KENTUCKY MIDLAND

WILL SOON BE OPERATED IN THE PENNYRILE.

New Railroad Will Connect Central City and Madisonville—Traverses a Rich Coal Field.

Another new railroad in Western Kentucky will be completed and in operation within a few days. This line is the Kentucky Midland, and extends from Central City to Madisonville, a distance of twenty-five miles. The new road penetrates one of the richest coal fields in the state.
It also abounds in rich timber lands and other minerals. All of this property will be developed, the timber cut and shipped to foreign markets, and coal mines will soon be in operation.

The company operating the new road is composed of northern capitalists, several of whom live in Chicago. To date the company has acquired 13,000 acres of coal and timber lands lying along the route of the new railroad. A shaft is being sunk, and it is expected to soon have a mine in operation that will have a capacity exceeding 2,000 tons a day.

The new road connects at Central City with the Illinois Central railroad and the Owensboro and Nashville branch of the L. & N. railroad.
At Madisonville, connections are made with the Nashville and St.
Louis division of the L. & N. railroad and a new line now building from Wheatcroft to Madisonville.
This is believed to be a branch of the Illinois Central railroad.

RUFUS K. WARD, PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN, UNEXPECTEDLY PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Death came very unexpectedly to R. K. Ward, Jr., this morning shortly before noon at his home on South Virginia street.

Mr. Ward had been ill of typhoid fever for the past three weeks, and three days ago his conditions were regarded as critical. Last night his symptoms were markedly for the better and this condition was continued when his physicians examined him this morning.

Shortly after they left his residence he underwent a change and when the physicians again arrived at the house, in answer to an imperative summons, they found the patient in a dying condition with every indication of an internal hemorrhage.

Throughout the entire time of his illness, the condition of Mr. Ward's heart had caused the doctors much uneasiness, and the weakness of that organ was the prime cause of his death.

Mr. Ward had been living here for the past three or four years, he moving to Hopkinsville from Murray, Ky. Since his residence in this city he had followed the insurance business, in which field he was very successful. Both in business and social circles he was held in the highest esteem. He was about 35 years of age and was a member of the Christian church. His wife and two children survive him. Mrs.
Ward was formerly Miss Holton, a sister of Henry Holton, formerly of this city, and Mrs. Thomas P.
Cook and a niece of Mrs. W. H.
Elgin, of this place.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

HUBBARD-STEVENS NUPTIALS.

(From Wednesday's Daily)

In a beautiful ceremony, which was impressively performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rice Hubbard, near the city and witnessed by a fashionable assemblage of the friends and relatives, Miss Mildred Elliotte Hubbard and Dr. Carlos Crawford Stevens were united this morning in the holy bonds of wedlock.

The interior of the residence had been handsomely and lavishly decorated with flowers and greenery, and the parlor in which the service was said was a bower of floral loveliness. Miss Florence Elgin presided at the piano and Mrs. Ben S. Winfree, prior to the marriage, gently sang two solos, one being
"Call Me Thine Own." The strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march announced the approach of the bridal pair, who were preceded by Messrs.
John Hubbard and Wallace Stevens, brothers respectively to the bride and bridegroom. They were met at the floral altar by the Rev. George H. Means, pastor of the Methodist church, and the solemn and beautiful ring service was used to link the lovers' lives. The bride wore a handsome and very becoming goingaway gown of green cloth and carried a large bouquet of bride's roses.

That she was one of the prettiest brides of the year, was universally agreed, and her beauty is but an index of her mental gifts and graces of character. The fortunate bridegroom is a native Kentuckian and a prominent young physician of Blytheville, Arkansas. He is a cultured and intelligent gentleman who has made a host of friends during his visits here. Dr. and Mrs.
Stevens, in a shower of rice, drove immediately after the ceremony to the Illinois Central station and left on a bridal trip to southern points of interest. They will be at home in Blytheville, Ark., early in December.

CHRISTIAN COUNTY LIKE YE OLD TIMES

IS NUMEROUSLY REPRESENTED IN FEDERAL COURT.

Judge Evans Utters a Warning to Bootleggers.—a Busy Session Is In Progress.

The United States court is in session at Owensboro this week, and a number of Christian county people are attending—and some are sorry to be there. Judge Walter Evans, a former Hopkinsville citizen is presiding and thereby hangs this tale: There were few incidents over the routine Monday, according to the Messenger.

