DIABOLICAL CRIME OF NIGHT RIDERS

Set Fire Twice to House in Which Young Farmer, His Wife and Infant Son Are Sleeping and Riddle the Place With Their Bullets.

Charge Broussais Gregory With Selling Tobacco Outside of the Association—Raid Made Almost in Shadow of Court House.—He Had No Crop But Was Working on Wages for His Father Who Was Not a Member of the Organization.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Within one mile of the courthouse, where the Christian county grand jury is holding daily sessions under special instructions to investigate Night Rider lawlessness, and in almost a stone's throw of the city limits, one of the most diabolical crimes in the annals of Kentucky was committed last midnight.

A gang of cowardly devils set fire to the residence on the Shipp homestead in which Broussais Gregory, his wife and little baby were sleeping, and when the young farmer attempted to save his property and protect his family he was driven back by bullets and the Night Riders, to make sure of their awful deed, rekindled the flames.

A threatening note, addressed to Mr. Gregory, was found at the front gate.

Smoke in Room.

About 12:15 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Gregory was aroused by smelling smoke and coal oil. She awakened her husband who got out of bed and turned up the wick of the lamp in the room, at first supposing this was the source of the odor. He soon realized that the house was on fire and opening a door saw a blaze at the side of the building in an ell made by a large chimney.

Called Hands.

Calling two negro men who worked on the place, Walter Rives and John Crimes, Mr. Gregory, in his night clothes, ran to the place and found that cornstalks, fodder and faggots had been piled by the side of the house, saturated with coal oil, the can being discovered nearby, and a match applied.

With the assistance of the negroes who responded quickly to his call, Mr. Gregory nearly succeeded in extinguishing the flames with a tub of water.

Telling the hands to throw more water on the smouldering pile, the young farmer started back into the dwelling in order to put on his shoes and something around him to protect him from the cold air. As he opened the door of his room and the light shone on him, he was halted by one of a gang of Night Riders who were skulking in the darkness at one end of the house.

Fired at Him.

With a horrible oath, the scoundrel shouted to Mr. Gregory: "Get back in the house, you ———, and don't try to put that fire out." As he spoke the Night Rider shot twice at the young farmer who sprang into the room and closed the door.

He had hardly gotten inside the house when the gang opened fire and shot out every window in the bedroom and of rooms in the second story.

A Second Time

The Night Riders then approached the dwelling and started up the fire again.

Mr. Gregory told his wife to take up their little child and go to a neighbor's and that he would go out and give himself up to the Night Riders and beg them to spare his family.

Mrs. Gregory was unwilling to take the risk, and wrapping the baby—14 months old—in a blanket, he with the little one crept under the bed, trying to reach a place of shelter from the bullets.

Volley of Shot

Mr. Gregory made his way toward telephone in the hall, adjoining the bedroom. As he opened the door he was seen by the Night Riders through a window in the hall and a volley of shot greeted him. He dropped to his knees and continued to the telephone. He was promptly connected with the residence of his father, Columbus Gregory, in this city, and, in a few words, told him what was happening.

Local authorities were notified by the elder Mr. Gregory and a detachment of the Middlesboro detail of militia on guard here started for the scene.

Soldiers on Hand.

In just twenty minutes after the young farmer had telephoned, his father and several members of the Middlesboro company were at the house which was by this time well in flames, while the Night Riders had mounted their horses and ridden off in a westerly direction, either on the Cadiz or the Princeton road.

Mrs. Gregory and the baby were taken to the house of a neighbor and the soldiers, with Mr. Gregory and his father, started to work to save what contents they could from the burning building. Several members of Co. D, reached the house a few minutes later and it was not long before a large crowd of citizens, many of them armed and ready to do battle with the outlaws, were on hand.

The flames had made such headway that it was impossible to save house and it was totally destroyed. A considerable part of Mr. Gregory's household goods was saved.

The Property Losses.

His loss will amount to about $900. The dwelling belonged to Mrs. Lizzie Dickens, daughter of the late Mrs. Lottie Shipp. It was a two story house, built of logs and weatherboarded. It was valued at $1200 or $1500, and there was $1000 insurance. Mr. Gregory did not have any insurance on his furniture. A large amount of meat and lard and some tools stored in the upper story, belonging to Columbus Gregory, were burned.

Note Was Found.

When the soldiers arrived at the Shipp place they found a note addressed to Broussais Gregory at the front gate. In it was a partly printed message telling him that he had sold his tobacco out of the association and that he was to be burned out, and that if he attempted to raise any more tobacco what would be done to him "would be a plenty." The note was signed, "Night Riders."

Mr. Gregory states that he is a member of the association, and that he had not sold any tobacco outside of the organization. He did not raise a crop last year, but worked for wages for his father, who is not a member of the association. He had no financial interest whatever in the crop which his father sold. Young Mr. Gregory had been warned several months ago that he would not be permitted to raise any more tobacco. This year, after his father's farm was sold, he had leased the Shipp place and moved into it only ten days ago.

Gang on Horses.

How many members there were of the gang of Night Riders is a matter of conjecture. Neighbors have told Mr. Gregory that they heard the men gallop up to the place and heard them ride away, and they estimated the band as having from twelve to thirty members.

Curd Carter, a farmer, who lives down the road about 300 yards from Mr. Gregory's, said today that a party of five or six men came up on his porch, last night, some time before the raid and remained there, apparently waiting for the arrival of the rest of the gang. Even Wood, who resides at the fork of the Cadiz and Princeton road, stated he heard the Night Riders as they galloped by his house, both going on the raid and when returning, and that they fired a number of shots. He thinks there were 25 or 30 in the gang.

PUT OUT BLAZE

(From Thursday's Daily)

The year old son of Viney Roach, colored, was burned to death this morning about 6 o'clock on the farm of Charles Dade in the southern portion of the county.

The mother of the child had gone to Mr. Dade's house, leaving the boy sitting in a box in front of the fire.

Soon afterwards the cabin was discovered to be on fire and when the men living on the place reached it and put out the blaze they found the child dead. The fire had evidently rolled down and set fire to the box and burned the child to death and also set fire to the house.

