Mamie Undergoes Operation; Not Cancer Says Physician

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Eisenhower underwent a two-hour internal operation by a gynecologist at Walter Reed Hospital this morning while the President conferred in the White House with Republican leaders.

The White House would say only that the surgery dealt with a "benign condition"—not cancer—and had been planned for some time. It was not an emergency operation.

The surgeon was Dr. Humbert L. Riva, a colonel in the Army Medical Corps, a gynecologist.

Mrs. Eisenhower, 60, was reported by White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty to be in "good condition" following the surgery.

She entered the operating room at Walter Reed shortly after 8 a.m. E.D.T. This morning and was removed at 10:15 a.m.

Her admission to the hospital was kept secret until the President was informed of the results of the operation. Eisenhower received the news of the successful completion of the operation while he was conferring with Republican congressional leaders at the White House.

Shortly after the President

Two Babies Are Found In Box

ERIE, Pa.—The decomposed bodies of two babies, possibly twins, were found in a sealed bread box at a Greyhound bus terminal Monday.

The babies had been sealed in the box at least six months ago. An autopsy was scheduled to determine if they had been alive when placed in the box.

The red bread box, sealed with cellophane tape, was found in an accumulation of unclaimed baggage that had been left in rental lockers and was being disposed of by the Greyhound company.

The company's normal procedure is to leave articles in a rental locker three days, then remove them to a baggage room where they are kept for a certain period and then disposed of if not claimed.

A Greyhound spokesman said the procedure at the Erie terminal was to hold unclaimed articles for six months. Thus, the bread box containing the babies' bodies had been removed from a rental locker some time in January.

Coroner Warren W. Wood said Dr. John Fust, Hamot Hospital pathologist, would make a complete autopsy on the bodies.

In a preliminary examination on Monday, Fust said the babies appeared to be fully developed and to have died shortly after birth. He said they may have been twins.

"Right now we have absolutely no clues with which to trace their birth place, their mother or anything else. Unless the pathologist comes up with something, it will be pretty hard to solve," Detective Sgt. Carl Malinowski said.

County And City Get TVA Payment

FRANKFORT, Aug. 6 (AP)—A check for fourteen cents was on its way today to the treasurer of Knox County. It is the county's share of a $618,114.77 sum paid to the state this year by the Tennessee Valley Authority in lieu of taxes.

McCracken County received the largest chunk of the money, a check for $185,282.06 for the county schools, $46,607.95 for the county, $1,871.80 for the Paducah schools, and $1,663.24 for the City of Paducah.

State Revenue Commissioner James E. Luckett said $31,726.00 was distributed to county governments directly by TVA, $588,387.97 was paid to the state.

The state general fund received 30 per cent of the money allocated to the state or $175,916.43. The remaining 70 per cent was reallocated to local governmental units on a formula based on the book value of TVA property in the taxing district and the local property tax rates.

A total of 44 county and independent school districts shared $308,922 of the TVA money, while 34 counties split up $101,097 and 10 cities received $2,450.49.

Guest Speaker To Speak At Lynn Grove

On Sunday morning, August 11, R. H. Bond, of Dyerburgh, Tenn. will be the guest speaker at the Lynn Grove Methodist church. He will also speak at the evening service in the Goshen Methodist church.

Mr. Bond is employed in an executive capacity with the Southern Bell Telephone Company. He is an outstanding layman of the Methodist church, and is chairman of the board of lay activities in the Memphis conference. He is speaking in the absence of Hoyt W. Owen, who is attending the summer session of the school of theology at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga. The public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Bond.

All Teachers Selected For The Approaching School Year

Calloway County school will open August 26 it was decided last night at the regular meeting of the Calloway County Board of Education. The school board decided this to be the proper date after consulting with the patrons of the various districts.

The first semester of school will be completed by the Christmas vacation by opening on August 26. By opening on this date it will also permit the students to get out of school in the spring to help with the planting season.

All of the teachers have been selected for the new school year with the exception of a coach at Almo. Mrs. Jeanette Murdock will serve as librarian at Almo and Mrs. Cook Sanders replaces D. J. Miller, who retired after many years of faithful service to the Calloway County school system.

George Dowdy will be the new coach at Kirksey High School. Dowdy replaces John Jones who resigned after being awarded a scholarship to attend school. Mrs. Mary C. Hull will be the Home Economics at Kirksey. Larry Collier will be the new coach at Lynn Grove. John Cannon was the coach at Lynn Grove last year, but resigned to accept another position. Gene Patton will be back at his old position at New Concord. Cathy has served in the armed forces for the past two years. Bobby Hargis was the coach at New Concord while Cathy was in the service. It will be remembered that Cathy developed some outstanding teams at Concord several years ago.