The only time that Judge Evans made any remarks outside the record was when a number of Christian county ns, both negroes and whites, marched up before him one at a time, and entered pleas of guilty to the charge of retailing liquor without license. "It seems," said the judge, "that my former fellow citizens of Christian county are very much given to selling liquor without paying the government special tax.
This practice must be stopped."
The next one brought before him was Alex. Tuck, a negro. As judge Evans entered on record the usual $100 and thirty days, he said, "That's a Christian county name, Alex. Are you from Christian?" Alex. confessed that he was. "Now, I warn you," continued Judge Evans, "that I am going to send a bunch of Christian county people to the penitentiary if this practice of bootlegging whiskey is not stopped."

"Pig" Green, of this county, was charged with passing a counterfeit quarter in a crap game. The jury found him not guilty.

R. C. Alexander was fined $20 for mailing obscene matter.

Everett Powell was fined $10 for damaging a mail box.

The following, all negroes, entered pleas of guilty to the charge of retailing liquors without a license and were fined $100 each and sentenced to 30 days in prisonment each in the Davies county jail. Dave Ely, Jim Hancock, Upshaw O'Bryah, Sam Ray, Tob Thurston and Aaron Wynn.

Albert Kelly, of this city, is on the grand jury and R. E. Cooper, Hiram S. Smith, (col.) and J. R. Hawkins, (col.) are on the petit jury.

Attorneys Hunter Wood, Sr., John B. Russell, Otho H. Anderson, are present, having cases in court, and Circuit Clerk C. R. Clark, Deputy County Clerk W. R. Wicks and other Hopkinsville citizens are in attendance.

The heavy receipts of tobacco during the past few days have caused an old-time activity on the local tobacco market. This activity was not so much in the selling line as it was in the handling of the tobacco, but even at this, everybody was kept busy and in a good humor. The tobacco, which is now coming in, is largely consigned to the Planters' Protective association, and until it is prized and sold the farmers will not realize full value, though the prizers make liberal advances on it prior to the sale. More association tobacco is being handled in Hopkinsville this season than ever before, and indications are that the increase already shown is only a sample of what may be expected from now until the crop is finally disposed of.

The local independent rebanning houses are receiving their purchases daily, but on account of the large majority of the farmers being members of the association, or the Society of Equity, and are refusing to sell, except through these organizations, they have not been able to make as heavy purchases as usual.
These houses will probably not start their machinery before the middle of December.

On the loose floor a good sale was held Friday, about 10,000 pounds of the weed being sold. Prices ranged from $5.50 to $7.50 for lugs and $8 to $10.75 for leaf. There was no fine leaf offered, and when this begins to come in even higher prices are expected.

The hogheads market was completely at a standstill, there being so little of last year's tobacco left over that nothing was doing.

The local salesman for the association reports the receipt of a few hogs heads of association tobacco, this being regarded as very early indeed for hogheads receipts.

The situation between the buyers and the farmers organizations in Christian county is regarded as being on the best and most satisfactory basis of any time since the organizations were formed. When the "army of peace" held their meeting here on November 14 and requested the dealers not to attempt to buy any more tobacco from members of either the Planters' Protective association or the American Society of Equity, the dealers, without a single exception, agreed to the request readily, many of them stating that it had been their policy not to interfere with any farmers who had pooled their tobacco. The "army of peace" did not ask that the dealers should stop buying from the independent farmers, so the two classes seem to have arrived at a mutually satisfactory understanding and neither will violate the terms of the contract.

MR. BREWER FILES A NOTICE OF CONTEST.

W. B. BREWER.

W. B. Brewer, of Exirview, recent Democratic nominee for representative from Todd county, has formally served notice of contest on his successful Republican opponent, W. L. Kimbrough. The contest will come up before the house of representatives in January.

It is alleged, among other things, that in each of the ten precincts giving a majority for Kimbrough, the election officers were not sworn, as required by law, and that in the same precincts the polls were not opened at six o'clock, as is required. It is further claimed that least ten votes which were illegal were counted for Kimbrough.

Kimbrough's majority was only 30, the smallest ever given a legislative candidate in Todd county. Republicans defeated in other counties are contesting the seats of their opponents, whose majorities in nearly every case were much larger than Kimbrough's.

