BIG THREE CONFERENCE STARTS TODAY

Racers Open OVC Play Saturday

Coach Harlan Hodges' Murray State Thoroughbreds open Ohio Valley Conference play in Morehead Saturday night against the Morehead State Eagles. In three games to date, the Thoroughbreds have won two and lost one.

In their last outing, against Evansville, which the Racers won 94-88, Hodges' charges played erratic ball and were able to salvage the victory only at the free throw line. Shooting an amazing 78 charity attempts, they hit 48 of 26 of 43 for the Aces, while lagging from the field on 23 of 70 to 31 of 78 for Evansville.

Howie Crittenden, the Racers' sensational sophomore, is off to a slightly better start than he had last year when he wound up in scoring second to veteran Garrett Beshear. So far, Howie has 19 of 87 field goal attempts for 38 percent and has added 23 points at the free throw line for a total of 66 points.

Last year in his first three games Howie hit 13 of 33 for a percentage of 39 and added 18 charity tosses for 44 points. Except for Crittenden's guard position, every other spot on the Racers team appears wide open. Hodges has used ten men and each one has contributed to the team's successes. In the same way, all can be charged with mistakes that show the team's inexperience.

Four of the ten are freshmen, Powell Smith, Francis Watrous, Reiny Tauck and John Powless. Powless, except for brief action against Evansville, has been benched with a sprained ankle. Dean Akridge is the only senior on the squad. He was a sub last year who is putting up a good fight for a starting guard spot this season.

Charley Sermons, Ted Koenigs, and Rich Starkey are juniors. Sophomore Bobby McLemore rounds out the squad. McLemore is second high scorer with 30 points in three games.

Although the Racers have won their last eight games against the Eagles, Saturday night's favorite appears to be Morehead. The Eagles have won three so far and have lost only to strong Louisville.

Since Hodges came to Murray in 1948 he has lost to Morehead only twice. His first meeting with the Eagles was a loss, while his second defeat coming during the 1949-50 season. Last year Murray won two over Morehead by 81-56 and 81-69 scores.

Down through the years, since the series was started in 1933, Murray has won 27, while dropping nine.

Republicans Have Free Hand To Fight Demos They Say

By RAYMOND J. LAHE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans said today President Eisenhower has given them a free hand to fight Democrats on the Communist-in-government issue but has served notice he will vigorously defend his own administration against any Red-coddling charges from Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

That was the interpretation placed by GOP congressmen and political strategists on the carefully-worded statement which Mr. Eisenhower read to his news conference Wednesday.

McCarthy (R-Wis.) said he would reply to the president this morning.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr., House Republican Whip Leslie C. Areeda, Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall and other GOP leaders praised Mr. Eisenhower's stand in cautiously general terms. But they shied away from any direct comment on the conflict between Mr. Eisenhower and McCarthy.

One GOP senator expressed what seems to be the prevailing attitude:

"That's between the President and McCarthy, and I'm keeping out of it."

The conflict started last week after McCarthy's radio-TV broadcast replying to former President Truman's defense of the Democratic administration's handling of suspected spies in government.

McCarthy concluded then by attacking the Eisenhower administration, too. He implied that its own loyalty program was too weak and that it was too soft toward its allies.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles replied Tuesday by saying that the administration would not resort to blustering and domineering methods. Mr. Eisenhower declared his "full accord" Wednesday with the Dulles statement.

Without mentioning McCarthy, the president made these points:

1. The administration will not use coercion in dealing with other free nations and believes unity among them is vital.

2. He hopes that by next year there will no longer be any fear that Communists are "actively undermining" our government; the administration will fire any if it finds in federal jobs or any found by congressional committees.

3. The public is entitled to the facts of this issue and he hopes the public will support the administration in the 1954 elections for weeding out security risks.

4. He expects the GOP to win support by enacting a "progressive dynamic" legislative program next year.

I know it provokes you when you come to the post office to mail your parcels, or to buy stamps when you have to stand in line but there isn't one thing we can do about it, if the patrons wait until the last few days to mail their parcels and letters.

