Bravery And Terror Told In Capture Of Criminals

A "cops and robbers" story, as unbelievable as even the most fantastic Hollywood plot, turned a quiet, cool August afternoon into horror as Fulton County Sheriff James "Buck" Menees, his deputy Ed Clark, a retired Methodist minister and dozens of police officers and private citizens in West Kentucky and Tennessee faced wholesale tragedy at the hands of three gun-carrying desperados.

Ironically one of the men was a former resident of Hickman, Kentucky. The other two, a man and his wife, formed a trio of bandits who terrorized the West Kentucky countryside from four until about six-thirty Tuesday afternoon.

James Pinion, who gave his name to arresting officers as Bobby Joe Jones, 26, has been identified by the FBI as a former Hickman resident. His companions were identified as Ray Kelly Lem and his wife Evelyn Ann Lem, both 20 years old.

There seemed to be nothing unusual about the call that the Sheriff's office got about 4 p. m. Tuesday. Menees was asked to look into a disturbance of the peace charge in the Middle Road area.

En route to the scene of the alleged disturbance Menees spotted a speeding car. . . he gave perfunctory chase, which slowed the traffic speed of the car ahead. Menees noticed that the car bore a Tennessee license plate of a car that had been reported to his office as stolen.

With Deputy Sheriff Ed Clark in the car the pair motioned to the strange car to stop. Sheriff Menees noticed that the three people, two men and a woman sitting in the front seat of an Oldsmobile convertible acted suspicious.

"They kept looking back at us," Menees said.

When the car turned off into a side road and halted, Menees and Clark got out to make a routine investigation.

The driver of the car said his driver's license had been stolen.

Who Needs Straw Hat If There's Cool Cates Near

by Jo Westpheling

"This is a new experience for me," quiet, mild-mannered, almost frail, 68-year old insurance man Paul Cates told a trio of strangers who forced their way into his car on Tuesday afternoon.

And that's the understatement of the year!

The strangers were heavily armed bandits, each carrying loaded police-type pistols, all of which were pointed at Cates (one in his right side, and two towards the back of his head.)

"I don't understand this," Cates calmly-told the uninvited hitchhikers as they commanded him to drive onto a side road off Highway 94 near Cayce, while city, county and state police were forming a massive network to catch the two men and a woman, who a few minutes earlier had robbed, bound and gagged Fulton County sheriff Buck Menees and his deputy Ed Clark.

It's possible that the bandits, all in their twenties, will never quite understand the courage of this elderly gent, either.

Cates is a retired Methodist minister in case you want to reflect back on the facts of this amazing story.

The cool temperament of Paul Cates surely saved his life; irritated the female member of the trio, (an honest to goodness prototype of the tough gun-moll of the Dilinger era) and so softened the hearts of the two males in the stick-up party that one of them asked Cates:

"Do you have heart trouble?"

When Cates answered that he didn't think so, one of the men said:

"Don't worry, if you do what we say, you won't get hurt."

But the dark-complexioned, (mexican-type girl as Cates called her) wasn't quite so attentive. "She kept snapping at the men to hurry up and get the job done," Cates said, while the two men were using heavy rope to tie his hands and legs together behind his back.

Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Cates walked into the News office. He told this reporter that he wanted to correct some errors in the story of the hold-ups that appeared in the morning papers. He was as calm as though he wanted to report that he wanted to change the phone number in his advertisement.

He and Mrs. Cates even chuckled when this reporter asked if he wasn't scared out of his wits. "He's always been that calm and relaxed," Mrs. Cates said. Mr. Cates said he slept Tuesday night as if nothing had happened.

But things did happen about 4:30 p. m. Tuesday afternoon. You'd better believe they did!

Paul Cates was driving in his 1960 maroon-colored Rambler towards Cayce. As he approached a side, dead-end road that runs along the old Captain Tyler farm, he saw three people standing near J. R. Davie's mail-box, on highway 94. Oddly enough Davie is the son of a former Fulton County sheriff, Turney Davie.

Well, Cates thought the people were in some kind of trouble and started to bring his car to a stop, when the people, who were indeed in trouble, hailed him to stop. When he did, the men and the woman pointed guns at him, while the other man went around the right side of the car, got in the front seat, kept his gun pointed at Cates' side while the man and woman got in the back seat and held their pistols pointed at Mr. Cates' head.

Driving as though he had just picked up a neighbor to go to Sunday School, Cates drove his car a short distance up to the side road as commanded and where the 1960 white, convertible Oldsmobile, stuck in the mud, had been abandoned by the bandits.

Well, maybe Paul Cates hasn't been listening to the TV commercials. He was smarter than the cigarette smokers. He went along with the demand to switch from his car to the one the bandits had abandoned.

Wouldn't you think by this time that Paul Cates "was shook?" With a tough, coldly calculating, gun-toting moll nervously fingering the trigger on a gun, and a couple of tough, but accommodating homobres tying him up, Cates was re-

South Fulton's Proposed System Will Be Boon To Area

The above map shows the proposed water distribution lines which would serve 250 families in the South Fulton area. The lines to the west would meet those of the Union City Water Utility Department already in service.

Approximately 250 homes in suburban South Fulton areas will reap the benefits of an estimated $513,000 water distribution project which will include some 43 miles of water distribution lines, a 500,000 gallon elevated water storage tank and a sewerage collection line to serve the proposed industrial site now under option in this area. Henry Dunn, South Fulton City Manager, reported today.

This project is dependent upon a Federal grant that would finance fifty per cent of the project, Mr. Dunn stated. The balance of the $513,000 will be financed on a long term basis of an estimated 40 years. Dunn stated that the estimated revenue, based on a figure of approximately 250 families accepting the service, would be $24,000 a year. The project would thus be self-supporting and no additional tax revenue would be necessary. Mr. Dunn said. The preliminary inquiry has been filed and will be channelled to the proper Federal agency.

Mr. Dunn stated that though the water distribution lines would be available to some 300 homes, the estimated figures have been prepared on the basis of approximately 250 families taking advantage of the project. The meter deposits would gross approximately $18,000 with an average top meter fee of approximately $75 Dunn said.

The Nichols Engineering Company of Union City is the consulting engineer on the project and has prepared the plans for submission to the Federal agency. A copy of the proposed route of the water distribution lines is reproduced here.

It is impossible to determine how much this project will increase the general economic status of the South Fulton area at this time, Dunn said.

"Aside from the fact that the people of the area will receive excellent water service and that the proposed industrial site would look more favorably toward us if this project were in force, there is also the probability that property owners will have a decrease in insurance rates due to the availability of the water and the installation of 15 fire hydrants and that the value of property would increase because of the modern convenience of water piped directly to the home," Mr. Dunn stated.

"It is absolutely necessary that this project be initiated and carried out for the continued and future growth of this area," Dunn said.

Frolicking Females Flustered With Flash Flood

Friday's flash flood forced frolicking Fulton females to flounder.

