WEEKLY NEW ERA.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JANUARY 31 1908

VOLUME XXVII, NO 14

Attention of Every Subscriber Is Requested!

The attention of our subscribers is called to the following letter from Postmaster Breathitt regarding the new postal law which has recently become operative and which applies directly to newspapers:

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 28, 1908.
The Kentucky New Era,
City.

Gentlemen:—
I hereby call to your notice the new postal law which went into effect on January 1. Under this law all subscriptions to newspapers must be paid in advance and failure to comply with this provision forfeits the newspaper mailing privilege at pound rates. The publishers are given until April 1 in which to clear up their lists of all back subscriptions. After April 1 the law must be strictly complied with.

You will please take note of this and govern yourselves accordingly.
Yours truly,
J. W. BREATHITT, Postmaster.

Under this law all subscriptions MUST be paid in advance and the publishers are only given until April 1 in which to clear their lists of all delinquents. So far as the New Era is concerned we do not see the wisdom or justice in such a law as it prohibits the extending of credit to subscribers. However, we cannot do otherwise than comply or forfeit our mailing privilege. We trust therefore that all subscribers who are in arrears will come in promptly and settle up so that there will be as little confusion as possible on April 1.

POLITICAL POINTS

Senator Bosworth has introduced a senatorial redistricting bill, dividing the state into 38 districts. Christian and Todd counties are formed into the Twelfth district. It is a republican measure.

From a private letter received yesterday in this city it is learned that the condition of Railroad Commissioner McD. Ferguson is not as serious as has been reported in the newspapers. The letter states that his condition is not at all such as to cause his family and friends any alarm, and that it is thought he will soon be able to be out.

"Congressman A. O. Stanley," says

the Nashville Tennessean, "addressing a body of tobacco growers in Kentucky, said: 'Stop growing tobacco and grow corn. If the trusts get after that, raise oats. If trusts are formed on all cereals, raise h—l!' If Mr. Stanley isn't satisfied with the special brand already raised, he must be hard to please."

The salaries of the circuit judges of Kentucky will be increased to $4,000 per year, if the report of a majority of the senate committee on courts of justice, is adopted by the general assembly. This committee has under consideration the bill to increase the salaries of the judges to $5,000 per year. It developed that many of the members believed the present salary of $3,000 per year was amply sufficient for the requirements of the judges. One member of the committee is even said to have favored reducing the salary to $2,000 per year, instead of increasing it.

Joint [Smashed By Masked Men.

TRIGG COUNTY "BLIND TIGER"
BROKEN UP

COLLINS HELD A PRISONER

Liquor Was Thrown Out.—No Shots
Fired.—Adams Sent Up
For One Year.

CADIZ, Ky., Jan. 30.—A barrel of whiskey and several bottles of the same liquor were broken, and nine cases of beer and four gallons of wine were destroyed by a band of about twenty masked men at Golden Pond in Trigg county last Saturday night about 8:30 o'clock.

The liquors belonged to John Collins who is alleged to have been conducting a blind tiger in Trigg county in violation of the local option law now in force.

Collins was in his place of business at the time and he was covered by pistols and held under guard while the destruction was accomplished.

The masked men fired no shots and after destroying the liquors quietly withdrew.

John Q. Adams, of Linton, in this county, was found guilty of subornation of perjury by a jury in the Trigg circuit court, yesterday, and sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary. The case grew out of the burning of the barn of Walker Redd, a farmer who resides near Linton, last year. It was alleged that a band of Night Riders burned the building, and the charge against Adams was that he had, by procuring false testimony, attempted to have certain persons indicted as members of the band.

DOCTOR'S ORDER WAS: 'CUTICURA'

For a Bad Case of Eczema on Child
—Suffered for Three Months—Disease Reached a Fearful State
—Pain and Itching were Terrible.

CURED AFTER OTHER PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED

"When I was small I was troubled with eczema for about three months. It was all over my face and covered nearly all of my head. It reached such a state that it was just a large scab all over, and the pain and itching were terrible. I doctored with an able physician for some time and was then advised by him to use the Cuticura Remedies which I did and I was entirely cured. I have not been bothered with it since. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment but do not know exactly how much was used to complete the cure. I can safely say that Cuticura did a lot for me. Miss Anabel Wilson, North Branch, Mich., Oct. 20, 1907."

ITCHING CURED With Cuticura Remedies in Three Days After Six Months of Suffering.

"I suffered fully six months. The trouble began on my arms in little red pimples and it was not long before it was all over my body, limbs, face, and hands. It was so bad that I could not rest night or day and during the six months, I did not get a good night's sleep. I doctored for three or four months and spent at least twenty dollars trying to find a cure but none could be found. Then I saw the Cuticura Remedies advertised, and the next day I purchased some for seventy-five cents at the drugstore. I used them and I was relieved of the itching in three days, and I have never had a sign of any skin disease since. The Cuticura Remedies are the only remedies to use for skin diseases, they have cured me and they will cure others in the same way. J. W. Bloom, R. R. Telegrapher, Holloway, Mich., Nov. 20 and Dec. 29, 1906."

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 24.—Gov. Folk gave out an announcement of his candidacy for the United States senatorship to succeed Senator W. J. Stone.

In his announcement Gov. Folk states in part: "If I can be of service to the party and those who believe in the ideas I have been advocating by allowing my name to be considered for United States senator I shall do so. I shall continue to fight in official position if the people desire; if they release me from further official duties, I shall fight on in private life for the principles I have battled for to the best of my ability in public station."

PROGRESS OF PLAN

TO BUY JEFF DAVIS HOMESTEAD
IS SATISFACTORY

Consent of Mrs. Hayes For Transfer Of Property Has Been Obtained.

As Gen. Buckner sat in the spacious lobby of the Salt House probably the most noticeable thing about him was the absence of the familiar old cob pipe. When questioned as to whether he had discarded it the general answer in the negative and said that the only reason it was not doing service at the time was on account of a broken stem. The long brier pipe which he was smoking he said had been drawn from the hollow reed, silver-headed cane which he has carried for nearly thirty years and which serves as walking stick, weapon and pipe receptacle.

Gen. Buckner is the president of the Jefferson Davis Home association, which was recently formed in hope of purchasing the birthplace of the president of the Confederacy at Fairview, Todd county, and establishing a memorial home for Confederate veterans.

In regard to this undertaking Gen. Buckner said that the plans are rapidly progressing, and that as soon as he hears from the local committee at Fairview, he will call a meeting of the officers of the association and make active preparations for purchasing the property. It appears that President Davis left the nine acres of his home property to the Fairview church with the provision that if it was used for other than church purposes it should revert to his heirs. The consent of Mrs. Jefferson Davis-Hayes, the only surviving child of Jefferson Davis, has been obtained, however, for the transfer of the property, and Gen. Buckner said last night that the people of Fairview who are interested in the transaction are disposed to be exceedingly liberal with the association and dispose of the property at a reasonable figure.

"The money for improving the property and building suitable houses will be raised by popular subscription from among every camp of Confederate Veterans in the south," said Gen. Buckner. "The object is one of the most laudable we have ever undertaken and I believe it will be carried to complete success."—Louisville Herald.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone. If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

BLOOD POISON HUMILIATING-VILE-DESTRUCTIVE

The first symptom of Contagious Blood Poison is usually a little sore or ulcer, which is quickly followed by a red rash on the skin, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, ulcerated mouth and throat, and often copper colored blotches on different parts of the body. As the blood becomes more fully contaminated with the poison, pustular eruptions and sores break out on the flesh, and in extreme cases the nerves and bones are attacked and the finger nails drop off. Then the sufferers find themselves diseased from head to foot with this humiliating, vile and destructive poison. No other disease is so highly contagious; many an innocent person has been inoculated by handling the clothing or using the toilet articles of an infected person. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the circulation, and neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, tones up the system, and completely and permanently cures this disease. S. S. S. has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison. If you are suffering with this debasing and destructive disease begin the use of S. S. S. and get the poison out of your blood before it permanently wrecks your health. We have a home treatment book on the disease which we will send free to all who wish it, and in addition our physicians will give without charge any medical advice needed. Dawson Invaded By Night Riders

TAKE POSSESSION OF AND SHOOT UP ARCADIA HOTEL

JOHN HEATH IS WHIPPED

Threatened With Rope.—Plucky Mrs.
Holman.—Forty Masked And Armed Men in Gang.

DAWSON, Ky., Jan. 25.—This town was visited last night by Night Riders who committed a series of crimes, captured one man, whipped another, fired on a third citizen, invaded and shot up a hotel and the only opposition they met with came from a plucky young woman, Mrs. Neville Holman, who refused to do their bidding even under dire threats.

At Midnight.

The raid occurred at midnight and there were forty men, masked and disguised, in the party and all were heavily armed.

The first thing they did after entering the town was to surround the Illinois Central railroad station.

Overpowered Operator.

The operator in the employ of the road was at the telegraph key. He was prevented from giving any alarm by being overpowered by the outlaws who forced him at the points guns to accompany them.

