Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Dick Sykes has a couple of boys out at his place to clean your windshield before the show.

Comes Mr. Robert Swann with weather prognostications.

Quoting Mr. Swann: "Weather forecasting is a comfort to me. The hot days are more tolerable to me as I look for the cooler periods."

"In each month there are two cool periods and two warmer periods in the summer and fall."

"The full moon is a hot moon, changing Friday night to the last quarter. I guess Friday, Saturday and Sunday will be a cool period with temperatures ranging 75-85 in the day time and 60 to 75 at night. This will last for five to 10 days."

Mr. Swann explains that the reflected light on the moon from the sun makes it hot. When the moon is full more reflected light with accompanying heat can be seen and felt.

Mr. Swann also says that there are more chances for rain until the cool period comes in, than after.

The predictions of Mr. Swann are based on observations of twenty five years, so don't tell Mr. Swann short.

We had a wave of Junior Supermen at home this morning.

Any small boy can bring about this transformation easily by attaching the best and the cleanest of the shag rugs about his neck and letting the rug flow behind him as he runs across the yard.

We asked the smallest who he was and he had forgotten to be just asked the five year old. "Who are I?"

Of course this routine is hard on shag rugs. We think they will discard the idea pretty quick, because rugs are particularly hot when the sun is standing at about 100 degrees in the shade. This was our recommendation anyway.

The new school building is arriving along too. The steel arrived Monday, and the block and brick work is moving along on the south end of the building.

When that part is completed, carpenters will move in to put on the roof.

Here is a warning to hunters. Fines are being levied for hunting on Sunday. There is a law against hunting on Sunday. Local authorities fined a colored boy Wednesday for breaking this law. It seems to us that they could do better than that. The law has not been enforced for some time, and it would have set well with a lot of people if they had notified the public through proper channels that the law was going to be enforced, finally, before cracking down. This is a normal procedure anywhere. If they had arrested everyone who was hunting last Sunday, the courthouse would have been as crowded as fourth Monday.

Storms Hit As Nation Cools

By UNITED PRESS
Rain storms hit the band extending from North Dakota and Nebraska eastward to Georgia and North Carolina. Meanwhile, temperatures cooled in the north-east and north-central, but warmer along the South Atlantic Coast.

High temperatures fell off as much as 19 degrees in Illinois and Indiana, and it was generally cooler in Montana. The heat wave in the South and along the Atlantic Coast continued however, and Jacksonville, Fla., and Charleston, S. C. set new high records for August with readings of 102.

The hottest spot in the nation was Gila Bend, Ariz., where the mercury climbed to 109. In sharp contrast, Fraser, Colo., had a wintry 27.

Dallas, Tex., set a record with the 39th day this year of temperatures of 100 or higher. It was an even 100 in Dallas, breaking the 1932 record of 98 days of heat in three figures.

Texas also had rain, in the form of a few local thundershowers. Meanwhile, the drought was worse in Oklahoma, where rain since June 1, was five inches below normal. The state crop report said that cotton, peanuts and pastures wilted during last week when average temperatures were 7 degrees above normal.

In Iowa, crops were helped by last week's rain and moderate temperatures. But the state crop report said that "this does not offset drought damage" in much of southern Iowa.

Common Stand Is Sought By Church Council

EVANSTON, Ill. (U.P.)—Delegates to the second Assembly of the World Council of churches, representing 161 different faiths, today sought a common stand on the meeting's major theme—"Christ, the Hope of the World."

The great debate coincided with another discussion along the same lines—how to bring unity to the world's Christian churches.

Deliberations on the main theme began today and then representatives split into separate groups. They were to spend three days studying the report of an advisory committee on the subject.

Although the talks were private, delegates indicated that the meetings had already brought basic differences of viewpoint into the open.

Some delegates confessed the talks became so intense they were almost moved to tears.

A basic difference, it appeared, was whether Christ's hope is to be found in this world or the next.

Some European churchmen, including Prof. Edmund Schlink of the Evangelical Church in Germany, have already said man's hope should be sought in hereafter.

American theologians appeared to hold to the view that man should find hope in this world, also.

Dr. Martin Niemoller, the German Evangelical pastor who was one of the first to defy Hitler; indicated the advisory commission's report should take account of the controversy.

A churchman from Africa pleaded for a statement of hope that will serve Negroes as well as white persons.

