away yesterday afternoon at his residence on East Seventh street. The illness incident to his advanced age of eighty-one years caused death. He had been confined to his bed since July.

Mr. Bell had been a resident of Hopkinsville twenty-five years. Up to that time he had been engaged all his life in farming in which pursuit, aided by his beloved wife, he had been uniformly successful, and retired from active business with a competence.

Mr. Bell was a type of a vanishing class of old school-gentlemen. A man of deep convictions and positive opinions he was considerate of the feelings of others, always courteous in his bearing, and kindly in his walk and conversation among men. His blameless life, his integrity and his good citizenship will long be cherished by his neighbors and friends. He was for over half a century an earnest and devoted Christian with a faith that was beautiful and unwavering, and he entered into the perfect rest that comes as a sure reward for a life spent in the service of the Master.

Mr. Bell was a native of Christian county. He was born April 27, 1826. His father was Dr. John F. Bell, a pioneer physician who came to Kentucky from Virginia in 1810. His grandfather was an officer in the Revolutionary war and earlier ancestors lived in Ireland. Mr. Bell was married in March 1849 to Miss Mary Susan Garth and that saintly woman died Nov. 14, 1903. The family moved to Hopkinsville to make their home in 1888.

Mr. Bell had been a member of the Christian church since his twenty-second year, and he was baptized by the Rev. Charles Day.

The following children survive:

Dr. Darwin Bell, of Gracely; Garth Bell, of Louisville; Webb C. and John H. Bell, of this city; Mrs. Kittie Campbell, of California; Mrs. John F. Bible, of Mississippi, and Misses Addie and Jennie Bell, of this city.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the late residence, conducted by the Rev. H. D. Smith, pastor of the Christian church and the remains will be interred in Riverside cemetery. The pall bearers will be H. D. Wallace, John Stites, T. W. Long, F. W. Dabney, C. S. Chastine, T. L. Metcalfe, John B. Price and L. H. Cravens.

Will Move Office.

H. H. Abernathy, salesman for the American Society of Equity, will on January 1st move his office from the Hopkinsville warehouse to the People's warehouse, on the west side of the L. & N. R. R., on 10th street. The increase in business caused by contracts with the American Society of Equity has necessary arrangements for enlarged quarters. d & w 1t

SLEEP BROKEN BY ITCHING ECZEMA

Skin of Whole Body Covered for a Year—Awful Itching Kept Sufferer Awake Half the Night—Tried All Kinds of Remedies but They Had No Effect.

CUTICURA REMEDIES A PERFECT SUCCESS

"I wish to let you know that I have used one set of Cuticura Remedies—one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura, but two vials of Cuticura Resolvent Pills—which cost me a dollar and twenty-five cents in all. For a year I have had what they call eczema. I had an itching all over my body, and when I would retire for the night, it would keep me awake half the night, and the more I would scratch, the more it would itch. I tried all kinds of remedies, but could get no relief. A friend of mine told me to try the Cuticura Remedies which I did, and am very glad I tried them, for I was completely cured. If any of my friends should be troubled with the same disease, I will cheerfully recommend the Cuticura Remedies, and if I know any one who wants to know how I cured myself, I shall be glad to tell them. Walter W. Paglusch, 207 N. Robey St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 8 and 16, 1906."

CUTICURA

MR. MORGAN PREVENTS WALL STREET PANIC

J. PIERPONT MORGAN AT HIS DESK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—There was fifteen minutes panic on the stock exchange yesterday afternoon which threatened ruin until J. P. Morgan rushed to the rescue with $25,000,000. When money had become so scarce that brokers were frantically offering 100 per cent. for loans and were falling to get them, when Union Pacific dropped to par, Northern Pacific tumbled 10 points in as many minutes, and the bottom seemed ready to drop out of the whole market, a thin white-faced man rushed on to the floor and shouted.

"J. P. Morgan will loan $25,000,000 at 10 per cent."

The messenger was Ransom H. Thomas, president of the exchange.

At his words a cheer went up from the panic stricken brokers, which shook the roof. Bulls and bears forgot old feuds and fights in the joy of the moment and a few with the impulse of boys threw their arms around each other and danced.

In an instant the money ring was smashed. The panic was over. Loan rates tumbled from 100 to 10 per cent. Stocks bounded upward from 5 to 6 points in a single quotation. Union Pacific jumped instantly back to 108. Reading from 70 1/4 to 75, Northern Pacific from 100 1/2 to 108, and the whole list followed rapidly after Mr. Morgan's $25,000,000 was offered on the stock exchange, following action by J. D. Rockefeller, which made him prominent as a reassuring factor in a greatly disturbed financial world. Mr. Rockefeller directed his bankers and brokers to make all loans at 6 per cent.

JOHNSON IS IN JAIL

AND THE POLICE ARE HOT AFTER HOG THIEVES

Many Farmers in the County Have Been Victims of the Gang.—Prisoner is Silent.

(From Friday's Daily)

The police have Bill Johnson, a peg leg negro, in jail and through him they hope to turn up the gang of hog thieves that has been operating so successfully in this county for the past several months.

Yesterday morning J. E. Gossett, of Jullien, telephoned the police that eight hogs had been stolen from him. A round of the meat markets disclosed the fact that the day before Julius Newman had bought six hogs from a peg leg negro, paying him $75 for them. Johnson was then arrested and admitted that he had sold the hogs to the butcher but claimed that he was only acting as agent and for his services he received $10. The butcher had taken a receipt from the negro when the money was paid over and instead of signing his own name to this the negro had signed it as Bill Brison. The deal was made at the slaughter pen and when Mr. Newman offered so much per pound the negro asked that a lump sum be agreed upon as he did not want to bring the hogs down town to weigh them.

After locating the hogs Mr. Gossett was communicated with but when he saw the porkers he said they were not his, but stated that he thought they belonged to Richard Caudle. This gentleman then came to town in response to a telephone message and he readily identified the hogs, or at least the five which remained as Mr. Newman had slaughtered one of the six.

Johnson steadfastly refuses to give any information as to who really stole the hogs, although every effort has been brought to bear. He claims not to know the man who met him in a saloon Friday night and offered him $10 to sell the hogs and to whom he paid $65 after the sale was made. His memory is equally at fault as to who drove the hogs to the slaughter pen.

As intimated before, the police believe this to be only another raid of a gang of hog thieves. During the summer a number of hogs were sold to a well known dealer and the police have always been suspicious of the transaction, but as no one ever reported the loss of a similar number of hogs they could never make out a case. They hope to work this one to a conclusion and arrest and punish the guilty ones.

RHEUMATISM CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

Rubbing with liniments, blistering the affected parts, the application of plasters, and other means of external treatment, are usually helpful in relieving the pains and aches of Rheumatism, but such remedies do not reach the CAUSE of the disease, and are therefore in no sense curative. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood, brought about by indigestion, poor bowel action, weak kidneys, and a general sluggish condition of the system. The circulation deposits this irritating poison in the different muscles, nerves, tissues and joints of the body, and soon the painful symptoms of Rheumatism are produced. The pains at first may be wandering and slight, but as the blood becomes more fully saturated with the uric acid poison, the disease grows worse and after awhile gets to be chronic. The slight, wandering pains now become sharp and cutting at the least exposure to dampness or night air, or any constitutional irregularity, the bones ache, the muscles are not as free in action as before, and where the acid poison is allowed to remain in the blood the joints often become so clogged with corrosive substances that they are left permanently stiff and useless. Rheumatism can never be rubbed away, nor can it be conquered and driven from the system until the acid-laden blood has been cleansed and purified. No other medicine does this so effectively as S. S. S. It dissolves and removes the impurities and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which soothes the irritated nerves, inflamed muscles and flesh, and the sufferer obtains relief that is permanent because the real cause of the disease has been removed. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired free.