As soon as the operator was in their custody, the gang hurried across the railroad track to the Arcadia Hotel.

Mrs. Holman Resists.

Then they discovered Mrs. Holman, wife of the proprietor, in the office on duty.

They demanded that she show them to the room of John Heath, Whitecaps in Western Kentucky.

Whitecaps are adding terror to the other uncolored forces at work in western Kentucky. Dr. J. W. Robertson, a large property holder of Grand Rivers, in Livingston county, has received a letter warning him to quit talking too much and to tell them all he knows. The letter was signed "Whitecaps." The postmaster at Paducah has received a similar signed letter threatening him with a whipping if he did not deliver mail to the whitecaps and to persons whom they addressed.

Refused to Obey.

Mrs. Holman, with remarkable courage and coolness, positively declined to obey their orders. The scoundrels roughly insisted, and threatened to apply a torch and burn down the hotel unless she complied with their demands, but Mrs. Holman could not be coerced.

Shooting In Hotel.

The outlaws, thus temporarily frustrated, rushed through the hotel, looking into rooms for Heath and shooting pistols as they went.

They finally discovered the room of the tobacco man and quickly made him their prisoner.

Accused Heath.

They compelled Heath to go with them out of the hotel and accused him of not being faithful to the association, and, in violation of his agreement with the organization, of buying tobacco that had been pooled.

Used Switches.

They carried Heath half a mile away to the bank of the river where they beat him with hickory switches.

His injuries, while painful, are not serious.

Threatened the Rope.

The raiders threatened Heath with death at the end of the rope if he ever again repeated the offense with which they had charged him.

While the outlaws were in town they shot out transoms and window lights at the hotel and elsewhere and citizens were terrorized.

Fired at Physician.

Dr. A. W. Brashear looked out of his door and was fired upon, but was not hurt.

The greatest excitement prevails here.

POST NOTICES ON HIGHWAYS.

PADUCAH, Ky., Jan. 25.—After nearly every farmer in the northwestern portion of Calloway county, who failed to pool their tobacco with the association have received individual notices that they must not deliver their tobacco, a general notice has been posted along the public roads warning the farmers what they must expect if they persist in disobeying the orders which are signed "Night Riders."

The notices posted were printed on paper with a lead pencil and were allowed to remain on the trees and fences, where they were posted several days, as no one cared to take the risk of tearing them down.

The Pure Food Law.

Secretary Willson says, "One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the presence of certain harmful drugs in medicines." The law requires that the amount of chloroform, opium, morphine, and other habit forming drugs be stated on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is made on the label. This remedy is not only one of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in general use. Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—ever from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Cousins says "Put on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! However, for this very reason, moderns, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's label—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

The Cumberland Telephone Co. has sent formal notices through the mail to all of its patrons in Madisonville advising them of the fact that the Madisonville exchange will be closed for business on the night of January 31, 1908.

The company says in its circular that it cannot allow the mayor of Madisonville to fix its salaries to employees, nor can it pay a license fee of $5,000 a year for the privilege of doing business there.

The council had passed an ordinance requiring the company to pay $5,000 a year license and later agreed to hold it up if the company would improve the service, pay the chief operator $5 more a month and raise the salaries of the other operators 2 cents an hour.

"The Blood Is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought can be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Pure, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. E. V. Pierce, 633 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

HAVE FULL FORCE

EARLINGTON, Ky., Jan. 27.—The attention of several non-union coal operators in Hopkins and adjoining counties has just been called to a report sent out from national headquarters of the United Mine Workers at Indianapolis, which says:

"Among the first things to be considered by the national convention will be the strike in the Hopkins field in Kentucky. It began January 1, and about 2,000 men are out at this time."

Operators interviewed, representing a large majority of the non-union miners in the counties of Hopkins, Christian, Union and Webster, give in detail statistics as to the number of miners employed in the non-union mines of these counties. They state that the total number of men employed to operate the non-union mines of these four counties upon a normal basis with all places filled is 3,700 and say that practically all these mines are working with full forces and producing normal outputs of coal. The list of men at work, as made up, totals 3,698. In Hopkins county the actual figures obtained are: St. Bernard, 1,600; Reinecke, 225; Victoria, 200; Crabtree, 180; Nortonville, 98, other smaller mines, 260; total 2,433. The West Kentucky Coal company, operating in Union and Webster, reports a full force of 700 men at work. In Christian county the Empire company has about 125 men, which is a full force. The Oak Hill mine in this county, is at work after a shut-down on account of court proceedings and embarrassment from the union. Other small mines report forces at work which bring the grand total up to approximately 3,700.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEED.

News and Notes of Much Interest to All Who Are Connected With the Growing and Sale of Tobacco.

On the Hopkinsville tobacco market things are rapidly shaping up for the early beginning of sales of hogshead tobacco while the deliveries of loose tobacco continue to be very heavy. In speaking of the tobacco which is coming from their section to this market the Fairview (Todd county) Review says: "There is more tobacco passing through this city going to Hopkinsville than was ever known, so say the oldest inhabitants." This tobacco is still coming principally to the association prize houses, all of which are doing a rushing business. Assistant General Manager, W. E. Frazier, and Auditor J. D. Scales, of the association, were here recently and met all the prizees at the local sales-room and told them many things of importance. These two officials are making a tour over the entire dark district on this mission.

The local salesman for the association has received the grades on the 800 types which have been delivered to him. It was hoped that these grades would be received in time to offer the types for sale this week but the work of marking the samples could not be completed and the salesman will not be ready to offer them before the middle of the week. Indications are that the buyers will be ready to inspect these types as soon as they are placed on the market and steady sales are looked for. The Society of Equity warehouse has been kept busy handling their receipts of both prized and unprized tobacco this week and they also expect to be ready to have some most attractive offerings in the near future.

The Trigg county branch of the association has secured a suitable building at Cadiz in which to conduct sales in the future. Charles Miller having recently been appointed as salesman at that place. This will be the first season that Cadiz has had a salesroom although they have operated a large storage house there for several seasons.

At Guthrie last week the official grades inspected and fixed the grades on about 3,000 types of tobacco which were from hogsheads which had been prized over the district. As these grades were fixed a report was made to the salesroom from which they were sent and there the prices will be fixed according to the schedule adopted by the executive committee and the tobacco placed on the market.

In the Hopkins county branch of the association a dispute arose as to whether or not Bradley Wilson had been legally elected as chairman. Mr. Bradley claiming that his election was regular and others denying this fact. At the last meeting of the association in that county the committee declared Mr. Bradley to be the regularly elected chairman, thus settling the dispute.

Dr. M. L. Bradley has been reappointed inspector for the Springfield, Tenn., market by the association. It is also reported that Ervin Corlew and Thomas Rudolph have been reappointed at Clarksville.

An association warehouse at Elkton is now assured, practically all of the capital stock having been subscribed. The movement was backed by the most influential people of the city and county. A site will be purchased at once and the

By Night Riders Or Under Their Cloak

FAY BROWN'S GROCERY BURNED MONDAY NIGHT.

WARNING LETTER WAS LEFT

Signed "N. R." and Threatened to Get Him and Dwelling For Talking Too Much.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

The grocery of Fay Brown, about six miles from town on the Fairview pike, was burned last night about midnight by incendiaries. In Mr. Brown's mail box was found a note signed "N. R." and telling him unless he quit talking so much his dwelling would be burned next.

When first discovered the store was a mass of flames and nothing could be saved. Mr. Brown was awakened by the fire and rising hastily and slipping on his clothes he ran outside and fired four shots from a shot gun to summon his neighbors to his assistance, his home having already caught in two or three places from the burning store. He managed to keep these flames from spreading and his signal was soon answered by several of those living nearby and with their help all danger of the dwelling burning was averted.

Nothing could be done toward saving the store or any of its contents. There were two coal oil tanks in the store and it is supposed that one of these exploded early while the top melted off the other one and the oil which it contained burned itself away.

It is said that Mr. Brown has been very outspoken in his condemnation of Night Riders and their practices and the note which was left last night was not the first which he has received. In one which was left in his mail box some time ago, the Night Riders referred in contemptuous terms to Mr.

Brown's pistol and told him they were not afraid of the weapon. In the note left last night they not only threatened to burn the dwelling, but also intimated that they would wreak personal vengeance upon Mr. Brown himself.

The theory has been advanced that probably robbery was the real cause for the fire and that the thieves after accomplishing their object burned the building and left the note in an effort to cover their tracks. Persons living in the neighborhood do not give this much credence, as Mr. Brown, having been robbed once or twice before, was known to never leave any money or valuables in the store over night. If it was the work of Night Riders they changed their usual custom and did not move in a body. The fire was apparently started by a very few people. There was no shooting or any other disturbance raised.

The store contained a stock of goods valued at about $1,100 and this, together with the building, was a total loss which is only partially covered by insurance.

