ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1908

VOLUME XXVII, NO. 48

Chat About People and Things.

(From Thursday's Daily)

Interesting Nuptials.

Miss Dixie Bass and Mr. James Madison Forbes were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at 11:30 o'clock this morning. The ceremony was beautifully performed in the First Baptist church of Pensacola, Fla. The maid of honor was Miss Cornelia Bass, a sister of the bride, and the best man was Mr. Walter Howe, of this city. After a wedding trip, which will probably include a visit to Cuba, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes will return to Hopkinsville and will be at home after December 5. The marriage is to society circles one of the most interesting nuptial events of the year. The bride is the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lee Bass, of Pensacola, formerly of Hopkinsville, and the gallant bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Forbes, and one of the city's most popular young citizens. Mr. Forbes was accompanied to Pensacola by Mrs. Forbes and Miss Forbes, his mother and sister, Mrs. Givens, his cousin, and Mr. Howe. The happy couple on their return will be given a most cordial greeting by their host of friends, and Mrs. Forbes will prove a very welcome acquisition to society, which she graced so charmingly during her former residence in Hopkinsville.

Will Wed Today.

The marriage of Miss Julia Farnsworth Lyon, of Nashville, and Mr. John Hickman Whaley, of Pensacola, Fla., will be solemnized this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Judge Charles O. Prowse on South Main street. The ceremony will be said by Rev. George C. Abbott, of the Episcopal church. Immediately after the ceremony the couple will leave for Pensacola, where they will reside.

The bride-to-be is a sister of Mrs. Prowse.

Seeing Country Life.

The commission on country life, appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate rural condition, will visit Lexington Kentucky Saturday. J. B. Walker, of Christian county, has been appointed by Commission of Agriculture Rankin to aid the entertainment of the visitors. The commission consists of L. H. Bailey, of New York; Henry Wallace, of Iowa; Kenyon Butterfield, of Massachusetts; Walter H. Page, of North Carolina; Gifford Pinchot, of the United States Forest Service, and E. W. Allen, executive secretary.

Burris-Atkins.

The marriage of Miss Marian Burris and Mr. Riley W. Atkins was solemnized Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride about four miles from town on the Russellville pike. Rev. H. D. Smith officiated in an impressive manner and the ceremony was witnessed by quite a number of friends and relatives. The wedding was very simple, there being no attendants. After the marriage a delightful supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Atkins went last night to the groom's farm on the Canton pike where they will reside. The bride is a charming young lady, the daughter of Mrs. Fannie Burris. The groom is a son of W. T. Atkins and is one of the leading young farmers of the county.

New Official.

Concerning Dr. A. Campbell, who has been appointed first assistant physician at the Western asylum to succeed Dr. Ferguson, the Bowling Green News says:

"Dr. Campbell came to Bowling Green about three years ago, from Booneville, Ind., to practice his profession as a physician and during his residence here has built up a good practice. A few months after his arrival in this city he was married to a well-known woman of Booneville, Ind., and since the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Campbell in this city have made numerous friends, who will regret to learn of their departure but wish them success and happiness in their new home. This position is a responsible one but as Dr. Campbell is an experienced physician, will no doubt fill it most creditably."

The U. D. C. will meet Saturday at 2:30 o'clock at Hotel Latham. All members are urged to be present as election of officers will be held.

BY 500 PLANTERS

IMPORTANT MEETING IS HELD IN LYON COUNTY.

Resolutions Concerning the Dark District Tobacco Association Adopted. What They Wish.

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Nov. 11.—About 500 farmers of Lyon county met in Kuttawa and Lamasco November 7, and passed a set of resolutions in connection with the Planters' protective association, the organization in which they have all pooled their tobacco crops. The meeting was called to protest against the manner in which the pooled tobacco in the association is being handled.

Hugh Lyon, the precinct chairman of the Lyon county branch of the association, was one of the principal figures of the mass-meeting, which was called to consider the advisability of the farmers of Lyon county signing the pooling contracts for another three years.

Their Complaints.

It is understood that members of the association in several of the adjoining counties will take up the several questions with the hope of agreeing upon a policy that will enable the growers to get their money sooner and with less expense and loss to their crops.

The growers claim that they can arrange to get an average of 9 cents in cash upon the delivery of their crops and that is what they are fighting for. In concluding the resolutions the mass assembly set forth in strong language the position they would take should the association fail to redress the alleged wrongs and complaints noted. They firmly resolve as "white, free-born citizens never to sign another obligation to the present Planters' protective association."

The resolutions are as follows

Petition the Officers.

"Resolved, first, That we respectfully petition President Felix G. Ewing and the executive committee of the Planters' Protective association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia to allow our county chairman and our committee to sell the remainder of our 1907 crop of tobacco for the best price obtainable because we have complied with our obligation to the association by delivering our 1907 crop of tobacco to persons and places named by the association, and when the prizes received our 1907 crop of tobacco our obligation to the association was ended.

"Resolved second, That we find some of our 1907 crop was prized as in a damaged condition, thereby decreasing the value of the tobacco and preventing a sale of same at the established association price.

"Resolved third, That we feel that the association has not dealt with us as we were led to believe it would, because it hasn't sold our tobacco and some of our tobacco was sold at a reduced price.

Causing Dissatisfaction.

"Resolved fourth, That because our tobacco has not been sold is causing much dissatisfaction among our people, for we need the money that is involved in the remainder of our 1907 crop of tobacco to pay our taxes, our rents, our store accounts, doctors' bills, etc., and we feel that we are being imposed upon by not having our tobacco sold or being allowed to sell it ourselves.

"Resolved fifth, That we respectfully petition President Felix G. Ewing and the executive committee of the Planters' Protective association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia to establish a fair and reasonable price on our tobacco in three classes, leaf, lugs and trash, and allow our county chairman and committee to sell our 1908 crop of tobacco loose, and on these terms and conditions:

Places for 1908 Crop.

"That in consideration of a satisfactory bond to the effect that any man or men or company will buy all our 1908 crop at the association price, the county, chairman and his committee be allowed to employ a grader for each receiving house in the county, and when the farmer delivers his tobacco graded at the receiving door; pay the prizer or allow the buyer to reserve the prizer's fee; pay the storage house stockholders their percentage; pay the grader his percentage; pay the association its 1 per cent. commission as soon as the tobacco is weighed, thereby allowing the farmer saving of salesman's charges, saving of insurance, saving of several hands of tobacco that is now used in types, saving of interest on any money that may be advanced to him under the present methods; saving of cost of breaking tobacco and saving of cost of haulage or drayage; allowing him the great advantage of receiving all his money at once and where he delivers his tobacco. Also allowing the buyer the privilege of handling, grading and prizing his tobacco to suit himself.