This office just has so many trained men, and we have to use them in the places where it takes trained personnel to wait on you. It takes a trained man at the parcel or stamp window at all times. We will use the extra help that the post-office gives us during the rush season to deliver parcel post; to sort letters for dispatch; to pour-up incoming parcel-post; and many other duties around the post-office. Please work with us, and all concerned will be happier.

See that your parcels are well labeled; address all your parcels and letters to box number, street address, rural route number, if you have it, and let me make a suggestion. If you will use first class postage in mailing your Xmas cards, you will find that the delivery will be speeded up considerably. You must realize the first class does carry a priority in the dispatching and delivery of mail. You should also place your return address on your mail if you send them first class, as they can be returned to you if not delivered, and they can also be forwarded. Nothing but first class mail can be forwarded, without additional postage.

The parcel-post and stamp windows are open from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day, Monday through Friday, and until 12:00 noon on Saturdays. Will notify you later as to what Saturday afternoon will be open.

It will be a great help, if you will tie your Xmas cards and letters in two bundles, one for local delivery and the other for out of the city and county. New Concord, Hamlin and Lynn Grove, Ky., should be tied with the locals; all other post offices are to be tied with the outgoing.

Let's start now, and mail some packages, buy some stamps, mail some cards, and when Xmas arrives, everybody will have their parcels, their Xmas cards and all will be happy.

Thanks,
Harry I. Siedel

LOW INCOME GROUP HOUSING PLAN WILL BE DISCUSSED BEFORE CONTRACTORS GROUP

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 4. (AP)—W. H. Meade, Kentucky Federal Housing Administration director, today accepted a contractors' group's invitation to explain a proposed FHA low-income group housing plan.

Meade will address a meeting of the Northern Kentucky Home Dec. 14.

He said the low-cost housing plan was designed so that persons with annual incomes of $2,000 or even lower could buy $6,000 homes in small communities.

Meade explained the proposal, which would mean home ownership for a large segment of the population never before given the chance for home ownership, in two-fold:

1. A low down payment, in the reach of most persons with small incomes.

2. Low monthly payments, figured on 25 to 30 year basis. The houses can be financed for as low as $300 down and $36 to $38 monthly payments, including taxes and insurance.

They cannot be built near Kentucky's larger cities, where local planning and zoning rules would require expensive streets and other facilities, but could be built in smaller county seat towns.

Under the National Housing Act passed by the last Congress, the FHA can insure mortgages on such low-cost houses for 95 percent of the FHA appraised value. The maximum amount of insured loans also was raised from $4,750 to $5,750.

Convicted Red Will Get Pension

Dec. 4 (AP)—Alger Hiss, former State Department official serving a prison term for perjury, is entitled to a government pension of $715 a year when he becomes 62.

Officials said today Hiss must be paid the annuity under terms of the Civil Service Retirement Law. He began serving his jail sentence March, 1951, and will be freed next year with time off for good behavior.

Hiss was employed by the State Department from Sept. 1, 1936, until he resigned Jan. 15, 1947. Retirement pension deductions were taken out of his salary beginning Jan. 24, and they totaled $1,791.33.

A State Department official said, "Hiss has not withdrawn his deductions and he is eligible for an annuity at the age 62. There is nothing in the Civil Service Retirement Law at present to prohibit an annuity payment to him for any offense, including treason."

He said at least one large Kentucky contractor is interested in the "minimum house and lot" program.

At present persons in the $45-$75 per week income group are excluded from low-rent public housing projects, when they are available. Their income still had not been sufficient to allow them to purchase homes under the old FHA setup.

Meade said he believed the minimum housing program would succeed because of the virtually untapped group it would appeal to.

He said the firm planning the development contemplated selling a two-bedroom house with inside bath for $5,000—and on long-range purchase terms.

"I've always believed that the best way to combat communism is through home ownership," he added. "This program an offering of new houses for every county seat town in the state."

He said the houses being constructed at Paintsville are of the $6,000 type, including the lot. They

Dead Diver May Have Met With 'Rapture of Deep'

MIAMI (AP)—Scientists and "goggles" speculated today that a fantastic "intoxication" may have killed a daredevil diver in a record Atlantic plunge, but his mother said he "just wanted to go too deep."

