Wayne Fultz, operator of the city water plant, said he did not think that a small child could have walked from the home to the reservoir through the heavily wooded terrain.

At one point in the search a hatchet was discovered under the porch of the home, but stains that were thought possibly might have been blood turned out to be merely rust.

Clark-Sledd Vows Solemnized In Lovely Ceremony Saturday

MRS. WILLIAM TAZWELL SLEDD, III

Miss Margery Ann Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Russell Clark of Lexington, formerly of Greensburg, became the bride of Mr. William Tazwell Sledd, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Sledd, Jr., on Saturday afternoon, August 9, at four o'clock. The double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Stedman Bagby in the chapel of the First Methodist Church at Lexington.

The vows were spoken before the altar which was flanked with palm and ferns forming a background for tall white tapers burning in branched candelabra.

Proceeding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, organist, and Miss Kathleen Riggs, vocalist. Mrs. Tyler's selections included "I Promise Me" by De Koven, "I Love Thee" by Grieg, and "Because" by d'Hardelot. Miss Riggs sang "I'll Walk Beside You" by Murray and "Sweetest Story Ever Told" by Sutha. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and the recessional.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white chantilly lace paired over tulle styled with tight fitting bodice, scalloped neckline outlined with seed pearls, and flared skirt. Her fingertip length veil of French illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Anne Fitzgerald of Greensburg. She wore a frock of blue cotton eyelet over tulle fashioned with tight fitting bodice, cap sleeves and full skirt. Her flowers were pink feathered carnations.

Jerry King of Murray served Mr. Sledd as best man. Ushers were Henry Kress, Vernon Shaw Stubblefield of Murray, and Don Henry of Jonesboro, Arkansas.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Clark chose an aqua cotton frock featuring a tucked bodice embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, and full skirt. Her accessories were white and her corsage was pink carnations.

Mrs. Sledd, the groom's mother, wore a pink linen sheath embroidered with seed pearls, matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the church parlors. The bride's table was covered with an imported lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of flowers in the traditional green and white. The stork wedding cake was embossed in white and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake and the punch bowl were encircled with ivy. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Norbert Kummer, Mrs. Yates Thompson and Miss Kathleen Riggs. Miss Melissa Henry kept the register.

Mr. and Mrs. Sledd left for a short wedding trip. They will be at home at Apartment C312, Shawneetown, Lexington, where both are students at the university.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sledd, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Melugin of Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard Peterson of Cincinnati, Mrs. Louise Brooks, Miss Sara Brooks, Mrs. Grady Brown, Jr., of Louisville, Miss Edna Peterson of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Vaughn, Jr., Miss Luie Clark and Miss Betty Clark of Greensburg, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Vaughn of Louisville, Mrs. George Henry, Miss Melissa Henry, Don and Janet Henry of Jonesboro, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Shaw Stubblefield of Murray, and Miss Mary Williams of Frankfort.

the wedding and the couple left immediately by automobile on a honeymoon. Houle's sister, Mrs. George Rouse, said her brother told her, "I don't know where we're going, but I'll send you a card." Mrs. Rouse said they planned to live in Montreal.

The veil of secrecy was a successful bid to avoid a repetition of the publicity that attended the weddings of Cecile and Annele. The parish priest at Notre Dame Church, Father Jean Baptiste Vinet, said, "They want to get away from all this affliction of sensational news. They should leave these people alone. They have a right to their privacy."

Pirates Cut Braves Lead to 5 With 10-0 Victory

By FRED DOWN

Remember Babe Adams, the rookie who pitched the Pittsburgh Pirates to their first World Series victory in 1960? Well, the amazing Pirates have come up with their greatest rookie pitcher since Adams and it just could be that he'll help the Bucs "steal" the National League pennant from the Milwaukee Braves.

He's George Witt, a 6-foot, 3-inch right-hander from Laguna, Calif., who stopped the hugging Braves on two hits Tuesday night and pitched the Pirates into second place five games out of first with a 10-0 victory. It was the fourth straight win for Witt, who has pitched 23 consecutive scoreless innings, yielding one run in his last 35 innings and has a league-leading 1.58 earned run average.

Witt, a 200-pound fastballer, made-or-broke them as a contender.

