MAYFIELD, KY., SATURDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 24, 1909.

DEMOCRATIC

Willson Pardons Taylor and Finley

SEVERAL ALLEGED ASSOCIATES IN CRIME ALSO EXTENDED CLEMENCY.

Governor Argues in Extenuation of His Act That Taylor Was Not Guilty.

Frankfort, Ky., April 24.—Governor Willson at 6 o'clock last evening cleared the Kentucky court records of all charges growing out of the murder, in 1900, of Governor William Goebel, except those hanging over states evidence witnesses of alleged conspiracy, by granting pardons before trial to fugitive Governor Taylor and Charles Finley, who have been fugitives in the state of Indiana for nine years; to John Powers, brother of Caleb Powers, who is believed to be in Honduras; to Holland Whittaker, of Butler county; John Davis, of Louisville, and Zach Steel, of Bell county, under indictment and who did not flee the state.

Those over whom indictments are left hanging—the Wharton Golden, of Knox county, now in Colorado; Frank Cecil, of Bell county, now a railroad detective in St. Louis, and William H. Cullom, of Owsley county, said to have died in life a few months ago. These cases, with the possible exception of that of Cecil, will be dismissed, leaving Henry E. Youtsey, now serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary, the only person to suffer for the taking off of Goebel.

Reiterating the belief that he expressed some months ago, when he granted pardons to Caleb Powers and James B. Howard, that no one but Youtsey had part in Goebel's murder and that there was no conspiracy, as the commonwealth has charged, Governor Willson says he believes it "a sacred duty, which I must no longer delay, to carry this belief into effect," and grant pardon to the men charged, who fled the state because they had the greatest reasons to believe that they could not have a fair trial if they stayed here and would be forced to a trial before a partisan jury under conditions which would give them no chance at all for a just decision.

"I am absolutely sure Gov. W. S. Taylor had no part in the murder of William Goebel and feel a sacred duty, which I must no longer delay, to carry this belief into effect. I therefore grant to W. S. Taylor, and the others named full and free pardon."

PARDONED LEADERS.

Makes Signed Statement and Give It to Public.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 23.—William S. Taylor and Charles Finley, exiled here for nine years, eluded themselves in Taylor's office this evening as soon as they received word of their pardon and denied any admittance to callers until late. They had prepared a statement to the public as follows:

"The final ending by Governor Willson of the terrible reign of wrong and persecution of innocent men in Kentucky is to our minds an added proof that there is a God in Israel, and that right will not remain forever on the scaffold nor wrong forever on the throne. Our long agony is over at last. Kentucky now ends persecutions begun nine years ago in her name. Nothing of course can ever make full amends for the great wrong done us, nor for what we have suffered and lost.

"While the action of Governor

Willson ends these persecutions it doesn't bring the end we would have preferred. For nine years we pled for trial, a fair trial. There has been a moment during this time when we wouldn't have been willing and were not anxious to return to Kentucky for such a trial. These pleas for simple justice always have been denied. The action of Governor Willson is doubtless the voice of his deliberate convictions that no such trial was intended or could be had.

"We would stultify ourselves were we to say these haven't been hard, bitter and cruel years. We doubt if we should have been able to endure them but for the loyalty of friends and the love and sympathy of old friends in Kentucky, who stood firm and true, and of new friends in Indiana. Men never lived who owed deeper debt of gratitude to friends than we. It is a debt we can never hope to pay. Recollection of countless kindnesses and unstinted sympathy that have come to us will live fresh and green in our hearts.

"William S. Taylor, Charles Finley."

Taylor stated he would never return to Kentucky to make it his home. "I have no immediate plan to return even for a visit, he said, Finley, however, will soon return to Kentucky to visit his aged parents at Williamsburg. He said he had now no fear of personal injury in returning to his former home.

Died In Memphis

Elija Canaday Brought Back for Burial at Rozzell's—Formerly Lived Here.

News was received here Friday afternoon of the death of Elija Canaday, a former citizen of Mayfield, in Memphis, Tenn. The hour of the death was not learned but the cause of his death was given as heart trouble. He was 84 years of age and was well known in this county. He moved to Memphis about four or five years ago.

He leaves one son, Will Canaday and one daughter, Mrs. George Price, of Pryorsburg. His surviving brothers are Jake and Henry Canaday, of Mayfield; Ben Canaday, of St. Louis; J. L. Canaday, of Arkansas, and Bob Canaday, of Tennessee.

