Most of the precipitation was light, although wind gusts up to 70 miles per hour ripped Houston, Tex., and 55 m.p.h. gusts hit Shreveport, La., during sudden downpours Monday night.
Cool Pacific air overpread most of the western half of the nation during the night, although the only sub-freezing readings reported were in the mountains.

Russia Mixes In Jordan Politics

By GEORGE BITAR

United Press Staff Correspondent
BEIRUT, Lebanon (U.P.) — The Soviet Union intervened in the Jordan political crisis in an unsuccessful effort to keep leftist Premier Suleiman Nabulsi in power, informed Arab sources said today.
The sources said the Soviet sent warnings to President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, Syrian President Shukri El-Kuwatly and King Hussein that Israel was preparing an armed attack that could come at any time. The warning was made to persuade Hussein not to insist on the withdrawal of Syrian troops from Jordan and to persuade him to retain Nabulsi as premier on grounds it would be fatal for Jordan to be without a government when attacked.

Reports Proved False
Hussein suspected the intrigue but did not leave anything to chance, the sources said. He called in the foreign ambassadors in Amman to check the reports and then went ahead with his original plans when informed the reports were without foundation.

It was Nabulsi who announced two weeks ago that Jordan planned to establish diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union. The 21-year-old King was a former foe of the Soviet Union, but he was violently opposed to this, and the sources said this action helped him take the warning with a grain of salt.
However, a Foreign Office spokesman in Amman said Monday Jordan "repulse by force" any Israeli aggression. The Foreign Ministry said it had informed all Arab and Western embassies of this decision.

Diplomatic observers speculated that the Soviet warning may have been aimed at bolstering leftists in Syria as well as Jordan. Hussein has reported to have protested alleged reinforcement of the Syrian force in north Jordan, but Foreign Minister Salah El Bitar denied in Damascus that Jordan had asked for its withdrawal.
Compromise Reached
Hussein went ahead and ousted Nabulsi last Wednesday to touch off a week-long power struggle.
The two appeared to have struck a compromise Monday night when Hussein Khaldi, a former foreign minister and a staunch supporter of the King, formed a cabinet which included Nabulsi as foreign minister and minister of communications.
Informed sources here said Jordan's position was still far from clear although King Hussein apparently had won. But they said the basic issue of whether Jordan will pursue a pro-Western or a leftist foreign policy remains to be seen.

Reports from Jordan gave a confused picture of the situation. A Western diplomat who arrived here from Amman said leftist politicians, a segment of the army and Syrian agents had plotted to overthrow Hussein.
Hussein got word of the plot and sent loyal troops to besiege the conspirators at Zarka, the headquarters of Maj. Gen. Abu Ali Nuwar, the chief of staff.
After a short clash between the rival factions, Hussein himself arrived and ordered Nuwar deposed and several senior officers either arrested or forcibly retired from the army, the diplomat said.

104 Year Old Woman Inherits Vast Fortune

DETROIT (U.P.) — A 104-year old city patient, who worked as a charwoman to raise a family of 10 children, was awarded $300,000 Monday from the estate of a millionaire daughter who tried to cut her off without a cent.

The award to Mrs. Wilhelmina Van Etten, a city-supported patient at a rest home here, climaxed a two-year legal battle in courts in Michigan and New York. Mrs. Van Etten's attorneys, in a suit filed two years ago, contended that her six-times wed daughter, Mrs. Agnes Momand, ignored her mother because of fraud and undue influence.

The daughter, who died May 25, 1955 at the age of 65, wrote six wills, but failed to leave her mother any of the $3 million dollar fortune she had amassed by her marriages. Mrs. Momand remembered her mother by a gift to the University of Nevada.

In contesting the will attorneys for Mrs. Van Etten cited usage of alcohol and drugs as reasons why her daughter was unfit to make a will.

The only member of the family mentioned in the will was Mrs. Betty Roberts, of Los Angeles, a sister of Mrs. Momand. Other beneficiaries included her doctors, nurses, servants and her last husband, Donald S. Momand of London.

Mrs. Van Etten, a hospital patient for the past two years, known to be in "satisfactory condition."

Asked what she would do with the money, she said: "Just pay some bills."

