WEEKLY NEW ERA

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JULY 3 1908

VOLUME XXVII, NO 26

EQUITY DAY MONDAY

LARGE CROWD OF FARMERS WILL ATTEND MEETING

The Leading Officials of The Society Will be Here to Address The People.

Unless all signs fail Hopkinsville will be full of farmers from all over this end of the state next Monday, the occasion being the big rally which is to be held at that time by the Society of Equity, and which was announced some time ago. This is the first time that the Society of Equity has ever sent any of its highest officials and best orators here and there is a general interest to hear the message they will bring. The speakers will be no less important persons in the Equity movement than Cicero M. Barnett, national president, ex-senator Campbell-Cantrell, state president, and E. L. Davenport, president of the tobacco department.

All of these men have been identified with the Society of Equity for years and each one is a speaker of ability. Former senator Cantrell has made speeches all over the central and eastern part of the state which has been widely published and commented on, but this will be his first visit to Hopkinsville. Cicero Barnett is a native of Kentucky and citizen of Hartford and only last winter he refused the position of state fire marshal in order to remain at the head of the farmers' organization.

The speaking will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning of that day and will continue throughout the afternoon and evening. The meeting will be held in the circuit court room. It is said that the speakers will give a detail history of the Society and of its purposes and plans for the future.

In Christian county the Society of Equity has a good organization in the northern portion of the county, Squire H. C. Heasley, of Haley's Mill, being county president. They have never extended their organization into the southern portion of the county, and their membership is nothing like as large as that of the Planters Protective association.

Next Monday will also be the regular monthly meeting of the Christian county executive committee of the Planters Protective association, and Chairman Radford has announced that his committee will meet at the courthouse at 8:30 a. m., so as to get through with their business before the Society of Equity meeting begins.

THREE ROADS HERE

NOW THAT T. C. HAS REVERTED TO ITS OWNERS.

Change Is Made Without a Hitch And Trains Are Running as Usual.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Today it is the Tennessee Central and the Southern and Illinois Central no longer operate into Nashville. The change took place at midnight last night, but everything is working along as smoothly as if there had been none. The original owners took up the operation of the road without a single hitch, and Hopkinsville will continue to have the same service, rates and schedules, both freight and passenger, as she had before the road was released by the Southern and I. C.

The men that are operating the road now are: George W. Ristine, president, Geo. A. Clark, general manager; L. F. Lonnbladh, chief engineer; T. A. Rousseau, general freight and passenger agent; J. J. Clark, master mechanic; E. M. Carter, supervisor of bridges and buildings; J. J. Prince, track supervisor, western division; Geo. Jenkins, track supervisor, eastern division; Thomas Walsh, track supervisor, from Cookeville to Emory Gap; I. W. McCullen, supervisor of water works, Nashville to Harriman; Charles Sanders, general agent; S. W. Fordyce, Jr., general counsel, and W. D. Witherspoon, assistant general counsel.

Yesterday all the passenger equipment of the Tennessee Central was returned to its lines, and as fast as the freight equipment can be brought in it will be repainted and relettered. The freight cars have been taken over wherever they are, throughout the country, and it will take some little time to get the all back again.

BOY SCRATCHED DAY AND NIGHT

Eczema Began When a Tiny Baby and Lasted 7 Years—Tore Crusts from Face Till It Was All Raw—Screamed with Pain and Could not Sleep—Though Specialists Failed

CUTICURA EFFECTED A WONDERFUL CURE

"When my little boy was six weeks old an eruption broke out on his face. I took him to a doctor and got ointments and medicines but his face kept on getting worse until it got so bad that no one could look at him. His whole face was one crust and must have been very painful. He scratched day and night until his face sometimes looked like a raw piece of meat. I was nearly insane with his scratching day and night. Then I took him to all the best specialists in skin diseases but they could not do much for him. He sometimes screamed with pain when I put on the salve they gave me. When he was two years old the eczema got on his arms and legs so that I had to keep them bandaged up and I made gloves for his hands so the nails could not poison him worse. We could not get a night's sleep in months and my husband and I were all broken up. Then my mother asked why I did not give up the doctors and try Cuticura. So I got a set and he felt relieved the first time I used them, the Cuticura Ointment felt so cool. He used to wake up and ask for Cuticura to be put on when he itched so badly that he could not sleep, and he would say, 'Oh! Mama, that makes my sores feel so good!' I gave the Cuticura Remedies a good trial and gradually the eczema healed all up and now he is as well as any other children. He is now seven years old and the cure has lasted two months, so I think it will never return. I can't tell you how glad I am that Cuticura did such wonderful work in our case and I shall recommend it everywhere. Mrs. John G. Klump, 80 Niagara St., Newark, N. J., Oct. 17 and 22, 1907."

NEGROES ADVISED

TO VOTE DEMOCRATIC TICKET FOR PRESIDENT.

Political Equality League Gives Out Statement.—Use of Balance of Power Only Way.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The American Negro Political Equality league is out in a statement advising the negroes to vote the Democratic ticket. J. G. Woods, its president, said, "The laws that are enacted against our race in the south are not passed because the Democrats are in power. If the southern negroes were brought north into the strongholds of Republicanism, the same laws would be enacted. If the northern white men were moved south they would keep the laws in force."

"All this talk about the Republicans freeing us is bosh. The north objected to slavery because northern free labor could not compete with it. The war was fought against secession—not to free the slaves. There were as many Democrats in the northern army as there were Republicans. How many congressmen has this party, which dominates the north and which says it loves us, given us in the forty years we have voted it to victory? Not one. All of the negro congressmen that ever sat in Washington came from the south."

"There is just one way for the negro to get his rights and that is to use the balance of power that God has given him in these northern states regardless of party. If we put the Republican party out of business good this fall it may not do us any immediate good. But you can bet that four years from now the Republican party will be around wanting to do business with us. And what is more, if we can show the Democrats that we have put them into power, these same Democrats will be mighty tender of our feelings in order to keep in power."

IT SAVED MY LIFE. WRITES ECZEMA PATIENT.

Bed-Ridden Sufferer Completely Cured by Use of D. D. D. External Wash.

One of the most remarkable Eczema cures recently credited to the well known D. D. D. Prescription has just been recorded in Chicago.

Mrs. E. Hegg, 1550 West Madison street, under date of Dec. 9, 1907, writes as follows:

"I suffered three years with Weeping Eczema. It started with a little spot on my knees and spread fast all over my body. I spent hundreds of dollars and went to every good doctor I heard of, but kept getting worse. Nothing would stop the awful itch and burning."

"I had to stay in bed from the middle of May to the middle of July. Then I tried D. D. D. Prescription. This is the 9th of December and I am entirely free from the terrible disease. D. D. D. saved my life."

"When I began this treatment, people were afraid of me I looked so terrible. My husband was the only one who would care for me. D. D. D. stopped the itch at once so I could sleep, which I had not done before. Then I began to get better fast and now my skin is clean and white, not a spot anywhere."

Just a few drops of D. D. D. Prescription applied to the skin brings relief—nothing to swallow or drink. We vouch for D. D. D. Prescription, also the cleansing D. D. D. Soap. Get a bottle today if you have any skin disease. Begin your cure at once. For sale by L. L. Elgin.

POWERS' ROMANCE.

YORK, Pa., June 26.—Caleb Powers, the Kentuckian recently released from prison, is in this city, visiting Miss Eleanor Bonham, to which it is rumored he is engaged. Miss Bonham is a member of York's society set and is extremely wealthy.