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the San Francisco Giants, 7-3, and dropped them into third place, the Chicago White Sox topped the Cleveland Indians, 4-1, and the Detroit Tigers edged the Kansas City A's, 7-6. Boston at Washington was rained out.

Frank Thomas' two-run homer snapped a scoreless tie in the Milwaukee-Pittsburgh sixth and the Pirates then sent 12 men to the plate in the riotous eighth. Bob Skinner weighed in with a two-run triple and Bill Mazeroski, who is hitting .524 in the Pirates' six-game streak, had three hits for the second straight night.

Sam Jones pitched a six-hitter to win his 10th game for the Cardinals. Willie Mays again went hitless for the Giants and took a third strike with two runners on for the final out of the game.

Jim Bolger tripled with the bases filled in a five-run third inning and Lee Walls hit two homers as the Cubs rocked Dodger pitchers for 14 hits. Dick Drott went the distance for his fifth win.

Winn's First Game
Tom Acker finally won his first game of the season for the Redlegs behind a 13-hit attack that featured Bob Thurman's three-run double in a six-run sixth-inning up-rising.

Mantle, whose homer gave him the American League lead in Athletics. Reno Bertoia and Harshbarger also homered for the Yankees while Bob Nieman hom-

Hagerstown Wins 2-0 In Prep World Series

MUNHALL, Pa. (UPI)—Three games that were postponed by rain were on tap today when play resumed in the 10th annual Prep League World Series here at West Field.

Tournament officials managed to get in a morning game Tuesday before the rains came. In that one, Hagerstown, Md., took advantage of two unearned runs to bounce Rochester, N.Y., out of the double-elimination tournament, 2-0.

Hagerstown pitcher Butch Wad won the seven-inning distance to win on a two-hitter with the loss going to Tony Cruppe. Tom Barnes scored the first run in the second inning when he singled, stole his way to third and came home on an error.

In the next inning Terry Bailey opened with a single, went all

Tebbetts' Firing Denied By Paul

United Press International — Cincinnati Reds manager Birdie Tebbetts may be on the firing block weren't completely stilled today even by general manager Gabe Paul's emphatic denial.

Paul said the reports were "mere speculation" and declared that what the Redlegs need is not a new manager, but more timely hitting.

"Birdie Tebbetts is manager of the Redlegs," Paul told the Cincinnati Post and Times-Star in a telephone interview from Atlanta, Ga. "I have not given any thought to changing managers at this time. Our club has slumped badly at bat lately and what we need is timely hitting, not a new manager."

Paul said he was in Atlanta to land a player who could help the Redlegs now — and we have an opening for one as we are one under the 25-player limit.

At least four sports writers covering the Reds have said in the past few days that Tebbetts' was on shaky ground, to say the least.

Pirates Singing "All The Way"

By FRANK L. BERKOEK

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Pittsburgh Pirates fans, long accustomed to cellar teams, are singing the lyrics of a song that goes—"All the way."

The winner of the National League pennant may well be decided next month at Forbes Field and Pirate diehards figure it may not be the Milwaukee Braves.

During September the second-place Pirates play 23 games in Forbes Field, meeting all seven National League opponents. With the success they have had so far on their home grounds, Pirate fans are looking for a "miracle."

"All I can say at this point is nobody's going to attempt to prove that we won't go all the way," General Manager Joe Brown said.

Winning-Home Games
The Pirates have played their best ball at Forbes Field this season. They have won 16 of their last 18 games and have a 35-22 overall record at home.

The high point of the home season thus far was the week's two-game series with the Braves in which the Pirates defeated the league-leaders, 6-4, Monday night before 39,928 fans and 10-0 Tuesday night before 36,867.

Manager Danny Murtaugh, on the eve of departing on a 19-game road trip, credited his pitching staff for much of the team's recent success.

"If our pitching continues we should win our share of games on the road," Murtaugh said. "That again, everything has been playing good ball and the team's spirit has been great!"

L & T CONTEST TERMED SUCCESS BY ALL

Draws Much Interest Locally: Others Give Favorable View

The Ledger & Times fishing contest closed Tuesday, August 5th at midnight. Both the sponsors and those who participated in the contest, which is held each summer by the daily paper, termed the summer event a huge success.