MSC Diamond Squad To Meet Western

The Murray State baseball and tennis teams invade Western Kentucky today for OVC meeting. Their first contact in spring sports this year.
The Racers nine will have two opportunities to enter the win column in a double bill with the Hilltoppers and the tennis men are hopeful of getting off to a clean OVC skein after dropping three on a recent Florida trip.
The Bred diamond men lost both ends of a twin bill to Florence last week but out hit the Alabamians in both games. Their pitching and hitting was timely but excessive walks by their hurlers cost them the decisions.
The Toppers were laced by David Lipscomb 18-2 in their last outing. The Racers will again count on the magic arm of Tom Wells and the big sticks of rookie Lou Snipp and Don Dingwerth.
The racket thumpers led by John Fowless and King clubbed Florence 6-1 early this month.

Bill May Be On Desk Of The President To Sign By Tonight

By WARREN DUFFEE

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Republican congressional leaders told President Eisenhower today a 41 million dollar postal "money order" may be on his desk for signature tonight.

The "order" is a special appropriations bill to provide the Post Office Department with extra funds it says it needs to keep operating at full force until the start of the new fiscal year July 1.

The measure, aimed at restoring full postal service which was cut last Saturday, was being considered at an emergency session of the Senate Appropriations Committee today. It cleared the House Monday.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) and House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) told Eisenhower at a White House legislative conference that the appropriation might clear the Senate this afternoon and reach the White House tonight.

Knowland said he expects the Senate to "go along" with the 41 million dollar house figure.

Murray High Students Win Speech Honors

Three of the four students who became eligible by recieving superior ratings at the Regional Speech Festival at Murray State College were able to attend the Kentucky High School Speech Festival at the University of Kentucky last week, through the sponsorship of the Murray High School PTA.

Greeted by Miss Chloe Gifford, director, the young people entered into the activities and gatherings planned for this thirty-seventh annual conference. "Not to defeat an opponent nor to win a prize, but to emulate the best," the theme of these meetings, permeated the festival. The Murray participants, Kay Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parker, Mary Jane Austin, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Orval Austin, and a Felicity Anne Hallanan, daughter of Major and Mrs. George H. Hallanan, Jr., all hope to return to next year's session, with a larger group. Edwina Kirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Frank Kirk, was also eligible.

Kay Parker received a superior rating and an oral oratorical declamation; Felicity Anne Hallanan rated superior in interpretative reading, junior high; Mary Jane Austin received a very good criticism in interpretative reading, senior high. Standards were high, and all groups were large.

Mrs. Buron Jeffrey was the coach for the Murray High students. Mrs. Austin transported the group, accompanied by Mrs. Hallanan.

Dexter Man Dies Monday

Charlie Duncan, age 86, passed away Monday at his residence on Dexter Route One.
He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ethel Dixon, Dexter Route; two sisters, Mrs. Dora Bizzell and Miss Amanda Duncan, both of Dexter Route One; three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He was a member of the Holiness Church. Funeral services were held today at 1:30 p.m. in the Church of Jesus Christ. Services were conducted by Bro. Pasford Patterson. Burial was in the McDaniel cemetery.

The Linn Funeral Home of Benton was in charge of the arrangements.

—six million short of what Postmaster General Arthur P. Summerfield originally asked.

Accepts Smaller Amount
He said the President reported that he would like Summerfield to get the full 47 million dollars, but the President, he added, would accept the smaller amount, recognizing the "practical situation" that Congress probably would not put up any more.

The Senate Appropriations Committee was called into session a half hour before the Senate was to meet.

Quick committee approval was expected. Leaders hoped to get the 41 million dollar emergency appropriation before the Senate for action later today.

But there was no assurance the Senate would actually go to work on the bill today. Unanimous consent is required for the Senate to waive its rule that appropriations must "lie over" for three days before the Senate acts on them.

Summerfield Stands Back
A single senator could block action. This would delay the bill until Friday and might prevent restoration of full postal service this Saturday. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has said he will not restore service until the money bill is passed and signed by President Eisenhower.

There is not even any assurance the Senate will meet Friday. It is scheduled to quit for a long Easter recess at the close of business Thursday. It might, however, be held over until Friday if necessary to pass the postal bill.

Oddly, generally seemed to favor Senate action in time for restoration of mail deliveries and reopening of postal windows this Saturday. A post office spokesman has told the United Press full service could be restored "within 24 hours" after the money is available.

Actually, chances were Summerfield would give the order to restore service as soon as the Senate acts. Eisenhower's signature then would be just a matter of getting the final measure to the White House.

