Federal Funds To Aid Project

If Hazel residents in November approve the formation of the South 641 Water District, federal funds will provide three-quarters of the $1.1 million necessary to lay water pipes from Murray to its sister city and upgrade that community's water and sewer facilities.

J.R. Taylor, chairman of the water district committee, said concerned

Around 150 Expected At Round-Up

About 150 persons are expected to attend the Fall Round-Up of Districts I, II, III, and IV, covering about half of the state of Kentucky, of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 29 and 30, at the Kenlake Hotel.

A special feature of the program will be the Energy Conservation Panel Discussion scheduled at 3 p.m. Saturday at Kenlake.

Members of the panel will include Dan Stanley, assistant manager of Green River Electric; Hayden Timmons, vice general manager of public affairs at Big River Electric Corp.; Ernie Stamper, director of planningand analysis for Ashland Petroleum, Ashland Oil, Inc.; and Ray Smith, director of sales at Texas Gas Transmisson Corp.

Ed Sheriff of the Public Relations Department for Green River Electric, will be the panel moderator. The discussion will be on electric utility. gasoline, and natural gas industries, according to Pauline J. Crump, second vice president of the Kentucky B&PW

Osta Underwood, past national president of the B&PW Clubs, will be the speaker at the banquet scheduled Saturday at 7 p.m.

The Sunday morning session will open with a vesper service at 9 a.m. followed by the business session before the roundup closes at 12 noon.

Jean Elkins, president of the Murray B&PW Club, said a large delegation from the local club will be in attendance at the fall roundup.

putting the plans for the district together since early in 1977.

'Residents of the community must give their approval for the district before any real work can get under way," he said. At the present time, the committee is busy acquiring rights-of-way to place the pipes along the eight miles between Murray and Hazel.

"Most people are being very cooperative," said Taylor. "They realize that this is a non-profit project, and most have agreed to let us put the pipes across their land. We prefer to acquire rights-of-way across private land instead of putting pipes on the state's right-of-way because if the state ever had to do road work we would have to move the pipes at our expense," he continued.

"If the pipes are placed on private land, they would be moved at the state's expense," Taylor said.

Once the referendum is approved, Taylor said, plans for the project call for laying the water mains, construction of an additional water tower at Midway, and replacement of water and sewer pipes within the Hazel city

The community's present water tower, with 75,000 gallon capacity, will continue to be used, but the additional water tower at Midway will provide additional storage and will build water pressure within the city.

"We want to make sure we have backup supplies," Taylor said. "We have never run into any difficulty with our present system, but that doesn't mean we never will, and we want to be

Hoyt McClure, who is in charge of Hazel's water system, said the city pumps about 45,000 gallons of water each day, but the lines have a number of leaks in them and it is unlikely that the new system will be required to pump that many gallons in a day's

Taylor said, "We think the plans, which have met with the approval of the Environmental Protection Agency, are very sound, and we need these improvements. "The EPA will begin fining the city if we don't have water and sewer systems that meet their requirements," he continued. "If we try to meet those requirements in any other way, the residents of Hazel will get far less for their money.'

Options Of Ambulance Service To Be Discussed

Discussion on the options available to the city in providing ambulance service for local residents is one topic on the agenda for the regular meeting of the Murray Common Council Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The current city-county contract for ambulance service with Mercy Ambulance expires at the end of this year. That contract is subsidized $90,000 by the two local government agencies with the Calloway County Fiscal Court paying 60 percent and the city paying 40 percent of the stipend.

Options that have been discussed in past meetings include:

- Continuing the private-contract type of ambulance service at a higher subsidy figure. It was mentioned at a previous council meeting that the current contractor would request an increase in the subsidy to $120,000 for another year of operation but that figure has not been officially confirmed.

 Setting up the ambulance service as a part of the operation of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital with the city and county continuing to provide a subsidy. Unofficial figures discussed by hospital board members indicate that MCCH would also require a $120,000 subsidy. The hospital board has discussed the possibility but has not taken direct action concerning the

- Incorporating the ambulance service into the Murray Fire Department and operating it for both city and county residents, with the fiscal court providing a share of the operating costs, or operating the service on a "city-only" basis with the city providing all the funds.

The council will also discuss the recent judgment against the city by the Kentucky Human Rights Commission in a sex discrimination suit if "official notification" of the disposition of the suit is received by city officials prior to Thursday's meeting.

The commission ruled last week that the city had discriminated against Rosemary Lamb, an applicant for a position in the Murray Police Department

Other items on the agenda for the meeting, which will be held in the council chambers at City Hall, include:

 The second reading of ordinances increasing water rates and adjusting sewer rates in the city. - The first reading of an ordinance establishing a tourism commission in the city and levying a transient room

A recommendation from the Planning Commission regarding the city's acceptance of streets in unit one of Canterbury

Murray Independent Board To Discuss Routine Business

The Murray Independent Board of Education will consider several routine business items when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27, in the board office building.

Personnel recommendations and correspondence head the agenda list. School board meetings are open to the House passage of the cost-of-living pay raise, which would increase the salary of congressmen from the current $57,500 to $60,700 on Oct. 1, reversed three previous votes in which members defeated pay proposals. Passage came on a 208-203 roll call vote.

Congress' last pay raise was a 29 percent increase in February 1977.

