Turks Give Huge Welcome To U.S. Chief

By WILBUR G. LANDREY
United Press International
ANKARA, Turkey (UPI) — President Eisenhower, warmly welcomed by the most "stunning" welcome ever given a foreign visitor, left today for Pakistan to the sound of further cheers and the Turkish farewell, "Allah go with you."

Eisenhower's welcome was an unqualified one in which Turks danced and sang in the streets and filled the night with fireworks while he conferred with President Celal Bayar. Home-made banners along every foot of his travels proclaimed Turkish-American friendship.

His departure from Ankara was almost as electrifying as his arrival and it was a striking and alert President who looked up at a huge banner stretched across Esenboga Airport terminal and set him to grinning as he read: "We love you with you, like."

Gives Turkish Farewell
"I am deeply touched by the symbol of true affection" between Turkey and the United States," Eisenhower said in a farewell statement. "The visit was far too short. This country takes hold of my heart. . . our two countries have been friends for a long time. I think the bonds are growing stronger and firmer each year, each month, each day."

He ended then with the Turkish farewell, "Allah Ismailadi," and turned toward his plane for the four hour and 11 minute flight to Pakistan.

Behind him Eisenhower left guarantees to calm the fears of Turkey that the West will go soft in its eagerness to relax the cold war with Russia. He and Bayar issued a communique saying that "the future of humanity depended above all" on the ability of free nations to compose their differences and "face the threat of Communism together."

Inspects Honor Guard
Before leaving Eisenhower inspected an honor guard of Turkish soldiers and turning to the commander said, "If all the soldiers in the Turkish army are like these you may be proud and we may be proud."

"Yes, sir, we are awaiting your orders," the commander replied.

Eisenhower, up almost until midnight Sunday night for conferences with the Turkish leaders, flew to the airport today by helicopter with Premier Adnan Menderes and Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu.

Before leaving, Eisenhower in the motorcycle police who had resisted on shaking the hands of corded them. And although he mounted a helicopter for the trip to the airport the 20 miles of road along which he flew were lined with 18,000 troops and police.

Giant Fans Chase Browns From Field

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — New York sports fans, in an unprecedented outburst at Yankee Stadium, Sunday chased the Cleveland Browns professional football team off the field.

Hundreds of New York Giant fans, who were less than 20 minutes to go in the National Football League game, they swarmed on the playing field. Others took swings at each other at the Browns and at their coach, Paul Brown.

While extra police struggled for 20 minutes to restore order, the game was halted. Brown left the field and his players followed him.

Long 20 Minutes
"It's the first time we ever were chased off the field by fans," Brown said.

It was a long 20 minutes for Coach Jim Lee Howell and his Giants. They led 48-7, and feared their biggest triumph over Cleveland would be erased if officials forfeited the game to Cleveland.

League rules state it is the responsibility of the home team to keep the playing field clear and if this is not done the referee "shall enforce any such penalty or score as the interference warrants."

Followed Off Field
"The thought of asking that the game be forfeited to us never entered my mind," Brown said. "I left the field to keep from getting beat up. They were also shouting and punching my players and they followed me off the field."

"The Giants are a great bunch of fellows and players. We didn't deserve to be on the same field with them Sunday. But you can have New York fans. That was the worst thing I've ever seen in all my years of football. I've never seen anything like that roughness."

Howell agreed with Brown. "They the fans were pushing and milking. There were a lot of drunks. I was afraid some of my players would be hurt. And I was afraid of a forfeit."

Mr. Cohan was a member of the Church of Christ at Antioch. The service was conducted by Bro. Harvey Lynn Elder and Bro. John Hardeman. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Cohan was a retired farmer and stock holder in the Peoples Bank. He was one of the first contributors to the effort of Dr. Rainey T. Wells in establishing Murray State College here.

Survivors are, his wife, Mrs. Vern Cohan, Murray Route one, three sons, Bro. Perry Cohan and Bro. Preston Cohan, both ministers of the church of Christ and residing in Dallas, Texas; and Harry Cohan of Memphis, one sister, Mrs. Annee Walker of Lynn Grove six brothers; N. D. Cohan, Tucson, Arizona; Winston Cohan, Caruthersville, Missouri; Stony Cohan, Benton Route two, Leonard Cohan of Chicago, Noble Cohan, Oklahoma City, and Elbert Cohan of Tulsa, and six grandchildren.

