Brand Wants Judgeship For Graves County Only

State Representative Henry Maddox of Hickman is seeking the opinion of his constituents in Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle, and Ballard counties regarding a bill introduced in the Kentucky General Assembly to create a new Circuit Court Judgeship for Graves County only. Sponsored by Senator George Brand of Mayfield and Senator Tom Garrett of Paducah, the bill would create a 50th Judicial District, removing Graves County from the First Judicial District, which also includes Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard counties.

If enacted into law the bill would cost Kentucky taxpayers an additional, approximately $140,000.00 in salaries and travel for the six-year term. It would also give Graves County a highly prestigious and lucrative elective office. A circuit judge is paid $14,900.00 per year and travel, and a Commonwealth attorney is paid $6000.00 a year and travel.

The present five-county Judicial district is presided over by Judge Wood C. Tipton of Hickman. Commonwealth attorney for the district is L. M. "Tip" Reed of Mayfield. Both were elected for six year terms that end in 1969.

The five-county legal contingent is divided on the necessity for creating a new Judicial District. It was pointed out that during the illness and subsequent death of Judge Elvis Stahl, the district's legal docket contained a backlog of cases to be tried in the court. However, an informed source told the News that the docket is now fairly current, indicating that the new judgeship may be sought for political reasons.

If passed, the legislation would become law ninety days following

Mr. Maddox may be reached by writing or wiring House of Representatives, Seat 89, Frankfort, Ky. or Route Four, Hickman, Ky. on week-ends. His home phone is 234-3201.

at the end of this regular session of the General Assembly. At that time Governor Edward T. Breathitt would appoint a Graves County judge to serve as judge until the next general election when either state, district or county offices are elected.

When this occurs: —Judge Tipton would preside over Circuit Court in only Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard counties. His salary would remain the same. He would continue in office for the length of his term.

—Commonwealth Attorney Reed would continue to serve in that capacity, except that his jurisdiction would be in Graves County only. His salary would also remain the same.

—Governor Breathitt would appoint a Commonwealth's attorney to serve in the decreased four-county district of Fulton, Hickman, Carlisle and Ballard.

If enacted into law, the 50th Judicial District would be the smallest judicial district in the State, with the exception of Franklin County, the seat of State Government, and perhaps the busiest in the State.

Bids Sought On Repair Of County Roads

Bids for bituminous surfacing on the Hickman-Fulton (Ky. 166) Road in Fulton County will be received by the Highway Department on March 11, Governor Edward T. Breathitt and Highway Commissioner Henry Ward announced today.

The project will begin at the Ky. 125 junction, four miles southeast of Hickman and extend to the US 51 junction at Riceville, a distance of 13.270 miles.

Bids for bituminous surfacing on the Hickman-Union City (Ky. 125) Road in Fulton County will be received on March 11.

The project will begin at the south city limits of Hickman and extend to the Tennessee State Line, a distance of 6.129 miles.

Young people watch with great interest as pottery is made aboard the Art Guild train that will come to the twin cities during the Fourth Annual Banana Festival in September.

World's Only Mobile Art Show Coming To Festival

The famous Kentucky Art Guild train, crammed with new, ALL NEW art works from all over the country will chug into Fulton on September 25 for a week long stay during the Fourth Annual International Banana Festival, a Festival official announced today.

Kentucky's mobile exhibit, a national pioneer, is the first of the many outstanding attractions on the program for the now famous Banana Festival, which will also host arts and crafts exhibits from Ecuador, Guatemala, Costa Rica and other Central American countries, to say nothing of the distinguished American arts and crafts exhibits that are being sought for viewing here.

It is hoped that the two-car train may be stationed near the area of Cabana City, where other important events of the Festival will take place.

Of prime interest on the Art Train is a painting by famed American artist Edward Hopper. The work "North Truro Station", was lent by the Albright-Knox Art Gallery, Buffalo, N. Y.

Since the train ended its fourth annual trek through Kentucky last October, its "engineer and fireman" have been readying it for its 1966 run. This "crew" consists of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Brinkman, the train's director and assistant director. The two-car mobile has been parked on a siding at Berea, its winter headquarters.

More than 179,000 persons have visited the train in the past four years, and they come from miles around a stopping point to view its treasures. In Wickliffe, Ky., for example, there were 1,300 visitors even though Wickliffe's population is only 900.

The train, which was the nation's first rolling arts-and-crafts exhibit, is sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Commerce and the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad donated the two

Partners Of The Alliance With Ecuador

Banana Festival Viewed As Important Partner For Alliance

PARTNERS WITH ECUADOR—Members of the Kentucky Partners of the Alliance with Ecuador met in Frankfort Friday night to discuss progress and to plan more ways to help the people of Northwestern Ecuador as a part of the Alliance for Progress Program. Among representatives participating in the Kentucky Partners program are, from left, Lee Roy Martin, KPAE executive secretary; Doris Fooks, Peace Corps representative; Mrs. Rodney Dempsey, Democratic Women's Club of Kentucky representative; J. Banana Festival Elects New Officers; Preview Of 1966 Program Is Revealed

A preview of some of the exciting events scheduled for the Fourth Annual International Banana Festival was released Tuesday night when members of the board of directors of the organization, interested citizens and officials of the cities of Fulton and South Fulton held an enthusiastic meeting at the Fulton Electric System.

Prior to the election of new officers to serve the organization for this year, Mrs. Paul Westpheling, Festival president, reviewed the progress already made to stage the Festival during the last week in September.

The president reported that:

—The Kentucky Art Guild train, sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Commerce, notified Festival officials that they would be here for one week from September 25, through October 2. The two-car, all new, only arts and crafts gallery on rails in the world, will exhibit high quality arts and crafts and advise and assist regional artists and craftsmen wishing to expand their marketing potential.

—The president of the Ecuadorian Tourist and Travel Commission has invited a group of 30 area residents to visit Quito in late April as guests of the Ecuadorian government. Special, low rates for persons wishing to make the trip will be announced. A side trip will be made to Guayaquil, "the Banana Capital of the World," to complete plans for the twin cities to "adopt" that city as a partner for the Alliance. Governor and Mrs. Edward T. Breathitt are scheduled to head the entourage. Persons wishing to make the trip are urged to contact Mrs. Westpheling.

—The national President's Commission for the Arts, headed in Kentucky by Mrs. John Oswald, wife of the president of the University of Kentucky, is investigating possibilities of having an outstanding art exhibit at the Festival.

—Talent from the twin cities, as well as visiting artists from Central America have been invited to entertain the Southern Governors' Conference when that group meets at Kentucky Dam Village the week before the Festival. The event will be covered by national radio, TV, newspapers and magazines.

—Operation Amigo will again participate in the program, indicating that twice as many students are asking to come to the Festival than did last year.

—The Festival will be occasion when the Kentucky Partners for the Alliance will bring thousands of dollars of equipment, books and recreational material to the city to be presented to Ecuador on behalf of Kentucky. The items will be loaded on box cars here for shipment to New Orleans and then to Ecuador.

—Beauty queens from Central American countries, who will participate in the Miss Universe contest in Miami in July, will be invited to attend the Festival as visiting dignitaries.

—A Latin-American Music Fiesta, featuring such nationally known Kentucky folk artists as John Jacob Niles and Billy Ed Wheeler is being planned to participate in a program with area artists as well as Central American Artists.

—A nationally known firm has already bought exhibit space in an enlarged, more complete, more interesting Cabana City.

Following a resume of the program, the group discussed local financing, staffing and organization of the Festival headquarters.

W. P. (Dub) Burnette, chairman of the nominating committee composed of Mrs. Maxwell McDade, Carl Puckett, Jr. and Mr. Burnette, presented a slate of new officers to the board. The new officers were elected by acclamation. They are:

Mrs. Paul Westpheling, president (B&PW Club); Foad Homra, first vice-president (YMBC); Mrs. Ward Bushart, second vice-president (Twin Cities Development); Mrs. R. B. Morgan, secretary (Woman's Club); and Frank Welch, treasurer (Rotary Club). Mrs. Westpheling appointed Mr. Burnette, Carl Puckett, Jr. and Bill Fossett to the advisory council.

Other committee appointments will be announced later.

Other members of the board, and the clubs they represent are:

Fulton City Gets Defeat From Lowes

The Lowes Blue Devils, down by 14 points at halftime, stormed back in the second half to down Fulton City here Tuesday night 66-60.

Lowes started slowly, scored only six points in the first quarter and trailed Fulton 22-6 as the second period began. The Blue Devils revived in the second quarter, but made little headway and still trailed 39-25 as the half ended.