ACCURATE RECORD

OF THE MAIL SENT OUT FROM HOPKINSVILLE

Nearly Eleven Thousand Letters,
Over 3,000 Postals and 2,031
Bundles of Newspapers.

An order was promulgated recently by the postoffice department to the effect that all the postoffices in the United States should keep an accurate record of the pieces of mail matter sent out from that office during the week beginning at midnight on Oct. 12 and closing at midnight on Oct. 19. This order was only another of the many means being used to ascertain whether or not the government is paying too high a rate to the railroads for the transportation of the mails, the agitation of which has attracted such attention of late. Another feature of the efforts of the government in this regard is in the weighing of the mails which began on July 1 and which will be continued until January 1.

This record was faithfully kept at the Hopkinsville postoffice and Postmaster Breathitt makes the following report. The employees of the office say that the figures given herein show a smaller business than usual, but even at that it gives a good idea of what an amount of mail matter goes out of Hopkinsville each week. This report is only for the mail matter sent out from this office, the incoming mail not being recorded as it had been reported from the office from which it was originally sent.

During the week a total of 10,987 letters passed through the postoffice on which the postage amounted to $227.99. The popularity of the souvenir postal cards was evidenced by the number, 3,351, of postals reported, the revenue derived from these being $34.38; of papers paid for at the pound rates 2,031 bundles were sent out on which $4.62 was paid in postage. In addition to this 316 packages of papers were mailed free in the county. It must be remembered that all the papers at one postoffice are put up in a bundle and are not mailed separately so this report cannot be taken as a report of the number of papers sent out. One issue of the Weekly New Era, if each paper was reported separately, would show much larger number than the report given above. Transient matter, this including newspapers sent out by individuals and stamped, and other matter on which postage was paid at the rate of one cent for each four ounces, amounted to 148 pieces on which the postage was $2.74. Of first class matter there were only 9 pieces and the postage on these amounted to $1.66. Third class matter showed a big increase, there being 750 pieces and the postage amounting to $9.53. Of fourth class matter there were 177 pieces and the postage was $6.64. Penalty matter, this being the matter sent out under the government frank and for the wrong use of which a heavy penalty is prescribed, amounted to 888 pieces. According to this the total receipts in money for the week were $287.56 and if this proves to be an average for the year the receipts from postage will be $14,953.12. This does not include money order fees, registered mail, etc., though and could not be taken as a report to show the total receipts of the office.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Dropping from the skies into a network of electric wires which exploded with a deafening roar and fell writhing in lines of fire to the pavement, John E. Drexler, of this city, a twenty-one year old aeronaut, narrowly escaped being electrocuted at Fairview, Nev., where he had been making daily balloon ascensions from a height of several thousand feet young Drexler made a parachute drop. The parachute fell two hundred feet before opening, floated downward and, careening, collapsed and threw the youth among high tension electric wires near the park from which the ascension was made. Turning the trapeze loose Drexler whirled through the wires and fell to the ground. He was hurt but not seriously. This was the eleventh serial voyage of the Hopkinsville aeronaut. In spite of his thrilling experience and his injuries, he wires his father, Mr. Henry Drexler that he expects to continue his dangerous business.

HUNTERS ARE EAGER NOTHING IS DOING

TO GET INTO FIELD WITH DOG AND GUN

Will be Busy After the Game Laws
Expire the Middle of Next Month

Bird hunters and bird dogs have now only about three weeks before they can take the center of the sportsman's stage for a brief spell. On November 15, the fields will be open for the hunting of the best game to be found in this section, and there is little doubt that the first day the law expires will find the fields well filled.

Reports come in that there are plenty of quail in this vicinity, and until they become "gun scared" they will be easy to find, as such a long period unmolested makes them grow tame.

Yesterday afternoon a quail from some neighboring field flew into the city. It perched for a while in front of W. T. Cooper & Co.'s grocery and whistled "Bob White" to the amazement of passersby. Later the quail paid a short visit near Frankel's store, and then disappeared.

At present all sorts of game is being protected by the law, but after the middle of November and until the first of next year the laws relax in favor of the sportsman. The wing shot is allowed to fire away at quail and doves as much as he pleases, while the smaller boy may during this period hunt rabbits to his heart's content.

L. L. Elgin Asks Catarrh Sufferers to Try Hymel on His Guarantee.

L. L. Elgin invites all who suffer from any form of catarrhal troubles to get a Hymel outfit from him with his absolute guarantee that if it does not give perfect satisfaction, the money will be refunded upon request.

There is no other treatment for catarrh that in any way resembles Hymel, none that gives such quick curative results and lasting satisfaction, no medicine that can take its place, none that can be sold on a guarantee like this, to refund the money unless it cures.

Catarrh is a germ disease and can be cured only by breathing Hymel, so that the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs and reached by its antiseptic healing powers. In this way all catarrhal germs are killed, the irritated mucous membrane is healed and catarrh is driven from the system.

This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed through a little pocket inhaler that goes with every dollar outfit.

The unusual way in which L. L. Elgin sells Hymel attests his confidence in the remedy.

OPIATE TAKEN TO RELIEVE HIS PAIN CAUSES HANSON PENN DILTZ'S DEATH

WELL KNOWN AS A CORRESPONDENT AND AUTHOR

SAD END SHOCKS FRIENDS

Native of Augusta, Ky., and Had Made His Home Here For Twenty Years.

(From Saturday's Daily)

Hanson Penn Diltz, novelist, poet and newspaper correspondent, died last evening at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. H. Elgin, on North Main street.

Had Been Ill.

He had been indisposed several days, and late Thursday afternoon took accidentally an overdose of an opiate to relieve pain. He had been at his office with W. B. Callis & Co., during the day and had complained of feeling very bad, and had gone into an adjoining room to lie down. It is supposed that toward dusk, and as he was starting home, he resorted to a dose of chloral or some other drug in hope of benefiting his condition. Finding that his faculties were becoming involved in the effects of the dose, he went into the residence of Dr. James A. Young and summoned the physician to the hallway. After a short time he was able to continue on to his home, but collapsed very soon after reaching there. Every effort to restore him to consciousness proved futile.

Beyond Human Skill.

Through the night and the following day physicians did all in their power to save his life, but he was beyond the skill and care of medicine, and, though his system relaxed slightly in the afternoon, he never regained sensibility and his condition was practically hopeless from the first. The news of his death was inexpressibly sad and shocking to his many friends. He was a lovable man, sincere, loyal and courteous, modest as a woman. He liked everybody and had many devoted friends. Certainly he had not an enemy in the world. He was without guile, singularly free from cynicism and censoriousness. He believed in people, in their natural goodness and fellowship, and harbored no resentments or suspicions against his fellowmen. His character was as open as a book, simple, honest and hopeful. And he was a clean man in mind and tongue. Profanity, vulgar jest, impure suggestions never fell from his lips. He had a heart of gold. When young he made a profession of Christianity and joined the Methodist church at Augusta, Ky., his old home.

His Newspaper Service.

He was, in point of service, the dean of newspaper correspondents in this region. He took a great pride in his work and his experience and talent made him valued by the journals he served. As an author, his achievements were well known. Among his novels were "The Duchess Undine," "Dunleath Abbey" and "Hollow Bracken." He had written much poetry and published a volume of verse entitled "Sands of Silver."

As an Author.

He was careful and conscientious in his literary labors, and took infinite pains in the preparation of his manuscript. He was true to his ideals of authorship and the modern "pot boilers" of fiction were abhorrent to him. He was at work for some time before his death upon a novel of pioneer life in Kentucky and had in the course of preparation a drama entitled "Michel Ney." He was deeply concerned in all that pertained to Kentucky literature and history and was an active member of the well known Filson club of Louisville, and a close friend of its president, the venerable Col. Durrett. Mr. Diltz was a protégé of the late Henry Stanton, and one of that gifted poet's cleverest humorous productions was dedicated to him.

Born in Augusta.