Over two inches of rain were recorded in Fulton last Friday in less than a two hour period. The sudden noon rain caught diners completely unprepared for the downpour. Streets were temporarily flooded in various sections of town and a few children played barefoot in the cool water while their elders watched jealously from the porches.

The prompt and cautious action of the city police department, aided by the fire department in closing off the more dangerous streets, resulted in the report from the office of police chief Richard Myatt, that no accidents were reported on account of the flash flood.

"We Like Bananas"

Two Men Stuck In Elevator Durn It!

"Why couldn't I have gotten stuck in an elevator with someone else besides you," were the mutual sentiments of Henry Bethel and Billy Gore when they were lodged in the elevator at the Wade Used Furniture Store last week-end.

The store was closed and several hours passed before they were able to escape through the top of the elevator. Otherwise they would be waiting there until Monday morning.

Baked ham weighing 225 pounds; 135 pounds of cole slaw; 24 pounds of potato chips; 15 loaves of king size bread; 100 pounds of green beans; 100 pounds of corn and 1600 cookies; quite a grocery list!

Hardly does it coincide with the list the average housewife makes on the back of an envelope, thank goodness, but it is the list of groceries furnished by the E. W. James Store and cooked under the direction of store manager Bud Halterman for the Twin Cities Youth, Inc., picnic held at City Park, Tuesday, July 19. The task of serving was supervised by Sonny Puckett.

Halterman and Puckett deserve the accolades of the 1250 well fed picnic guests. A good job well done.

Art And Music, Fun, Friends, And Gayety Is Festival Fare

The Fourth International Banana Festival is just a little less than two months away, but plans for the largest and most exciting event in the four-year history of the community effort are being finalized every day. Expanding the program to include events of interest for homefolks and visitors alike, the outlook is that the Fourth International Banana Festival will be one of the most significant and well attended events in America this year.

Committees and clubs are already busily at work putting together those programs that require long-range planning, such as the parade, the beauty pageant, and the Inter-American music fiesta.

This year heavy emphasis is being placed on the international relations program, with arts and crafts of North and South America being shown to reveal the coincidence of interests that lie between the citizens of the twin cities and the cities of the banana-producing countries of Central and South America.

Each day's mail brings more exciting news of the programs that will be staged during the four-day long event that begins officially on September 28 with the now famous Banana-rama talent show. Long distance calls from all over America are coming into Festival headquarters from beauty queens wanting to appear in the Princess pageant; from talented artists wishing to compete in the talent shows; from nationally famous entertainment groups wishing to appear at the "name talent" event.

Significant, however, are the requests coming in from Central and South America from talented artists whose countries wish to send them to the Festival in the spirit of friendship and understanding between the two hemispheres.

Meanwhile, a Festival official released these attractions that will appear at the Festival whose commitments are firm. They are:

— The famed Marimba band from Guatemala.

— At least 35 students from Central and South America, all of whom are talented artists and musicians who will be brought to the United States under the guidance of Mrs. Florence Ballesteros of Quito, Ecuador. Mrs. Ballesteros advised the Festival board that so many students have made requests that a screening committee has been appointed to select students whose interest in fostering international good-will is most prevalent. The students will arrive in Fulton on September 16 in order to appear for the Southern Governors' conference at Kentucky Dam Village on September 17. They will remain in Fulton until October 2, the day after the Festival closes.

— The Bureau of Cultural Affairs of the State Department has invited four distinguished South Americans to attend the Festival to observe the international relations program and "life in these United States." They are:

Leonardo Tejada Zambrano, an artist, art teacher and critic and a specialist in folklore in the Republic of Ecuador. The State Department advises that the distinguished visitor will be prepared to give some lectures on Ecuadorian art and artists and on Ecuadorian folklore.

Carlos Bonilla Silva, a musician, composer and professor of music. He is a member of the symphony orchestra of Quito and director of the chorus, Casa de la Cultura Ecuatoriana. He is one of the most noted guitarists and teachers of guitar in Ecuador. He is bringing his guitar with him to offer concerts in various parts of the United States.

Editor Comments On Fallacies In Education, Art And The Philosophy Of Our Forefathers

(Second In A Series)

(Ed's Note: Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa (Oklahoma) Tribune, in challenging the editors of America to bring attention to the "moral decline" of our Nation, touched the core of the problems in some hard-hitting remarks before a recent press association meeting. In the first article Mr. Jones was commenting upon "Progressive Education." The remaining comments on that subject, together with comments on other subjects are herewith published.)

About Our National Morals by Jenkin Lloyd Jones

While our Russian contemporaries, who were supposed to be dedicated to the mass man, have been busy constructing an intellectual elite we have been engaged in the wholesale production of mediocrity. What a switch!

When was the last time you, as editors and publishers, examined the curricula of your local schools? How did your schools rank on the standardized Iowa test? When have you looked at your schools' report cards and the philosophy behind their grading system? Have you asked to examine any senior English theses? Have you offered any recognition to your schools' best scholars to compare to the recognition you accord your schools' best football players?

No One-Legged Halfbacks

For the funny thing about "progressive educators" is that theory vanishes when the referee's whistle blows for the kickoff. In the classroom they pretend to grade subjectively, against the student's supposed capacity, lest he be humiliated by natural inadequacy. But on the football field they never put in a one-legged halfback on the theory that, considering his disability, he's a great halfback. They put in the best halfback they've got, period. The ungifted sit on the bench or back in the stands even though they, too, might thirst for glory. If our schools were as anxious to turn out brains as they are to turn out winning football teams this strange contradiction wouldn't exist.

Having neglected disciplines in education it was quite logical that we should reject disciplines in art. The great painters and sculptors of the past studied anatomy so diligently that they often indulged in their own body-snatching. And today, after many centuries, we stare at the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel or at the walls of the Reichsmuseum and marvel at their works.

BUT THIS SELF-DISCIPLINE is of little concern to the modern non-objective painter. All he needs is pigment and press agent. He can throw colors at a canvas and the art world will discover him. He can stick bits of glass, old rags and quids of used chewing tobacco on a board and he is a social critic. He can drive a car back and forth in pools of paint and Life magazine will write him up.

Talent is for squares. What you need is vast effrontery. If you undertake to paint a cow it must look something like a cow. That takes at least a sign-painter's ability. But you can claim to paint a picture of your psyche and no matter what the result who is to say what your psyche looks like? So our museums are filled with daubs being stared at by confused citizens who haven't the guts to admit they are confused.

But the Age-of-Fakery in art is a mild cross that American civilization bears. Much more serious is our collapse of moral standards and the blunting of our capacity for righteous indignation.

Puritans Were Tremendous People

Our Puritan ancestors were preoccupied with sin. They were hag-ridden and guilt-ridden and theirs was a repressed and neurotic society. But they had horsepower. They wrested livings from rocky land, built our earliest colleges, started our literature, caused our industrial revolution, and found time in between to fight the Indians, the French and the British, to bawl for abolition, women suffrage and prison reform, and to experiment with graham crackers and bloomers. They were a tremendous people.

And for all their exaggerated attention to sin, their philosophy rested on a great granite rock: Man was the master of his soul. You didn't have to be bad. You could and should be better. And if you wanted to escape the eternal fires you'd damned well better be.