The body of the deceased was brought to Mayfield Saturday and the interment took place at Rozzell's Chapel Saturday afternoon.

ACQUITTED OF CHARGE.

Jury, After Investigation, Exonerates Well Known Young Man.

Dresden, Tenn., April 23.—Ed Workman was acquitted here in circuit court on the charge of arson. Workman was charged with burning the barn of Andy Workman, present constable in that district, some time in December, 1907. There had been bad feeling between the two men, and when the barn was burned suspicion attached to Workman, but after a hard-fought battle in circuit court here the defendant was able to prove his innocence.

THE BOOK SOCIAL.

The book social given Friday evening in the Elk's hall proved a brilliant success. A nice program was rendered and there was a good crowd present. About 60 books were received which are for use and benefit of the new library.

Sale of New Crops Very Satisfactorily

AUDITOR SCALES' REPORT SHOWS SPRINGFIELD IN THE LEAD.

Last Week Showed That 2,435 Hogsheads Were Sold Up to April 15.

Sales of the 1908 crop of tobacco have started off in an encouraging manner, and it is evident that the movement of the tobacco will be much more rapid and at more satisfactory prices than last year, says the Tobacco Planter.

The report of Auditor Scales issued April 15 showed a total of 2,435 hogsheads disposed of at the ten market places of the organization. The ten, it may be said in passing, are different in location from those of last year. At that time they included the salesroom at Russellville, which has been replaced by Franklin, and the number of selling places thus remains unchanged.

Of the sales of the 1908 crop Springfield easily lead all other points, the sales there being 703 hogsheads up to April 15. Princeton was second with a total of 549 hogsheads and Clarksville third with a total of 414. Murray was next with 242 hogsheads, followed by Hopkinsville, 237, and then Paducah, Guthrie, Franklin, Cadiz and Mayfield in the order named.

Sales of the new tobacco have naturally been greatest at Springfield, where C. C. Bell & Son have made heavy purchases for the Imperial Tobacco Company. A large portion of this tobacco for the British trade was destroyed in the Bell warehouse about two weeks ago, the quantity stored in the building when it was burned with all its contents being about 800,000 pounds. The insurance on the tobacco was paid promptly, however, and it is presumed that the buyers will attempt to replace what they had destroyed at once.

The highest priced tobacco has also been sold at Springfield, it going almost entirely to M. H. Clark & Bro., of Clarksville. These buyers have taken a good deal of tobacco at Springfield and Clarksville, that at Springfield being fine wrapper, ranging from twelve to eighteen cents in price. At Clarksville the American Snuff Company has been buying some tobacco, although its purchases have not been large enough to make a very large hole in the crop. This concern has also been buying at Hopkinsville, where E. M. Flack has likewise bought a small quantity.

In Paducah Buckner, Dunkerson & Co., of Louisville, have been slightly active buying common leaf at from eight to ten cents. W. B. Kennedy, the broker of Paducah, has also bought some of the western Kentucky tobacco. Of the tobacco sold at Guthrie, practically all of it has gone to J. W. Chestnut who has been buying leaf up to ten cents.

Grading has been progressing satisfactorily and there is good reason for believing that the crop will be marketed in a manner which will please the growers. Reports of the Commissioner of Agriculture of Kentucky indicate that the acreage in the dark tobacco district will be greatly increased this year, but few of the county chairmen who were here last week to attend the Board of Directors meeting were of the opinion that this would be the case.

SAM'S NEW WHEEL.

Sam Spaulding has a new bicycle and his friends who call at his place of business to get a shave have had a hard time finding him. The reason is that he is kept busy riding over town showing the new bike to his friends.

Sam traded off his old one and gave "boot" in order to get the beautiful new one. His friends say if they had thought he would have been that proud of it they would have made him a present of one long before this time.

With a pair of big fat handsome twins and a new bicycle, why shouldn't Sam have a right to be proud and happy?

ADJUDGED A LUNATIC.

Mrs. Rosie French was tried before Judge Crossland Saturday and adjudged of unsound mind and ordered sent to the Hopkinsville asylum. She is 48 years old and was born in Union county. The cause of mind becoming affected is the result of a hurt by a limb falling on her head.

Mrs. Lovett said that they had enjoyed a fine trip and were in the best of health.

CAN'T BIND COUNTY TO PAY LAWYER FEE.

Important Decision Rendered by Court of Appeals.

Frankfort, Ky., April 24.—The court reversed the Marion Circuit Court in a case of Marion County against Rives & McChord, and remanded to dismiss the petition.