She met Powers years ago in Kentucky, where she attended school. Powers, when he arrived here, stopped at the Colonial hotel, where he instructed the attaches to say nothing of his visit. He spends most of his time at the palatial residence of Miss Bonham on East Market street. He says he will remain here for several days.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness. If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle-wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills. You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy of known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equalled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

From Day to Day

The delightful music Lebkeuecher's band has been furnishing this year at important social and public events stamps that organization as one of the best bands in Kentucky. Hopkinstown has a right to be proud of it. It has been repeatedly suggested that arrangements should be made for weekly band concerts during the remainder of the summer. Mr. Lebkeuecher, if a movement of this sort meets with encouragement, will secure accomplished soloists and, with his band thus augmented, will be able to give programs that will please all tastes. There are very few cities in Kentucky that can boast of so excellent an institution as Lebkeuecher's band, and the opportunity to contribute to its permanent establishment, and at the same time to afford the people of the community fine musical treats on these hot summer nights, should be regarded by good citizens as a duty and a pleasure.

Mrs. J. R. Armistead, who a few days ago sold her Main street residence to Col. and Mrs. Jouett Henry will leave next week with her daughter, Miss Minnie Armistead, for Montgomery, to join Dr. Armistead who is in business there. Their departure will be greatly regretted.

Recently an item which had been published in the Kennebec Journal went the rounds of the press. According to this item a citizen of that place owns an apple which was fifty years of age, it having been stuck full of cloves in order to preserve it. Miss Emily B. Perry, of this city, has two apples which have been preserved in a similar manner, one of which was grown in 1856, making it fifty-two years old, and the other in 1868. One of the apples came from a famous orchard at Cleveland, Ohio, and the other grew in this county. Both apples have been filled as full of the cloves as they can possibly stick, and both are preserved as perfectly, with the exception of a slight decrease in size, as they were the day they were pulled from the tree.

Miss Helen Royalty has resigned her position with the City Light company and has opened an office with Judge Joe McCarroll, where she will do stenographic work.

A license has been issued for the marriage of Charles Bard to Miss Mary Powell.

We hope that we will not be held in contempt by the court which is not in session, but we want to say that those who are supposed to know some law themselves say that the decision ousting Sheriff David Smith from the office of sheriff of Christian county on a technicality is a very pleasurable one. The New Era says that Mr. Smith has no intention of abandoning the contest. Under the decision of the court of appeals he had no recourse but to give up the office, but he will continue to fight the case and if necessary, says he will carry it to the supreme court of the United States.—Frankfort Journal.

MAJOR CRUMBAUGH

IS REMOVED FROM OFFICE BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Supervisor of Steam Vessels at Cincinnati.—Formerly a Prominent Citizen of Hopkinstown.

By order of the president, Major S. R. Crumbaugh, supervising inspector of steam vessels in the Cincinnati district, has been removed. It was charged that he violated the civil service rules. Major Crumbaugh was a popular official and was one of the oldest men in the service. The Pittsburgh Sun says: "Who is to take Major S. A. Crumbaugh's place as supervising inspector of the Seventh district is the question which is occupying the minds of local steamboat men. Pittsburghers generally favor the appointment of Daniel J. Dougherty, the present local inspector of steel, and many telegrams have been sent to the department at Washington. Other telegrams have recommended Captain Isaac B. Williams, the local inspector of hulls, for the position, and it is sincerely hoped that the appointment will at least be a Pittsburgher. Strong influences are being brought to bear on the Cincinnati end, however, and it is not improbable that the district headquarters will remain there in spite of the efforts of Pittsburghers to bring them to this city."

Major Crumbaugh will be remembered by Owensboro people as one-time collector of internal revenue for this district. He became involved in a wrangle with some of his subordinates and it finally resulted in the appointment of Mr. Ed Farley, of Paducah to the position of collector. Maj. Crumbaugh's former home was Hopkinstown and he returned to that city from Owensboro. He was removed from the collectorship at Owensboro in 1888. At Hopkinstown he was head of an educational institution. A few days after leaving Owensboro he was appointed supervising inspector at Cincinnati, which position he held until removed by President Roosevelt.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

STOP ITCHING INSTANTLY Eczema, Pimples, Rashes, Blisters, Eruptions, etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy. Since the discovery of "A. J. M." Prescription, the new skin remedy, its success has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the dispensers who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and cleaned the skin of facial disfigurements and repulsive pimples of years' standing. The burnings and itchings of eczema are stopped with the first application. In minor skin troubles such as rashes, blotches, pimples, blackheads, barber's itch, salt rheum, itching piles, red noses, dandruff, oak and ivy poison, odorous feet, results show after a few applications. A muddy, greasy or sallow complexion is quickly improved over night. Sold by all druggists. Price 50c. and $1.00. The A. J. MARTIN MEDICINE CO., Props., Toledo, Ohio.

TWO ARE BITTEN BY A RABID DOG

J. H. DENTON AND NEGRO BOY
THE VICTIMS

EXCITEMENT EAST OF TOWN

Wounds To Be Treated at Pasteur Institute in Chicago.—Spread of Hydrophobia Among Animals.
Is Feared.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

The residents of that section of the town near the asylum are very much disturbed over the appearance in the neighborhood of dogs with hydrophobia. Two persons have been bitten and it is feared that several animals have been inoculated.

The rabies is supposed to have started with a dog which belonged to a citizen in the neighborhood and which ran away from home as soon as the trouble developed. It is reported that this dog was afterward found dead in another part of the town. Evidently it had bitten several other dogs before it was killed.

Sunday morning a negro boy entered the yard of J. H. Denton and the dog attacked him and bit him on the shoulder. Later on the dog bit Mr. Denton in the leg. Monday afternoon the dog went into a fit at sight of the rain and died. Last night Mr. Denton, accompanied by his son Rausie, left for Chicago where he will take the Pasteur treatment. Today the people of that section are making up money with which to send the negro boy to the same institution for treatment. The same dog literally tore a cat all to pieces.

Before the rabies was noticed by the citizens, a dog belonging to W. M. McGee must have been bitten. Before the trouble developed, the dog was shipped to Mobile, Ala. Here the dog went mad and bit a $700 horse which had to be killed.

A close watch is being kept for any animals which exhibit the least indications of hydrophobia and prompt measures will be taken should any further cases be developed.

The current issue of the Baptist World reproduces a portrait of the late Jacob Ward Rust, president of Bethel Female college, and says: "For over 50 years Dr. J. W. Rust was an instructor of the youth of Kentucky. For a number of years he had a private school, and then he became president of Bethel college and then of Bethel Female college, in which latter institution he laid aside his work permanently. For some years he lived in Louisville and was assistant editor of the Western Recorder and though not an ordained minister he was for a time assistant to the pastor of Broadway Baptist church. He was the father of the brilliant John O'Brien Rust, who has also fallen asleep."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ORGAN.

The new organ in the First Christian church which is to be formally opened this evening, is such an unusual one, that a short description may prove interesting to our readers.