Mrs. Zelma Carter will be the English teacher at New Concord and Miss Lucy Forrest will be the Home Economics teacher. The teachers at "Hazel and Faxon" will be the same as last year. Independence will have Leon Burken as their teacher, and Mrs. Ruby Parks and Mrs. Tennessee Putt will be back at Dexter.

Mrs. Luella Potts will teach at Coldwater.

1977 students enrolled in county schools last year. The enrollment is expected to be approximately the same as last year.

Burton Jeffrey, superintendent of Calloway County schools announced the school board was asking for bids on three 48 passenger school buses. Information and bid forms may be secured at the superintendent's office.

Jeffrey also announced a leadership conference to be held at Murray State College. Each year the Kentucky Educational Association sponsors a leadership conference in order to bring before the leadership of the profession the vital issues which concern education.

This year the meeting will be held on the campus of Murray State College on August 12, 13, and 14. The orientation session will be Monday morning with the conference opening at 12 noon on Monday and closing on Wednesday.

The areas of discussion at the Conference will be: 1. Expansion of KEA and NEA services, 2. Legislative procedures in the KEA, 3. Higher teacher standards and professional ethics. Several members of the State Department of Education and leaders of the KEA will attend.

Jeffrey also announced a workshop to be held at Murray State College for all Calloway County teachers August 15 and 16.

Father Of Two Local Men Passes Away

Guy Smith, age 82, passed away this morning at a hospital in Jackson, Tennessee, after suffering an attack on Sunday.

He was the father of Edward and Guy Smith, linotype operators for the "Daily Ledger and Times."

Mr. Smith was advertising manager for the Dresden Enterprise for many years and at the time of his death was in the advertising department of the Weakley County (Tennessee) Press at Martin. He had made his home in Martin in recent years.

He suffered the attack on Sunday and after examination at the hospital was transferred to the Jackson, Tennessee hospital.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Edward and Guy of Murray and Ted of Memphis; one daughter, Jane.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at the present time, however burial will be in Dresden.

Charles James Family Moves To Nashville

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. James left yesterday for their new home in Nashville, Tennessee. They have been living in Murray at 301 South Twelfth Street.

Mr. James was promoted from Division Representative with the Davison Chemical Company, Division of W. R. Grace Company, to sales supervisor of the Nashville division. This area is comprised of the state of Tennessee, North Alabama and West Kentucky. As field representative, he covered West Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. James have two children, Mike, age 9, and Kim, age 7. The family will be at home at 187 Belton Drive, Nashville, 9, Tennessee.

Rebirth Planned At Liberty Church

A revival will be held at the Liberty Cumberland Presbyterian Church on Sunday August 11 through August 17. Rev. T. V. Warnick will be the evangelist.

Services will be held daily at 2:00 and 7:45 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Rev. E. A. Mathis is pastor of the church.

Contract Let For Road Construction

FRANKFORT—A contract for construction on the Old Murray-Paris road in Calloway County has been awarded the Corbett Davidson & Son of Mayfield according to an announcement by Robert Humphreys, Commissioner of Highways.

The company submitted a low bid of $41,255.62. The contract calls for bridge and bank or creek gravel, 0.473 mile.

Men Involved In Road Scandals Are In New State Jobs

FRANKFORT, Aug. 6 (AP)—Two men involved in road scandals in Harlan County have been reemployed by the state Department of Highways, according to highway department personnel chief Ben Conaway.

Bruce Cawood and Marion Howard were both fired last August 30 after disclosures that state highway department material had been used in building private roads in Harlan County.

Cawood was put back on the highway department payroll on Feb. 1 as a supervisor of a special crew at a salary of $340 a month. Howard was reemployed as a highway superintendent at a salary of $300 per month on Jan. 15.

Both men received the same salary prior to their discharge.

The construction that led to their dismissal allegedly involved backlogging driveways to the house and barn of Dr. W. P. Cawood, a brother of Bruce Cawood, and a half mile graded road built from the main highway to a coal mine owned by Frank Bassham.

Negro Dishwasher Being Held In County Jail Here

A negro dishwasher is being held in county jail after being arrested by city police Saturday night for carrying a concealed weapon.

An authority at the court house said that William Kendall will remain in his cell until Thursday, after a 10 inch bayonet and razor was taken from his person. Kendall is an employee of Ruse's Restaurant.

NEW YORK (AP) — Fearless Fraley's facts and figures: Jack Hurley, who is promoting the Floyd Patterson-Pete Rose featherweight atrocity at Seattle on August 22, should know how dangerous this mismatch could be, according to Newark promoter Willie Gizenberg.