Mr. Diltz was a native of Kentucky and was born in Augusta, Feb. 29, 1860. He resided there until reaching his majority when he went to Cincinnati, Ky., as the editor of the Cincinnati Democrat, a position he held for a number of years with great credit. About twenty years ago he came to Hopkinsville to reside and since that time had made this city his home. He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Carrie Elgin, Mrs. Anna Dills, Mrs. Lizzie Cushman, of this city, and Mrs. Boude, of Augusta.

Funeral Services.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church, and will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. George H. Means. The remains will be laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

SET HERSELF ON FIRE AFTER SHE HAD POURED COAL OIL ON NIGHT CLOTHES.

TERRIBLE FATE OF MRS. HUTCHINSON AT HOWELL

A BAPTIST MINISTER'S WIFE.

Unfortunate Lady Was of Unsound Mind.—Visiting at Home on Parole From Asylum.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, wife of the Baptist minister at Howell, died Friday afternoon in great agony from burns received early that morning when she saturated her night clothes with coal oil and set fire to her garments with a match.

Her Mind Unsound.

Mrs. Hutchinson had been of unsound mind for several months past. Part of this time she was in a sanitarium in Louisville but more recently she had been confined in the Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane near this city. Last Monday she was permitted to go home for a short visit to her family.

Yesterday morning about day-break the woman attendant who was in the room with her went into an adjoining room for something. Mrs. Hutchinson arose from the bed immediately and unscrewing the burner from the lamp emptied the oil all over her body.

Applied a Match.

She then secured a match and set fire to her clothing. Her screams attracted her husband but while he used every endeavor to put out the flames he did not succeed in doing so until the woman's body was a mass of terrible burns. A physician was sent for at once and hurried to the bedside but he could only alleviate Mrs. Hutchinson's sufferings temporarily to some extent and death relieved her about the middle of the afternoon.

Came From Missouri.

Mrs. Hutchinson was about forty years of age and her husband and two children survive her. The family came to Kentucky from St. Charles, Missouri, and located at Guthrie. About eight months ago Mr. Hutchinson was called to the pastorate of Olivet Baptist church near Howell and they had been living there ever since.

MRS. CARRIE NATION GOES AFTER JUDGE BREATHITT AT HENDERSON

Rises Up in Meetin' and Questions the Hopkinsville Candidate For Attorney General.—Declares Republican Party is Responsible for Liquor Traffic.

HENDERSON, Ky., Oct. 30.—Carrie Nation was the center of attraction at the speaking of Judge James Breathitt, the Republican candidate for attorney general, yesterday afternoon. Carrie listened respectfully to his speech, and when he was upon the right of suffrage Mrs. Nation arose and asked, "What about woman suffrage?"

"Woman controls the universe, and is entitled to anything she wants," replied Judge Breathitt. "But she don't get it," answered Carrie.

Judge Breathitt at this point finished his speech, and then Carrie began her harangue. She attributed all the responsibility for the liquor traffic to the Republican party. She said that several Democratic states had prohibition governors, but that there was not a Republican state with a prohibition governor.

She took Judge Breathitt to task on the county unit bill, telling him that a halfway business of licensing saloons was encouraging that evil. She demanded that he, as a candidate for a high legal office, stand for the annihilation of saloons. She told Judge Breathitt that he had been nominated by thugs, gamblers, rowdies and politicians.

Mrs. Nation furnished much amusement to the crowd. Judge Breathitt remained until she had finished her address. Mrs. Nation visited several saloons, where she made talks, but did no "smashing." She spoke last night to a crowd of 700 persons at the courthouse.

LATEST VOTE IN CHILDREN'S CONTEST.

BONNIE BOY AND HIS BUGGY.

By hundreds and even into thousands was the way in which many of the candidates in the gold watch and pony contest increased their votes in the count which was made last night. Lowe Johnson made the biggest increase with 1494, Pettit Fentress was second with 1381 and Carl Higen third with 780 and then on down the line through every district heavy gains were made.

We present herewith a picture of the pony "Bonnie Boy" and the harness and buggy. This picture shows the outfit as well as a picture could but it falls far short of giving a full idea of how beautiful and thoroughly up to date it is. It must be seen to be appreciated. All candidates, whether they live in town or in the country, who have not seen this outfit and made friends with and petted the pony are invited to call at this office at any time.

We will take pleasure in introducing them to "Bonnie Boy" who, as he always is, will be delighted to know them. In fact the pony desires to meet all the children who are candidates in the contest for there is no telling to whom he will belong and he wants to be sure and meet his owner in advance.

VOTE ON AMENDMENT

WILL BE TAKEN AT THE COMING ELECTION

Provides For the Payment of Taxes Before One Can Cast His Ballot.

The voters of Kentucky will vote on a constitutional amendment in November that is of considerable importance to both the state and the individual voter.

It is an amendment providing that each voter shall hold a tax receipt for all taxes due by him for the year previous to the one in which he offers to vote before he shall have the right to do so.

In other words those voters who do not pay their taxes will not be permitted to vote.

The exact wording of the amendment to be voted on is as follows:

Are you for the proposed amendment to the constitution excluding from the right to vote "Persons who have not, at least sixty days before the election at which they offer to vote, paid in full all state county, municipal, district and school taxes due by them for the year previous to the one in which they offer to vote."

This amendment will be found in the right hand column on the official ballot.

If you are in favor of the amendment you stamp in the square opposite the word "yes" and if you are opposed to it you stamp in the square opposite the word "No."

Should this amendment carry it will add thousands of dollars to the state's revenue or exclude from voting those who have been in the habit of not paying their poll tax year after year.

A Novel Introduction.

The Dr. Howard company have entered into an arrangement with L. L. Elgin's drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia. So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that L. L. Elgin will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

L. L. Elgin has been able to secure only a limited supply, so everyone who wishes to be cured of dyspepsia or constipation should call upon him at once or send him 25 cents by mail, and get 60 doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price introductory offer, with his personal guarantee to refund the money if the specific does not cure.

She Did Not Fear Death.

An old lady on her seventy-third birthday once said, "I do not mind getting old, and I do not fear death, but I live in constant dread of paralysis."

"For some time I have been wanting to tell you of the great good your wonderful Sloan's Liniment is doing here," writes Mr. James F. Abernathy, of Rutherford college, N. C. "In fact all your remedies are doing noble work, but your Liniment beats all. In my eight years' experience with medicine I find none to go ahead of it, having tried it in many cases. I know of one young man, a brick mason, who suffered from a partial, yet almost complete paralysis of one arm. I got him to use your liniment, and now he can do as much work as ever, and he sings your praise every day. I get all to use it I possibly can and know there is great virtue in it. I have helped the sale of your noble remedies about here greatly, and expect to cause many more to buy them as I know they can't be beat."

Writes Mrs. N. E. Green, secretary of the Dark District Planters' Protective association:

"Information has been received at this office that Felix Ewing is improving rapidly and his doctor has given him permission to receive all the correspondence he wants. He asked me to write each county chairman, telling them to write him immediately the condition of the association in their counties, and anything of interest to him. Mr. Ewing is not yet strong enough to take up his work, but his interest in the association is just as great and he hopes to be at home within a few weeks well and strong."

Crofton has a new city judge in the person of W. E. Denton who was appointed to the vacancy caused by the resignation of John M. W. st. Judge Denton qualified with J. H. Myers, D. T. Cranor and W. B. Croft as his sureties.

