DUTCH RIDE — Well, not precisely, but the special seat in which 2-year old Stephanie rides with her mother Mrs. J. Allen Singleton came from Holland. The American-made bicycle was fitted with an especially strong front stem to carry the extra weight. Stephanie's seat hooks onto the handlebars. Singleton, who has been assistant professor of political science at Southeastern State College for the past three years, has accepted a position at Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn., and the family will move at the end of the summer term here. Mrs. Singleton is the former Judy Browning.

Fraternity Honor Won By Blaylock

Paul Blaylock, who graduated first in his class at UTM this past year, was recently notified by the Supreme Council of Phi Kappa Alpha fraternity that he is the 1968 winner in the Southern United States of the David C. Powers Award as "Outstanding Undergraduate of the Year."

Mr. Blaylock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blaylock of South Fulton, was president of the UTM student body and a member of the Martin chapter of Phi Kappa Alpha. Mr. Blaylock has also won a scholarship to U-T Medical School in Memphis this fall where he will specialize in neurosurgery. This summer, Mr. Blaylock is employed at the Goodyear office in Union City.

After research by the national fraternity, it was discovered that this is the first time that a student body president of a major college has graduated with such high academic standards.

Phi Kappa Alpha, which was formed March, 1868 at the University of Virginia, will hold its Centennial Convention in Richmond, Va., this August. There, Mr. Blaylock will be recognized for his excellent college record and will be presented his award by Senator Everett Dirksen, a member of the fraternity.

John M. Hood Transferred To Wickliffe

The transfer and appointment of John M. Wood to West Virginia Pulp and Paper's Wickliffe mill as a Procurement Forester has been announced by J. B. Harmon, Wood Procurement Manager for the Wickliffe mill.

Mr. Wood, who prior to this appointment served as a forester at Westvaco's Luke, Md. mill, will have responsibility for a wide range of forestry and wood procurement activities within a 75 mile radius of the Wickliffe operation.

A native of Bonne Terre, Mo., Mr. Wood earned his BSF degree in forestry from the University of Missouri. He joined Westvaco at Luke in October of 1966 after three years of service as a resident forester with the Indiana Department of National Resources.

Mr. Wood is a member of the Society of American Foresters and the American Forestry Association. He and his wife, Elaine, have just moved to western Kentucky and are residing on Route 1, Wickliffe, with their two young daughters, Mary Marguerite and Cynthia Ann.

Traffic Light Causes Headaches

MARLBOROUGH, Mo.

The signal box for a traffic light that occasionally fails to operate has been padlocked by the State Highway Department to keep police fingers out.

"We've had a lot of trouble with this signal," said James Roberts, district highway engineer. "Part of the trouble is that we're getting a lot of help adjusting it."

The department says policemen were fiddling with it. But Marshal Melvin Cotton said his men were only opening the box to cool it and allow it to start working again. The department plans to install a larger fan.

Courts Support Center Project

Action taken by the quarterly courts of both Obion and Weakley counties Monday has made the Northwest Tennessee Mental Health Center, to be established in Union City, a virtual reality. Both counties made funds available to establish and help maintain the mental health center and additional financial support will be sought from other area counties.

Included in the budget approved by the Obion County Quarterly Court was $14,000 for the center. Appropriations from incorporated towns in this county and help from the United Fund are expected to swell the local total to $22,275.

County Judge Dan W. McKinnis missed his own court session to appear before Weakley County magistrates Monday and explain the mental health center and its purposes. He asked the Weakley County magistrates to contribute $2,422 toward the project, 10 cents for each person in the county. Instead, the court members rounded the figure off and placed $2,500 in its budget for the center.

Monday Judge McKinnis plans to attend the meeting of the Gibson County Quarterly Court at Trenton to ask that body to contribute $4,470 to the project. Visits to the Dyer County Court, where $2,954 will be sought, and the Lake County Court, where he will ask for $957, also are planned.

To the money raised in the five counties will be added state funds in the amount of 42 per cent of the total raised locally.

According to Judge McKinnis, the mental health clinic will have four full-time specialists, including a psychiatrist, psychologist, a psychiatric social worker and a secretary.

"This team will visit each of the participating counties one day each week and each participating county will have two members on the center's board of directors," Judge McKinnis said.

Dr. Nat. T. Winston, Tennessee's Commissioner of Mental Health, has pledged his support to the local center and is actively helping to seek qualified personnel to staff the center.

WE'RE PROUD OF YOU

The farm crisis required immediate action. On March 8, 1933, just four days after the inauguration of President Roosevelt, a special session of Congress was called to act on the banking and agricultural crisis. The first day of the session, March 9, legislation was passed on the banking emergency.

Farm leaders met on March 10 to make their recommendations to meet the emergency in Agriculture. On March 11 the Committee presented their proposal to President Roosevelt. The President directed the Department of Agriculture to prepare the text of legislation along the recommended lines of the farm leaders. On March 16 the draft of the emergency farm legislation was ready and sent to Congress. On May 12, 1933, the President signed the Agricultural Adjustment Act. This Act was considered one of the most important of the six major pieces of legislation passed in the "First Hundred Days."