"In Kenya there is a hope of a return to tribalism in the Mau Mau movement and people are caught between terror and confusion," he said. "Some whites will use the beliefs in the Christian hope as a means of keeping Negroes subordinate to them."

Bishop John Peter of Communist Hungary, who dominated the discussion Tuesday with his statement that the church is growing behind the Iron Curtain, reworded the theme to "Christ, the Only Hope of the World."

Enix Brothers Are Called To Bedside Of Their Father

Albert and Zenis Enix were called to Middleboro this morning due to the critical illness of their father, B. H. Enix.

Mr. Enix underwent surgery recently and was thought to be improving, but this week his condition has become serious.

The buses will make their regular routes on Monday morning, Lassiter said.

All friends and patrons of the school are urged to attend these opening exercises of the Faxon School.

Science Seeks Connections Between Measles, Appendix

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Something new about measles is that the virus may be kicking up the appendix before it produces any spots on the surface.

This is pertinent because this is a big year for measles. All spring and summer the reports of the Public Health Service's vital statistics office have shown total cases running well ahead of last year's.

The Medical Bulletin of Abbott Laboratories suggested that the virus "produces a clearing of the appendix or perhaps of the adjacent bowel" before it has produced any visible signs of measles.

One investigator, it said, asked if this was "a true statement, or merely a property of the morbilliform eruption in the skin?" It added, however, that "the subjects of internal rashes is difficult to investigate."

May Go Together
But the point was the new evidence that measles and appendicitis may walk hand in hand. Dr. W. H. Galloway, of the University of Aberdeen, Scotland, had seven cases of "appendicitis complicating measles" in 18 months and "feels that the relationship is not accidental."

This reminded the Abbott researchers of Dr. A. S. Warthin's observations of 22 years ago. He found abnormal cells in the throats of patients who hadn't yet been about to come down with measles, which were, "in every essential respect," like those Galloway found in the appendices he removed from his patients.

Recommends Surgery
Dr. Galloway "strongly recommends immediate operations on any child with measles who also shows symptoms of acute appendicitis," the bulletin said, and cited other authorities who agreed that appendicitis symptoms during the course of measles should not be lightly dismissed.

But other doctors disagree. It continued. There may be a "transient discomfort" in the upper intestine in measles; or there may be an appendicular colic before the measles spots show — and this is "pseudo-appendicitis." These dissenters felt that not all appendicitis symptoms appear during measles called for immediate surgery.

Hopson, chairman of the PTA Health committee for the Murray Training School, has announced that all preschool children who did not have their preschool examination on May 11 are asked to go for their check up on either Tuesday, Aug. 24, or Tuesday, August 31, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Callaway County Health Center.

The chairman said if persons desire to have their examination by their private physician, they are asked to pick up their orange cards at the Health Center for the physician, to complete.

The defending champion, Stamford Conn., team, behind the strong pitching of Andy Wase, defeated Visalia, Calif., 8-1 Tuesday in the first game of the "series" while the Hamilton-Clermont, Ohio team ousted Austin, Tex., 10-4 in the other game.

The semi-finals in the 13-15 year-old league competition will be played Friday, and the championship game will be played Saturday.

Hall's Sermon Is Directed To The Church Last Night

The large audience assembled under the tent behind the College church of Christ meetinghouse heard Paul Hall, evangelist from Parkersburg, W. Va., speak last night on "What The Church Must Do To Be Saved. The preacher used as his text Jer. 8:22, pointing out that when the body is sick we must take the medicine the doctor prescribes. Likewise, when the church is ailing it must take the remedy the Great Physician, Christ, gives in His Word.

The evangelist then named the things necessary to save the church. The church must be kept separate, in speech, in doctrine and in worship; be kept evangelistic, to accomplish Mt. 28:18-19; be kept militant, to fight the good fight of faith; repudiate modern Judaism, by trying "the spirits, whether they are of God" (1 John 4:1); outlaw worldly living, such as drunkenness, indecent apparel, the modern dance, etc.; and must exercise scriptural discipline, by the elders in the church.

At the 7:30 p.m. service tonight, Hall plans to discuss "The Gospel." Tomorrow night his topic will be "The Church and the World." He will be the "Influence of the Holy Spirit."

The elders of the 7th and Poplar Street church of Christ have dismissed the Bible Study three tonight and encourage all members to be present at the tent meeting.

May Release De Castries

HANOI, Indochina (U.P.)—French authorities told newsmen today they believe the Communist Indochinese will release Brig. Gen. Christian De Castries, hero of Dien Bien Phu, Thursday in a propaganda show.