J. R. Mallory and S. Y. Trimble, of Elkton, represent Mr. Brewer.

ITALIAN MONOPOLY

ACCORDING TO THE REPORT OF AMERICAN VICE CONSUL

The Italian tobacco monopoly is steadily increasing its trade, according to statistics forwarded to the department of commerce and labor by Vice-Consul Byington at Naples.

When the monopoly was established in 1898 the total output was valued at $3,294,000 dollars. In 1905 it amounted to $3,425,000 dollars, and in 1906 to $4,680,745.62 dollars. Mr. Byington says the use of snuff in Italy has been annually decreasing.

In 1905 the sale of cigars increased $94,012 dollars in value, and in 1906 the increase amounted to $92,435 dollars. The increase in the sale of cigarettes was much greater, being $72,000 dollars in value. The exportation of tobacco for the year of 1906 increased by 183,000 dollars, which is considered very satisfactory, owing to the difficulties which have been encountered. It is the intention of the monopoly to endeavor to increase the sales in the countries to which Italian emigration is proceeding, and if it were not for the heavy duty and internal revenue tax in America there would be a splendid market for Italian tobacco, as Italians as a rule prefer their own type of cigars and tobacco, says the consul. In 1905 the export to the United States from Naples of tobacco amounted to 398 dollars and in 1906 it dropped to 163 dollars.

Italy draws large supplies of unmanufactured tobacco from the United States, having for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1907, taken $7,369,102 pounds, worth $3,971,426 dollars. The raw tobacco exports to Italy for the previous fiscal year aggregated $3,183,959 dollars, and for the fiscal year of 1906 to $2,513,851 dollars.

FORBES MFG CO.
INCORPORATED
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

To the Members of the Planters Protective Association: By Felix G. Ewing

GLENRAVEN, Tenn., Nov. 23.—Following is the letter to General Manager Felix G. Ewing to the members of the Planters' Protective Association:

As the season for the preparation and sale of another year's tobacco crop is upon us, I am writing some suggestions to you, with the request that you give voice to them among the membership when it seems practicable to do so. Very naturally, success in any enterprise is a stimulus to greater success, and the management of such an enterprise should very carefully reckon the future possibilities of greater success by the perfection of plans and efforts. But notwithstanding the board of directors may plan well, the fact is the same that much depends upon the individual efforts of the members. It is an indisputable fact that last season's effort was a tremendous success; the old members, the commercial and financial world and the newspapers accorded this. It has aroused an enthusiasm and closer interest, which, in its effect, permeates every artery of the tobacco-growing section.

The membership of the association as a whole, is now keenly enough alive to its benefits, to think seriously and act quickly upon the suggestions which emanate from the board of directors. To this end I will say a very important part of the work, quite as important as the fire curing in the planters' barn, or as the difference between good fertilizer and bad, is the matter of careful stripping and per cent assortment when tying into hams. Many who have so long sold tobacco loose, under the old system, have either forgotten or failed to realize that under the new system of selling that great care in assorting and neat handling at his own barn, may make a difference of from three-quarters to one and one-half cents per pound on three-fourths of his crop, and will not materially reduce the value of the one-fourth. Tobacco this year will not lug nearly as heavily as one-fourth. There has been a great improvement in the planters' work, but he should not cease his effort until he arrives at a state of greater perfection in it. The prize and inspector will also be admonished of the necessity for greater perfection in their work, as the management is determined to reduce the matter of reclamations to the minimum.

The board of directors has information that the average quality of the present crop is very good, which in consideration of the association's very successful sale of the past two seasons, and the consequent tremendous increase in membership, steadily strengthens the attitude and probable future. It is a well known fact that it has been the policy of the board of directors, that the association should win a commercial victory, not alone by availing itself of possible opportunities, but upon genuine merit in its plans and work, and to this end requests of the membership a very thorough observance of every rule promulgated by it. With a large increase in tonnage, probably reaching from sixty-seven to seventy-five thousand hogsheads, the necessity for thoroughly systematic work may be easily understood. Luke-warm members are really an injury. To say that one observed nearly every rule and only failed on this one, that one, or another, is not the proper spirit. Every rule prescribed is to work in conjunction with some other rule. This is the concrete strength of the organization, and every member should observe them rigidly, conscientiously. Harrassing and injurious complications inevitably follow non-observance.