The U. S. Coast Guard announced it "assumed" amateur diver Hope Root, 32-year-old Ft. Worth, Tex., had drowned in his plunge of at least 400 feet into the Gulf stream Thursday and gave up a helicopter search for his body.

Diving experts believed Root may have suffered an organic attack or may even have succumbed to a strange malady dubbed by the "goggles" as the "rapture of the deep" as he unofficially broke the record of 396 feet set by Maurice Fargues. Fargues came to the top dead.

Another diver and friend of Root's said the pressure of about 200 pounds per square inch at that depth could easily have caused the undersea intoxication that makes a diver feel he is "God" and blinds him to danger.

But Root's 78-year-old mother, Mrs. Cynthia Hope Root, said, "I think he just wanted to go too deep." She said that "if he had to go he went the way he would have wanted it."

She said he "was happy" as he lowered himself into four-foot waves from the vessel Arbalette four miles offshore with a 65-pound aqualung containing a 30-minute air supply on his back and nine pounds of weights around his waist.

Scientists who followed his progress by a bathometer aboard a University of Miami marine laboratory boat said he descended to 400 feet, leveled off, and then plunged from range toward bottom, estimated at 600 feet.

He said the intruder, whom he identified as Folk, forced his way into the trailer and bound him and his wife after taking $140 in cash and valuables. The murderer carried a flashlight and a toy gun, but Allen said he had been unable to tell the gun was a toy.

Folk was identified from his driver's license as coming from Clovis, N.M. New Mexico authorities reported a man of the same name, engaged in carnival work, was under a 5-year suspended sentence for "contributing to the delinquency of a minor," involving the rape of a 17-year-old girl in 1949. However, they said the murder suspect had not definitely been identified as the same man, although the description was the same.

They were W. G. Duncan, III, Al Rutland, John Knox, and Rev. Paul Watson.

The visitors explained the purpose and goal of the mens group. Officers elected were Troy Glidewell, Jr., president; T. William Pogue, secretary-treasurer.

The group will hold a dinner meeting each month. Dinner was served last night by one of the ladies organizations of the church.

Picture Of Eltis Henson In Booklet

A picture of Eltis Henson appeared in the December issue of the Kentucky Parent-Teacher, official of the state association.

Cutlines under Mr. Henson's picture indicated that he is the Home and Family Life and Parent Education chairman of the state body. Mr. Henson is the Director of Field Services at Murray State College, a position he has held for the past four years.

He said at least one large Kentucky contractor is interested in the "minimum house and lot" program.

The interest rate on such minimum-cost houses would be 5 percent, too, as compared with 4 1/2 percent for all other FHA insured loans, which should interest small town banks. The 1/2 percent increase allowed is for service fees to the mortgagees.

The payments would be made over a 20 to 25 year period, as few banks would be willing to make 30 year loans, although such loans are permitted under FHA regulations.

Meade said he met with bankers, contractors and businessmen at Paintsville, his former hometown, and they are building 40 units, largely through local investments under the FHA program.

Defense Of Western World Will Be Decided At Meeting

By MERRIMAN SMITH

UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT
TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP)—The two-postponed Big Three conference starts today with the arrival of President Eisenhower, key man in the triumvirate which will decide the defense of Europe and the whole Western world.

Three momentous issues faced Mr. Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and French Premier Joseph Laniel as they prepared to open their four-day session at 4:30 p.m. EST, five hours and 15 minutes after the President's arrival from Washington.

They were: Germany's future, a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting with the Soviet Union and the war against the Communists in Indochina, now in its eighth year.

The three statesmen also were expected to study important "side" issues, such as the Trieste crisis and renewal of exchange of atomic information between the United States and Britain, a relation which was broken off after the British traitor, Klaus Fuchs, gave atomic secrets to the Russians.

A possible Big Four meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov obviously was the first item on the agenda. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault held a 90-minute informal meeting Thursday night and agreed to accept the Soviet proposal for a Four-Power meeting of foreign ministers in Berlin.