Its wide-spread interest was manifested in the large number of entries the contest drew and the competitive spirit which prevailed throughout the three months' period. Not only was the fishing contest enthusiastically received in this community but the summer event drew favorable comment from tackle manufacturers and sports enthusiasts from various other states in the Union.

Joe P. and J. C. Wilson of Lynville, Kentucky were the first entrants in the contest registering their catches shortly after the opening date in May. Joe P. weighed in a two and one-half pound crappie for first place in the Crappie Caught on Live Bait division and the latter registering a two pound three-ounce catfish for second place in the same division.

Lennis Ward of 214 Woodlawn submitted an entry on a one pound ten ounce Jack Salmon that was not accepted into the contest as there was not a division for this fish. The Jack Salmon is a somewhat unusual catch for this area.

M/Sgt. Drane Shelley took the lead in the Largemouth Bass division of the men's class with his five pound twelve ounce entry. M/Sgt. Shelley lost his lead and slipped to second place ten days later with the entering of a seven pound one ounce Largemouth caught by O. R. Jeffrey of Eighteenth Street.

S. A. Colwell of El Paso, Texas registered a two pound two ounce

Mrs. Everett Massey, grand prize winner of the women's division, was the first entrant in Class B with a one-half pound Blue Gill. At the same time, she entered two crappies, a one pound twelve ounce catfish and a one pound eight ounce hook. Just before the end of the month's period, Dr. James C. Hart, entered a lunker Largemouth that swept into first place tipping the scales at seven pounds and five ounces. At this point in the contest O. R. Jeffrey's catch slipped to second place and the entry of M/Sgt. Drane Shelley dropped from the competition.

Mrs. Obera Brittain of 113 East Main Street made the first entry in the Largemouth Bass Division of Class B with a two pound three ounce hook Rayburn and the latter registering a 20 pound three-ounce catfish for second place in the same division.

MRS. EVERETT MASSEY AND SHIRREL

second catfish this one weighing seven pounds. It was this second entry of McDougal's coupled with the extra 10 points he picked up with a picture of his twenty pound first-place catch that enabled him to obtain enough points to be the overall winner of Class A.

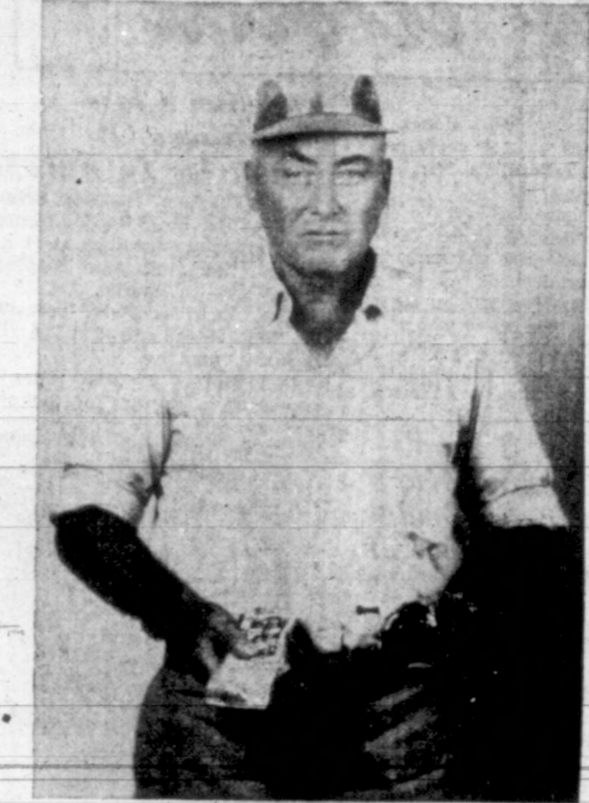

Mrs. Obera Brittain was the only entrant to register a catch on the 4th of July holiday, a one pound seven ounce Stripe. On a fishing expedition the previous day, the lady angler hooked a two pound Largemouth and a three-quarter pound Stripe. Also over the 4th of July holiday, J. C. Maupin submitted a four and 3/4 pound Largemouth entry that did not place in the contest because of the larger entries already received.