PREDICTS A FINE VICTORY FOR THE DEMOCRATS

Judge Hager Will be Greeted by Great Crowd Saturday.—Other Political Notes.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Gov. J. W. C. Beckham, spent last night at the Western asylum as Superintendent Stephens' guest and left this morning at 11:20 for Cadiz where he will speak this afternoon. The governor expresses himself as well pleased with the Democratic outlook and predicts a flattering majority next Tuesday. The governor spoke yesterday at Elkton in interest of the Democratic ticket. A committee met the governor at Guthrie, and escorted him to Elkton where he was met at the depot by about 200 enthusiastic Democrats, headed by a brass band, that marched to Elkton Hotel, where he took lunch. At 1:30 p. m. he was escorted to Damon's opera house and was introduced by Hon. B. B. Petre to an audience of 500 ladies and gentlemen. He contrasted the acts of the Democratic administration with that of the Republican administration. The state was in debt more than $1,000,000 when he was inducted into office seven years ago. All this indebtedness had been liquidated and a new state capitol erected at a cost of $1,250,000 and paid for, and when he retired from office there would be a surplus of $1,200,000 and without the state owing one dollar. The speech was enthusiastically received and will be the means of adding to the Democratic majority in this country. After the speech Gov. Beckham left with Dr. Stephens for this city.

Gov. Beckham was met at Gracey this morning by a committee of Trigg county citizens who escorted him to Cadiz. The Cadiz train was decorated with bunting and banners and the headlight was covered with a large portrait of the governor.

General interest is being manifested in the Judge Hager's speaking appointment in this city next Saturday. He will be heard by a great crowd.

John C. Duffy returned this afternoon from a speaking campaign in the interest of the Democratic ticket in Trigg county. He was heard by large audiences.

J. T. Hanbery is on the stump in Trigg county.

HOG STEALING

(From Wednesday's Daily)

The recent agitation in the alleged hog stealing cases in which Ed Ware and Bill Johnson are now in jail and upon which charges they will be tried on Friday, November 8, has caused the farmers to sit up and take notice and they lose no of their hogs or stock.

Monday night John Thurmond, of Gracely, lost two fine hogs, but whether they were stolen or strayed off of their own accord he does not know.

He reported the matter to the police yesterday and a close watch is being kept for the porkers. Mr. Thurmond described them as both being red and white spotted and each weighing about two hundred and fifty pounds.

Jim Blakeley, of the same neighborhood, also reported yesterday that two Jersey cows were missing from his place and the police are also keeping a lookout for these. Mr. Blakeley was like Mr. Thurmond and said he did not know whether the cows were stolen or had wandered away during the previous night.

Lesson V.—Fourth Quarter, For
Nov. 3, 1907.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Josh. xx, 1-9.
Memory Verses, 2, 3—Golden Text,
Ps. lxxi, 7—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

(Copyright, 1907, by American Press Association.)

It might be safely said that every person, place or thing in Scripture either by analogy or contrast, points to Him who when walking with the two to Emmaus expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning Himself and who said that same evening to the disciples in Jerusalem, "All things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the Psalms, concerning Me" (Luke xxiv, 27, 44).

Some people are typical of Him in a very special way, such as Abel, Isaac, Joseph, Moses, David, Melchizedek and others. He is very clearly seen in such things as the tree of life, the manna, the rock that was smitten and the water flowing therefrom; the tabernacle and all its parts and vessels, the vine, the brazen serpent; in such creatures as the sacrifices in Eden, the Passover lamb, the red heifer, the goats and other sacrifices of the day of atonement, the birds of the leper cleansing, and as to places, in none more notably than the cities of refuge of today's lesson. How many precious texts the word "refuge" brings to mind! "God is our refuge; * * * the God of Jacob is our refuge, 'My refuge is in God.' 'Thou art my strong refuge.' 'I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge' (Ps. xlii, 1, 7, 11; lxxii, 7; lxxxi, 7; xci, 2). The cities of refuge were for those who killed others accidentally, that no innocent blood might be shed. There was no refuge for the guilty. Here our lesson comes by contrast, at least part of it. We must plead guilty before we can expect that Christ will receive us. He came to save sinners—the lost ones (Rom. iii, 19, 24; Luke xix, 10; I Tim. i, 15)—and of all precious words for such what can excel "Him that cometh to Me I will in no wise cast out" (John vi, 37).

The full story of the cities of refuge is found in Num. xxxv and Deut. xix, in connection with today's lesson chapter, and the first mention of them is in Ex. xxi, 13, but we first hear of a refuge for the sinner in Gen. iii, 15, 21, and then all the way through to Rev. xxii, 17. The cities were conveniently situated for all, three on each side of the Jordan. Jesus is a Saviour nigh to all who call upon Him in truth.

There was a way prepared to each city (Deut. xix, 3), and where other ways crossed there would doubtless be directions concerning the right way.

As soon as the fleeing one entered the city he was perfectly safe (verses 4, 5). The sinner who flees to Christ, or, in other words, receives Him or believes in Him, is as safe as the blood of Christ and the word of God can make him, and no power can take him out of that place (John x, 27-29; Ex. xii, 13). The lions' den and Joseph's tomb were made as sure as human authority and power could make them, but the seal of God makes as safe as God Himself all who are thus sealed. Not, as the hymn says, "safe in the arms of Jesus," but as one has well said, "safe as an arm of Jesus," for we are members of His body (Eph. v, 29, 30). The "wherever" of the gospel is seen in the fact that these cities were for the benefit of strangers and sojourners as well as for Israelites (verse 9 and Num. xxxv, 45). It is truly grand that we can go to any and all in any land and every land with the blessed invitation for "whosoever will." The continued safety of the refugee depended upon his abiding in the city till the death of the high priest of that time (verse 14). Then he could return to his own house and city. Our High Priest has died and risen again and is alive forevermore and has all power in heaven and earth and has assured us that because He lives we shall live also (John xiv, 19).

As each city points to Him who is our refuge, so the name of each city tells something of His excellency and glory. Kedesh tells of His holiness. Without holiness no man shall see the Lord (Heb. xii, 14). The unrighteous shall not enter the kingdom (I Cor. vi, 9), but He is made to all who receive Him wisdom, righteousness, sanctification, redemption (I Cor. i, 30). He is our only holiness.

Shechem signifies shoulder, and we are said to dwell between His shoulders, and the government is on His shoulder; as also the key of the house of David (Deut. xxxiii, 12; Isa. ix, 6).

Hebron, as we saw in last lesson, signifies fellowship or inclosure. He wants us all for Himself—"A garden inclosed, a spring shut up, a fountain sealed" (S. of Sol. iv, 12)—for God, who is faithful, has called us unto the fellowship of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord (I Cor. i, 9).

Bezer is said to signify metal ore or something precious, and the Spirit tells us through Peter that He is chosen of God and precious, precious to those who believe, and that His promises are exceeding great and precious (I Pet. ii, 6, 7; II Pet. i, 4).

Ramoth signifies exalted, and even now by faith we are at God's right hand in Him who has been exalted thither and as evermore shall in due time sit with Him in His throne and come with Him in His glory (Eph. ii, 6, 7; Rev. iii, 21; Col. iii, 4).

Golan is suggestive of joy or rejoicing, and He has told us that He wants our joy to be full and that all our sorrows shall be turned into joy (xvi, 20).

IN TRIGG COUNTY

"NIGHT RIDERS" STILL SEEM TO BE ACTIVE

Visit Several Parties Between The Rivers.—One Fellow Escaped
In His Night Clothes.

The Cadiz Record says:

A few night riders made a trip down between the rivers one night last week, so we are informed. As this happened about twelve or fifteen miles from here, we have been unable to learn much about it, but the following account was given us by Mr. F. L. Ferguson, a brother of one of the parties visited:

About eleven o'clock last Saturday night a crowd of about fifteen went to the residence of T. W. Ferguson and, after firing a few volleys, called for him to come out. He heard them coming, however, and had escaped out the back way in his night clothes.

His wife went to the door and told them that her husband was not at home, whereupon, they told her to tell him that "if he did not come down below the next morning and settle the difference between him and his neighbors they would come back and hang him." They then departed.

They then went to the residence of Mrs. Pogue, a widow, and called her son John out and carried him a short distance from the house and had a long talk with him, but what passed between them no one has learned.