Hazel PTA Will Meet Thursday

The regular meeting of the Hazel P.T.A. will be held Thursday, April 18, at 2:45 p.m. at Hazel High School.

Mrs. Brooks Underwood, president, will preside at the business session. There will be the election of new officers for the coming year.

Mrs. Ray Brownfield and the F. H. A. girls will present their annual Style Show.

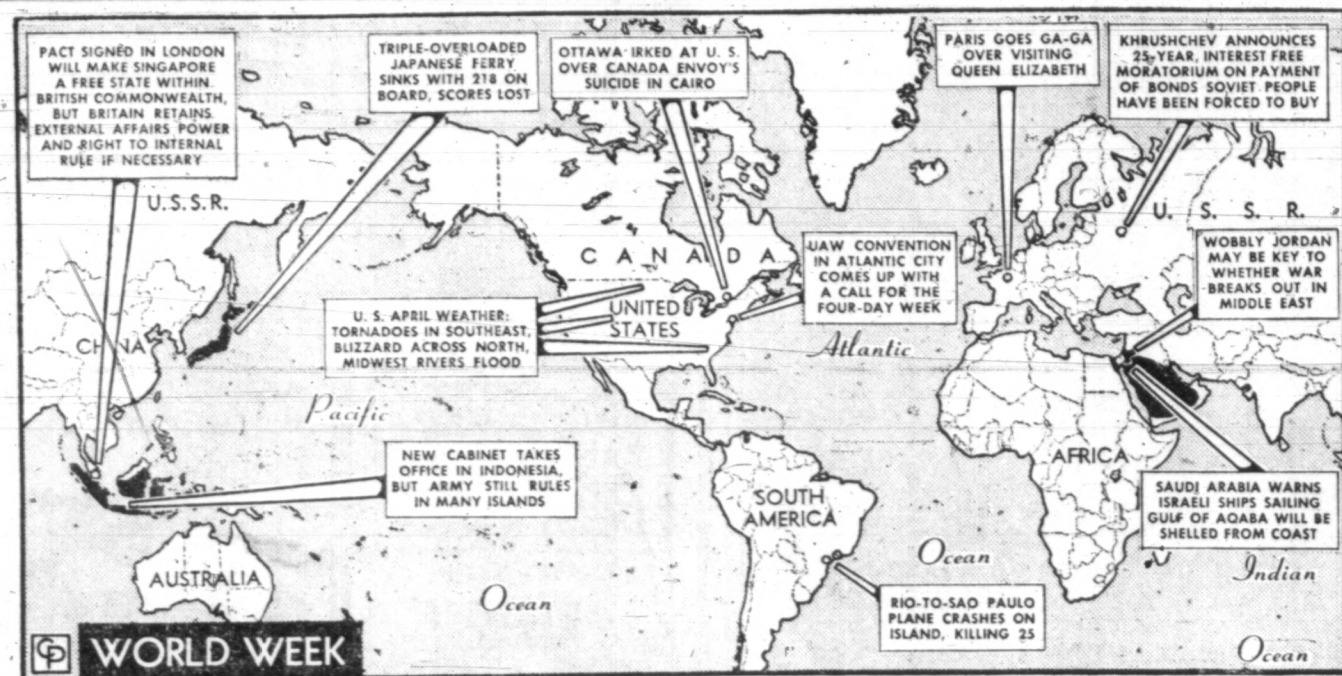

At the conclusion of the program a room count will be taken and refreshments will be served by the first grade room mothers.

The executive committee will meet at 2:00 to discuss some special business. All committee chairmen are urged to be present.

New Products

By CLYDE H. FARNSWORTH
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—Kites have come a long way since the days of Benjamin Franklin. Now they've got plastic-coated ones for faster takeoff and longer use.

The trouble, says Crunden Martin, Manufacturing Co. of St. Louis, was that the takeoff had always been impeded by dew on the ground and possible snagging.

Its answer is a kite coated with bakelite polyethylene, a plastic material which it says provides not only moisture resistance but greater durability.

The maker of a new cement base paint says the product will prevent water seepage in such spots as basements, silos and elevator pits.

A. C. Horn Co. Inc., a subsidiary of Sun Chemical Corp. of San Francisco, says its new "Waterproof KB55" is actually a "breathing type" coating that permits moisture to escape. It is made with a high percentage of Portland cement.