In recent years all this has changed in America. We have decided that sin is largely imaginary. We have become enamored with "behavioristic psychology." This holds that a man is a product of his heredity and his environment, and his behavior to a large degree is fore-ordained by both. He is either a product of a happy combination of genes and chromosomes or an unhappy combination. He moves in an environment that will tend to make him good or that will tend to make him evil. He is just a chip tossed helplessly by forces beyond his control and, therefore, not responsible.

Well, the theory that misbehavior can be cured by pulling down tenements and erecting in their places elaborate public housing is not holding water. The crime rates continue to rise along with our outlays for social services. We speak of underprivilege. Yet the young men who swagger up and down the streets, boldly flaunting their gang symbols on their black jackets, are far more blessed in creature comforts, opportunities for advancement and freedom from drudgery than 90 per cent of the children of the world. We have sown the dragon's teeth of pseudo-scientific sentimentality, and out of the ground has sprung the legion bearing switch-blade knives and bicycle chains.

Clearly something is missing. Could it be what the rest of the world's children have been given — the doctrine of individual responsibility?

Relief an 'Honorable Career'

Relief is gradually becoming an honorable career in America. It is a pretty fair life, if you have neither conscience nor pride. The politicians will weep over you. The state will give a mother a bonus for her illegitimate children, and if she neglects them sufficiently she can save enough out of her ADC payments to keep herself and her boy friend in wine and gin. Nothing is your fault. And when the city fathers of a harassed community like Newburg suggest that able bodied welfare clients might sweep the streets the "liberal" editorialists arise as one man and denounce them for their medieval cruelty.

I don't know how long Americans can stand this erosion of principle.

Nations are built by people capable of great energy and self-discipline.

Library Corner

By Brenda Rowlett

Wherever men attempt to work together through organization, government arises. For no organization can function without some pattern of controls which determines who is in ultimate charge. Government as a field of study is, therefore, inseparable from the study of man and society in all times and places.

To learn about you and your government the following books will help in your search for knowledge:

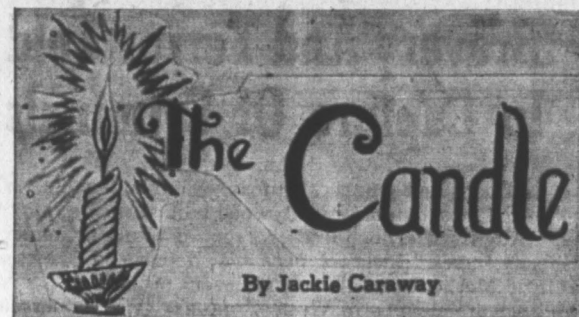

ESSENTIALS OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT by Frederic A. Ogg and P. Orman Ray. This new edition of ESSENTIALS OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT, like the preceding six editions, has been designed to meet the need for a survey of government in the United States somewhat briefer than the authors' INTRODUCTION TO AMERICAN GOVERNMENT. Frequent revisions of these texts have made it possible to keep them as nearly abreast of the times as the rapid changes in events have permitted. The new visual aids have been especially prepared to give graphic emphasis to certain important facts and principles.

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS by Charles A. Beard. This edition appears at what is in many respects a revolutionary time in the history of our nation. The United States is playing a more active role in international affairs. During this edition the author has kept constantly in mind the primary question: What knowledge is now most useful to American citizens in upholding, operating, and developing the American system amid present challenges and perils.

THE AMERICAN FEDERAL GOVERNMENT by Max Beloff. In a period of international crisis, an eminent British scholar has written a thought-provoking study of the American Government as it functions under the stresses and strains of world leadership. This is no usual account of America's political and constitutional structure, but rather a critical appraisal by an expert who is deeply concerned with our country's role as leader of the Western Alliance.

GOVERNMENT BY THE PEOPLE by James MacGregor Burns. How is "government by the people" accomplished today? In this lively and informal book you have the answer—a clear cut, penetrating analysis and understandable explanation of our federal government as it is functioning now. It is a book you will enjoy reading. The style is conversational, with num-

So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom. — Psalms 90:12

Thinking of Mr. and Mrs. William Barker of Fulton, now 96 years old and having lived over 71 years together reminds us of many people of advanced age whose minds have had, and now have an inspiring effect upon those about them.

William E. Gladstone, the great English statesman, once said that had he died at the age of 60 he would have lived but half a life of usefulness. It was beyond that age that he lived his fullest—strongly. We can be inspired by the lines from Robert Browning's "Rabbi

Ben Ezra" from which we quote: "Grow old along with me! The best is yet to be. The last of life, for which the first was made:

Our times are in His hand Who saith, A whole I planned, Youth shows but half; trust God: see all, nor be afraid!" The marvelous steps made in medical history in recent years have made it possible for the longer life to be a more healthful one and thus a larger contribution can be made to humanity by the older generation.

The benefits of social security make the older person feel far more self-reliant than the older person of 35 years ago. The combination of social security and the advances of medicine, make the older citizen a happy, self-reliant individual capable of doing a great deal to further the interests of their society.

The senior citizens owe a debt of gratitude to another person, who as a senior citizen himself, is believed to have influenced the movement which resulted in the first social security laws. The man, Will Carleton, did not live to see the results of his influence. Harper's magazine said of Carleton when he died in 1912, "he is the most widely read poet since Whittier and Longfellow". Actually his popularity has dwindled through the years since his death, but a poem written in his early seventies is recalled here:

"Over the hills to the poor house I'm trudgin' my weary way, I, a woman of seventy, and only a trifle gray".

In this poem Carleton immortalized the mother who toiled for an ungrateful brood of children, only to end her days as a pauper. His poem was quoted from the lecture platform and from many a pulpit in an effort to further the causes of social security. This was a fine contribution from a man in his seventies to subsequent generations.

George Washington Carver, who grew from obscurity, a victim of social injustice, discovered over 300 by-products from peanuts and made a giant step to establish the economy of a nation that had treated him so rudely. At the age of 71 he began to collaborate with other noted scientists in the division of mycology and disease in the

It contains sections describing the agencies of the legislative, judicial, and executive branches. It also contains brief descriptions of quasi-official agencies and of selected international organizations. THE CANDLE

United States Department of Agriculture.

The Senior Citizens organization of Fulton, sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service, and proceeding under the able direction of Mrs. E. W. Hart is constantly fulfilling a great need in the community. Through the combined efforts of some 25 members they make quilts, blankets and clothing for fire victims and other persons in need. Once or twice a month they meet together to work and sew for less fortunate people. They collect eye glasses for the needy and are always in search of more ways to be of service to others.

Mrs. William Barker at 96 has difficulty finding someone in the younger generation who can correctly figure out the riddles she enjoys so much.

The popular comics of our time have difficulty keeping up with the old timers still in action.

Ethel Barrymore became an even greater actress in her later years.

Margaret "Annt Mag", Allen, now living in California visited friends and relatives in Clinton and Hickman this summer. At 86 she cannot see well enough to read but she enjoys her jig saw puzzles and the long trip from California renewed her spirit.