NEW MARRIAGE LAW

FOR CATHOLICS GOES INTO EFFECT EASTER SUNDAY

Any Ceremony Between Members of Church Considered Void Unless Celebrated in Presence of Priest.

The Catholic church's new laws touching on betrothal and marriage are to be promulgated Easter Sunday in every Catholic diocese in the world, and they go into effect at noon on that day.

Under these laws, any marriage contracted between Catholics will be absolutely void in the eyes of the church unless it is celebrated in the presence of a duly qualified priest and two witnesses. At present the marriage of a Catholic pair by a non-Catholic clergyman or by a civil magistrate is valid, although it is considered illicit, and the persons contracting it render themselves liable to ex-communication.

Protestants married by a minister will be regarded as lawfully married under the new law.

"In brief," said a Catholic clergyman, "marriages between Catholics in Protestant churches or registry offices will be for Catholics not only sinful, but invalid, and the persons who contract them will have only gone through an empty ceremony and will be no more husband and wife than they were before. This law binds all Catholics, even though they are apostate or ex-communicated."

"But it does not affect those who are not and never have been Catholics. Consequently, Protestants and non-Catholics are outside of the scope of the law, in the eyes of the church, and such marriages are recognized by the Catholic church, all else permitting it, as real and true marriages."

The principals contained in the new laws have long been recognized in the church. The question of mixed marriages is still an open one.

SWITCHES ARE LAID

ON BACK OF A TODD COUNTY FARMER.

Night Riders Call George Butler From House.—Thirty Masked Men In the Gang.

Night Riders visited the residence of George Butler, a farmer living eight miles west of Trenton, in Todd county, took him out of his house and whipped him with switches. There were about thirty of them in the band. They were masked and came on horseback, hitching their horses some distance from Mr. Butler's house. The riders were seen going in the direction of Mr. Butler's about 10 o'clock. They were evidently in the neighborhood for several hours as they again passed his residence at 3 o'clock in the morning. Many shots were fired but no damage is reported.

It is not definitely known why Mr. Butler was visited. He is a man about sixty years old, and is a prominent farmer and large land owner.

INCREASE ASKED BY KENTUCKY BOARD OF HEALTH

Report Shows That There Are 6,438 Deaths From Consumption in State Every Year.

The biennial report of the state board of health submitted to the governor by secretary J. N. McCormick shows that within the United States last year there were 1,600,000 deaths, and 4,200,000 cases of sickness involving the comfort and material prosperity of 5,000,000 homes and 25,000,000 people. At least one-third of this sickness and mortality is declared to be distinctly preventable, 160,000 of the deaths being due to tuberculosis and 50,000 to typhoid fever.

Referring to Kentucky, the report says: "In spite of our efforts, we have no system of vital statistics, but information gathered voluntarily from our physicians shows that for the average year in this state there are 11,979 cases and 6,438 deaths from tuberculosis, 22,512 and 1,683 deaths from typhoid fever, 16,346 cases and 1,835 deaths from the diarrheal diseases of childhood, 5,181 cases and 1,068 deaths from diphtheria, 52,388 cases and 993 deaths from scarlet fever, a total of 79,532 cases and 12,116 deaths from these six preventable diseases annually."

The board asks that its appropriation be increased to $25,000 in order that it may more effectively meet its obligations to the people. Out of this it proposes to establish a state laboratory, with free service to every physician and citizen in the analysis of water and other causes and products of diseases, with the view to their prevention.

Many Sleepless Nights, Owing to a Persistent Cough. Relief Found at Last.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes Will J. Hayner, editor of the Burley, Colo., Bulletin. Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November last the cough again put in an appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The result was indeed marvelous. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since. This remedy is for sale by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Badly Scalded.

Senora, the sixteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Merritt, was severely scalded yesterday at their home on Jesup avenue, Mrs. Merritt also receiving severe burns on one arm.

Mrs. Merritt was preparing dinner and the baby in toddling about the kitchen caught hold of the mother's apron just as she fell to the floor. Mrs. Merritt turned around to pick the child up and as she did so her clothing caught in the handle of a vessel in which some fruit was being cooked, the vessel being overturned and its contents striking the child on the left side of its face and the left arm, while part of it went on Mrs. Merritt's forearm. While both parties are burned very painfully it is not thought the injuries will be serious.

An Offer Especially for The Ladies

C A law which went into effect on Jan. 1st, 1908, requires newspapers to collect all back subscriptions and one year in advance by April 1st. Now we have hundreds of dollars owing to us on subscription and to all delinquents we have sent statements, but these may be laid aside or neglected, and as it is impossible for us to travel all over the country and see every person individually, we want some lady in each neighborhood to undertake the work of collecting the amounts already owing to us and also to solicit new subscriptions to either the Daily or Weekly New Era or both.

C We are willing to pay you in cash for this work or if you prefer we will give you as a premium anything you may want, such as a New Dress, a Cooking Stove, Suit of Furniture, Set of China or Odd Pieces, Kitchen Ware, Carpets, Rugs, Pictures, Boy's or Men's Clothing, Buggy and Harness, a Farm Wagon or anything else which you may want and we have not named.

C If you are interested, write us at once giving full information as to what you want and we will furnish you full particulars by return mail as to how you may get it absolutely free.

C Just as a sample of how this offer is made, we will give you a brand new five drawer Singer Sewing Machine if you collect as much as $150 for us, or any $10 Dress Pattern which you may select if your collections amount to $40. In case you start out to get a certain premium and fall short of this amount in your collections, we will give you credit for what you do get and either pay you in cash or give you some other article. Now isn't that a fair proposition?

C We mean just exactly what we say in the above and we do not want any one to answer this through idle curiosity. We have got to make these collections by April 1st and we have no time to waste with those who do not mean business.

This is an exceptional offer. Don't let it escape, but write today.

WORDS ABOUT THE WEED.

News and Notes of Much Interest to All Who Are Connected With the Growing and Sale of Tobacco.