"The last time Hurley brought a fighter into Newark, he helped carry the guy out of the ring, and the guy died 10 days later," Gizenberg reports.

Hurley's fighter was a heavy-weight named Lem Franklin. Despite the fact that Franklin had been knocked out in three previous bouts, Hurley signed him against Larry Lane — with fatal results.

"If anything happens to Rade-macher, it could also kill boxing in the United States," Gizenberg admits fearfully.

Secrets Of Success
If you wonder why Casey Stengel has been so fabulously successful with the Yankees, consider the cases of Bob Grim and Art Ditmar, Grim, rookie of the year, a couple of years back into a late inning reliever, Ditmar, a workhorse at Kansas City who was rated as a heavy duty starter, has become Casey's early inning relief man.

Queen May Sleep In White House

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth may break recent Washington custom by sleeping in the White House on her visit here this fall.

The State Department and the White House so far decline to say where the young Queen and her consort, Prince Philip, will stay. All other recent state visitors have stayed at the presidential guest house across the street.

One State Department spokesman said crisply: "The Queen will stay wherever the head of state always stays."

When asked to finish the sen-

ence, he added, "well, anything could happen."
 Other royal visitors of recent years, like King Saud, have stayed at the Blair - Lee guest house. Would they now be offended if the Queen should be given a White House bedroom? That question has White House aides in a quandary.

May Use Rose Suite
 Nevertheless, there are growing indications from some official quarters that the rose suite in the White House may win out over the green brocade canopied bed in Blair - Lee House for Her Majesty's stay here in October.

When she was here briefly in 1951, as princess, the White House was being rebuilt and she stayed with the Trumans at the Blair - Lee House.

One source points to two factors which may have the most influence in the final decision.

First, President and Mrs. Eisenhower entertained her mother, Queen Mother Elizabeth, under the White House roof on her visit here in 1954. The Queen mother spent two nights at the White House and the rest at the British Embassy.

Secondly, President and Mrs. Eisenhower have twice been guests at Balmoral, the royal family's country estate. They spent a weekend there in 1946 as guests of King George VI, and a day there in 1951 as guests of Elizabeth, then princess, and Philip. They have warm memories of those visits.

These factors are said to be more important to the Eisenhower than the fact that President and Mrs. Eisenhower in 1954 had King George and his queen stay in the White House when they visited here. That was before the Blair - Lee guest house came into use as the usual residence for state visitors.

Sightseeing Question
 Another question is how much sightseeing will be on the royal schedule this time.

The Queen's visit will be too brief, and her schedule too full, to permit a visit to the Eisenhower farm in Gettysburg, Pa. In 1954, Mrs. Eisenhower, who often tires easily, was an indefatigable sight - seeing guide for the Queen Mother. Besides the usual stops at such places as the National Art Gallery, the Library of Congress and the Arlington Cemetery, the First Lady also went to special pains to satisfy the Queen's wish to see an American drug store.

After the White House state dinner for the Queen Mother that year, the President noted her delight with a singing group called "The Carols" and invited them to the private quarters upstairs after the musicale. There was more singing there for Her Majesty, who liked particularly

"Dry Bones."

The Eisenhower's warm reception for the Queen Mother in 1954 was in return for the friendly, informal welcome they received at royal hands at Balmoral.

COLLEGE QUEEN HONORED

Asbury Park, N. J. — 1957 National College Queen honored Beverly Montgomery, 19-year-old sophomore at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, is shown receiving the annual Grumbacher Art Plaque Award from Joseph Grumbacher, Director of the world's largest artists' material, color and brush organization, during ceremonies held after Miss Montgomery was chosen the nation's "most beautiful and brainy college girl" at the fifth annual National College Queen Contest finals held at Asbury Park.

The plaque cites the new college queen for her outstanding attributes in both scholastic and campus activities. Miss Montgomery won her mortar-board crown from a field of 31 college queens representing schools from all over the nation. Judging in the National College Queen Contest were based on intelligence and beauty. They were all pre-

TALK ABOUT ECONOMY... FORDS COST LESS PER MILE!

Fords cost less to buy!
 No doubt about it! Model for model, right across the board, Ford cars are the lowest priced* of the low-price three. And don't be fooled by those "low prices" now being quoted for some "stripped down" models in the medium-price field. Remember, a '57 Ford equipped the way most people want a car today—with automatic transmission, heater and radio—costs hundreds of dollars less than these medium-priced cars, similarly equipped.* Any way you look at it, Fords cost less to buy.