Mrs. Obera Brittain broke into the Catfish division of Class B with an even one pounder. At the same time Mrs. Brittain registered a two and one-quarter pound Bass.

Daryl Stalls was the first youngster to enter his fish in the junior class. Young Stalls entered a 14 ounce Cat, a five ounce Blue Gill, a nine ounce Largemouth and a one pound four ounce Largemouth. Stalls picked up a good first in Class C with his entries and appeared headed for a sure win with the contest nearly over.

But just a few days later, eleven year old Shirrel Massey began to cast away at young Stalls' lead. Entering a nine ounce Blue Gill, a one-half pound Stripe, a seven ounce Blue Gill, a four pound Largemouth and a one and one-half pound Largemouth in the last few days of the contest, Shirrel Massey swept to victory in the Class C Division and received the grand prize for his efforts.

Also near the end of the contest, Mrs. Everett Massey poured in the entries to establish some new leads and to pick up important points. Heading the list of her entries was a six winners are shown on this page in today's issue along with the grand prizes they won. Of course each of the winners were awarded prizes within their class, which are not pictured.

As is always the case, there were a number of entrants that did not receive a prize as their catches were topped by the larger ones of their competitors. Perhaps one of the greatest mistakes that some of the contestants made was spending too much time and effort toward winning a particular division. Only a specific number of points was given for the top fish in each divisional class regardless of its weight.

While those who won were more selective in their entries and were able to compile the greater number of points to win the overall grand prize.

James Harmon, editor of the contest feature page, expressed his appreciation to all who participated as either an entrant or a sponsor.

Foundation Head Is At It Again

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — That highly experienced apple-cart upsetter, Basil O'Connor, is at it again and it makes many a scientist (and non-scientist) nervous. But all the scientific apple carts he upset in the past led finally to the Salk anti-polio vaccine. The question now is, can apple-cart upsetting lead to the conquest of other diseases?

Speaking from behind the scientific scene, this reporter is telling you how this man operates. It is of interest because today he embarked on vast new enterprises in public health, and because Dr. Jonas E. Salk himself will tell you gladly that O'Connor is more responsible for the Salk vaccine than Salk.

The way O'Connor operates is from the conviction that all enterprises, large or small, must have leadership. Real leadership, not figurehead; leadership which sets goals and directs activities toward the realization of those goals; and meanwhile prevents people from getting bogged down in their disagreements and their special interests.

Guided By Facts

All this he endeavors to do with a lawyer's strict reliance on rooting out the "facts" and then being guided only by those facts.

Twenty years ago when he began his long span as president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, he set a goal which was the wiping out of polio as a crippling disease. It was an absurd and laughable goal then. The most learned scientists knew just about nothing about polio.

In the years since O'Connor has enraged many a scientist by asking, what does that have to do with the goal, Doctor, no matter how interesting it is as pure science? Or isn't there a shorter way of getting the same results, Doctor? Or how can we have a vaccine for polio if we don't know whether the polio virus is ever in the blood stream!

Scientists Chuckle

This reporter has seen scientists chuckling and shaking their heads, saying: How does a lawyer dare to talk to scientists like that?

O'Connor says he has never made a scientific decision which wasn't thoroughly backed by his scientific advisors. But the scientists who have advised — and over the years they number in the hundreds — or more urbane, in a lawyer's logic based upon a lawyer's understanding of facts and goals.

No person could be more logical — or more urbane, in discussion or argument than O'Connor.

Water Skiing Fun, Economical, Easy To Learn

Determining the proper ski length depends upon the weight of the skier. Youth skis may be as short as 4 feet 6 inches, with adult skis ranging in length from 5 feet 6 inches to 6 feet 3 inches, accommodating skiers up to 225 pounds.

On the first water start, the skier repeats the lessons learned on the beach. With the ski tips above the top of the water, the body straight, knees flexed and let the boat pull you out of the water.

The first lesson for the beginning skier is on the beach. The skier sits on the backs of the skis and, grasping the tow bar with arms extended, is pulled up to a standing position, keeping the knees flexed and the body straight and braced against the pull.

Almost on top of the water as the boat gains speed, the skier keeps the skis together, the arms extended and the knees flexed. The weight should be balanced over the skis against the pull of the tow rope, but too much of a backward lean will result in sitting down and spoiling the start.