The examples of achievement in men and women past 75 are numerous and constantly brought to our attention. Couldn't one of you past 70 make a fine scrapbook of the many accomplishments of your contemporaries? You should not think of yourself as being in the declining years, your source of strength is still untapped. Your powers are limitless.

"We live in deeds, not years; In thoughts, not breaths; In feelings, not in shadows on a dial." — Bailey

Local People At Christian Church Camp

Rev. and Mrs. Hanna, of the First Christian Church, were counselors at Kum Ba Ya Christian Church camp north of Benton, last week.

Sarah Jane Poe was also a counselor for the camp conference which began Monday, August 1, and ended at noon Saturday, August 6. Vickie Campbell of Fulton was one of the 27 girls attending the conference. There were 40 boys including Jim Ferguson and Mike Wilson of Clinton.

The teenagers enjoyed sleeping in hogans and were inspired by the addresses of the ministers and the discussions led by the counselors.

Our Christian Heritage

IF THE GOD OF OUR FATHERS LIVES, AMERICA CAN STILL BE SAVED . . .

I am the God of thy Father. I have surely seen the affliction of my people who are in Egypt.

For I know their sorrow. And I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians and to bring them into a good land. (Exodus 3:6, 7, 8)

. . . if America was founded on a COVENANT with the God of our fathers

. . . if that COVENANT has been repudiated by churchmen - educators - politicians

. . . if the Lord is calling for a renewal of the COVENANT as the only alternative to certain destruction

THEN - two events will take place - two lines of action will occur in our land:

1. God will raise up a people in whose hearts there is a desire TO RENEW THE COVENANT WITH ALMIGHTY GOD on behalf of the nation.

2. That people will be surrounded by the supernatural, miracle-working power of God so that the designs of their enemies would be confused and their power broken.

The Lord who delivered Israel is the Lord of Calvary. He is our God. Let us renew our covenant with Him and a power will be loosed in this land that will overwhelm and break the godless coalition of Communists and anarchists which now threatens to overrun this nation.

THE DEATH KNELL OF LIBERALISM

Hear it not, Duncan. For it is a knell That summons thee to heaven or to hell. (From MacBeth by Wm. Shakespeare)

Liberalism is doomed. Its decline is certain. Liberalism will be ground between two stones - the upper stone of an awakened people who have renewed their covenant with God and the lower stone of the forces of godlessness which have come increasingly under Marxist control. In the coming struggle there will be no place for liberalism which has no convictions of its own and which thrives in a vacuum. For example, when the children of Israel were confronted by the forces of Pharaoh at the Red Sea, where was there any place for liberalism? In the coming conflict between God's people and the Marxist coalition, where is there any place left for liberalism?

One sign of the future which indicates that the Lord is beginning to awaken the American people is the fact that the open, undisguised nature of the Communist enemy is becoming increasingly clear to those who want to see. Christ said, "There is none so blind as he who will not see." Those who do now see what Communism is are truly blind.

Many Elderly Persons Can't Pay Medicare

"Some older persons are having difficulty paying the full $9 Medical Insurance premium", Charles Whitaker, Paducah District Social Security manager, reported today.

"Though the premium notice mailed to Medicare eligibles requested a $9 payment to cover three months, a payment of $3 (for one month), or $6 (for two months) is acceptable", Whitaker said. The premium notice and a check or money order showing "Social Security - Medical Insurance" (and claim number), should be mailed to the Social Security payment center in the return envelope furnished with the notice. Premiums may also be paid at the local social security office.

"Hospital Insurance," he continued, "requires no premium payment and almost everyone age 65 or over is eligible. Only those who enrolled and agreed to pay a $3 per month premium have Medical Insurance protection."

If he gets confused about the two Medicare plans, Whitaker suggested that an eligible person keep in mind that he must be in (or, recently have been in) a hospital to receive Hospital Insurance benefits. However, no hospitalization is required for receipt of Medical Insurance benefits.

Medical Insurance covers fees for doctors' services in the home, his office, a clinic or hospital outpatient department, and in a hospital, including non-Medicare hospitals. It also covers such things as: laboratory tests; X-rays; ambulance services; artificial legs, arms and eyes. More details about the services and conditions for payments are given in the Medicare Handbook each beneficiary should have received by now.

Persons who have questions, did not receive their handbook, or who need assistance in claiming benefits can get help, Whitaker said, at their nearest social security office.

The Paducah office is located at 112 South 10th Street and remains open on Thursday until 9:00 p. m.

There's Laughter In The Changing Times At 1938 Class Reunion

The 1938 graduating class of Fulton High School was delighted to find out that J. T. Nanney was the most bald headed man at the reunion held in Fulton last Friday and Saturday. Dr. George Crafton was discouraged to find that he had the largest waist line but Ronald "Buzz" Grogan was every inch the proud father when he announced he had five children. Amusing gifts were awarded to these outstanding (?) members of the class of 1938 and Bobby Snow also won a prize for traveling farther to the reunion than anyone else. This was one time that Snow came out of Florida, (in July no less!).

Activities began at the Park Terrace, Friday afternoon when the local class members greeted those from out of town. Banana Festival papers, Fulton High School kerchiefs, flower seed packets and perfumed sachets were the souvenirs distributed to the happy group. Friday night the Country Club was the scene for a festive dinner for the class members and their families. Mrs. Anita Sue Hewitt Allen, one of the 55 people attending the banquet, was the proud winner of a country ham.

Saturday morning the group enjoyed a Derby breakfast. The rest of the day the class members visited with their relatives and friends in the area and rested for the main festivities held at the Park Terrace that night.

The reunion committee owes a debt of gratitude to Elizabeth's Shop, Clarice Shop, Fry Auto Parts, Fulton Paint and Glass, H. I. Siegel, Ferry Morse Seed, Joy Lynn Florist, Billy & Ann's Florist Shop, P. H. Weeks and the South Side Drug for their help in planning such a memorable reunion.

The somber moments of Saturday evening were reflected in the invocation by J. O. Lewis and the silent prayer led by Bobby Snow for his classmates now deceased. Those remembered in prayer and honored in memory are Dane Lovelace, Robert Alexander, Lillian Adams, L. H. Cooke, Herbert Brady and Ellen Alexander McAlister.

Bobby Snow, the 1938 class president acted as master of ceremonies for the Saturday night event. The entertainment presented by Mrs. Gilbert DeMyer, featured John Reed at the piano and Lee Engel who sang and accompanied himself on the baritone ukelele.

Lee is the son of class member Mercedes Khourie Engel.

Teachers present for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Lewis; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Martin; Miss Mary Martin; Miss Pauline Thompson; Mr. and Mrs. Ual Killebrew; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Butterworth; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voelpel and Mrs. Gilbert DeMyer.

Mrs. Dorothy Morris McKnight, Mrs. Nell Buckingham Newton, Mrs. Dorothy Nell Thompson Burton and W. L. Holland were the excited door prize winners.