The past week was another active time on the local tobacco market. Comparatively heavy sales were made, receipts were enormous and things generally were on the up grade.

Fifty hogsheads of tobacco were sold by the Planters' Protective association, making a total of 180 hogsheads sold so far this season. Prices ranged from $7 to $10 for lugs and $10 to $12 for low to common leaf. Indications are that next week some better class tobacco will be disposed of, the local salesman now being engaged in preparing about 30 hogsheads from sale which will range in price from $11.50 to $15. Receipts of types of prized tobacco were large.

At the Society of Equity where house sales were made but receipts kept things moving at a fast clip all the week. Tobacco in large quantities was received, both loose and prized. So much loose tobacco has come in that it is necessary to put in more prize screws in order to work it up. A resumption of sales is expected here soon.

The receipts of loose tobacco probably broke the season's record, for every day showed the streets filled with wagons bringing in the weed. Every association prize house and the Society of Equity warehouse were filled to the limit. Some of this tobacco came long distances, especially two lots which were received at the Society of Equity warehouse. In one of these lots there were two wagons which started from near Greenville early one morning and they reached here that night about 1:30 a. m. Another Muhlenburg county farmer started here with his tobacco but the distance was so great that it required two days to reach this city.

Representative Stanley has introduced a bill punishing employees of the department of agriculture who gives information to outside persons concerning the tobacco, cotton and other crops before they make official reports. The bill carries a fine of from $1,000 to $10,000, with three years' imprisonment. Mr. Stanley says the Wall street gamblers manage to find out the acreage ahead of the farmers. His bill, which is the most drastic yet introduced on the subject, seeks to even things up.

Plant beds everywhere have about all been burned and the seed sown. In some sections, judging from the plant beds, the acreage will be materially decreased this year.

The tobacco growers of McCracken county following the example set by the farmers around Lexington, are talking seriously of organizing a company and building a factory for the manufacture of their tobacco.

Reports from sections in Tennessee indicate that the crop this year will be larger than in 1907 as preparations for an increased acreage are being made by nearly every farmer. Especially does this seem to be the case around Springfield, Tenn.

Sales of association tobacco are being made steadily at nearly every market in the district. As yet these sales are small lots and are being bought more as trial orders than anything else. These are expected to continue until about April 1, when the export trade will open and then the holdings are expected to go rapidly.

The insurance on the prize house of William McMurry which was burned at Springfield, Tenn., recently from fire which originated presumably in the boiler room, is rapidly being adjusted. It is expected that the distribution of the insurance money will soon be made among those farmers whose tobacco was destroyed at the time.

A big meeting in the interest of the Planters' Protective association is scheduled to be held at White Plains, in Hopkins county, on February 29. Extensive arrangements are being made, the event is being widely advertised and everything possible will be done to draw a monster crowd together. Several speakers will address the farmers.

Ballard's Snow Liniment is praised for the good it does. A sure cure for Rheumatism and pains. Wright W. Loving, Grand Junction, Colo., writes: "I used Ballard's Snow Liniment last winter for Rheumatism and can recommend it as the best Liniment on the market. I thought, at the time I was taken down with this trouble, that it would be a week before I could get about, but on applying your Liniment several times during the night, I was about in 48 hours and well in three days." WILLSON'S MESSAGE

NAMES OFFICES WHICH HE REGARDS AS USELESS.

Wants Asylums Returned to the Old Method of Management by Local Boards.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 24.—Owing to the absence of many members, an agreement was entered into by both sides today to cast but one vote for each candidate in the senatorial race.

Both houses adjourned early without doing anything.

In a special message to the senate, in reply to questions about useless offices to which he referred in his campaign speeches, Gov. Willson today gave the following which he said could be disposed of: Members of the board of control of asylums, prison commissioners, commissioner of the court of appeals, stewards of asylums, secretary of state fair, secretary of capital commission, twenty-five too many penitentiary employees, and other places of minor importance.

He says there are others which he cannot yet tell of, as the state inspector has not been able to examine their books.

Gov. Willson wants the asylums returned to the old method of management by local boards, and says that whether this is done or not, the boards should be non-partisan or bi-partisan.

A Night Alarm.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. Foley's Honey and Tar has saved many little lives and it is the only safe preparation for children as it contains no harmful drugs. Sold by L. A. Johnson & Co.

Stock Sold.

The bankrupt stock of David Bourland, at Crofton, was sold yesterday in pursuance of the order in the case. It was bid in by H. Bohn, of this city for $1,064, the appraisal of the stock being $1,900. The store house will be sold at a later date.

Foley's Orino Laxative is a new remedy, an improvement on the laxatives of former years, as it does not gripe or nauseate and is pleasant to take. It is guaranteed. Sold by L. A. Johnson & Co.

AS OTHERS SEE IT

Kentucky's Night Riders are taking judges out of their homes and whipping them. If this was being done in some Turkish province we should consider it high time for the Christian nations to act.—Chicago Record Herald.

"It will be a melancholy blow to state pride if Tennesseans and Kentuckians should at last be forced to rely for the safety to their lives and their property upon the interference of the United States government with the domestic affairs of the two states—but such would seem to be the inevitable necessity following upon the admission of the authorities of both states that they cannot manage their own affairs.
It is probable that the federal government will hold off as long as there is a possibility for the states to act for their own good, but the federal government cannot afford to tolerate anarchy anywhere under its flag."—Chattanooga Times.

"Kentucky is fast gaining an unenviable reputation among her sister states by her failure to protect the lives and liberty of her citizens.
The title of the dark and bloody ground is coming to bear a new significance. Shotgun, torch and whip mock at the law, and no step is taken to contest their supremacy.
The state government, apparently,
is powerless to deal with the situation. If this be so, it is time the long arm of the federal power intervened. The spectacle of a state given over to anarchy is a threat to the whole body politic, and its longer endurance is intolerable."— Providence Evening Bulletin.