In the third quarter, though, Lowes began to break through the Fulton defense for baskets, narrowed the gap and finally closed it, taking the lead at the end of the period. Lowes out-scored the Bulldogs 27-12 in the quarter.

A Young Man Writes A Letter To His Parents,
The Editors, Seeking Understanding For Peace

In our world of journalism, most conscientious editors live in a never-never land of faith, hope and charity:

Faith that our readers are intelligent and courageous people and care sincerely what happens to the community and the world in which they live. That is why, periodically we publish "think" pieces concerning the necessity for every individual, regardless of race, creed or color to assume the responsibilities for maintaining peace in a nuclear-explosive world.

—Hope that some day all men will come to see more clearly not that which divides them, but that which unites them and that each hour may bring us closer to the final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own shortcomings and weaknesses.

—Charity towards those who would reason with understanding if they were shown the way.

As a parent and an editor, we know you will understand our pride today as we publish a letter from our eighteen-year old son, a Freshman at Bellarmine College in Louisville, who wrote the following letter "to the editor," in the hope he said "that maybe all people at home will understand the importance of doing something for our country."

This young fellow has been away from our hearth and home for nearly seven months. We are prejudiced about his qualities of course, but if the influence we have tried to have on his life and responsibilities produces nothing more than this letter, we shall feel compensated indeed. He has written the same letter to other editors with whom he is acquainted in Kentucky.

Here is the letter:

Dear Mother and Dad:

What has happened to our American patriotism? What has happened to the old American cliché "Let Freedom Ring?" I recently heard a comment over Radio Station WAKY in Louisville, bringing forth the decline of American patriotism. Our problem is not in the rice paddies of Viet Nam nor the wall in Berlin, but it lies with the people of the United States; in St. Louis, into the crowded slums of Chicago, in the small towns of the south, in the mansions of San Francisco.

This problem is pride. Why is the American flag slowly being made to touch the ground? Why are people beginning to say "I'd rather be Red than dead," and "let George do it?" What ever happened to the once popular saying "fight for God, country, and your family?" American pride has all but vanished, and the Communists are finding this out. The Communists look at the United States as a declining power rather than one of the world's leading ones.

They take every demonstration, every pacifist pamphlet, every draft card burner and show these faults in great detail to the other nations abroad. America is slowly losing face with the rest of the world. Why do people look at their shoe laces when the pledge of allegiance is recited instead of the flag, and are afraid to close their eyes when a simple prayer is said? Because these same people are taking for granted that the United States of America is the greatest power in the world, and they want to keep it that way without putting up a struggle.

The next time you lift your eyes into the skies and see "Old Glory" flying proudly in the breeze, and deep down in your heart you feel a patriotic glow, get down on your knees and thank Almighty God that you are a free citizen of the greatest nation in the world. Wouldn't you be willing to protect this freedom?

I would.

Signed,

Paul Westpheling III

Reader Points Out That Drag Stripping Is Growing Sport And Good Tourist Attraction

The crack-down on "Drag Stripping" in McCracken County has made headlines in area newspapers. The general impression of this fast-moving sport among many people is that it is extremely hazardous, illicit and participated in by hoodlums and would-be criminals.

Having come in contact with some avid drag strippers last year, we found that none of this thinking is true. As we pointed out last year, tinkering with automobile motors is perhaps the sole enjoyment of hundreds of hard-working people and surely their hobby should not be enjoyed in a contraband fashion.

This point is made abundantly clear in a letter to the editor of the Paducah Sun-Democrat recently. Because it deserves the attention of all of us, we are reprinting it herewith:

Editor:

We are two of those "delinquents" who like drag racing. We do this against the law because we have no proper, legal place to drag race unless we go to different states.

If the people of Paducah would build a strip, people from other states and other parts of Kentucky would come and spend money in our city. A strip would also stop this racing on highways and save many lives. It would create enjoyment and fun for people of all ages.

Most people think of drag racing as very dangerous. It is, except when it is under proper supervision. At a regulation drag strip, the cars are safety checked and are made safe. You time your car on a wide strip of road where you have nobody to run into and go off the strip. The car with the best time wins. This type of racing is better than pulling your car next to someone and seeing who can get to the big tree or the mailbox down the narrow road first.

So you see, drag racing is no more dangerous than any other sport. Anyone can drown swimming or break an arm playing baseball.

You adults think of when you were young. You probably did things then that were against the law. The city of Paducah has many licensed bars and nightclubs where adults can go and drink, dance and have fun. But how many recreation centers do the kids have? Very few.

If the city can provide for these bars and nightclubs, it can provide the teen-agers with a drag strip. Adults can go to the drag strip, too, you know.

Seventy kids were caught racing at the "four-lane" and some got away, so you know there are enough kids who want a drag-strip. We had a speaker at our school last week who is a Kentucky state policeman. He said there isn't enough "fuzz" in the state to stop this drag racing. He was right. The teen-agers who got caught that night, and others too, will continue to drag race. You can take their licenses, fine them and everything else, but they will still race. If you take their licenses, other kids will become 16 and get their licenses in 1966 and some of them will drag race too.

We know it is wrong, but ???
A drag strip is the answer to this problem.

Library Corner

by Miss Jessie Orgain

A MATTER OF VITAL IMPORTANCE to all persons interested in improved library services, is now pending in Washington D. C. The BIG NEWS is Representative Carl Perkins' new, amended Library Services and Construction Act. Quotes from a letter just received from Miss Margaret Willis, State Librarian, Department of Libraries in Frankfort, clarify the relevance of this bill to our own situation:

"LIBRARIES AND BOOKMOBILES IN KENTUCKY WILL RECEIVE THE BIGGEST BOOST IN THE STATE'S HISTORY, IF THE

NEW, AMENDED LIBRARY SERVICES AND CONSTRUCTION ACT INTRODUCED IN THE HOUSE BY CARL PERKINS TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, PASSES THE CONGRESS."

"ALTHOUGH MUCH HAS BEEN DONE IN KENTUCKY, MORE STILL NEEDS TO BE DONE, SAID MR. PERKINS, DUE TO THE GREAT TECHNOLOGICAL CHANGES AND INFORMATION EXPLOSION NOW TAKING

Miss Willis states in her letter that 49 counties still have not received help from the present Act; 10 counties still have no library service; 20 counties no bookmobile service, and all libraries need greatly to be improved. The present Library Service and Construction Act terminates July 1, 1966. For the fiscal years 1965 and 1966 it has provided annually in Kentucky $429,000 for services and $510,000 for construction. Funds have been administered under a State Plan submitted to the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, by the Kentucky Department of Libraries. Funds were added to state appropriations to develop 14 Regional Library systems, and the nucleus of two more, which included 81 libraries in 71 counties. 103 bookmobiles have been provided and four new Library Demonstrations in Fulton, Calloway, Knott and Pulaski Counties. Eleven Library construction projects were begun in fiscal 1965, and five more are under way at present. New equipment is being added to Regional Libraries, which is to the advantage of all counties in the Regions.

WHAT WILL THE NEW BILL PROVIDE?

Quoting Miss Willis "THE NEW PERKINS VERSION OF THE LIBRARY AND CONSTRUCTION ACT WOULD INCREASE FEDERAL AID FOR LIBRARY SERVICES TO $60 MILLION, FOR LIBRARY CONSTRUCTION TO $75 MILLION IN FISCAL 1967, WITH REGULAR INCREASES THEREAFTER FOR FIVE YEARS." (This is to be compared to $25 million for library services, and $30 million for construction per year under the present bill).

"AN ADDITIONAL SECTION AUTHORIZES ADDITIONAL HELP FOR COOPERATIVE PROJECTS BETWEEN AGENCIES."

"The new bill introduces a new philosophy of permanent, ongoing federal aid for library services but would terminate all aid for library construction in five years." "The bill has been referred to the House Committee on education and labor, of which Carl Perkins, the sponsor, is a member."

Miss Willis says, "The possibilities under this bill are enormous." "Not only can counties without library service receive aid, but those now making real efforts to participate in regional library systems can be upgraded to a considerable degree. The whole climate of self-education in Kentucky through good library and bookmobile service can be brightened, if Carl Perkins' bill is passed by Congress. Kentucky now has sufficient 'know-how' to advance quickly by using the funds wisely. Only a few years ago, this would have been impossible."

Citizens interested in improving the local library and bookmobile program should write to their federal representatives and to Senators Cooper and Morton, urging the passage of this bill.