Over a year ago the building committee, secured the services of W. H. Donley, a well known Organ Architect of Indianapolis, Ind., to prepare specifications and details of construction for an organ adequate for the handsome auditorium. These were submitted to the best builders for bids, the committee awarding the contract to The Hook-Hastings Co., Boston, Mass. The first thing that strikes the layman, is the absence of the old-fashioned stop-knobs on each end of the key boards, their places being taken by tilting tablets, placed above the upper keyboard. Thus the entire organ can be played through a program without one taking the hands from the keys to draw stops, by simply pressing down the tablets. Startling effects are made by running the fingers glissando over them. On hearing the organ for the first time the writer was surprised by the great disparity between the actual number of stops, and the immense volume of sound, which seemed to indicate an instrument three times as large. The player explained that this was caused by the large number of foundation stops—those of eight foot, or unison pitch—augmented by a complete system of 16, 8 and 4 foot couplers, allowing every stop to be used in a three-fold form. The wonderful variety of tonal results made possible by these couplers, is simply astonishing, and could not be found in the old style organ costing five times as much as this one. Organists the world over have yearned for the depth and richness of tone found in European Cathedral organs and which in this instrument is found in abundance. The tone is bold, brilliant but never blatant. While it was never intended primarily to imitate the Orchestra, still there are present in it great variety, 16, 8 and 4 foot, flute string and reed tones, making it one of the finest organs in the country. For divine worship, it cannot be excelled. One of the most valuable of all the accessories of the modern organ is the crescendo pedal. This gives the player complete control of all the stops in combination, from the softest to the loudest, by pressing down a pedal with the foot, the same as the swell pedal is used. Thus the veriest tyro in organ playing has as perfect control over the stops as the most experienced. Stepping inside, many innovations in the construction were noticed. All trackers, levers, and old style chests have disappeared, and in their stead have come Tubular-Pneumatic action.

Over one mile of tin tubing is used in this organ. The player called the writers attention to the exceptional height of the swell box, allowing all the pipes eight feet in length to be placed inside the box without mitering. The scales for all the pipes are of extra large diameter, these being based on those found in the finest organs in Europe, and the alloys of tin and lead very rich. The pipes giving string tones being made of ninety-five per cent pure block tin. The bellows or lungs of the organ, contains thirty per cent more wind capacity, than called for. All materials used, were first submitted to the architect for his approval, and in this manner, only the very best was allowed in its construction.

Hopkinsville is indeed proud to have such a representative instrument in its midst, and the church is to be congratulated on securing such effective and satisfactory plans, and in having them so carefully executed.

Mrs. J. R. Armistead and daughter, Miss Minnie, will leave Hopkinsville tomorrow. Miss Armistead will go direct to Montgomery, Ala., where the family will reside in the future, but Mrs. Armistead will visit in Knoxville before going there. Many friends regret their removal from Hopkinsville.

AROUND the GLOBE FOR A WIFE.

(Original)

Le Roy Remington was a young globe trotter. He had no idea that he was going to and fro on the earth hunting for something, but he was. All men from the time they are old enough to marry are hunting for wives, and all women from a similar period of their lives are hunting for husbands. Tell most of them this, and they will either laugh or get angry at you. Nevertheless the statement is true. Nature often fools us, but she never relaxes the enforcement of her laws.

As I was saying, Le Roy Remington was crossing continents and oceans, as he thought, to get rid of being bored. Had he been obliged to work for a living he would not have been bored so much. Had he been married he would not have been bored at all. He might have suffered under many irritations and annoyances, he might even have wished for a return of the freedom of bachelorhood, but he would not have been bored. Boredom does not usually belong to the married state.

One day Remington was crossing "the plains" of America somewhere between Omaha and San Francisco when the train stopped. The weather was warm, and the windows were open. A train from the opposite direction came rolling along with diminishing speed. It brought the girl Remington was looking for and stopped with her directly beside his window. Her window, too, was raised, and the two sat face to face within a few feet of each other. Remington looked at the girl, and the girl looked at Remington. He made the most of the brief time allotted him. The girl lowered her eyes. Then there was a foot-tot ahead, and Remington's train moved on.

Remington was looking for this very girl, but he didn't know it till he was on the Pacific ocean midway between San Francisco and Hongkong.

By the time he stood again on dry land he had made up his mind that he must find the girl on the other side of the globe.

He went to Paris and from Paris started for London. On a railway train some twenty miles west of Paris, while stopping at a station, a train pulled past, and at a window in this train was the girl he had discovered he wanted.

It took Remington just thirty seconds to gather up his belongings and leave the train. During this brief interval it had occurred to him that the girl might be going around the world and he had better proceed westward in the hope of meeting her once more and at a standstill. But he dismissed the idea as ridiculous.

The train that had passed was bound for Paris, and Remington took the next one for the same place. His trunk went on to London. But he cared nothing for that. He could buy trunks and their contents, but he couldn't buy the girl who was going to Paris, though he could buy any one of dozens of other girls. She was surely going to Paris. All Americans who are approaching Paris are going there. And ten to one she would stay awhile there. So Remington returned to Paris and when he got there hunted through the registers of the hotels where Americans were accustomed to stay. At the Hotel Maurice he found the names "Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. Avery, San Francisco, Cal., U. S. A., and Miss Edith Avery." The clerk told him that they had arrived at a time that corresponded with the arrival of the train on which he had seen the girl he was hunting.

While he was racking his brains how to secure an introduction he chanced to meet his intimate friend Philpot. He asked Philpot to dine with him the same evening, intending to talk the matter over with him. No; Philpot's friends, the Averages of San Francisco, had just arrived and he was engaged to drive with them. What luck! Would Philpot introduce him? Certainly! He would make an engagement to take him to call. They parted, and the next morning Philpot told Remington that he had made the engagement for five days ahead, the first evening the Averages were disengaged. Remington passed five weary, waiting days and on the afternoon of the fifth received a note from Philpot to say that the Averages had left Paris unexpectedly the day before.

Remington was crushed. He found Philpot, only to learn that the Averages had gone eastward to Hongkong to sail for San Francisco immediately on arrival at that port. Remington inquired the date of sailing of the steamer they would likely take and found he would not have time to reach it himself. He could go westward and reach San Francisco earlier than the party going eastward.

He left Paris that night for Southampton, caught an outgoing steamer and reached New York in six days. In two weeks from his leaving France he was in San Francisco waiting the arrival of the girl he was chasing. Whenever a steamer arrived from the east he was at the dock watching. At last he saw Miss Avery coming down a gangplank. That was enough for the present. He waited for a reasonable time for the family to get settled, then called.

Six months later Remington and his bride were travelling from San Francisco to New York on their wedding trip. At a station on the road the train stopped, and Remington for the first time informed Mrs. Edith Avery Remington of how he had met the woman he had wanted for his wife at that very station and had chased her around the globe.

TRAGEDY OVER TOBACCO TROUBLE

RINEHART CALLS AL FIELDER A NIGHT RIDER

AND IS SHOT AND KILLED

Encounter Occurred at One of the Voting Places Saturday in Montgomery County, Tennessee.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., June 30.

—Al Fielder was shot and instantly killed Saturday afternoon at an election precinct in the Fourteenth district of this county by Marcellus Rhinehart. The killing was the outcome of the tobacco trouble, Fielder, who is a nonassociation man, accused Rhinehart of being a Night Rider and responsible for certain lawlessness alleged to have been committed in this county. Rhinehart denied the charge, and a few words passed between them, when Fielder is said to have called Rhinehart a liar, at the same time started toward him with an open knife in his hand. Rhinehart quickly pulled his pistol and fired at Fielder five times, four shots taking effect. Fielder fell to the ground and died with an open knife in his hand. Two shots entered the breast, and death was instantaneous.

The killing, taking the greatest excitement, taking place during the progress of the election for governor and other state officers.

Rhinehart surrendered to the officers and was brought to jail at Clarksville. This morning at 11:30 he was brought out and carried before Magistrates Jarrell and Smith for trial, being represented by Messrs Gilbert and Tyler. In the absence of Attorney General Lyle, Wm. M. Daniel, Jr., was requested to act in that capacity, and he upon the advice of Judge Tyler, asked for a continuance until the facts could be investigated. This application was granted and the case set for Thursday at 11 a. m.

GENEROUS OFFERS.