Druggist Takes His Own Medicine

The man who sells remedies for most of the human ills, and hears day after day the opinions of people who have used these remedies, naturally comes to know the superior from the inferior, and when the time comes that he has to decide on which remedy he will take, he of course selects the one he has heard the most praise of. His own opinion, coupled with that of his customers', ought to go far in convincing the layman that the remedy the druggist selects is the best in the field.

J. M. Hawkins, a druggist of Mound City, Kan., has sold medicines for a great many years, and when finally he himself began to suffer from stomach trouble he had no hesitancy in deciding to take a remedy on his shelf he would take. It was Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Now, after having given it a good test, Mr. Hawkins writes us that it justified his high opinion and he is cured.

It was the same with Druggist Kennedy, of Lexington, Ill. He was not very robust, often had constipation and such troubles, so, going on what his customers who had used it told him, he took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and has been a well man ever since.

There is no better remedy on the shelf of any druggist or in all materia medica than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for obstinate constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency, biliousness, diarrhoea, jaundice and other liver troubles, whether the disease is in an infant, child, woman or man.

It is the best family laxative. It is gentle and effective, pleasant and sure. The proprietors guarantee it absolutely both as to purity and results to be expected. Usually one or two doses will bring about a complete change for the better, and as it is only 20 cents or 25 cents a bottle, sure relief can be had for a few cents. Buy a bottle so you can see what it will do for you.

POISON FACTORIES

You Will Be Surprised to Learn How Many There Are.

Did you ever feel stupid and dull after eating a hearty dinner? When food is retained too long in the stomach, because of stomach weakness, the poison factory works overtime and there is giddiness, confusion of thought, despondency, heart-burn, sleeplessness, nervous trouble and other forms of indigestion.

It is high time to look about for quick relief when you have dizzy spells after eating.

The general use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets puts within the reach of everyone a reliable and positive cure for all stomach weakness. Mi-o-na quickly cures the worst case of indigestion, and the pain and distress which is often felt after meals will soon disappear, such is the wonderful curative power of this little tablet.

Mi-o-na acts upon entirely different principles from any of the other remedies that have been used in stomach trouble. It is taken before meals, and has a specific strengthening action upon the muscles of the stomach, increasing the flow of digestive juices and making the stomach get to work and digest easily and naturally the food which is eaten.

L. L. Elgin says that he has seen so many cures made by Mi-o-na that he will give a guarantee with every 50-cent box; that the remedy costs nothing unless it cures. Try Mi-o-na on this guarantee of his, as Mr. Elgin takes all the risk and the remedy will not cost a cent unless it cures.

THOUSANDS CURED.

Wonderful Success of Hyomei in Curing Catarrh, Even in Chronic Stages.

Hyomei is the most unusual remedy ever known for the cure of catarrh.

It follows nature in her methods of treating diseases of the respiratory organs, as its healing balsams are taken in with the air you breathe, thus reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs that may be present.

Relief comes with almost the first breath of Hyomei, while lasting and complete cure follows its faithful use. There is hardly a town or village in the whole country where there are not many who have been cured of catarrh by this natural treatment. In Hopkinsville L. L. Elgin can tell you of customers who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei, many of them after they had given up all hope of even relief.

Be wise in time and use Hyomei at the first symptoms of catarrh. Do not allow the disease to extend along the delicate mucous membrane, gradually going from the nose to the throat, thence into the bronchial tubes, and then onward and downward until the lungs are reached. Hyomei will cure all curable forms and stages of catarrh. L. L. Elgin takes all the risk of trial and offer to refund the money for a $1.00 outfit if it fails to cure.

The bureau of statistics, of the department of commerce and labor, has issued the following interesting report on the production and value of the tobacco crop grown in the United States during 1907. These figures are based on the prices paid and reports made up to December 1, and show in detail how many acres were planted, the yield per acre, the production, price paid per pound and the farm value. In the New England States, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Wisconsin, the price per pound and the farm value are not given by reason of the sales being so comparatively few that reliable estimates could not be formed. A nominal price of 11c per pound, however, is given for the entire production of these states. The report is given above:

An analysis of this highly important and interesting table shows some surprising facts. The totals for the United States show to what an enormous extent the tobacco industry is followed and how much it means to the nation at large.

Kentucky stands pre-eminent as the chief tobacco producing state in the union with an acreage of 270,200, a production of 240,478,000 pounds and a total farm value of $24,529,000. Her yield per acre and price received per pound are considerably under some of the other states. Second to Kentucky in these three details comes North Carolina with an acreage of 161,400, a production of 100,875,000 pounds and a total farm value of $11,096,000. Virginia is third, Ohio is fourth, Tennessee fifth and so on down the line when New Hampshire, Mississippi and Louisiana are tied for last place in point of acreage with only 100 acres each, but Louisiana holds down the end by reason of her lighter yield and price received per pound.

Some high prices were paid, Florida heading the list with an average of 45c per pound. Georgia comes second with 40c, Mississippi and Texas third with 30c, Louisiana with 28c is fourth and Alabama is fifth with 24c average.

Compared with a similar report issued on the crop of 1906, the above table shows material gains in almost every way. Taking the totals the 1907 report shows an increase over 1906 of 24,701 acres in the acreage; in the production, 1907 shows an increase of 15,696,470 pounds; the farm value shows an increase for 1907 of $8,001,353.

Comparing the two reports on the separate states shows some marked changes from the conditions which prevailed in 1906. For instance Kentucky's acreage shows a decrease of 19,800 acres, the average yield per acre increased twenty pounds to the acre, and the production decreased 11,822,000 pounds. Notwithstanding this heavy falling off in these details the showing for the state is more than righted by an increase of 2.5 cents in the amount received per pound for the 1907 crop which makes the farm value show the handsome increase of $5,101,900. Tennessee shows an increase in acreage of 3,100 acres, an increase in the average production per acre of 15 pounds, an increase in the production of 8,131,000 pounds, an increase in the price per pound of 2.3 cents and an increase in the total farm value of $1,090,825. With the single exception of Maryland, which shows a decrease of .3c, every state for which the average price per pound is given, shows a nice increase and of course the farm value shows up in proportion to these increases. In this respect Georgia and Florida head the list with the magnificent gain of 10.0 cents. Texas is second with a gain of 6.0 cents, Kentucky with her gain of 2.7 cents is third and the other states follow along with increases as follows—Virginia .3 cents; North Carolina 1.0 cents; South Carolina .2 cents; Indiana 1.7 cents; Illinois 2.0 cents; Missouri 2.0 cents; Tennessee 2.3 cents; Alabama 2.0 cents; Mississippi 1.2 cents; Louisiana .5 cents; Arkansas 1.5 cents.

North Carolina is mainly responsible for the increase in acreage the report for 1907 showing a gain for this state of 41,042 acres over 1906. South Carolina shows a gain of 8,900 acres, Pennsylvania of 6,000 acres, Florida of 2,100 acres, Indiana 3,000 acres, Wisconsin 3,900 acres. These increases show to what extent the tobacco industry is spreading into new territory.

CAN'T DENY IT

If This Had Happened in San Francisco Instead of Hopkinsville More Than One Reader Might Doubt It.

The average man is a doubter. This is not surprising—the public have been bungled so frequently they are skeptical. Proof like the following will stand investigation. It can not be disputed.