Central Church of Christ Has Much History, Concepts Of Great Faith

The church of our Lord was in the eternal plan of God. Eph. 3:10,11. She was established on the broad and solid rock foundation, namely, that Jesus Christ is the Son of the living God. Matt. 16:13-19. Furthermore, she came into existence on the first Pentecost, after the resurrection of Jesus, in the city of Jerusalem about 33 A. D. Lk. 24:46-48; Acts 2:1-47.

The church is composed of born again souls (Jno. 3:1-5), and, they are added by the Lord to his church. Acts 2:47.

The government of the church is strictly monarchical in form—Christ is the sovereign head (Eph. 1:22,23)—in Him rests all authority (Matt. 28:18), hence, He is the legislator, executive and judge. All matters of faith (inspired revealed truth) come from Him, therefore, all problems touching upon this subject must be settled by Him.

Local congregations are referred to as "churches of Christ." Rom. 16:16. Each congregation is separate and independent of all others so far as government is concerned, hence, each has her own plurality of bishops. Titus 1:5-14; I Tim. 3:1-7. These bishops are to oversee, shepherd and pastor the flock. Acts 20:28. They are to execute the orders of their sovereign head in all matters of faith (revealed truth). Again, they are not privileged to make and bind laws on the membership which their spiritual kind did not authorize, neither are they permitted to eliminate any of the king's laws. Rev. 22:18,19.

The evangelists of the church are to speak only sound doctrine (Titus 2:1) and to contend earnestly for the faith. Jude 3. Their work is that of winning souls and edifying the church. Acts 20:20; 2 Tim. 4:5; Titus 2:1-6.

Three additional distinguishing characteristics of the Lord's church are found in the New Testament. Her members are restricted, in the field of teaching, to speaking only as the oracles of God. I Pet. 4:11. Also, they have the kind of music specified that is to be used in the worship—vocal. Eph. 5:19. Again, the frequency of the observance of the Lord's Supper—the early church, after she came into existence, observed it on the first day of the week (Acts 20:7) and it must be remembered that each week has only one first day.

The local congregation, known to this community as the Central Church of Christ (central because of her location) began about 1910 as a result of a special gospel effort being conducted at the corner of Second and Carr Streets.

The present building was erected in 1916—remodeled in 1947 and had an additional wing added in 1961. Some of the greatest preachers, among the churches of Christ, have been connected with this work—either as local or visiting evangelists. One of the latest of these was the late but famous N. B. Hardeman—co-founder of Freed-Hardeman College and president of the same for 25 years. The present local evangelist, Glendon W. Walker, was taught and trained by this noted individual. Mr. Walker began work with the church at the beginning of 1965.

two fishing poles stuck in a hot-water bottle, and he smuggled it to his breast and it squawked out its ecstasy, and then he played on it a tune called "Garryowen." And as he played it, I found that my toes tingled inside my shoes, and my heart throbbed as I thought it could only thro to the air of "Dixie." And I took counsel with myself and I said, "Why is it that I who call myself a pure Anglo-Saxon should be thrilled by an Irish air?" So I set out to determine the reason for it. And this is the kind of Anglo-Saxon I found out I was:

My mother was of the breed of Black Douglas of Scotland, as Scotch as haggis, and rebels, all of them, descendants of men who followed the fortunes of Bonnie Prince Charles, and her mother lived in a county in North Carolina, one of five counties where up to 1820, Gaelic was not only the language of the people in the street, but was the official language of the courts. It was in that selfsame part of North Carolina that there lived some of the men who, nearly a year before our Declaration of Independence was drawn up, wrote and signed the Mecklenburg Declaration, which was the first battle cry raised for American independence. On the other side, I found by investigation, that my father's line ran back straight and unbroken to a thatched cottage on the green side of a hill in the Wicklow Mountains, and his people likewise had some kinsmen in Galway, and some in Dublin with whom, following the quaint custom of their land, they were accustomed to take tea and fight afterwards.

I found I had a collateral ancestor who was out with the pikes in '98 and he was taken prisoner and tried for high crimes and misdemeanors against the British government, and was sentenced to be hanged by the neck until he was dead and might God have mercy on his soul! And he was hanged by the neck until he was dead, and I am sure God did have mercy on his soul, for that soul of his went marching on, transmitting to his people, of whom I am proud to be one, the desire to rebel against oppression and tyranny.

I had three great-grand-fathers, two of them Irish and one of them Scotch, who were Revolutionary soldiers, and I had a father who was a Confederate soldier. And of these facts, too, I am quite proud, for I find that my strain, being Irish, is always intent either on trying to run the government or trying to pull it down.

You Irish-descended people of the Northern States are proud of Shields, the son of an Irish emigrant, who, if my memory serves me aright, helped to direct the destinies of three American common-wealths and was United States Senator from all three.

But I like to think of another Irishman, Matthew Lyon by name, the son of an humble Wicklow peasant, who was sold as a slave to the New England plantations because he, an Episcopalian, dared to raise his voice and his arm in defense of the rights of his Catholic neighbors and kinsmen in the County of Wicklow; and he bought his freedom with a black bull, which, according to family tradition, he first stole, and he became a United States Senator from Vermont, and cast the vote against the wishes of his constituents, which made Thomas Jefferson President of this country over Aaron Burr and by so doing altered the entire course of our country's history; and while he was in jail in a town in Vermont for his attacks on the odious Alien and Sedition Laws, he issued a challenge for duel to the President of the United States and, being released, he moved down to Kentucky and became a Congressman; and later, having quarreled with all his neighbors there, he moved on to Arkansas and was named as Arkansas' first territorial delegate to Washington, and he might have filled still more offices had he not in the fullness of his maturity, when he was seventy years young, been thrown from a mule and had his spine injured so that he died. I like to think of Matthew Lyon and his career, because he also was an ancestor of mine.

Introducing Our Churches-God's Agency For Spreading His Love

THE CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST, SECOND AND CARR STREETS

Glendon W. Walker

The Central Church seeks to enlist the efforts of all people to return to the Bible. Plant the same seed (the word of God. Lk. 8:11) and reap but one kind of fruit—Christians. Acts 11:26. This automatically results in one body (Eph. 4:4) and bring about religious unity—that for which our Lord prayed, Jno. 17:1-26. To this end are we dedicated, and it is our prayer that all men will come to love Him, who died to save us, to the degree that they will have the disposition of heart to say, "Lord, speak—thy servant heareth; command—and I will obey."

A striking view of art, pottery and other crafts aboard the Art Guild train is shown above. The two-car train, the only arts and crafts train on rails in the world, will come to the twin cities during the Fourth Annual Banana Festival.

cars and transports them around the state. Local communities furnish power for lights, heating and air-conditioning.

The Brinkmans (he's 26 and she's 27) are enthusiastic entrepreneurs of the train. She gives weaving demonstrations aboard it, and he knows how to "throw a pot" on a potter's wheel. Children who visit the train often think they can go home and turn a pot on a phonograph turntable.

Children bring samples of their local clay to show the Brinkmans. "The different colors are amazing," said Mrs. Brinkman.

Recalling experiences during their first year on the train, Judith Brinkman listed:

The time the wooden steps used to board the train were left behind Brinkman had to whip up a new set.

The time a blind couple visited the train and, unlike others, were allowed to touch the art objects.

The time children from a small school came aboard and brought all their parents.

The time Boy Scouts volunteered to help on the train and ran a softdrink concession on the side.

The Fourth-Grader who saw abstract paintings for the first time and said to his teacher, "Miss Walker, what HAPPENED to those paintings?"

The time a robin's nest, complete with eggs, appeared on the outside of the train, which stays an average of only three days in a town.

Mrs. Brinkman said there is at least one child in every town who visits the train and stays all day in fascination.

She finds Kentuckians most hospitable. She and her husband live in a tiny apartment on the train in each town but the natives often volunteer to show them around. The Brinkmans do not travel on the train but drive to meet it.

Mrs. Brinkman is from New York and her husband is from Michigan. They met at Penland School of Crafts, Penland, N. C., where they were resident crafts-men.

Mr. Matlick, himself a recovered heart attack victim, pointed out he has come to know first-hand of the "almost miraculous progress" science has made against heart and blood vessel diseases, and of how the Kentucky Heart Association "by its effective use of Heart Fund dollars in the State's communities, hospitals and medical research laboratories has vitally furthered this progress."

He announced that the annual door-to-door Heart Sunday solicitation would be conducted this year on February 20.

Kentucky Is Seeking 700 Social Workers

Due to the recent addition of eight new counties to the Federal State food stamp program in Kentucky 25 social workers are needed immediately to help with the administration of the program.