Fords cost less to run!
 In the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy, the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered! This, remember, was no "private test" conducted for the benefit of a single manufacturer. This was grueling competition between 12 different makes of cars, 24 cars in all... supervised every mile of the way by officials of the United States Auto Club. And when the rugged 1568-mile test was over, Ford led all other cars regardless of size, weight or price in the thing you want most—actual miles per gallon!

Fords cost less to trade!
 Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show clearly that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors. The men who bid at these auctions are professional buyers—men whose very livelihood depends upon their expert knowledge of cars. They pay more for used Fords because they know that Fords hold up in value. Like thousands of Ford owners from coast to coast, they have discovered that Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it, too!

Morning Party Held At Landolt Home For Miss Jellison

Miss Jenne Lou Jellison, bride-elect of Stuart A. Lassen, was the honoree at a soft drink party held at the lovely home of Mrs. Gene Landolt on Friday, August 2, at ten-thirty o'clock in the morning.

The hostesses for the pre-nuptial occasion were Mrs. Landolt, Mrs. O. B. Boone, Jr., Mrs. George Hart.

The bride-elect of Stuart Allan Lassen chose to wear a green tulle, frock and was presented a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums by the hostesses. The bride-elect wore a blue dress and was presented a hostesses' gift corsage of pink carnations.

The honoree was presented a wedding gift by the hostesses. Refreshments were served from the beautifully appointed table overlaid with a yellow linen cloth. Hanging from the chandelier above the table was a large wedding ring from which miniature wedding rings, tied with yellow and pink ribbon and clusters of yellow marigolds were hanging.

Women Voters Outnumber The Men

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Women voters may already outnumber the males and are likely to increase their numerical advantage in future elections, according to the statisticians.

Statistical proof is not available since election records do not classify voters according to sex—the statisticians point out. Their belief that more women than men are now voting is based on a Bureau of the Census estimate that there were about 4,600,000 more women than men in the civilian population of voting age last November.

The effect of the female vote was first felt in the national election of 1920—the first year that women exercised nationwide suffrage—when the vote for Presidential electors jumped to 28.8 million over the 1916 figure of 18.5 million. Women certainly played their part in increasing the vote in succeeding elections up to last year, when the total vote passed 62 million.

While the 1956 vote constituted a record as to number, the proportion of the population of voting age going to the polls dropped to 60.4 per cent from the 62.7 per cent registered in 1952. The 1956 figure was one and one-fourth times that in 1940, and two and one-third times that in 1920.

In addition to the women, other groups have been added to the voting population since 1920. From 1921 through 1940, an average of 180,000 aliens became citizens each year. During World War II, the average increased to 300,000 per year. An additional million aliens were naturalized in the postwar decade 1946-55.

The proportion of the population of voting age going to the polls in last year's elections varied widely from state to state and section to section, the statisticians report, with the southern and southwestern sections ranking lowest. Mississippi was last with only 2.1 per cent of its people of voting age casting ballots, while South Carolina and Alabama were not much higher. At the other extreme, Idaho was tops with 77.3 per cent voting. In Connecticut, Massachusetts, Utah, and New Hampshire, more than 75 per cent voted.

"The American people are very proud of their democratic institutions, yet many who are eligible to vote fail to exercise that precious right," the statisticians conclude. "Our record with respect to the proportion voting falls short of that for a number of other countries in the free world. Most house plants do best when the soil is watered thoroughly and then allowed to become dry, but not baked or crumbly before the next watering."

WHAT IS HAPPENING

The well-known Cool & Lam private investigator agency is investigating some case involving a missing person. His problem is a mineral rights deal. The man in question is Drury Wells. He is a well-known figure in the area. He is a well-known figure in the area. He is a well-known figure in the area.

Research in newspaper files by Bertha discloses that a short time previously Mrs. Wells had been Yvonne Clymer, inherited California property in Texas. Aaron Bedford. The date on which Drury Wells rented his home was a few days after that.

Bertha has a hunch there is oil on the inheritance property, and tells Donald: "We'll round up the babe and write her mineral rights for ourselves. When Corning can deal with us, we'll be in business."

Wells is a well-known figure in the area. He is a well-known figure in the area. He is a well-known figure in the area.

CHAPTER 10

YVONNE WELLS walked to the kitchen, her hips swaying in a slightly exaggerated motion. She turned hot water into the dishpan. "Want to stick around and dry the dishes for me?" she asked.

Sellers walked over to lean against the doorjamb. "Where's your husband now?" he asked.