Thomas W. Lawson offers to finance the Democratic national campaign to the extent of $1,000,000, with Johnson of Minnesota as vice-presidential candidate, which remind one of the offer made Billie O. Bradley by the Hopkinsville delegation at the convention which nominated Morris B. Knapp for governor. The delegation was whooping it up for Bradley, who begged them not to present his name. "I simply haven't got the money to make the race," he said. "Don't let that worry you, governor," said Will Fowler; "there is one man in Christian county who will gladly put up every cent of your campaign expenses." "Who is he?" eagerly inquired Bradley. "It is Ed Claiborne, that is who it is," was the solemn answer.

IN SUNNY TENNESSEE

The Democratic gubernatorial primary in Tennessee resulted in the choice of Patterson and endorsed "the little giant" for a second term. The campaign was as bitter as it was brilliant, and the governor and Senator Carmack, his opponent, were at it with oratorical hammer and tongue in a series of fifty joint debates. The whole state was stirred up to a white heat and there were wounds burned in that may be long in healing. The successful issue of Gov. Patterson's contest was largely due to the sagacity and tireless energy of Austin Peay, formerly of Christian county, and now of Clarksville. The fight had many picturesque features, and Tennessee heard enough oratory to last her a decade. The governor made his race in the Democratic bandwagon; Senator Carmack made his "on the water-wagon." The former espoused local option; his antagonist was for state wide prohibition. If the women could have voted, Carmack would probably have been elected, but it is doubtful that females on the stump, on the streets and hanging around the polls really helped him any Saturday. Mere man, deep down in his heart, feels that woman's place is running domestic, and not political affairs. For sheer intellectuality, statesmanship and natural endowment, Senator Carmack has few peers in the south, and perhaps none in Tennessee, and despite his two successive political defeats, he is too young and too able to stay long out of public life. He will go back to the United States senate some of these days, and that is where he belongs. Another important result of Saturday's primary will be the retirement, at least temporarily, from congress of him thus described by the poet:

John Wesley Gaines, John Wesley Gaines,
Thou monumental pile of brains,
On thee proud Tennessee relies,
John Wesley Gaines, John Wesley Gaines.

Joseph Byrns, who beat him for the nomination, hasn't half of John Wesley's pulchritude and couldn't talk as much in a week as the Hermitage statesman could in a day.

CLEVELAND'S MESSAGE.

The last message of Grover Cleveland to the Democratic party was contained in the following letter to the editor of the New York World:

"I have received your letter asking me to make a response to the following question: 'What is the principle and what the best policy to give the Democratic party new life?'"

As a general proposition I might answer this question by saying that in my opinion this could be most surely brought about by a return to genuine Democratic doctrine and a close adherence to the Democratic policies which in time past gave our party success and benefited our people.

"To be more specific in my reply, I should say that more than ever just at this time the Democratic party should display honest and sincere conservatism, a regard for constitutional limitations and a determination not to be swept from our moorings by temporary clamor or spectacular exploitation.

"Our people need rest and peace and reassurance; and it will be quite in line with true Democracy and successful policy to impress upon our fellow countrymen the fact that Democracy still stands for those things.

From Day to Day

The state convention of the Baptist Young People's Union will be held this week at Georgetown. Rev. M. A. Jenkins will deliver several addresses. He left for Georgetown this morning.

R. C. Curry, formerly a journalist of Pittsburg, Pa., is in the city gathering data for a publication entitled, "History of the Tobacco War in Kentucky and Tennessee." The book will be issued in August. Mr. Curry has been in Kentucky six months engaged in the work.

The eclipse of the sun took place Sunday as it had been forecasted, but it was rather disappointing. When the eclipse was greatest the effect was clearly noticeable, the light being subdued in much the same manner as precedes a heavy rainstorm. The skies were clear of clouds most of the time and all who so desired had ample opportunities for gazing at the phenomenon. Nearly every one took advantage of the unusual occurrence and watched it closely, smoked or colored glass being much in evidence. At some of the churches it was nothing strange to see the worshippers, between services, of course, gazing through the colored windows at Old Sol.

PYTHIANS ATTENDED

SPECIAL SERVICE AT 9TH STREET
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

An Impressive Discourse Is Delivered
By The Rev. Charles L. Nourse, of New Orleans.

The service at the Ninth Street Presbyterian church Sunday morning, at which Rev. Charles L. Nourse, of New Orleans, delivered a sermon addressed especially to the members of the Knights of Pythias lodge, was largely attended and the discourse was profound and impressive. The members of the lodge, met at their hall and marched to the church in a body, each one wearing a red carnation in his buttonhole. There were more than eighty men in line.

Mr. Nourse took his text from Ecclesiastes IV, 9-12. His sermon was an eloquent and forcible portrayal of love and affection as exemplified in the Biblical story of Ruth and Naomi and also in the narrative of Damon and Pythias upon which the order is founded. He pointed out the great good resulting from such love and the invincible strength of two or more men when associated together in a cause for good. He dwelt at length on the tenets of Pythianism and impressed upon his hearers the necessity of adhering strictly to these, and the reward which would be theirs.

Mr. Nourse is himself an ardent Knight of Pythias and is a past Chancellor Commander of a New Orleans lodge. His sermon yesterday was heard by many persons who are not members of the order, but it was equally as profitable to all.

DRUGGISTS' MEETING

PHARMACISTS OF THE STATE IN ANNUAL SESSION

Hopkinsville Men Honored.—The Next
Gathering May Be Held At Cerulean Springs.

At the recent meeting of the Kentucky Pharmaceutical convention at Estill Springs, three Hopkinsville druggists were honored by places on important committees, in fact the most important that will have charge of the next reunion of the association. These were, executive committee, L. L. Elgin, chairman; John T. Elam, of Henderson, and Addison Dimitt, of Louisville.

Entertainment—J. O. Cook, chairman; John G. Krull, of Louisville, and J. E. Cooper, of Lexington.

Papers and Queries—G. L. Curry of Louisville, chairman; W. J. Blank of Newport and L. E. Fowler, of Hopkinsville.

J. O. Cook was elected a delegate to the American Pharmaceutical association which meets in September at Hot Springs, and L. L. Elgin was elected a delegate to annual meeting of the National association of Retail Druggists which meets at Atlantic City in September.

The reunions of the Kentucky Pharmaceutical association are patterned much along the same lines as are those of the Kentucky Press association. The druggists from all over the state meet every year at some designated place where for an entire week they discuss ways and means of advancing their interests, entertain and are entertained and have contests of all kinds which are greatly enjoyed. The attendance is usually about two hundred and much interest is always taken in the reunions.

It is a strong probability that next year the association will meet at hospitable Cerulean Springs. Three places were placed in nomination, these being Cerulean Springs, Dawson Springs and Mammoth Cave. The choice of the time and place is left to the executive committee but already preparations are being made whereby Cerulean will put in a strong bid for the convention and chances are bright that the druggists will meet there next year.

S.S.S. FOR BAD BLOOD

When bad blood is caused from an infection of the circulation by the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, it usually shows in the form of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots on the body, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. These general symptoms, affecting all parts of the body, show how deeply poisoned the blood becomes, and emphasizes the dangerous character of the trouble. If allowed to remain in the system the disease will finally wreck the health and break down the strongest constitution. No medicine can cure Contagious Blood Poison which does not rid the circulation of every particle of the virus. S. S. S. is the one real and certain cure; it goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, and by removing every trace of the poison, and adding rich, healthful qualities to the blood, forever cures this powerful disorder. S. S. S. is the most reliable of all blood purifiers, and its concentrated ingredients of healthful vegetable extracts and juices especially adapt it to curing this insidious trouble. Write for our home treatment book, which is a valuable aid in the treatment of the different stages of the disease, and ask for any special medical advice you wish. No charge for either.