O. Lester Dawson, commissioner of the State Department of Economic Security, said there is a great and growing need for social workers throughout the state. In addition to the 25 public assistance workers needed for the food stamp program, he says Kentucky will need 700 social workers over the next two years.

When adequate social services are performed for needy persons Dawson says, their financial demands upon the State can be drastically reduced, since the function of the public assistance worker is to help the needy help themselves through better use of their own resources, retraining, job placement and health instruction.

College graduates with liberal arts degrees are being recruited to be trained by the department for jobs in many social service programs.

Dawson said possibilities are virtually unlimited for career jobs with the Economic Security Department, with the opportunity for advanced study and training under the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare matching funds program.

Qualified persons interested in getting more detailed information on immediate social service employment should contact James F. Thompson, director of the department's personnel and recruiting service.

TO THE TAX PAYERS OF FULTON COUNTY

A bill, introduced by Senator Tom Garrett of Paducah, would create the 50th Judicial District with Graves County being the sole county involved. Graves now is a part of the First Judicial District which also includes Ballard, Carlisle, Fulton and Hickman Counties. This bill would create a new judgeship. I would like the people of this county letting me know if they are for or against this bill creating a new judgeship.

If interested in this bill I would like you to contact me by letter, address: House of Representatives, Seat 89, Frankfort, Ky., or Hickman, Ky., Route No. 4, or by phone — my home phone number is Hickman 236-3201. I assure you this will be confidential.

SILAGE FAIR AND SCHOOL

Our Annual Silage School and Fair was Wednesday afternoon, 1:30 p. m., February 16, at the Farm Bureau Hall in Union City. The Silage Meeting was sponsored by the Obion County Dairy Association and Livestock Association.

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL MEETING

Dr. Pete Gossett, Weed Control Specialist from the University of Tennessee Extension Service, will be with us next Monday night at the Farm School at Obion County Central High School to lead the discussion on Chemical Weed Control. Chemical Weed Control is being more widely used in row crops in Obion County each year and this part of the farming operation a farmer must know exactly what he is doing if he expects to be successful. New Chemical Weed Control materials are being developed each year and a large number of local farmers should make a special effort to attend the meeting Monday night.

SOYBEAN ASSOCIATION

Soybean producers in Tennessee are in the process of forming a Soybean Association which will affiliate with the National Soybean Association. Recently 12 Obion County Soybean producers met in Dyersburg to express their interest in such an association. Mr. Jack Hudgens and Mr. T. W. Jones represented Obion County in the temporary organization with three emergency directors from Obion County to be elected in the near future.

FARM DATES TO REMEMBER:

- February 21 - Chemical Weed Control Meeting - Obion Central High School.
- February 22 - Annual Meeting - Feeder Calf Association - Reel-foot Lake.
- February 23 - Orchard Meeting - Luther Kendall's Orchard - Shawtown.

WHAT DO YOU REALLY SELL?

by George D. Corder

Agronomy Dept., Univ. of Kentucky

Crops have food or feed value because of the nutrients they get from the soil. The carbohydrates, fats, proteins and vitamins they manufacture in the leaves, stems and fruits can be produced only when the plants are abundantly supplied with calcium, nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and other elements.

Thus you are selling plant nutrients every time you sell crops or livestock. In 100 bushels of corn, you sell about $20.00 worth of nutrients. In five tons of alfalfa hay, you sell about $48.00 worth of nutrients. If you feed these to livestock and save the manure, you sell only slightly less than these amounts.

Feed the Soil First

The success of a crops enterprise is dependent upon a fertile, productive soil. The success of a livestock enterprise is dependent upon economical crop production. The returns to labor and investments in pesticides, land, equipment and buildings are dependent upon economical crop and livestock production.

The soil, then, is the first basic resource in agriculture. The wise use of it and the efficient use of limestone and fertilizer is a must in successful farming.

Low Cost — High Return

Plant nutrients today cost about the same as 20 years ago while other costs of production have more than doubled. Thus an investment in limestone and fertilizer, if needed, should have high priority in agriculture. The return to your labor and other investments are all dependent upon the efficient use of these.

In applying fertilizer, more must be used than the plants contain at harvest since all elements are not released immediately. But these remain in the soil for use by future crops.

For many years Kentucky farmers have complained about the coarseness of the limestone sold in the state. Last summer the Kentucky Board of Agriculture, acting upon recommendations of Commissioner Wendell Butler, prescribed new specifications for the fineness of ground limestone so that the quality of the material sold in Kentucky will be as good as that sold in bordering states. The new standards went into effect on January 1, 1966 but 90 days grace was given the quarries to meet the specifications. This change will assure farmers of a better product and will aid in an efficient soil building program.

Fortunately lime deficiency is easy to detect and correct. Any soil test made by county agents or fertilizer companies shows the "pH" of the sample and this will indicate whether or not the soil needs lime and, if so, the amount required for high crop yields.

There are many factors today that farmers and seasoned sheep growers say will create problems in sheep production. Probably the most important one is internal parasites, followed by foot rot. It goes without saying that new sheep growers should be very careful in selecting their breeding stock and then not turn them on to the pasture until they have been drenched, then check for foot rot.

In keeping the flock free of parasites, it is also important to follow the directions of the County Agricultural Extension Agent in the drench program or the local veterinarian. Remember once your pastures are infested with worm eggs, you will have to drench with the medication every 2 weeks in order to cut the life cycle of the parasite. There are several very effective drench preparations on the market, so I will not discuss their different merits here.

I have already mentioned cost in an earlier article, however the latest information on Northwestern ewes are about $24.00 dollars each in the west. That would make them cost about $25.50 to $26.00 by the time we received them. Spring lambs sold at Hopkinsville and Evansville for about $25.50 to $25.00 this year at the peak of the market.

We cannot expect to have all lambs weighing 100 pounds and receive top price at the same time, but we do think that when the top spring market price will pay for the replacement ewe, this is a very desirable situation for the sheepmen.

Now as to financing the new flock. There are many lending agencies in the area that will make loans on the flock and let the sheep stand good for the loan. Several bankers have expressed to me their desire for more sheep loans. The local Production Credit Associations will follow you around if they think you are a prospect for the sheep enterprise, and other private agencies are equally interested in sheep loans. I have mentioned before that sheep are the only livestock enterprise that will pay for the original cost the first year.

If you are interested in getting into the business in a year from now, ewe lambs can be purchased for about 19 cents to 20 cents per pound and most of them weigh about 80 to 85 pounds in the west now.

This gives you a lamb for about $16.00 dollars in the west and should be brought in for $1.75 with a total cost of $17.75. This is getting into the sheep business the very cheapest way, and many are doing just that. In doing this your lamb crop will come off year after next or in 1967.

There will be a few that would breed this year but it would not be advisable to split the flock and let some lamb late next spring. These lambs will grow out and be ready to breed in July and August giving you a December or January lamb and in plenty of time to get them grown out for the top price.

● AUSTIN SPRINGS By Mrs. Carey Frieida

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lassiter and son, Richard Allen, left Wednesday for Akron, Ohio, and are guests of his brother, David Lassiter, and family. If employment is secured, they plan to remain there this year.

Joseph, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Donaho, sustained an eye injury the past week in a basketball game. He was taken to Jones Clinic, later transferred to Memphis for treatment and observation. We hope for the young student of Palmersville Hi a speedy recovery with no complications arising.

Grant Bynum is under the care of Dr. Nelson. He has been laid up with some attacks of arthritis during the entire winter and can hardly get around and has to remain a bed a portion of the time. We hope he will quickly respond to his medication.

Rev. and Mrs. Dallas Hemphill, of Union City, were Sunday visitors in the home of their brother, Grover True, and Mrs. True.

News reached us of the sudden death of Albert Gargus at his home early Saturday morning in the Lone Oak school section. Mr. Gargus is survived by his companion, a daughter, Mrs. Hoyt Cantrell, and a son, Doris Gargus. Funeral services will be held at Jackson Funeral Home in Duketown, with burial in the Oak Grove Cemetery. Sympathy is extended.

I have just recently observed another birthday. On my special day I visited with my brother, Buton Lassiter, and wife. I did receive lovely cards from children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, brothers and my sister and family.

A letter came from my niece, Mrs. K. V. Meadows, and 1st Sgt. Meadows, who are located in Thailand with the armed forces. The Meadows family hopes to be back to the states by November, ending their tour of duty then. They have a daughter, Kendra, who is two and a half years old. Sgt. Meadows serves with the Radio Research Unit and their purpose is to keep the communist terrorists out of that section. Mrs. Meadows states that it is the most prominent and successful of the Asian continent and their city is as beautiful as any other large city. It is their winter season and temperatures range in the high 80's to the low 90's. From June to September is their rainy season and at that time Bangkok is over half submerged by water.