Two facts should be recurrent in the minds of the membership. One is, that the board of directors assembled from time to time in earnest consideration has given its very best thought to formulating plans and making rules which place every planter of the tobacco district within reach of the benefits of the association. The association must keep strictly abreast of the times, in the phenomenal march of progress which characterizes the commercial class of the United States. The other thought is, that an intriguer who seeks, for selfish purposes, to undermine, would say, this rule or that one or some other one is totally unnecessary—it is red tape, and that one might be just as loyal to the association by a non-observance of it. This, of course, is calculated to mislead the unwary. Verily this man is an intriguer. Every rule has been weighed and measured; it naturally follows that we not only expect the members to live literally by the spirit and letter of the rules, but to educate his less intelligent, or weak-kneed acquaintance to such a necessity.

The board of directors deem it wisdom to issue a word of counsel to the membership of the association relative to the financial situation of the country today. To condense the matter as much as possible, it may be said that the ablest financiers of the country are of the opinion that the quickest and best relief will be conducted by calmness and confidence. This, together with some pertinent suggestions as to our conduct may be beneficial. Be frugal, abandon contemplated expenditures of money, which might be as easily postponed until after this stringency has passed. If you had expected to borrow money to do it, certainly postpone it. If you have money on hand, but can postpone an expenditure which would take it out of the district in which you reside do it. Keep the money in circulation, as far as practicable, by paying off debts. Pay off labor as rapidly as you conveniently can; this money quickly reaches the store, and hence through the various avenues of trade. Money will certainly command a rate of interest commensurate with its retention and circulation at home. The hoarding of money, in such an emergency, is unjustifiable and uncitizenlike, if one has ever been, or expects again to be, a borrower. A man who is thrifty enough to make money is sensible enough to place that not needed for current expenses safely in circulation if he looks about him with that willingness to help the general situation.

The members of the association, twenty-seven thousand in number, should know that more than sixty banks which aided us, in our in-activity, are very generally not only perfectly solvent, but actually have on hand quite an excess of money over what is usual or what is considered safe banking. They have kept this money to safeguard depositors, declining to lend it even at the very high rate of interest which they could have commanded. This necessarily means the diminution of dividends to stockholders, as banks have no other means of earning profits than by lending money left with them on deposit. Bankers generally are a thoughtful, conservative set of men; they have a well conceived system of taking care of themselves, their depositors and the public in such an emergency as the present, and there is a unity of action among them which is a great safeguard to the public. It should be remembered that there is no bank that is of any account whatever that could stand a run on it for the full amount of its deposits, unless many long months had been spent in thought and preparation for such a run. In this event it is easily understood that it would work terrible disaster to good citizens who had to pay in their loans at an inopportune time. The relations existing between local banks, their depositors and the banks in other cities should be reciprocal. The idea that local banks should not be tied up, with larger banks in other cities, is fallacy. In order to at all times aid home enterprise, and at the same time earn dividends for its stockholders, there must be intimate relations between larger and smaller banks.

At certain seasons an excess of money is sent off from local banks to banks in other cities. It is equally true that at other seasons very large amounts of money are furnished the local banks by the banks in other cities. Many a man hereabout has used New York money in his business, whether or not he knew it, and he would have felt dreadfully handicapped and ill-used if his local bank had not within its reach the money necessary for his purposes, notwithstanding it may have been a season at which its own resources were most nearly exhausted. It is conceded by eminent financiers that disaster is only threatened to large speculative banks or, more properly speaking, banks which cater to the gambling tendency. Prudence, frugality and constant liberality are recommended to avert even the possibility of a serious inconvenience as a result of a prolonged stringency. The banks and the general public have contributed much to the membership of the association, and hence the membership of the association should endeavor to contribute its mite by a broad, liberal view of the situation.