Still experimental but offering a clue as to what future beaches and picnic grounds may be like is a sun-powered portable radio-photograph. The unit operates on a 48-cell solar battery. On sunless days the cell can be activated by an incandescent light or six rechargeable flashlight-size batteries. Admiral Corp. of Chicago, the maker, estimates the value of the set at $5,000.

A new fertilizer, described as one of the most concentrated complete fertilizers on the market, will be introduced to Midwest farmers this spring, says the manufacturer, the Plant Food Division of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp.

The new Ammo-Phos pelletized fertilizer provides 56 units of plant food per 100 pounds of fertilizer. The company says the high analysis reduces the amount of filler which the farmer must haul and apply with the plant food.

Server Of Processes Has Bad Time

By DOC QUIGG

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—There's an everlasting battle for survival going on here in this concrete jungle, and one of the most interesting bouts on the card is the swank hotels and apartments vs. the process servers.

Abe Miller, the professional catch'em man we interviewed recently on his life and hard time as a bill collector, has come back and given us another installment of his 25-year career. This one is about how to be a process server.

"I came into the Waldorf-Astoria, or some other swanky hotel, to serve a summons," Abe began. "Now, at the desk they won't give you a room number of where the party is. So I have a little idea of my own. When I walk into a hotel looking for a party, I have a special long envelope, deep pink or deep blue, addressed to him."

Must Be Alert
"The reason for the especially long one is that the clerks don't put messages in the mail box right away. I come in and say I have a note for Mr. so-and-so and hand it to the clerk. Then I go away and come back in about 15 minutes, and wherever I see my envelope protruding in the box, I know that's the right room number."

The secret of serving a summons is to be very alert, and fast. "Once you've handed him the paper, you leave, right now," Abe says.

"One trouble with the swanky hotels," he continued, "is they have what we in the business call 'out-away exits.' Once years ago I was looking for Charlie Chaplin, a guy was trying to sue him for $15,000 about a movie. He moved into a big hotel tower suite, where they won't let you upstairs, and then he'd take the elevator right down to the basement garage, or else get off at one of several levels and take some different exit."

"We were looking for a California license. Like many big celebrities, he hired a local limousine with a chauffeur, and pulled the car down when he got in. There were two or three of us process servers looking for him and we never could lay our hands on him in that hotel. We finally found him in the Plaza Bar."

Talks Back -- Jail

Eastman Employees Savings Rose In 1956

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Eastman Kodak Co. employees saved $4.5 million more last year than they did in 1955, according to the 1956 annual report of the Eastman Savings and Loan Association.

James K. Killip, executive vice-president of the association which is linked to the firm, reported that savings in the institution rose to a record $36,909,000—up 13.9 per cent over 1955.

Killip revealed that the association's assets reached $42 million, making it fourth in amount of assets among the 159 savings and loan associations chartered by New York State.