After leaving the home of Mrs. Pogue they went to the home of Mr. Nap Peal and called him out. He asked to be permitted to dress, but they insisted that he come on out in his night clothes which he did. They asked him if he belonged to the association, and he assured them that he did; they then asked him if his neighbors belonged to it, and he informed them that to the best of his knowledge they all did. They then departed and nothing further was heard from them.

Mr. Ferguson said that his brother had had some litigation with some of his neighbors below and that early the next morning he got on his horse and went to see them and succeeded in effecting a compromise at some sacrifice upon his part.

This is all we have been able to learn about the matter.

STOP THE STRENUOUS LIFE

Weakens the Tissues and Lessens The Organic Vitality.

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country tends toward stomach troubles.

The frantic rush for pleasure, money and excitement is bringing serious results. Elaborate food, late suppers, over-eating and too much drinking are some of the causes of stomach weakness for which the individual is responsible.

Five people suffer today where one did ten years ago with sick headaches, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of three in Hopkinsville and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all troubles from indigestion as Mi-o-na. It is unlike any remedy heretofore known, and is actually one of the most valuable discoveries in modern medical science.

It is not a mere digestive taken after the food is eaten, but a true tonic, stimulant and strengthener for the muscular walls of the stomach, increasing the flow of digestive fluids and putting the stomach into such condition that it does the work Nature expects of it. It is an absolute and lasting cure, for it banishes all weakness and debility from the stomach and bowels.

So reliable is Mi-o-na in its curative action that L. L. Elgin, with every 50 cent box he sells gives a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy does all that is claimed for it.

HE LOSES HIS HEAD

WILLSON IS RESORTING TO VILIFICATION

"Whom the Gods Would Destroy They First Make Mad."—Have Him On the Run.

FRANKFORT, Ky., October 29.—

For setting the pace for his associate orators in attacking the Democratic record in the administration of public affairs, August E. Willson, Republican gubernatorial candidate, has been put on the defensive within the week past, responding to leading attacks upon his own record as a lawyer and a man of truth, and in making that defense he has lost his head and now resorts in the last days of the campaign to abuse of the men against whom he is making a race before the intelligent voters of Kentucky. He has been called and proven a falsifier within that space of time and is unable to respond except through use of the words "incompetent" and "tumble-bug," applied to the men who have him on the griddle and are punishing him. "Whom the Gods would destroy they first make mad" is an old saying, and Mr. Willson is certainly mad these days.

The distinguished candidate of the Republican party first side stepped issues of the campaign, he has always been dodging the real live issues, when he declared in a public speech that William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, had been paid five hundred dollars a day to come to Kentucky and make a speech from a special train in the interest of Judge Hager, Governor Beckham and those running with them in this campaign. For this deliberate falsehood, he was quickly called by State Chairman Henry B. Hines, of the Democratic committee and by the Hon. Urey Woodson, of Owensboro who was instrumental in getting the distinguished Nebraskan to visit the state this fall. His answer was that he couldn't prove a word he had uttered in the matter nor in any way justify his insult to the great leader of the National Democracy.

In attempting to respond to the serious charge preferred by the Hon. J. Morgan Clinton, of Mercer, that he is the hired attorney in Kentucky of the tobacco trust Mr. Willson has placed himself in a most ridiculous and at the same time pitiable condition for a man seeking before the honest and liberty loving people of Kentucky the high office of governor of the state. First declaring that he had been employed by the trust in but a single case in the Kentucky courts. Mr. Willson was forced by a showing of the public records to admit that he had represented one or another branch of the iniquitous trust in other cases. He then sought to extricate himself from his position by declaring that he had been gotten into the second case because of having won a similar case just previous to the filing of this second case. Relying upon this explanation, he declared another man to be the real Kentucky lawyer for the tobacco trust, and gave expression to his real feeling in a declaration that he thought a man could be a trust lawyer and still at the same time properly and equitably administer the affairs of the people and not have any leading in the direction of his employer of the swollen fortune. Either Mr. Willson isn't the lawyer and astute man who he has been advertised to be or he thinks the people of Kentucky, the constituency whom he would like to represent as their governor, are slow thinking. He had no sooner declared that he was drawn into the Continental Tobacco company case, that one in which he sought for them to evade the payment of one hundred thousand dollars into the public treasury of the city of Louisville as taxes, through employment in a similar case for the Mengel Box company than Mr. Chinn, the Democrat who first called the attention of the public to his trust connection, disclosed to the public, whom Mr. Willson sought to deceive than the Box company is largely held by the Continental Tobacco company and by Mr. Duke, the tobacco king of the United States and that in reality the company in whose fight he learned the tactics to be employed in the continental case is but an infant industry of the parent corporation.

Angered intensely at this exposure of his trust and monied connections, this Republican lawyer showed his bitterness in attacks of a violent nature upon A. Owsley Stanley, the congressman and Tobacco Grower association orator of western Kentucky, and upon Governor Beckham, Judge Hager and Congressman Ollie M. James, of the First congressional district. He referred to the distinguished Kentuckian who has occupied the governor's chair for eight years who is the nominee of the Democratic party for a seat in the United States senate as "Crispy". He referred to Judge Hager who has a state wide reputation for ability and honesty in public affairs, as "Incompetent", and dismissed the brainy young congressman from the First district as a "tumble-bug". These remarks were well in keeping with a man who would denounce the greatest Democratic leader of the century as a paid orator. They were such as would be uttered by a hired man of the wealthy classes of this country who have no regard for the great masses of this country, and who credit no man with being honest or with an honest purpose. The Democrats attacked in such fashion will pay no heed to Mr. Willson's references, knowing them to emanate from a man who has lost his head through realizing that the people of Kentucky are about to turn him down as have the people of the Fifth congressional district before this time when he sought to represent them. Mr. James, in a speech at Danville during the week, referred to the anger of Mr. Willson and said that he, James, doubtless recalled the "tumble-bug" to Mr. Willson for he and other Democratic campaigners had been "rolling him around some" since they had gotten him "on the run" as a result of his trust connections.

COMPANY D. RANGE

An indoor rifle range is to be established at once for the use of Co. D., and the soldiers will be given regular practice in shooting during the cold winter months.

Ten thousand rounds of 22 calibre ammunition and two target rifles were received yesterday. The cartridges are the ordinary 22 long. The rifles though are different, being patterned along the same lines as the Krag Jorgensens and the same weight as the regular army rifle. They are also so arranged that the sights on the Krags can be used on them and thus the soldiers are handling a gun which, except for the calibre, is the same as their regular weapon.

The range will be established at once in the armory. This room is sufficiently long to give ranges of different lengths and the lighting is exceptionally good. The members of the company are very much enthused over the practice and confidently expect to get in such shape in this manner that when the regimental rifle practice is held next summer to be able to hold their own with any of the other companies.

JNO. WESLEY GAINES

WRITES GOOD NEWS OF MR. EWING'S HEALTH.

A Interesting Communication of The Situation by Popular Congressman From Tennessee.

The New Era is in receipt of the following communication from Congressman Gaines, of the Hermitage district of Tennessee:

To the Members of the Planters' Protective Association:
Realizing that you would rejoice to hear, even indirectly, from your beloved and patriotic General Manager and Chairman Felix G. Ewing, I take this means of saying to you, that I have just had the great pleasure of reading a nine-page letter written by Mr. Ewing, with pen in a strong, bold and characteristic style which clearly indicates to me, that his nerves are again in natural repose and his strength rapidly returning. In fact, he says that he has regained twenty-five pounds, but "I am awfully weak and rickety, pinning for home, yearning to pull my part of the association load," although "not capable of doing the hard work of the past, and may not be for some months," but "I will give my thought and counsel to it"—the association.

