Parties For Kids

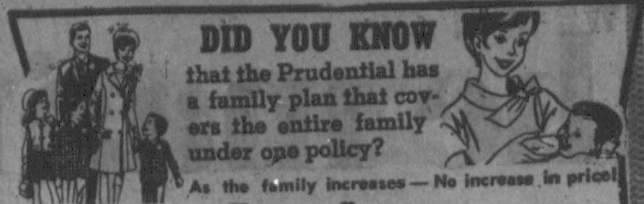

DETROIT (AP) — Christmas, it is a desk chair without legs with pink and green snow and a heavy duty coil spring, and equipped with a seat belt. If you sit in the chair and lean back, you dip and tip, swoop to the ground and pop back up again.

Or there's a giant swing, hung from a mammoth tripod, designed by Mike Krzyzowski, 18, of Detroit. The seat is round and big enough for three children and you climb on it on a rope ladder. There are light shows, folk singing, dancing, and an expert Jerry Flum, 16, of Oak Park.

PERSONALIZE GREETINGS

Sign your Christmas cards yourself to bring warm, personalized greetings into your friends' homes — and hearts. Sign the man's name first — Jim and Marge Smith — and never, never use Mr. and Mrs. on your cards. If children are included on your greetings, their names follow your husband's and yours. Sign your cards with a Flair, the new nylon tip pen by Paper Mate. For a happy Yuletide greeting, sign them in red or green.

State's Electors Vote For Nixon

NASHVILLE — Tennessee's presidential electors cast all 11 of their votes today for Richard M. Nixon for president and Spiro T. Agnew for vice president.

The Republican Nixon-Agnew ticket won the state's electoral votes by carrying Tennessee in the Nov. 5 election.

Nixon carried Tennessee with a popular vote of 472,592. Third party candidate George Wallace was second with 424,792 votes, and Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey trailed with 351,233. Tennessee electors voted as electors met across the nation to record electoral votes won in the November balloting.

Throughout the nation, Nixon seized an early lead over Vice President Humphrey in early returns from the presidential balloting of the Electoral College today.

The District of Columbia was first to give its votes, 3 of them, to Humphrey. West Virginia followed suit with 7, and at noon the count was Nixon 27 to 10.

The votes were not a surprise, and neither was the probable outcome of the electors' meetings in other state capitals and the District of Columbia. In what may be the last election decided by the Electoral College system.

Booster Group May Help Fulton Scouts

FULTON, Ky. — Tentative plans have been put in motion for the formation of a booster organization to help the Explorer Scouts in the operation of their youth center.

Mother Of Quints Gives Birth To Quads

Dec. 14
LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique — A 32-year-old African housewife who four years ago had quintuplets gave birth to quadruplets at midnight Friday in Holy Soul hospital here.

Doctors said the quads, about one month premature, had a good chance of survival. The mother, Mrs. Clara Felisberto Mutangua, from the small village of Zavala in this Portuguese East African territory, was termed in excellent condition.

The births lasted 20 minutes. The babies, three boys and a girl weighing between four pounds six ounces and four Harley Tolson, one of the organizers of the group, presided at a meeting held this week. He told the group of the need for some adult supervision at the event the post has.

The post has been criticized during the past for the conduct of some of the youngsters attending dances held at the post home.

Tolson told the group the trouble that had arisen did not originate inside the building but was the result of a group outside the building. "What this group of youngsters need is people who care," Tolson told the group. "We cannot come up with the answer tonight or tomorrow, but at least we can get started."

The proposal was the formation of an organization to act as advisors and leaders in getting a move started for the construction of a Youth Center for the Twin Cities. A tentative steering committee was selected to meet with the Explorers and formulate plans for a permanent organization.

One of the pressing needs reportedly is money to help in the operation of the post in its present location. Envelopes were passed out at the meeting for donations.

We want to take this opportunity to wish you cheer... and to thank you for letting us serve you.

David Dunbar Buick, founder of the famous car, died a poor man in 1929, while employed by a trade school, although he became rich because of his invention of the trip toilet and his perfection of the process for making baked enamel bathtubs. He lost his fortune in development of the car that bears his name and sold out to Wm. Durant, who started the giant General Motors Corporation with Buick. The development of bathtubs and cars can be seen at Nebraska's outstanding Harold Warp Pioneer Village at Minden, in south central Nebraska.

Kaiser Wrote History Perched In Saddle

DOORN, The Netherlands — Kaiser Wilhelm II, who once owned 86 castles, palaces and villas, lived comparatively modestly in exile here. His wood-chopping feats are celebrated, but less well known is his writing, which he did while perched in a saddle. He wrote "Comparative History From 1874 to the Outbreak of the 1914-18 War."