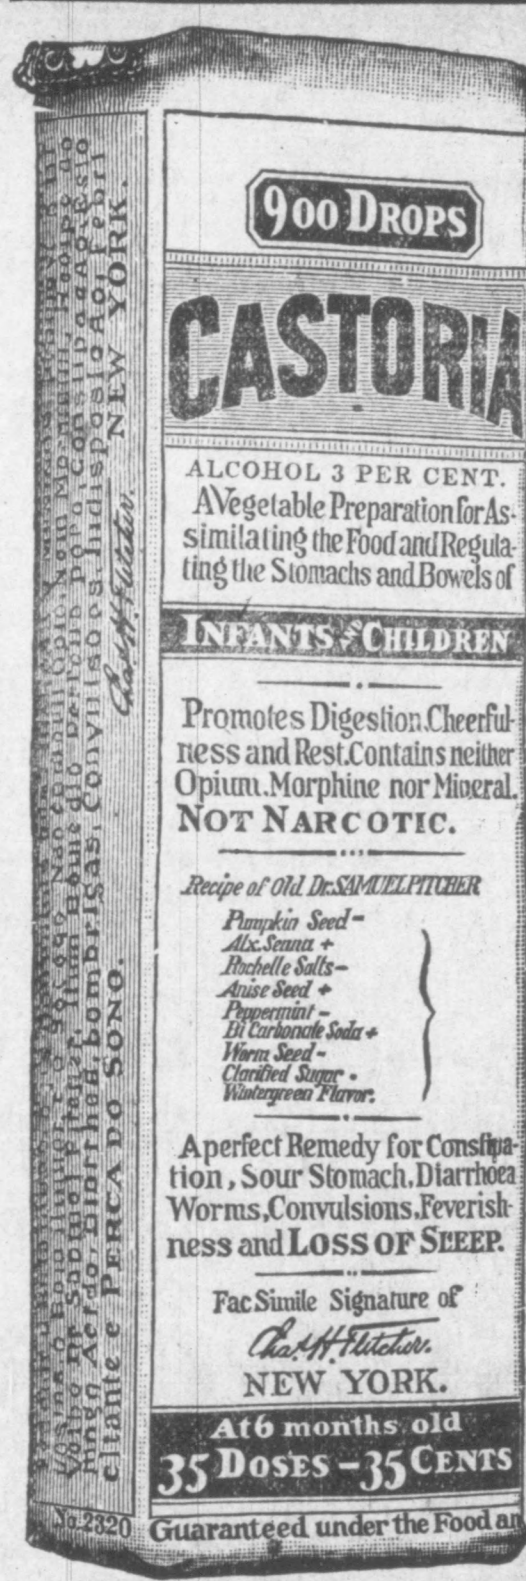

Mrs. Francis Brown, 204 Fourth St., Cor., Mechanic St., Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "There is no doubt about Doan's Kidney Pills being all that is claimed for them and you are liberty to use my name to that effect. I was annoyed for years with backache which came on by spells, especially when I contracted cold which always settled in my kidneys, causing severe pains across my back and down through the loins. About four years ago, I was induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills, procuring them at L. A. Johnson & Company's drug store. I was not disappointed in the results obtained for after taking a dose or two I knew they acted directly on the kidneys and in a short time the trouble ceased. I suppose during the past four years I have appealed to them some six or seven times, and I can candidly state that in each case they have given me quick and lasting relief. Mr. Brown also used them with equally good results. We both think a great deal of Doan's Kidney Pills and keep them in the house most of the time." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WATTERSON CONCEDES.

Mr. Watterson's latest contribution to the bureau drawer of political prophecy is this:

"Bryan is as good as nominated."

"Just so sure as the convention of the Democratic party meets in Denver next July, Bryan will be named as the standard bearer of the party."

"If the country remains in its present condition of unrest, Bryan will be elected."

"Gov. Hughes is the only candidate the Republican party can name who would defeat Bryan under normal conditions."

"I am not personally unfriendly to Mr. Bryan," said Col. Watterson. "On the contrary, I like him, and I am convinced that if the country remains in its present state of unrest, Bryan will be the victor in the next election. Gov. Hughes is the only man the Republicans could name who would have a chance."

"If Taft is not nominated on the first ballot, Gov. Hughes will be chosen on the second."

The present shortage of 70 or more in the authorized strength of the cadet corps at West Point is not explained by the superintendent as due entirely to the severity of the entrance examinations. There has been in recent years an increasing number of appointees who have failed to report at the academy for their examinations, in this year's new class the number reaching 79. The average boy's burning desire to be a soldier, particularly an officer, appears to have been corrupted by the "commercialism" of our times, according to the army view, for the superintendent of West Point remarks: "It is believed that the more lucrative pursuits and greater fields for promotion of private life are diverting young men from these careers of small pay and slow promotion in our country's service." Thus prosperity has hit both ends of the army—the academy and the recruiting office.

IS SUIT TO RECOVER PENALTIES ON TAXES

Decision of the Christian Circuit Court Is Upheld by the Court Of Appeals.

(From Wednesday's Daily)
County Attorney Duffy received a telegram from Frankfort today stating that the court of appeals had affirmed the decision of the Christian circuit court in the case of the commonwealth of Kentucky for the use of Christian county vs. L. R. Davis, former sheriff, and others. Judgment for $2812.88 was rendered by the lower court for three years' tax penalties claimed by the sheriff. Another judgment of $800 in a similar case returned in the lower court was not appealed.

FELL UNDER TRAIN

Sam Benahugh, colored, whose home is at Pembroke, fell under a train at Crofton Sunday night and his right leg was so badly mashed that it was amputated after he was taken to the St. Bernard hospital at Earlington. Dr. Sisk, who is the railroad company's surgeon at Earlington, was a passenger on the Dixie Flyer en route home from Nashville, Tenn., when the man was found, and he was conveyed to the hospital at that point where the amputation was performed. The injured man was sent to his home at Pembroke.

An Outside View.

Federal troops are needed more in Kentucky than in Nevada. Although Governor Willson declared that "night riding" had to stop, it continues; and Dawson Springs has just been "shot up" and an independent tobacco buyer has been threatened into promising not to buy any more tobacco. Kentucky is too old and too wealthy a state to put up with this frontier process of regulation, and Governor Willson will have to call out the whole of the state army and post garrisons in threatened localities within the dark tobacco belt. —Philadelphia Record.

DR. VENABLE PASSES AWAY

Beloved Man of God Called to His Reward.—Sovereign Grand Chaplain of American Odd Fellows.

(From Wednesday's Daily)
A benign and beautiful life came to a peaceful close this morning when, with his devoted family at his bedside, the Rev. Dr. John W. Venable, one of Kentucky's distinguished ministers of the gospel of Christ and the Sovereign Grand Chaplain of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the United States, of America, answered the summons of death and passed away to the glorious reward of a saint of the Lord.

THE REV. JOHN W. VENABLE.

Dr. Venable had long been in failing health, due to the infirmities of his advanced years, and in September, while entering the door of his residence, he fell, sustaining injuries from which he never recovered. His death occurred at half past four this morning. Nothing could have been more tender or affecting than his last hours. Fully realizing that the end was fast approaching, serene and assured in his Christian faith, he spoke loving, consoling farewells to the members of his household, left inspiring messages for friends and even kindly words of remembrance for servants.

Dr. Venable was born in Washington, D. C., March, 1822, of a prominent family. His ancestors built the first residence in the District of Columbia. He received an excellent education, and removed to Kentucky in 1842. He entered the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church in June, 1851, as assistant to Rev. Dr. Norton of the Ascension church, Frankfort, Ky. For over twenty-five years he was rector of St. John's at Versailles, and it was under his leadership that churches were built at Versailles, Georgetown and Harrodsburg. The present Grace church of this city was erected during his rectorship. Dr. Venable resided in central Kentucky for thirty-one years, laboring zealously and with splendid success in the Master's cause. He removed to Hopkinsville in January, 1883 to assume the rectorship of Grace church and, after a ministry here of twelve years, retired from active duties on account of failing health.

Dr. Venable united with the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Washington lodge No. 3, at Covington, Ky., on his twenty-first birthday. In 1867 he served as Grand Representative from Kentucky to the Grand Lodge of the United States. He was chosen Sovereign Grand Chaplain of the lodge in 1888 and held the office continuously up to the time of his death, though he had been too infirm to attend the last few sessions.

Dr. Venable was twice married his first wife dying many years ago. Two daughters of this union survive. They are Mrs. H. M. Mason, of Oakland, Cal., and Mrs. C. K. Wyly, of Augusta, Ga. Dr. Venable's second marriage was to Miss Fannie Moore, of Christian county, who, with one son, John W. Venable, Jr., survives him.

Dr. Venable was a man of lovely character—truly a man of God—and even to those who knew him best his beautiful nature was a revelation of how accurately divine attributes can be reflected in man. He was a lover of humanity, and to the rich and poor alike, to all classes, the sweetness and light of his life were given in equal measure. The Christian graces, faith, hope and love, were fully exemplified in his walk and conversation. His gifts and graces were great. He was a student at heart and in habit and his scholarship was far advanced. Divinely directed, he gave himself unreservedly to the work of advancing the cause of Christ, and distinction and honor in the world's great field were not alluring to him. He was an able, zealous, enduring minister of the gospel, delightful in his personality, a loving and tender husband and father, a useful and patriotic citizen, a counselor always to be relied on, a generous and sympathetic friend, and the world is better because he lived in it.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at Grace church conducted by the rector, Rev. Geo. C. Abbott, and the Rt. Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, bishop of Kentucky. The remains will be laid to rest in Riverside cemetery with the impressive burial rites of the Odd Fellows. The active casket bearers will be members of Green River Lodge No. 54, I. O. O. F., and the vestrymen of Grace church.

ATTEMPTS ASSAULT

AND BRUTE WILL BE LYNCHED IF CAPTURED

Youthful Bride in Todd County is Attacked By Negro.—Fought Like Tigress.

ELKTON, Ky., Jan. 29.—An unsuccessful attempt to criminally assault Mrs. Floyd McElwain, the youthful bride of a well-known farmer, was made by David Kimbrough, a big negro who has been employed on a neighboring farm.

Yesterday, as she was engaged in her household duties, her husband being in Elkton she saw Kimbrough approaching. Knowing the negro and presuming he had been sent on an errand, she was not alarmed, and it was only after he had entered the kitchen and seized her by the throat that his purpose became manifest. The young woman fought like a tigress and the negro, evidently fearing that he screams would attract some of the hands, suddenly fled.

A posse is searching for the negro and he is certain to be lynched if captured.