In the midst of the festivities, John Ray Allison called from 20311 South West Birch St., Santa Anna, California, to express his regret that he could not be with his 28 class mates attending the reunion.

Assembly notes were produced from the 1938 archives by W. L. Holland and read amidst gales of laughter. Miss Martin, Miss Thompson and Mr. Lewis made interesting brief talks to the assembled group of 66 in attendance.

The speakers table was high lighted with a beautiful floral center piece sent by Rebecca Boaz Adams, 5 Ashwood Drive, Iowa City, Iowa, a thoughtful class member unable to attend.

Group pictures were taken by Marty Eakin and shoes were removed so that heights would vary and all the faces would be visible. A merry mix-up followed when the ladies tried to retrieve their shoes, another laughing moment of a week-end filled with joy, excitement and poignant memories.

It has been requested that the names and addresses of each member attending the reunion be included in this article for this issue of The News is being mailed to each class member who attended the reunion.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH ?

THE NASHVILLE TENNESSEAN, NOW TRYING TO CRUCIFY BUFORD ELLINGTON ON A CROSS OF POLITICS, HAD A DIFFERENT OPINION OF HIM WHEN ONE OF ITS POLITICAL WRITERS, WAYNE WHITT, POINTED TO GOV. ELLINGTON'S FINE RECORD AS GOVERNOR AND TO THE FACT THAT HE HAD KEPT HIS PROMISES AND WAS A MAN OF HIS WORD. THIS WAS ON SUNDAY, JUNE 3, 1962, WHEN ELLINGTON'S TERM AS GOVERNOR WAS NEARING ITS END.

THROUGH ITS CAPITOL HILL WRITER THE TENNESSEAN SAID:

AMONG THE THINGS HE (ELLINGTON) PROMISED WAS NOT TO RAISE TAXES, TO DO WHATEVER HE COULD TO AID IN THE RECRUITMENT OF NEW INDUSTRY FOR THE STATE, TO UNDERTAKE A STREAMLINING OF THE STATE GOVERNMENT IN THE INTEREST OF EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY.

"HIS TERM IS JUST ABOUT UP."

AND A STUDY OF THE RECORD HE WILL LEAVE BEHIND SHOWS THAT HE HAS LIVED UP TO PRACTICALLY EVERY PROMISE HE MADE.

"ELLINGTON HAS NOT RAISED TAXES. MANY NEW PLANTS AND FACTORIES HAVE BEEN CONSTRUCTED IN TENNESSEE DURING THE PAST FOUR YEARS AND THE ELLINGTON ADMINISTRATION HAS BEEN AGGRESSIVE IN ITS EFFORT TO ATTRACT INDUSTRY TO TENNESSEE. ONE OF THE FIRST BILLS PASSED IN THE 1959 LEGISLATURE ... ELLINGTON'S FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY ... WAS A BILL CONSOLIDATING MANY DEPARTMENTS AND DIVISIONS OF THE STATE GOVERNMENT."

IN THE SAME ARTICLE THE NEWSPAPER STATES THAT THE "ONLY PROMISE IN ELLINGTON'S OPENING SPEECH THAT HAS NOT BEEN CARRIED OUT IS THE ONE TO ESTABLISH FIELD SECRETARIES TO REPRESENT THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE STATE ... THE FIELD SECRETARY IDEA WAS DISCARDED SOON AFTER ELLINGTON TOOK OFFICE. THE REASON WAS SIMPLE ... THE PEOPLE DIDN'T TAKE TO THE FIELD SECRETARY ... THEY DIDN'T WANT TO GO THROUGH A MIDDLE MAN."

AND FINALLY THE ARTICLE STATES:

"DURING THE PAST FOUR YEARS, ELLINGTON HAS DEMONSTRATED THAT A CANDIDATE CAN FULFILL CAMPAIGN PROMISES. THOUGH HE DID NOT ESTABLISH FIELD SECRETARIES, HE GAVE UP ONLY WHEN HE FOUND THE PEOPLE WOULD NOT ACCEPT THEM.

"AS HE LEAVES OFFICE, GOV. ELLINGTON WILL LEAVE A BATTING AVERAGE THAT IS VERY HIGH AS FAR AS KEEPING PROMISES IS CONCERNED."

FIVE MONTHS LATER AS GOV. ELLINGTON WAS PREPARING TO LEAVE OFFICE, JOE HATCHER, FOR GOOD REASONS OFTEN CALLED THE HATCHET MAN FOR THE TENNESSEAN, LAID ASIDE THE HATCHET AND PAID GOV. ELLINGTON THIS WELL DESERVED TRIBUTE.

"THE OFFICE OF GOVERNOR IN TENNESSEE HAS NEVER BEEN A STEPPING STONE FOR POLITICAL PREFERMENT. MOST GOVERNORS LEAVE THE OFFICE MUCH MORE UNPOPULAR THAN WHEN THEY WENT IN."

"GOVERNOR ELLINGTON IS AN EXCEPTION ... MAYBE THE MOST PRO-NOUNCED IN THIS 20th CENTURY.

HISTORY IS ONE-SIDELY AGAINST A GOVERNOR LEAVING OFFICE DRIPPING WITH POPULARITY. THUS GOV. ELLINGTON'S MOVE FROM THE OFFICE INTO THAT OF A VICE PRESIDENT OF THE L & N RAILROAD ATTESTS TO HIS WIDESPREAD POPULARITY AS HE LEAVES THAT OFFICE. HE CERTAINLY ENTERED THE OFFICE AS ONE OF THE LEAST POPULAR NEW GOVERNORS, WITH ONLY A BIT MORE THAN 32 PER CENT OF THE VOTE GIVING HIM THE NOMINATION. "BUT ELLINGTON HAS MADE THE MOST OF HIS ASSETS. HE BECAME A "MODERATE" ON TAKING OFFICE, AND HAS AVOIDED THE TURMOIL AND STRIFE OVER INTERGRATION. HE ADHERED STRICTLY TO HIS WORD AGAINST INCREASING TAXES. HE HAS PROVIDED SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE THE INDUSTRIAL AS WELL AS THE AGRICULTURAL WELFARE IN THE STATE, AND THESE ACCOMPLISHMENTS ARE REFLECTED IN THE MAJOR INCREASES IN TAX.

"IN THE REALM OF "IF" ODDS ARE THAT GOV. ELLINGTON COULD HAVE BEEN ELECTED OVERWHELMINGLY HAD HE BEEN ELIGIBLE FOR ANOTHER TERM AS GOVERNOR."