The Communist Indochinese radio announced earlier today that De Castries would be turned over to the French with 4,910 other war prisoners in the exchange at Viet Tri in northern Viet Nam.

De Castries, who defended Dien Bien Phu until its fall to the Communists last May 5, last was reported in a heavily guarded prison camp near the Red China border.

He had made known his wishes to be among the last men repatriated in a gesture to others who had fought valiantly to save the fortress.

French authorities believed the Reds would repatriate De Castries Thursday in a propaganda gesture because Aug. 19 is the anniversary of the day Red Indochinese dictator Ho Chi Minh first came to power in Indochina in 1943.

The commander told newsmen De Castries would not be prevented from seeing the press on his release.

The Communist announcement came as the combined operation to carry between 250,000 and 1,000,000 Vietnamese south away from Communist territory started.

It was disclosed that U. S. Navy ships have begun helping ferry refugees to freedom. French officials said 41 ships from U.S. Task Force 90 will take part in the evacuation.

The first American transport put into Haiphong harbor two days ago and took aboard 2,000 refugees for the trip south to Saigon. Three other transports of equal size will load another 2,000 persons each today, Thursday and Friday, naval sources said.

Atomic Hail Is Reported In Capital

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Some of the hail stones pelting the nation's capital were the size of tennis balls. Children sucked the hail stones and only later was it discovered that the stones were radioactive.

It was "rather fortunate," reported three scientists of the Navy's hydrographic office, that the radioactivity was of "low value," and so the stone-sucking kids showed no "apparent ill effects."

Gilbert Jaffe, Walter Wittmann, and Charles C. Byates were discussing a hitherto unknown facet of the freak storm which hit the District of Columbia on May 26, 1953.

Atomic Shells Responsible
Twenty-nine hours before, atomic cannon shells had been tested on the Atomic Energy Commission's proving grounds at Frenchman's Flat, Nevada, a distance from the capital of 1,930 nautical miles.

The scientists figured from weather charts that the radioactive particles flung into the sky at Frenchman's Flat should have gotten no farther east than Fort Wayne, Ind., in those 29 hours because the mean wind speed at about 18,800 feet altitude was only 55 knots.

But there was a jet stream that day and they decided it hoisted the speed of the particles and got them over the District of Columbia just in time to get into a passing cold front and become the seasoning for forming hail stones.

Jet Streams Valuable
Their report was made to the American Meteorological Society, which had heard a new method of locating jet streams. They are fast-moving wind currents at altitudes of 20,000 to 30,000 feet which can double the speed of a plane if it's lucky enough to get into it.

When we know enough about jet streams to tell from the ground just where they are, pilots of bombers and airliners will be able to find them, get into them, and so increase their speeds by as much as 300 miles an hour.

Jet streams almost always move from more-or-less west to more-or-less east. Pilots going in the opposite direction will be glad to know where they are in order to avoid them.

Teen-Agers Kill In Crime Orgy

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Four burly teen-agers, with no outward show of emotion, confessed to police Tuesday night an orgy of crime that included the murder of two men, the horse-whipping of two girls and the savage beating of two homeless tramps.

They said they did it just for the "kick" they got out of it.

Police identified the four as Melvin Mittman, 17, Jerome Lieberman, 17, Robert Trachtenberg, 15, and Jack Koslow, 18, all of Brooklyn. All were said to come from respectable families. Koslow, a former bank clerk, was described as highly intelligent.

Their series of wanton crimes began July 29, they said, and was directed mostly at homeless men who had sought refuge in Brooklyn parks.

"I have an abstract hatred and distaste for bums and vagrants," Koslow, described by police as leader of the group, was quoted as saying.

One Denies Murder
However, Koslow denied he was present when they committed their first murder Aug. 6. Mittman said they came upon Rheingold Ulrickson, 43, sleeping on a bench in Washington Park in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn. They savagely jerked him from the bench and beat and kicked him until he was unconscious. He died in a hospital a few hours later.

Last Monday, the four youths said they went to the same park where they attacked two elderly men seated on benches. Then, they told police, they went to McCarren Park in Brooklyn's Greenpoint section where they waylaid two 16-year-old girls. Mittman, their confessions said, lashed the girls across the back with a horsehide whip while the others looked on.

Return For Second Victim
Their second murder, they said, was committed a few hours later when they returned to Washington Park and attacked a Negro sleeping on a bench.