The Max H. Churchill Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Knights Play Game of Week
The Murray Knights will travel to Carlisle Community tonight to play against undefeated Beardsley Chevrolet in the game of the week. Beardsley who upset Murray last year in the Atomic Valley tournament will have the same team back this year.

Last week Murray was dropped from the undefeated rankings by Hardin who plays a very improved Fancy Farm team tonight. If Fancy Farm can drop Beardsley there will be a four way tie for first place between these teams. Murray will be the underdog in its game tonight at Carlisle County.

The Knights played a very disappointing game against Hardin last week and will be looking towards some revenge this week. Don Dingworth has been dropped from the Knight while big 6'8" Leonard Mahony has been added. Mahony should be a great help to the Knights under the boards and with his shooting ability the Knights will probably start the following line-up:

Joe Parker . . . . . Guard
Larry McClure . . . . . Guard
Don Williams . . . . . Center
Leonard Mahony . . . . . Forward
Chito Reyes . . . . . Forward
Other boys slated to see a lot of action are Ron Schue, Don Dowdy, Herb Dingworth, Dan Everett, Tom Cox, George Droza and Gene Landolt.

Beardsley Chevrolet is supposed to be the team to beat in the Atomic Valley League this year and they will have such outstanding players as David Gleson, Walter Hoskins, Tom Adams, Cecil Polivick, Bob Milner, Ken Trickey, Donald Terry, Ernest Williams, Jim Byssee and Sterling Cowger. Gleson, Hoskins, Adams and Polivick have been the big guns for Beardsley so far this year.

Coach Howard "ZIP" Lindner says that this game tonight is a must game for the Knights if they expect to stay in contention for the league title this will be the fourth straight road game for the Knights.

Last Rites For Countian Tomorrow

Last rites will be held tomorrow for Breeshit Mitchusson, 62, who died yesterday afternoon at his home on Murray, Route one following a three-week illness.

Just A Nightmare Father Tells Daughter As He Slays Two

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Go back to bed, baby, this is just a nightmare."

Those were the words Deborah Perelson, 43, used a ballpeen hammer to beat to death, her sleeping mother, Lillian, 43, then attacked her sister, Judy, 18 with the hammer. The father gulped a fatal dose of pills while the two sisters and their brother, Joe, 13, fled in terror from the fashionable home.

Judy suffered a possible skull fracture and was reported in good condition today at West Valley Community Hospital.

Perelson, a heart expert, was found by police lying on the floor in a bedroom, still clutching the bloody ballpeen hammer. Near the body was an open copy of Durrell's "Divine Comedy" and several empty pill bottles.

Police said he had been undergoing psychiatric treatment.

Girl Scout Council Has Meet Recently

The Murray Girl Scout Council under the direction of Mrs. Edmund Steyler met recently to discuss current plans of the organization. The Murray Council is designed to meet the needs of young girls interested in becoming Brownies and to progress to Senior Scouts. Since at present the scouting program is reaching only girls in the Murray city limits and the organization is arranged to encourage every young girl from ages 7-17 who is interested in scouting, it is felt that the need is great for neighboring areas to make an effort to provide interest and leaders to bring this program to the county girls. It is hoped that county leaders in these outlying schools and churches will inquire about the scouting program by contacting Mrs. Clifton Cochran, Organization Chairman for the Murray Council.

The United Fund drive, just completed, includes an appropriation for Girl Scouting and since this is a county-wide drive for funds, the Murray Girl Scout Council believes there may be many in these communities who would like to participate.

Plans for the coming year include a program in March by Miss Mary Steyler, Area representative of Region 4, who will discuss with the Murray group the 1957 National Board decision for consolidation with larger councils.

Glee Club Present Program At PTA
The Murray High School Girls Glee Club presented a beautiful and inspiring Christmas program at a joint meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night in the Auditorium.

Mrs. Blaine Ballard directed the group in the beloved Christmas music before a large attendance. The stage was beautifully decorated.

Russell Johnson, president, presided at the meeting. G. B. Jones gave the devotional. Hostesses were: Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Buist Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins.

Deepest Snow Fell On December 7, 1917
A. P. Slaughter reported to the Ledger and Times today that a snow started falling on December 7, 1917 which continued until it reached 21 inches on a level. In some places the snow drifted to ten feet.

The snow stayed on the ground until the fourth Monday in March 1918. The temperature was six above zero, he said.

A large number of accidents occurred with a number of arms and hips being broken in falls. Heavy losses were also marked up in timber lands where snow and ice broke down many trees.