YET THIS IS THE SAME MAN THAT THE TENNESSEAN HAS CRITICIZED, ABUSED AND CONDEMNED. AND FOR WHAT? THAT NEWSPAPER NOW ACCUSES ELLINGTON OF BEING A "DO-NOTHING" GOVERNOR YET IT PRAISED HIM FOR HIS RECORD WHEN HE WAS COMPLETING HIS TERM AS GOVERNOR. IT ACCUSES HIM OF A LONG TRAIL OF BROKEN PROMISES, YET FOUR YEARS AGO IT WAS POINTING OUT THAT HE WAS A MAN OF HIS WORD AND HAD BROKEN ONLY ONE PROMISE AND THAT INVOLVED FIELD SECRETARIES WHICH THE PEOPLE DIDN'T WANT. IT NOW CRITICIZES HIM FOR SERVING AS VICE PRESIDENT OF THE L & N AND YET FOUR YEARS AGO, EDITORIAL COLUMNIST HATCHER, WRITING FOR THE TENNESSEAN, SAID THE RAILROAD VICE PRESIDENT ATTESTED TO ELLINGTON POPULARITY: THE NEWSPAPER NOW SAYS THAT ELLINGTON DRAGGED HIS FEET IN REGARD TO INDUSTRIES COMING TO THE STATE, YET FOUR YEARS AGO ITS POLITICAL WRITER DESCRIBED GOV. ELLINGTON AS BEING "AGGRESSIVE" IN HIS EFFORTS TO BRING INDUSTRY TO TENNESSEE.

THE TENNESSEAN NOW CHARGES THAT ELLINGTON WAS LAX IN SEEING THAT TAXES WERE COLLECTED ON A FAIR BASIS, YET FOUR YEARS AGO THE SAME PAPER PRAISED HIM FOR STRICT TAX COLLECTIONS.

COMPARING THE TENNESSEAN'S POLITICAL VIEWS ABOUT GOV. ELLINGTON AS PRESENT CANDIDATE AND AS GOVERNOR FOR FOUR YEARS IN WHICH ALMOST HIS EVERY POLITICAL MOVE WAS PRAISED, ONE IS REMINDED OF PONTIUS PILATE'S QUESTION:

"WHAT IS THE TRUTH?"

ELLINGTON'S OPPONENT HAS SAID; QUOTE-"I WILL SPEED UP THE INTERSTATE HIGHWAY PROGRAM." WHAT HAS HE SAID ABOUT RURAL AND SECONDARY ROADS?

ELLINGTON SAID "THE INTERSTATE HIGHWAY PROGRAM IS ON SCHEDULE AND I WILL KEEP IT THAT WAY--I WILL DO MORE FOR ROADS THAN THAT. I WILL SPEED UP THE RURAL AND SECONDARY FEEDER ROAD SYSTEM."

ELLINGTON STICKS TO WHAT HE SAYS. A MAN OF HIS WORD

DO SOMETHING FOR YOURSELF AND THE GREAT STATE OF TENNESSEE.

On next Saturday, August 6, the annual meeting at the Acree Cemetery will convene at 10 a. m. The committee in charge urges all those who are interested to be on hand or send in their contributions. Funds are needed to pay the caretaker, Coredon Mitchell, who has been very busy for the past year keeping the grounds. Any donation will be appreciated by the committee and by Mrs. LaVerne Windsor, who serves as secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Dave Mathis, of this village, has improved quite a bit over a period of a few weeks now. Her friends will be glad to know of this improvement, due to the fact that she has been in declining health for some time.

A good rain fell in this vicinity the past Friday, greatly benefiting all crops and gardens. Ponds are replenished, pastures are revived and grass is growing.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Fields and son, Kerry, of Tullahoma, Tenn., left Thursday for Detroit on vacation, where they will visit parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coyne Hastings, and family. 'Tis Kerry's first visit to his Hastings grandparents and this writer knows quite well how he will enjoy his stay.

Mrs. Zula Alderdice is reported critically ill at the home of children, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alderdice, near Lynnvill. There is no hope at this writing, we regret to report.

Over at the McGuire Cemetery all people who have loved ones buried there will meet on the second Friday, August 12, for the purpose of paying off the caretaker, Glen Harrison. A job well done is reported to your writer, so won't you meet the committee in charge, and your contribution will certainly be appreciated by all and you will feel better to have met with all expenditures for the year 1966.

A series of meetings is in progress at the Knob Creek Church of Christ, State Line Road. Bro. Charles Wall is doing the preaching, with services held at night only. He and the members invite each and everyone to come and worship throughout this week.

Richard McGuire, a former citizen here, is very ill at his home in Dresden, after having fallen a few months ago. There were no bones broken, but complications have arisen and his family has no hope. We regret to hear of his critical illness.

With JIM PRYOR

Agricultural Agent, Illinois Central Railroad

FARM SAFETY YEAR AROUND JOB

The National Safety Council designates a week in July every year as Farm safety week. With the coming harvest season, I would like to stress Farm Safety now. It is the harvesting machines that take the heavy toll in accidents this season of the year. Even though special emphasis has been placed on farm safety, I feel we should look at a few items for accidents that occur in the fall.

Each member of the farm family should be always on the lookout for an accident even before it happens. Among the major causes of deaths and accidents are: drownings, machinery, agricultural chemicals, falls, and motor vehicles.

Drownings account for about 20 percent of the fatal accidents on farm lands in many communities. For this reason, those who own large farm ponds are urged to permit only supervised swimming with adequate life saving equipment available. Many communities have emergency units for life saving and these fellows do a wonderful job and are called upon often by all communities. I would say that here is an avenue for a civic minded group to follow. It isn't necessary for you to be close to a large body of water to warrant such an emergency unit. They are used in all phases of life saving, not just water accidents.

Machinery is the leading cause of fatal farm accidents in most states. If only operators would use the safety devices provided by the manufacturers of farm machinery, losses would be greatly reduced. Let me say again, machinery should always be stopped when worked on and should never be ridden unless there is a seat provided for another passenger or workman.

Agriculture chemicals are being more widely used every crop year and many of them are very dangerous if not used as directed. The only safe method to use in relation to this fact is to handle such chemicals according to the directions on the label, to the letter. The manufacturers know what their product will and will not do and you, the user, could not possibly know a safer method. Just remember this, a short cut here, could shorten a life!

Falls are responsible for nearly half the fatal accidents on the farm. First, discourage dangerous substitutes for ladders and always keep stairs in the home or barn free of obstructions. There are many other causes of accidents and hazards that should be avoided such as improper lighting of farm vehicles for late afternoon or night travel. I feel we here in Kentucky could do well to look at Illinois highways in relation to farm vehicles. They required a RED FLAG 4 feet above the driver or the vehicle and it should be on a staff. You would be surprised just how far this can be seen over a hill, to serve as a warning to all motorists.

OBION COUNTY

Joe Martin, County Agent Union City, Tenn.

"DON'T GUESS - SOIL TEST"

15,862 tons of fertilizer was applied to farms in Obion County during the year ending June 30 according to a report recently released by the Tennessee Department of Agriculture. That is a lot of fertilizer and the only scientific approach to the practical question of what and how much fertilizer to use is - "Don't Guess - Soil Test". Fertilizer tonnage applied to Obion County farms increased 1,403 tons during the last year but that's not the whole story because we are using a higher analysis of fertilizer each year. The amount of plant food applied to our farms is increasing much faster than the tonnage of fertilizer.