The tow line can be fastened to the boat by a simple bridle or by one of the commercial ski tow bars now on the market. The tow line, which is usually 3/8 inch nylon or matia, should be of the standard 75-foot length.

Skimming over the waves behind the fast moving boat, the skier now exhibits the proper skiing form, arm on the tow bar extended straight, knees slightly flexed and body straight. Here a skiing safety tip enters — two persons in the boat, the driver and observer.

Few sports can boast the many pleasures to be found in water skiing — the simple technique of riding atop the water on a pair of wooden or plastic skis.

Anyone who has thrilled to the excitement of speed, to the exciting combination of sun, fun and water, is a potential water skier. Once you get up on the skis and experience the thrill of riding over the waves in the wage of a fast-moving boat, the sport is a powerful speed boat fast enough to get the skier out of the water and pull him at speeds necessary to maneuver properly.

The modern outboard motor has wiped out the financial barrier that formerly stood between water-skiing and the average American family.

No special athletic ability is necessary to learn to water ski — lots from five or six years of age to those in their 60s — can enjoy the sport. A simple 20-minute lesson will teach the fundamentals of water-skiing to almost anyone so that he will be able to glide along behind a boat at 20 to 25 miles per hour.

The basic equipment for water skiing consists of a medium sized motor of 18 horsepower or more, a pair of water skis, a low rope and a preserver. The boat should have a minimum of 60-inch beam at the stern.

The selection of skis depends upon the weight of the skier. Those weighing between 50 and 120 pounds should choose skis 5 feet 6 inches long; between 120-160 pounds, 5 feet 9 inch skis; and 160-225 pounds, 6 feet 3 inch skis.

The habits and techniques you develop on your first water ski lesson will be those you retain the longest so let's get started properly. Oddly enough, the best place to start your first water ski lesson is on the beach.

Place your skis on the beach about 6 to 9 inches apart. Slip into the rubber skis bindings, pull up the heel piece and then sit on the back ends of the skis with your legs bent tight against your chest.

Then have a rained skier hand you a tow rope and pull you up to a standing position without any assistance from you. Try this several times, remembering straight out, your knees slightly bent and your body straight. You should let yourself be pulled up in a motion similar to that of getting up evenly from a low chair.

When you get the "feet" of the drag on the tow rope, it is time to start your first pull in the water. In at least two and one-half feet of water, put your arms to grab the tow bar. Raise the tips of the skis above the top of the water and sit on the backs of them like you did on the beach. Then let the pull of the motor raise you to the standing position, just as you did on the beach. It's a good idea to cradle your knees between your arms to add steadiness to your body when being pulled out of the water.

Do not try to pull yourself up. Just keep your arms straight and let the boat pull you. Then simply remember to keep your knees slightly flexed and your body straight and you'll be proudly sking along behind the boat.

The layout of pictures here shows the simple step-by-step method of learning to ski on water, a sport that will bring you continual thrills for many a boating season.

Picnic Packing

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
IN summer, it's not so much what you eat but WHERE you eat it that counts. There's nothing like dining out—in the country, that is—to make even simple sandwiches a contest and awards prizes to the ladies who enter the best housekeeping tips.

Some of their picnic hints—learned by experience—are really helpful.

Weight It Down
For example, take the problem of the flyaway tablecloth. You spread it out on the picnic table; then, before you can weigh it down with food jars and things, along comes a breeze to blow it away. There you are, juggling plates and containers, trying to grab four ends of the tablecloth all at once.

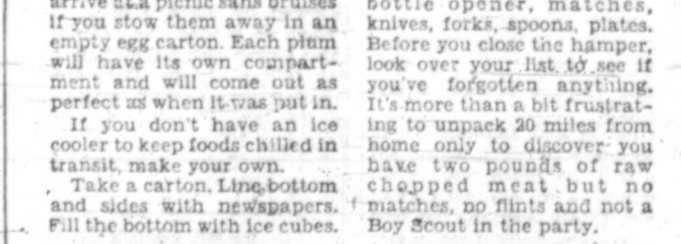

The thing to do, of course, is to have a special picnic cloth—preferably a plastic one you can sponge clean. Sew pockets in each corner on the wrong side. Fill them with pebbles and your table cover will never fly away.