The prospects for the association's continued prosperity are very gratifying. The board of directors now, as heretofore, desire to conduct the business of the association upon a very high plane, and except the membership, as in the past, to heartily co-operate in this endeavor. The association has built for itself a splendid reputation in the commercial world and at home, for having accomplished more with less bitterness and fewer estrangements between its membership on the one side, and the opponents of its success on the other, than was ever known in a revolution of its magnitude. We must keep on our armor of quiet, honest, earnest, iron-bound determination to protect ourselves in our just deserts—a fair price for tobacco. Sagacity, calm judgment, consideration and good taste should, however, characterize our conduct. There must not be a ripple upon the shoals of harmony within our ranks. We should be kindly courteous to others without our ranks. We should always remember that the glory is greatest where the victory is most graceful. This reasoning should lead us always to that golden thought, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

I take this occasion to express my great delight at being sufficiently restored to health to return to home, to friends and responsibilities, after an absence of more than a year of critical illness. I want to acknowledge my appreciation of the gallant support rendered me in this great undertaking. Realizing fully that defeat inevitably meant a worse condition of affairs than had previously existed, and that the management was practically shaping the destinies of many thousands of good citizens, my responsibilities as leader were enormous, my duties arduous and diversified, I made sacrifices. Many, so many times, splendid men, sincere and earnest, offered to lessen my labors and share my responsibilities, and although they worked nobly and successfully, complications, extreme emergencies, which were not only skillfully engineered by the opponents to our success, but by a need of understanding, an apathy among our vitally interested people, would occur daily, almost hourly, until I was made to see that to make all hands meet harmoniously there were labors and responsibilities I could not share with another. But in it all was the pleasing thought that my co-workers were playing well their parts.

Their confidence, their sympathy, their courtesy, their oft-repeated tenders of aid, and their efficiency anywhere when aid was suggested, was an inspiration to me, and shall ever be cherished by me as a beautiful memory. In this work I did not think solely of an accumulation of money by the planters, I had an ambition to be one of the instruments of the building of a higher civilization in our midst. I have wanted to teach the plow boy that he could be a gentleman, I wanted to re-instate the avocation of the agriculturist to the plane it merits, and, notwithstanding the many sentimental theories as to greater enlightenment, refinement of thought and conduct, I am of opinion that the essentials to its perpetuity are desire, endeavor, or the convenient bath tub and a bank account. I have no doubt whatever that these ends are conducted by the success of this association of tobacco planters, and more especially so as the planter has been educated in marvelously brief time that he must awaken from his lethargy, that he must doff his old life, and don the new, that his brain must work unceasingly, as well as his hands, and to the end that he is far more resourceful in both business and social affairs.

I trust it will long be my privilege to aid the work of the tobacco association, but whatever fate befalls me, your boat has been launched. It has proven a good sailor, it has plowed through heavy seas, it has confronted hurricanes, it has withstood strokes of lightning. It remains for you to aid in the continuity of a never-ceasing and useful voyage by a most perfect adjustment of the ballast. This adjustment means simply that you always select your strongest and best men to represent you on the board of directors, and competent men everywhere. Let no kinship, friendship, neighborhood pride, pedigree, politics or religion control you in the least. Be ever thoughtful, watchful. Induce your brainiest and most honorable, available man to lend his aid.

Yours truly,
F. G. EWING,
General Manager

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists. Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by L. A. Johnson & Co.

REWARD IS OFFERED

FOR THE ASSAILANTS OF JOHN W. WICKS

Proclamation Issued By Gov. Beckham.
—$350 For Arrest and Conviction Of Each Man.

Gov. Beckham has issued a proclamation of reward for the arrest and conviction of the "Night Riders" who assaulted John W. Wicks.

The proclamation in full follows:

Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department.

Whereas, It has been made known to the undersigned governor of the commonwealth aforesaid that in Christian county, Kentucky, on the night of November 11th, 1907, one John W. Wicks was assaulted and beaten, and seriously injured by certain persons unknown, who then fled from justice and are still at large;

And, Whereas, The county judge of Christian county has requested that a reward be offered for said assailants of John W. Wicks;

Now Know Ye, That by virtue of the authority vested in me by law I do hereby offer a reward of $250.00 for the arrest and conviction of each of the said unknown assailants of John W. Wicks.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the commonwealth to be affixed.

Done at Frankfort this 23rd day of November, 1907.