"Resolved sixth, That we desire to continue our membership in the Planters' Protective association, and we desire to pay any reasonable commission or the present percentage to maintain the association.

Entitled to Voice.

"Resolved seventh, That we furnish the land, the labor and the money to produce our tobacco, and we feel, as free and intelligent citizens, that we are entitled to a voice in the management of the business of any organization to which we belong.

"Resolved eighth, That we desire to work in harmony with each other and with the Planters' protective association for the profits and welfare of all parties concerned.

"Resolved ninth, That the present methods of handling our tobacco by the association is not profitable nor satisfactory to the farmers of Lyon county, and we form and adopt these resolutions because we want to be benefited by them, and do not intend to nor desire to do anything detrimental to the welfare of the association.

"Resolved tenth, That unless these resolutions or other methods are adopted by which the tobacco industry will be more satisfactory and profitable to the Lyon county farmers we firmly resolve, as white, free-born citizens never to sign another obligation to the present Planters' protective association."

MISSION IS BEGUN

STRONG SERMON DELIVERED BY REV. MR. MCCREADY.

Services Will Be Held Daily at 3 and 7 p. m.—Cordial Invitation To Public.

The mission at Grace church was opened very auspiciously last night, and a deeply interested congregation heard the Rev. R. L. McCreedy, of Louisville, deliver an impressive and helpful sermon.

In the Chapel.

Owing to the injury to the lighting service in the auditorium by Monday's electrical storm, the service was held in the memorial parish house, and nearly every seat in the chapel was occupied. The song service of the excellent choir was beautiful and this important part of worship will continue to be a delightful feature of the mission.

Rev. Mr. McCreedy is a preacher of unusual power of pulpit utterance, of deep earnestness and consecration. He is a man of charming personality, of keen and incisive thought, and his manner of address, no less than the merit of his message, carries conviction to the minds and hearts of his hearers. Last night his discourse was in the nature of an introduction to his evangelical work here. It was thoroughly wholesome and helpful and made plain the duty of every Christian to be personally a missionary, that this was the supreme concern of Christian living.

The mission will continue one week, with services every afternoon at 3 o'clock and in the evening at 7 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

SPECIAL TERM.

PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 12.—An effort is being made to have a special term of federal court to try the Henry Bennett night rider damage suits.

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY Will Surely Stop That Cough.

JOKER GETS IN JAIL

TOLD A WOMAN THAT HE WAS A NIGHT RIDER

Released at the Request of Mayor Meacham After Making Investigation in the Case.

Wednesday afternoon, Mayor Charles M. Meacham received a telegram from the chief of police of St. Louis, stating that Richard Pollard had been arrested there as a Night Rider, suspected of being in the Hopkinsville raid, on information given by Mrs. Ella Lovelace, and asking if this city wanted him.

Had Him Released.

After an investigation of the facts in the case the mayor wired the St. Louis officer to release Pollard, but to secure Mrs. Lovelace's affidavit as to her information.

A press despatch from St. Louis to the New Era says:

"Richard Pollard, arrested after boasting that he was in the Hopkinsville raid, was released last night."

Pollard is described as a young man, heavily tattooed on his arms and body, and having a great shock of black hair.

A St. Louis paper says: "Richard J. Pollard, aged twenty-three years, was arrested for participating in the raid at Hopkinsville on information furnished by Mrs. Ella Lovelace, a roominghouse keeper, formerly of Hopkinsville. She told the police that Pollard had confessed to playing a part in the famous raid in which two men were killed and $200,000 worth of property destroyed. Pollard in prison said that, jokingly to Mrs. Lovelace, he merely remarked one evening that he was from Kentucky and that he was a 'Night Rider.' He says his home is in Braddock, Pa., and except for a short visit to Covington, never has been in Kentucky."

Mrs. Lovelace, it is learned, formerly resided in Earlington. Not Our Richard Pollard. Mayor Meacham says that the only Richard Pollard he knows of in this county is a citizen of South Christian, formerly of Julian and later of Gracey, and is probably fifty years old.

Miss Sallie George Blakey is visiting relatives in Auburn, Ky.

ELECTION IS VOID

JUDGE GORDON'S DECISION IN LOCAL OPTION CASE.

Whiskey Men Contested on Ground of Irregularities—Secrecy of Ballot Was Not Maintained.

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 11.—Judge J. F. Gordon handed down his decision Tuesday in the contest case of the election recently held in Madisonville to determine whether spirituous, vinous and malt liquors should be sold in the city.

Went Dry.

The election was held on July 8, and the city went dry by a majority of thirty-seven votes.

The whiskey people contested the election on several counts, alleging irregularities in the method of holding the election.

One of their grounds was that the officer who deposited the ballots in the box at the court house and Kitchen precincts saw a number of the ballots and how the voter had voted.

Only Ground.

In rendering his decision Judge Gordon held that no ground of contest existed except upon the question as to the action of the officers in seeing the ballots, which, in his opinion, destroyed the secrecy of the ballot as contemplated by law.

DISCUSS NIGHT RIDING.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 12.—In the cotton men's convention today, Walter Clark read a paper in which he denounced night riders as a curse. A. G. Roanake, of Mississippi, made a hot reply, upholding the outlaws. The convention was in an uproar over the matter.

TEMPLE OF JUSTICE

GETS IN THE WAY OF A STREAK OF LIGHTNING

People in the Courthouse Had a Scare Tuesday Afternoon.—Deputy Wicks Injured.

The two terrific claps of thunder and sharp flashes of lightning which startled Hopkinsville between three and four o'clock Tuesday afternoon did more or less damage in and about the courthouse, and Deputy Clerk W. R. Wicks has two fingers bandaged today as a result of injuries which he received.

Struck Courthouse.

The lightning evidently struck on top or in the tower of the courthouse. Jailer Johnson, Sol Fritz and some others had just gone upstairs to play cinch in one of the jury rooms when the shock came. The transformer which is screwed to the wall on the second floor landing was burst open by the force of the lightning and the porcelain fixtures inside were shattered and thrown some distance, one piece striking Mr. Fritz on the leg with considerable force, but not sufficient to injure him.