The recent wintery weather, snow, sleet and ice, did considerable damage around here. Sub-Zero played havoc with the greens, shrubs, roses and such; however, I think it may have protected all cover crops. Now, since the snow and ice have melted away, the wheat and other vegetation are looking far better than I expected. It is good to pause and think that spring is not too far away.

Skunks continue to over-run this locality and many farmers keep busy killing the pesky animals. They roam and devour all food put out for pets, cats, dogs and our birds. Well, I think there must be thousands of them. There are numerous dens in barns, outbuildings and in the trunks of hollow trees, reported to your writer.

Miss Sammie Jane Mathis was on the sick list last week, suffering from a chest cold or bronchial ailment. She is, however, able to attend classes in Cuba High School.

Letters To Editor

February 14, 1966
507 Oliver Drive
South Fulton, Tenn.

Dear Mrs. Westpheling:

Thank you so very much for your nice support in publishing the article about the South Fulton Methodist Church being organized.

We were very proud to have seventy-one present for the Sunday morning service and interest seems to increase each Sunday. I do not see how this effort can fail this time with the continued interest shown. A communion service has been donated and the altar is adorned with a beautiful bouquet of flowers each Sunday and they are also donated. A very nice building fund has also been started by those interested enough to have become pledged charter members when the church is officially organized.

The only thing that I failed to stress in my other letter was the fact that like everything else that you have supported in the past, this organization is for the betterment and service of the twin cities that would like to have a church home.

As I said before there are enough people that do not already have a church home to support another church of the Methodist faith in this area. Superintendent E. J. Diggins of the Paris District also feels this as he is giving us the support and opportunity to make this effort to find enough members to make this organization official. He will hold the services on April 10, 1966.

Thank you again for your help.

Sincerely
(Mrs.) Jean Green

LET'S LOOK IT OVER

By Gov. Edward T. Breathitt

FRANKFORT - - -

A motor vehicle inspection law in force in Kentucky during 1965 might have saved 177 of the 912 persons who lost their lives in traffic accidents throughout the state.

I base this possibility on statistics which show that the average mileage death rate in states with motor vehicle inspection laws is 19.5 per cent less than those without them.

Already, 20 states and the District of Columbia have passed laws requiring periodic inspection of automobiles, and I am urging Kentucky's 1966 General Assembly to enact similar legislation at its present regular session.

Besides the traffic-death toll for 1965, there were estimates for the same period of more than 25,000 injury accidents and 60,000 accidents of all types.

Every motor vehicle in Kentucky in my judgement, should be required to undergo an annual inspection.

An official check, in accordance with the new law, should be made of brakes, lights, turn signals, steering, horn, windshield and windows, exhaust system, windshield wipers and tires of every car or truck licensed to operate on Kentucky highways.

In my opinion, the most practical way to conduct this inspection is by private garages licensed and supervised by the Department of Public Safety, whose state police division is charged with enforcement of the motor vehicle and traffic laws of the Commonwealth. There should be no limit to the number of inspection stations in each of the state's counties and the cost of inspection should not be more than $2.50 per car to the owner. If the car or truck failed to pass inspection, the owner would have up to five days to have it repaired at a garage of his choice.

Just a week or so ago, I was pleased to note that Colver B. Briggs, safety director of the Ford Motor Company, voiced strong support of our proposed vehicle-inspection legislation in an address in Lexington to the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs.

Briggs said that passage of the bill can only help reduce the toll in human suffering attributed to highway accidents. He urged that voices be raised loud and strong in support of the measure to let the state senators and representatives know it is a "must" in our legislative program.

In their adoption recently of the State's $2 billion biennial budget, including $2.8 million more for the division of State Police, the senators and representatives improved the prospects for greater traffic safety.

State Police have statewide jurisdiction, with a few exceptions, in the enforcement of the traffic and criminal laws of the state. Major emphasis is placed on traffic law enforcement.

The increased appropriation will be used to start a 10-year program for 500 additional troopers, 50 during the 1966-67 year and 50 more during the 1967-68 year; to raise the starting salary of troopers from $376 to $415 a month, and to put radio operators on a five-day week.

I know that states with good programs requiring periodic inspection of automobiles, and with a sufficient number of state troopers to see that traffic laws are obeyed, have succeeded in reducing the frequency of accidents on their highways. Let's see to it that Kentucky gets in line.

Peace - Time Veterans Making Use Of Special Terms For FHA Housing

Peace-time veterans are taking advantage of the special terms for veterans under the provisions of the 1965 Housing Act. A substantial portion of applications for home loans being processed by the Kentucky office of the FHA are for peace-time veterans, says Raymond G. Fleming, FHA's Director for Kentucky.

In some areas of the state almost all of the homes being sold are being sold to peace-time veterans, according to FHA's records. In some cases the veteran has no cash at all but meets his $200 equity requirement by performing some of the work.

The special terms for veterans are available to anyone who has served on active duty 90 days or more and has a discharge other than dishonorable from one of the armed services. This not only includes those persons who have been discharged from the regular Army, Navy, Air Force or Marine Corps; but it also includes Army or Air National Guardsmen who have served six months; active duty training and Reservists from any of the services who have served six months' active duty training.

The program is set up for qualified veterans who have not previously received a direct or guaranteed loan under the laws administered by the Veterans Administration. Interested veterans should contact a mortgage company or bank in their community or write to the Louisville office of either the FHA or the VA.

Veterans must establish their eligibility by forwarding VA Form 26-8261a, Request for Certificate of Veteran Status, to the Veterans Administration, 1405 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky. The VA will return Form 26-8261, Certificate of Veteran Status, to the veteran. Form 26-8261 must accompany the application to the FHA-approved lender. Forms 26-8261a may be obtained from local banks, this newspaper, or from the FHA, 301D Madrid Building, 3rd & Guthrie, Louisville, Ky.

The 1965 National Housing Act provides that a veteran may be able to obtain a loan of up to $15,000 with only $200 down payment. If he wants a larger loan he must pay 10 percent of the next $5,000 and 15 percent of the balance over $20,000. However, the big home

Congress Asked To Repeal Law Making Communist Identification Necessary

WASHINGTON — Congress will be asked to repeal a section of the Medicare law that requires a non-Communist affirmation by certain old persons before they can share in the program's benefits, Robert M. Ball, commissioner of the Social Security Administration, said yesterday.

Legislation to accomplish this was introduced on the first day of Congress in January by two New Yorkers, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, a Republican, and Rep. William F. Ryan, a Democrat.

The administration will also ask Congress to strike the same restriction from a 1954 amendment to the basic Social Security Act, Ball said.

The clause in question is applicable only to about 10 per cent of persons 65 and over who are otherwise eligible for coverage under the Medicare hospital and health insurance programs. This is the group who, for one reason or another, has never been registered under either the basic Social Security or Railroad Retirement systems.

Since they are noncontributors to the trust funds, any benefits going to them would have to be paid out of the general revenues of the Treasury. In 1954, Congress wrote into the Social Security Act a stipulation that anyone in this category, in order to receive cash benefits, would have to swear that he was not a member of any organization required to register under the Internal Security Act of 1950, which is aimed at Communist and Communist-front organizations.

The same provision was carried over into the 1965 amendments under which Medicare was made a part of the Social Security system. When this came to light a couple of months ago, it raised protests among liberal lawmakers. The American Civil Liberties Union demanded that the clause be repealed.

John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, under whose jurisdiction Social Security operations come, said in January that he deplored the anti-Communist requirement, but that as long as it remained in the law he had no alternative but to enforce it.

Ball said yesterday that his agency is still obliged to request the anti-Communist affirmation "while the present restriction remains in the law." There is a strong likelihood, however, that its repeal will be promptly authorized by Congress.

Bought For Fulton

Fulton will get a new $21,700 fire truck late this summer or early fall, the City Commission voted at its meeting Monday.

The new truck, with 50% greater pumping capacity than the present pumper, will have all other modern features as well. The new truck will be added to the 1946 and 1951 trucks now in use, with the older kept for standby use.

The Commission also voted to make improvements to the city water system.

ALLIANCE PARTNERS

ple in Latin America who are striving to improve their way of life.

A group representing Kentucky business, industry, education, public health, agriculture and government met in Oct. 1964 to organize the Kentucky Partners of the Alliance. They formed a direct - assistance partnership with North-west Ecuador.