A key to the bill's passage appeared to be the last-minute addition to it of one of Congress's favorite pets - a $10 billion water project appropriation.

Congress earlier had passed that water legislation, which contains funds for the controversial Tellico Dam as well as for other water projects. President Carter had not signed the water bill at the time of the pay raise vote and there were reports he might

However, the White House announced Tuesday night that Carter had signed the bill.

Tacking the water bill onto the legislation containing the pay raise gave water backers a little "insurance" their projects would be built even if Carter had vetoed the original bill, said Rep. Tom Bevill, D-Ala., who attached the amendment.

It also appeared to sway the necessary votes to turn the pay raise into a winner. Eighteen members who had voted against the pay raise last Thursday supported it Tuesday. Both Bevill and Rep. Wes Watkins, D-Okla., cited the addition of the water legislation as a key to their vote swit-

Approval of the 5.5 percent pay raise came after the House rejected a bid to prohibit the 535 members of Congress and more than 22,000 bureaucrats and federal judges who make at least $47,500 a year from receiving any salary increase this year. The freeze proposal was defeated 155-72 on an anonymous head-count vote.

The votes came after Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., told the House the vote was not really on a pay raise because Congress had authorized the raise in 1975. The only question, he said, was whether Congress "should appropriate the funds to carry out the Whitten suggested rejection of the appropriation would allow members of Congress to sue in court for the full 12.9 percent cost-of-living allowance which the 1975 law authorized.

Unlike the earlier votes, Tuesday's showdown took place under rules that allowed opponents to offer their own proposals instead of having to counter the offers tossed at them by pay raise

The increase in the mortgage interest rates amnounced Tuesday by the Department of Housing and Urban Development was the second increase of one-half percentage point in six months. In April, the rate on Federal Housing Administration-insured mortgages was boosted from 9.5 percent to 10 percent.

the increase was needed "to bring FHA rates in line with other competitive rates in both the mortgage and financial markets." Meanwhile, Agriculture Department

Do you admire Williamsburg Colonel - if so, Joe and Nancy Thurman's home on Dogwood Drive is really a perfect example Williamsburg architecture from the dental work around. the roof line to the front door stoop. Before building their home, they spent a great deal of time studying this type, and the home is truly beautiful.

Shirley (Mrs. Charles) Homra has returned home after spending a week in that jewel of a city, San Francisco, Calif. She saw all the beautiful spots, including Fisherman's Warf, the Golden Gate bridge, the delightful stage play, "Ain't Misbehavin" and we must include the fantastic department store, I. Magnin. She is home now, but a bit under the weather, so "get well soon."

held last Sunday in Nashville, attracted 1,000 women runners from all over the country. Running in this event from Murray were Ann (Mrs. Tom) Bloom, Pam (Mrs. Joe) Cartwright and Lynn (Mrs. Ron) Wuest. These girls made a great showing with Pam running across the finish line as the 239th, Ann at 390th and Lynn right behind Ann. This 10,000 meter race will send the winner on to run at Boston. Ann was telling me that they got the feel of the race when they arrived at the Capital steps, and all of these women were doing their stretching exercises - you can imagine 1.000 women.

Her 'In-Law' Is an Outlaw

DEAR ABBY: I was married last week, and just prior to the wedding I was introduced to a cousin of my soon-to-be husband. What a shock! I couldn't believe it. This cousin was the SAME man who, a year ago, tied me up and robbed the gift shop where I worked. I spent 90 minutes bound and gagged by this man, and now he is a relative. I am not guessing. I am absolutely positive! 'Cousin" gave no indication that he had ever seen me before, and I said nothing. So, Dear Abby, if you were in my place, would you tell your husband, or remain

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old girl, writing this letter at 9:45 on a Sunday morning. I have been awake since 6:30 a.m. and am very tired. The reason? The dog next door has been barking loudly and nonstop since 6:30 a.m.

This is nothing new. Our neighbors put their Doberman pinscher out on their tiny back porch, which is very close to my bedroom window, and when the dog is out there he barks

Yesterday I was awakened at 7 a.m., but not by the dog. This time it was the entire family (mother and three kids) having one of their knockdown, drag-out, screaming arguments. There is yelling, slapping, cursing, crying and door slamming very often over there.

My mother talked to the lady next door once about all the noise, but it did no good. Please tell me what to do before I get put away for poisoning a dog.

READY TO KILL

DEAR READY: There are laws against disturbing the peace. Call the police. And keep calling them until you get some action. Noisy neighbors and barking dogs are low on the list of law-enforcers' priorities, but if at first you don't succeed, try, try again. And don't give up.

DEAR ABBY: I was heartened by your column devoted to

· It does not cause blisters, aching arches or other foot problems. • It expands one's travel range. Not many people live within walking distance of their jobs, but one can easily bicycle 5 to 10 miles a day.