J. C. W. BECKHAM,
By the Governor,
H. V. M'CHESNEY,
Secretary of State.
By W. F. GRAYOT,
A. S. Secy. of State.

The Frankfort Journal says:

Governor Beckham yesterday offered a reward of $250 each for the cowards who assaulted and beat John W. Wicks, an old and feeble tobacco buyer, in Christian county. This is the extent to which he can go in such matters and he must await the request of the county judge or other responsible officers to do this. We wish he had more authority. The fiends who whip people and burn barns under cover of a crowd and at night deserve to be shot down like dogs and we should like to see them served that way. It is a pity that they can ply the nefarious business almost with impunity, because of the sympathy of local officials or their fear of them.

On behalf of Christian county, Judge Breathitt offers a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of each of the assailants, making a total of $350 in each case.

The "pure food law" is designed by the government to protect the public from injurious ingredients in both foods and drugs. It is beneficial to the public and to the conscientious manufacturer. Ely's Cream Balm, a successful remedy for cold in the head, nasal catarrh, hay fever, etc., containing no injurious drugs, meets fully the requirements of the new law and that fact is prominently stated on every package. It contains none of the injurious drugs which are required by the law to be mentioned on the label. Hence you can use it safely.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach, and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it? The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every taint or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood. If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour stomach, rising after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best remedy known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Mrs. Cranor Secures Attachment On Husband's Property.

A suit which requires several pages of typewritten manuscript in setting out the claims of the plaintiff is that which has been filed by Mrs. Maud Cranor against her husband B. J. Cranor.

Mrs. Cranor states that she and the defendant were married in December 1906 and that on September 20, 1907 her husband left her without provocation or excuse and went to another state to reside. She charges that just prior to taking this step he, through connivance with his brother, D. T. Cranor, and his father, Thomas Cranor, secured her signature to deeds transferring all of the real estate which he owned to other parties. She asks that these transfers be held for naught and that other property which he owns shall be turned over to her. Upon her application an attachment was issued against all of the property in question.

EVERITT WRITES SENSATIONAL

Which Deposed Him as President of American Society of Equity.

A Frenzied Letter.

Writing in a style after Thomas

W. Lawson, of "Frenzied Finance" fame, J. A. Everitt recently deposed as president of the American Society of Equity, announces in "Up-to-Date Farming" that he intends to "tell how certain of the directors were deluded into supporting the dreamer and how they made the error of the 1908 convention a curse to the society for a whole year."

Everitt says he will tell other things.

His announcement is as follows:

"In as much as I was prevented from making my annual report as president of your society to the recent convention of the American Society of Equity, and as the committee I called in advance of the convention to examine into the conduct of the National headquarters for the past year was not allowed to report to the convention, I deem it my duty to lay before the members of the society many facts that they are entitled to know.

"My object in doing this is twofold. First, the members are entitled to know the truth regarding the administration of their headquarters, and where deceived they should be undeceived. Second, my personal vindication.

"I intend to tell the story of a dream an officer of the society had;

how it crazed him for power and riches; how he illegally used the society to promote it.

"Also, I intend to tell a story of a mistake made by the 1908 convention and its direful results to our society in 1907.

rectors were deluded into supporting

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is not a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this last fact first correctly told Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach

Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and have to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

"ARMY OF PEACE"

AS IT IS VIEWED BY THE PEM-

BROKE JOURNAL

Ride Into Town Commented On And

Present Conditions in the County

Are Discussed.

People who are not so well acquainted with the tobacco situation in Christian county, would naturally conclude, from the action of the "army of peace," which invaded

Hopkinsville last week, that things were in a bad way. But such is not the case. Fully 85 per cent of 1907 crop of tobacco in this county has been pledged to the Planters' Protection association, and so far as we have been able to learn there is no disposition on the part of the members to sell outside. Certainly there is more money in selling through association than there is in selling loose. The tobacco is not sold quite as early through the association, as it can not be gotten ready. But the grower realizes a neat sum as interest for having held his crop a few months. Last year the association tobacco was sold as rapidly as it was ready for market, and as this crop is a decidedly more useful one, it will certainly find a buyer when ready for sale. From what we can gather the "peaceful army" had no special object in view in visiting Hopkinsville, and none was accomplished.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions and present them to the tobacco buyers. This was done, the resolutions merely asking the buyers not to attempt to purchase tobacco which has been pledged. The buyers denied having done this, and went further and agreed that if, unwittingly, their agents had purchased tobacco pledged to the association, such contracts would be annulled.