Holiday Drink!

Hot mulled wine is a cheering holiday recipe. First make a sugar flavored syrup with your favorite spices. Add in a 1-to-3 ratio to a California Burgundy, heated to simmering. And to serve it in style, use the hand-blown all-purpose wine glass, tempered to withstand heat. Recommended by the wine growers of California, it may be ordered by mail.

City Officials Of The U. S. Hear Frizzell

City Manager and Mrs. David Frizzell returned to Union City Thursday night after a week spent in New Orleans where Mr. Frizzell attended the annual meeting of the National League of Cities, attended by some 3,200 delegates. Because of the rapid growth which Union City is experiencing and which is expected to accelerate over the next several years, Mr. Frizzell had been asked to speak on the subject, "Fiscal Capacity of Small Cities To Respond."

Mr. Frizzell outlined some of the numerous demands for the expansion of city streets and other city facilities which are now being met by Union City and which must be met in the future.

His remarks were received with great interest by officials of cities of similar size, facing similar situations throughout the United States. After his talk, he was bombarded with questions for a period of an hour or two.

Communists Can Be Buried In Arlington

WASHINGTON — The Army cannot deny a convicted Communist burial in Arlington National Cemetery if he qualifies otherwise, the U.S. Court of Appeals has ruled.

Robert G. Thompson, who won the Distinguished Service Cross in New Guinea during World War II and died in New York in 1965, was denied burial at Arlington under a regulation disqualifying veterans who serve five years or more in prison.

Thompson was sentenced to three years in prison in 1949 on conviction with 10 other top U.S. Communists of conspiring to overthrow the government. He jumped bail and received an additional four-year sentence.

His widow sought to have his ashes buried at Arlington.

CHEYENNE, Wyo.

Robert Timlin of Cheyenne is a trapshooting enthusiast. So when he was married to the former Nona Gayle-Weber the ceremony was held at the Cheyenne municipal trapshoot club-house.

They were greeted by a five shot salute from fellow trapshooters after the ceremony.

Down On The Farm

Most cattle show signs of moderate to heavy infestations of lice during winter. Lice on cattle are seldom a problem in summer. High temperature, direct sunlight, short hair and fly spray keep numbers down. A few healthy survivors, however, multiply rapidly when cattle are housed in cold weather and their hair grows long.

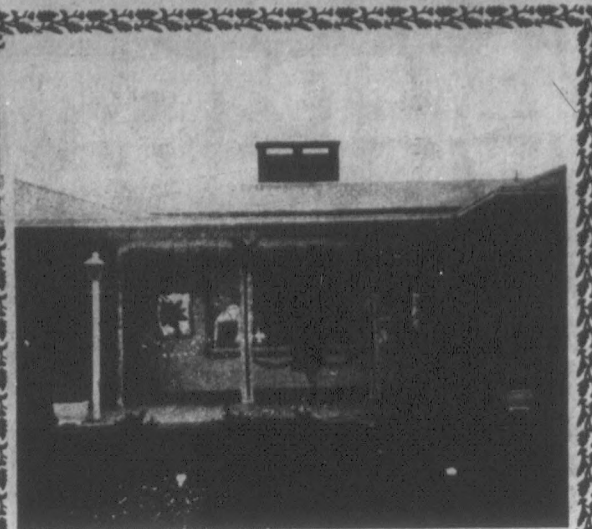

You should suspect cattle lice, if individual animals appear unthrifty, spend much time rubbing or scratching, or show signs of thinning hair. Some cows may be heavily infested, while others in the same herd will have very few lice and seem to be immune. Lice usually appear on the sides of the neck and brisket, along the backbone, on the inner thighs, around the tail setting, and on or near eyes, ears and muzzle.

There are two kinds of lice found on cattle. Blue lice are the blood sucking variety, while red lice are biting in their habits. Same treatments kill both, and it has been determined that neither can live more than a few days away from their host. They are considered true parasites.

Most authorities agree that spraying controls lice much better than dusting, however, it is best in winter if weather is extreme. It is somewhat difficult to apply dust thoroughly. When dusting be sure to sift dust through dense hair on cows with a stiff brush. Dust or spray must come in contact with the lice in order to achieve an effective kill. A power spray is recommended for large herds, but a knapsack or garden type sprayer is fine for smaller numbers of animals.

BE VERY SURE to use an insecticide that has been APPROVED BY YOUR DAIRY PLANT OR HEALTH DEPARTMENT, because of the residual effect in milk. This is also a factor of cattle are to be slaughtered within a few days.

Another aid in controlling lice is to clip a strip down the back of dairy cows about 8 to 10 inches wide. This may be done when the udders are clipped for the control of foot rot in your sanitary program.