She laughed and said, "According to Mrs. Noy over in the next house, he took off 'abruptly'. I guess he got tired waiting for me. I'll get the place cleaned up and be a dutiful little wife. If he comes back, we'll forgive each other and live happily until we have the next spat. If he doesn't come back, I'll find out when the rent's due and have the place all cleaned for the next tenant. My God! A man certainly can mess a place up! He's let this house run to seed."

She was busily engaged in sliding dishes through the dishwasher, putting them in the draining pan and pouring hot water over them. "The dish towels over there on the rack," she said.

"Not for me!" Sellers told her. "They'd kick me out for conduct unbecoming an officer."

"Well, at least get the towel and bring it over," she said. "My hands are all wet. I don't want to drip a trail over the kitchen."

Sellers went over and got the dish towel. He dropped it over her shoulder. "Let me see that clipping," he said to me.

I gave Sellers the clipping.

"What's that?" Mrs. Wells

OBITUARY

David Benton Byars was born April 11, 1875. Departed this life to be with his Lord, July 1, 1957, at the age of 82 years two months and twenty-one days. He was married to Miss Gleaner Wilson, September 25, 1898. This union was blessed with six children, one of which preceded him in death at the age of five months. Surviving children are Mrs. Ola Morris, Murray, Ky., Arlis Byars, Puryear, Tenn., Mrs. Reba Paschall, Holden Byars, and Mrs. Inez Byars Smith all of Highland Park, Mich.

He leaves his devoted wife who walked side by side with him through a long married life and with him spent many happy years.

Early in life he professed faith in his Lord Jesus Christ and joined the Oak Grove Missionary Baptist church and remained a faithful member until his departure. He was noted for his faithfulness serving his Lord and will be greatly missed by all who knew him. His neighbors and friends feel a great loss.

Left to grieve his going is his wife, his five children, 8 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren who dearly loved him, but God loved him more.

"It is not death to die. To leave this weary road, and midst the brotherhood on high, To be at home with God." 1tc

Mrs. Madene Grogan, worthy matron, and Charlie Lassiter, worthy patron, presided at the opening of the meeting. The flag was presented by the marshal, John Harvey Perkins, and also allegiance given.

The degrees of the order were conferred upon Mrs. Maxine Beale with guest officers filling the various stations with the exception of the office of Electa which was filled by Mrs. Ovie Galloway of the Temple Hill chapter.

Mrs. Clara Haney of Pearl Chapter 18, district deputy grand matron, served as worthy matron with L. B. Reed of Folsomdale Chapter 532, district deputy grand patron, as the worthy patron.

Other officers were Mrs. Ruth Williams, Murray, associate matron; George Williams, Murray, associate patron; Mrs. Robbie Chumbley, Briensburg 434, treasurer; Mrs. Willie Martin, Mayfield 443, conductress; Mrs. Martha Reed, Folsomdale, associate conductress; Miss Sue Mahan, Murray, chaplain; Mrs. Frances Churchill, Murray, marshal; Mrs. Alberta Stallion, Benton 305, secretary.

Playroom Walls Now Can Be Blackboards

NEW YORK — Good news for the children—now any surface can be turned into a "black board." It's done with a new paint which creates much the same slate-like writing surface qualities of a regular chalk board. The chalk writing also can be erased. The paint is suggested for playroom walls, or write-on areas in the kitchen and near the telephone. (Sapolin).

Jenne Lou Jellison Honored At Bridal Luncheon Recently

Dr. and Mrs. Woodfin Hutson's home on Sycamore Street was the lovely setting of a luncheon given by Mrs. Hutson for her niece, Miss Jenne Lou Jellison, bride-elect of Stuart Allan Lassen of Battle Creek, Mich.

Flower arrangements were featured throughout Mrs. Hutson's home and each luncheon table held a individual centerpiece of a miniature bride framed in an archway of ivy and Stephanotis. A delightful luncheon plate was served.

Mrs. Hutson presented the honoree with a musical bride's book which when opened plays the traditional wedding march. She also presented the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Clarence Jellison, a corsage of American Beauty roses which she wore pinned to her white silk-cotton "Mr. Mori" original with white lace waist inset outlined with narrow white satin ribbon.

Foundational Class Holds Picnic At Park On Thursday

The Foundational Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church held a picnic for the children of the members on Thursday, August 1, at six o'clock in the evening at the City Park.

Mrs. Bill McDougall, president, presided at a short business meeting. She appointed Mrs. Earl Tucker, Mrs. Lloyd Horn, and Mrs. Joe B. Littleton to serve on the nominating committee for the new officers.