Their next move will be to win the support of U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at their scheduled 3 p.m. EST meeting, a preliminary to the opening of the conference.

It was learned that, in deference to the wishes of the United States, Eden and Bidault agreed the West must make clear to the Kremlin that a Big-Four conference would take into consideration only the German unity and Austrian treaty issues.

Under no circumstances would they permit Molotov to use the conference as a sounding board for bringing Communist China to a subsequent Big Five meeting, it was learned.

Eden and Bidault, whose governments are strongly in favor of the Berlin meeting, also agreed that it should be held about the end of January.

The United States was said to be learned.

Cherry Corner News

NOV. 28, 1953

This nice rain is something different than the weather we have been having for so long. I know everyone is glad that it finally rained.

I do hope that everyone had a nice Thanksgiving Day, and that everyone took time to count some of their blessings.

As we thought of the Pilgrims of about three thousand years ago, we need to read Genesis 1 and 2, and thank God for His Greatness.

Mrs. John Keel of Frankfort, Ky., recently visited the Rev. and Mrs. Lon Outland and Charles, and attended church at Cherry Corner. Mrs. Keel taught the Young Women's Sunday School Class of which Mrs. Lon Outland is the teacher. She is the youngest sister of Rev. Lon Outland, Mrs. Reuben Falwell and Mrs. Paul Poyner.

Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Parker and Kenneth and Mrs. Nora Parker spent part of last week in St. Louis, visiting the W.A. Parkers, James and Charlie Parker, and the Charles Bramlets.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Pittman and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Ofus Outland were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Farris, Monday evening.

I'm glad to hear that little Betty Buey is improved after having polio, in the Murray Hospital. She is the smallest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Buey of the Green Plains Community.

Mr. and Mrs. Ofus Outland were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Beaton Pitts and son, David last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Nora Parker spent a part of last week with Mrs. Jimmy Buey and helped quilt.

Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Henry and Ray were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ofus Outland Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Winchester and children were the Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Clayton of Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Outland have traded cars. They now have a nice looking gray Chevrolet.

The Junior G.A.'s of Cherry Corner are having their week of Prayer program with the "Lottie Moon" Christmas offering, Wednesday evening, December 2, at the church, at 8:15. The G.A.'s are urged to be present and visitors are always welcome.

Fellowship Group Has Meeting Tuesday At Murray Guest House

Group II of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church held its regular meeting at the Murray Guest House Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

Mrs. Harlan Hodges was the speaker for the afternoon. She gave a review of the first part of the very outstanding book, "The Greatest Story Ever Told" by Fulton Oursler.

The Bible Quiz was conducted by Mrs. A. B. Austin and the devotion was given by Mrs. R. L. Wade. Mrs. Rupert Parks, chairman, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Arlo Sprunger, Mrs. Rudy Albritten and Mrs. Harold Marvin, hostesses, served a party plate in the Christmas motif to the members present.

Engagement Announced Of Miss Bushart And Pvt. Hugh E. Wilson

Miss Dortha Bushart

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Outland of Murray announced the engagement of their granddaughter, Miss Dortha Faye Bushart, to Private Hugh E. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh F. Wilson of Murray.

Miss Bushart is a graduate of the Murray High School and is now employed at the Calloway Manufacturing Company. Pvt. Wilson is a graduate of Murray High School and attended Murray State College for three years. He is now serving with the Army at Killen, Texas.

The wedding will be an event of the early part of January.

Murray Training FHA Chapter Holds Open House For 8th Grade

The Murray Training FHA chapter recently held open house for the eighth grade girls.

The purpose of this activity was to help the prospective home economics girls to understand the different areas studied in a vocational home economics course. This was done through displays.

The girls participating in this were as follows: Display I, family relations, Ann Ferguson. In this display, were books on dating, parties, and growing up. Display II, child care, Wilma Boyd. Examples of good and poor toys, storybooks, and games were exhibited. Display III, foods, Catherine Irvin. Pamphlets on quick meals, nutrition, and inexpensive meals were displayed at this table.