Downstairs in the clerk's office Mr. Wicks, Mit Moore and Ford L. Wilkinson were standing near a window directly underneath which was the lightning arrester of the Cumberland telephone, fitted with bits of carbon, etc., all of which was covered with a brass cap.

Flash Came.

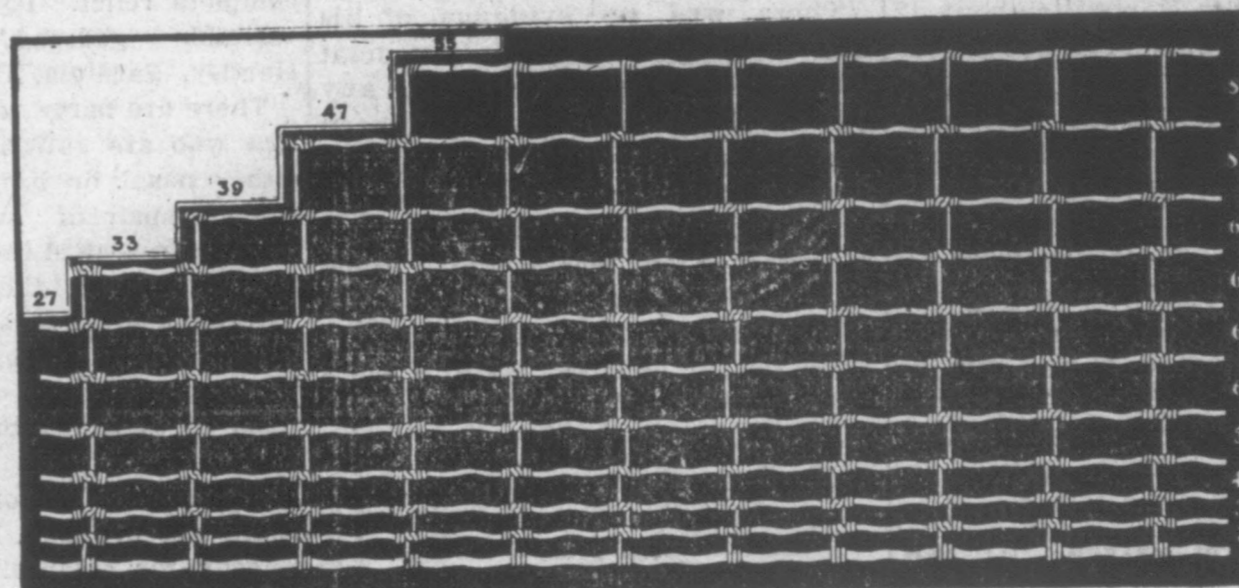

When the flash came the current came into this arrester with such force that it was smashed to smithereens and the pieces were hurled about the room. The brass cap, it is supposed, struck Mr. Wicks on two fingers of his right hand cutting and bruising and causing them to swell to such an extent that he had to have his wounds dressed by a physician.

Balls of Fire.

All about the courthouse the lightning was plainly visible in the shape of balls of fire. Many telephones were burned out and the current of the electric light company was more or less interfered with, it being cut off in the New Era office three separate times and forcing a complete suspension of work each time. Further than this, though, no damage has been reported.

MADE A CONFESSION

TELLING IN DETAIL OF REELFOOT
LAKE OUTRAGEState is Now in Possession of All
The Facts.—Gives Names of Night Riders.

UNION CITY, Tenn., Nov. 6.—Frank Ferriner, one of the Night Riders under arrest here, made a confession Wednesday evening to Gen. Caldwell and his assistants who are investigating the killing of Capt. Rankin. He told how the gang gathered together. He told the route he and his friends took to Walnut Log. All the way through he gave names, one after another. When the gang arrived at Walnut Log he described the scene in detail as they caught Capt. Rankin and Col. Taylor. He described the march of death up the road, told how they went two and two, and then came his description of the final scene of murder.

The state knows who placed the rope around Capt. Rankin's neck, if Ferriner can be believed; it knows the kind of knot that was used; it knows who fired the first shot, and all the details of Col. Taylor's escape.

It was Tid Burton who spread the news of the presence of Capt. Rankin and Col. Taylor at Ward's Hotel, declared Ferriner. The horse that bore Burton to Spout Springs, where Ferriner says he first heard of the presence of the two men at Walnut Log, belonged to Garret Johnson, now in jail at Nashville.

Ferriner claims he did not see a rope at all until just before it was placed around Capt. Rankin's neck. He says when it was placed there by a man he says named John Williams; some one in the crowd wanted to know what kind of a knot the "hangman" was going to tie.

The climax of his confession was the description of the shooting of Capt. Rankin after he had been hanged. Ferriner said the first shot came from near where he was standing. He said a man whose first name is John fired the first shot. Then came several other shots so quickly he could scarcely realize what was going on he says.

Next came the description of the escape of Col. Taylor. Ferriner told of the daring leap and then how he lighted a match and how some one shot up the little body of water and some shot the other way.

Ferriner was questioned in regard to all the names he could remember of persons who were in the raid, and responded willingly. He placed the number at between thirty and forty.

Ferriner told his story in a collected way, and did not appear much perturbed when the ordeal was over.

FROM FLORIDA.

Tampa, Fla., Oct. 31, 1908.
Editor Kentucky New Era,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

Gentlemen: We boarded the Dixie Flyer at Hopkinsville at 10 a. m., on Thursday the 29th, for Tampa, Fla. There were five of us in the party. We got to Nashville about 12 noon and to Chattanooga about sundown, to Macon about midnight, Valdosta, Ga., about day light and Tampa about 7 p. m., making the trip in about 33 hours.

We made close connections everywhere and enjoyed the scenery by daylight. In Georgia we found they had a good rain a day or two before and saw water in the ditches by the road.

The corn crop in Georgia was most all gathered and said to be reasonably good. The wheat was all up and pastures green. We saw our first orange trees about Palatka and the oranges are just beginning to turn yellow a little.

A gentleman told me that today (Friday) was what we call a cold day in Florida and we had some frost this (Saturday) morning. Our tickets cost $23.94 each, from Hopkinsville to Tampa, and we changed cars twice. Last night was obliquely and two quilts were required.

Everywhere I was asked why we had Night Riders and what good they expected to accomplish. I couldn't tell them. I saw a good deal of sugar cane growing. I heard but little said about politics; it is nearly all one way here.