Then they beat him unconscious, dragged his body to the nearby East River and threw it in, they said.

The four youths were arrested on information supplied police by a passerby who witnessed their attack on the Negro. They were questioned all Tuesday and their confessions followed.

Charges of Homicide were lodged against Mittman and Lieberman. Trachtenberg was adjudged a juvenile delinquent because of his age. Koslow, who claimed he was not with the group when Ulrickson was killed, was charged with felonious assault. Silver said he would be charged with homicide, too, if the body of the Negro is recovered from the East river.

Epidemic Cholera Ramping In China In Wake Of Flood

HONG KONG (U.P.)—Epidemic cholera today was reported to be spreading throughout areas of China stricken by the worst Yangtze River flood in history.

The Nationalist Tatro News Agency, official organ of the Nationalist Ministry of Interior, said at least 1,000 cases of the disease have been reported in Nanking alone, with more than 100 dead.

Nanking, down river from the flood devastated Wuhsung, Hankow, Hangyang area, is crowded with flood refugees.

Tatso said starvation threatens several of the densely populated Yangtze cities hardest hit by the flood. Hankow, its reports said has less than 10 days' food on hand. The floods have cut off the river traffic on which Hankow and other flooded cities normally depend, and have inundated all local sources of supply.

The Communist radio admitted today that the flood situation is becoming worse rather than better.

THOUSANDS OF BRAZILIANS march on the Chamber of Deputies in Rio de Janeiro demanding the ouster of President Getulio Vargas. Rioting flared up after worshippers streamed out after attending services for Maj. Ruben Vaz, who was killed when an attempt was made on the life demonstrators are shouting for the ouster of Vargas. Below, rioters are

THE SPORTS PATROL

NEW YORK — Chuck Dressing pretty for the first time in his baseball life.

The outspoken little man, who quit the Dodgers last fall when he failed to win a long-term contract, is a pinch to be the most sought-after man when new managerial openings occur in the major leagues. But he has such a good deal with Oakland in the Pacific Coast League he can afford to be choosy.

It'll take plenty to lure Charlie back East and yet any club willing to take the chance will get a full-time manager, who'll pitch in on promotion work as well as strategy and often without being asked.
They're even beginning to appreate him a little bit more over in Brooklyn.

Did Great Job

"It's apparent now what a great job he really did for us last year," said one Dodger official.
"That's particularly true of our pitching and particularly true of Erskine's pitching."

Carl Erskine, who would be up as the kingpin of the staff, hit a shaky stretch early last season and was pulled out of regular starting rotation for sharpening up work as a reliever. He was a big winner when restored to starting roles.

The Dodgers aren't ready to send for Dressing again and perhaps never will. Chuck wants long-term contracts and the Dodgers regard that as poor policy.

But other clubs issue two and three year pacts and a good offer might get Dressing back this way.
Where else can you find a ready-made manager with a better up-to-date record?

At least five clubs may be in the market for new field bosses over the winter, if you believe all the rumors.

Stengel May Quit

There's always the chance that Casey Stengel will surrender his Yankee job one of these years.

Jim Turner or Frankie Crosetti, current coaches, are said to be leading replacement candidates but you never can tell.

Charlie Grimm of the Braves, in solid with his bosses, is reported to be a bit worried about his health.

Bucky Harris of the Senators has been on the rumor block and so has Eddie Sunko of the Cardinals.

If the Athletics move out of Philadelphia, chances are the new directors may want someone more experienced than Eddie Joost, this year's rookie leader.

A few years back, Life magazine was the popular sports magazine for every new opening in the majors. Now it's almost certain to be Dressing, who has proved he can handle himself as a manager in the big time.

But Chuck likes California. Maybe a big league club will have to move out there to get him.

Odds Favor Bobo Olson To Hold Title

SAN FRANCISCO — The odds favor Carl Bobo Olson at 4-1 to retain his world middleweight championship in the 15th defense against Rocky Castellani on Friday night — but you can't get anyone in the Castellani camp to believe that their boy possibly could lose.

"Rocky has done everything I've ever asked of him," says Manager Al Naiman, the Cleveland millionaire. "I've asked him to win every fight—and he has done that since I took him over. Now I've told him that he is going to win the middle weight crown."

"You can believe me when I say we'll bring the title back to Cleveland with us."