COURT ADJOURNED

JUDGMENT AGAINST EX-SHERIFF
BARNES RENDERED

The Persons Against Whom Sentences Were Passed Are Taken To the Penitentiary.

The June term of circuit court adjourned Friday afternoon after being in session for four weeks.

One case in which Judge Cook handed down a decision was that of the commonwealth of Kentucky for the use and benefit of Christian county, against J. J. Barnes, ex-sheriff. County Attorney Duffy had brought suit, similar to that filed against L. R. Davis on which judgment was secured, in which he sought to recover to the county the amount of penalties which had been paid on taxes collected by Mr. Barnes while he was sheriff for the years of 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901.

In the opinion rendered by Judge Cook the statute of limitation prevents the recovery of the penalties collected for 1898 and 1899 but he gave judgment against Mr. Barnes for the amounts collected in 1900 and 1901. For 1900 the net amount is $848.51 which with interest makes it $1,191.13. For 1901 the amount is $745.19 and this with the interest makes the amount $1,000.66. The total judgment in favor of the county, principal and interest, is therefore $2,191.79.

The seven negroes who were given penitentiary sentences during the term as previously reported, were taken to Eddyville this morning by Sheriff J. M. Renshaw and his deputies.

ROB WOOD RELEASED

The three months' imprisonment sentence imposed on Rob Wood upon his conviction on the charge of sending a threatening letter signed "Night Riders" to Louis Dawson, colored, expired today and the young man was released at an early hour and returned to his home.

The fidelity of Mrs. Wood to her husband during his imprisonment was tender and touching. She spent nearly every day with him and brought most of his meals to him herself. His father and mother and other members of the family also gave daily evidence of their devotion.

DR. WYATT DEAD

Rev. J. L. Wyatt, D. D., formerly pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, died June 15th at his home near Longview, Ala. He is survived by his wife. Dr. Wyatt had many devoted friends in Hopkinsville who are deeply grieved to learn of his death.

DEATH AT CROFTON

Walter W. Gilliland died at the home of his brother-in-law, G. C. Bowles, at Crofton after an illness of several months of tuberculosis. He was 44 years old and a son of Alex. Gilliland, of this city. He lived in Louisville for ten years.

After the death of his wife he went to Denver, where he was engaged in business until two months ago. The body was taken to Louisville for interment.

DARK TOBACCO

PADUCAH, Ky., June 27.—While in the city General Manager Felix G. Ewing, of the tobacco association, stated that the association controlled 55,000 hogsheads of tobacco, 22,000 of which had been sold up to June 20. The tobacco was composed principally of lugs and low grade leaf, which brought more money than the entire 55,000 hogsheads would have five years ago.

The board of directors is considering adding a new feature to the association, which promises to increase the membership. No intimation was given as to what this feature would be.

Lesson I.—Third Quarter, For July 5, 1903.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, I Sam. viii, 10-22 Memory Verses 19, 20—Golden Text, Prov. viii, 15—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

(Copyright, 1903, by American Press Association.)

In turning back to the Old Testament for six months which remain of this year we are to learn of the same Israel and the same Lord of whom we have been reading in the gospel by John and very similar treatment of the Lord by Israel, for in all ages man is the same in his sin and the Lord is the same in His unchanging love and long suffering. Israel could say truly, and they will yet say again as never before, "The Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Lawgiver, the Lord is our King; He will save us" (Isa. xxxiii, 22). By His own great power He brought them out of the iron furnace of Egypt at the appointed time according to His word to Abraham. He bore with them and cared for them forty years in the wilderness and in due time placed them in the land of Canaan. Then He gave them judges for about 450 years until Samuel the prophet. Afterward they desired a king (Acts xiii, 17-21), that they might be like other nations (verses 7, 10, 20), and thus they rejected the Lord as their King and forsook Him, preferring not to be the Lord's own peculiar people. He had never dealt with any nation as He had with Israel. He bare them on eagle's wings and brought them unto Himself that they might be His peculiar treasure above all other people (I Sam. vii, 23, 24; Ex. xix, 4, 5), yet they wearied of Him and rebelled against Him and rejected Him. How like to the record in John i, 12; and xvi, 15, "He came unto His own, and His own received Him not;" "The chief priests answered, We have no king but Caesar." The carnal mind ever since sin entered the world has been at enmity against God, always manifest in greater or less degree. Israel's sin at this time is reproduced in the great majority of professing Christians today. They are unwilling to be whole hearted for God, preferring conformity to this world, even though it means eternal and irreparable loss. Samuel felt hurt evidently that the elders of Israel should thus set him aside, or at least act on that line, but he did the wise thing, as was his wont—he told the Lord all about it. The Lord comforted him as Jesus did His disciples long afterward when He said: "The servant is not greater than his Lord. If they have persecuted Me, they will also persecute you" (John xv, 20). The Lord assured Samuel that He (Jehovah) was the rejected one and not Samuel. He authorized Samuel to tell Israel that He would give them a king, but he gave them fair warning, commissioning him to tell them what kind of a man he would be. So Samuel told all the words of the Lord unto the people (verse 10), just as he had told the words of the people unto the Lord.

In the former case he acted as prophet, the Lord's spokesman, and in the latter as priest representing the people before God. The people were warned that the king they desired would sorely oppress them and that they would be sorry they had asked for him (I Sam. viii, 11-18). They were told that he would take about all that belonged to them: Notice six times in these verses just referred to, "He will take, he will take." Their sons and daughters and fields and grain and servants and flocks he would appropriate to himself. This they were plainly told, and yet they insisted that they would have a king so as to be like other nations. So it was written long afterward, "I gave thee a king in mine anger and took him away in My wrath" (Hos. xiii, 11). Does it not seem as if Jesus had this in mind when He said: "I am come in My Father's name and ye receive Me not. If another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive" (John v, 43). This other will be the antichrist spoken of in Dan. xi, 36, 45; II Thess. ii, 8-10. It would seem monstrous that men in any measure sane should choose a man—a mortal, selfish man—who would take everything they had from them. Instead of the Living God, who gave them all things richly to enjoy. He gave them bread from heaven during forty years in the wilderness, and all the flesh they could eat, and water from the rock, and the land of Canaan with all its riches, as set forth in Deut. xi, 9-12, and His continual presence and constant care and His power and His wisdom. It would seem unbelievable that men would turn their backs upon such an Almighty Father and choose a robber if we had not read that these same people in after years coolly and deliberately rejected Jesus of Nazareth, their Messiah, the Jehovah of the Old Testament, and chose a robber and murderer in His stead. Men are now persistently and deliberately and continually choosing the pleasures of sin for a season and refusing the kingdom of God, with its eternal weight of glory; choosing a murderer and destroyer and liar, who blinds their eyes to the light of the glorious gospel, rather than the Lord of life and glory, who gave Himself a sacrifice for our sins, even for the sins of the whole world. The things seen and temporal are more to the great majority than all the things unseen and eternal, and, like Israel in the days of Samuel, they cry for something visible and tangible.

Men of faith, on the contrary, like those mentioned in Heb. xi, of whom Samuel is one, believe God.

DR. CHAMPION, NIGHT RIDER CAPTAIN, IS DECLARED GUILTY

After Mature Deliberation Jury Brings in a Verdict
And Sentences Alleged Outlaw Chieftain To One Year In The Penitentiary.

BENTON, Ky., June 27.—Dr. Champion, a well known physician of Lyon county and an alleged Night Rider captain, was this morning found guilty of participation in the raid on Birmingham.

The jury sentenced him to serve one year at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Numerous persons testified that Dr. Champion was in the raid, in which several negroes were fatally wounded or whipped. Champion attempted to establish an alibi.