Wise and thoughtful as he always was, and will again be, his "thought and counsel" will be most welcome, whether he is or is not able again to "draw water and hew wood" for the association. But his burden will be less on his return. By your patriotic and heroic devotion to home, justice and right, through our association, the "load" he helped you to bear as long as he was able to stand up, has been lessened, the enemy has been driven back, inch by inch, day by day, they stand whipped, they have stacked arms and surrendered to your just and considerate demands, and the leaders though backed by millions are encompassed by the strong arm of the law, and are being prosecuted in dead earnest by the federal government. No your "load," is not what it used to be. You are practically out of debt, as a result of an inevitable and timely stand you, three years ago took, and have gallantly maintained, through your association, your last resort.

When Mr. Ewing was stricken down, you were in the midst of the thickest of the fight. Other able and patriotic members took his place and continued the battle; an unprecedented success is yours—a victory, the result of your united and daily effort. Your struggle, as well as your victory, by the advice of a physician, have been withheld from Mr. Ewing and he now, able again, thank God, to read and write, turns his face toward home and friends and asks "What of the hour?" pinning to be at the same time "side by side" with you to continue your own fight. "Don't give up the ship." If Mr. Ewing must die, by such a stand you can give him the chance to say "Victory is ours, I die happy."

From every standpoint—for ourselves and in honor to him—it behooves you to stand your ground. Leave no stone unturned—always acting within the limits of the law—to maintain your association. With a watchful eye, keep it and yourself, (and compel all others to do so) within the pathway trod by the good, home-loving, law-abiding citizens. You have already attracted the attention and admiration of almost the entire agricultural classes of the United States. Even foreigners are writing here to know how on earth farmers ever organized and kept organized, and overcome such a powerful and unscrupulous concern as the Tobacco Trust and its foreign allies, who have the farmers in foreign lands by the throat. Just as you were less than four years ago.

Your association is a monumental success, creditable to its founder, its members and allies. It has been the cause, in a great measure, of exposing to public gaze, evil-doers, lawless wealth, and set the officers of the law after them and they are after them still. On yesterday the federal government filed a suit, in Richmond, Va., attaching (to "confiscate") 175 cases of cigars and cigarettes, valued at $727.75 being exported to England by the American Tobacco Trust, consigned to its foreign branch, British American Tobacco Co., the Government's complaint being that these trusts were violating the Sherman anti-trust law. Under this law last June the government filed another bill, an injunction proceeding, against this trust, setting out its oppressive and lawless conduct toward you and others. The government is, I honestly believe, in good faith, intelligently pressing these suits. The latter suit, I assured you two years ago, would be filed.

Soon congress will meet and your friends there will renew their fight to repeal the six cents tax on tobacco. An "extraordinary" lobby fund has been appropriated to defeat this legislation, while great trust lawyers supported by millions, are opposing these law-suits filed to aid you and others.

Pending a dissolution of these trusts by the courts and the repeal of this tax our association must be maintained, if no longer. Look back a few years and see your condition—in debt, homes mortgaged, tobacco pledged for a pittance or sold at a price fixed by the trust. A few patriotic men, your neighbors and friends, without money and without experience, with big hearts and strong arms, helped you to set up this association. It was then an experiment, and rich men refused to back it. You then worked out your own salvation. It is no longer an experiment, and you are out of debt with money in the bank. Four years ago your tobacco was sold at from three to eight dollars, that now sells for from six to twenty dollars. Four years ago you hunted for buyers and begged them to buy at their price. Now, the buyers hunt you and beg you to sell at your price. You did not expect this yourself. See what a united and patriotic effort can do. Don't strike down your association because you can't have your own way, or because there are individual instances of wrong-doing by members or by out-siders. Correct these evils, but do not undermine the association—leave yourself, your wives and children unprotected from the trust, that has neither heart to feel, nor conscience to quicken and which mercilessly, for years, oppressed you, until it was challenged and checked by your association. Up-build your organization and at the same time, in a manly way, fight down wrong-doing. Separate the two.

You have much as we all have for which to be thankful to the God who gave. Let us all be thankful that He hath given and spared to each of us, Felix Grundy Ewing.

Yours truly,
John Wesley Gaines.

Keep Your Bowels Open

It is a noticeable fact, and one which any doctor will verify that people who suffer most often from disease are the ones who have the most difficulty in keeping their bowels open. Regular bowel action is half the battle of health. People who have a tendency to constipation must of necessity use something to help nature along. This should not be a violent aid like salts or purgative waters, cathartic pills or powders, but a syrup liquid that will oil the intestines and membranes that it comes in contact with. Children, women and weak people generally should never be given a strong physic as it weakens the system. And it is futile for the strongest person because the relief is temporary for that day, and then the reaction sets in and you are worse off than before.

What is needed is a prompt but gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. People have been taking it for sixteen years and it is being better liked by more people every year. The reason is that it acts as a tonic, unlike anything else. Results are so sure in constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, liver trouble, biliousness, flatulency, sour stomach, weak stomach, bloated stomach and such ills that a cure of any of these ailments is absolutely guaranteed. A bottle costs but 50 cents or $1 and is worth a hundred times that to any sufferer.

Wise mothers keep it constantly in the house for emergencies, because it is needed at some time or other by every member of the family. Dr. Lucile Underhill, the medical superintendent of the Working Woman's Home of Chicago has kept her characters perfect health by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin whenever a stomach complaint was brought to her attention. No other laxative is used in the home. Buy a bottle yourself today and watch the prompt and permanent results.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never tried it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Gentlest yet most effective laxative for children, women and old people. A guaranteed permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN." The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EASILY DECIDED.

This Question Should Be Answered Easily By Hopkinsville People.

Which is wiser—to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow-citizens, of people you know, or depend on statements made by utter strangers residing in far away places? Read the following:

Mrs. W. G. Owen, 212 E. Fourteenth street, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as being an excellent remedy for kidney complaint. I speak for them in behalf of my husband who was cured of a severe backache some two years ago when we were living at Curdsville, Ky. He had complained a good deal and some days it was all he could do to drag himself about. Stopping or lifting hurt him intensely. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended to him and he procured them. They soon helped him and by the time he had taken the contents of two boxes he was completely cured. I have never heard him complain of even feeling a symptom of a recurrence since."

BY A LARGE CROWD

SENATOR PAYNTER WAS HEARD AT COURTHOUSE.

Able Expounds Democratic Doctrine and Urges Loyal Support For The Entire Ticket.

Through rain and darkness several hundred Hopkinsville citizens, including a number of ladies, went to the courthouse Saturday night to hear United States Senator Thomas H. Paynter speak in the interest of the Democratic state ticket. An accident at the electric light plant left the city in blackness almost up to hour scheduled for the appointment, and the very large crowd that gathered in the circuit court chamber was a genuine compliment to the distinguished speaker and well attested the interest felt by the Democrats of this locality in the coming election. Senator Paynter was gracefully introduced by the Hon. Herman Southall. He is a gentleman of splendid personal appearance and an able and logical orator. His address dealt in the main with state issues. Clearly and convincingly he presented the Democratic position and told of the achievements of the party and of the continued prosperity of the state under the administration of Democratic officials. He characterized the campaign of Mr. Willson and the Republicans as one of hypocrisy. He branded as utterly untrue that eighty per cent of the Confederate vote would go to Willson, and said the veterans were loyal to the Democratic party. His speech was a masterly summary of the progress of the state under Democratic rule and a defense of the state administration. He took up the school system, taxation, railroad legislation and the regulation of railroad rates. On this point Judge Paynter said that while he believed rates should be regulated, the railroads' side of the question should be given due consideration, and they should not be hampered by unwise restrictions, as they were the chief agencies in developing and building up the country.