Frankfort Resplendent With Decorations For Big Event

By JAMES R. RENNEISEN
United Press International

FRANKFORT (UPI) — Kentucky's resplendently decorated capital city hummed with activity today as the townspeople prepared to welcome visitors from all over the state for the inauguration of Gov. elect Bert T. Combs Tuesday.

From the mountains, the Jackson Purchase, the Pennyrite, the Blue Grass, the knobs and the metropolitan areas, the visitors are expected to pour into town some arriving before daybreak Tuesday, for the daylong inaugural festivities.

The largest inaugural parade in history will begin forming in downtown Frankfort at 9:30 Tuesday morning and parade marshal ard will welcome the visitors and will introduce retiring Gov. A. B. Chandler, who will then deliver his valedictory address.

Combs and Lt. Gov. elect Wilson W. Wyatt will be introduced by Rep. John C. Watts of Nicholasville, and Wyatt will make a short speech before Combs' inaugural address.

The oath of office will be administered to the new governor by Chief Justice Morris C. Montgomery of the state Court of Appeals.

Immediately after the Oath taking, a 19 gun salute to the new governor will be fired by the field artillery howitzer east of the Capitol.

The afternoon ceremonies will conclude with a benediction by Monsignor Alfred F. Horrigan, president of Bellarmine College at Louisville.

Following the oath of office an official reception will be held in the governor's conference room at 7:30 p. m.

Four inaugural balls will be held at the Capitol Building, the National Guard Armory, the Capital Hotel and the Stage Clubhouse starting at 9 p. m. at 11 p. m. the grand march will begin on the grand staircase at the Capitol Building.

Traffic officials were making plans to keep Frankfort's streets clear of unnecessary traffic Tuesday.

State Public Safety Commissioner Don S. Sturgill, traffic committee chairman for the inaugural, said traffic detours will be set up at six points near the city to route traffic around it.

Traffic into Frankfort for the parade and other festivities will be halted at 8 a. m. CDT. Only essential parade traffic will be permitted in the main section of the city and the parade area.

A shuttle bus service will be set up to take inauguration visitors from outlying parking areas to the downtown parade area.

Stay-at-homes can hear the inauguration events on a radio network which will ring 47 Kentucky radio stations.

Glen Ray Perkins of Nicholasville will sing the Lord's Prayer and the Thoroughbred Chorus of Louisville will sing "My Old Kentucky Home" to open the program.

Frankfort Mayor John I. Ger-

Following the oath-taking the 2:30 p. m. swearing-in of cabinet officials will be broadcast, followed by the new governor's news conference. Coverage also will include a broadcast of the governor's reception at 7:30 p. m., followed by the inaugural ball. The parade and subsequent ceremonies will be held despite any inclement weather conditions that might prevail.

IS THERE a copycat in your house—a little girl whose favorite game is playing "grown-up"?

If there is, she's in for some happy surprises because this year's Toyland stock of Christmas gifts features a variety of playthings that make perfect props for a youngster who's pretending she's the lady of the house.

Streamlined Equipment
One set, for example, will give the littlest homemaker real delight. It has a play dishwasher that really works and—wonders never cease!—a small stove with a rotisserie unit.

When it's clean-up time and your very junior miss is on the housework detail, toy tools, scaled down to her size, do efficient work. These include everything from dust mop and broom to a cute little sweeper that leaves the carpets clean. What little girl doesn't like dolls? This year, baby dolls are big as real babies, and so lifelike you want to hug 'em.

Luxurious Wardrobes
Older dolls are fashionplates that reflect the latest trends right down to needlepoint toes on fancy slippers and festoons of beads to wear with date-time doll dresses.

Mother should have it so good!

Family Of Dolls
The family group has come to Toyland, too. One company has introduced a sister act of dolls, ranging from six months to school age.

Even Doll's nursery is furnished à la mode. Her playpen is the latest thing—a nylon mesh design attached to a red enamel frame. And, like the real baby playpen, on which it's patterned, this one folds up neatly for storage.

Of course, a young homemaker must have a telephone! Toyland's 1959 model is, in color—pink or blue. A bell rings when it's dialed and a music box plays a sweet tune.

Hobby Kits
Hobby kits for little girls include a dress designer set complete with patterns, fabric and a magnetic doll to dress in style.

Another kit has all the makings for a cuddly rag doll. A head set comes with instructions for making corages, sprays and flowers.