A delicious picnic supper was served on the nominating committee and their children: Mrs. McDougall, Mrs. Clifton Cowan, Mrs. Earl Tucker, Mrs. Lloyd Horn, Mrs. Anna Ruth Geurin, Mrs. Luther Dunn, Jr., and Mrs. Edgar Shirley.

Aspirin No Good For Canned Foods

ASPIRIN — Douglas county Health Director Dr. Edwin Lyman warns housewives to quit the old practice of using aspirin in canning fruits and vegetables. Lyman said the idea of using aspirin in canning apparently stems from a belief that aspirin in a vase of flowers gives the blooms longer life.

Morning Party Held At Landolt Home For Miss Jellison

Miss Jenne Lou Jellison, bride-elect of Stuart A. Lassen, was the honoree at a soft drink party held at the lovely home of Mrs. Gene Landolt on Friday, August 2, at ten-thirty o'clock in the morning.

The hostesses for the pre-nuptial occasion were Mrs. Landolt, Mrs. O. B. Boone, Jr., Mrs. Gerald Mcmasters, and Mrs. George Hart.

For the bridal event Miss Jellison chose to wear a green tulle frock and was presented a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums by the hostesses. The honoree's mother, Mrs. Clarence G. Jellison, wore a blue dress and was presented a hostesses' gift corsage of pink carnations.

The honoree was presented a wedding gift by the hostesses. Refreshments were served from the beautifully appointed table overlaid with a yellow linen cloth. Hanging from the chandelier above the table was a large wedding ring from which miniature wedding rings tied with yellow and pink ribbon and clusters of yellow marigolds were hanging.

An arrangement of pink lilies and roses with a pink satin bow in a large pink-ladies hat adorned the piano.

Twenty close friends of the honoree were present.

Women Voters Outnumber The Men

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Women voters may already outnumber the males and are likely to increase their numerical advantage in future elections, according to the statisticians.

Statistical proof was not available since election records do not classify voters according to sex, the statisticians point out. Their belief that more women than men are now voting is based on a Bureau of the Census estimate that there were about 4,800,000 more women than men in the civilian population of voting age last November.

The effect of the female vote was first felt in the national election of 1920 — the first year that women exercised nationwide suffrage — when the vote for Presidential electors jumped to 26.8 million over the 1916 figure of 18.5 million. Women certainly played their part in increasing the vote in succeeding elections up to last year, when the total vote passed 62 million.

While the 1956 vote constituted a record for the population of voting age going to the polls dropped to 60.4 per cent from the 62.7 per cent registered in 1952. The 1956 figure was one and one-fourth times that in 1940 and two and one-third times that in 1920.

In addition to the women, other groups have been added to the voting population since 1920. From 1921 through 1940, an average of 160,000 aliens became citizens each year. During World War II, the average increased to 300,000 per year. An additional million aliens were naturalized in the postwar decade 1946-55.

The proportion of the population of voting age going to the polls in last year's elections varied widely from state to state and section to section, the statisticians report, with the southern and southwestern sections ranking lowest. Mississippi was last with only 2.1 per cent of its people of voting age casting ballots, while South Carolina and Alabama were not much higher. At the other extreme, Idaho was tops with 77.3 per cent voting. In Connecticut, Massachusetts, Utah, and New Hampshire, more than 75 per cent voted.

"The American people are very proud of their democratic institutions, yet many who are eligible to vote fail to exercise that precious right," the statisticians conclude. "Our record with respect to the proportion voting falls short of that for a number of other countries in the free world."

Most house plants do best when the soil is watered thoroughly and then allowed to become dry, but not baked or crumbly before the next watering.

WHAT IS HAPPENING

The well-known Cool & Lam private investigating agency has been involved in some cases involving a missing person. Agency is a mutual rights deal. Donald Lam and his partner, Bertha Coole, find the assistant to the mortician who was driving to the home of Drury Wells in Southern California. Donald Lam and Bertha Coole are both uncooperative and uninterested about his wife. Wells' story is that she walked out on him three days earlier. A neighbor, Frances Raleigh, tells Donald that she suspects Mrs. Wells is murdered by her husband. After reporting this to the police, Lam notices the suspicious, ordered, Corning orders Lam to drop the case.

Bertha Coole in newspaper file by Bertha Coole that a short time previously, Mrs. Wells was in the company of Yvonne Clymer, inherited California Texas. Arma Redford, an uncle on which Drury Wells rented his home was a few days after that. Bertha has a bunch there is off on the inherited property, and tells Donald "We'll round up this babe and get her mutual rights for ourselves. Then Corning can deal with us."