"The men who are doing the dark deeds are becoming more daring.
Feeling secure from punishment,
they are venting their spite upon men against whom they have grudges. That is always the way when lawlessness is permitted to go unchecked.  It is said that even on the floor of the general assembly of the state the outrages of the 'Night Riders' have been excused, and even defended. It is certainly time that the newly-elected governor was doing something for the protection of the peaceful people of the lawless counties."— Savannah News.

The state (of Kentucky) or that section of it where these outrages
are now of almost daily occurrence, is thus given over to anarchy. There seems to be no power to support legal authority, and no protection for peaceable and industrious citizens,
who ask only ordinary citizens' rights.
It (the tobacco war) is a much more serious reproach to the state than even the notorious feuds that have so long continued to make it bloody ground."—Boston Evening

"Instead of being a band of outraged farmers protesting against wrong, they (the Night Riders) are now in their true light as a gang of unquestionable ruffians, banded in such numbers and acting in such a manner as to preserve them from detection and punishment. They are anarchy materialized; and if they are to flourish civilization in Kentucky must perish. Such hideous growths cannot live in American air side by side with liberty."—

MACEDONIA NOTES.

Milton Cartwright died at his home
at Friendship, Ky., last week of pneumonia.

The residence of J. D. Capp, of Macedonia, was burned Sunday morning about five o'clock. The cause of the fire is unknown, the entire family being away from home.
The loss is about $600, partly covered by insurance.

Mrs. Jenkins, mother of Lafayette
Jenkins, of this place, died last week of pneumonia. Burial took place at Macedonia cemetery.

Ephraim Hopper and Miss Mary Menser were married Feb. 19th at the home of the bride's father, Harp Menser. Rev. J. W. McCarroll officiated.

John W. McCarroll has procured a license to peddle spectacles and jewelry over Christian county.

We are glad to report that Dave White and family are improving after a long siege of grip and fever.

S. S. Croft and Mrs. Galaway, widow of the late Sam Galaway,
were married last week.

—WHITE MAN.

Monday evening at 7 o'clock,
Miss Elizabeth Williams and Mr.
Frank P. Stowe a popular young couple of Church Hill, were united in matrimony. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W.
Williams, and the officiating clergyman was the Rev. J. S. Pate, stepfather of the bridegroom. Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present. Immediately after the ceremony, the happy couple drove to the home of the bridegroom. The bride is a lovely and accomplished young lady, and Mr. Stowe is a progressive and intelligent young farmer. Their many friends wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Barnes-Crunk.

Married, at Ringgold, Squire
Hammond officiating, Mr. E. L.
Barnes, of Herrin, Ill., and Miss
Mabel H. Crunk, of Hopkinsville, Ky. Mr. Barnes is an employee of the Standard Oil company in his home town, while Miss Crunk is the daughter of a prominent farmer of Christian county.—Clarksville Leaf Chronicle.

Kirkman-Tucker.

(From Tuesday's Daily)
Ollie Tucker and Miss Dixie Kirkman were married yesterday at the courthouse by Judge Prowse.

Married in Clarksville.

Miss Mattie Grace and Mr. Ellis
Whitfield, a popular North Christian couple, were married Sunday
in Clarksville, Tenn., by Squire W.
J. Smith.

HIS BARN BURNED

Brandon Hurt Is Visited By Night
Riders.

MAYFIELD, Ky., Feb. 25.—News
has been received here that a band of about fifty Night Riders visited the farm of Brandon Hurt, near Kirk's Cove, and burned his barn.
He had received a warning notice a few weeks ago, and had hauled his last load of tobacco from the barn
last week. The Night Riders entered the neighborhood between midnight and Sunday morning, and after cutting the telephone wires proceeded to burn the barn.

Hurt is an extensive tobacco grower
and it is said is not a member of the association.

IMPANELING OF PETIT JURY WAS AN EASY JOB

Preliminaries Are Rapidly Being Disposed Of.—Reports of County Officials are Filed.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Circuit court is busy today transacting the numerous details incident
to the opening of a term and things are about in readiness for the taking up the more important cases, the commonwealth cases coming first on the docket. The reports of the court officials have all been made.

This morning the petit jury was impaneled as follows—Davis Wilkins, Bob Fears, James Haddock, William Cravens, W. H. Gray, R. D.
Gray, Willie Smith, George Watts,
Green More, John D. Smith, Charles
Dade, Frank Petty, L. M. Hill, J. B.
O'Neal, Lucien Pool, F. A. Boyd,
W. H. Sizemore, Lit Hord, Bob Witty, John C. Davis, Clifton Haddock, A. R. Parker, Edgar Miller, Abe Myers. It has been a long time since a petit jury was impaneled as easily as this one was. When Judge Cook recited the lawful excuses only one man arose and he stated that he had once been a telegraph operator, but was not now following that avocation and of course he was told that that did not bar him.
When the Judge asked if any juror had any excuse to give why he should not serve there was not a response made and the twenty-four men who had been first called around were accepted. After being impaneled the jury was excused until 1 o'clock this afternoon.

CASKY NOTES.

Miss Lizzie Shelton is visiting relatives near Julian this week.

Mr. Joe Mason spent several days with relatives and friends at Hopkinsville last week.

Mr. L. S. Jackson, of Hopkinsville, spent several days with his father's family, C. S. Jackson.

Rev. J. C. Hopewell will fill his regular appointment at the Casky
Baptist church Sunday morning 11 o'clock. Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Harry Stolzy who has been ill with pneumonia we are glad to know has recovered.

Mrs. Joe Mason and children spent Sunday in Hopkinsville.

Mr. Ernest Shelton has gone to Paducah to visit his parents.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, of Gracey,
will begin her school at Casky Monday March 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hancock and Lee Claxton are on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Cole have returned from a visit to relatives in Tennessee.

Favorable Reports Made By Committeemen.—Association Meeting Is Addressed by Ward Headley.

A well attended weekly meeting of the Christian county executive committee of the Planters' Protective association was held Monday morning. Reports from nearly every section showed the conditions,
to be very favorable and no new matters having come up.