Judge Paynter also spoke in high terms of Judge Hager, candidate for governor and all the aspirants for state office on the Democratic ticket. He also commended Gov. J. C. W. Beckham as a candidate for the United States senate. After a trip over the state Judge Paynter has found the political situation from a Democratic standpoint in excellent shape and he predicts a rousing victory in November.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate woman and child. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better remedy is used for ex-tracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.,—pure alcohol. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heartburn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels. Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal Passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

Coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from colds, but it is very effective in the cure of consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

SUNDAY OF SORROW

A DAY OF FUNERALS IN CITY OF HOPKINSVILLE.

Four Interments at Hopewell Cemetery.—Only Son of Mr. John C. Latham Dies.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Four bodies were buried Sunday in Riverside cemetery, and most of the afternoon was consumed in funerals.

The body of Mrs. C. E. Hutchins, who died of self-inflicted burns at Howell, Friday afternoon, was buried yesterday morning.

Early in the afternoon the body of Tom Wilkins, of Oak Grove, was brought to this city and as the cortege proceeded up Main street it passed the procession which was following the remains of Hanson Penn Diltz to the Methodist church where the funeral was preached. When the body of Mr. Diltz reached the cemetery the burial of Mr. Wilkins had just been completed and barely had the grave of Mr. Diltz been covered with flowers before the body of Mrs. Tom Johnson, of Oak Grove, was brought into the cemetery and buried within a few steps of the newspaper man.

Mr. Wilkins died at his home on the farm of W. A. McKenzie Saturday afternoon after a two weeks' illness of pneumonia. He was about twenty-five years of age and leaves a wife and two children.

Mrs. Johnson died Saturday of typhoid fever. She was about forty years of age and a consecrated member of the Christian church. The funeral services were held at the residence, conducted by Rev. H. D. Smith, of this city. She leaves a husband and four children.

John C. Latham, Jr., aged two years and six months, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Latham, died Sunday morning at 3 o'clock at the residence of his parents in New York. Mr. Latham, who had been here for a week on business, was on his way home, arriving there several hours after the little one's death. Telegrams to Miss Jennie Glass announce that the remains will be brought to Hopkinsville for burial, leaving New York tomorrow afternoon and arriving here Wednesday night. Burial services have not been arranged. The child was a bright and lovable boy and the affections of all the friends of the family were entwined about him. The tenderest sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved parents in loss of their only son.

The funeral of Hanson Penn Diltz took place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, being conducted at the Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. George H. Means. There was a beautiful hymnal service by the choir. The casket was hidden under lovely flowers, the tributes of friends to the memory of the deceased. One of the handsomest designs was from the Nashville American, on whose staff as correspondent Mr. Diltz served many years. The remains were laid to rest at Riverside cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. A. W. Wood, T. E. Bartley, T. C. Underwood, M. E. Bacon, Edward and William Callis, A. S. White and T. E. Elgin.

Why Colds Are Dangerous

Because you have contracted ordinary colds and recovered from them without treatment of any kind, do not for a moment imagine that colds are not dangerous. Everyone knows that pneumonia and chronic catarrh have their origin in a common cold. Consumption is not caused by a cold but the cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs that would not, otherwise have found lodgment. It is the same with all infectious diseases, Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough are much more likely to be contracted when the child has a cold. You will see from this that more real danger lurks in a cold than in any other of the common ailments. The easiest and quickest way to cure a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The many remarkable cures effected by this preparation have made it a staple article of trade over a large part of the world. For sale by Anderson & Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 27.—In this sermon the heavenly capital and its attractions are presented in a new aspect, and St. John's description receives a realistic and beautiful interpretation. The text is Revelation xxi, 16, "The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal."

A man's visions or idealisms or mental similitudes inevitably take upon themselves the forms and colorings and characters of his physical surroundings. When Pharaoh dreamed his dreams he did not have rapturous revelations of the coming grandeur of a Persian capital. He caught no glimpse of the future glories of Athens, Rome, Berlin, London, St. Petersburg or New York. He saw a vision of his own pasture lands and of his own river Nile, flowing past his palace door. He saw his own cattle and his own wheatfields. His dreams were of familiar scenes. The peculiarity was in what these familiar objects did. The seven lean cattle ate up the seven fat cattle, the seven lean stalks ate up the seven fat stalks. The seven fat cattle represented seven years of plenty; the seven lean represented seven years of want, but all were the same kind of cattle which Pharaoh's herdsmen were then tending upon the royal domains.

When Joseph, the shepherd's son, dreamed his dreams emblematic of his future greatness the picture in his vision did not show him the glories of an Egyptian premiership. In all probability, living the simple herdsman's life, he at that time had no conception of what a royal court was like. No, Joseph did not dream of ermine and coronets and thrones. He saw the sun and the moon and the eleven stars making obeisance to him. He saw the sheaves of wheat which his brethren were binding in the fields bow down and worship his sheaf. He saw these astronomical and agricultural similes because as a shepherd boy guarding his flock by night he had often watched and studied the stars. He saw the sheaves because as a farmer's boy he had often watched the workmen gathering the harvest, and his own back and arms often had been wearied with binding the sheaves for on the farm during the harvest time all the men and boys who could carry the scythe were pressed into service. It is a psychological law that when we see visions they may be ridiculous or grotesque, but they generally relate to objects familiar to us in our waking hours.

St. John's Vision of Heaven.
When St. John upon the island of Patmos caught a glorious vision of the celestial capital, the New Jerusalem, what was more natural for him than to pattern it after the greatest and the most wonderful city his eyes had ever seen? He certainly did not picture heaven as any of the modern cities you and I are accustomed to see. He did not think of the New Jerusalem as built upon sand dunes by a beautiful harbor, as San Francisco is built beside the lapping waters of the Golden Gate of the Pacific. He did not find it among the waving palms and the orange groves under the shadow of the snow-capped mountains of Grayback and San Bernardino, as Redlands, the most beautiful city of all California. He imagined the New Jerusalem descending from heaven and alighting on a hill, as the Davidic capital was upon a hill. Then St. John imagines this celestial city surrounded by a great wall. Though this wall was glittering with myriads of precious stones, it was the same kind of a wall that encircled the capital of the Holy Land.

Let us try to imagine the exterior of the celestial capital which we call heaven as John saw it in vision. I am going to point out to you some of the chief characteristics of those celestial battlements. At other times we may in fancy under the apostle's guidance try to enter those gates and roam over the golden boulevards and examine the architecture of the mansions in the skies, but today we are going to limit our travels and just study the outer walls of heaven. It is a strange spectacle as the inspired artist pictures it. It surpasses in splendor every wall and portal in the most magnificent of European or Asiatic cities. Sometimes as tourists I think we pass too quickly the beautiful carved doors of the great cathedrals of Europe or ignore the mighty walls of eastern capitals in order to reach the centers of the cities. Let us not make this mistake in reference to heaven. Let us loiter at least one Sabbath day to study the walls which encircle our future celestial habitation. "And the city lieth four square, and the length is as large as the breadth, and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal."

The Size of Heaven.
When St. John saw the New Jerusalem looming up in all its vast proportions, he was impressed with the infinite size of heaven. It was a place so large that it took a reed 12,000 furlongs to measure its outside walls. Now, when you remember that the furlong is one-eighth of a mile you will see that a traveler must take a journey of 6,000 miles to go around it. In other words, if the walls of this straight line they would reach nearly twice across the American continent, from San Francisco to New York. They would be more than three times the distance between London and St. Petersburg.

Dr. C. A. Goodhart tells us about the vast size of the apocalyptic vision of St. John when he says, "Babylon was a great city, about three times the size of modern London. Yet, comparing the measurements which Herodotus gives of Babylon with the one St. John gives of the New Jerusalem, we find that the latter would contain ten thousand of the former." Can your mind grasp what Dr. Goodhart means?