845 soil samples have been submitted to the U. T. Agriculture Extension Service Laboratory from Obion County since January 1, which still makes Obion County the leading soil testing county in West Tennessee. Almost all Obion County Fertilizer Dealers cooperate with the soil testing program by paying the soil testing fee for their farm customers - SO WHY DON'T YOU HAVE YOUR SOIL TESTED.

We've all heard that farmers, like everyone else, must spend money to make money. This certainly applies to the use of lime and fertilizers in Obion County.

Our soils are among the most responsive in the nation to good management and sound soil fertility practices.

"A soil test is the best method to increase the fertility status on individual farms in the county".

Just additional fertilizer or more lime is not the answer. The question is which kind of fertilizer.

On some soils the greatest returns may result from lime. On other soils the greatest return may be from nitrogen, phosphate, potash or a combination of these elements. The question is which one and in what amount?

More lime and fertilizer could be profitably used in Obion County, but it must be applied in a sound and intelligent way to obtain greatest results.

A scientific approach to a practical problem is: "DON'T GUESS - SOIL TEST."

CATES—
membering his insurance records in the back seat of his car.
"That stuff is no good to you," he told the hold-up men, "give them to me," he requested.
The men allowed as how they wouldn't be buying or selling any insurance either, so they just tossed all of Mr. Cates' records in the back seat of the convertible. When they took his wallet, Cates told them to take the money, but give him all the important papers in it. They did just that.

But they did take Mr. Cates' wrist watch . . . something the bandits needed least of all . . . for time ran out on their escapade about two hours later . . . over in Missouri . . . the Cates car having been spotted from an airplane brought into the search by Dr. John Ragsdale, a private pilot who took City of Fulton Police Chief sky-hunting for the bandits.

And so the two men and the girl drove away, toward Hickman, and onto the ferry to Missouri.

Meanwhile in the convertible, lying face downward on the seat, Paul Cates wanted out of the ties that bind.

With patience and determination he started with his finger-tips trying to undo the rope around his ankles. Remembering his Boy Scout training and his World War One Infantry training, Cates was soon out of his trappings.

Did he collapse? He did not! He walked down the road to the home of the Roy Wilmaths on the highway and told them what had happened. Cates asked to use the phone to report his "new experience."

He was so calm the Wilmaths simply didn't believe the story but soon they permitted Cates to use the phone.

He called the Sheriff's office in Hickman to tell his story. Mrs. Menees answered the phone. Cates reported to this reporter his conversation with the nervous lady, who could have said:

"You think you got troubles?" Her husband Buck was still somewhere between the sheriff's office and a wide open field somewhere on the middle road.

If Mr. Cates was inconvenienced by his "experience" he sure didn't show it, except in one little way.

He was wearing a felt hat Wednesday morning.

Yup, one of the men took his straw hat.

But who needs a straw hat . . . surely not a guy like Paul Cates, who keeps a cool head in any kind of heat.

ART - MUSIC—
holds the position of Secretary and Provincial Director of the Social Christian Movement of the City.

Jose Antonio Puga Vasconez, a 35-year old engineer, holding the position of subdirector of industries in the Ministry of Industry and Commerce for Ecuador. He is vitally interested in food processing.

— The Ashland Oil Purchase Prize Exhibit, one of America's most distinguished collections of contemporary art.

— The Venezuelan arts and crafts exhibit, being sent here under the auspices of the Tennessee Partners of the Alliance. This is a huge collection of contemporary Latin-American arts, with handsome items of native crafts.

— The Kentucky Art Guild train.

— A showing of 64 pieces of work from the talented brushes of Ray Harm and Hugh Haynie.

— A four-car railroad exhibit from the Illinois Central Railroad.

— A greatly expanded Cabana City complex exhibit, where a typical South American village will be built, showing arts and crafts from North and South America.

— Colorful street decorations, with life-size figures of Latin-American banana plantation workers, musicians and dancers.

Plans for these attractions are in the working stage:

A letter received on Monday from Ambassador Gustavo Larrea, the Ecuadorian ambassador to the United States, advises that the internationally famous 30-voice choir, "Casa de la Cultura Ecuatoriana," is anxious to attend the Festival.

Mr. Ambassador Larrea said: "Since this happens to be an excellent choir, I am inclined to believe that it will please the American public greatly and will be a noteworthy attraction to the Festival."

Arrangements to bring the choir here are being made with the proper State Department officials in Washington. Mrs. Paul Westpheling, Festival president, said today.

— The showing here of the fabulous 54-piece art exhibit from OCEPA, with large works of art from famous South American artists. A letter received this week indicated that the exhibit, which had previously been committed, then cancelled, is being re-routed from Buffalo, New York, so that it may show here for a few days during the Festival. If arrangements can be made to get the exhibit to Knoxville, Tenn. in time for a showing on October 2, it will be sent here.

— A wardrobe of native Latin-American costumes is also included in the OCEPA attraction. The gowns will be used to stage a fashion show at the Festival and at the Southern Governors' Conference at Kentucky Dam Village.

— Nationally famous artists of TV and Hollywood fame are being contacted for appearance as the "name talent" attraction.

— The official White House and State Department representative to the Festival will be announced soon.

Meanwhile, a giant carnival has been booked to show at the Festival for a week; the longest and most colorful parade in the history of the Festival is being planned, and the 30-contestant Princess pageant is selecting its entrants. Handsome college scholarships, awarded by the Price Foundation of Ormond Beach, Florida, are given as prizes to the top three winners.

This year again the Fulton Pure Milk Company will "cook" up the world's largest banana pudding, 2000 pounds of it, to serve about 10,000 Festival visitors.

And, of course, there'll be free bananas everywhere, hanging from parking meters and distributed as gifts to persons attending the various attractions and exhibits.

A Salute to Industry Day is planned for September 30, when high-ranking industrialists, governmental officials and the diplomatic corps will be feted at a luncheon, reception and dinner.

Any information concerning Festival events may be secured by writing to the International Banana Festival, Box 428, Fulton, Kentucky 42041.

That's why we have three blends of A&P Bean Coffee. Some like a mild, mellow coffee. That's our Eight O'Clock.

Some like a medium blend that's rich and full-bodied. That's our Red Circle.

BRAVERY—

and the registration of the car had been stolen. When Menees went back to his patrol car to get his citation records, both men jumped out of the car and held Clark at gun point.

Seeing the situation Menees held off any attempt to apprehend them. He followed orders:

To a secluded road . . . to a vacant farm house and into a barn where he and Clark were bound faced to the barn supports. (Menees with his hand-cuffs and Clark with heavy rope.)

It was here that Clark and Menees pleaded with the desperate trio for their lives.

"The woman was cursing, snarling and demanding permission to shoot us," Sheriff Menees told the News. "Her hands were shaking all the while she held the gun right at us. She seemed doped and drunk from alcohol."

"It was Pinion who was in charge here," Menees said. "The former Hickman resident seemed to understand that a pistol shot would bring neighbors to the scene. He convinced the moll of this danger."

After leaving the sheriff and his deputy in the barn the bandits left, throwing the keys to the sheriff's car in the weeds.