If the buyers have not purchased pledged tobacco, and we are informed that the "army" could not give specific cases in which they had, then the "army" appears in the light of marching without any purpose, as all growers who are now in the organization are debarred from membership, the books having closed more than a month ago, and if they do not sell directly to the trust agent they cannot sell at all. The leaders of the army lacked the advice of wiser heads.  The organized growers have nothing to do but live up to their pledges and mind their own affairs, leaving the bill-billies to the mercy of the trust, and resting assured that the latter will use them to its own good, and, ultimately, that of the association.

DELIGHTFUL EVENT

WAS THE BANQUET OF THE STATIONARY ENGINEERS

Postprandial Oratory Was Enjoyed And There Were Several Novel Features of Entertainment.

It was Thanksgiving morning before the crowd, which gathered at the Odd Fellows hall last night in acceptance of the invitations which had been sent out by the local branch of the National Association of Stationary Engineers, dispersed but every minute of the time was spent most pleasantly and with much benefit to the inner man.

The event was in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the N. A. S. E., and was very fitting in every particular.

The program which had been arranged was one of unusual interest. Mr. M. H. McGrew presided with grace and dignity. The opening address was delivered by Mayor Chas. M. Meacham in his inimitable and happiest style. The purposes of the N. A. S. E., was made clear by C. N. Payne. In his address on The Need of Education in Engineering, Prof. Barksdale Hamlett pointed out the rapid evolution which had been witnessed in every line and voiced the hope that within a short time the public schools of the country, and those of Hopkinsville especially, would contain a department of engineering. Some of the best feats of sleight of hand and of the magician's art were performed by Prof. Herman Wettstein. Judge W. T. Fowler, in his talk with "Read and Reflect" as his subject, pointed out that it was the man who read and reflected upon what he had read that accomplished the big things of today, illustrating this point by calling attention to several local men who had attained marked success and prominence in this way. Prof. Charles Kincannon gave some very excellent imitations of various animals and fowls. The program was brought to a close in the wee small hours by a really wonderful spiritualistic seance most mysteriously brought about by Prof. J. L. Shroder. A substantial and appetizing supper was served about ten o'clock in the banquet hall, and during the evening delightful music was rendered by Lebkuecher's orchestra.

MEADOWS SETTLES

The Rev. F. M. Hawley's $100,000 Damage Case for $2,100 In Cash.

MAYFIELD, Ky., Nov. 28.—News of a compromise in the Hawley-Meadows damage case was given out here by Judge J. E. Robb, of the plaintiff's counsel. W. W. Meadows pays the Rev. F. M. Hawley $2,100 and all costs.

Hawley asked for $100,000 damages for injuries received in a horsewhipping given him by Meadows and others at the Fulton depot last spring. The trial resulted in a hung jury at Paducah last week. The whipping is said to have been done because of attention the pastor was said to have paid to Mrs. Meadows.

Shadow Pictures.

Shadowgraphy is the art of making life like shadow silhouettes with the hands by projecting them on a white screen with the aid of a powerful light.

Maro, the magician, is probably the greatest living exponent of this art.

To see Maro's shadowgraphs is to see figures of real every day life. You see the lover serenade his sweetheart, and the laughable interruption by the father; the fisherman who successfully fishes; the jockey ride the prancing steed, the old maid puff and powder, besides animals and faces innumerable. A hundred other mirth provoking incidences are all at the finger tips of the wonderful Maro. At Union tabernacle Saturday night.

Mr. Bell's Baptism.

Fort Worth, Texas
924 Summit Ave.
Nov. 17, 1907.

Editor Kentucky New Era.

Dear Sir:—I see in your issue of Oct. 31st, a notice of the death of my old friend, John H. Bell. We became acquainted in 1848. We were born in 1826, I being 80 days his senior. We were both married in 1847. Mrs. Bell died one day before my wife. We both celebrated our golden wedding four years before their demise. He was a very religious man, bore his part in all the worship. He was not gifted as a speaker when he became an elder, still in walk and behavior he was a living epistle known and read of all "who knew him." He could not carry a tune, but in a subdued tone as not to be especially noticed, he would call the words of songs like the old preacher who, while he could not sing well, could "make a joyful noise unto the Lord." The above is written to open the way for correcting a mistake in the account of Mr. Bell's baptism, a very natural one as Elder C. M. Day was the preacher he heard for many years. On a Sunday in the early '50's, I filled an appointment at Old Corinth, and as he was detained at home by the illness of a servant, he sent me a message to come and spend Sunday night with him. On Monday morning he told his father, Dr. John H. Bell, that he had sent me to baptize him, and just as day was dawning his wife, father and one or two servants went with us to a beautiful nearby stream, the West Fork, and upon a confession of his faith in Christ I baptized him. As a Christian he honored his profession.