After 35 years of progress, one of our goals today is to put farmers and rural people in a position to share more fully in the economic growth of the Nation.

U. S. Surtax Now In Effect

WASHINGTON — The federal government started taking a higher tax bite out of Americans' paychecks today as the 10 per cent income surtax recommended by President Johnson to help pay for the Vietnam war finally went into effect.

All paychecks received from today on must reflect the surcharge through an increased deduction for federal income taxes.

The 10 per cent increase is on the federal tax Americans already have been paying, not on their total wages.

If $20 had been withheld from each weekly paycheck for federal taxes, for example, $22 will be withheld beginning today.

All paychecks must account for the increased withholding to cover the surcharge even if the money was earned before this week. Only persons in the two lowest income tax brackets are exempt.

President Johnson originally submitted the surcharge to Congress last Aug. 3 and asked for an Oct. 1 effective date for individuals.

When Congress failed to act last year, Johnson changed the effective date for individuals to last April 1, a date approved by Congress in the measure finally passed in June.

Because of this retroactive feature, the tax withheld from paychecks won't cover all the money individuals will owe the government by the end of December.

The extra 3½ months must be paid when Federal income tax returns are filed by next April 15.

This will mean smaller and fewer refunds next year and larger payments of additional tax.

For calendar 1968 as a whole, the surcharge will represent an over-all increase in taxes of 7.5 per cent since it will be paid for only nine months of the year.

The surcharge is scheduled to expire next June 30 but at least one administration official, Undersecretary of Commerce Howard J. Samuels, already has urged its extension to help pay the nation's social legislation costs.

That decision will be up to the administration elected in November, and to the new Congress.

The tax is intended to help meet the cost of the Vietnam War—now running more than $28 billion a year; to keep President Johnson's Great Society programs rolling; to stem inflation, and to reduce a budget deficit which in the last fiscal year rose to about $25 billion—fourth largest in history.

Coupled with the surcharge package is a congressional mandate to the administration to cut spending by $6 billion.

In addition to the surcharge on individuals and corporations, the new law also speeds up collections of corporate income taxes and extends the 10 per cent excise tax on telephone service and the 7 per cent manufacturers excise on automobiles.

The corporate tax is retroactive to Jan. 1.

The entire package is expected to increase revenues by more than $15 billion in the current fiscal year which ends June 30 with the individual surcharge accounting for $7.75 billion of this.

Johnson signed the measure into law on June 28.

Gore Discusses US Spending

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn. — A 10-year battle to see who will control government spending will begin when the Vietnam war ends, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., predicts.

Speaking Saturday before the Upper Duck River Association, Gore said, "We can't build dams on the Duck River and satisfy their wants at the same time."

Gore predicted the battle between the military-industrial interests and those seeking to transfer war spending to full employment and development of natural resources will last for at least 10 years.

"They'll want to spend about as much as we do today on arms, space and military hardware," Gore predicted.

Following Gore's speech, the association adopted a resolution urging the Tennessee Valley Authority to push immediately for funds for Kormandy Dam on the Duck, to allow construction on Normandy and Columbia dams to start next year.

Ann Bondurant Complimented With Luncheon At Biltmore

The Biltmore dining room was the setting recently for a bridal luncheon honoring Miss Ann Bondurant of Hickman, attractive fiancée of Ronald E. Foley of Martin. Hostesses for the courtesy were Mrs. David B. Graham and daughter, Miss Kate Graham of Clinton.

Guests were served a delicious three course meal from a table centered with a beautiful arrangement of pink roses in a crystal bowl.

The honoree chose for the party a design of jonquil yellow voile belted at the waistline and trimmed with a wide ruffle down the front and about the cuffs of the long sleeves. At her shoulder was a yellow tinted orchid, a gift from the hostesses who also gave her a large silver tray in her chosen pattern.

Mrs. John C. Bondurant of Hickman, mother of the bride-elect, was wearing a smart gray and white striped knit dress marked at the neckline with a gray organza bow. Her shoes and purse were in gray.

Guests attending, in addition to the honoree and her mother, were Miss Jane Voorhees, Mrs. Austin Voorhees, Miss Amy Bondurant, Miss Lucy Bondurant, and Miss Betty Shaw, all of Hickman. Mrs. David Malton and Mrs. Johnny Hundley of Martin, Miss Pat Bond of Milan, Miss Janis Caldwell and Mrs. David Caldwell, an aunt of the bride-to-be, of Union City, Miss Suzie White of Hornsbeck, and Mrs. George Emerson of Clinton.

Two S. F. Children Killed In Accident

A South Fulton family, on their way to visit relatives in Missouri, were involved in an accident which claimed two of their lives about 3 Wednesday afternoon near Cape Girardeau, Mo.