Display IV, clothing, Joan Goad. Included in this exhibit were a skirt and blouse suitable for school wear, suitable colors for different individuals, pamphlets on laundering and an attractive bulletin board on pressing points.

Display V, health, Norma Lassiter. Examples of good and poor breakfasts, safety bulletins and books on home care of the sick were attractively displayed on this table.

Display VI, housing, Francis Perry. Shown in this display were wallpaper samples, a floor plan made by a home economics III girl and examples of rooms inexpensively decorated. Display VII, management, Ann Fairwell. Books on better buymanship, budgets, insurance and investments were shown and distributed.

Each girl gave a brief summary of her display.

Following the discussion of the displays the group enjoyed games which were prepared and led by Patricia Wilson.

Refreshments were served by the committee.

Mrs. Jeddie Cathey Is Hostess For The Eva Wall Circle Meeting

The Eva Wall Circle of the Woman's Society of the Memorial Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Jeddie Cathey, 1612 West Main Street, Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

Mrs. Noel Melugin, chairman, presided at the meeting.

A special week of prayer program for foreign missions was presented with Mrs. J. W. Shelton, program chairman, in charge. The theme for the week is "We Have Seen His Star." The topic for the Tuesday program was "His Star Illuminating Pagan Darkness."

Those having a part in the Tuesday program were Mrs. Preston Boyd, Mrs. Hugh McElrath, Mrs. Horace Jones, Mrs. Hubert Cochran, Mrs. A. M. Hawley, Mrs. C. M. Hendricks, Mrs. Noel Melugin, Mrs. Eva Wall and Mrs. J. W. Shelton.

Following the program a period of special prayer was held.

Mrs. Cathey served refreshments to the eleven members present.

NEW YORK (UP) —Mink now is for the men.

So are gray and black Persian lamb. Alaskan seal and leopard. The mens choice of furs depends on the occasion.

Responsible for men wearing fur is a young New Yorker named Artiste Day, who makes fur into clip-on bow ties. He recommends grey Persian with grey suits; black Alaskan seal for evening attire; silverblue mink for a blue suit; leopard for sportswear. And for what Day calls the conservative man, there's the black Persian.

Come In and Order One...Today!

Of course, any day is a wonderful day for stepping up to Cadillac.

When the magic moment arrives in a man's life when he feels entitled to the "car of cars," he should make the move without hesitation—regardless of year, or season, or any other consideration.

But we do feel, in all honesty, that the motorist who finds himself in that happy circumstance this fall is particularly fortunate.

For Cadillac has never offered so many wonderful things, in such abundant measure, as it does today.

It is supremely beautiful—with grace and dignity and majesty that set it instantly apart from the rest of the world's motor cars.

Its performance is simply breath-taking—even when measured against Cadillac's own extraordinary standards. And the car is luxurious and distinctive and pride-inspiring far beyond its illustrious predecessors.

In addition to all this, the current Cadillac creation is unbelievably practical to own and economical to operate. The lowest-priced Cadillac, for instance, now costs less than twenty-two different models of other makes of motor cars manufactured in America.

And you can ride out a normal, full day's journey on a single tankful of gasoline.

As if this were not sufficient to set it apart, a Cadillac car—according to an authoritative study of used car prices—may be expected to return a greater percentage of its owner's original investment at the time of resale than any other motor car in the land!

So—if you are considering a Cadillac for yourself and your family—come in and order one today!

It's the right thing to do—and it's the right time to do it.

Cotton Acreage Allotments Will Be Ready Soon

Cotton acreage allotments for 1954 will be made available to growers in Kentucky's eight cotton producing counties before December 15, the date set for the referendum on cotton marketing quotas. Clarence L. Miller, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (formerly PMA) state committee, said today.

Kentucky counties producing cotton are Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, McCracken, and Marshall.

A national marketing quota and a national acreage allotment for the 1954 upland cotton crop was proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture on October 9. The quota was set at the minimum of 10,000,000 bales because of the present large supply. The Secretary is directed by law to proclaim quotas when the total supply exceeds the normal supply.

