COUNTY BOY DIES IN DYNAMITE BLAST

Drop Of 53 Degrees Last Night Brings Shiver To Countians

Winter struck Calloway County again last night, knitting in behind a cold front which again placed the county in a deep freeze situation, after a balmy day which saw the thermometer rise to 59 degrees. A drop to six last night indicated a change of 53 degrees.

The temperature was 53 last night at 7:30 and countians were looking forward to another spring like day. At 8:10 the "bottom dropped" out of the thermometer and the mercury stood at 32.

ROTC traffic monitors at the Murray State basketball game last night said that they were very comfortable when all at once a slight breeze seemed to rise, and it became bitterly cold.

Wide fluctuations are not new to Calloway County, however the one last night "hurt" more since it followed such a nice day.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — Kentucky motorists faced dangerous icy streets and highways again today in the wake of a blustering snowstorm that put one on three inches of powdery snow on the ground during the night.

State police said roads were hazardous in most sections of the state.

The state's 1963 traffic death toll stood at 83, one less than the toll through this date a year ago. No fatalities were reported Wednesday, but one late reported death was added to the list.

Sweeping Program For Aged Is Asked By Kennedy Today

By MERRIAM SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today asked Congress for sweeping legislation to help the aged.

His 36-point program for the country's 17.5 million "senior citizens" featured an expanded version of medical care.

Administration officials put a price tag of nearly $10 billion on the overall program for its first five years.

To pay for hospital insurance for virtually all Americans over the age of 65, Kennedy asked that Social Security contributions by both employers and employees be increased one-quarter of one percent.

He also requested that the annual earnings base from which Social Security taxes are collected be raised to $5,200 from the present $4,800. The medical plan would start Jan. 1, 1965, and require an extra $13 contribution yearly from both employee and employer.

"The President in a 16-page message to the House and Senate called his hospital insurance plan "the most important health proposal pending before the Congress."

The program scheduled for the Calloway County High School Gym will get underway at 7:00 p. m. with County Judge Robert O. Miller as the Master of Ceremonies. The program will be opened with the invocation by Rev. Donald Moorehead, President of the Murray Ministerial Association. Mrs. Koska Jones will read a short poem before each of the group captains introduce their co-workers.

Gerald Garrett, President of the Citizens Club, will be introduced. Bob Miller will recognize the early organizers of the School of New Hope.

Wayne Wilson will explain to the group the mechanics of the Fund Raising Drive. The benediction will be delivered by Rev. T. A. Thacker.

A colored film showing the activities of the School of New Hope will be shown to the group.

The fund solicitation will start immediately following the program with a goal of $15,000. The money will be used to build a new and bigger school for the mentally retarded children of this county.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Cuban based MIG jet fighter planes fired rockets in the vicinity of an American shrimp boat Wednesday in the Florida Straits and were chased off by U.S. interceptor planes, the Defense Department said today.

The boat and its two crewmen were not hit. The announcement said merely that the MIGs fired rockets near the boats but the implication was that the planes fired at the shrimp.

"The MIG fighters left the area of the shrimp boat when contacted by U.S. aircraft dispatched by the Air Defense Command in southern Florida," the announcement said.

The Pentagon said the U.S. fighters "witnessed some of the firing" of rockets by the MIGs but "there was no engagement between the MIGs and the U.S. interceptors."

Blown Fifty Feet As Charge Goes Off Without Warning

The sixteen year old son of a Hazlet route one family was killed instantly yesterday by a dynamite charge on a farm, near Lowes, Kentucky in Graves County.

The youth, Elmer Marshall, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Marshall of the Story Chapel community near the Kentucky-Tennessee line.

The accident occurred yesterday at 9:30 p.m. on the farm of Jimmie Goetzky. Young Marshall was attempting to dynamite stumps by himself when the blast occurred.

A witness to the accident said the boy set the charge under a stump and then failed to discharge the blast.

After setting the dynamite Marshall is reported to have crouched behind a large rock for protection. But after a short period he came out to inspect the dynamite apparently thinking something was wrong with the charge.

As the youth neared the stump the dynamite exploded killing him instantly. Edward Elliott of Fancy Farm, scouting used in a nearby field, said the boy was blown 40 feet into the air and 50 feet from the stump.

Young Marshall had been living and working on the Goetzky farm for more than a year.

Chandler Opens His Campaign

LOUISVILLE (UPI) — Kentucky's Democratic gubernatorial primary election campaign was on in earnest today as former Gov. A. B. Chandler, in two major speeches Wednesday, outlined the platform on which he will seek an unprecedented third term in the Executive Mansion.

