Night Riders then struck him nine dollars a round. One of the gang picked it up and handed it to Mr. Rogers. He told the boys he would not strike again. He was returned to his farm.

It is stated that Mrs. Rogers, about eight years of age, was attacked by the Night Riders about the same time Mr. Rogers was. She had a small boy of about three years of age in her arms when she was about to be struck. The boys whipped her with a yoke several times, but did not strike her. She is said to be suffering from her treatment.

The report which has reached here, the result of a series of meetings in the vicinity, from which has been formed a night riders association. Several shots were fired on the occasion, but no other cause, it was alleged, he had sold his crop to John Heath, was reported. It was also stated that Mr. Heath had sold the crop to John Heath, who was a neighbor of the Rogers family.

The blows were severe but Mr. Rogers was not seriously hurt. It is stated that he was returning home from the farm when he was attacked. He was driving a team of horses and was in the act of crossing a bridge when the Night Riders attacked him.