At least two-thirds of the cotton farmers voting in the referendum, on December 15 must approve quotas before they may be made effective.

Farm acreage allotments will be established on the basis of an apportionment of the national allotment to states and to counties producing cotton, according to provisions of the law.

If growers approve quotas, price supports will be available on the 1954 upland cotton crop at 80 percent of parity to cooperate who plant within their acreage allotments. If quotas are turned down, supports to cooperators will drop to 50 percent of parity.

Growers who exceed their acreage allotments, under a cotton quota program, will be subject to marketing penalties of 50 percent of parity on their excess production. In general the farm marketing quota is the production of the farm's acreage allotment.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

"YOU DON'T seem overwhelmed with grief, Miss Morgan" the police officer noted.

"I can't pretend, because I dislike Mr. Cummings. I doubt that you'll find many mourners, not at Delatfield's, anyway."

"Why were you there till eight-fifteen last night?"

"I had made an eight-o'clock date to meet at Barney's, around the corner, you know. I stayed at the store to kill time."

"An eight-o'clock dinner date?"

"No."

"Why, then, did you stay at the store to kill time? Why didn't you go home to eat first, or out to some supper by restaurant?"

"I often skip meals; you get into the habit when you're underpaid." Charlotte smiled, and met his unresponsive eyes. "I... well, all right, Lieutenant Chase, I'd better tell you something. Late yesterday afternoon Mr. Cummings promoted me to advertising manager. I didn't want the job, chiefly because I like Mario Milani whom Mr. Cummings had just fired from the position. Everybody else liked him, too, and I felt sure they'd resent me. Still, it meant more money, advancement. I was upset and wanted to stay and think things over. I cleaned my desk and sorted papers; I've always found that helps sort thoughts."

"I'm interested in your thoughts. Let's have more."

"Well, one thought that occurs to me now is that there may be no proof I was promoted yesterday. I don't know whether ne spoke to his secretary or made any memo."

"Did you decide to take the job?"

"I had decided I definitely didn't want it."

"Did you see anyone while you waited?"

"I saw Sam, and the cleaning woman, Grace. I think her name is."

"And you heard nothing?"

"Well, you know the advertising office is at the back, and to anticipate your next question, it must have been just after eight when I rang for Sam."

"You were a little late for your date. Why?"

"I'm always late for dates, just one of those girls."

"With whom was it, if I may ask?"

"Eric Hay. He's a layout artist at Delatfield's. I had dinner with him right before last. But yesterday Mr. Cummings made a rule that there would be no more dates between employees. So Eric and I thought we'd just happen to meet, as it were."

"And did you?"

"Yes, just for one drink, actually. Then I went home, alone, had a bath and went to bed."

"Are you in love with this Eric?"

"I've been trying to find out, Lieutenant Chase. Maybe you can."

"Why had Mr. Cummings made this rule about dates between employees?"

"Unless you insist, I'd rather not talk about that. You'll find in the course of your questioning that a couple of things occurred yesterday at the office, but they didn't concern me any more than the others. I'd rather not be known as the tattler."

"You interest me. Very well, that's all for now."

Charlotte hesitated, seeming almost shy. "Lieutenant, there is one thing more. At one time I had some dates with Mr. Cummings. It was never a matter of romance, I was a sort of protegee. And I hadn't seen him outside the office since last summer."

"I see. Weren't you his protegee any longer?"

Charlotte tried to laugh. "No I'd grown up to advertising manager, remember?"

The lieutenant closed his notebook and glanced around. "You live alone here, Miss Morgan?"

"Yes, in fact, I'm alone in the world."

"No relatives?"

"No one I'm close to. Is that all now?"

"That's all for the moment, only..."

"Only don't try to leave town, is that it?" Charlotte smiled. "I haven't been away from New York in years, I couldn't bear to leave it."