A motion made by Committeeman Campbell that all those farmers who were not satisfied from any cause
with their returns from their tobacco when it was sold should lay the matter before the county committee for investigation, was unanimously carried. The committee proposes to see that in the future all such alleged irregularities are investigated and the blame, if any, fixed where it belongs.

The committeemen reported that many farmers were taking advan-

THE LION AND
—THE FELINE?

(From Tuesday's Daily)

"The Lion and the Mouse," Charles Klein's famous play, was presented last night at Holland's opera house. The audience was highly pleased and would have been enthusiastically delighted had it been possible for an adequate production to have been given. The smallness of the stage precluded the use of any of the company's beautiful scenic equipment, save a few bits of furniture, and hampered the performance very much.

With one exception the members of the cast made the best of the conditions and were conscientious and convincing in the portrayal of their roles. Miss Marie Shotwell, in a spirit more in keeping with the small pique of a thin-pated chorus girl than with the dignity of a true artist or the graciousness of a gen-tlewoman, slurred carelessly through her part, doing barely more than to give her cues. Throughout the performance she wore her street dress,
and by her half-whispered asides
embarrassed the actors who recognized that however poor or inconvenient the stage and dressing rooms might be, the audience that had paid hard cash to see the show was entitled to some consideration. Fortunately, Miss Shotwell's role of "Sherley Rossmore" is one that nearly plays itself, even when "The Mouse" acts very like a cat.

Surely one could not blame Miss Shotwell for being anything but pleased with "that dirty little hole,"
as she described her dressing room,
and if she had bearded Uncle Dick in his den and told him what she thought of the house nobody would complain; but to appear in none of the four costumes her part called for, to look bored or contemptuous
when she wasn't mechanically reciting her lines, to blow her disdain-ful little nose on the stage every few minutes, and to dance a jig because the last curtain was descending, was rather taking advantage of the good breeding of her audience.

All the other actors made at least an honest effort to rise superior to depressing stage accessories, and Oliver Doud Byron was magnificent as "John Ryder Burkett," the richest man in the world. How the role could have been better taken in any way would be hard to indicate. He is a finished actor and a better presentation of a character part has never been witnessed here. As long as he was on the stage the performance moved with snap and vigor and charmed the audience. Miss Christine Blessing was superb as "Mrs.
Ryder." One of the oldest actors on the stage, she is one of the best qualified. Miss Blessing was a leading member of Sol Smith Russell's company and was prominent in the supports of Edwin Booth and, later, Richard Mansfield.

Herbert MacKenzie as "Hon.
Fitzroy Bagby," captivated everybody by his clever acting, and the "Senator Roberts" of William H.
Burton was excellent. Robert S.
Tabor scarcely realized the physical conception of "young Jefferson Ryder" but otherwise he was good enough. Every minor part was in perfectly capable hands. The appearance of Lebkuecher's orchestra was a pleasant surprise that greeted the audience, and the music furnished was of so sweet a quality that the hope was once more aroused that the playing of these musicians
might be made a permanent feature.

Quality is to Drugs
Exactly What Character is To a Man.

Drugs without quality are like a man without character—they are dangerous—and the only safe course is to follow our advice and shun them entirely. You would carefully investigate a man's character before giving him an important position of trust. Then be even more particular to investigate the quality of drugs you employ in a serious illness where life itself may depend upon the medicine's effectiveness.

Ask your Doctor

about the quality of our drugs. Physicians here have so heartily supported our placing the preparation of medicine upon the highest possible plane and have so freely expressed their perfect confidence in every detail of our prescription work that we feel sure of your doctor's earnest recommendation.

age of the ruling made a week ago
by which they are allowed to become tentative members of the association by signing an agreement to join in full faith and be admitted to membership when the books are reopened on May 1. One committeeman reported that he had already secured thirty names in this way and another reported twelve signatures. As stated before this agreement does not admit the signers to full fellowship at the time, but is merely an indication of their desire and willingness to do so if the books were open and their intention of joining when they are again reopened. It is believed that when May 1 comes practically every farmer in the county will have his name on the membership books.

Mr. J. W. Foard, who has been conducting experiments with various kinds of tobacco under the supervision of the agricultural department for the purpose of determining which variety is best adapted to this section, reported that in his opinion "Madole" offered the best returns.

Joel Fort had been announced to speak in the afternoon but D. R.
Perry stated that he had been unable to come on account of other engagements and that Ward Headley, of Princeton, would speak at 1:30 o'clock. Although the speaking had not been previously announced the courtroom was packed when the speaker was introduced by W. T.

Fowler, vice chairman of the county committee. In the opening of his speech Mr. Headley said that the prosperity of a county was indicated
by the prosperity of its county seat.
He then assailed trusts in general
and the tobacco trust in particular.
He expressed the highest admiration for the soldiers on duty and reverence for the uniform they wore,
and said that they were not here of their own choosing but through the efforts of a half dozen citizens who had interested themselves to that end. He scored the Nashville American for an editorial it published recently and the Earlinton Bee for its stand in regard to the labor troubles. He closed with the plea for the amalgamation of the farmers' associations and the labor unions and predicted that this would soon come to pass.

JUDGE COOK TELLS JURY TO RETURN INDICTMENTS

Exhaustive Charge Is Delivered.—Six Weeks' Term of Circuit Court Is Begun.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Circuit court met this morning for a six week's session, Judge Thomas P. Cook, of Murray, being on the bench and Commonwealth's Attorney Denny P. Smith and County Attorney John C. Duffy being present.

The grand jury was impaneled as follows: Alex Fritz, foreman; Elmer Marquess, Frank Boyd, Otho Yancey, James Winfree, James O'Daniel, John Gary, Joe C. Adcock, J. W. Quisenberry, W. F. Combs, T. McKnight, Steve Hill.

In his instructions to the jurors Judge Cook began by calling attention to the responsibility resting upon them, that the citizenship of the county was looking to them for redress in a time of sore need, and that in a large measure conditions after they had adjourned would be determined by their acts at this time.