MAKES A REQUEST

Postmaster John W. Breathitt desires to call attention to the practice of some patrons of the rural delivery of placing loose coins in their boxes each time they desire to discontinue letters instead of supplying themselves with postage in their boxes.

This practice imposes undue hardship on rural carriers in removing loose coins from boxes and delays them on the service of their routes. The postmaster, therefore, requests that patrons of rural delivery provide themselves and keep on hand a supply of stamps consistent with and in advance of their needs. It is also very desirable that rural patrons place in their mail boxes small detachable cups of wood or tin in which to place coins, when necessary, in purchasing supplies of stamps.

Throng of Buyers Continue.

The people of Hopkinsville and vicinity appreciate the great advantage L. L. Elgin obtained for them, in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to allow regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific, for the cure of constipation, to be sold at half price, 25 cents, and have bought hundreds of bottles.

Many orders have come by mail at this price, for it is very unusual to be able to buy sixty doses of a standard medicine for half price. Every bottle of the specific sold by L. L. Elgin had his personal guarantee to refund the money if it was not satisfactory, but none has come back, showing the wonderful curative power of this remedy.

Unlike ordinary medicines for constipation and dyspepsia, the dose of Dr. Howard's specific is reduced after a few days' use, and the cure is soon complete and last. d3t-wlt

PROBING TRUST.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 28.—Independent tobacco manufacturers gave evidence today in the inquiry of the government into the operations of the American Tobacco company. Castleberry Dunkerson testified that the trust dominated the local market, that there were only three independent warehouses here, and that the American Tobacco company bought 85 to 90 per cent. of the tobacco on sale, and also controlled the manufacturing trade.

FOR REGULAR ARMY

Louis N. Crawford, of Nashville, is here in the interest of the United States recruiting service for the purpose of enlisting men for the regular army. Mr. Crawford has opened an office in the postoffice block which is designated by an enormous flag with white letters on a blue ground announcing the purpose of the office. Up to date the recruiting officer has received eleven applications, nine of them being negroes and two white men. None of them has been definitely passed upon, but, Lieut. Charles Romer, of the same service will be here tomorrow and will re-examine the applicants, and they will then be either accepted or rejected.

It is expected that this tobacco will find ready purchasers.

WARNS THE PRIZERS

General Manager F. G. Ewing, of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association, has issued a statement to the prizers now engaged in operating prize houses for the association. After stating that "the association has received information from the brokers and jobbers in this country and from the trade abroad that the packing of the 1906 crop was inferior to that of the 1905 crop, and that the comparison is unsatisfactory," he delivered the following talk to prizers:

"I feel constrained to say to every prizier that this season extraordinary attention will be given this department. We will spare no effort to make this work perfect. When false or inferior packing is suspected we will have the tobacco 'flagged' upon the storage house floor. We will send competent men to look carefully into the matter. If necessary, the hogheads will be literally picked to pieces. If one hoghead is dishonestly packed, or packed by incompetent persons, the suspicion naturally follows that other hogheads of the same prizier will be, and to get at the actual facts any number of such priziers' hogheads will be opened and picked to pieces, whether sold or not. If improperly packed we would much prefer knowing it before sold. If these facts are ascertained such priziers will have to pay all expenses of this and repackaging properly. We will publish such prizier by letter to our members in his county, that they may not further patronize him. The association does not even want to hear of a reclamation, but as such are inevitable we want to settle at home and not by letters of complaint, and an injury to our business reputation from across the sea."

Carter on East Seventeenth street by Rev. G. H. Means, of the Methodist church. No one witnessed the ceremony except the minister, the contracting parties and Mr. Carter's family. So closely had the secret been guarded that not even the near relatives of the bride and bridegroom had been apprised of the approaching nuptials. Mr. and Mrs. Fuqua have gone to housekeeping at the groom's home on Walnut street.

HOW TOBACCO WAS HANDLED UNDER STATE SUPERVISION.

Many ways have been suggested as the means for bringing to an end
the trouble in the tobacco growing sections. It has been suggested that the state assume a supervisorship over the tobacco industry and thus assure a fair and impartial deal to both buyer and seller under the existing market conditions. In this regard it is interesting to go over the details of an old law under which the state authorities controlled the handling of tobacco and maintained an inspection which it must undergo before it could be sold. The law stipulated how tobacco must be packed, how it must be shipped, and in fact outlined the course that should be pursued in all of the many stages of the various transactions.

Exactly when the various parts of the law were passed is not known, but on February 10, 1798 there went into effect "an act to amend and reduce the several acts of assembly for the inspection of tobacco into one act." Under this act "inspection" or warehouses as they would be called these days, were authorized to be established and here all tobacco had to be brought and officially inspected by inspectors who were appointed by the various fiscal courts of the counties in which the "inspectors" was located and these inspections were required to report regularly to the court which had appointed them.

In these early days there were no railroads and all shipping was done by rivers, so throughout the law reference is made to this mode of transfer and the "inspections" were always located upon the bank of some navigable stream. The county courts were authorized to establish these inspections but the person desiring to go into the business was required to post a notice to that effect
one month in advance of the date.
It was also specified that "No inspection shall be established within less than three miles of any inspection previously established on the same side of a river or creek, unless two-thirds of the justices in the county shall concur in the erection of a warehouse within the distance aforesaid." These houses where "inspections" were established were required to conform to the requirements of the law which read "No warehouse hereafter erected shall be deemed lawful, unless the body shall be of brick, or stone or scantling, enclosed with strong boards or planks, well nailed on, or logs so close as to keep safely, and prevent any injury by the weather all produce that may be stored therein, to be floored with planks or timber,
and a good roof, shingles or plank,
well nailed on."

As stated before the inspectors
were appointed by the fiscal court, and two were stationed at each warehouse. These inspectors could not act singly but when inspecting tobacco must work together. In case they could not agree or one was forced by illness or other causes to be absent, a third inspector was appointed by the governor, but this third official did not act unless called on by reason of one of the causes given above. The inspectors remained in office for three years except for the inspection at Louisville where a special act was passed for its regulation. The inspectors were required to give bond for the faithful performance of their duties, and upon which they could be sued for damages.

In addition they were required to take the following oath when they assumed their office: "You shall swear that you will diligently and carefully view and examine all tobacco brought to the public warehouse or warehouses where you are appointed inspector, and that not separately and apart from your fellow, but in his presence, and that you will not receive or pass any tobacco that is not in your judgment sound, well conditioned, merchantable and clear from trash; nor receive, pass or stamp any tobacco hogsheads or cask of tobacco contrary to the act entitled: "An act to amend and reduce the several acts of assembly for the inspection of tobacco, into one act;" nor refuse any tobacco, that, in your judgment is sound, well conditioned merchantable, and clear of trash; and that you will not change, alter or give out any tobacco other than such hogsheads or casks for which the receipt to be taken was given, but that you will in all things well and faithfully discharge your duty in the office of inspector, according to the best of your skill and judgment and according to the direction of this act without fear, favor, affection, malice or partiality. So help you God."

These inspections were required to attend constantly to the warehouses

at which they were stationed to receive and pass upon tobacco brought to them or to deliver tobacco held on storage, failure to do which laid them liable to a fine of $1 for each offense and to suit for damages.
They were also required to lay before the court at the September meeting in each year, or the meeting next following, a full and complete report of the tobacco inspection, its condition and the condition of the warehouses. Upon these reports the court had the right to condemn any warehouse as not being up to the requirements of the law and to force the owner to put it in proper condition before his contract would be renewed. Neither the warehouseman nor the inspectors received any stated salary but a commission upon each hogshead handled, the warehousemen getting three shillings per hogshead and the inspectors getting four shilling and six pence per hogshead, this amount being divided between them. In case the tobacco remained in the warehouse more than twelve months
the warehouseman was then to receive three pence per month until it was removed. In order that there be no trafficking in the office of the inspector, the law provides that where an inspector receives compensation or other reward for resigning his office, he should forever be disqualified for again holding that office, and upon conviction before a court should pay a fine of two hundred pounds.

When a hog-head of tobacco had been passed and graded by the inspectors, they were required to issue to the owner thereof a receipt giving the weights and grade and these receipts, to a certain extent, were allowed to circulate as currency.
While the inspector was given absolute power in deciding the grade and condition of the tobacco, he was forced to walk the straight and narrow path in the discharge of his duties by the many sections of the law outlining his duties and fixing penalties for infraction thereof.

According to this law all tobacco had to be prized before it could be exported. A heavy penalty was provided for masters of boats who would receive any tobacco which was not duly prized and inspected.
The law even went so far as to state dimensions of the hogsheads, to wit:
"No hogshead shall exceed fifty-two inches in the length of the staves, and thirty-four inches in the raising head within the crows, making reasonable allowance for prizing, which allowance shall not exceed two inches above the gauge in the prizing head."