The question was whether an attorney of a taxpayer, who institutes a suit on behalf of all taxpayers of the county and recovers money illegally appropriated, can assert a lien thereon for his services and recover judgment against the county.

The court below allowed appellants a fee. The court here says a county cannot be sued except on an express contract; that a taxpayer had no authority to bind the county, and the attorney must look alone to his employer.

Found Dead In South 11th Street

CHARLEY WILKERSON (COLORED) EVIDENTLY TAKES OWN LIFE.

Contents of Shot Gun Enters Throat—Left Hand Powder Burned.

With a load of buck shot mixed with smaller shot lodged in his head, which had entered through the throat, Charley Wilkerson, an aged negro man, was found Saturday morning lying in a pool of blood in the extreme part of the city on South Eleventh street, which had recently been opened up.

The opinion is, and the facts indicate, that he committed suicide by shooting himself with a single-barrel muzzle-loading shotgun.

He was found by his son, Ernest Wilkerson, who was en route from home to the city, between 6 and 7 o'clock Saturday morning.

Charley Wilkerson left his home about 7:30 o'clock Friday night, saying to his family that he was going to see a doctor. He had been in ill health for the past five or six years and little was thought of his leaving. When he did not return late in the night and his absence was discovered Saturday morning, the family presumed that he had spent the night with his daughter.

Borrowed a Gun.

It appears that when he left home he went to "Snake" John Mitchell's home, a colored neighbor, and asked for a pistol, saying that he wanted to kill a mink.

Mitchell told him that he could not kill a mink with a pistol and a shotgun was loaned him. Wilkerson inquired if the weapon had a good load in it. He was informed that it was loaded partially with buck shot and had been loaded for a long time. Mitchell says he was talking and laughing and was in apparently the best of humor.

He left the house, going in the same direction he had previously come.

After Wilkerson had borrowed the gun he returned shortly afterwards to Mitchell's home and said that it would not shoot and borrowed more gun caps.

Shot Was Heard.

A shot was heard between 8 and 9 o'clock by Albert Eskridge and wife, who live in that neighborhood. They did not investigate but thought that the sound was a peculiar one as if it had been muzzled thereby preventing a loud sound.

Plenty of Blood.

The spot where the dead man was found was in the new street about 100 yards west of the Ridgway brick yard. He lived about 200 yards southeast of the brick yard where he owns a small tract of land. The body was found about half way between the Dukedom road and the I. C. railroad. The gun was lying beside him. His feet were resting higher than his head, showing that he had evidently fell over from a small grading in the street after the shot was fired.

There was a great quantity of blood beside the body but there was no indication of any scuffle or movements.

From the fact that his left hand was powder burned, it is the presumption that he held the left hand close to the muzzle of the gun while he pulled the trigger with his right hand. The load from the gun entered the center of the throat, producing a hole about the size of a quarter, and extended upwards toward the right eye. The contents of the weapon never came out and lodged in his head.

Wilkerson was 71 years old and one of the oldest residents of the county. For many years he was a tobacco worker in the warehouses and prize houses in Mayfield. He was not known to have had an enemy or trouble of any kind but has been in bad health for several years and the supposition is that he decided to take his own life.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner D. A. Saffold was notified and Saturday morning he held an inquest which brought out the facts as related above. The Coroner's jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury, find from the evidence that Charley Wilkerson came to his death on the night of April 23, 1909, by a gun shot wound on South Eleventh street, west of the brick yard, either by accident or suicidal intent."

ONE PER CENT ENOUGH.

The tobacco farmers although they are selling tobacco that has been pledged to the association, believe as strongly as ever the paramount necessity of an organization to protect them from the ravages of the trusts and other tobacco combines, but they are certain a better and more economical system can be devised by which the sale of their tobacco can be made at a less expense and in a more satisfactory way than the present one.

They claim that according to the rules and regulations of the Planters' Protective Association, the expense is too high and that they are forced to do without the use of their money too long. They again claim that one per cent. commission is enough for the farmers to pay for the expenses of the work of the officers and graders.

They also claim they do not want to place their tobacco in the hands of other men, where it may remain for one, two or more years to be sold at the whims of a few men at just any prices that may suit them.

They also claim that they will pool their tobacco for sale, and when it is sold and delivered, let the money be paid as soon as the grade and price is named with no greater expense than one cent commission.

They claim they are willing to stand this test no longer.

WHAT NEXT?