And what happened next? Here too is a story of heroism.

Clark pried himself loose from the barn support by chewing the rope in two. He then helped Menees get away from the support, but could not unlock the hand-cuffs.

Together they walked to the Pinkney Flemings' farmhouse, called for help, got to Cayce, where the sheriff's hand-cuffs were shot off, then got into the search for the bandits who were now on a ferry going into Missouri.

With the full force of the city, county and state police forces working together, and the great cooperation of a doctor (John Ragsdale) in his private plane, the bandits were caught on a lonely road near Charleston.

Sheriff Menees said that he went to the levee at Hickman, got on the dirt levee and waved to the plane that the bandits, whom the plane had spotted on the ferry, were in Missouri.

From then on it was a story of great relief that some good guys were willing to take some mighty big chances to catch the bad guys.

There ought to be an easier way to make a living! Thank goodness the police aren't looking for it.

57-Voice Louisville Thoroughbred Choir To Perform In Amphitheater

FRANKFORT—Fifty-seven voices will join in song when the Louisville Thoroughbred Chorus entertains August 5-6 at Kenlake State Park Amphitheater near Hardin.

"These will be melodic evenings of barbershop singing by the full chorus and a number of smaller combinations of voices," according to Julian Walker, supervisor of recreation for the State Parks Department.

Walker said the vocal group is a past International Champion of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA), winning the title over 14 other district winners at Kansas City in 1962.

The Thoroughbreds, Walker said, have won the Indiana

Kentucky District Championship for five of the past seven years and finished second in the SPEBSQSA Championship at Boston last year.

The Thoroughbred Chorus has developed a format around a narrative theme which tells a story in song. This year's theme is "Thoroughbreds on Broadway."

"We are delighted that this group is a part of our summer variety entertainment program at Kenlake," Walker said.

Performances begin at 8 p.m. Admission is $2.50 for reserved seats, $2 for general admission and half price for children under 12. For tickets and information write Kenlake State Park, Hardin, Ky., 42048, or telephone (area code 502) 474-2211.

- Keep swimmers and boaters out of the pond just prior to and during storms.

Governors Meeting Date Set

FRANKFORT, Ky., (AP)—Gov. Edward T. Breathitt announced today that the annual Southern Governors' Conference will be held in the Kentucky-Barkley lakes recreation complex Sept. 17-21.

The exact meeting dates had not been announced previously. State officials were elated when it was announced last year that the important governmental meeting would be centered at Kentucky Dam Village State Park.

They considered it a real feather in the cap for Kentucky's drawing power for tourists and outside visitors.

Officials pointed out that such major conferences usually are held at places which are considered to be choice recreation and vacation resorts.

A spokesman for the governor said that a special advisory board to handle arrangements for the event will be announced soon.

Reportedly, the lakes area beat out New Orleans in competition for hosting the event. The conference is made up of 17 governors.

- Do not permit boaters to enter a swimming area where small children are at play.

RE-ELECT Robert A. "Fats" Everett

For eight years, the 8th Congressional District has been served in Congress by one of the ablest, hardest working U. S. Representatives in Washington.

Robert A. "Fats" Everett has proved himself in every respect and deserves a tremendous vote of confidence for re-nomination on August 4.

He has worked for all of the people in his District, and when re-elected can be expected to be just as fair and diligent in serving new constituents of the enlarged 8th District.

He is one of the best known and most highly respected Members of Congress. He is a man who gets things done.

The primary interests of the people he represents always come first.

During his eight years in Congress, he has moved up into the upper third of the House of Representatives in seniority, and consequently is in an even better position now to get results for all of us.

As a member of the Committee on Public Works, he has made important contributions to legislation involving flood control, drainage, highways and the TVA. He also serves on the Committee on Veterans Affairs which passes on legislation concerning education, insurance, hospitalization, pensions and other matters affecting veterans.

"Fats" has over 30 years in public service. He began his career as a school teacher. He has been a Justice of the Peace, Circuit Court Clerk, Administrative Assistant to former Senator Tom Stewart, Administrative Assistant to former Governor Gordon Browning and Executive Secretary of the Tennessee County Services Association. He served in the Army in World War II.

His life has been dedicated to serving his fellow man. He wants to continue working for all of us in Washington.

He is as close to each of us as the telephone or nearest mail box. He represents all people in this District, personally and collectively.

Let's keep him on the job with a rousing vote of confidence.

"FATS" DESERVES YOUR VOTE!

State Plans Four Lane Hiway Link

Limited Access Road
Will Join Purchase
Parkway At Fulton

The Tennessee Dept. of Highways has announced plans for the construction of a connecting link with the proposed Kentucky Purchase Parkway at the Tennessee-Kentucky state line at South Fulton.

Present plans, Highway Commissioner David M. Pack said, call for the route to be a four-lane divided highway beginning at the Kentucky state line and extending to a connection with U. S. Highway 51 on the western side of South Fulton.

The highway commissioner also said that present highway construction programming by the Dept. of Highways calls for right-of-way acquisition and construction to be done this year and next.

The project is the first in a program for the construction of a bypass around South Fulton's west side, Commissioner Pack added. He said other projects along the route will follow as designs are completed and funds become available.

The design on the connecting link, he said, calls for the link to be a four-lane, limited access road, with an interchange to Highway 51.

In Kentucky, the Dept. of Highways has adopted a final plan for construction of the Purchase Parkway which includes the development of a state-owned and state-operated welcome center just inside the Kentucky state line, three-tenths of a mile north of the State Line Road (Kentucky Highway 116).

Beginning west of the Derby Restaurant on the State Line Road, the Purchase Parkway will run due north until it reaches Kentucky 166 (Fulton-Hickman Road) and then begin to veer toward the east, crossing Highway 51 to Clinton north of Fulton.

Kentucky's plans for the Purchase Parkway also include the construction of "frontage roads" on both the east and west sides of the Parkway, beginning just north of the welcome center and extending to the point where the Parkway crosses Highway 51, north of Fulton.

The frontage roads, the Kentucky Dept. of Highways has explained, will be for commercial development which, in combination with the welcome center, will give northbound motorists on the Parkway a full range of services.

The highway department has no plans for extending the frontage roads to the State Line Road as yet although the department has indicated that developments may make it desirable in the future.

The State of Tennessee also has long-range plans for making the Union City-Fulton highway a four-lane route which would connect with the four-lane highway from Union City to Troy. Eventually, plans call for Highway 51 to be four lanes

Think About This

Senator Ross Bass and his charming wife have been guests of this community at the International Banana Festival, they have eaten with us, spent the night in our motels, have diligently worked for this community — coming from Washington to help the Banana Festival. The opponent of Senator Bass has not shown any interest in this community for FOURTEEN LONG YEARS.

We believe that John J. Hooker, Jr., as the next Governor of Tennessee will also take the time and trouble to assist this community, looking to its future, as all of us must

The only thing that I am interested in is what is best for our community, the vision and progress of its future, not the mistakes of its past, and for this reason alone may I recommend that you vote for