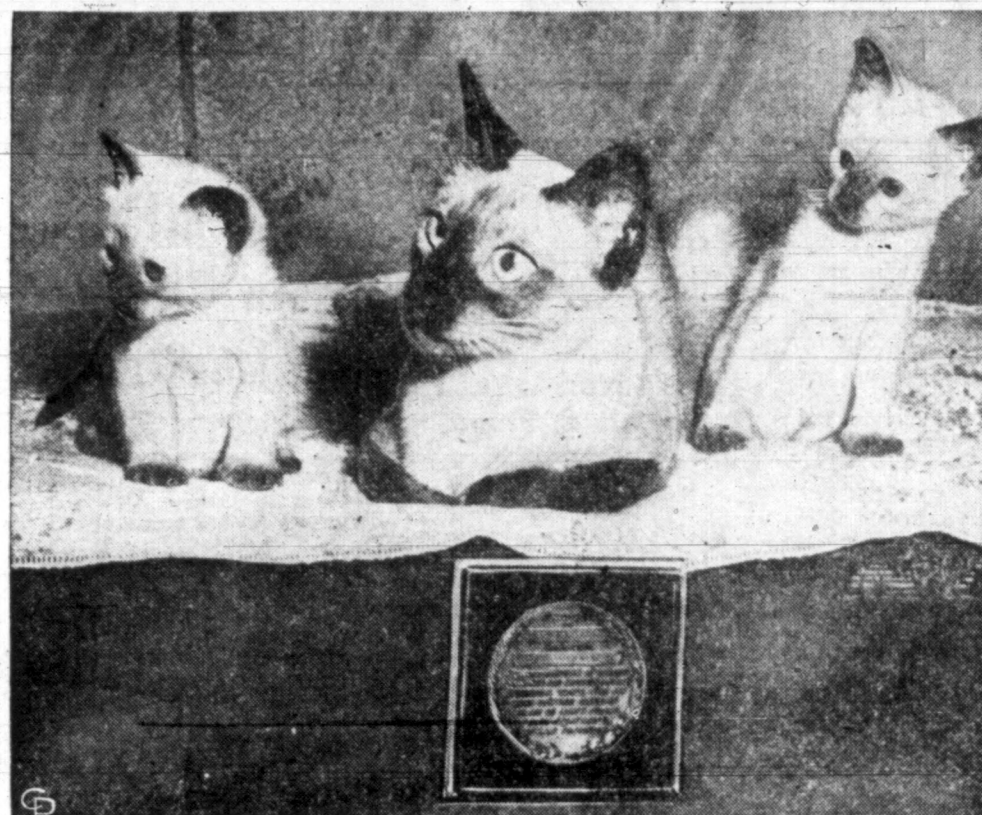

one of the toughest gangsters in the world—a racketeer," Abe said. "The lawyer had tried three other process servers and they refused. It was the easiest money I ever made because I knew you have to use the direct approach with these tough guys, no fast stuff. I just came into his office and told his secretary what it was—and got right in to see him."

Abe figures his closest call was when he served a man a non-payment of rent summons, then, five blocks away, discovered the man running after him, summons in one hand, a knife in the other, yelling, "You take that summons back." Abe took it. Who is he to argue?

Abe says that in lush apartment houses the "shady characters" he's looking for are usually in "caboots" with the doorman. If you work your way with a dummy package of the service entrance, you often find he's in "caboots" with the service man, Abe says. One answer is to try to get in "caboots" yourself with the right men.

"I had a summons once against

Orioles Score Victory In Opener Monday Over Senators

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
The major league pennant races start in earnest today after a presidential opener in which baseball put its worst foot forward.
Some 250,000 fans are expected at the eight openers with primary interest focusing on the New York Yankees' attempt to make a fast getaway in quest of a third straight American League pennant and the Brooklyn Dodgers' embarking on what is figured to be another season-long National League battle with the Milwaukee Braves and Cincinnati Redlegs.

A Ragged Start
The season got off Monday to a somewhat ragged start when the Baltimore Orioles scored an 11-inning, 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators in a three-hour and 17-minute struggle marked by 26 hits and five errors. President Eisenhower tossed out two ceremonial "first balls" and looked like the best pitcher in the ball park until Billy Loes came along to pitch two perfect innings and pick up the triumph.
Something more like big league competition is anticipated today and tonight from a schedule that has Washington at New York, Chicago at Cleveland, Boston at Baltimore and Detroit at Kansas City in the A. L., and Brooklyn at Philadelphia (night), New York at Pittsburgh, Milwaukee at Chicago and St. Louis at Cincinnati in the N. L. Casey Stengel, seeking his eighth pennant in nine years, sends 19-game winner Whitey Ford against the Senators, who are opening with Chuck Stobbs. Strikeout whiz hero Score was Cleveland's choice to open for the Indians against Jack Harshbarger of the White Sox; Frank Sullivan or Tom Brewer is going for the Red Sox against the Orioles, and 21-game winner Frank Lary of the Tigers is facing Tom Morgan of the Athletics.

Reese Sidelined
In the National League night opener, the Dodgers are sending 21-game winner Don Newcombe against Houston's Bob Feller. The Dodgers will be without the services of PeeWee Reese in an opener for the first time in his career, excepting the war years, because of a strained back muscle. Don Zimmer, the Brooks' hard luck kid, is replacing him.
Warren Spahn, a 20-game winner last season, is handling the Braves' opening day mound chore against the Cubs' Bob Rush; Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants is opposing Bob Friend of the Pirates and Vinegar Bend Mizell is hurrying for the St. Louis Cardinals against surprise starter Johnny Klippstein of the Redlegs.

The races start with the Yankees a lop-sided 2-5 pick in the A. L. and the Braves a slight choice in the N. L.
A crowd of 23,872 saw the Orioles finally beat out the Senators Monday when Dick Williams doubled, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on a sacrifice fly by rookie outfielder Carl Povich.