· The bicycle carries loads too heavy to carry while walk-

HEALTH

Tetracyclines can help

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 50-year-old male and have sugar diabetes. About three years ago I started getting a lot of pimples on my face and the doctor had me on insulin. I asked him if it was causing the pimples and he said no. He put me on some other tablets but they didn't help much so I discontinued them and just stayed on my insulin for

Later I broke my leg and the doctor treating my leg put me on tetracycline as an antibiotic to help my bone heal. After taking tetracycline for a while, my face cleared. I have been taking them several months, but if I quit taking them my face starts to sprout pimples again. My question is, does tetracycline have any effects on my health if I continue to take them daily? I only take one a day

DEAR READER have reinvented the wheel It's well known that tetracyclines are very h .pful treating acne. There are little tiny bacteria that live in the pores of the skin and they break down the fatty materials formed by the oil glands in your skin. It's these brokendown fatty products that are chemically irritating and they cause the red pustules you're talking about.

Your case also points out that you don't have to be a teen-ager to have acne. Many people have acne throughout their life and, of course, it's easier for a diabetic to develop skin problems and infections than it is for a nondia-

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 8-2, Acne Can Be Treated, so that you'll have a full understanding of the problem. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents in check or coin with long, stamped, selfaddressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

As The Health Letter I'm sending you explains, you can take tetracycline on a continuous basis. Usually they're taken in larger doses at first and then the amount is decreased for a maintenance level to control acne. One or two tablets a day is the usual maintenance amount.

Unless you develop any symptoms from taking them, there's no reason why you shouldn't continue them, particularly if they protect you against acne. It usually takes three to eight weeks for tetracyclines to have any noticeable effect on acne. They won't cure the red pustules that are already there. That's caused by irri-tating chemicals that have already been formed. The tetracyclines will help prevent the breakdown of the oily sebum into irritating products. That helps prevent the development of more red pustules.

Skin peeling agents pre-scribed by your doctor are also helpful in some cases when needed. Then you can help cut down on the oily sebum accumulation by soaking and washing the areas involved two or three times a day with rather warm water. Wiping the area clean with sponges also helps. Alcohol will mix with the oilywaxy material and help dissolve it whereas water will

French Fries Given As Library Reward

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (AP) - Can little Johnny find happiness with Keats and Shelly while munching on french fries? A local library wants to find out.

"This may sound bad, but we are basically bribing the children to introduce them to poetry which they usually shy away from," said Margret Lockwood, head of Bloomfield Library's children's services.

The reward? A coupon for free french fries from a fastfood chain.

All the kids have to do is. show up at the library with an original or copied version of any poem.

About 50 kids, between 3 and 10, have begun taking advantage of the offer, Lockwood said. Some have even written their own poetry.

A Firm Base

There are some who maintain that our nation is crumbling from within. They contend that our problems, in combination with a growing trend toward apathy, eventually will cause our downfall.

It was some 20 years ago that the late Nikita Khrushchev, then leader of Russia, boldly proclaimed to an American audience: "We will bury you." He seemed to be telling us the democracy would fall of its own accord and not under the boots of invading Soviet troops. Regardless of his meaning, a weakened America would give the Communists enough confidence at some point in time to test our might.

We may well be more ripe for the taking than most of us wish to believe. After all, our country is threatened by a recession and the joblessness, weakened productivity and internal strife that it would bring. We are divided not only politically what with growing criticism of our president — but also socially — in terms of minorities and even sexes. There are reports of Russian troops just 90 miles from our border at the same time that we are considering nuclear arms treaty with the same country.

The frightening thread running through all of this national turmoil is the reaction of our citizenry. The reaction, in effect, is inaction. We seem to have reached the consensus conclusion that all is inevitable, nothing can be done. This apathy is reflected in the declining turnout for elections and government participation in general.

The time is ripe for us to reverse this negative trend, to stop and take stock of ourselves. For if, indeed, our nation is crumbling, we certainly have a firm enough base on which to rebuild it.

That base is the United States Constitution, the same document that has carried us through crisis after crisis since this country was born. This is Constitution Week, and the Daughters of the American Revolution in this area and across the nation are urging every citizen to read, or reread, this time-tested cornerstone of freedom.

It could take only a few minutes of review and thoughtful reflection on what our Founding Fathers had in mind for this country to get our direction and outlook back in perspective. For too many, it would be a first-time reading, which would open some eyes. For others, it simply would serve as a reminder of just exactly what we have to loose.

Those who founded this nation thought the freedoms listed in the Constitution were freedoms worth dying for. The generations that have followed also have given their very lives for the ideals espoused in this most fundamental of documents. Today, we fail to exercise many of the rights granted in the Constitution. Would we die for their preservation?

We join with the DAR in urging citizens to read our Constitution and we wholeheartedly endorse the purpose of National Constitution Week. For it does all of us good to stop occasionlly and decide where we came from and where we are going. A strong foundation alone will not keep a house from falling; that which comes after also must be well built. We cannot long continue to provide weak supports and expect the structure to stand.

It would behoove all of us to mend the cracks in the framework over our strong foundation as a nation. For too soon, it might be too late.

HEARTLINE: In August 1970, I had a massive heart attack. I was judged disabled by the Social Security Administration and have received a regular monthly check since then. My condition has not changed since that time and I have not been able to work. The question I have is, I am now 64 years old, will Social Security put me on regular Social Security checks at 65 years, or am I required to contact them about this? I will be 65 August, 1980. If I am changed over, will my monthly check be smaller, larger, or not changed? - W.N.

When you become 65 years of age, your Social Security benefits will stop coming from the Social Security Disability Fund and start coming from the Social Security Retirement Fund. Social Security will not consider you disabled any longer, but retired. The amount of your benefits will be unchanged. You do not have to contact Social Security about this. The transfer of funds from one to another is done automatically.