The Missouri Highway Patrol at Poplar Bluff said Gary Dean Townsend, 11, was killed almost instantly. His infant brother, Marvin Byron Townsend, 10 months, died a few hours later in a Cape Girardeau hospital.

Remap Group Is Appointed

Seven members of the Obion County Quarterly Court have been named to a committee to study and develop a plan to reapportion the county court in compliance with the Supreme Court's one man, one vote mandate.

County Judge Dan W. McKinnis Jr. announced the names of the committee members today and said they will meet "in the very near future" to begin work on a reapportionment plan.

Named to the committee were Knox Daniels, Jack Church and A.T. Clear of the Union City area, C.D. Jones of South Fulton, Clyde Howard of Kenton, Jones Carver of the Obion-Elbridge community and Marvin Hayes of the Hornbeak-Reelfoot Lake area.

Judge McKinnis said he has already received, with the help of Representative Robert A. Everett, information from the U.S. Bureau of the Census but that more detailed information is needed.

"As soon as this additional information is obtained, the committee will be able to start developing a redistricting plan," Judge McKinnis said.

The next scheduled meeting of the county court is Oct. 7 but Judge McKinnis indicated the reapportionment plan might not be ready in time to present to the full court for its consideration in October.

"It all depends on how soon the committee can get the information it needs from the Census Bureau and then get down to the actual work," he explained.

The one man, one vote mandate of the Supreme Court, which federal courts have ruled applies to both state legislatures and county courts, means that each representative, or magistrate, must represent substantially the same number of citizens as every other representative or magistrate in the political division involved.

UC Schools Face Problem

US Officials Question Integration Progress

by HELL KING

Despite the steady and sincere progress toward total integration realized during the past few years, the Union City Board of Education finds itself in warm water that could become hot any day now.

School boards in several surrounding counties already have been told to wipe out all traces of so-called dual school systems or face the loss of badly-needed federal funds. While the Union City system had made giant strides toward this goal and has plans to completely eliminate what remains of the dual system here by 1970, it may not be early enough for those who control the federal purse strings.

In May, a team from the regional (Atlanta) office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare visited Union City for two days, a visit prompted by the fact that Union City's plans failed to meet a 1969 deadline. The team returned on June 3 with specific suggestions. Briefly, the suggestions were that the Miles school be used to house all seventh and eighth grade students in the system or that certain elementary grades be placed in the Miles school in their entirety—for example, all first, second and third graders at Central, with fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh graders at Miles. The HEW team, however, left the way open for an alternate solution but emphasized that it would have to be acceptable and achieve total integration.

"If some acceptable plan cannot be submitted in 15 days, the Union City system file is to be sent to Washington for further examination and possible initiation of administrative proceedings for the termination of the district's federal assistance," the team told members of the school board. This, of course, was a warning that federal school funds may be withheld from the school system if the process of eliminating the dual school structure is not speeded up so that complete elimination can be achieved by the fall of 1969.

"We certainly hope that HEW appreciates the fact that we are sincere and are working diligently toward the day when what remains of the dual structure here has been eliminated," said J.L. Rochelle, school superintendent. "We are much closer to that goal here in Union City than many other school systems and this fact, plus the fact that our plans are only one year outside of the HEW timetable, gives us hope that our program will be approved and that we can proceed in an orderly manner toward our objective."

Should the local program be rejected and should the school board find it impossible to move any faster than presently planned, the federal funds at stake total more than $100,000, much of which is used to supplement teachers' salaries. Indeed, more than 10 employees of the school system are paid entirely with federal money. Other means of paying them would have to be found or the employees dropped.

Since the warning, the school board has filed with HEW a supplement to its original plan, one facet of which calls for the transfer of a special education class composed of nine white children and one Negro child from a residence to the vacated Home Economics room at Miles. The class will be taught by a white teacher and a white aide.

Further, the Tennessee Department of Education has approved a kindergarten class for the Union City system and this also will be conducted in the Miles school, catering to children who are economically and culturally deprived, both white and Negro.

No reply has yet been received from HEW regarding the acceptability of this addition to the local program.

As it stands now, the Union City school system will eliminate grades 10, 11 and 12 at Miles and bring all those students into Union City High School in September. All ninth grade students already have been placed in the high school and all eighth graders are attending at Central.

The "Freedom of Choice" plan still exists in grades 1 through 7. Under this plan a number of Negro students already have been attending formerly all-white schools at Central, East Side and Westover. In the lower grades, however, Miles remains all-Negro, except that the faculty is integrated and a few white students attend a machine shop class there.

Approximately 60 per cent of the Negro teachers and students in the Union City school system have been transferred to formerly all-white schools with integrated faculties, the school board points out.

A band house is now under construction at the high school which will make three new classrooms available by September and until the completion of the comprehensive high school project which is expected to see a brand new high school complex completed by the fall of 1970. There will be no segregation in local schools when that date arrives.

But so far, HEW says that's one year too late. The school board still harbors hope, however, that HEW will yield enough to permit the plans to be carried through.