Neighbor: Say, your new Olds sure looks like a lot of car!
Olds Owner: That's nothing, wait'll you take a ride.
(A few minutes later)

Neighbor: Man-oh-man, where'd all that power come from? I've never felt anything like that before!
Olds Owner: That's Oldsmobile's new J-2 Rocket Engine!

Neighbor: What's that? Tell me how it works.
Olds Owner: When you're driving under ordinary conditions, it uses only one carburetor. That means economy with a capital E. But when you need a sudden burst of power, for safety's sake, you just press the accelerator three-quarters of the way down—and two additional carburetors cut in!

Neighbor: In other words, with J-2, you can have economy when you want it and power when you need it. That's for me!
Olds Owner: Better see your Olds dealer. He's expecting you!

TVA WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

"As our population grows, and with no large new land areas available for farming, greater agricultural efficiency will be necessary," E. L. Newman, engineer in TVA's Division of Chemical Development, told a recent meeting of the American Chemical Society at Miami. His paper "The Role of TVA in Phosphorus and Phosphates," was prepared jointly by Mr. Newman and Charles H. Young, TVA's Manager of Chemical Engineering.

"Fertilizer is the most important key to that greater efficiency," he said. "We must not stand still in our efforts to provide the farmer with better and cheaper fertilizers."

He said the results of the TVA efforts are new technology and improved phosphate and nitrogen fertilizers.

"The technology is made available for use by fertilizer producers and chemical companies. The fertilizers are used in educational programs to aid farmers and improve agricultural practices. Many of the developments are in use throughout the United States and foreign countries. In recent years greater efforts have been made to develop processes and equipment of immediate use to the smaller fertilizer companies.

"An early goal of TVA was to help open up the western phosphate reserves and make them more useful to the Nation. Opportunity to do this came after World War II, when a company new in the elemental phosphorus field asked for assistance. The firm planned an electric phosphorus furnace installation, because the furnace fits into the western phosphate complex extremely well. Technical assistance was given the company. A plant was built and production was started in 1949. Since then two other producers of elemental phosphorus have installed large units in the western area."

Lawrence L. Durisch, of TVA's Government Relations and Economics Staff, will represent TVA at the Southern Regional Conference on Education Beyond the High School at Louisville, Ky., on April 23-25. The Conference is one of five such conferences being held in various regions of the country, sponsored by the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

The President's Committee has stated the following desired outcomes for the regional conferences: (1) An outline of the relations between post-high school educational policies and the national welfare; (2) a delineation of the most pressing problems in the region; (3) a listing of these next steps which should be taken regionally and within individual states in the region to bring about action to resolve these problems; (4) a summary of those conclusions on which subsequent action should be based; (5) an identification of the relationships that should exist between the Federal Government and education beyond the high school.

TVA said today that 50 tracts or parcels of land on Watts Bar Lake will be sold at auction to the high bidders at the Kingston, Tenn., Courthouse on May 2. The land is in Rhea, Roane, and Loudon counties. The 50 tracts aggregate 522 acres and range in size from a fraction of an acre to 123 acres. A minimum acceptable price has been set on each tract.

Seven of the tracts are suitable for recreation development; 28 are suitable as home sites; and 15 are recommended for agricultural use.

An estimated 679,800 visits were made during March to TVA dams and steam plants, compared with 518,300 in March of last year. Chickamauga Dam had most visits with an estimated 92,200; Kentucky Dam was second with 87,000; Norris Dam was third with 69,000.

This was an educational venture for the girls; they now know what not to take hiking and what is essential for a smooth journey and satisfactory lunch! The group is now working on badges and the second-class rank. The service project of this group is the preparation of a gift of toys for Murray Hospital.

mail stamps and hikes in other mail costs.

Although committee members said the squabble over his postal cutbacks would have little effect on his case for stamp price hikes, members were likely to question him closely on reasons for the postal curbs.

The House, despite hints of possible delay, thumped the money bill through Monday by voice vote when a demand for a roll call would have stymied the measure at least until Wednesday. The House did not act, however, until after Democrats had roundly denounced Sumnerfield and Republicans had defended him.

Democratic attacks ranged all the way from suggestions the postmaster be impeached to charges he "discommodated as many people as he could" by his postal cuts. Republicans retorted the Democrats were to blame for holding up the post office's money.