In your letter to us, you did not mention anything about an X-ray being taken before this treatment. So we checked with your chiropractor. He did not have an X-ray of the subluxation. Medicare will only cover a chiropractor's treatment of manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation (if the subluxation can be demonstrated by X-ray). In fact, this is

The Story Of

Calloway County 1822-1976 By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings Copyright, 1978

Special note should be taken of Mr. Keys for this is the year that marked the end of his useful life, 1852-1915. His death occurred at the family home a mile east of Almo on July 15. Perhaps the ultimate failure of the Association contributed to his demise, but no evidence justifies this conjecture. He was the son of Isaac Keys, who was elected sheriff of Calloway County immediately following the Civil War. Mr. John also served the county as deputy sheriff under Sheriff W. B. Keys; was elected county court clerk in 1896 and re-elected to the same office in 1900. Mr. John's greater service to the community was his long tenure as district manager of the Association. Although a gentleman of scant formal education, he was the father of a brilliant set of children who achieved exceptional distinction in education circles. They were Dr. Ben Keys, Dr. Dick Keys, Attorney Isaac Keys, Mrs. Treamon Beale, Misses Alice, Erie and Ilee Keys. Mr. Keys is buried in Murray City Cemetery.

Contributors to the newspapers assumed unique names in writing of neighborhood happenings. Incidentally, the portion of of weekly newspaper space devoted to country correspondents attained its maximum dimension during this 1915 year. For an example was the one forwarded by "Red Fox" of Penny who boasted the town had two busy stores, owned by L. A. Curd and L. A. McKeel; two churches, Christian and Presbyterian; a mill, and 20 beautiful homes. "Red Fox" also forwarded information that the old Pigeon Roost extended from Penny to the far southwest portion of the county, vastly expanding the area previously indicated in this book.

A move got underway in Murray to re-name city streets during the 1915 year by the editor of the Ledger who expressed his indignation of streets being named such as Cross Main Cross Street

. Wouldn't that name jar your peaches . . . streets are named very much like a back-woodsman names his younguns."

Schools maintained a common denominator roof, the only institution whereby 99 per cent of the county's folks could gather in understandable agreement. As far back as 1910, 72 per cent of school children from 6 to 20 years of age in the county were enrolled with a grand total of 5,009. No doubt, the school census enumerator was generous in the estimate, perhaps counting every student who enrolled for as much as a single day. Extending the school age to 20 years sounds a little extravagant extension in this day, but it must not be overlooked that many adults attended a few classes during cooler months of fall to acquire the simple rudiments of reading, writing and arithmetic.

A City That Is On The Way To Major Recovery

YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO (AP) — The downtown streets and plazas are clean and busy, if not bustling, and the northsouth highway through the suburbs is strung with seemingly prosperous fast food restaurants and motels.

Compared with two years ago, employment and personal income is up, property values are higher, building activity is healthy. It is no more difficult to measure the areas's spirit: It too is higher.

In September 1977, this Mahoning Valley city midway between Pittsburgh and Cleveland was described in terms of tragedy and desperation, a symbol of what happens when industrial plants become obsolete.

The climax came, it was believed, on "Black Monday," Sept. 17, 1977, when Youngstown Sheet & Tube abruptly closed its outmoded Campbell works and laid off 4,100 workers.

Many in the area felt it was the beginning of the end. The message spread about the death of a steeltown, and the entire area became in the national consciousness a symbol of industrial decay.

It was, instead, like a beginning - of renewed cooperation among labor, management, education and government; of federal aid; of efforts to diversify; of attempts to control rather than be victimized by change.

New companies, including an aircraft assembly plant, are settling into the area, and older concerns, some of which had considered leaving for newer facilities and fewer labor problems, are expanding.

'We now have as much cohesivness as it is possible to have in any business, labor and political community," says J. Phillip Richley, mayor president of the Mahoning Valley Economic Development Corp.

"When I became mayor in January 1978 I was depressed," said Richley. "I expected we would have a fantastic To begin with, said Richley, the 'tragedy' really wasn't one at all, a discovery he made many weeks after taking office. He blames the national media. "They buried us and put a 10-ton stone over our heads," he says. "They created a whole series of tear-jerker stories about a dying town wedded to one industry.' But the valley had become more than steel; for a quartercentury it has been diversifying. Now, says Laird Eckman, associate director of the corporation, 78 percent of manufacturing is unrelated to steel.

Conceding a great deal of industrial obsolescence and, in the past, official apathy about correcting it, Richley says the valley still was able to absorb the plant shutdown with unexpected

He cites a Youngstown State University study. Of 4,100 workers laid off, he says, 1,500 found work in the valley; 1,000 retired; 800 moved; 800 are being retrained, looking, or have dropped from the job market.

For those who lost jobs, he says, it was indeed a tragedy. But for the valley as an economic entity, he maintains, the real damage was done by the myth of a "debilitated, distressed situation." Next: Cooperation helps overcome economic adversity.

Bible Thought

And he (Moses) took the book of the covenant, and read in the at lence of the people: and they said, "All that the Lord hath said we will do, and he ohedient." - Exodus 24:7.