The Kentucky Partners sent four representatives - J. C. Zimmerman, state chairman; E. W. Kessler, Kentucky Farm Bureau; William Laveck, superintendent of the U. S. Shoe Co., Flemingsburg; and State Finance Commissioner Felix Joyner, who is also vice-chairman of the Kentucky Partners-to-Ecuador to find out how to help them improve their social and economic conditions.

The group reported its findings to KPAE last July and KPAE decided to work in a town project and with the Indians, help establish an industrial park, and aid in the establishment of a community center.

The central government of Ecuador will provide some assistance and KPAE will furnish equipment and supplies rather than dollars.

Friday night Lee Roy Martin, KPAE executive secretary, reported two major accomplishments of the Partners.

Three 18 horse - power outboard motors have been acquired by an Indian tribe in Ecuador through the program. The motors will be used on boats to transport teachers out to the tribe to teach them Spanish and to deliver food and medical supplies to Indians.

The second involves the Democratic Women's Club of Kentucky participation in the book-and-library program.

Mrs. Rodney Dempsey, representing the Democratic Women's Club of Kentucky, told the KPAE that each of the club's 90 chapters will raise money for "little libraries," which can serve as central units for village or slum - area libraries.

libraries in Ecuador.

For a little over $100, $200 or more new books in Spanish can be purchased. They are selected to include reading material for both children and adults.

"It has been estimated that there is only one book for every 50 school children throughout Ecuador," Mrs. Dempsey said.

Another group reporting its willingness to participate was the International Banana Festival.

Mrs. Paul Westpheling, festival president, reported that the Banana Festival staged each year at Fulton, Ky., has been a success in promoting the "people-to-people" program with Latin America.

The festival at Fulton is built around the city's coincidence of interest with its Latin American neighbors. All bananas that arrive in southern ports from Latin America are sent to Fulton to be re-distributed all over the United States.

In cooperation with KPAE, officials of the Banana Festival hope to provide recreational equipment for the children of Ecuador.

J. K. Smith, general manager of the Kentucky Rural Electric Co-Op Corp. and a member of the KPAE executive committee, reported Friday night on his trip to Ecuador to see what progress had been made in the field of electric power.

The donation of surplus power equipment to a city in Ecuador by the K. R. E. C. C. has made possible the construction of a generating plant to serve electric power to 3,300 people, he said.

A problem in Ecuador the KPAE hopes to cope with is public health. The organization's public health committee chairman, L. W. True, director of health facilities for the State Department of Health, and Hasty Riddle, executive director of the Kentucky Hospital Association, reported that they are trying to get hospitals to donate obsolete facilities and equipment to hospitals in Ecuador.

Page 8 The Fulton News, Thursday, Feb. 17, 1966

Other areas of aid the KPAE is considering are transportation, public finance and agriculture.

State Finance Commissioner Felix Joyner, and Roger Buchanan of the State Department of Finance reported they found on a recent trip to Ecuador bookkeeping methods are backwards and educational and assistance projects need to be sizeable, but simple.

The KPAE's "people-to-people" committee, E. W. Kessler of the Kentucky Farm Bureau and Dr. Donald Cotter of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, said Ecuador has agricultural wealth, but its resources need to be developed.

Seemingly, the area of greatest impact in the partnership has been in human relations. J. C. Zimmerman, KPAE state chairman, said that probably 100 to 150 Kentuckians have traveled to Ecuador in the last two years.

Doris Fooks, a Peace Corps representative from the University of Kentucky, who traveled to Ecuador with Project Hop told the KPAE that she felt progress was being made in the "people-to-people" program with Latin America.

Kentucky high school students are also helping KPAE. Some high schools in Louisville are planning to raise money to buy school books for students in Ecuador.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY SALE

New $4.8 Billion Tax Program Gains

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's $4.8 billion tax program won approval of the House Ways and Means Committee without major change yesterday and headed for a House vote in about two weeks.

If it goes through Congress intact, Americans will soon be feeling its effects in the withholding from their paychecks (although the income tax itself is not changed), their telephone bills and the price of automobiles. Corporations will be a bit tighter for cash as they have to pay taxes—also not increased—more currently.

Most of the revenue gain the administration foresees from the measure in the next two years comes from speedups in collection taxes, but there are actual increases in tax rates on automobiles and a more realistic system of income tax withholding.

It was estimated this would affect some 13 million taxpayers who have more tax than necessary withheld and have to wait for refunds, and almost 4 million others who now have to make extra payments because not enough is withheld from their pay. On balance, the Treasury would get more money faster for a couple of years.

The day after enactment of the law, if it is enacted, the automobile excise tax would go back to 7 per cent. It dropped Jan. 1 to 6 per cent. The 7 per cent rate would continue until April 1, 1968. On that date the rate would drop to 2 per cent, then to 1 per cent Dec. 31, 1968.

The telephone tax would revert from 3 to 10 per cent immediately, and on April 1, 1968, drop to 1 per cent and to zero at the end of 1968.

Corporations, which under present law are gradually bringing their tax payment schedules to a current basis by 1970, would have to speed up this process, completing it next year. They would have to pay 12 per cent, instead of 9 per cent, of their current tax liabilities in excess of $100,000 in April and again in June this year. Next year's quarterly payments would be 25 per cent.

The change in withholding of income tax on individuals would be more complex. At present, withholding is based on a flat 14 per cent of wage and salary income after allowances for personal exemptions and a standard deduction of 10 per cent to cover such things as interest, state and local taxes, and charity.

Instead of the flat 14 per cent withholding for everyone, the new schedule would range between 14 and 30 per cent, depending upon income. Only 12 million Americans now have enough withheld from pay checks to cover their yearly tax costs. Under the new schedule, 29 million Americans would break even.

More Wrong Numbers, Too

GENEVA —The number of telephones in the world increased from 95 million to 182 million in the 1955-65 decade, the International Telecommunications Union reported.

Five Tennessee Touring Convicts Invited To Ky.

NASHVILLE — Five Tennessee convicts, who tour the state telling young people why crime does not pay, have been invited to present their stories to the Kentucky legislature.

The program, known as "Operation Crime Prevention," has been presented to more than 160,000 Tennessee teenagers in the past 10 months.

Both houses of the Kentucky legislature passed invitation resolutions after Rep. John Hardin of Hopkinsville told of hearing the group during a visit to Tennessee.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky extended the formal invitation to Gov. Frank Clement.

Wounded Woman Listed In 'Poor' Condition

Mrs. Dale Beardsley, 19, was listed in "poor" condition today in Obion County General Hospital after being wounded in the abdomen at her home Wednesday night.

Her condition was listed Thursday as "critical" after undergoing major surgery.

Mrs. Beardsley's husband, who has been charged with felonious assault with a deadly weapon, has been quoted as telling investigators the shooting was accidental.

Sheriff Bob McCowan said Mr. Beardsley claimed his place of business, a salvage yard next to his home on the Fulton highway, had been broken into several times and that he got his gun, a 22 caliber pistol, and went to investigate Wednesday night when he heard a noise. When he came back into the house, the gun went off

Price Fixing Of Drugs Charged By Sen. Long

WASHINGTON — Sen. Russell B. Long has charged that five major American drug manufacturers have engaged in a "reprehensible and shameful" international conspiracy to fix the prices of so-called wonder drugs.

"Since 1954," the Louisiana Democrat said in a 1 1/2-hour Senate Speech Thursday, "these conspirators have been victimizing all of us. It is high time that we stop them."

Long, who is assistant Senate Democratic leader, said that under this agreement drugs developed in part through government facilities which cost 1.6 cents to make "until recently sold to the American public at 51 cents a pill and now sell for about 30 cents a pill."

Long said that although the existence of at least one aspect of this conspiracy has been known to federal agencies since at least 1958, the cartel continues to operate.

He listed the five firms as Chas Pfizer & Co., Inc.; American Cyanamid Co. and its Lederle Laboratories Division;

Bristol-Myers Co.; the Otis Mathieson Chemical Corp. and its Squibb Division; and the Upjohn Co.

The Justice Dept. has had outstanding since 1961 an anti-trust indictment charging that Pfizer, American Cyanamid and Bristol-Myers conspired to keep prices of antibiotics unreasonably high on the domestic market. Upjohn and Squibb were named as co-conspirators in that indictment.

Navy Wants Graves Man Held As AWOL

MAYFIELD Ky. — The Navy has asked a detainer against Jack West, Benton Road, who was fined $25 and costs on a breach of the peace charge here Friday, Police Chief Cletus Sullivan said.