While the agency is working on the case, Mrs. Wells is missing. When a phone call is received, she seems both the Wells are missing. Corning, instructing him to report to the Wells place, the detective finds that Donald accompany him. They find the Wells home very much occupied by a stunning redhead in shorts, tiding the house.

CHAPTER 10

YVONNE WELLES walked to the kitchen, her hips swaying in a slightly exaggerated motion. She turned hot water into the dishpan. "Want to stick around and dry the dishes for me?" she asked.

Sellers walked over to lean against the doorjamb. "Where's your husband now?" he asked.

She laughed and said, "According to Mrs. Noxy over in the next house, he took off 'abruptly.' I guess he got tired waiting for me. I'll get the place cleaned up and be a dutiful little wife. If he comes back, we'll forgive each other and live happily until we have the next spat. If he doesn't come back, I'll find out when the rent's due and have the place all cleaned for the next tenant. My God! A man certainly can mess a place up! He's let this house run to seed."

She was busily engaged in sliding dishes through the dishwasher, putting them in the draining pan and pouring hot water over them. "The dish towel's over there on the rack," she said.

"Not for me!" Sellers told her. "They'd kick me out for conduct unbecoming an officer."

"Well, at least, get the towel and bring it over," she said. "My hands are all wet. I don't want to drip a trail over the kitchen."

Sellers went over and got the dish towel. He dropped it over her shoulder. "Let me see that clipping," he said to me.

I gave Sellers the clipping.

"What's that?" Mrs. Wells

asked, looking up from the dishpan.

"Just checking," Sellers said.

"Oh, I know. That's the San Bernardino picture."

"How does it happen you never got in movies?" Sellers asked her.

"They never invited me," she said. "I thought perhaps a few pictures in the newspaper would do it."

"That why you left home?" Sellers asked. "Is that the real reason?"

She laughed and turned toward him. "You boys can ask the damndest questions," she said.

"Why don't you run along over and talk with Mrs. Noxy next door? I know you're dying to talk with her, and she's busting a blood vessel trying to find out what it's all about."

Sellers sighed, handed me back the clipping, and started for the door without a word.

"Come along sometime," Mrs. Wells invited.

We went out the door and down the steps.

"Damn it!" Sellers said. "You got me into this, Lam."

"Into what?"

"This murder case. Then the corpse shows up alive and well."

"Mrs. Raleigh was the one that started it," I told him.

"Not with me she wasn't," Sellers said. "However, we'll go have a talk with her."

Mrs. Raleigh fung the door open as soon as we got on the porch. "Well, good morning, good morning!" she said. "Do come in, I'm dying to know what's happened over there."

Sellers stood in the doorway. "Just one question," he said. "You've seen that woman over there?"

"That's right."

"Is that Mrs. Wells?"

"Yes," she said.

"That's the woman you thought had been killed?"

"Why, how you talk, officer! I didn't say I thought she'd been killed. I said that I felt there were suspicious circumstances. I'd heard a quarrel, and I'd seen the man carry something."

"The way you were telling about it," Sellers said, "it was a corpse wrapped in a rug. It was heavy and swayed."

"Well, a person can't tell how heavy a thing is just by looking at someone carrying it."

"You can tell by the way a man walks whether he's carrying something heavy," Sellers said.

"Well, I— Of course, it was night, I only tried to tell you what had happened, officer. That's all. I was just doing my duty."

"You told me you heard the sound of a blow?" I asked.

"What if I did?"

"I just wanted to check."

"That of course, is neither here nor there. Any man can strike his wife, but I didn't say I had heard the sound of a blow—I said I heard a sound that might have been the sound of a blow."

"How do you talk with Mrs. Wells about this?" Sellers asked.

"No, I have not."

"There's no question that that Mrs. Wells who is over there now?" I asked her. "That's the woman who—"

"Do you think it's possible to mistake that woman?" Mrs. Raleigh asked.

"Well, I guess that does it," Sellers told her. "Come on, Lam. Let's go."

We started back to Sellers' car. Mrs. Raleigh stood in the doorway and said, "I certainly trust you'll keep my name out of it."

Sellers didn't even bother to look back or to reply.

"Okay, mastermind," he said, when we got in the car. "You got me into this, now get me out of it."

"What is there to get out of?" I asked.

"Oh, nothing. Nothing at all," he said. "Just reporting a murder that didn't happen. Getting all excited over a gossip story about a dead woman and then having the dead woman show up alive and well. I've had three shifts of men watching that house on a twenty-four-hour basis. I've kept it sewed up so when Wells showed up, we could question him. I've got to make a report on that. My face is going to be red."

"You've gone this far," I said. "Why not keep it sewed up until Wells does enter the picture and then question him?"