Winter vegetables, such as lettuce cabbages, etc., are up and growing nicely, and we had snap beans for dinner today. The Confederate veterans had a reunion here last week. I want to fish some next and will report my luck. Hoping you will elect Bryan, I will close for this time.

HADLEY'S ELECTION CERTAIN AND
TAFT PROBABLY HAS MISSOURI

HERBERT S. HADLEY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—Latest returns give Taft a lead of 4,500 in Missouri, and it is not probable that this can be overcome. Herbert S. Hadley, Republican, is elected governor by 8,000 plurality.

DEATH UNEXPECTED

FOLLOWING EPILEPTIC ATTACK
ON THE STREETYoung Man Falls Insensible and Passes Away Without Having Ever Regained Consciousness.

(From Friday's Daily)

Randolph Mayton, aged about twenty years, died unexpectedly this morning following a seizure of epilepsy to which he was subject.

The boy was sweeping off the sidewalk in front of H. Bohn's Main street store, when he was overcome. He fell on the sidewalk and Dr. Anderson was summoned to attend him. The symptoms indicated nothing further than the usual conditions in such cases and after having the boy removed to the rear part of the store and made comfortable, the doctor, after applying the usual remedies, left. It was usual with young Mayton that he was long in regaining consciousness and so his continued insensibility aroused no foreboding until nearly three hours had passed Dr. Anderson was then called in again and he arrived just in time to see the young man breathe his last.

There was no evidence of his head having struck the pavement and receiving any injuries of any nature which could have produced death, and it supposed that a blood vessel in the brain was ruptured.

Mr. Mayton returned from Colorado only a few weeks ago. Since he had been back here he had been employed in the store as a salesman. He is the son of J. M. Mayton, who recently removed to this city from the country.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Hyomel Cured Bronchial Catarrh After He Had Given Up in Despair.

"For many years I have been a sufferer from bronchial catarrh, and had despaired of anything like a cure. Judge of my pleasant surprise when I first used Hyomel, which brought complete relief. Hyomel has been a veritable godsend."—Rev. Charles Hartley, Sardinia, Ohio.

There are many readers of the New Era who are suffering from catarrh, either nasal or bronchial. Many of these despair of ever being cured. They have soaked their stomachs with nostrums until they are disgusted with all medicines, and are now traveling their miserable way, allowing the devilish germs of catarrh to sap them of their health, energy and vitality.

But let us reason together. L. L. Elgin, the druggist, has a guaranteed remedy for catarrh, colds, coughs, bronchitis, croup, and all inflammatory diseases of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. The name of this remarkable remedy is Hyomel, and if it doesn't cure Mr. Elgin will give you your money back.

Hyomel (pronounced High-o-mel) is medicated air; you just breathe it through the inhaler over the inflamed and germ ridden membrane, and its soothing antiseptic properties will allay the inflammation, destroy the germs, and restore the entire respiratory tract to its normal conditions.

A complete Hyomel outfit, including a hard rubber inhaler, costs but $1.00, and an extra bottle of Hyomel, if afterwards needed, costs but 50 cents. See L. L. Elgin about it today.

Eat What

You want of the food you need
Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it. Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly. When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay.

We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you.

This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you.

It would bankrupt us. The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

From Day to Day

Push and Pluck.

The state papers showed uncommon enterprise and "get up" in securing election returns and, in a great number of cases, in issuing extra editions as early as possible. Every day they give evidence of push and pluck, and the number of projected improvements is considerable. A Mergenthaler of the latest pattern has just been installed by the New Era, Hopkinsville. 'Saturday Night' is so pleased with its debut at Owensboro that it is to be published from a plant of its own, and many of the old familiar "patent insides" are making way before newer features set up at home. No better indication of an awakened commonwealth could anywhere be found.—The Louisville Times.

Elopement.

Albert Harris, of Kennedy, and Miss Mary Majors, of Herndon, eloped to Tennessee Saturday afternoon and were married before anyone had an inkling of their intentions. The young lady was visiting in this city and her sweetheart came here for her. They drove to Bethel church, just across the Tennessee line, where the ceremony was performed by the pastor. They returned to the groom's home near Kennedy where they will reside.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mat S. Majors and is a very popular and attractive young lady. The bridegroom is a prominent young planter of the southern portion of the county.

Leaves the City.

Clifton Calhoun left yesterday for Birmingham, Ala., to accept a position with a large contracting firm. If Mr. Calhoun likes his new position, his wife, who is visiting in the country now will join him in a few weeks and they will make their home in Birmingham.

Added Efficiency.

The Leaf-Chronicle offers to its esteemed contemporary, the Hopkinsville New Era, its congratulations upon the installation in its office of the latest model of the Mergenthaler Linotype, a machine with which the New Era will be able to revolutionize the mechanical operations of its composing room. It is gratifying to note this evidence of progress on the part of our contemporary. Always a good paper, the patrons of the New Era henceforth may expect added efficiency in the matter of news exploitation.—Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle.

Here's to You.

The New Era is in receipt of the following notice from the Outlook Magazine:

SUNDAY SICKNESS

DR. MEANS AUTHOR OF NOTED
BIT OF SATIRE.

First Given by Him Twenty-five Years Ago—A Strong Sermon on Church Going.

The subject of the sermon preached Sunday morning at the Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. George H. Means, was on "Church Going," and while he used no harsh language in censuring church members for staying away from services his utterances were none the less effective. He pointed out the various excuses which church members were in the habit of making and the different ways in which they spent Sundays instead of going to church as they had vowed to do. In this regard he cited the laws of our land which hold a man guilty of perjury who will help up his hand before a judge upon the bench and swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, and then gets on the witness stand and tells a falsehood. "What would you call the crime," said the preacher, "when a man or woman swears before God to support the church and its ordinances and then stays away from church and spends the one day in the week which is held sacred to the worship of the Lord in selfish pleasure?" He declared that it was a variety of diseases which thus attacked people and kept them from fulfilling their religious duty. That this disease was peculiar to church members and was active only on Sunday. He then referred to a prognosis of such a disease which has been going the rounds of the papers for several years under the title "Morbus Sabbaticus." Dr. Means stated that he was the author of this bit of satire and that he preached it first in Henderson about twenty-five years ago and it was published at that time and has since appeared from time to time, but always in a more or less garbled form. In his sermon Sunday he gave it in its entirety and original version, as follows:

"Morbus Sabbaticus, or Sunday sickness, is a disease peculiar to church members. The attack comes on suddenly every Sunday. No symptoms are felt on Saturday night; the patient sleeps well, and awakes feeling well. He eats a hearty breakfast but about church time the attack comes on and continues until services are over for the morning. Then the patient feels easy and eats a hearty dinner. He eats a hearty supper but about church time he has another attack and stays at home. He retires early, sleeps well and wakes up Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work. He does not have any symptoms of this disease until the following Sunday. The peculiar features of the disease are as follows:

"It always attacks a member of the church.
"It never makes its appearance except on the Sabbath.
"The symptoms vary, but it never interferes with the sleep or the appetite.
"It never lasts more than twenty-four hours.
"It generally attacks the head of the family.
"No physician is ever called.
"It always proves fatal to the soul.
"No remedy is known for it except prayer.
"Religion is the only antidote.
"It is highly contagious and infectious and spreads with fearful rapidity.
"This disease is often called 'Systematic Lying,' but its true name is Morbus Sabbaticus, or Sunday sickness.
"It is becoming fearfully prevalent and is sweeping thousands every year prematurely to the devil."

The above, says Dr. Means, is the true version of this now famous bit of satire.

A Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years for diarrhoea. I consider it the best remedy I have ever tried for that trouble. I bought a bottle of it a few days ago from our druggist, Mr. R. R. Broke. I shall ever be glad to speak a word in its praise when I have the opportunity."

DR. HENDRIX DEAD

VERY PROMINENT PHYSICIAN OF COUNTY PASSES AWAY.

Native of Tennessee and Located in Christian County in 1865—Had
Host of Friends.

(From Monday's Daily

Dr. A. A. Hendrix, of Crofton, died this morning. Some months ago Dr. Hendrix was adjudged to be of unsound mind and sent to Western Kentucky Asylum for the Insane for treatment. He steadily grew worse however and was taken home a few days ago since when he had declined rapidly and his death this morning was not unexpected. Until his mind failed Dr. Hendrix was one of the strong characters of the county. He was a physician of unusual learning and a practitioner of marked success. Dr. Paul Keith, who is a nephew, and Dr. J. B. Jackson, both of this city, and many other successful physicians, studied under him. Seven or eight children survive him.

He was born in Williamson county, Tenn., on August 5, 1830, and he came to Christian county in the spring of 1865 and at once began the practice of his profession. He had formerly spent one year in Kentucky but at the breaking out of the war he returned to Tennessee where he remained until he came to this county. He was formerly a member of the Masonic lodge and was a warm supporter of the Greenback party while it lasted. He was very successful in his practice and leaves a considerable estate.

Whisky Medicines.

The temperance press is emphasizing the danger to the home in the use of "medicines" which are loaded with whisky or alcohol. In this respect, as well as in the remarkable character of their cures, Dr. Pierce's medicines differ from other preparations. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness and bowel derangements and, "Favorite Prescription" for woman's derangements and weaknesses, contain no alcohol. Their full ingredients are printed on the bottle wrappers, therefore they are not secret or patent medicines. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet giving list of medicinal roots from which these remedies are extracted by the use of triple-refined glycerine; also the eminent medical writers who recommend their ingredients for the cure of the diseases for which these medicines are advised.

It isn't so difficult to strengthen a weak stomach if one goes at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old fashioned way of dosing the Stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is surely wrong! Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. "Go to the weak ailing nerves of these organs," said he. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve." When these nerves fall then those organs must surely falter. GLORIOUS RAIN CHEERS COUNTY

DROUGHT OF OVER THREE MONTHS IS BROKEN.

CAME IN THE NICK OF TIME

Situation Both in the City and in the Rural Regions Had Become Alarming.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Rain at last!
And it promises to continue until the drought is effectually broken.
This is certainly good news for everyone throughout this end of Kentucky and Hopkinsville is especially gratified, for the question of sufficient water to supply the needs was getting to be a serious one indeed.

Comes Unexpectedly.

The rain came almost without warning. Up until 8:30 last night the moon shone plainly except for the usual haze which gave it a reddish appearance. At 9 o'clock scurrying clouds hid it at times and a few minutes before ten the rain began to fall. It was a very timid rain for it was such a stranger that it was uncertain as to what reception would be accorded it. At first only a few drops fell. Finding that no commotion greeted this the drops came heavier but very hesitatingly. Then it held up again to see what the result would be. The people evidently were not averse to the rain for they gave no expression to such feelings and soon a generous shower came. Then just before midnight the downpour began in earnest and from then on until morning it was almost a continuous thing and the citizens laid in their beds and listened to the grateful patter on the roof and could not go to sleep for very joy that the distressingly dry conditions were being finally overcome.

Accompanying the rain was heavy thunder and lightning and just before the midnight shower began the breeze which preceded it blew in its front a heavy cloud of smoke and dust which it had collected from the country over which it had passed. After the rain began to fall the unpleasant odor coming from this was succeeded by the pungent smell of the earth as it received the welcome moisture.

Relief Is General.

Today the rain has continued and all indications point to a continuance until the drought is effectually broken. It will require two or three days for the earth to become thoroughly soaked. The drought had reached an alarming stage and right here in Hopkinsville the question of water supply had gotten to be one of much seriousness. Now all these conditions are relieved.

The rain was foretold by a never failing occurrence. During the past few days hundreds of springs all over the county which had dried up completely as a result of the drought had broken forth with renewed vigor and in many cases with increased volume. Wells which had about dried up suddenly showed their old-time activity. In one case where a cistern was being walled in near Lafayette, a spring broke through on one side and is said to be running yet. To many people this was an unexplainable mystery for there had been no rains anywhere in the vicinity of those springs and no one could account for their renewed activity. Older people though who had gone through more than one drought stated as soon as they heard of the condition that it presaged rain and that at no very distant date. They said that just before the breaking up of a drought of such magnitude as this they failed to find any, all ponds being dry or too shallow and the river having almost ceased to flow. In their dilemma it was decided to dam the river and this was done on election day (Nov. 3) by building a dam of logs and dirt across the stream. Sunday the water had collected to about waist depth and the converts were baptized.

Hunters had become very uneasy on account of the dry conditions as the quail law expires next Sunday and all of them were counting on hunting Monday. In dry weather such as we have had, dogs cannot work with any success. Now that the rains have come hunting promises to be unusually good.

One, that springs and wells which had dried up weeks before broke forth again. That their prediction, which was made yesterday, was a true one was shown by the rains last night.