The case was argued yesterday, Charles K. Wheeler being the chief attorney for the defendant. Commonwealth's Attorney Lovett closed the argument.

The case went to the jury, composed of McCracken county citizens, at 4 o'clock and the verdict was returned shortly after Judge Reed opened court this morning.

COUNCILMAN DAVIS PROPOSES IMPORTANT ORDINANCE

A Special Meeting Of Board Was Held Friday Night.—What Was Done.

(From Saturday's Daily)

At the called session of the city council held last night, the tax books for this year as prepared by assessor Leslie Haydon were examined, approved and accepted.

Dr. E. S. Stuart, of Fairview, found six $100 bonds in his safety deposit box at the Bank of Hopkinsville last Thursday, which he had forgotten all about having. The bonds were issued by the city in 1870 and matured in 1890, but for some reason had never been presented for payment and even Dr. Stuart had forgotten about their existence. They are now eighteen years past due and their aggregate value, including the interest which has accumulated, up to Oct. 1, 1890 is $1,125. Exactly what disposition shall be of them is a poser, and last night the chairman of the finance committee, J. B. Galbreath and City Attorney Walter Knight were appointed to look into the matter.

Councilman Lucian Davis presented to the city council for consideration an ordinance changing the names to the streets in the city, running east and west.

His plan is suggested in order to make the house numbers as now placed indicate the proper location and will not make it necessary to change a number on a house in the city. The plan in brief is as follows:

Taking Seventh street as the dividing line between the north and south sides and call this street Central avenue. Then beginning with the first street north of Central, avenue and call that First street, the next street Second street and so on to the northern suburbs of the city. Then beginning with the first street south of Central avenue, call it First avenue, the next Second avenue, the next Third avenue and so on to the southern boundary.

The advantages to be derived by the change are:

First—That the taking of the central street as a beginning point makes the number of a house come between the streets which his number indicates it should come. For illustration—Judge Walter Knight lives on Campbell street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. His number is 500, which would indicate to a stranger that he lived between Fourth and Fifth streets. Under the new arrangement his house number would not be changed, and yet he would be made to live between Fourth and Fifth avenues—just where his number indicates that he does.

Second—The business addresses are misleading. For illustration—the Bank of Hopkinsville is probably the most centrally located business house in the city. Its house number is 1, yet the business address is Main and Seventh street, which indicates that the institution is located away out in the city. Under the new arrangement the address would be Main street and Central avenue, just where number 1 indicates it is, at the starting point. The same thing applies to the City bank, J. T. Wall & Co., and the T. M. Jones business house.

The streets north of Central avenue would be east and west, divided by Main street, just as at present. The avenues south of Central avenue, would be divided by Main street, east and west, just as at present. The only difference would be using the word east or west after the name instead of before it. For instance, West Seventeenth street under the new idea would be Seventeenth avenue, west.

Take Ninth street, one of the most important thoroughfares in the city, and yet the business address, Main and Ninth street or Virginia and Ninth street would indicate to a stranger that this street was away out, and yet, as a matter of fact it is right in the heart of the city. And under the new ordinance the business addresses would be Main street and Second avenue, Virginia street and Second avenue, etc.

STOLE HIS CHICKENS

Farmer Loses Box of Frying Size Fowls.

(From Saturday's Daily)

A thief, whose boldness is a parallel almost for the one who stole a red hot stove, got in his work in Hopkinsville today.

A country man came to town with a small box containing six frying size chickens in the back of his spring wagon. On West Seventh street he drove up to the pavement and left his team for a few minutes while he went into a store.

When he returned he got into his wagon without noticing anything amiss, but when he reached a boarding house several squares away where he intended selling the chickens, lo! and behold, both chickens and box were missing.

The owner hurried back to Seventh street and looked about and inquired of everyone in the neighborhood, but could get no trace of his chickens. He reported the matter to the police and they took up the search but as yet nothing has been learned of either the chickens or the box.

PRISON TO ASYLUM

CLARKSVILLE SENDS LUNATIC
BACK TO THIS CITY

Had Escaped From Western Hospital.
—Assaulted Man and Refused
To Pay His Fine.

Garth Luten, who has been confined in the county jail about two weeks was taken to Hopkinsville, Ky., last night and recommitted to the Western Kentucky Insane asylum. Luten was arrested by the police for an unprovoked assault upon W. P. Trotter, and when his case was tried he declined to pay a $5 fine, although he had money in the bank. He refused the services of a lawyer and said he would serve his time out. He was tried by a jury for lunacy and committed to the county jail and an effort was made to learn something about him. The city marshal was telephoned at Hickman, Ky., where his parents live, and it was learned that he escaped from the asylum last October, since which time he has been going through the country. He was regarded as a dangerous man and is kept under watch at the asylum. Last night when Sheriff Staton went to his cell he showed fight, but was quickly overpowered by the turnkey and Mr. Thatcher, an attache of the asylum.—Clarksville Leaf Chronicle.

Heat prostrates the nerves. In the summer one needs a tonic to offset the customary hot weather nerve and strength depression. You will feel better within 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you can actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless, spiritless, feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will sharpen a failing appetite; it aids digestion; it will strengthen the weakened kidneys and heart by simply rebuilding the word-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co. (Incorporated.)

FEATHER IN THROAT

Baby Had Swallowed It While Playing
On Bed.

Several days ago the baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Mason, who live near the asylum, developed a very sore throat, which was at first thought to be diphtheria but which later developed into a severe boil which came to a head just under the child's ear. Punctures were applied to hasten the ripening of the boil, and in removing one of these Mrs. Mason discovered a hard substance protruding from the sore and pulling it out it proved to be a feather about two inches long. The child had evidently gotten the feather from the bed and swallowed it. It must have stuck in its throat and not being discovered, worked its way through. The child is now rapidly recovering.

Best The World Affords.

"It gives me unbounded pleasure to recommend Bucklen's Arnica Salve," says J. W. Jenkins, of Chapel Hill, N. C. "I am convinced it's the best salve the world affords. It cured a felon on my thumb, and it never fails to heal every sore, burn or wound to which it is applied. 25c. at Cook & Higgins and Cook's Pharmacy drug stores."

PATTERSON WINS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 29.—In the Democratic primary Saturday Patterson defeated Carmack by safe majorities. Pleasing Everybody.

The vaudeville bill which is being presented nightly at Holland's opera house is the most generous 5 and 10 cents' worth in the entertainment line ever offered the people of Hopkinsville. The moving pictures are very fine and the illustrated songs delightful. Miss Crystal Bell, the professional artiste who presents singing and dancing features, is established as a favorite. She is pretty and gracious, a nimble dancer, and uses her voice with good effect. Her costumes are handsome, and her specialty is clever and worth while. Large crowds are attending the shows both in the opera house and in the Star theater underneath. Both are putting on bills that please everybody.

Many Hopkinsville Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousand of bad back sufferers in Hopkinsville are glad to learn that prompt relief is within their reach. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Many people are telling the good news of their experience with the Old Quaker Remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

R. H. Buck, living on South Franklin street, Madisonville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills is an exceedingly good remedy for kidney complaint and backache. I was never seriously troubled until about nine months ago I was taken with an attack of backache caused I think by strain from over-lifting. I was annoyed a good deal. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and concluding to give them a trial got a supply. They proved very satisfactory, curing attack in a short time. Sometime later, there were symptoms of a recurrence, and I appealed to Doan's Kidney Pills again. They relieved me in a short time, and they keep my kidneys in excellent condition."