"About what?" Sellers asked me scornfully. "About having a quarrel with his wife? The question is, have you got any ideas for getting me off the hook?"

"Maybe. We'll find out a little more about Corning before we close the case," I told him. "You stall things along as much as you can. He must have tipped Wells to take a powder."

"Now look, bright eyes," Sellers said. "I'm from Homicide, remember? Don't think you're going to get me out on the end of a limb with a hot tip and then save me by turning up some bunko game. I'm Homicide."

"You don't mean you have to have a corpse?"

He said, "I want an out. Have you got one?"

"Not yet."

"Do you have any ideas?"

"I have a sort of a half idea."

"Well," he announced mournfully, "you've got a lot more than I have, and you'd better let this half-baked idea of yours grow up. When it gets so it can stand up, call me."

Forecast Air Conditioned Clothing

BY ROBERT SHORTAL

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK — Someday man may wear air conditioned clothes, walk on air conditioned sidewalks and watch sports events in air conditioned stadiums.

These are just a few of the things that the crystal ball gazers in the air conditioning industry say are in the offing.

By the year 2,000, industry spokesmen add, men may control their climate by the flick of a switch or the turn of a dial.

J. W. Alsford, president of Mitchell Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, says "within the next 45 years, if research and engineering continue at their present pace, we may well have taken a step toward changing everybody's way of living."

Dreams Are Possible "Although all we can do is look into a crystal ball today, none of these dreams is beyond the realm of possibility."

Air conditioning has invaded homes, churches, offices, factories, theaters and stores to the tune of $1,500,000,000 a year.

Americans now travel in air conditioned trains, buses, airplanes and automobiles.

Walter A. Grant, vice president of research and development for Carrier Corp., notes that some experts believe one-third of the automobiles sold in 1961 will be air conditioned.

Experiments now are underway with air conditioning units for subway cars. The job of cooling 200 people jammed together like sardines is no mean task.

Turning to the great outdoors, Grant points out, "air conditioning will achieve spectacular results both in the city and on the farm."

Air Conditioned Cities He explains that inflated plastic canopies may be used to suspend conditioned air over baseball and football stadiums, a forerunner of air conditioned streets and even air conditioned cities.

"Air conditioned pigs and chickens will produce more pork and more eggs per pound of feed," he adds.

Grant also visualizes the day when man will carry a little device in his hip pocket, delivering personal cooling at the flick of a switch.

"As the air conditioned man of tomorrow walks around in the broiling sun, solar batteries will generate the power to cool the thermoelectric clothing he is wearing."

Alsford says the only danger in making predictions such as these "is that, more often than not, they are too conservative."

Adult Show To Be Produced By Disney

By ALINE MOSSBY

United Press Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Walt Disney's two TV shows have delighted youngsters—and cute animals, but this fall he'll launch a third show—with sex appeal. Disney has been known as the man who put the ABC-TV network on the map with his "Disneyland," followed by "The Mickey Mouse Club." He's also the only movie producer who has yet to have a TV failure.

Now the unpredictable Disney will present what he hopes will be his third blockbuster on the home screens, a suave, mismatched, swordswoman actor named Guy Williams.

Williams will star in a weekly series, "Zorro," recreating a role first immortalized in the movies by bounding Douglas Fairbanks Sr. and later by matinee idol Tyrone Power. The new show is taken from the classic novels and short stories about the legendary hero of Southern California's Spanish rancho days.

With Disney's record for success—Groucho Marx on NBC and Bob Cummings on CBS may be in for a tough rating fight when "Zorro" is shown Thursday nights at 8 p.m. across the country, beginning October 10. And 6-foot, 3-inch Williams admits he's "excited" about the prospect.

Williams was a photographer's model and TV and stage actor in New York before tackling Hollywood. Here he spent one year doing 25 "doorway bits" while under contract to Universal-International.

Finally he quit in disgust, and his agent suggested he join the horde of actors trying for the "Zorro" lead at Disney Studio.

Disney thinks "Zorro" will appeal to grown-ups (particularly women fans of mustaches) as well as children. Williams plays a dual role. Like Fairbanks and Powers, he appears as a Spanish don but also as a mysterious night masked rider wearing a black cape and astride a black horse, Tornado.

"The horse has no lines," Williams says gratefully.

FIRE FIGHTING techniques are an important part of a Navyman's training. Heavy emphasis is placed on it during his recruit training and he receives refresher courses throughout his career. Visitors to the summer-long Great Lakes Navy Homecoming will see daily fire fighting exhibitions. (Official U. S. Navy Photo)