Chandler first attacked the administration of Gov. Bert Combs at a noon luncheon for leaders of his campaign; then laid out his own program at a $10 per plate fund-raising dinner attended by a crowd estimated at more than 500 Chandler supporters Wednesday night.

The two-time governor, in his evening address, promised voters "new ideas and concepts of taxation... a plan of taxation that will lighten the load, produce the money and hamper or impede no activity or industry which is in Kentucky or may come here."

His address included no more specific description of his revenue program.

Chandler also pledged in his platform speech:

28% Of Local Homes Are Under Ten Years Old

(Special to the Ledger & Times)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 — How much of Calloway County's annual economic activity is due to housing construction? How does the local production of new homes compare with that in other parts of the country?

Answers to these questions are contained in reports issued by the U.S. Department of Commerce. They show, for every city and county in the nation, the number of new dwellings erected over a period of 10 years.

Locally, the amount of such construction and the changes that have been wrought by it are impressive when viewed in perspective.

The reports show that no less than 2,011 dwelling units in Calloway County, or 28.0 per cent of the present total of 7,205, were built since 1950.

Many old houses were torn down in connection with this building and re-building surge. How many is not stated.

As a result of these changes, the occupancy rate per housing unit locally now averages 3.0 persons. Throughout the country as a whole, the average is 3.4 per unit.

Various factors are listed as responsible for the spurt in home building that took place in the 1950-60 decade.

Primarily, it stems from the desire of most families to live in pieces of their own. This desire they were able to gratify as their incomes grew larger and as mortgage financing became easier. It brought home ownership within their reach.

Naturally, as a result, some 63 per cent of the families now own their own homes, as against 55 per cent in 1950. It is estimated that an additional 10 to 12 per cent have sufficient income and savings to become home owners if they want to.

For its size, Calloway County had a high rate of new construction in the 10-year period. It amounted to 123 dwelling units per 1,000 residents, based on average local population.

This compares favorably with the rate reported for the United States, 96 units per 1,000. In the East South Central States it was 83 per 1,000.

What did this volume of construction add up to in terms of the local economy? On the basis of the average sales price of new, non-farm houses regionally during the decade, it amounted to an estimated $25,869,000.

It's offset, because it stimulated activity in allied fields, was several times that great.

Reapportment Bill May Go To The Courts

By JOSEPH VARILLA

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI) — A Senate reapportment bill, which appears assured of a federal court test with Louisville Mayor William O. Cowger leading the parade to the courtroom.

The measure, approved 23-01 despite charges the federal court would throw it out, was sent to the House today where it was expected to get a first reading on its way to relatively routine passage by that chamber.

Cowger, who was displeased about the bill in its original form, is really perturbed after an amendment was approved on the floor Wednesday.

The Republican mayor started out by asking senators for Jefferson County—an increase of three—but the Senate would only approve seven. Making the original bill less palatable for Cowger was that Jefferson County would get only one additional senator this year and would have to wait until 1965 to get the second.

Bad To Worse

He didn't think it could get worse than that from Jefferson County's viewpoint, but it did on Wednesday. As a result of the amendment offered by Sen. George E. Overby, D-Murray, and approved 24-10, Jefferson will get neither of its new senators until 1965.

Eastern Is Out, Morehead Can Clinch On Win

by United Press International
 Eastern Kentucky was mathematically out of the Ohio Valley Conference race today but the Morehead didn't go quietly, battling through three overtimes before falling 78-71 to Middle Tennessee Wednesday night.

Morehead, which can clinch the OVC title by beating East Tennessee Saturday night, took an 81-54 beating at the Ohio University; Louisville was routed out 77-76 by NIT-bound Marquette, and Murray was the night's only winner among Kentucky college teams as it dethroned Chattanooga, 79-60.

Eastern and Middle Tennessee were tied at 50-50 when regular time ran out at 66-66 after the first extra session, and 62-62 after the second. But Raider Larry Stewart hit eight out of eight free throws and two layup shots to dominate the third overtime.

Coach Bobby Laughlin said before the Ohio U. game that his Morehead Eagles would be looking ahead to the crucial game at East Tennessee, and he must have been right.

The Eagles, who will meet Loyola of Illinois in the first round of the NCAA Tournament if they take the OVC title, looked like anything but potential champions as they floundered around a 50-50 tie.

This took a 30-19 lead after nine minutes of play, but a 41-31 margin by halftime, and scored the first four points after intermission to seal the verdict.