SENATOR CARMACK SLAIN ON STREETS BY POLITICAL FOES

Brilliant Editor of the Nashville Tennessean Waylaid By Col. Duncan Cooper and His Son.—
Young Man Fired Fatal Bullet and Is Himself Wounded.

TRAGEDY CAUSES THE MOST INTENSE EXCITEMENT

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 10.—As a sequel to the recent bitter democratic primary for the gubernatorial nomination in Tennessee, Hon. Edward Ward Carmack, former United States senator from Tennessee, was shot and killed in a street duel yesterday afternoon, by Robin Cooper, a young attorney. Young Cooper was wounded in the shoulder by a bullet from Carmack's revolver and is under police surveillance in a local hospital. His condition is not serious.

Three Wounds.

Carmack was wounded three times, in the neck, the breast and left shoulder. Colonel Duncan B. Cooper, father of the younger man, was with his son during the affray, but did not fire a shot. It is said he stood by, pistol in hand. He is detained at police headquarters.

The direct cause of the killing is a recent series of editorials in the Tennessean, a daily paper of which Carmack became editor after his defeat for the nomination for governor. The editorials in question had been vigorous in their comment on Colonel Cooper and his alleged connection with what Mr. Carmack termed "the democratic machine" and its methods. Colonel Cooper, who is well known in business, newspaper and political circles in Tennessee and the south, had, it is said, notified Mr. Carmack that the references to him must cease.

Close Quarters.

The men fought at close quarters and there were but few witnesses. It was past 4 o'clock in the dusk of the afternoon. They met on Seventh avenue, north, directly in front of the Polk flats, a fashionable apartment house. Mr. Carmack had just lifted his hat to Mrs. Charles H. Eastman, a friend, who was passing. In a moment the firing began and Mrs. Eastman was a horrified witness at close range.

So close was she, that one of the Coopers is said to have charged Carmack with being a coward and hiding behind a woman. Cooper's friends charge that Carmack fired the first shot, but the dead man's friends stoutly protest that his opponent was the first to shoot.

The tragedy created the most intense excitement throughout the city and within a short time the streets in the neighborhood were thronged. As soon as Senator Carmack fell on the edge of the street, Colonel Duncan Cooper put his arm around Robin Cooper and both walked a few feet down Seventh avenue to Dr. R. G.

Fort's office, where the slight wound in his shoulder was examined and the wound treated. Dr. Fort stated that the wound was very slight.

Body Removed.

An ambulance carried the body of Mr. Carmack to an undertakers' establishment. The pistol of Mr. Carmack, a 32-caliber, was lying at his side with two of the chambers empty when the body was picked up and was turned over to an officer. The stump of cigar, Mr. Carmack had been smoking, was also on the street beside him, where it had fallen from his mouth as he fell.

Young Cooper was later carried to a hospital and Colonel Cooper is held at police headquarters. He has made no statement.

Robin Cooper is a practicing attorney-at-law, 27 years old and single.

Crime Premeditated.

The Nashville Tennessean says: "The killing was murder—cold-blooded, deliberate, premeditated, with every detail planned out beforehand; murder, without justification; a dastardly crime without a parallel in the annals of the state."

"Senator Carmack had been warned that Col. Cooper and his son had announced their intention to shoot him on sight and on Sunday night, against his own wishes, he had been prevailed upon by members of the Tennessean staff to carry a pistol for his own protection. Although the first shot that struck him was a mortal wound, he was able to draw his revolver and fire on shot, it taking effect in young Cooper's right shoulder and inflicting a slight wound."

"The Last Straw."

Referring to Col. Cooper's part in the reconciliation of Gov. Patterson and Ex-Gov. Cox, Senator Carmack yesterday wrote the following editorial, which Cooper's friends say was "the last straw":

"To Major Duncan Brown Cooper, who wrought the great coalition; who achieved the harmonious confuence of incompatible elements; who welded the petty handle to the wooden spoon; who grafted the dead branch to the living tree and made it bloom, and bourgeois and bend with golden fruit; who made playmates of the lamb and the leopard and boon companions of the spider and the fly; who made soda and vinegar to dwell placidly in the same bottle, and who taught oil and water how they might agree—to Major Duncan Brown Cooper, the great diplomat of the political Zwickbund, be all honor and glory forever."

MERIT REWARDED.

The committeemen of the Dark Tobacco Planters association met Monday for the purpose of awarding contracts for the prizeing of the 1908 crop of tobacco. Among those who were found meritorious was Dorris & Fairleigh who last year operated and will continue to run the Rock Bridge Stemmeries, the most suitable building for handling loose tobacco in Hopkinsville. The tobacco prize by this firm has found favor among the buyers, about 75 per cent of the tobacco prize by them having been sold which is considerably over the general average of sales made at this point. Out of the sales of their tobacco they have had no reclamations, which shows that their tobacco has been well classified.

Western Union's Office.

The Western Union Telegraph office will remove its quarters November 15 to the room on Second avenue next to Skarry's jewelry store. Its present place will be included in the extension of the Anderson-Fowler Drug Co.'s store.

DROUGHT BROKEN.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 10.—Reports from all sections of the state show that the drought has been broken by copious rains and forest fires are being checked.

MANY CONTRACTS ARE AWARDED

BY COMMITTEE OF PLANTERS'
PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

WAREHOUSEMEN AND PRIZERS

Work Was Completed Late Monday
Afternoon—New Crop Will Now
Begin to Move.

Following the election of George W. Barnes as salesman, the executive committee of the Planters' Protective association for Christian county finished the work of awarding the prizeing and storage house contracts late Monday afternoon.

Storage house contracts were awarded to W. D. Cooper & Co., R. M. Wooldridge & Co., and to F. W. Dabney, in Hopkinsville; to the Pembroke Warehouse company at Pembroke, and to the Farmers Storage & Warehouse Co., at Gracey.

Contracts Awarded.

Contracts to prize tobacco according to the rules and regulations of the association, were awarded as follows:

HOPKINSVILLE.

W. A. Wilson, J. R. Brame & Son, C. N. Rives, R. S. Carter, J. M. Anderson & Co., John W. Adams, Hooper & Gee, J. D. Duncan, Dorris & Fairleigh, J. L. P'Pool, David Smith, B. T. Harnd.

FAIRVIEW.

E. D. Fritz and E. D. Humphrey. KELLY.
Yancey & Boyd, L. B. King, Monroe Boyd.

GRACEY.