Henry Fonda Ventures Into Producing

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Fonda, a long, lean product of Omaha, Neb., who has appeared in more than 80 movies and around 150 stage plays, has ventured into producing and come up with something that is almost spectacularly unusual.

The new motion picture which he is co-producing — and in which he has a starring role — lasts 96 minutes. All but three of those minutes have their action inside one bare room.

16 feet wide and 24 feet long. These are 83 consecutive minutes inside the room, with no flashbacks or other interruptions. The props are a table, 12 chairs, a water cooler, coat rack, electric fan, switchblade knife, and a diagram of a tenement flat. The latter two are exhibits in a murder trial.

Actors 'Live' Parts
The 12 actors who crowd into the room are the jury arguing a man's fate. The set is molded after the jury rooms of the big Criminal Courts Building in Manhattan.

The actors are veterans of the New York stage and television. They play "12 Angry Men," which is the title of the film and the burden of the action. They get really riled at each other — a condition which often develops in real-life juries. Fonda plays juror No. 8.

Because of the economy of sets and shooting time, Fonda says, his first step into the producing field didn't give him much of a workout in a producer's role, although: "It's nice to be able to pick a cast, and pick your director."

Finished On Schedule
They began casting in February last year, went into production in June, built one set, rehearsed two weeks, and spent only 21 days shooting film — "That was our schedule and we came in on schedule."

The rehearsal for two weeks was done "as you would a play, and at the end of the second week we could have opened in a Broadway theater," Fonda says. "The second week was all run-through rehearsals. Ordinarily, in pictures you never do that; you rehearse each scene just before you shoot it, which has to be out of continuity because mechanically you are forced to do it that way. Our rehearsals gave the actors a chance for intimate concentration with the director on characterization."

The man who wrote the script about the angry jury at work, Reginald Rose, is co-producer with Fonda. The picture opens this week, and Rose is pretty busy. He's doing jury duty — in State Supreme Court.

All Transister Telephone System Installed In County

The Southern Bell Telephone Company has just completed the installation of the third all transister rural telephone system in the world in the Arabia area of Lincoln County about ten miles southwest of Stanford according to F. H. Riddle, local manager. This is the same system that was first used about a year ago at Americus, Georgia, in connection with the Solar Battery. This system differs in that commercial power is available and it was not necessary to use the Solar

Battery which converts the sun's energy into electricity. The new system uses tiny transistors that substitute for conventional vacuum tubes that are used at carrier terminal points in the carrier system. Several telephonic conversations are put on the same pair of wires. Each voice conversation is assigned its own separate frequency band to effect distinct simultaneous transmission of several calls. This system uses only about 1 watt of electricity, as transistors which were invented by scientists in the Bell Telephone Laboratories use only a fraction of the power that is required for the conventional vacuum tubes. On hand to help in this installation were three engineers from the Bell Laboratories and two from the operation and engineering staff of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company in New York along with Southern Bell men from Louisville, Atlanta and Danville. By using this new all transister system, Southern Bell has 20 miles of wire doing the work that normally would take 80 miles of wire and as a result is better able to serve the people who live in the rural area. This Week

NEW YORK UP This week in Manhattan:
It looks as if each nation is out to do the other in the world trade fair which opens next week in Manhattan. This week, some of the countries participating in the first post war world fair in America, described some of the more fabulous items chosen to represent their industries, arts and crafts. Britain for example is sending a coat, made of vicuna cloth, lined with diadem mink, and billed at $3,500 as the most expensive girl's coat ever made. Egypt is retaliating with a jewelry display, "a priceless" collection which the revolutionary government confiscated from ex-king Farouk.

The Collection includes a solid gold antique hand mirror encrusted with assorted diamonds, rubies and sapphires; a pair of earrings set with 145-carat emerald; a cigarette holder with a 40-carat emerald; a gold enameled antique ash tray ornamented with emeralds, rubies and sapphires; a ring mounted with 145-carat star ruby and a gold dagger "as long as your forearm" inlaid with pearls, rubies and sapphires.

The fair will bring under one roof, at the Coliseum, some 500 million dollars worth of goods from 60 countries. It is to include an international food exhibit featuring everything from Danish cheese to Polish ham to Japanese grasshoppers. At least six countries will display their fashions. And most participating nations will show home furnishings and textiles. From Italy will come a synthetic fiber produced chemically from all things, castor oil. The fiber, called Rilsan, already is in use in Europe for hosiery, lingerie and bathing suits.