Navy Recruiter John J. Rae of Paducah said West is charged with being absent without leave.

Sullivan said West rented a car in Georgia and apparently abandoned it in Canada. Canadian authorities have issued a warrant for him, charging him with passage of about $2,000 in bad checks, said Sullivan.

SPOTLIGHTING

TAYLOR Chevrolet - Buick, Inc.

EIGHTEEN of the 20 people whose sole business aim is to keep Chevrolet and Buick owners happy with good deals and first-class service. Absent the day this picture was taken were Sam Hibbs and Dwain Taylor.

Two of the oldest automobile agencies in Fulton—Chevrolet and Buick—are today united in one firm that provides first-class service and trained, experienced workmanship on these two fine General Motors Cars that have been popular with the Fulton area for generations.

That firm is Taylor Chevrolet-Buick, located on Fourth Street in a spacious building that most of the old-timers hereabouts still refer to as the "Bob White" building.

Dan Taylor came to Fulton on October 1, 1956. He and his father, J. T. Taylor of Taylor Motors, Murray, purchased the Earle and Taylor Chevrolet agency from John Earle and Earl Taylor and renamed it Taylor Chevrolet, Inc. At that time the Chevrolet agency was operating on the lower end of Lake Street, in a location that it has occupied since the infant days of Chevrolet as an automobile. The following spring, Dan and his father (who remained in Murray) moved the Chevrolet agency to 110 4th Street, in a location now occupied by the bowling lanes.

In 1958 Taylor Chevrolet, Inc., purchased the Bob White Motor Company—the Buick agency—from Mr. White and changed the firm name to Taylor Chevrolet-Buick, Inc. Shortly thereafter both agencies were consolidated in one showroom and shop at the old Bob White Motor Company location on Fourth Street.

In October 1963 Dwain Taylor purchased the stock of J. T. Taylor and joined his brother, Dan, in the operation of the firm as it is today.

A tribute to the good business relations of the firm lies in the fact that the present staff still includes four employees who were originally with Earle and Taylor (City Motor Co.) when the present ownership purchased this agency ten years ago. These include Helen King, Gardner Whitlock, O. L. Bowden and Ellis Heathcott. Likewise, three long-time members of the old Bob White Motor Company staff are still with the present company. These include Sam Hibbs, George Woods and Richard Peoples.

In October 1956—ten years ago—there were seven employed for selling and servicing Chevrolets; today there are approximately 20.

"We have tried very hard to continue the good relations that were so long practiced by our predecessors," Dan Taylor said in this interview. "We have entered 100 percent into the community life of Fulton as good citizens, operating a heads-up automobile agency. As a result, our business is ten times as large as it was when we began."

Dan and Dwain, both young and hustlers, have earned themselves a name as businessmen who will give a long trade and a good deal for a family seeking a new Buick or Chevrolet, and that probably accounts for the way their business keeps growing. They are right proud of their slogan "The best deals are Taylor-made" . . . and that's why so many cars around Fulton sport a banner in the back window indicating "another Taylor-made deal". When you are looking for a car, look at Chevrolet and Buick first!

Stockholders in Taylor Chevrolet-Buick include Dan Taylor, President; Dwain Taylor, Vice-President; and Helen King, secretary.

Taylor employees now enjoy a retirement plan which the Company has set up, and which costs employees nothing. The Company pays a percentage of the employees' salary into a retirement fund; and at retirement age a very sizeable amount will be accumulated for the individual.

LOW BLOOD SUGAR FROM MISSED MEALS

She was a lovely blonde with big, trusting brown eyes and long golden curls. She sat on my knee and believed every word I told her. She was two years old, and inclined to be a bit chubby.

Later, when she was in high school, she was still blonde and lovely, but she wasn't chubby any more. She was, if anything, a bit inclined to be thin. I asked her one day what she had for breakfast that morning.

"I didn't have any breakfast this morning," she said.

"What did you have yesterday morning?"

"I didn't have any breakfast," she answered in a small voice.

"When did you last have breakfast?"

"I can't remember," she whispered, giving me a reproachful glance from those lovely brown eyes.

"All right," I said in desperation, "skip breakfast!"

"That's what I do," she said, and skipped away with a giggle before I could question her further about her dreadful eating habits.

A Bad Habit

Girls, much more than boys, tend to go without breakfast, though boys are sometimes guilty, too. Skipping breakfast is an easy habit to slip into, and it is not a good one—for that matter, for any member of the family.

The number of meals a day varies with custom and circumstance. In some countries today, five, six or seven meals a day are eaten; these are usually smaller meals than the three-a-day customary in this country. The number matters less than does the regularity.

The body requires a regular supply of food in order to maintain the supply of nutrients available to the tissues at an adequate level. This is true especially of the blood sugar (sugar in the blood) which is the immediate source of energy. When the interval between the evening meal and the first meal the next day is as long as 18 hours, as happens when breakfast is omitted, the blood sugar may fall lower than it should.

Mild Insulin Shock

Low blood sugar creates late-morning inefficiency, drowsiness, fainting and proneness to accident through ineffective coordination. This is a mild form of the insulin shock which happens to diabetics when they get too much insulin or exercise; and too little food. It was what happened to one of my secretaries who responded to my buzzer signal by jumping from her desk and starting to enter my office. On the threshold, she collapsed, in a faint. She had taken a ballet lesson the night before after her supper, gotten up late and skipped breakfast, and had come to work with, literally, hungry blood.

A good breakfast should include fruit, eggs or bacon or both, enriched bread or rolls, milk, butter and jam or jelly, and a beverage. And time enough to eat without gobbling!

Girl Objects To 'God' In 'America'

NEW YORK — A New York high school has decided that students who object to mention of God in the fourth stanza of "America" may remain silent when it is sung. A 16-year-old girl had complained that the stanza is actually a prayer and therefore violates the U.S. Supreme Court ban on prayers in public classrooms. Acting Principal Gertrude Waldeyer of Bayside High School announced the decision Friday after conferring with the city school board. "America" is sung at the school each morning after the pledge of allegiance to the flag. The fourth stanza reads: "Our father's God, to thee, author of liberty."

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE

by
Wendell P. Butler
Commissioner
Ky. Dept. of Agriculture
Frankfort

Governor Breathitt has proclaimed "March Egg Month" in Kentucky, and several activities are planned as a part of this annual observance. The Governor signed the proclamation during the recent "March Egg Month Kick-Off Breakfast" held in Frankfort.

A new project is being conducted this year by the Kentucky Poultry Federation. This is a cooking contest for wives of members of the Kentucky Young Farmers Association. The event will be held in conjunction with the annual KYFA banquets sponsored each year by the Kentucky RECC.

Seven district banquets are planned. At each one, wives of the KYFA members, or YFA-Ettes as they are called, will be asked to enter a prepared food item in the contest. These will be judged with a first and second place prize being given. The two winners from each of the seven districts will compete in a state contest which is to be held in the latter part of April. The top prize for winning at the district level is a weekend trip to a State park for the winner's family.

At the state level, the first place winner will receive $150 in savings bonds, with the second place winner getting a $100 bond. A $50 bond will be awarded the third place winner, with each of the other contestants receiving a $25 bond. All contestants at both the district and state levels will receive participation awards.

The seven district meetings are as follows: Feb. 21, Northern, Cedarmore Lodge, Shelby Co.; Feb. 24, South Bluegrass, Brodhead High School, Rockcastle Co.; March 18, South Central, Bowling Green; March 22, North Central, Elizabethtown; March 24, North Bluegrass, Woodford County High School, Versailles; March 25, West Kentucky and Purchase, Lyon County High School; and April 7, Cumberland, Pulaski County Elementary School, Somerset.

I expect this to be an outstanding and exciting event, with some very tasty dishes being prepared by the YFA-Ettes. Too, I think all the

Twin Cities Group Elects Officers

FULTON, Ky. — At the annual meeting of the Twin Cities Youth Inc., held Tuesday night, officers were elected for the coming year and four new members were named to the board of directors.

Charles Pawlukiewicz was re-elected president; Sonny Puckett, vice president and Mrs. Jasper Vowell, secretary-treasurer.

Puckett, Bud Halterman and David Holland were named to fill the vacancies on the board of three members, whose terms expired. Charles Pawlukiewicz was appointed by the board to fill the unexpired one-year term of James Green, who resigned.

Other members of the board of directors include Kindred Winston, Mrs. Thomas Mahan, C. A. Boyd, Louis Weeks and Mrs. Jasper Vowell.