Memories Jogged Back 56 Years By Founder's Day Convocation

Memories were jogged back 56 years Monday when Murray State University held its first annual Founder's Day convocation in observance of the first day of classes at the institution on September 24, 1923.

Enrolled that day were 202 students — 67 men and 135 women. With Dr. John Wesley Carr as first president, the "new Normal School" was meeting in the Murray High School. The City School Board had donated the use of the "entire lower floor of the high school building to the new studen-

The Paducah News-Democrat of Jan. 13, 1924, described the opening day audience of that historic day as "the largest and most enthusiastic audience ever assembled for an educational gathering in Jackson's Purchase."

Dr. Rainey T. Wells, at the time Kentucky's tax commissioner and founder of the new Normal School, was there on that opening day along with many other officials. "We

George Colvin, state superintendent of public instruction, made the opening address. Other speakers included Prof. J. L. Harman, a member of the Normal School Commission and president of Bowling Green Business University; W. J. Webb of Mayfield; David Johnson of Clinton; Lawrence Cooper of Benton; Senator W. L. Green of Smithland; and Miss Inez Luten, superintendent of Fulton Schools.

On Monday of this week, several in the audience recalled this occasion 56 years ago as retired faculty and early-day students were honor guests for the first annual Founder's Day convocation commemorating that first day.

Dr. Jacque Voegeli, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences at Vanderbilt University and a 1956 graduate of Murray State, was the principal speaker.

DR. BUTWELL, vice-president for academic programs at Murray State, made history when he stood to open the first Founder's Day convocation.

And the refreshments courtesy of McDonalds were a surprise well received by all participants and not a few of the Student Government workers. Despite the cooler weather it was easy to work up a thirst on the ample grounds of the stadium parking lot.

President Mack Bushart who had reported early in the week that "so far I know of four who will be there" was saying "Why there were some who got here by 8:30, because they were so interested." Mack was ably assisted by his wife Debbie and a large group of helpers. The Student Government had financed the whole operation, but more importantly they had the enthusiastic cooperation of Bill Blivens, owner of Spoke and Pedal, who set up the entire program.

One parent remarked how impressed he was with the Town and Gown cooperation in an event that was meaningful to the whole community. Certainly the learning that came from the careful inspection was a meaningful bit of knowledge that will contribute to greater safety. 90 per cent of the participants arrived with loose chains and low air, a student reported. "5 pounds of pressure was the lowest recorded" said the inspector who confessed satisfaction he didn't have to add that much pressures to any other tire! About half of the bikes had weak brakes, he added. Each cyclist was given a condition report so that follow-up work could be easily done Before the testing had ended several of the student workers put themselves through the same course and were awarded certificates.

MSU's Student Government has found a practical way to bring home to the community an important aspect of the International Year of the Child by presenting Murray with the Bicycle Safety Program.

Racers' Pass Defense Keyed By Houk, Evans

Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Sept. 1: It is late in the fourth quarter, and Murray State faces a tremendous Southeast Missouri rally. The SEMO quarterback lofts a pass in the general direction of a receiver in the end zone, the ball is tipped by a Racer defender and it falls gently into the arms of the receiver. Touchdown. Final:

Sept. 22: Murray leads Tennessee Tech 7-3 late in the second quarter, but the visitors own the ball. The Tech quarterback lofts a pass in the general direction of a receiver, but Racer defender Lamar Williams whirls, intercepts the pass and returns it to his two-yard line. One play later, Lindsey Hudspeth leaps. Murray 14, Tech 3.

It is 70 seconds later. Again a Tech pass. Racer Tommy Houk intercepts and returns the ball to his 27. Brian Crall kicks a 44-yard field goal, Murray leads 17-3 at the half and the Racers eventually win 24-3.

'We knew we were going to get hurt by the big play early in the season, so it wasn't a big surprise," Murray coach Mike Gottfried said yesterday in explaining the dramatic threeweek difference in his pass defense. The Racers currently stand 2-1-1 as they await Saturday's home contest against Ohio Valley Conference rival Morehead.

Personnel-wise, some changes have occurred. Greg Evans, who was beaten out of his starting right cornerback spot at season's start, regained it after the SEMO game.

And Houk, who did the beating, is now the starter at left corner. "I don't even remember catching the ball," Houk said of his interception. "I thought it was going to be tipped by their receiver, but it went right over his hands. The next thing I remember, I was running toward my goal line."

Don't think Houk hasn't paid his dues for his playing time. A junior now, the Jefferson, Ky., native was a walk-on as a freshman and dressed out for the 1977 home games. And he says he felt his chances of playing a good deal last season

"But I came to school last year not really knowing what I wanted, not even knowing if I wanted to be in school at all." Houk says. So he left school and returned home to take a job

Murray State defensive secondary coach Ron Zook (above) has seen big improvements in his unit, thanks to players like Terry Love, Greg Evans and Tommy Houk (right), who was congratulated last weekend after an interception.

"Man, after a few months of that, I figured anything would be better." So much for construction work. He returned to Murray State in January, worked out in the Racers' spring drills and reported this fall ready to play football.

"His biggest asset is his desire," Ron Zook, Murray's defensive secondary coach, says of Houk. "Physically, he's not imposing, but he has a good head on his shoulders.'