When tobacco was condemned by the inspectors the owner thereof was permitted to sort it again and to reprice that which was good. The owner could do this work himself or he could employ the official "picker," who like the inspector was appointed by the court. The tobacco "pickers" received one-fifteenth part of the tobacco thus saved as pay for their work. Evidently, trouble was met on account of the inspector and "picker" being in collusion, and penalties were provided for this offense. The specific provision is made that "no picker of tobacco shall keep or employ any negro or mulatto slave at any public warehouse, or any pretence whatever."

Not only did the state look after the tobacco business but it also maintained inspectors for flour, packed meats, hemp, salt, whiskey
etc. As with tobacco, the specifications were laid down for the casks or barrels in which were packed flour, salt, meats or which contained whiskey. In inspecting salt and flour the inspector was required to "provide himself with an auger and shall bore a hole in the head of each barrel by him to be inspected not exceeding one inch in diameter and shall run the said auger through to the other end of the barrel, in a diagonal direction and shall thus procure a fair sample of said salt or flour."

Of these old inspections the internal revenue supervision of the liquor traffic is the only one which survives. It was in 1825 that a law was passed allowing tobacco to be exported without first being inspected.

NIGHT RIDERS WHIP FARMER

CALLED FROM HIS DWELLING ON SATURDAY MIDNIGHT

NARROW ESCAPE OF HIS SON

The Band Charged Him With Selling
His Tobacco Crop Outside
Of the Association

A band of about twenty-five Night Riders took Preston H. Rogers, aged 50 years, of the Era vicinity, from his home Saturday night shortly after midnight and whipped him because, it was alleged, he had sold his tobacco after pooling it with the association. Several shots were fired when the Riders first arrived. One report is that at least two bullets entered the house, one passing within an inch of one of Mr. Rogers' sons and buried itself in the mantel.

Two young men were spending the night with Mr. Rogers' family and were not molested. According to what seems to be the most authentic report which has reached here, the Night Riders asked Mr. Rogers if it was true that he had sold his tobacco. He replied in the affirmative, and they then asked how much he had received for it and he told them nine dollars a round. One of the Night Riders then struck him nine lashes with a whip after which he dropped the whip and another member of the gang picked it up and struck three more blows with it. The blows were severe but Mr. Rogers was not seriously injured.

It is stated that Mrs. Rogers, more indignant than frightened, faced the Night Riders and roundly berated them for their act and finally one of them cursed her, and then apologized for what he said.

Every telephone line in the vicinity was cut and communication thus destroyed and it was only by the hardest that any details could be obtained of the outrage.

While one contingent of the Night Riders visited Mr. Rogers, about seventy-five others were seen further down the road. Enquiries were made by the gang as to the whereabouts of several other farmers in the neighborhood, but no other whippings have been reported. Harp Menser, who is said to have sold his crop to John Heath, was whipped a day or two before the Night Riders took Mr. Heath out.

A measure for which its author will make a strong fight at this session of the legislature is the bill providing for the taking off of the party emblems on the election ballots, which was introduced in the senate by Senator Frank Rives, of this city. The bill makes no other change in the election law, and its advocates say that if it is passed it will put in operation a fair educational qualification test for exercising the right of suffrage.

Since 1897 the Democratic ticket has had the first place on the ballot and the Republican ticket the second column, but at the coming election the positions will be reversed by reason of the fact of the Republican party having cast the largest number of votes at the last election. It would be interesting to know what effect a law such as is proposed by Senator Rives would have on the result.

KEACH FURNITURE COMPANY IS READY FOR BUSINESS

Largest and Most Commodious Establishment of the Kind in Western Kentucky.—Big Success.

The largest furniture store in Western Kentucky is that of the Keach Furniture company. This company has just moved from Ninth street into the new Garrett building on Main street and one has to go through the enormous store and see the immense stock of goods on each one of the four floors in order to even gain conception of just how big a store it is and what an enormous amount of stuff is constantly carried in stock.

To start with the building is longer than any other on Main street. It runs back the full distance of the adjoining buildings and then an ell built around behind the Kress store, thus giving this much additional room and also a back outlet onto Eighth street. This ell is used as a receiving room, while the basement underneath this section is used for the storage of fuel and refuse.

Going into the main front door, one readily gains an idea of what a long building it is. For what seems an interminable distance the eye sees row after row of furniture of every kind, so placed as to make the most attractive display possible, and a beautiful sight it is. The walls of this room are tastily finished and the ceiling is most attractive, being finished in heavy timbers.

On the second floor is located the department in which is carried the upholstered goods of all kinds, and here one wants to stop and take a rest on the handsome couches or in an easy chair. In the front of this department is placed the stock of carpets, matting, window shades, etc., everything being arranged with the view of making a quick, yet perfect display of the big druggists, rugs and carpets.

On the third floor is kept the extra stock of goods of all kinds. Here are seen the piles of mattresses, the various articles of furniture, with the packing in which they were shipped still around them, and in fact is storeroom of the house. In the back end is a completely equipped workshop, where two men are kept busy repairing the furniture which comes broken or defaced.

In the basement one finds the large stock of stoves, etc. This basement is made water-tight by a concrete floor and stone walls and is one of the driest rooms in the building. It extends the entire length of the building and has light transmitters at each end in addition to the electric lights. This basement is yet to be finished with a coating for the walls.

a big electric elevator, the only one in use in a business house in the city. This elevator is a combination for passengers or freight, and runs from top to bottom of the house. Stairways also lead to each floor.

One especially pleasing feature about the building is that notwithstanding the great length of the structure the lighting is perfect in all points. No matter where you go or what piece of furniture you wish to inspect, you can get sufficient light to see every detail. It is a treat to go through this great store. Farmers Complaining.

Farmers of the country are complaining about the provisions of the present bird law, and it is safe to say that many of them would like to see it supplanted with a better one. Their chief objections to the statute is that the open season for killing quail comes and goes at a time when they are too busy in the harvesting of their crops to take a hand in the sport, the result being that the town man comes out on the farms and kills and scares all the birds out of the country before he can get a look at them.

The farmer is also urging the alleged fact that during all the closed or prohibitory season he feeds and tames the birds, getting them fat and in condition for the slaughter, only to be handed off by the pot-hunters from town. These village sports, he says, claim under no circumstances would they shoot a bird on the ground, but as a matter of fact, when he is alone and can avoid detection, he shoots a dish-pan full at once while they are asleep and falls on those not crippled. —Hawesville Clarion.

Congressional Bee Is Buzzing.

RUMORED THAT STANLEY WILL HAVE OPPOSITION.

PRIMARY ON MAY THE NINTH.

Total Expense Is Placed at $2,500 —The Official Call Has Been Issued.

At the meeting of the Democratic district committee for the Second congressional district held pursuant to call of Chairman Bradley, at Madisonville, Saturday, May 9th, was fixed as the time for holding a primary election for the purpose of nominating a candidate for congress to be voted for at the next November election, 1908. The entrance fee was fixed at $2,500, to be paid between the candidates offering for the nomination, and to be paid in to the chairman, R. B. Bradley, on or before March 30, 1908. If there is only one candidate, then the committee will meet at Henderson on April the 27th and declare him the nominee.

Hon. A. O. Stanley, the present congressman, was present, and is again a candidate for the nomination.

There is a sturdy tip out that Senator Frank Rives is in the attitude of Barksis in reference to the nomination, and, according to the Henderson Journal, Sam W. Bedford, circuit clerk of Daviess county and grand master of the A. O. U. W. lodge; Judge C. C. Givens, proprietor of the Henderson Gleaner and Madisonville Hustler, and Judge L. C. Flourney, of Union county, are supposed to have long eyes on the congressional plum tree and will soon try the length of their political poles, probably at the next election.

At the meeting of the congressional committee, there was no opposition to the holding of a primary, except as contained in the proxy of Geo. H. Rudy, which called for a precinct or mass convention in July or August.

The official call follows: It is hereby ordered that a primary election be held in all of the precincts of the several counties composing the Second congressional district on Saturday, May 9, 1908, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate for congress in said district to be voted for at the regular November election, 1908. Said primary election shall be held under the provisions of the Kentucky statutes regulating primary elections, between such hours as regular state elections are held.

No candidate in said primary shall be allowed to select as a device, the device of the Democratic party. Each candidate desiring to be voted for at said primary election shall on or before 2 o'clock p. m., March 30th, 1908, file with the chairman of the district committee his written request to have his name placed on the ballot for said primary election and shall state whether or not he desires his name to be printed under any device, and if so he shall designate the device so desired by him.

An assessment of $2,500 is hereby fixed for the purpose of defraying the expenses of said election, to be paid by the candidates, and each candidate shall on or before 2 o'clock p. m., March 30, 1908, pay to the chairman of said district committee his proportionate part of the expenses for holding the said primary election.

The right to vote at said election shall be limited and restricted to those who affiliate in good faith with the Democratic party and further pledge their support to the nominee of said election, and possess the qualifications prescribed by statute, provided, however, that persons under the age of twenty-one years on the date of said election, but who will have reached said age by the date of the November election, 1908, and who wish to affiliate with the Democratic party and will pledge themselves to support the nominee of said primary election, shall be entitled to vote.