Chas. E. Barker, one of south Christian's really enterprising farmers, shipped a car load of locust fencing posts to Louisville this week, to be used in fencing the State Fair grounds. Mr. Barker put out about 6,000 locust sprouts less than ten years ago, and now he has as many fine posts, some of them being 15 to 20 feet long. He has perhaps the greatest lot of posts ever grown on a southern Kentucky farm.—Pembroke Journal.

The Kentucky Humane Society has issued a request that the owners of horses buy straw hats for their faithful beasts to wear during the summer, says the Louisville Post. It is a humane provision, protecting the animals from the sun, and is also a safeguard against losing a valuable horse by heat prostration. While the Humane Society does not attempt to designate style, it is suggested that the Merry Widow is just the thing for the horse. Under the grateful shade of a Merry Widow the horse may amble along on the hottest day of the season and be perfectly comfortable. The broader the brim the more the horse will like it. The girl is the mother of the woman just as "the boy is the father of the man." The period when the womanly functions begins is one to be carefully watched and considered. Irregularity or derangement at this time may be promptly met and cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. But neglected at this critical period may entail years of future suffering. "Favorite Prescription" acts directly upon the womanly organs giving them perfect vigor and abundant vitality. It removes the obstructions of health and happiness, and delivers womanhood from the cruel bondage of "female weakness."

Well recognized authorities of all schools of medicine have nothing but praise for the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. PLANS OF T. C. R. R.

AS STATED IN LETTER FROM LARGE STOCKHOLDER

Will Be Operated As An Independent
Line and With Success, It Is Promised.

The Nashville American says:

Very naturally there continues to be much discussion in business circles with reference to the announcement made Thursday to the effect that the Illinois Central and Southern would cease the operation of the Tennessee Central at the expiration of the option now held on that property, and that the control of the road would revert back to the owners.

Just how successfully the property in question may be operated as an independent line, and what effect the change in the management may have upon the commercial interests of Nashville and vicinity remains to be seen, but full confidence is expressed by prominent officials of the new management that the business interests of the city and points along the line will not be allowed to suffer, and that arrangements for the operation of the road in its improved condition will be made without delay.

George R. Ristine, of Chicago, has been selected as president of the new company, and he will arrive in Nashville Sunday and will assume entire charge of the affairs of the company. Mr. Ristine is a capable railroad man, with long experience, and everyone feels confident that the best interests of Nashville and vicinity will be served under his management.

Friday the following telegram was received by Mayor Brown and the board of trade committee:

New York, N. Y., June 26.—Hon. James S. Brown, Mayor, Committee, Nashville, Tenn. On your own behalf and as representative of committee, I acknowledge receipt of your telegram and express my appreciation of the tender of your office. No differences have arisen between Illinois Central and Southern railway on the one hand and owners of Tennessee Central on the other, except that Illinois Central and Southern have notified us they will not exercise option of purchase made three years ago, which expires July 1, 1908, and which was made at a very low price from our standpoint. During past two weeks we have negotiated with these two systems, offering them right to continue in possession of property on more favorable basis to them than option price, and on very lowest basis we can possibly afford, but yesterday both railroads declined to negotiate further. We are organizing a strong operating force, and will take possession of property July 1, and under its independent management Tennessee Central will use every effort to serve interests of the citizens of Nashville and of the other territory along its lines in a manner most acceptable to them, and we ask your hearty co-operation. You can assist us very much to this end and you may be sure the personal efforts of yourself and committee in this direction will be greatly appreciated, and I strongly believe that we can make Tennessee Central under independent management of much more benefit to the citizens of Nashville than it has been doing the past three years, and at same time secure reasonable profit for the owners. Geo. R. Ristine, of Chicago, has been selected as president of Tennessee Central. He will be in Nashville Sunday, and will assume entire charge of the affairs of the company. He is a railroad man of long experience and high character, and you will find him capable and anxious to serve the best interests of Nashville, which I regard as being identical with the best interests of the owners of the Tennessee Central.

Over Thirty-Five Years.

In 1822 there was a great deal of diarrhoea, dysentery and cholera infantum. It was at this time that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was first brought into use. It proved more successful than any other remedy or treatment, and had for thirty-five years maintained that record. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to every part of the United States and to many foreign countries. Nine druggists out of ten will recommend it when their opinion is asked, although they have other medicines that pay them a greater profit. It can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., (Incorporated.)

How to Cure Your Piles

If sufferers from piles and rectal diseases would first try a reliable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin instead of using external salves and suppositories, or having an operation performed, they would save themselves a world of trouble, expense and pain. The reason is that in nine cases out of ten piles are the result of habitual constipation, and when once the constipation is thoroughly cured the piles disappear.

Piles are to constipation what pimples are to bad blood, simply an outward symptom. And just as face lotions aren't half as good for pimples as a good blood medicine, so salves and suppositories aren't half as good for piles as a reliable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

A 50 cent or $1 bottle will prove these claims, and every druggist is authorized to guarantee results. Hundreds of people have written us that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best pile cure they know of, and it is surely worth a trial from you. Not only will it cure the piles but it will permanently correct bowel trouble so that you will have regular movements. It will tone up the stomach and make digestion easy for you.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, indigestion, and all resultant troubles, such as skin eruptions, headache, dizziness, nervousness, and all disorders of the stomach, liver or bowels. Its gentle action and pleasant taste make it especially suited to children and all who are too weak to stand purgative waters, salts and gripping powders and tablets. A physician is not what pile sufferers need, but steady, easy bowel movements, and these can be obtained by the use of this wonderful remedy. It brings about a permanent home cure at a minimum of expense.

FREE TEST Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying, can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Get the most effective laxative for children, women and old folks. A guaranteed, permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "No Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN." The Merry Widow

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY HENRY W. SAVAGE

CHAPTER IV. The Waltz.

"DANCE with me!" repeated Sonia. The faroff orchestra had struck up a dashing, gay, Marsovian air. Impelled by the music and her glance of daring, Danilo sprang forward.

In an instant the two were whirling madly amid the intricacies of a wild Russian dance such as has for centuries been performed from Siberia's ice plain to Tartar steppes—a dance of youth, agility, utter abandon.

Yet as they came panting to a halt at the last crashing note of music the face of neither reflected the exhilaration the swift motion and stirring measures usually evoked. In fact, Danilo's brow wore a very perceptible frown. Sonia, too, was downcast. Had her rash experiment failed?

"You didn't enjoy that," said she. "Not especially," he confessed. "Did you?"

"No. You don't dance as well as you did."

"You've probably grown to prefer French partners," he replied, piqued at the reflection on his dancing.

"From all I hear," she retorted, "you have little right to reproach me on that score. You dance a good deal at Maxim's, don't you?"

"Now and then," he admitted. "And with what sort of partners, I wonder?" she scoffed, a touch of scorn in her sweet voice.

"With polite ones," said Danilo. "She winced ever so little at the reproach and went on."

"I suppose you dance better with them than with me."

"Possibly," he agreed. "You see, I, too, may prefer French partners."

She raised her great dark eyes to his, a world of meaning in them. "Do you?" she asked, almost in a whisper.

The distant orchestra had been playing again, this time not a native air, but a dreamy, infinitely sweet Viennese waltz. The opening notes of the haunting melody, though softened by distance, were wafted none the less distinctly to the listening couple.

Again their eyes met. With a mutual impulse they drew toward each other. Then began a dance as different from the stuffy conventional ballroom waltz as moonlight differs from a gasolene flare. With more than a hint of the free, marvelously graceful poses of Slavonic dancers, Danilo and Sonia began their wondrous waltz.

Throwing herself back into the strength of his circling embrace, the girl's outstretched arms swayed like wind-blown lilies in rhythm with the music, her light step scarcely touching earth as the prince guided her through the mazes of the dance.