After calling attention to the usual offenses and the statutes governing them, Judge Cook called upon the grand jury to investigate Night Riding to the fullest extent and return indictments without fear or favor wherever the guilt of any one, no matter if he be a near relative, was indicated. He followed this with a plea that wherever possible indictments should be returned against the trusts and their agents, stating that personally he had always contended that the Kentucky laws were not sufficient to reach the trusts, but that Chief Justice O'Rear and Justice Barker of the court of appeals had both stated that the law was sufficient to reach and handle these illegal organizations, and that it was now up to the grand jury to put the cases into court and allow them to be carried to the highest authority in the state and the matter forever settled as to whether or not the law was ample.

Judge Cook read the separate sections of the statute which are known as the Ku Klux acts, pointing out the differences and aims of each section. In regard to Night Riding, his honor referred to the acts of lawlessness and the comments made as a result, stating that all of this was calculated to further degrade the state's fair name. Besides the disgrace thus heaped upon the citizenship such acts could not otherwise result than in a depreciation of values and the keeping away of capital of all kinds, and the driving out of the highest class of the state's citizenship. He believed that by the exercise of due diligence the perpetrators of outrages in Christian county could be brought to justice. He said that a condition and not a theory existed and that it was a crisis which called for the grand jurors fearlessly and conscientiously to exercise their duties and return indictments, even should it be against their own brothers. So far as reputed causes were concerned, he declared that two wrongs never made a right and still further there was that higher law which said: "Thou shalt not do this."

In referring to the trusts Judge Cook stated that undoubtedly these corporations, and especially the tobacco trust, had systematically reduced prices until the returns from tobacco had not been sufficient to pay for its raising, and they had thus robbed the people. He said that the law required that in instructing the grand jury at every term of court he should call attention to the statute against trusts, pools and corporations combining to regulate prices, and this he had always done as a matter of duty, believing as he did that the law was not sufficient to secure redress. Now the justices of the highest court in the state had said that the law was sufficient and to this he said "Amen" and urged the grand jury to go after the trusts and their agents wherever it was possible.

In closing his instructions Judge Cook again urged upon the grand jury the burden resting upon them and showed that he had fulfilled his duty in impaneling and instructing them as the law required. The questions were now in their hands and if they shirked their duty in dealing with these questions they must shoulder and bear through eternity the burden of perjury which would be theirs.

ASKS LEGISLATURE

TO AID IN RESTORATION OF PEACE AND ORDER

A Memorial Is Sent to The General Assembly By Law And Order League.

The Law and Order League of Hopkinsville and Christian county authorizes the announcement that it has sent a memorial to the Kentucky legislature asking that steps be taken to put a stop to Night Rider outrages.

The memorial, which was mailed to Senator Frank Rives and Representative John Feland, follows:

"TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF KENTUCKY:

"At a meeting of the Law and Order League of Hopkinsville and Christian county, Kentucky, held on February 18, 1908, it was ordered that a memorial be presented to your honorable body, through the senator from the Sixth senatorial district and the representative from Christian county, urging that some immediate steps be taken to restore peace and order in this section of Kentucky.

"It is not a theory, but a condition that calls for prompt and vigorous action. An uninterrupted reign of lawlessness has disgraced many counties of this state for nearly two years. The county seats of four counties in three different judicial districts have been invaded by armed and masked mobs who have applied the torch to buildings, dynamited factories, shot promiscuously and at random into the homes of law-abiding people, and in fact by force and intimidation deprived our citizenship of the rights and privileges of free men.

"In this city $50,000 worth of buildings were destroyed entailing a total loss upon innocent property holders in no wise connected with the tobacco trade.

"An honest laboring man was shot in the back in Hopkinsville while attending to his duties as a brakeman and trying to move a car from near a burning building. The residence of a minister of the gospel was fired into because he turned on the lights in his own house while they were destroying by fire and dynamite the property of other people. The homes of unprotected women were likewise fired into.

"In one county a wife fainted from terror on the porch of her home while being compelled to witness the cruel beating of her husband with a horsewhip.

"In still another, a free born resident of Kentucky was whipped with a thorn switch and later thorns were pulled from his flesh.

"In still another county, a police judge was whipped because he did not openly sympathize with the lawless element that surrounded him.

"The plantbed of one poor widow was scraped, whose circumstances were so humble that she and her small children had to work in the fields.

"In half a dozen or more counties good and law-abiding citizens have been dragged from their homes at night and brutally beaten with whips and switches. More than a score of Kentuckians have been thus degraded and their tongues paralyzed with threats of death.

"On one occasion a woman was struck by an armed and masked coward because she dared to raise her voice in a plea for mercy while her husband, who was bound to a tree, was being whipped.

"No one in our section of the state knows when other even more heinous outrages will be attempted.

"Are we free men? Does our state owe protection to its lawabiding citizens, or are we slaves to a band of outlaws who prowl over the land at night in masked mobs, and destroy with fire and dynamite the property of Kentuckians and would with shot guns and rifles rule the courts and public officials?

"We call upon you in the name of Kentucky to come to the aid of the once free citizens of this community and afford us the protection our constitution guarantees us.

"Reposing faith and confidence in you as men and honest officials, we ask you to give our deplorable condition your prompt attention and pass at once additional laws that will afford your own people, who were once freemen, the much needed relief that they seek at your hands.

"Executive Committee Law and Order League of Hopkinsville and Christian County. By President."

SCROFULA AN INHERITANCE OF DISEASE AND SUFFERING

No truth is more forcibly manifested in physical life than the old saying "like begets like;" for just as the offspring of healthy ancestry are blessed with pure, rich blood, insuring health and strength, so the children of blood tainted parentage inherit a polluted circulation to burden their existence with disease and suffering. Swollen glands about the neck, brittle bones, weak eyes, pale, waxy complexions, running sores and ulcers and general poor health, are the usual ways in which Scrofula is manifested. In some cases the blood is so filled with the scrofulous germs and tubercular matter that from birth life is made miserable with suffering. Others who inherit the disease succeed in holding the trouble in check during young, vigorous life, but when the system has begun to weaken and lose its natural vitality, and especially after a spell of sickness, the ravages of the disease will commence, and in a great many cases terminate in Consumption. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Scrofula. It renovates the entire circulation and drives out the scrofulous and tubercular deposits. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and it not only goes to the very bottom of the trouble and removes the cause and cures the disease, but it supplies the weak, anemic blood with the healthful properties it is in need of. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. Book on the blood and any medical advice about Scrofula given free of charge.

DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVE FOR

Sullivan Bill Now Before Legislature
Would Remedy This Evil.—
Much Improvement Needed.

Following is a communication from the educational committee of the Kentucky Federation of Women's clubs:

In studying educational conditions in the United States and noting the wonderful progress that is being made by states in the north, east, south and west, one cannot help but be impressed with the fact that Kentucky must travel far and fast if she is to catch up in the educational procession.

That Kentucky is far behind we all know; that she has some few excuses for being behind does not help the situation; that there is any reason for her staying behind is something we cannot see. And judging from the amount of interest that is now being shown in all matters respecting our schools, we are hopeful that the conditions that now exist will soon be things of the past.

One of the great steps forward would be the passing of the Sullivan education bill, now up before the legislature, providing for the abolishment of that root of all evil, the district trustee system. For years Kentucky has been burdened with an incubus of something like 25,000 school trustees, 5,000 of whom can neither read nor write, and 10,000 more are absolutely devoid of any idea as to the duties and responsibilities of a school trustee.

Now just as a stream can rise no higher than its source so a school can be no better than its head. With such men responsible for our school system, we have exactly what we would expect to have—thousands of little tumble-down school houses that would not do credit as sheep folds, and a school term shorter than any state or territory in the union, excepting two.

The children of Kentucky attend school an average of fifty-five days. The children of Indiana attend school 104 days, of Ohio 118 days. In other words, the average child in Kentucky must go to school two years to accomplish what the average child in Ohio and Indiana does in one year.

If the Kentucky child went to school twice as long the result might be equalized, but statistics show that he does not go to school quite as long as the child in Indiana, and as a result is only half as prepared to cope with the problems of civilization. The loss is the child's, but more than that is the loss to the state and the community, for no state can rise above the level of her average man.

The Battle Of Hopkinsville.

Some startling information about the Night Rider raid in this city is contained in a recent number of Harper's Weekly. The writer is Charles V. Tevis and there is nothing in this article to indicate that he allowed himself to be in the least hampered by any facts.

After describing how the citizens were awakened "by the clatter of flying hoofs and the rattle of shots" the author says—"In the face of a determined fire from the several detachments of the invaders the men of the city armed with all kinds of weapons, ventured from the protection of their homes to meet in alleys and in the shadows of buildings. Preachers, physicians, lawyers, merchants—men of all classes and characters made up these squads which by daring dashes and maneuvers, at length joined for a concerted attack upon the marauders, who were holding the public square. There a pitched battle ensued.

The spectacle of fellow Kentuckians, perhaps neighbors, perhaps relatives, shooting at each other with deadly intent, was painted red by the flames of the burning warehouses. Shrieks of terror stricken women were heard above the rattle of shots; and the cries of the wounded answered the shouts of new recruits to the ranks of the defenders. Slowly fighting each step of retreat, the Night Riders were forced from street to street and alley to alley, and finally to the outskirts of the city. There two of the raiders were seen to fall from their horses as the bullets flew among them. The army of citizens had by this time assumed formidable size, but in the face of its terrific fire the invaders made a last stand, while their fallen comrades were being placed upon their horses. Then with a threat to repeat the outrage the band galloped away."

A La Hopkinsville.

Just because she put aside conventionalities and used the telephone in inviting the guests to a dinner party recently, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney is the idol of matrons of the 400. All of them had thought of the plan often, and wished they had dared put it into practice, yet none had dared. Mrs. Whitney broke the ice fearlessly.

Now it is fast becoming custom. Where the telephone cannot be brought into play, invitations are sent in the usual way, but the telephone means far less annoyance and is really so much more friendly, don't you know?

Here in Hopkinsville society folks have been using the telephone in this manner for many moons.

St. Moses Day.

The calendar of February has some important dates, such as, say, as Groundhog day, Lincoln's birthday, St. Valentine's and the natal anniversary of G. Washington, but take it from the coterie of friends entertained annually in honor of Moses L. Elb, the night of February 20 has more real joy stuffed into it than the other times and seasons stacked together. Mrs. Elb is the hostess of the happy occasion which is by way of being a surprise party, and Mr. Elb very dutifully looks surprised when the friends troop in and wring his hand and wish him many happy returns. The dinner Thursday night was an epicurean triumph and was beautifully served. The menu was very extensive and every dish was perfectly prepared. After the dinner, the guests adjourned to the parlor and, as incense was burned to Lady Nicotine, rare tales and repartee kept everybody in jolly humor. Indeed, so satisfied were they that nothing less than a fire alarm served to disperse the party. Those present were: Moses L. Elb, Jouett Henry, Green Champlin, S. Sacks, John Stites, Max J. Moayon, John T. Edmunds, T. C. Underwood, Ed J. Duncan, Howe Wallace, J. D. Russell and J. W. Stephens.

Doing Nicely.

Miss Venita Seibert, who underwent an operation at the Norton Infirmary, at Louisville, is getting along as well as could be expected. Miss Seibert has recently brought herself into prominence by her stories of children which have been appearing in the American Magazine, and her charming poems in other magazines. She is a niece of Mrs. Charles E. West of this city.

Lands a Marquis.

Miss Elizabeth Sherley is engaged to the Marquis de Mores. This is the report that has reached Louisville from Europe, and it has caused the greatest interest, as Miss Sherley is one of the most beautiful of all Kentucky's famous beauties. An unusual and striking proof of this is the fact that her beauty has gained her admission into the most exclusive circles of New York and Newport, and she has been the guest of the proudest families of the Smart Set.

The little Kentucky girl, with little fortune, save her flower-like face, her glorious eyes and clustering brown hair, won their hearts, and she has been as much one of the Smart Set as though she had been born to millions and a Knickerbocker name.