Should there be but one candidate to comply with the requirements of this call, there shall be no primary election held, but the district committee shall meet upon call of the chairman on April 27, 1908, at 2 o'clock p. m., at Henderson, Ky., and declare the person complying with the requirements of this call the nominee of the Democratic party for congress in the Second congressional district of Kentucky, and the chairman of said committee shall return to him his entrance fee.

The candidate receiving the largest number of legal and qualified votes cast at said election shall be declared the nominee of the Democratic party of the Second district or representative in congress.

The district committee will meet in the city of Henderson, Ky., at 2 o'clock p. m., on Friday, the 15th day of May, 1908, for the purpose of canvassing returns and issuing certificate of nomination.

In testimony whereof witness our hands this 23rd day of January, 1908.

NEW MILITARY BILL

TO BE INTRODUCED IN THE LEGISLATURE

Embodies the Ideas of Secretary Taft.—Prepared by Col. J. Embury Allen.

A bill to reorganize the state militia has been submitted to Governor Willson and Adjutant General Johnston for their approval, and it is likely that it will be introduced. It was prepared by Col. J. Embury Allen, of Lexington, who has command of the Second regiment, and it codifies all of the laws and acts of former legislatures necessary to make the militia of this state conform as nearly as possible to the rules and regulations of the United States army. The designation of the Kentucky state guards is changed to the Kentucky national guards.

The adjutant general, after the present term of General P. P. Johnston is to be appointed from among the officers of the militia and the assistant adjutant general is to be appointed from the militia, but he can be either an officer or a private.

The bill provides for a small pay for attendance at company drills. The militia is made subject to the call of the president for not exceeding nine months' service within the United States, and provides that justices of the peace shall have jurisdiction concurrent with military courts of certain statutory military offenses. This is to avoid the delays and expensive proceedings of military court-martial.

Under certain circumstances, when communication with the government is impossible, certain civil officers, such as circuit court judges, county judges and sheriffs, are authorized to call out the militia to prevent lawlessness.

The bill also provides for the condemnation of land for armories and rifle ranges.

It is understood that these rules and provisions are similar to those advanced by Secretary of War Taft.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 26.—In this sermon the preacher deals with a universal problem—that of social companionship—and shows the perils of evil associations and how to avoid them. The text is Proverbs xlii, 20, "A companion of fools shall be destroyed."

It is good for man ever and anon to go off alone, as Christ often went alone, into a desert place to pray, but I notice that these periods of solitude in Christ's life followed or preceded times of large association and social activity. Jesus went into seclusion either to recover from an uncommon strain or to prepare for an approaching demand on his energies. He never sought solitude for its own sake. He loved to have his disciples around him and evidently gained help and comfort from their presence. In that supreme crisis in the night preceding his death he longed to have them near him and was hurt when they cared so little for his trouble that they went to sleep. "Could ye not watch with me one hour?" he asked them in pathetic reproach.

God never meant man to live a hermit's existence. Man is naturally a gregarious animal. It was meant that he should associate with men. As God said at the creation, "It is not good that man should be alone." He needs companions, associates, friends. He needs them for the development of his own character, and he needs them that he may aid in the development of theirs. The psychologist looks with suspicion on the nature that avoids society and perpetually craves solitude. Such a man, he says, is abnormal; he is morose; he is liable to become demented. Even piety does not thrive in seclusion. The old monks thought it did, but their experience proved the contrary. The youth brought up carefully, apart from boys of his own age, is saved from contamination, but his innocence is not virtue, and it does not become virtue until it has been tested in society.

Association, then, is a necessity, but it should not be indiscriminate association. A man is not only known by the company he keeps, but he is liable to become like the company he keeps. It is not possible to avoid contact with evil, but to seek out evil and voluntarily associate with it is suicidal. It is not a capricious punishment that Solomon pronounces in my text, but a philosophic conclusion, when he says, "A companion of fools shall be destroyed." This danger, then, is serious, and I want this morning to point out to you four kinds of character that come under the designation of fools—characters to be avoided because they bring destruction on their companions.

The Atheistic Fool.

In the first place, there is the atheistic fool, whom David describes (Psalm xiv, 1), in some respects the most dangerous of companions. "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God." Then, as though not satisfied with once hurling his condemnation against the atheist, the inspired writer repeats the same words in the Fifty-third Psalm. By this repetition he seems to say, "I cannot warn young people too much against association with those who are denying the existence of God." But, though the Bible so vehemently and emphatically denounces the atheist, yet how little some of us heed the warning against associating with the atheist, who hath said in his heart, "There is no God." We are willing to obey God's command, which says, "Thou shalt not associate with murderers or with thieves or drunkards." We are willing to say "Amen" to the divine command, "Thou shalt not be unclean in morals." But we are not willing to discontinue our fellowship with those whose whole lives are spent denying God and that Christ who is our only hope for this world and for the next.

Now, I do not believe it is possible to love God aright and at the same time go with those who do not love and honor him. No; we cannot do this any more than we can love our wives and mothers and yet associate with those who despise pure women and are continually speaking evil about them. If I should come into your home and begin to talk against your dead mother and by letters and newspapers try to prove to you that she was a bad woman you would not let me go very far. You would turn upon me with all the indignation in your nature and would bid me desist or quit my company. You would say, "You are no longer my friend. I lived with my mother too many years not to know that what you say is false. Furthermore, no man can stay in my home who would utter such language as you have done. I could not continue to love and reverence my mother if I believed the charges you have made, and I will not associate with one who despises her as you do. Therefore we must forever part." But, though you would speak like that in your defense of a father, a mother, a brother, a sister, a wife or a child, yet, strange to say, some of us continue to associate with those on earth who openly and brutally deny the goodness and the very existence of that God whom we love and worship. Now, my friends, you are at the fork of two divergent roads. Either you must bring your atheistic friends to the foot of the cross and lead them to how and worship at the manger or else, for Christ's sake, you must refuse any longer to be yoked with unbelievers.

A second character against whom the Bible warns us is the slanderer. Solomon says (Proverbs x, 18), "He that uttereth a slander is a fool." What does that mean? Why, simply this: If you hear an evil report about your neighbor and you repeat this evil report before you have investigated it, and you go on repeating this evil report when it is unsubstantiated by one scintilla of proof, and you run around spreading that report from house to house, you are in God's sight a fool. Now, all such scandal mongers you and I should shun or else with their viperous tongues they will destroy our spiritual lives, even as an adder's fang with one puncture can inject its poison and still the throbbings of our pulses and stop the steady action of our beating hearts. And yet, alas, how much of the conversation of our associates is devoted to trying to analyze the supposed imperfections of our neighbors! And when our friends begin to talk slanderously about our neighbors how easy it is for us to join forces with them and become a slanderer among slanderers!

We are ready to grant that the first part of the verse of my text, "He that walketh with wise men shall be wise," is true. We know that the influence of good men lifts us up and helps us to be good. Why should we not be willing to admit that the evil conversation of slanderers and of bad men will drag us down? Can we grant the first fact and deny the second? There is a story told by a noted speaker that one day a father was walking through the country with his two boys. The wind was blowing over a fine field of corn and making the silken, golden ears bend like the waves of the sea. "Is it not surprising," said one of the children, "that the wind does not break the slender stalks?" "My son," answered the father, "that would be true if one of those stalks was to stand alone. But you must remember that each of those slender stalks stands in the midst of many other stalks, and they all help to support each other. So with our companions in life. They make us what we are. They help us to bear up against the strong winds of adversity and temptation. Therefore, my boy, you must be careful that you have good friends by your side who will help you to bear the struggle of life bravely." That is good advice. "He that walketh with wise men shall be wise." But as I stand upon the hillside and watch a great field of wheat bending and swaying under the pushing, driving winds I see that here and there is a stalk bending before the blast and, after giving way itself, bearing another stalk down. Therefore if we go with slanderers they will destroy us as surely as wise men will lift us up and make us wise.

Crimes as Classified.

Now, in God's sight this sin of slander is an awful sin. As I take up the penal code of our state or national government I find the different crimes classified in the order of their heinousness. For instance, if I steal a loaf of bread I could not be hanged for the crime. If I should go down the street tonight and get drunk, I could not be sent to the penitentiary for life. In all probability I should be sent out on the chain gang to expiate my misdemeanor by working on the roads for twenty or thirty or sixty days. But if you should shoot a man or poison your companion or derail a railroad train for plunder or if, as an incendiary, you should burn up a hotel, then you could be hanged by the neck until you are dead or you could be sent to the penitentiary to serve out all the days God has given you to live upon earth. Crimes in the criminal code of the United States are classified in reference to their culpability, as they are also classified in the divine code. Now, where do we find this crime of slander in God's code? Is it a petty misdemeanor? Is it a little sin that God will in time overlook? Nay. Among the worst of all spiritual criminals in God's sight is the slanderer. David tells us in his Hundred and First Psalm the awful doom which is to be meted out to the slanderer. "Whoso privily slandereth his neighbor, him will I cut off." Beware, O man, how you allow your friends to slander their neighbors in your presence! Beware how you poison your own life by recounting the evil reports of your friends! "The companion of fools shall be destroyed." The slanderer is a fool.