Salt Spillage
Then there's salt, which always manages to shake out in transit, coat bag, plates, food jars and all with the white grains. Cover salt shaker holes with sticky cellophane tape and you've licked the leakage problem.

Small fruits, such as plums, arrive at picnic sans bruises if you stow them away in an empty egg carton. Each plum will have its own compartment and will come out as perfect as when it was put in.

If you don't have an ice cooler to keep foods chilled in transit, make your own. Take a carton. Line bottom and sides with newspapers. Fill the bottom with ice cubes.

Make a List
Picnics are fun. If you go on them often, make up a check list of essential supplies, including salt, pepper, napkins, mustard, can and bottle opener, matches, knives, fork, spoon, plates. Before you close the hamper, look over your list to see if you've forgotten anything. It's more than a bit frustrating to unpack 30 miles from home only to discover you have two pounds of raw chopped meat, but no matches, no flints and not a Boy Scout in the party.

SALT AND PEPPER won't spill out in transit if you cover holes in the shaker tops with strips of cellophane tape.

Fine Year For Cock Roaches

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Entomologists—insect scientists—are finding this an exceptionally fine year for cockroaches (from the cockroach viewpoint), to distress for her the meticulous housewife. One entomologist has discovered they have a built-in chemical defense which often preserves them from harm. Dr. T. Eisner of Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., found out why—cockroaches have a pair of glands alongside their throats which manufacture a chemical compound that is related to coffee, quinine, and many other substances common in nature. Science has long wondered why.

Compound Sprayed
To get the answer, Eisner put cockroaches on paper which had been made sensitive, chemically, to this compound. When the compound was secreted by the insect, the contact turned the paper black. Eisner then fed them and found they did not merely secrete it—they sprayed it, as a person would an insecticide at cockroaches.

But they sprayed only when they were only when he pinched them or pulled one of their legs or otherwise disturbed them. That indicated the spraying was intended to be defensive through not particularly against people. So Eisner constructed an "arena" in a laboratory dish lined with the paper, and in it pitted cockroaches against insects which eat them—the ant, the spraying mantis, the spider and the carabid beetle.

Enemies Repelled
Ants and beetles attacked readily," Eisner reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science. They rushed right up to the cockroaches and grabbed on. Instantly the paper all around was stained blue-black. The eye couldn't see the spraying, but it was happening. And instantly the ants and the beetles retreated, "before they had inflicted noticeable injury." And as they retreated, their bodies were in convulsions from partial paralysis. They recovered quickly. But they had had enough. The spiders also were repelled, but only by mature cockroaches.

This may explain why this is a fine year for cockroaches. They've "learned"—many tribes of them—to deal successfully within their body chemistry with the insecticides which used to devastate their populations. Science is working on new insecticides to give them their competence.

CHANGE COMES HARD
NEW YORK (UPI)—Assistant Postmaster William Madlener believes it's about time this town changed its name. He said 200 letters destined for New York City reached New York City each day, while twice that number reached New York instead of New York.

BAD ALL THE WAY
CHICAGO (UPI)—Charles Daley encountered double-trouble when he tried to hold up a cashier Wednesday. When he pulled a gun on Mrs. Dorothy Castel, she responded by pointing one back at him, whereupon Daley leaped through a window and was promptly nabbed by a passing patrolman.

TOKYO GETTING BIGGER

TOKYO (UPI)—The population of Tokyo, regarded as one of the world's biggest metropolitan areas rose to 8,797,035 as of July 1, an increase of 296,364 over the past year, the Tokyo Statistics Bureau reported.

EACH TO HIS OWN

LONDON (UPI)—Asked why he slept on a bed of newspapers surrounded by 800 empty milk bottles in a rooming house, Ronald Baker, 25, told a magistrate Wednesday. "I fancied it."

WIDOW GETS ESTATE

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The bulk of the estate of the late film executive, Harry M. Warner, was left to his widow, Mrs. Res E. Warner, under his will filed for probate Thursday in Superior Court. Warner died July 26.

BUILDING BIG DAM

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Nationalist China has started construction of the Far East's highest dam at Shihman in northern Formosa after two years of preparatory work. The 410-foot arch dam is scheduled for completion in 1961.