T. J. Hammonds. NEWSTEAD.
J. M. Carter. KENNEDY.

Barker & Lupton. PEMBROKE.

W. H. Bollinger, Isaac Garrott, L. McCombs & Co., A. O. Dority. Some Refused.

Several applications for prizeing contracts were refused, some of these failing to come up to the grade required of prizeers. Before going into the awarding of contracts it was decided that no contracts should be awarded to persons who could not meet the required test.

No choice of inspector was made, this being an appointment in the hands of General Inspector Guy Dunning, of Trigg county. It is understood there are four applicants for this position, these being Frank M. Quarles, the present inspector; T. D. Jameson and D. C. Williams, of Pembroke, and R. C. Crenshaw, of this city. The position of bookkeeper is now filled by D. F. Smithson. This selection is made by the district board of directors.

With the awarding of the prizeing and storage house contracts, the selection of a salesman and the rains which have at last begun to fall and which will bring about the first season for handling tobacco since it was hung in the barns, it is expected that the delivery of tobacco to the prizeing houses will begin in a short while.

Highly Gratified.

Dr. Barker, chairman, and other officials of the committee, expressed themselves as being highly gratified at the rapidity with which the new three-years' pledges are being signed by the farmers throughout Christian county. They state that only in one or two neighborhoods is the work at all backward and in these it is due to the lack of systematic circulation of the pledge papers.

There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding the acreage question. Many people have the idea that the recommendation of the district board that only five acres should be planted for the first fifty acres owned or controlled and two and a half acres for each additional fifty acres, is a part of the pledge and is as binding as any other part of it. This is a mistake as the board of directors cannot go this far in controlling the crop and this acreage scale is recommended by them as being the proper basis upon which the production can be controlled. The farmers generally are being governed by it.

DAMAGE SUITS.

PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 10.—Arrangements, it is said, have been made to settle out of court the damage suits filed in the federal court against Night Riders, as a result of the Birmingham raid.

BIG DEAL IS MADE

IMPERIAL TO TAKE GREAT LOT
OF TOBACCO.

The Christian County Growers Would Welcome Similar Arrangement If It Could Be Effected.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Reliable information has been received here that a contract has been made by the Dark Tobacco's Growers' association with the Imperial tobacco buyers, by which the latter are to take ten or twelve million pounds of tobacco from the association. It is learned further that the tobacco is to be placed in hogsheads, about 1,200 pounds to the hogshead, and delivered to the warehouses from whence in turn it will be delivered to the factories. This deal means much to Clarksville as it will lead to the establishment of several stemmeries that will employ a large number of workers. The deal has been pending for several weeks.

It is expected that the market will open as soon as seasonable weather permits. The farmers through this method will be able to prize their tobacco at home and thereby save themselves that portion of the expense that accrues from the employment of experienced prizeers.

The foregoing dispatch will be read with great interest in Christian county. It is very earnestly to be hoped that the association officials will be able to effect some similar deal with the Imperial or other company by which the tobacco of this county, and nearby counties, can be sold and the money paid over to the farmers and the financial tension relieved.

Stomach Muscles In Old Age

How Old People May Retain or Restore Good Health

Usually the bowels are not so active in middle or advanced years as in youth. Just as the eyes grow dim, the skin wrinkles, the hair gray, the muscles flabby, so do the internal organs show their age if we could but see them.

However we sometimes find a person whose age is near the meted three-score and ten and yet his step is sprightly, his eye keen, his flesh firm, his appetite good and his bowels regular, and upon close questioning you will find a life's history of right-living, good food, keen appetite, perfect digestion and regular bowel action.

Regular bowels and proper digestion of the food we eat is absolutely necessary to the enjoyment of good health by old or young. If the readers of this article are interested, we are glad to tell them how they can restore good health and prolong their lives.

Step into a drug store and purchase a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It will cleanse the bowels of any waste matter that has clogged them up and restore to them strength and nerve force for regular natural daily action. It aids digestion by stimulating the stomach and digestive glands to a proper and sufficient secretion of the fluids necessary to perfect digestion. It acts on the liver and kidneys in a mild, quiet yet effective manner. Rev. A. J. Fletcher, of Rutherford, Tenn., is 80 years old, and it cured him of 60 years of dyspepsia. W. W. Sterling, Sioux City, Ia., says: "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best medicine I ever used and I am 88 years old." B. F. Thompson, Shenandoah, Ia., says: "I suffered 15 years with dyspepsia and it cured me." It is certain and effective in the most obstinate old cases, and yet mild and safe for the most delicate woman or child. All druggists sell it at 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Pepsin Syrup Co., 304 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill., is glad to send a free sample to any one who has never used it and will give it a fair trial.

Our Daily Short Story A Social Skirmish.

(Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.)

Young Mrs. Fordyce-Jones, tired out from a leadership of a winter's social festivities, determined to rest for the summer season. But how was she to find a place of rest? Help to millions that had been handed down to her through several generations, prominent not only socially, but as a directress in numberless women's societies, it was no easy matter for her to get away from the incessant calls that were made upon her. After considering many plans she selected a small summer inn in the mountains, where she engaged a room for $12 a week and registered as plain Mrs. Jones.

Now, Mrs. Jones had heard that in these summer hotels the guests meet and intermingle for a season on terms of temporary equality, to separate at the end of August and go to their homes and accustomed associates. Several ladies nodded to her without introduction, so she nodded, smiled and often passed a pleasant word with those she met.

But Mrs. Jones soon found that her nods and smiles in some cases were not returned in kind. Before she had been at the inn a week it was apparent that the social features of the place were under the direction of a small clique managed by a certain Mrs. Dole. In other words, Mrs. Dole ran the social part as the landlady ran the board and lodging.

Mrs. Fordyce-Jones, who had long been hunting for a new sensation, had suddenly found one. Hiding from invitations of the most refined people who were loath to accept the "regrets," she was astounded at the discovery that she was tabooed by those who had neither blood, exceptional breeding nor money. It was a great shock to her amour propre. It set her to thinking. She had regarded the welcomes that were given her by her peers as coming from her natural attractiveness. Here were people socially her inferiors as well as in other respects who had no use for her.

Mrs. Jones determined to capture the clique, not by making herself known, not by frowning upon them, but by her winning ways. She lay in wait for some of their husbands, and the men became willing captives. But the same reserve, the same for ferred pervaded the women. As soon as Mrs. Jones discovered that she was making no headway in this direction she desisted.