The Fiscal Court of Lyon county has certainly reached the limit. The idea of a court of the people appropriating the money of the taxpayer, for the purpose of paying for certain men who were charged with violating the law and who were afraid to go into a regular trial court is certainly too preposterous to engage the minds of the people for one moment.

Of course the money will never be paid for that purpose, for the people of Lyon county will not stand for such misappropriations of the peoples money and of course when the proper time comes will enjoin its payment.

The court has no such power, besides its members are amendable under the law for such a flagrant misuse of public monies. If the fiscal courts have such powers, it is only a matter of time when taxes will be used for the payment of fines and private debts. In the name of good and economical government, what next?

TOBACCO TOO LOW.

The trust has lost its power to control the prices of beef, horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, corn, wheat, poultry and eggs, in a large degree, yet so far it has not lost its power to control the prices of tobacco. Our dark tobacco is raised only on a small patch, and yet the few farmers allow prices dictated to them by the trust. How easy it would be for the farmers to dictate a reasonable price for their tobacco? Our lugs should be now selling at from 6 to 7 cents, and the leaf at from 9 to 12½ cents. These are low figures but such will never be the case without pooling the tobacco.

FULTON TOBACCO MARKET.

The Tobacco Planters' Warehouse at Fulton, sold 14 hogheads of new leaf 1908 tobacco this week, at prices ranging from $8.50 to $10.00 per hundred pounds. This is rather better than prices paid by the Regies or independent buyers.—Fulton Commercial.

Anty Drudge Gives Advice to the Salesman.

Salesman—"I have a patent wash boiler which burns denatured alcohol at much less cost than coal or wood."

Anty Drudge—"You'd better go into some other business, young man, if you want to make a living. Since I've been telling the women how to wash clothes with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, without boiling, all kinds of washboilers have gone out of style. Good day."

Fels-Naptha will take grease out of clothes in cool or lukewarm water.

It loosens all kinds of grease quick as a wink, and takes out every trace of the spot.

That's why butchers', and painters', and machinists' clothing can be washed better with Fels-Naptha than any other way.

It's easier, too; in summer or winter, requires no boiling, hot water nor hard rubbing, and makes a better job of it.

Because Fels-Naptha dissolves grease almost instantly, women who have tried it prefer Fels-Naptha to any other soap for washing dishes.

There is no necessity for putting the hands in hot water.

Puts a fine polish on glass and china.

It is likewise superior in cleaning coats, or rugs, or curtains, or anything else that has become spotted or soiled.

In fact, you will find that anything cleanable can be cleaned quicker and better and easier with Fels-Naptha.

And for laundry purposes, Fels-Naptha is a revelation to women who have always washed in the old-fashioned, washboiler-and-hard-rubbing way.

Directions for all purposes are printed on the back of the red and green wrapper.

WOMAN'S CLUB RECEPTION

O, Spring, thy fairy lands,
The dogwood blooms and open flowers
Gathered by my lady's hands,
To fill with fragrance her sunny bowers.

The afternoon of April 23d proved an ideal date on which to hold the open session of the Woman's Club and Nature in her fresh green mantle glowing in the sunshine, was not more lovely than the fair and winsome maidens, who, attired in their many tinted beautiful robes, found their way to the beautiful home of the Hon. Gus Thomas on Water St., where Mrs. Thomas, assisted by Mesdames Tom Myles, R. D. Robertson, Holly Anderson, Walter Beadles and Len Shaw, received the guests. These ladies stood in receiving line in the parlor, the hostesses of the afternoon and in turn were assisted by Mesdames Fuller, Pittman, Speight, and Elliott in the music room and by Mesdames Blalock, Ed Lowe and Joe Warren in the dining room.

Misses Virginia McMakin and Mary Speight served most delectable mint frappe and Miss Anita Thomas did homage to the electric button, which heralded the arrivals.

This elegant house was beautifully decorated in green and white except the music room which took into itself the purple hue and bloomed afresh with lilacs, violets and iris. The parlor was cheery with banks of cherry blossoms, the hall and stair-landings brightened with the dogwood and the dining-room breathed of fens and dells, being filled with narcissus, ferns and (perhaps) fairy elves, for this was Shakespeare's day and the scene, lighted with the tapers green, bespoke his "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Frappe, to the clink of ice in crystal glasses, came first. A trip to the wicker den where Macbeth's three witches (Misses Vivian Canaday, Mattie Ray Clark and Catherine Wright) chanted a dismal incantation over a huge caldron and stirred out the fate, in the forms of mystic quotations, of each guest, with their bewitched broom sticks, followed, and then the program proper.