RITA WILSON
Rita Wilson, Fulton, Gets Movie Part

FULTON, Ky. — Rita Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wilson of Fulton, has been cast in a movie, "Way, Way Out."

Connie Stevens and Jerry Lewis have the leading roles. Filming began Monday morning. Miss Wilson has a supporting role in the picture, produced by 20th Century Fox.

Miss Wilson, the 1964 International Banana Princess, a former Miss Tennessee and Miss Dixie, received a write-up in the variety section of "The Trade" newspaper in Hollywood this week.

In a telephone conversation with her mother Sunday night, Miss Wilson said that she was auditioned for 17 different roles last week.

The Fulton girl went to Hollywood this past fall to do movie and television work. She is also attending school, studying drama and voice.

Miss Wilson was graduated last spring from Northwestern University and during the summer months studied drama, singing and dancing in New York before going to Hollywood.

Veteran Marcher

IRONTON, Ohio. — Dr. W. F. Marting loves a parade, and he has been marching in them since he first carried a bouquet of roses and a flag as a school boy on Decoration Day in 1881. A veteran of the Spanish-American War, the doctor has participated in scores of civic marches but believes he has established a record by taking part in 84 Memorial Day parades since that first one in 1881 goes unchallenged.

SALES TAX DEDUCTIONS—This table is to be used by Kentuckians who itemize sales tax deductions on their 1965 Kentucky individual income tax returns. It is identical to the Federal table for deducting sales tax. In issuing this table, the Kentucky Department of Revenue said previous deductibility tables are now obsolete. If this table is used no additional deductions for sales tax payments will be allowed. If sales tax deductions are made without use of the table, an itemized list of sales tax payments must accompany the return.

Fulton Bowler On Top In SPBA Meet

(Ed's Note: Mr. DeMoss, manager of Fulton's Jet Lanes, finished second.)

HERRIN, Ill. — Darrell DeMoss of Fulton shook off one of his longest scoring droughts and grabbed the early lead in the $2,500 Herrin Open here Saturday.

With one squad left to bowl, including many former champions and several top threats, DeMoss was in the driver's seat with a ten-game qualifying total of 2,115.

The Fulton "midget" was a giant on the lanes as he uncorked five game block totals of 1,071 and 1,044 in heading up the 90-man team. Seldom was he out of the pocket, seldom did he fail to strike.

DeMoss' closest competitor was E. R. Smith of Benton, Ky., with 2,065. Smith exploded in the night session to issue an early challenge to DeMoss, but finally settled for the No. 2 position. His five-game block totals were 1,000 and 1,055.

Another Paducah area bowler, Jim Hobbs of Mayfield, turned in his finest effort as a semi-professional by grabbing third place with a healthy 2,051 score. Hobbs had blocks of 993 and 1,058.

A total of 32 bowlers were still on the lanes with an even dozen promising to move into the semi-finals. The most noted bowlers among that group were Bob Katzmerek of Benid, Ill., a two-time winner, and former champion A. D. Byrd of West Helena, Ark., and Rick Graham of Paducah.

All three former champions were in strong position to take over the lead with Katzmerek heading the trio with a booming 1,083 five-game total. Katzmerek is the only two-time winner in the SPBA. Byrd was some 30 pins behind Katzmerek and only a few pins ahead of Graham, the tour's first champion in 1965.

After all but the 32 had completed qualifying, 19 were above the 1,900 mark, but several of the lower scorers were not expected to survive the 24-man cut.

Both Gene Baker and Vernon Childers, two Paducah bowlers, were hinging on the border line. Baker was in 13th place with 1,929 and Childers in 15th with 1,922.

Only the top 24 bowlers will return to shoot in Sunday's six-game semi-final round beginning at 12 noon. And only the semi-finalists will share in the record prize list.

Two other Paducah area bowlers were almost certain to survive the cut. Bill Jordan of Metropolis was resting comfortably in 8th place with 1,983, and Ed Jones, Fulton, was tenth with 1,970. Several other Paducah contestants failed to survive.

The winner of the tournament will receive $500.

Here are the top 24-bowlers, excluding the final squad, which was not expected to finish before midnight:

1. Darrell DeMoss, Fulton, 2115; 2. E. R. Smith, Benton, Ky., 2065; 3. Jim Hobbs, Mayfield, 2051; 4. Bernie Carlisle, Evansville, 2032; 5. Marty Schaefer, Evansville, 2020; 6. Gale Warren, West Frankfort, Ill., 2013; 7. Bill Hunt, Carbondale, 2008; 8. Kaye Parmley, Granite City, Ill., 1971; 9. Ed Jones, Fulton, 1970; 10. Glendell Butler, Harrisburg, 1963; 11. Arlen Ebers, Perry, Ill., 1938; 12. Gene Baker, Paducah, 1929; 13. Terry Henderson, Dexter, Mo., 1928; 14. Vernon Childers, Paducah, 1922; 15. John Fears, Dexter, Mo., 1916; 16. Clarence Boat, Evansville, 1910; 17. John Loea, Benton, Ill., 1904; 18. Roger Beaver, Murphysboro, Ill., 1901; 19. Ken Guesz, Fulton, 1892; 20. Russell Childers, Centralia, Ill., 1890; 21. Logan Terry, Macouhah, Ill., 1881; 22. Richard Bates, Ridgway, 1880; 23. Bob Graham, Granite City, Ill., 1874.

Gov. Clement, Ellington Both Doing Well

NASHVILLE — Gov. Frank G. Clement and former Gov. Buford Ellington are scheduled to leave by Monday or Tuesday the hospital here where they are recuperating from minor surgery.

Clement told newsmen Friday, "I'm not accustomed to being confined in a hospital room. As far as I'm concerned, I'd like to leave right now."

The governor is recuperating from a hemorrhoidectomy and, a member of his official family said, may leave St. Thomas Hospital Monday, although he would remain under a physician's care for at least two weeks.

Ellington was operated on for removal of a small lump on his vocal cords. His personal physician, Dr. Thomas Frist, reported Ellington in satisfactory condition and said the surgery will make Ellington's voice "as good as new."

Ellington had complained in recent weeks of extreme hoarseness and said he had surgery planned to repair his voice because "I might be needing it in the next few months."

This was believed a clue that he will soon announce his candidacy for another term as governor.

Dr. J. Thomas Bryan, who performed the surgery, said "The operation was highly successful with no implication of any complications. After a brief period of rest, Gov. Ellington can resume his normal activities."

Friends of Ellington said Friday they expect him to leave the hospital by Monday for a brief vacation.

City-County Building Studied

CLINTON, Ky.
County Judge E. H. Padgett has been appointed to head a committee to study the possibility of building a new building to house the county and city government offices and a county library.

The appointment was made by the Clinton Chamber of Commerce.

The committee is to comprise representatives of the City Council, Fiscal Court, Chamber of Commerce and other groups. It will explore the availability of federal funds, select possible sites and present preliminary plans for the building.

KENLAKE STATE PARK at Hardin, overlooking Kentucky Lake, will re-open for the 1966 tourist season Feb. 25. The opening coincides with a "Sailing Symposium," one of 13 special events planned at various parks by the State Parks Department. Reservations are being accepted by the park and the Central Reservation Information Office in Frankfort, phone 223-2326.

Salant, Genesco Merger Feelers Are Withdrawn

"Irreconcilable differences" in appraising the value of Salant & Salant holdings have been cited by Robert S. Salant, President, as the reason for the breakoff in the firm's merger negotiations with Genesco, Inc.

Mr. Salant denied a report, published in the trade newspaper Daily News Record, that Salant's "inventory of non-durable press goods was of such size as to represent a sales obstacle and was probable cause for heavy markdowns."

Mr. Salant said their reports were "untrue."

"Salant was among the first manufacturers to enter the durable press field in 1964," Mr. Salant said, "and since that time these products have been a prime source of our growth. Eighty percent of our slacks output and 5 percent of shirt production is now DP. Most of the non-DP items made are either too low priced for durable press or in fabrics where it is not yet adopted."

The trade publication also said it had learned that another reason for the failure of the merger plan was that Salant's earnings "were not as good as had been expected."

Electric Franchise Voted

CLINTON, Ky. — Clinton's City Council voted last night to advertise for bids on an electricity franchise.

The bids are to be opened at City Hall at 2 p.m. on Feb. 28. Kentucky Utilities now serves the community without a franchise. It is the only private utility company operating in the area.

Mayor Kaylor Austin said the granting of a franchise would add about $3,000 yearly to the city treasury. The company would pay 3 per cent of its net revenue from residential and commercial service.