Last summer she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Vanerbilt at their cottage in Newport, and she was the belle of the summer season at the noted resort.

A soil for the farmer is worth just as much as the grain he produces. He must have a clean, deep, fertile soil, and a crop of fifty bushels of wheat is a large wheat harvest. The man's farm extended for miles and miles away. If the farmer had been content upon his old-fashioned ways of scattering his seed into the field and about the fields, with the sickle, he could not have placed under cultivation enough of his farm to grow the wheat and the fertilizer such an immense tract of cultural land. The wheat would have come upon after harvest, and he would think you would not have been able to find the man. "Where is he?" he would have said. "Why, he has now been fertilized the best of the best fields. This is practically virgin soil." Then he led me to a deep hole he was digging. It was rich, black soil, and I said, "That is everything." "Whenever we need it," said he, "that we are exhausting the land of its strength, all that we have to do is to drive in the plow and

BY REVENUE AGENT

SUITS TO COLLECT BACK TAXES ARE FILED.

Holland L. Anderson, revenue agent for the state at large, has filed a batch of suits in the county court in an attempt to collect back taxes alleged to be due against the estates of deceased citizens.

The heirs to the estate of A. L. Carter come in for the largest amount, the revenue agent alleging that notes amounting to $30,400 and cash amounting to $4,600 were not listed for taxation in the years 1903, 1904, 1905 and 1906. He prays that the amounts due the state be allowed.

George D. Dalton administrator of H. M. Dalton is made defendant in a similar action on $6,000 worth of bonds, $1,500 worth of notes and $1,000 in cash.

Joseph P. Welsh administrator of Pat Dalton, $2,200 in cash and notes amounting to $500.

M. L. Elb administrator of W. L. Bamberger, bonds $500, notes $1,075, cash $400, diamonds $350.

Heirs of J. H. Cayce—notes $2,000, cash $2,000.

E. B. Long, administrator of J. D. Ware is made defendant in a suit similar to the above.

Joseph P. Welsh, administrator of Pat Dalton, and John and Frank M. Stites, administrator of Annie M. Stites, are made defendants in a different style of action. In these cases the revenue agent alleges that property valued at $5,000 and $5,300 respectively, passed into other hands than those of the heirs specified by law and that on such bequests the state is entitled to an inheritance tax of $5 on each $100 worth of property.

Hopkinsville's Candidate.

Miss Willie Cayce is the only Hopkinsville girl who is trying to win a tour of Europe in the contest now being conducted by the Nashville Tennessean. Kentucky is a district in itself and some young lady from the Blue Grass state will be the guest of the paper for a six weeks' tour of Europe, and there is no reason why the candidate from Hopkinsville should not be the lucky one. Although it is yet early in the game Miss Cayce's friends and acquaintances are rallying to her support.

Desperate Coughs

Dangerous coughs. Extremely perilous coughs. Coughs that rasp and tear the throat and lungs. Coughs that shake the whole body. You need a regular medicine, a doctor's medicine, for such a cough. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Ayer's

Any good doctor will tell you that a medicine like Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cannot do its best work if the bowels are constipated. Ask your doctor if he knows anything better than Ayer's Pills for correcting this sluggishness of the liver.

COUNTY UNIT BILL

PASSES HOUSE BY A VOTE OF 76 TO 14.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 27.—

The house this afternoon passed the county unit bill by a vote of 76 to 14.

Representative John Feland, of Christian county, was one of the members voting against the bill.

Senator Rives, of the Christian-Hopkins district, tried to secure consideration of a motion to force the committee to make a report on his county unit bill. A motion to adjourn was offered and Senator Rives gave notice that a vote for that motion meant a vote against the county unit bill. However, the motion carried by a vote of 19 to 16. Both parties split on the question.

The senate passed the bill appropriating $500,000 for the State Normal schools and the State university.

In the joint session to vote for U. S. senator, the Democrats of the house left the chamber and broke the quorum because of the refusal of Republicans to pair.

There was a stormy debate in the house over the county unit bill.

HIGHEST OF SEASON

GOOD PRICES ARE PAID FOR ASSOCIATION TOBACCO

Salesman Buckner Has His Arm in a Sling But He Is Hard At Work.

The highest prices secured here this season for association tobacco were received for some which was sold Monday. A total of 32 hogsheads were sold the lugs ranging from $7 to $8.50 and the leaf from $11 to $13. The leaf graded from low to good medium and there was more of sold at from $12 to $13 than was for less money. The purchasers were Nat Dorch for W. S. Mathews & Son and R. W. Bogard. The sale naturally gives much satisfaction. This makes a total of 162 hogsheads sold here so far this season. New types are being receiving steadily there now being a total of 1,371 at the sales-room.

This last sale was negotiated by Salesman S. G. Buckner, although he was carrying his arm in a sling as the result of the fall on the ice and the fracture which resulted of one of the bones in his left arm.

GOV. WILLSON SENDS MESSAGE TO LAWMAKERS

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 28.—

Gov. Willson sent to the legislature this morning a special message.

He urges action to end the tobacco trouble, reviews their history and comments on the fact that the general assembly has done nothing in this regard.

He asks assistants for the attorney general's office in order to help Judge Breathitt.

Gov. Willson wants a full investigation of the tobacco trust in Kentucky and thinks the attorney general should be so equipped as to be able to handle the inquiry.

In his comments on the tobacco situation, the governor discusses the keeping of militia in the Dark district and its cost and says he is doing all in his power to suppress night riding which he strongly denounces.

Gov. Willson says the whole state is insisting on the passage of the county unit bill, but he deprecates any effort to use it as a measure for political ends.

He asks reforms in the tax laws and wants new road laws passed.

He says that the sinking fund commission should be given authority in every county where there is a military company to furnish a proper hall for drills and advocates the payment of 25 cents to militiamen for each drill attended.

He recommends that $75,000 be appropriated for military purposes, but says the greatest care should be exercised in the matter of appropriation as the state will not have money to pay out. He asks for sufficient sum to complete and equip the new capitol.