Very Resp't. Yours,
A. L. JOHNSON.

ANOTHER BIG VOTE

IN THE NEW ERA'S GREAT CHILDREN'S CONTEST.

Less Than Two Weeks Before the Two Ponies and Eleven Gold Watches Are Awarded.

An analysis of the vote in the New Era's gold watch and pony contest, as shown by the count last night, shows several interesting things. In the first place the vote polled since the count of last Friday night was an unusually heavy one and was distributed well among the scores of candidates who are striving to win the prizes. There is not a district which did not receive its share of the votes and in some of these a general shakeup is noted. The heaviest vote polled by an individual candidate was that of Pettit Fentress of district No. 2, who cast 1,830. In no district is the leader so far ahead that the other candidates are out of the running and that all of them intend to stay in the field to the last and let nothing deter them from making every effort to win out is shown by the steady manner in which they are voted for each time.

In every district, except the three in Hopkinsville, the majority as shown for the leaders by last Friday night's count is materially lessened and in some instances the leader has been deposed. Other changes are made in the standing of the candidates lower in the list. With all of the candidates showing this heavy increase, the leaders had better watch out or there will be a sad story for some of them to tell after the result has been announced on December 11. The first change in the standing is noted in District No. 7, in which Frank Garner moves from fourth to third place, and Preston Haynes drops into the place vacated. In district No. 8 it is certainly a race. Miss Janie Walker, who has been in third place for some time, jumps into the lead. Miss Sarah Smith is second only by eight votes and a bare 22 votes is all that separates the leader and Ben Cowherd. Then there comes Miss Norma Riley with a good vote, and Miss Sallie Fourquean and Miss Oda Spurlin, so there is no telling who will win here. Miss Myra Turner takes the lead in district No. 11, with John A. Bacon, Jr., second, this forcing Miss Laura Coleman back to third position.

The contest will close at 6 p. m. on December 10; now less than two weeks of.

THREATENING LETTERS.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 27.—Anonymous and scurrilous letters were received this morning by several citizens. The handwriting was disguised, and the letters were mailed on train to escape detection. They were signed "Night Riders," and were full of threats of violence against those to whom they were addressed.

CROP CONDITIONS

AS FOUND BY STATE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE

Wheat in Christian County.—Swine Plague Reported and Some Suggestions Are Made.

Commissioner of Agriculture Vreeland has just issued his report for the past month.

Concerning Christian county he says:

"Fine weather for sowing wheat and fall crop will be sown. 75 per cent already in the ground and coming up nicely. Stock generally in good condition except hogs. Swine plague reported very fatal in this and adjoining counties; observation and post mortem examinations show that typhoid pneumonia is really the disease. Contagious and fatal, no remedies used here have been successful. Best results found in separating well ones from the sick and moving them in a different locality, fenced woods, if possible."

On general conditions, the commissioner writes:

The weather during the month of October was ideal, giving the late planted corn an opportunity to mature before frost. The tobacco crop was saved in good condition; free from frost and damage by being housed during rainy weather. The atmosphere being dry during the housing period but little damage is reported from house burn.

The wheat crop was put in, generally in good condition. The corn land sown to wheat was grassy with some weeds, but with good weather for working the land a good seed bed was secured.

Considering the late and unfavorable weather during the spring and early summer the corn crop has done remarkably well; the estimate being 94 per cent of last year's crop. The estimated acreage seeded to wheat is 91 per cent of last year, but the excellent condition in which the land was prepared before ought to make up for acreage.

The estimate on the total both burley and dark, are flying as the acreage was year 10 per cent in the dark show up well. The usual was sown to meadows and of old meadows is good.

There is a falling off in nut cattle, hogs, sheep, but the condition is good.