"I didn't gamble $125,000 the amount Naiman guaranteed Olson on this fight to come in second best."

However, the confidence that exudes from the Olson camp is just as complete. Manager Six Flaherty, usually a rather close-mouthed individual, has been making extravagant claims and predictions for his boy.

Not only does Flaherty expect Olson to whip Castellani, but he thinks Bobo will defeat Archie Moore for the light heavyweight crown; and then Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight title.

With all this bragging, there haven't been any claims or predictions of a knockout. Naiman hints at it, but even Castellani believes it will have to be a decision victory.

Flaherty says Olson will win it decision — or, if there happens to be a knockout, it will be in the late rounds.

MODERN EGYPTIAN STUDIES OLD IDEA

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — An Egyptian student at the University of Texas is taking a scientific look at "night radiation," a cooling process used by his ancestors as far back as 2500 B.C.

Mahmoud Mahamed Mahmoud, 24, of Alexandria, Egypt, is working on a doctor of philosophy degree in mechanical engineering.

Night radiation causes water condensation on the top of an automobile left overnight in the open. It may also result in the freezing of unprotected flowers and fruits—even when the weather bureau thermometer says the temperature did not reach 32 degrees Fahrenheit.

The action is blamed for maintenance problems in certain types of flat-topped business structures.

Mahmoud's research may benefit both agriculture and the building industry.

Night radiation, some sources say, may offer possibilities for summer air-conditioning through a water-covered roof, with the through wall-sized radiators during the day. Such a plan, experts say, would work best in a dry climate.

Coon Drag To Be Staged

One of the fastest growing sports in the rural communities, coon hunting drag hunts, will be staged at the State Fair this year on Saturday, September 18. The coon dog races will be a part of the Sportsman's Day Program which has become a popular annual feature of the Fair. Sportsman's Day is sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Forty champion dogs will participate in the races which will begin at ten o'clock in the morning. Preliminary races will continue until noon and at one-thirty o'clock the championship events will be staged in front of the grandstand.

In addition to cash awards, the winning dogs' owners will be presented cups emblematic of state championships. An entry fee will be charged for each dog, and dog owners wishing to exhibit should write to Vernon Woods, Rt. 1, Stamping Ground, Kentucky. Only Kentucky hounds are eligible for this event.

Other outstanding events on Sportsman's Day will be the Junior Conservation Club state casting events for boys from each of Kentucky's nine wildlife districts. Also listed is a water safety display by Red Cross life saving instructors in a special pool in front of the grandstand.

Miss Nelle Elizabeth Futrell Is Married To Mr. Gus Mac Gamble Sunday Afternoon

The marriage of Miss Nelle Elizabeth Futrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brigham Futrell of Murray, and Mr. Gus Mac Gamble, son of Mrs. Carlos Rogers of Mayfield Route Six, was solemnized Sunday, August 15, at three o'clock in the afternoon at the Elm Grove Baptist Church.

Reading the impressive double ring ceremony was the pastor of the church, Rev. Leonard Cole.

The church was beautifully decorated with arrangements of giant chrysanthemums and gladioli flanked by the burning candelabra. To further enhance the scene white caladium leaves and greenery were used.

Miss Shirley Joyce Chiles, pianist and Mrs. John Bowker, soloist, presented a lovely program of nuptial music. The organist's selections were "Because," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "Always," and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Bowker sang "I Love Thee" and for the benediction, "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and the recessional.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her pretty wedding dress of white lace was made in the princess style fashioned with a scalloped neckline and short gathered sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a headpiece of orange blossoms and her only jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of feathered white chrysanthemums centered with a purple orchid.

Miss Jean Futrell was the maid of honor and only attendant for her sister. Her street length dress was of pink organdy fashioned like that of the bride's dress except her sleeves were three quarter length. Miss Futrell carried a crescent bouquet of pink chrysanthemums and ivy.

Serving as best man for Mr. Gamble was Mr. Houston Hawley, brother in law of the bride. The ushers were Mr. Gene Dunn, Mr. Bob Barnett, Mr. Gene Knight and Mr. Harold C. Rogers, the latter being brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Futrell chose for her daughter's wedding a figured dress with which she wore a black hat with a red rose and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of red carnations. Mrs. Rogers, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a blue dress trimmed in white with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was magnificently decorated with the all pink centerpiece arranged of chrysanthemums, gladioli, and caladium leaves. The large wedding cake and the punch bowl were used at each end of the decorated table.