Mrs. Jones tried to think that she was enjoying the absurdity of the situation, but she was not. One might expect that she would. These people were nothing to her, and they were making themselves ridiculous. But the fact remained that at that particular place she was snubbed. She had been told again and again that the reason of her social prominence was her personal loveliness. Why did not she then surround herself with flatterers; that it was not herself that society worshipped, but her power to help others onward and upward.

Nor did Mrs. Jones relish being denied companionship, though she had come to the inn to avoid companionship. The best people there were made afraid of each other and her by the clique, and she had nothing in common with the plain class to be found at summer hotels. She therefore set by herself on the piazza pretending to read a novel, but in reality thinking upon the lesson of her life. Was she not when at home playing the part played by Mrs. Dole? She was obliged to admit that she was, though in a different way. She had a kindly word and a smile for every one. As to her invitations and those she accepted, she acted as she had a good right to act—upon her own sweet will. She had never known any other surroundings than those of wealth and refinement; therefore she felt assured she could not possibly be a snob. She thought much upon reforms she would like to make on her return, but they did not upon consideration seem practicable.

One morning near the end of August, when the denizens of the hotel, the elect and the ordinary, were sunning themselves on the piazza, a carriage resplendent with varnish and gold plate, the door emblazoned with a coat of arms—the Fordyce-Jones arms—driver and footman on the box in maroon colored livery and white silk stockings, drove up to the unpretentious stone mansion guests and barenge arrived and departed. Every woman sat up and stared. No one was in the carriage, so it was probable that some one was going in it. Who could it be? Presently Mrs. Jones in a simple traveling costume came out of the inn with the landlady, to whom she gave a kiss at parting, entered the carriage and was driven away.

There was consternation on the part of every woman of the clique. What did it mean? Who was Mrs. Jones? Did she own the equipage? What was such an equipage doing at a point so remote from the city? The landlady told them that they had been snubbing the celebrated Mrs. Fordyce-Jones, whom they all had heard of, but to whose exclusive circle none of them had ever got within even telephone distance; that one of her country residences was distant but a day's journey and she had determined to ride there in her own carriage.

Mrs. Fordyce-Jones is considering this winter certain social reforms: Mrs. Dole and the clique are bitterly ruining a golden opportunity missed.

BULLETIN ISSUED

ON THE VARIETIES OF WHEAT RAISED IN KENTUCKY.

Some Interesting Facts Developed by Observations at the Agricultural Experiment Station.

The new bulletin on wheat just issued by the Kentucky agricultural experiment station of state university is attracting widespread attention among farmers and others agriculturally inclined.

Tests Made.
The bulletin is No. 136 and embraces within it twenty or more pages of a treatise on the test of varieties of wheat. The bulletin is compiled by Messrs. W. H. Scherffus and H. Woolley.

Mr. Scherffus says in the introduction that for eighteen years the experimental station has been carrying on a series of variety tests, following the side-by-side plot method.

It has been observed from the tests made at the local and other experiment stations that the highest yielding wheat, in a variety test for any given year, may not hold its position two years in succession. For example, Beechwood Hybrid gave the highest yield obtained by us in 1905; in 1906 it took sixth place and in 1907 it took tenth position in point of yield. Jersey Fultz stood fifth in 1905; first in 1906, and second in 1907. However, with these slight variations, we can safely say that some varieties of wheat are, on the average, much more productive than others.

Make Mistake.
Many farmers make the mistake of going along year after year, sowing a variety of wheat which falls several bushels per acre short of what would be secured if a higher yielding variety had been sown. It is impossible for anyone to make general observations of his own field of wheat as compared to his neighbors', and reach any kind of correct conclusions as to the producing power of the two varieties. Unfortunately, this kind of comparison is sometimes made to the disadvantage of the better variety of wheat. The inferior one, having received more thorough preparation of the land, better soil, or more favored climatic conditions, produces more than the less favored but better variety of wheat.

Adwell & Stowe.

Adwell & Stowe have moved their tinning and plumbing establishment from Second Avenue west just back of the First National Bank building, to the room formerly occupied by the boxball alley on the same street between Main and Virginia. Here they have put in a full stock of tinning supplies, plumbing goods, and gas and electric fixtures and are better able than ever to care for their trade.

Injury Was Slight.

A few days ago one of the female patients at the asylum in some way got on to the roof of one of the buildings and jumped into a tree standing close by. She managed to catch to the branches as she fell through them and thus broke her fall to such an extent that when she finally struck the ground she was only slightly injured.

GIVING OF THANKS

PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED BY
GOV. WILLSON.

Ought Also Give Covenant to the
Lord to Cherish and Obey
His Laws.

Gov. Willson has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:
"By the custom of our fathers and in concord with the Thanksgiving proclamation of the President of the United States of America, and in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky and all its people, and for each and every soul in this Commonwealth of Kentucky, the governor of Kentucky sets the day of prayer and thanksgiving to God on Thursday, November 26, 1908.

Thanks and Prayers.

"No one is too poor or wretched that he hath not something to thank God for, and no one is so blessed that he doth not need to bow in prayer; and our people in their homes should pray earnestly for relief from woes and wrongs as they should return earnest thanks for the many blessings granted unto us by Providence.

"As partners in the heritage power and hopes of our whole country, we have great blessings and honors to be thankful for and as those upon whom God hath showered great bounty of climate, soil, wealth, beneath the ground, of noble deeds and great names, of great sacrifices and great gifts, we ought to return fervent thanks and we ought to give covenant to the Lord to cherish and obey His laws, to keep with each other the covenants of our own laws and customs, to build up this commonwealth and the business of all its people; to make every family in this commonwealth rich in the spirit of the Old Kentucky Home, generous, free and unafraid; to welcome useful workers to our state and to win and keep and hold the faithful love, confidence and service of all who are with us now.

Cease from Toil.

"Now, therefore, I, Augustus E. Willson, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, have set apart and do hereby fix Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of this November, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and ask that insofar as it lies, all shall cease from toil and business and in our homes and places of worship truly thank our God for our great blessings and pray His gracious Providence and pledge to Him to keep our covenants with our God and each other, of faithful service of human kindness, earnest work and patient endurance of the tasks of life that we may deserve a continuance of blessings in the future.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to be affixed.

"Done at Frankfort, this tenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eight, and in the one hundred and seventeenth year of the commonwealth. (Signed)

"AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON,
Governor of Kentucky.
Attest: BEN L. BRUNER, Secretary of State."