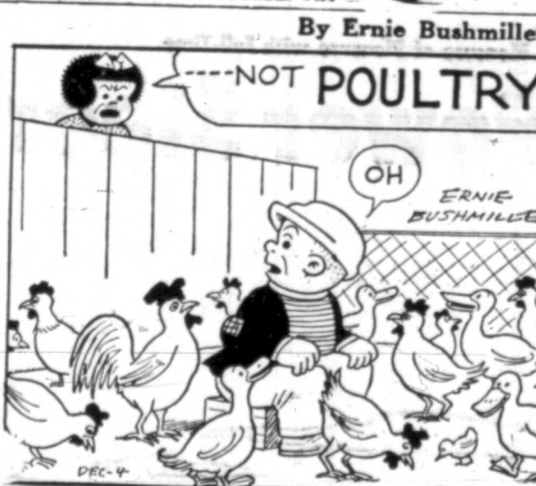

Lieutenant Chase brightened. "You like it, too?"

Charlotte nodded. "It's a disaster."

They parted almost friends.

F.F.A. News

The FFA has begun the development of a Leadership Training center at Hardinsburg. The camp is to be used by both Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America.

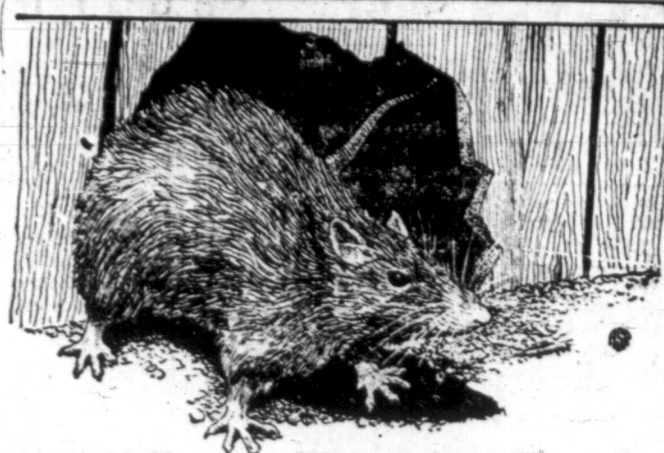

The president Jimmy D. Foster and advisor Mr. Carmon Parks attended the kick off drive which was held at Hardinsburg, Ky. on Tuesday, November 10. About 1500

Future Farmers, Teachers of Agriculture, and friends of the FFA attended and a goal of $250,000 was set as the amount needed to develop the training center needed to serve the rural youth of Kentucky.

The Hazel Chapter is ready to do its part in promoting the campaign and plans are being developed by which we expect to raise our quota of money.

Now Is the Time to Kill Rats, Mice

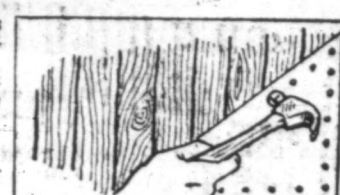

Rats and mice move indoors when the mercury drops, so be prepared for the annual invasion. Pest control specialists say that an effective anti-rat and mouse

campaign includes these three steps:

- 1—For good sanitation, remove all rubbish piles and stack lumber and firewood neatly on racks at least one foot above ground level.
- 2—Buildings in which grain and feed are stored should be rat-proofed, if possible. Informative bulletins on ratproofing may be obtained from your county agricultural agent.
- 3—Third and most effective measure in the autumn anti-rat campaign is baiting. Outstanding killers are warfarin, a potent chemical discovered in the laboratories of Dr. Karl Paul Link, Biochemistry Dept., University of Wisconsin, by Drs. Mark A. Stahmann, Miyoshi Ikawa, and Link. Many communities are now achieving a "rat-free" status by using warfarin bait in local campaigns.

Ratproof Buildings
This particular bait-killers all species of rats and mice common to the United States; it is a slow killer and does not create bait shyness; no pre-baiting is required; no tolerance develops; it is easy to use; it may be used in any climate or season at any temperature; it is comparatively safe to use; and it may be purchased as a concentrate or a ready-mixed bait.

Place Rat Bait
In using warfarin bait, it must be made available to the rats and mice at all times. Bait stations—shallow containers protected with a board or a wooden box—are usually examined every 48 hours. A limited number of permanent bait stations will kill newcomers and control re-invasion.