An arrangement of the same kind of flowers used in the table centerpiece adorned the mantle in the living room.

Those assisting in the serving the approximately one hundred guests were Mrs. Houston Hawley, Miss Martha Parker, Mrs. Gene Knight, Miss Sue Outland, Miss Evelyn Cole, Miss Bettie Wiggins, and Miss Gloria Moss.

The couple left after the reception for a short wedding trip with Mrs. Gamble wearing a navy blue linen sheath dress with jacket, a pink hat trimmed in small beads, white accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Gamble will make their home in Murray.

Out of town guests for the wedding included: Mrs. Mary Hopson, Mrs. Toy Jefferson and Mr. Frank Wathall, all of Canton; Mrs. Eleanor Hopson, of Cadiz; Mr. and Mrs. Don Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Dillon, Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Rogers, and Mrs. Annie B. Rogers, all of Mayfield.

WCS of Russells Chapel Church Has Meeting On Friday

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Russells Chapel Methodist Church met at the church Friday, August 13, with Mrs. O. B. Geurin as the hostess.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. O. B. Geurin who led the group in repeating the Lord's Prayer. Three hymns were sung by the group with Mrs. Aubrey Woods leading the singing and Miss Brenda Sue James playing the piano.

Eight members and six children were present. Plans were made as to how the group might increase the attendance. Members said they would like to invite each member, as well as visitors to come to each of these meetings that each one might be included in the plans of the society.

Plans were made for the next meeting, which will be held September 10 at the church. This will be an all day meeting and each person is asked to bring a covered dish and be quilled for Mrs. Winifred James. Mrs. O. J. Grogan and Mrs. Roy Boatwright will be in charge of the program.

Mrs. Mary Inez James was selected as "Special Membership" in July from the WSCS from Russells Chapel.

The hostess, Mrs. Geurin, served watermelon to the group.

Wide Cracks Develop In West Defenses In The Middle East

Wide cracks have developed in the West's defenses in the Middle East since Britain's agreement with Egypt to withdraw from the Suez Canal Zone. These, combined with the existing dangers in the South Asian area has given a new sense of urgency to consideration of defense problems in those regions. The problems involved are analyzed in the following dispatch.

By HAROLD GUARD

United Press Staff Correspondent LONDON (U.P.)—There has been a swift flow of developments in the strategic Middle East since Britain agreed with Egypt to withdraw from the disputed Suez Canal Zone.

For the planners of Western defense, most of these involve bad news, and, linked with other unsettling factors in South Asia, threaten to unhinge the West's strategy in a wide and vitally important area of the world.

Officials concerned are faced with a formidable list of ponderables, any one of which could make or break Western plans to secure the Middle East and South Asia against possible Soviet aggression.

The most important of these are:

1. Indications that Iraq is anxious to end the Anglo-Iraq treaty before its 1957 expiration date and put Iraq's foreign relations on a new basis.

2. Impending high level official talks between Egypt, Iraq and Pakistan on a concerted Arab policy.

3. Greek claims to the eastern Mediterranean island of Cyprus, which has been earmarked by the British for the brain center of the British Mid-Eastern command.

4. Israel's request for security assurances in the light of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty of Suez.

5. South Africa's voiced concern about African defense once Suez has been evacuated by the British.

6. The withdrawal of Australian and New Zealand contributions to the Middle East command as a consequence of the Suez agreement.

7. The uneasy peace in Burma and Thailand.

Against this there is the encouraging fact of the new Balkan military pact between Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia.

Officials here have to date avoided comment on Iraq's reported desire to end the Anglo-Iraq treaty. But they do not hide their anxiety.

for the retention of British airbases in Iraq at Habbaniya and Snaiba, on the important main truck route to the Far East.

Greek claims on Cyprus are also being taken seriously, although Britain has firmly stated her intention to keep the island under the British crown. But a debate in Cyprus could heighten anti-colonial feelings throughout the Arab states and in Southern Asia, making British defense planning in the area the more difficult.

Israel's concern for her security after the Suez withdrawal may eventually lead to British-American proposals to Israel for use of ports in Israel for transmitting supplies to military bases in Jordan.

Australia has wasted no time in calling home her air force fighter wing from the Middle East command in the wake of the British agreement to quit Suez. New Zealand is expected to follow suit by withdrawing her fighter wing from Cyprus.

All these problems admittedly call for decision and action if the West's security system in the Middle East is not to come unstuck.