"Well," says some one, "do you literally mean that the New Jerusalem which St. John saw had any such dimensions as those? Even if we could conceive of a city so wide and so long we could not imagine it having a height from base to summit of 15,000 miles." No, you must remember that this was a vision, and as such was symbolical. The twelve gates correspond to the twelve tribes of Israel and to the twelve apostles. The furlongs and the foundation stones are other sets of twelve. I think the apostle intended us to learn from the great cube that the heavenly city was big enough to contain all people of all nations, of all generations, of all times, who have been and will be cleansed from sin by Christ's atoning blood. I want to show that provision is made for the widest acceptance of the invitation "Whosoever will" and is so big that it will take in every sinner who comes and bows at the foot of the cross and who says, as did the publican of old, "God be merciful to me a sinner." And "the length and the breadth and the height of it are equal."

The Banquet Hall.

I was never more impressed with Christ's parable of the banquet hall of heaven than after I had studied this revelation of St. John. The banquet tables are spread. The invited guests have refused to come. Then the master of the house said to his servants: "Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city and bring in hither the poor and the maimed and the halt and the blind. And the servants said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room." Of course there is room. There is always room in heaven. Why, heaven is so big that God's messengers of all generations can go into the highways and the hedges and spread broadcast the gospel invitation everywhere, and yet there will be room. Room in heaven! Room for every one that comes in Christ's name! Room, unlimited room! "Whosoever will, let him come and drink of the water of life." Room in the many mansions of the Father's house. And "the length and the breadth and the height of it are equal."

But there is another fact which ought to impress you about the wall of heaven, and that is it has twelve swinging gates, and they are all gates of pearl. These gates are divided into four groups. There are three gates in the south wall, three gates for the north wall, three gates for the east wall, three gates for the west wall. What do all these gates stand for? They mean that God has an unlimited number of ways for us to get into heaven. It does not matter what gate we enter by as long as we come through a gate sprinkled with Christ's blood. And yet there are some people so blinded by sectarian bigotry that they think no soul can get into heaven except through one gate, and that the narrow way of their own church door.

The Different Gates.

Some time ago I was speaking along this line in my prayer meeting room. When I had finished and thrown open the service for general discussion, a gentleman arose and spoke as follows: "I am a Congregational minister. I am glad to hear your pastor call attention to the fact that the walls of heaven have twelve gates. I am glad that I, as a member of a different Christian denomination, can meet and sing and pray with you tonight. Christ said, 'Other sheep I have which are not of this fold.' There are many churches, many folds, but we all follow the one Divine Shepherd. Once the sectarian walls were built so high that the different churches could not see over them. Then time passed on, and they were lowered a little, so that the members of the different churches could throw bricks at one another. But, thank God, tonight those walls are lowered so that we can reach over them and grasp each other's hands as Christian brothers."

"Amen!" I said to that. But while my brother minister was talking I kept asking myself this question, "Have those sectarian walls been lowered so much everywhere that all churches have ceased to throw bricks at each other?" I believe not, for when that day comes Lutheran, Episcopalian, Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Congregational and all who worship Christ in spirit and in truth will clasp hands in Christian love. In that day there will not be five or six different churches fighting each other in one little village of 500 inhabitants. There are twelve gates to the walls of heaven, and all those gates are of pearl.

But I want you to study the gorgeousness of those glittering walls of heaven as well as the twelve gates of pearl. Those walls are not made of common stones, as are the walls of the east. Those stones of the walls of the eastern cities were not selected for their beauty, but for their strength. We can see from the ruins of the Chinese walls and of the Roman wall in the northern part of England, which were built to keep out the Picts and the Scots, that they were not built of beautiful stones. The stones were lifted out of the quarries and placed there to resist armies and to last for centuries. The walls of heaven are not only strong walls, but they are built out of the most beautiful of precious stones. Wherever you examine them their brilliant surfaces gleam with myriads of flashing lights. Never did rainbow in the sky have such wonderful mixture of colors as those to be found among the precious stones which are built into the walls of heaven. There in apocalyptic vision St. John saw the Jasper, the sapphire, the chalcidony, the emerald, the sardonyx, the sardius, the chrysolite, the beryl, the topaz, the chrysoprase, the jacinth and the amethyst. Oh, the beauty, the exuberance, the infinite variety, of the colors of the precious stones of the walls of heaven! Why were those stones set in the walls of the New Jerusalem? To teach us that when an immortal soul passes through one of the gates of pearl he finds that the wealth of heaven is so infinitely rich that every soul is fully satisfied and every element of its nature has abundant gratification. From this we understand what the Bible means by "the beauty of holiness."

Where the Walls Are of Gems.

Supposing we should today drive up to one of the great walled-in cities of the east. If the setting sun striking its light upon its walls turned them into a flaming mountain of light, and as we approached those walls we found them a mass of precious stones and the gates of the city of pearl, what would we say? Why, we would exclaim: "At last we have reached a city where wealth does not consist in gold and gems, for here they are of no more account than to be used for the decoration of the walls. The treasures of this city must be spiritual, not material." It is so in heaven. There God will give true treasure, and that in infinite abundance. In heaven, the wealth and the joy and the happiness are so inexhaustible that each inhabitant can have his fill and yet there is an ocean of joy left. Like a great tidal wave, the love and the pardon of God have rolled through the boulevards of the celestial city and overwhelmed the walls and left its spray as glittering gems shining a glad welcome to all who approach the heavenly capital.

But there is another fact about those walls of heaven you must not overlook. The length and the breadth and the height of them are equal. What does St. John mean when he says the height is the same as the length and the width? Does he mean that the walls are, as he says, 144 cubits high—a multiple of twelve? Oh, no. This apocalypse has a figurative interpretation. It means that the walls of heaven are so high that none of the meanesses or contemptibilities or evil thoughts or sins of earth can ever overleap them. It means that the walls of heaven are so high that when we once enter into heaven all the evil desires of our lower natures shall cease and we shall stand before Christ, perfect as he is perfect, pure as he is pure, holy as he is holy. When you pass through those gates of pearl you will never again be tempted to be selfish, never again be tempted to speak a harsh word against your neighbors, never again be tempted to do what you ought not to do or to leave undone those things which you ought to do. Then all bitterness, all envy, all hate, all evil desires shall forever pass away. Speed that day, O most merciful Father, when I shall awake in thy glory and my sinful nature shall be cleansed and purified!

The Breadth of the Walls.

But the most blessed thing to me about this text I have not yet dwelt upon. That is the breadth of the walls. We are not told, but I think they are very broad. When I talk about the width of the walls, I think there is a hidden meaning. If some one should say, "Why are those walls thick?" most would answer, "To give them strength." That is true. But I do not believe that is the true meaning. Those walls of the ancient times were used for the most pleasurable of purposes. Upon the tops of their city walls the old Babylonish inhabitants used to drive. There the citizens of most of the eastern cities used to build many of their houses. Do you not remember how Rahab had her house built upon the top of a city wall, where the Hebrew spies visited her? And there, upon the hot summer evenings, the people used to gather upon the city walls to catch the cool breezes from the mountains.

Upon the city walls those who were expecting their friends to come to visit them would assemble and watch the approaching cavalades. Thus, when I think of the broad walls of heaven I always think of them as crowded with our dear ones. There they are, watching and waiting. Every little while methinks I can hear some of them say, "Do you see him coming? Do you see my boy? Do you see my brother? Do you see my husband or wife or sister? It is surely time for them to be coming along. Oh, we have waited for them so long! Do you think we are waiting in vain?" Oh, the broad walls of heaven! The crowded walls of heaven! Oh, the multitudes of dear ones who are today upon the walls watching and waiting for our arrival. While the multitudes of our dear ones are watching for us from the broad walls of heaven, every one of the twelve gates of pearl is standing wide open. When I used to think about these twelve gates of pearl, I always thought of the angelic watchmen closing them at nightfall. But St. John in his apocalypse declares there is no darkness in heaven. He also distinctly affirms, "The gates of it shall not be shut at all, for there shall be no night there." What does this mean? Why, it means that God is keeping the pearly gates wide open for all to enter who will. He is keeping those gates open now. Are we prepared to enter them?