Piano duet—Midsummer night's dream—Mrs. Foster Adams and Miss Mary McDonald.

Reading—Ode in memory of Shakespeare, by Ben Jonson—Mrs. Terry Smith.

Trio—"I know a bank whereon the wild thyme grows"—Mesdames Myles, Winfrey and Lindsey Hale.

Solo—"It was a lover and his lass"—Mrs. Winfrey.

This excellent program from Shakespeare, in honor of his birthday, did full justice to his memory and it was delightful to all, while complimentary to the club members and their guests the talented Misses Wright gave selections, a violin solo by Miss Mable accompanied by Miss Alla, who followed with an instrumental solo, and closed with a monologue—"A mother's day," by Miss Virginia McMakin, who touched a responsive chord in the breast of every lady present who had shared a strenuous day with the telephone.

As the day waned the guests were served brick cream in white and green with block cake, decorated with Shakespeare's monogram "W. S." and departing begged the fair hostesses to accept their thankfulness for the pleasant hours.

It will be interesting to mention that this reception held an added charm in that it boasted a real "live lion" in the person of the handsome Mr. Will Patterson, just returned from a winter in Florida.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

Old Age Takes

Away Aged Lady

Mrs. Nancy Gaddie, Aged 87, Dies At Home South of Mayfield.

After a lingering illness from infirmities, Mrs. Nancy Gaddie, aged 87 years, breathed her last Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She was one of the best known women of the county and was one of the most prominent in the section where she lived, a short distance north of the city.

She was a true Christian lady being a life long member of the Sharon Baptist church. She leaves a number of relatives not only in this county but in Hickman county also. Many friends will grieve to learn of her death.

Three sons and three daughters survive her, as follows: T. D. Gaddie, of Clinton; Joe Gaddie, Silas Gaddie, Mrs. G. W. McAllister, Mrs. Mose Ward, Mrs. Mattie Kenedy. The burial took place at the family burying ground Friday afternoon.

Most cough cures and cold cures are constipating, especially those that contain opiate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is free from all opiates and it cures the cold by gently moving the bowels and at the same time it soothes irritation of the throat and lungs, and in that way stops the cough. It is especially recommended for children, as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. We sell and recommend it. Evans & Covington.

Daughter of David Hatch, of Arlington, Falls Into Kettle of Boiling Water.

Arlington, Ky., April 24.—Miss Frances Hatch, daughter of David A. Hatch and wife, of Arlington, was severely burned at the residence of her parents at Arlington last Saturday, and died Thursday.

She was ten or twelve years of age, being the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hatch, and on the day that is mentioned above she was amusing the baby of the household by pulling it over the yard in a toy wagon. She was walking backward, pulling the wagon after her, and did not notice the kettle of hot water in her path until she stumbled over and fell into it. In her effort to get out she turned the kettle over, and the hot water enveloped a large portion of her body, burning her in a frightful manner.

Daring Attempt

Prisoners in Hickman Jail Plan To Make Their Escape.

Hickman, Ky., April 23.—Yesterday the whole town of Hickman was thrown into a commotion by a bold plot for another wholesale jail delivery which was made known to the shrewd work of several persons who by accident were implicated in a scheme whereby the jail would be emptied of its criminals. Lawrence Bell and Lawrence Harris, two prisoners, one held on a charge of highway robbery, another on a charge of attempted rape, have been in the county jail for some time. Yesterday word was delivered at the jail from the postoffice authorities that a little package was at the office for these two prisoners. A messenger was sent after the package, a negro employe of the jail, and upon finding the bundle very heavy he returned to the jail and told Jailer Noonan that he believed that it contained weapons of some nature. The bundle was secured and opened and was found to contain two dozen steel files of the best variety for sawing iron.

The plot to liberate the prisoners was evidently hatched in Chicago, as it was from that city that the package was sent. Both Harris and Bell and under close surveillance.

THE CONSTIPATION EVIL IS RESPONSIBLE FOR MOST CASES OF PILES.

Constipation paralyzes the blood vessels of the lower bowel, and often causes piles. Women, and all other indoor workers, are the most frequent sufferers. But curing constipation alone won't cure piles. A special medicine is needed—internal treatment, to strengthen the flabby veins and start pure blood circulating. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid is the only internal pile cure. Sold under guarantee. Price $1. Dr. Leonhardt Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y.