It was a strange, dexterous blend of east and west, of lissom oriental posturing and of gliding, modern waltz steps—the very poetry of motion. Nor from the first note until the last strain of music died away did either dancer's eyes leave the other's.

Love, eager and eternal, was in the gaze of each. Eye said openly to eye

"A lady went into the summer house with a gentleman."

what sullen pride forced back from the lips. Then a last dreamy chord and the music was hushed. Danilo and Sonia started, amazed, as though from some vision of paradise. The widow, fearful lest by impulsive word she might wreck her plan of bringing Danilo to her feet, darted breathlessly away to welcome a new group of guests. The prince, left alone, stared after her, open mouthed. A clapping of applauding hands aroused him.

"Bravo, bravo, my dear prince!" wheezed the ambassador, toddling forward. "What a delightful little dance! But it is customary to catch one's partner in a jilt grip like that, or as it is a fashion that has come in since my waltzing days?"

The old bore's feeble jest brought Danilo quickly back to earth and to a sense of everyday surroundings.

"Were you looking for me?" he asked, none too civilly.

"Only to see if you had succeeded yet in finding who the lady is with whom De Joldon is in love. She must be made to win him away from any ideas of marrying the widow."

"To blazes with that and all the rest of your silly plans!" shouted Danilo. "Don't worry any more about the widow. It's no use, I tell you. She is going to marry a Frenchman in spite of us all! And," he went on bitterly, goaded by the chagrin and abject disappointment in Popoff's face, "I'm going to dance at her wedding."

"Going to marry a Frenchman, is she?" yelled the distracted ambassador. "Preposterous! I'll find a way of stopping it! And it is De Joldon she thinks of marrying!"

"What's that to me? I don't know who she's engaged to, and—"

But Popoff waited to hear no more. Catching sight of Nish, he rushed upon that unhappy clerk.

"Find M. de Joldon!" he commanded. "Keep your eye on him all the rest of the evening. See if he makes love to the widow and report to me. I have already told Mme. Popoff to sound him on the subject. Among us all we ought to learn something before we're done."

"You'll learn something!" if you keep on spying," muttered Danilo under his breath as he moved away. "But I'll bet a year's income it'll be something that will give you more surprise than pleasure."

Dusk was falling. Above the myriad colored lights that dotted the garden the moon was rising. Along one of the fagged paths leading to the summer house a man and a woman were strolling—Mme. Natalie Popoff and M. de Joldon.

"And so your worthy husband set you the task of finding out whom I am in love with?" De Joldon was saying.

"Yes," the ambassador's young wife answered. "He is afraid you will marry the widow."

"Why should I?" queried De Joldon jokingly. "You told me to."

"But—but you won't, will you?" she pleaded. "Why don't you look at me? What are you looking at?"

De Joldon's eye had fallen on the fan where it lay forgotten on the table.

"The fan you lost and that your husband pocketed," he said, handing it to her.

"Thank goodness!" Natalie exclaimed, seizing it; then:

"Lend me a pencil."

She wrote a sentence on the fan directly beneath the three words he had scribbled the night before at the ball.

"There," she sighed, handing it to him; "keep that as a reminder."

He held the fan up to the light and read:

"I am—a dutiful wife."

"Remember that always," she adjured.

"Natalie!" he cried passionately. "It is true—I am a dutiful wife. If I have been foolish enough to listen to your loveliness, at least I have never encouraged it. I have always rebuffed you for conscience's sake. I am a dutiful!"

"Why remind me of the hopelessness of my love?" murmured De Joldon. "You may refuse to reciprocate it, but you cannot prevent my telling you!"

"But I can. After this evening we must not meet again. My husband trusts me. This must be our farewell interview. Don't try to alter my purpose. I have made up my mind. After this evening I shall never—"

"Natalie, you can't mean—"

"I do. This is the last talk we two shall ever have together."

"Then," implored De Joldon, "if it is really to be our farewell interview, why must we talk here in the garden, where at any moment others may come to claim your attention? Grant me a final half hour of your society all to myself. Let the talk be uninterrupted. Let us sit in the little summer house over there. See—it is empty."

They entered the little inclosed arbor. It was lighted by a string of Japanese lanterns, and two rustic chairs were at opposite sides of its round center table. There was a door at each end of the tiny room—an idle spot for a tête-à-tête chat now that the moonlight had wooed most of the guests out of doors.

The light wicker door swung shut behind the couple. Natalie quite enjoyed the prospect of listening to her adorer's melodramatic words of farewell and of posing heroically as a self-sacrificing, dutiful wife. In half an hour at most she would rejoin her husband with the righteous consciousness in her heart of having dismissed forever the one man besides Popoff who had ever made love to her. So interested was Natalie in De Joldon's parting speech that she did not hear the ambassador, just outside, declare excitedly:

"Nish, I'm sure I saw that summer house door close behind a lady's skirt! Let's see who is in there!"

iron which had been hidden in a bundle of wheat was unwittingly fed into the machine operated by Bud Dukes and the interior of the machine was so badly damaged that a delay of half a day was caused.

Yesterday threshing was resumed and another piece of iron was found in a bundle of wheat, this time fortunately before the grain had been fed into the machine. This was a long and heavy piece of iron and had been wrapped in straw so as to conceal it. It was so large that its weight gave away its presence.

Both Mr. Dukes and Mr. Harrison say they do not know of an enemy they have in the world, or any excuse any one could have for attempting to thus injure them. Both are loyal members of the tobacco association. It is understood that they will continue threshing the wheat.

ABOUT THE WEED

There was less trading on the local tobacco market the past week than has been noted since the season got under good headway, the buyers either not having orders to fill or lacking the inclination to examine the types during the extremely hot weather. What sales were made, though, brought prices fully up to the standard, thus denoting that the dullness was not due to prices.

The sales by the Planters Protective association amounted to 49 hogsheds. The decrease in activity this week was not unwelcome to the salesman and his assistant, as it gave them time to get their office in better shape. Receipts up to date amount to 6,336 hogsheds.

Frazier, of the association, and Official Graders J. T. Myles and J. O. Bell were here last week going over the types now on sale and regrading those which were prized while too high in order, and which had deteriorated somewhat in value as a consequence.

Business was also dull with the Society of Equity warehouse, sales and receipts both being very light. Indications though are that this week will be much better with both organizations.

Reports from the growing crop are anything but flattering, the farmers claiming that many causes are contributing to a poor crop this year, and that the acreage will be materially lessened.

The report of Auditor John D. Seales, of the Planters' Protective association, for the week ending June 22, shows an increase in sales for that week on the ten markets of the district of 628 hogsheds.

The report that the French trade would decrease their importations of American tobacco in the event the prices were sent any higher, has not affected the market of the dark district to any noticeable extent. The French buyers are still making purchases as freely as ever.

Reports from all over the dark district as to the condition of the growing crop show that in some sections the outlook is very poor indeed, in others it is fair, while in still others it is up to the average. None of them reports a crop beyond an average.

The Experience of a Poultry Dealer.

Only in recent years has poultry-keeping taken a place among recognized industries. Many of the successful poultry men of today were not experts when they began, but had to learn by experience.

"In regard to Sloan's Liniment for poultry diseases," writes E. B. Spaulding, of Jaffray, N. H., "a disease called roup is one of the greatest drawbacks in raising poultry. It is somewhat similar to distemper in a horse. After trying and experimenting with about everything recommended, I found that Sloan's Liniment was the speediest and surest remedy for roup, and I can especially recommend it for canker in the windpipe."

Send for Dr. Sloan's free book on Horses, Cattle, Hogs, and Poultry. Address: Dr. Earl S. Sloan, 615 Albany street Boston, Mass.