Then there's Evans. He IS imposing. At 6-foot and 200 pounds, the sophomore from St. Louis has speed and aggressiveness, the latter of which he sometimes has a hard time controlling.

"Greg is so aggressive, it scares me," says Zook. "A cornerback has to know when NOT to be agressive, too. But it's much easier to teach a guy when not to be, rather than the other way around.'

Evans was a defensive end through Murray's first four games as a freshman last season. Then the Racers lost to Morehead 49-35. Not surprisingly, some changes were made. Evans became a cornerback.

"It's a position I really enjoy playing," he says. "I get to do a lot more running, and I have more time to react." And why was he beaten out of his starting position in the first place? I guess I came in to fall workouts not really ready," he

Harlan County Official Will Appeal Suspension

By the Associated Press

HARLAN, Ky. - Harlan County School Superintendent Needham Saylor said he plans to appeal the suspension of all athletics at Evarts High School for the rest of the 1979-80 school year.

But Saylor said he agrees with the action of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association to suspend the Evarts football team after two a Sept. 14 game with Glasgow Both players had attended college after graduating from Evarts.

Saylor said that Charles Hunter, football coach at the school the past 25 years, has resigned in the wake of the suspension

Saylor said he questioned why the suspension should be leveled against the school's basketball and baseball teams, neither of which was involved in the football controversy. He said he would appeal that portion of the suspension.

The two ineligible players were not identified, but Saylor said one had graduated last year and the other in 1977. Both had attended college before dropping out, he added. Saylor said he met with ineligible players were used in Hunter after the suspension the coach's resignation.

"I really and truly cannot defend Charley at all on this,' Saylor said. "He and I have been friends for several years, but he asked me what would be the best thing for him to do, and I told him I thought he ought to throw in the towel."

Saylor said that Hunter's resignation is effective Friday.

"This takes a little bit of the sting out of a sub-par season," said Tanana after pitching the California Angels to the American League West Division title with a 4-1 victory over Kansas City. "It's like a trip, really. There was long while where I didn't think I'd pitch again this season." Saddled with arm problems most of the year, Tanana hadn't pitched more than 62-3 innings in a game since early June. But Tuesday night, he went the full nine, pitching a five-hitter to lead the Angels to their first title of any kind in the club's 19-year history.

Tanana, 7-5, was making his fifth start since being reacbecause of tendinits in his pitching shoulder.

Calloway Defeats Tigers 14-6

Running back Randall Duncan scored two first-half touchdowns as Calloway County defeated Murray Middle 14-6 in a junior-high foots ball game yesterday at North Elementary.

Duncan took a pass from quarterback Brad Skinner only minutes into the game and sprinted 30 yards for the first Laker score. Then, with four minutes left in the first half, Duncan climaxed a length-ofthe-field drive by Calloway with a six-yard run. Frankie Rios added both extra-point kicks as the Lakers took a 14-0 halftime lead.

Murray scored its only touchdown in the third quarter when Mark Boggess rambled 60 yards up the middle. The Tigers' try for a two-point conversion failed.

Calloway, now 1-1, hosts North Marshall at 5 p.m. Thursday, while Murray Middle, 0-2, has an open date.

Trevino Raps TV's Golf Coverage

By BOB GREEN AP Golf Writer

AKRON, Ohio - Lee Trevino, never to be caught without an opinion, has delivered some sharply critical views of television's coverage of golf.

"They say the game needs another Arnold Palmer or Jack Nicklaus," Trevino said Tuesday before a practice round for the rich World Series of Golf, which starts Thursday.

"Well, they've got (Tom) Watson. What's wrong with that? He's winning a halfmillion dollars a year. I'm a great admirer of Nicklaus, but Jack never did that," Trevino

"Tom's got it all. He's a heck of a player. He's a fine young man. He's intelligent.

He's got more guts than the

'No. that's not the problem. That's not why the ratings are going down. That's not why we've got problems. The problem is with the directors, the guys punching the buttons. We don't need another Nicklaus or Palmer. We need another guy to punch the

"They show too much putting. That's all you see. You're sitting there watching a guy take five minutes to line up a six-foot putt and then he misses it. And they spend too much time with one guy. If Nicklaus is playing, they'll show him make a shot, then they show him walking every step of the way up the fairway. They just stay with him even when he isn't doing anything.

They make it a one-man show. They ought to show more shots, more ball striking. They ought to have the leaders, maybe the top 15 or 20 players, wired for sound."

Trevino, who qualified for the elite, 38-man field for this event as the Canadian Open champion, then returned to

'You know, I don't think he's got the recognition he deserves," Trevino said. 'That's because he has some trouble with the driver sometimes. I don't think the public, even some of the players out here, really appreciate how good he is. He works at it. He's aggressive. He's got guts. He grinds on

"He'll be tough to beat here. He'll get his half-million. He's had a couple of weeks off and he's rested and fresh.'

Watson, the outstanding player in the game for the past three years, already has set a single-season money-winning record of $447,636. And he's favored to collect the $100,000 first prize here.

He hasn't played in this country since acquiring his fifth title of the season in the Hall of Fame Classic a month ago. He skipped the Ryder Cup and defense of a title in California last week to be with his wife, who recently gave birth to their first child.