Expert Opinion
When it comes to playthings, the Toy Guidance Council, expert in the field, sums up the trends with a real jazzy statement:

"Toys?" queried their spokesman. "They're not only the most, they're—well, call it REAL!"

THE LATEST in playpen design—nylon mesh—has been scaled to a doll's size.

USING PATTERNS, she cuts skirt for magnetic doll that comes with toy kit.

Sam...

half an orange and a cup of water.

Sam arrived aboard the destroyer USS Borté.

He will be examined today and then hustled aboard a plane for the Air Force School of Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. There he will go through an intensive series of tests.

Sam's capsule was similar to the one the first American will ride into space as part of "Project Mercury." The device will enable human astronauts to "escape" and return to earth if their blastoff into space goes wrong.

The rocket flight from NASA's Wallops Island, Va., test station was the first time the Mercury capsule had been tested with a living creature aboard.

Sent long with Sam were some tiny samples of living matter which were used to test radiation effects. Among them were nerve cells from a rat, barley, cultures of bacteria, spores, and eggs and larvae of the flour beetle.

Preliminary examination of the monkey aboard the destroyer indicated "no signs of injury. He was described as "hungry and very responsive."

The Charles Tolleys Visit Parents Here

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tolley and son and Mr. and Mrs. James Marlowe of Young Harris, Ga., spent the holidays with Mr. Tolley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Tolley, West Main Street.

Mrs. Tolley and the baby, Wynn, had visited in the Tolley home for a week prior to the holidays.

Mr. Tolley is professor of social science and Mr. Marlowe is director of public relations at the Young Harris College.

The new Army rifle that will replace the Garand can fire 12 and a half rounds per second.

KILLED GIRL, 12—Clifford Fortner, 15, is comforted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fortner, in San Rafael, Calif., after admitting he choked and stabbed Lorna Lax, 12, to death in her "secret hideaway." He left her body hanging. The boy said "something came over me."

Police have a bit of doing to get Claudine Hagen, sister of Cohen's girl friend Sandra, to co-operate. Claudine, Sandra, and another girl in their apartment were questioned.

Jack Whalen... got his. Police think maybe he was planning to turn stool pigeon in hope of getting new trial on extortion conviction.

LAW TROUBLE AGAIN—Underworld figure Mickey Cohen gives the camera a none-too-friendly look as he is booked for questioning in Los Angeles in the restaurant shooting of Jack Whalen, 39, a convicted extortionist. Cohen, 46, was at a table a few feet away from the victim at the time. With him were his girl friend Sandra Hagen, 18, and two men.

Calvet Is Prettiest Private Eye

By ROBERT MUSEL

United Press International
LONDON (UPI) — Corinne Calvet, the prettiest private eye of them all, is trying to solve the mystery of why she was forbidden in her latest film to wear negligee, dressing gown or anything else even faintly revealing.

"So far, all I have learned is that the orders came from somewhere in the United States," said the strawberry blonde, pacing her flat a few streets from where another detective, Sherlock Holmes, also unravelled many cases by armchair deduction.

With this reporter playing "Watson," Miss Calvet summed up the case of the petulant Parsian thus far:

Lured from her Hollywood home,

a beautiful film star (Miss Calvet) is given the plum role of the favorite girl friend of mass-murderer Henri Landru in a film of his life titled "Bluebeard's Ten Honeymoons."

Has "Warmth"

She is chosen especially because of her "warmth." Miss Calvet, it should be explained, does not like the word "sexy." She prefers "warmth." As one of the warmest girls in the film capital, she arrives ready to project from the screen the very quality the producers paid so much to get. Then she gets her instructions:

Although she is playing a cabaret singer and has a night club song to sing, she must cover her famous epidermis completely. She cannot even wear the frilly corset and long stockings combination so many showgirls wear in innocent musical comedies.

"Zey dress me in 'Come Back Little Sheba' costumes," Avers Miss Calvet whose Gallic origin plays delightful tricks with her English pronunciation. "Big Floppy sweaters, you know. But perhaps I have fooled zem, eh? I do not wear anything under the sweater."

Post-Divorce Trip

But isn't Hollywood the place for this investigation? "Perhaps. But I am in Europe for awhile. Inalways come here after my divorces," Miss Calvet explained. "You know something. I am not going to get married again. Every husband tries to put me in an apron and for a while I love it. Then I get restless and go back into show business."

At this point I did a little detection of my own.

"You have a new boy friend," I announced.
