Genesis and Development of an Organization of Which Any City in Kentucky Might be Proud

The musical director and conductor, Mr. F. G., left a substantial record behind him for his organization, playing first a role in the musical life of eastern Kentucky, and this is his new city of Louisville. Since his arrival, he has been instrumental in the creation of a new musical tradition in the city. His musical gift, his energy, and his unrelenting pursuit of excellence have made him a valuable asset to the community. Mr. F. G. has made a significant impact on the local music scene, and his contributions are immeasurable.