British Open champion Severiano Ballesteros of Spain, declined an invitation to compete. Nicklaus and Gary Player of South Africa failed to qualify.

said "I was in shape, but I didn't practice hard enough on my drills. I knew that sooner or later, though, I would be starting again if I worked hard enough.

Safety Terry Love, who serves as Murray's cocaptain on defense, didn't appear too worried in the Racers' first two games this season. That was when the opponents' completed passes with machine-gun regularity.

"We're getting better, smarter, every game. It's just a matter of time." The figures tell the story now. Opposing quarterbacks in the last two games have completed just 5-of-26 tries for a measly 49 yards and no touchdowns. Three of the passes have been intercepted. Zook, impressed with those figures, says he can't be satisfied. "I have to worry just as much about what COULD have happened as what did happen. We're playing well now, but we have to play better. Whatever success we have is just incentive to do better the next time out." Not one member of the defensive secondary is a senior, and a freshman has added even more depth to the already-young unit. Ronald Lee Hopkins, who played for the 11-2 Lake County, Tenn., High School team last year, is now No.2 on the depth chart at left cornerback. "That's a situation I love to see," Zook says. "Ronald is coming along so well, it forces Tommy to play better to keep Hopkins excelled at both running back and defensive back at Lake County, but he says he had no preference of positions upon his arrival at Murray State. "I'm just interested in playing where ever I can get the most time on the field.'

The fact that the defensive line has allowed opponents an OVC-low 47 yards a game rushing doesn't hurt Zook's secondary, either. "They (the linemen) have put so much pressure on the quarterbacks, it's made my guys' job easier," says Zook. "The passes aren't as well-thrown as they might be with good pass protection.

Now, with the Morehead game and its year-old memories only four days away, what does Zook forsee?

"I just got through looking at the first-half film of that game last year, and it made me want to puke," he said. "The feeling I had before that game last year and how I feel now? There's no comparision.

Likes Of Leonard, Davis, Spinks Made Class Of '76 A Great One

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AP Special Correspondent Sugar Ray Leonard...Howard Davis...Leo Randolph...John Tate...Mike Spinks...Leon Spinks.

Hail the graduating class of 1976 from the Olympic boxing ring in Montreal, Canada - a golden cocoon of champions trained and pointed for greatness. Never in the nation's history has so magnificent a cluster of fist fighters emerged in a lump.

In the Montreal Olympics, they won five gold medals, a silver and a bronze. As professionals, one already has won and lost a world title, another bids for a crown next month and two others are rated top contenders and potential champions in their weights. Four are unbeaten as pros. Together, they have a record of 61 victories, three defeats and a single draw with 41 knockouts.

Leon Spinks, who survived the gang wars of a St. Louis ghetto, beat the great Muhammad Ali and captured the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight title 13 months after turning

On Oct. 20 in Pretoria, South Africa, Leon's Olympic teammate, gargantuan John Tate, goes after the championship that Ali lost, regained for a third time from Spinks and then abandoned. He fights an undefeated Johannesburg dental technician, Gerrie Coetzee, in a black-and-white squareoff in a tense apartheid setting. Tate's record is 18-0 (14 KOs).

Coetzee handed the elder Spinks the second defeat of his career. Should the 6-3, 240pound Tate, from Knoxville. Tenn., prevail, he ultimately might have to face the winner of the Larry Holmes-Earnie Shavers fight in Las Vegas Friday night for the World

Boxing Council title.

On the same Las Vegas card is welterweight Sugar Ray Leonard, the most dynamic and charismatic of the Olympic "Golden Boys," who opposes Andy Price of Los Angeles in a 12-rounder for the North American Championship. Sugar Ray is No. 2 in

Olympic Committee, ABC Should Work Out Settlement

By the Associated Press

LOS ANGELES - Insiders in the television industry believe a settlement will be worked out between ABC and the International Olympic Committee, clearing the way for the network to televise the 1984 Summer Olympics in Los Angeles.

Sources in the industry revealed earlier this week that ABC and the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee had worked out a $200 million package for about 16 hours a day of TV coverage of the Games. However, those sources said Tuesday that the IOC was not happy with the details of the bid by ABC President Roone Arledge:

The Los Angeles organizing committee, meanwhile, said it planned to hold a news conference today to discuss "television and other matters." Peter Ueberroth, president and managing director of the organizing committee, and Monique Berlioux, executive director of the IOC, were expected to be on hand for the

Also in Los Angeles was Arledge, who was not available for comment Tuesday and was not mentioned in plans for the news conference.

The IOC's executive board will take up the television matter at a meeting Oct. 25. No agreement can be formalized until then, the IOC said.

The Associated Press learned on Monday that ABC had wrapped up the Olympic rights after the first round of bidding with its $200 million offer. CBS had offered $160 million, and NBC had bid $150 million. NBC has the rights to the 1980 Summer Olympics in Moscow, while ABC will televise the Winter Games in 1980 at Lake Placid, N.Y.

The Los Angeles Times reported Tuesday that the IOC was dissatisfied with the money it was getting from the contract. The AP's sources said the IOC, which will receive a one-third share of organizers, who received twothirds of the broadcast rights to the IOC's onethird. The $87 million price tag contained $37 million broadcast rights and $50 million for construction of the broadcast center that will be left behind for the Russians.