But we are not to find the companions whom we are to shun entirely among the atheists and the scandal mongers. We are not to find them only in the quiet corners, where friend talks to friend, but we can also find these evil companions at the banquet table, and in the ballroom, and at the card parties, and in the billiard halls, and at the baseball games, and on the fishing and boating trips, and at the race tracks. We can find them in every place where pleasure seekers congregate. We can find them at the theater and in the concert hall as well as at the family fireside. "The heart of fools is in the house of mirth." What does that mean? Why, it means, interpreted in the broad sense, that the man and the woman who give their whole lives up to a never ending round of perpetual pleasure seeking are fools. Life has another object than that of fun. A great ocean steamer was not built for the purpose of taking a few fishermen down the bay on a sunshiny day to catch a few flounders. Its keel was laid that it might carry heavy cargoes from harbor to harbor. It was built to defy the storms and to withstand the poundings of the heavy billows and not to turn its decks into a ballroom floor, where the moving feet of the young people can keep step to the strains of music.

Work and Pleasure.

I make no war upon recreation or pleasure trips or vacation outings when they come in their proper places. Paul says, "For when we were with you, this we commanded you—that if any would not work neither should he eat." But no man ever learned to work aright unless he learned how to play aright. The best pleasure seekers have often been the best workers. There is an old Persian legend which says that one day a friend put into the hand of the philosopher Sadi a beautiful piece of scented clay. Sadi said: "I took it into my hand and said, 'Art thou musk or ambergris, for I am charmed with thy perfume?' The clay answered, 'I was once a despised piece of clay, but I was rescued from the company of dirt and rose and the sweet quality of my composition was communicated to me; otherwise I should be a piece of clay, as I appear to be.'" Like the clay we are. When we live a little while among the wild roses, when we seek for a little while our joy in the gardens of pleasure, then go back to our work, with the sweet scent upon us, and we can do our work better and swifter than we have ever done it before. I say, again, the man never lived who can work to great advantage if he does not know how to play with work.

It makes a great deal of difference whether we eat to live or live to eat. It makes a great difference whether we play to quicken the mind and rest the body for the daily task of life which God has given us to do or whether we prostitute the workings of our minds and hearts in mere pleasure seeking. We have no patience with the epitaph which the dying wag wrote and which is today found chiseled upon his tombstone in one of our eastern cemeteries:

Life is a joke, and all things show it; I thought so once, and now I know it.

Life is no joke. Life is not a playground. Life is a great campaign which God commands us to work out. And whenever you find men and women living for mere pleasure you find men and women whom God classes among fools. O man, what are your associates trying to accomplish with their opportunities? Are they winning you away from the great purposes for which you were born? Are they saying to you, "Come, come, eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow we die?" For if they are they are companions who are already dead to the higher principles of life. Furthermore, they are companions who are leading you to your own temporal and eternal destruction. "A companion of fools shall be destroyed." In God's sight the perpetual pleasure seeker is a fool.

Another Kind of Fool.

But, turning from the mere fun lover, we enter into the busy, crowded marts of trade. There, among the hardworking mechanics and in the offices of some of the most noted lawyers and physicians and in the studies of some of our greatest authors, scientists and statesmen, we may find another kind of folly, against which King Solomon warns us in the words of my text. The man who lives merely for what he can accomplish in this world is a fool. The same biting, cutting, withering terminology of four letters, "fool," which is applied to the one is also applied to the other.

Here we have the characterization from the life of the Lord himself. Turn to the parable which Christ spoke to his disciples in Luke xii, 16-20. There in his wonderful word painting Christ takes us to the home of a great eastern landowner. This wealthy man takes us out upon the veranda of his house and begins to point out the advantages of his property. His land not only seems to be endless, but he has quality of soil as well as quantity. Then he seems to say to us: "I started a poor boy, but by close application to work I made all this property by my own labors. I have no thought or hope beyond the money I am amassing. Now, the great question before me is, What shall I do? My incoming crops are larger than my granaries can hold." Then in Christ's own words we have the story: "And he said: This will I do. I will pull down my barns and build greater, and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods. And I will say to my soul: Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years. Take thine ease; eat, drink and be merry. But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee. Then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?" Friend, are such men, of whom this rich man of the parable is the symbol, to be counted among your best friends? Brother, when Christ spoke this parable of the fool who was giving up all his life to amass a little silver and gold was he alluding to you? Are you in God's sight the covetous fool, surrendering eternity in order to lift your head a little higher in the world?

A Strange Sermon.

Oh, how quickly shall come the eternal doom which awaits the covetous fool of Christ's parable, who has wasted his opportunities in order to bow before the shrine of Midas for a day. I was never more impressed with this fact than when, some years ago, one bleak November day I was sitting upon the banks of the Hudson river and I had the strangest of preachers talk to me. I know not whether I was asleep or awake, but this is the sermon that came to me at that time: While I was sitting there, suddenly a cold sharp blast of wind slapped me in the face and then leaped up and struck an overhanging bough until the bough creaked and groined with pain. Then, peeling the uselessness of trying to break the backbone of the old forest monarch, the wind ruthlessly disrobed the tree of its glories, scattering the leaves far and wide, and seemed to sport and laugh as it tossed one to my feet. And as I sat there, watching the poor little leaf bleeding and dying, with its arteries slit by the sharp teeth of the blast, it told me this tragic story: "I was born of a bud. At my nativity the gentle spring breathed life into me. The refreshing showers nurtured me. The sunbeams soothed me and coaxed me into smiles. The birds warbled and told me their secrets. The summer breezes rocked me to sleep. The rising sun kissed away my dewy tears. Life was such a continual happiness that I throbbed with gladness and tried to awaken the weary traveler as he hid from the noontide sun under my shadow. But then I commenced to grow old. Something told me I had to die, and, though I nestled closer to the branch and tried to shake off the cold, yet on every hand the lifeblood flowed. Every morning when I awoke I saw hundreds of leaves drop, covered with the white shroud of frost, and now as I lie there, incarnadined with my life's blood, you admire my beauty and my colorings, but I am dying. My sun has set. It is eventide and time for me to sleep the last great sleep. And you, too, O man, must die! Younger men will jostle you. You must some day become a back number. Your heirs may now be getting ready to squabble over your will." "It is appointed unto men once to die, but after that the judgment." Does the dying leaf preach that message to you today?

Lives of the Leaves.

Our lives are like the lives of the leaves. Some of us have just budded into boyhood and girlhood. It is springtime. Endless life seems to be stretching out before our eyes. The edge of the horizon where our graves shall be dug seems to recede as we advance. Oh, how happy is May! Sorrow has not yet stabbed at the heart and persecution has not yet snapped at the heels. The hardest work the boy or girl has to do is to get up in time for breakfast. Some of us have left the old homestead and set up house-keeping for ourselves. It is summer. We have all the worriments and vexations of life. From a selfish standpoint it does not pay. But God never meant you to live for yourself alone, so one morning you awake to find a babe sleeping in the cradle at your side. Now you sit at one end of the table and your wife sits at the other end of the table, while between you is growing up a family of whom many a man might be proud. Oh, how happy is the summer! We may have our days of rain as well as of sunshine, but every rainstorm during the strength of strong manhood has a bright rainbow to arch it, and every hard day's work has its sweet home coming after the heat of the day. Oh, how happy is summer!

Some of us are near our journey's end. Your joints have stiffened with the long journey. Now all you can do is to hobble and stumble along, panting and puffing, all out of breath. It is autumn. Once you romped and leaped from the haymow and ran to take your father's hand, your curls flying in the wind and with red roses blooming in your cheeks. Now you feel tired and nerveless. Though you may make an effort to deceive your friends, you are not deceiving yourselves. No, the almanac does not lie. It is autumn. Soon a procession will be started and you will be carried at the head of it. The bell will toll when the hearse enters the cemetery. The stillness of the little company in your family plot will be broken by the solemn words, "Ashes to ashes, dust to dust." Soon the little company will scatter, leaving their dead. Night will fall upon the scene. When morning breaks, your new made grave will be hanked up by a mound of snow. It is winter. And you, too, O man, must die, and after that the judgment. Does the leaf preach to you today? Sooner or later the time of the closing of your earthly life must come. Then will Christ speak unto you as he spoke upon the sick man of the parable: "Thou, fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee. Then whose shall these things be which thou hast provided?"

Will you not today as a wise man walk with wise men? Will you not walk with Paul and Peter and John and Mary and bow at the foot of the cross? Will you not walk with the Christian father and mother and brothers and sisters and husbands and wives and children who, with Christ's help, used the hillocks of their graves as stepping stones to their eternal thrones? Will you be, like Enoch, a truly wise man who walked with God and who never died because of that divine companionship? Will you not cease to be a companion of fools and thus ultimately enter everlasting life?