One participant asked, What makes you think your first term merits a reelection?" Carter concluded his response with these remarks on Kennedy's longtime push for a national health insurance program:

'Sen. Kennedy has been in Congress for 16 years ... He has never gotten a comprehensive national health bill out of his subcommittee."

Carter said he believes "I now have enough support in the Congress to do it before this term is over" in 1980.

Carter, who described Cuba as a "puppet" of Moscow, said Tuesday of negotiations with the Soviets: "I don't know whether we will be successful. If we do not succeed, we will take appropriate action to change the status quo."

The new marketing thrust of Rose's follows the corporation's division of its retail outlets to two groups in 1978, the P. H. Rose Stores group and the Rose's Stores group. The P. H. Rose group of stores consists of some 60 variety stores which are smaller in size than the larger Rose's stores. The larger size of the Rose's stores makes them a better weapon to help customers fight the battle against their ever shrinking dollar, and the new direction announced by Harvin will first be implemented in the larger Rose units.

Nunn Levels Series Of Charges At Democratic Opponent Brown

By THOMAS S. WATSON Associated Press Writer LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) -

Republican Louie B. Nunn has charged Democrat John Y. Brown Jr. with engaging in a frightening pattern of intimidation, coverup and censorship" in the governor's race, while Brown has criticized Nunn for making too many promises.

Nunn's headquarters having "...refused to level with the people of Kentucky,' trying "...to gag the media" and preparing an attack on the Louisville newspapers.

Ron Meredith, Nunn's state campaign chairman, said Brown has refused to debate the Republican nominee, refused to answer charges about gambling practices and refused to release tax returns.

The media reference was to polling inquiries by Brown of the credibility of publisher Barry Bingham Jr. and how respondents rate information they receive from the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times.

Meredith also charged that Brown attempted to intimiate radio stations into cancelling Nunn campaign ads by threatening action against the licenses."

'Brown's campaign proposed a panel of news media representatives to added.

proposal the Kentucky Press Broadcasters Association declined to entertain, Meredith charged.

"Mr. Meredith's latest nitpicking is just one more desperate attempt to divert voters' attention from the fact that Ms. Nunn's own poll shows that he is losing this charged Brown Tuesday with race badly," Brown's press secretary Don Mills said.

"Kentuckians will put their trust in the candidate who deals with real issues, not with one who deals with phony issues, bugaboos under the bed, ghosts and goblins conjured up by political pranksters for whom every day is Halloween," Mills

"Truth needs no defense," Nunn said Tuesday of charges made by his campaign. "What has been said about him (Brown) has been in the media and the public documents. It's all the truth and I'll give $5,000 to anybody to disprove any part of it. You let him take his polls and use them for his purposes. I'll take mine and use them for my purposes. What a poll shows today doesn't necessarily indicate what its going to be next week anyhow," Nunn vertisements and materials, a during an interview following an address here to the Ken-Association and Kentucky tucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

"I'm running against the oldstyle politics because he's going around promising everything but my wife,' Brown told a meeting here of the Kentucky Educational Medical Political Action Committee Monday night.

Nunn also addressed the doctors and received applause when he promised to put a physician in charge of the state Health Department. Nunn said he favors paying doctors "usual and customary fees" for the treatment of lowincome patients under Medicare. He admitted later the proposal would mean an increase in doctor's fees and said he would have to check the state budget to see if the fee plan is feasible. Nunn told the soil servationists that Brown has admitted that he decided to run for governor while on his honeymoon "about 120 days

Nunn said. "Here's a fellow married to Miss America. Wakes up one morning thinking about running for governor of Kentucky. Why that in itself is the best evidence of bad judgement I've ever seen. You've got to admit that his mind wan-

"It's not time to send someone to Frankfort on training wheels," Nunn said, 'It's time that you sent someone with experience."

Brown, in his remarks to the doctors, said he is a "free enterprise man" and he criticized the government for "only telling you what you can't do rather than what you can do." Brown said he rejects a trend toward "more and more socialized government."

"I'll be the first governor you've ever had who was free of commitments - other than giving our teachers a voice and revising the (state) income," Brown added. "I want to be a governor who wants to look at the big picture.

Chatty Book On Cats Should Appeal To All

CATS: A Celebration. By aspect of the cat. One chapter, Elizabeth Hamilton. Scribner's. 160 Pages. $8.95. Cats have been with us a long time. In ancient Egypt there was a temple in a city called Bubastis that was dedicated to Bast, the cat goddess. But then, as now, man had mixed emotions about the cat. As Elizabeth Hamilton puts it, "As a rule people either like cats or dislike them. They are rarely indifferent." Her book "Cats," however, nicely bridges the gap between the cat likers and dislikers.

It is a well-written, chatty and informative discussion of cats and their relationship to man. bod-natured in tone, nicely ced with humor and spiced with interesting facts, the book should appeal to all.

The 10 chapters in this collection contain material that covers just about every for example, deals with cats the author has personally been acquainted with, another deals with the history of the cat, and another contains a miscellaneous batch of anecdotes dealing with cats. While each chapter is interesting, the best of the lot is the one dealing with the writer and his cat. Charles Dickens, Miss Hamilton observes, had a cat named William to which he was attached. But when William bore kittens, the author quickly changed its name to Williamina. Ernest Hemingway also liked cats. So much so, that in his home in Havana he had 30 of the animals