Center Stacy Burton of Ohio and guard Harold Sergeant of Morehead led the scoring with 15 points apiece.

Marquette, which has accepted an NIT bid earlier in the day, seized a 72-68 lead with three minutes to go in what had been an extremely tight ball game, then used ball possession and free throws to make it stand up for its second victory of the season over Louisville.

The Western's little guard, Dick Nixon, sank a free throw with

At Varras, whose shooting enabled Murray to pull away after a close first half, was the top scorer for the Racers with 18 points on nine field goals.

With six minutes left in the half the Moccasins trailed by only two points, 21-19. But then Varras and substituting John Namciu went to work.

Varras hit two straight baskets and Namciu picked up a basket and two charity tosses to give the Racers a 10-point spread, 29-19. Murray led 38-23 at halftime.

Murray built up a 20-point lead early in the second half and Coach Cal Lather flooded the floor with reserves in the second period.

As a team the Racers hit 30 of 80 shots from the field for 37.5 per cent while Chattanooga connected on only 22 of 72 attempts for 30.6 per cent.

The Breeds led the rebounding department 63-33 with Jennings gathering in 18, Namciu 12 and Mahoney 11.

Murray now has a 49-8 season.

DAR Chapter Meets At Home Mrs. John Nash

Captain Wendell Oury Chapter, DAR, in special recognition of the approaching birthday of Washington, met Saturday, February 16, at two o'clock, in the home of Mrs. John Nash, with Mrs. Robert McCann as co-hostess.

The report, Mrs. Nash, opened the meeting with the regular DAR ritual, including the pledge to the flag. The omission of the reading of the minutes was due to the unavoidable absence of the secretary, Mrs. Jesse McNutt. Substituting for Mrs. McNutt who is chapter chairman on National Defense, Mrs. Nash read a timely message on this subject. Mrs. Nash also read a portion of the President-General's message taken from the current DAR magazine and at the same time flipped out the many interesting articles featured in the publication.

The business session included some discussion of the State Conference to be held in March at Louisville, and of the district meeting to be held in Murray, in August.

The program consisted of a discussion of American Misses by Mrs. Roy Devine, in which she presented many of the lesser-known facts concerning this subject. That Mrs. Devine held the complete attention of her listeners was attested by the frequent interjections of "That is a truly inspiring response to a speaker." Miss Susie Nance delighted the group by playing several Stephen Foster songs, representative of his various types of compositions.

The festive tea-table, with a red, white and blue flower arrangement complete with cherry spruce-green cake, carried out the Washington motif.

Special guests of the chapter were Mrs. James Byrn and Mrs. A. H. Franworth.

REMNANT HOUSE
212 W. Washington - Paris, Tenn.

FOUR YEARS before Kentucky became a state, Major Joseph Duncan erected this handsome Georgian structure as a combination inn and residence. From 1788, and well into the 1800's, Duncan Tavern served Kentuckians and settlers headed West with a generous helping of hospitality, laced with debate which settled many claims to rich Bluegrass land. Such notables as Daniel Boone and Simon Kenton were frequent patrons. Now restored by the Kentucky Daughters of the American Revolution, Duncan Tavern and the adjoining Anne Duncan House, built for the innkeeper's widow, are both open each day from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Both are located on U.S. 27 at Paris, Ky.

and meaningful role in a society that owes them much and can still learn much from them."

Apparently hoping to counter in advance charges of fostering socialized medicine, his message pointed out that the insurance plan, known last year as medicare, would pay for "hospital and related services" for those over 65, but "would not interfere with the way treatment is provided."

A variable medical benefit program would be available to all aged Social Security and railroad retirement beneficiaries with costs paid from new funds provided by the new Social Security rate. Health insurance coverage for those not participating in Social Security programs would be paid from general tax revenues.

Administration officials said the hospital program for its first five years would involve expenditures of $5.2 billion from Social Security trust funds plus another $960 million to put under federal protection 2.5 million persons not now covered by Social Security.

The "Senior Citizens Hospital Insurance Act" was to be formally introduced in Congress, probably shortly after transmission of Kennedy's message, by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N. M., and Rep. Cecil King, D-Calif. Presidential adviser said they would welcome "any Republicans who care to join us in supporting the legislation."

The medicare program foundered in Congress last year, being blocked in the House and rejected by the Senate on a narrow 50-46 vote.

Chances for a favorable 1963 vote in the Senate improved due to the elections last November, but Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., has announced he will not schedule another Senate vote this year unless the House acts.

REAPPORTMENT . . .

course, under the change Jefferson County still would not have full representation this year, but it would still have the five senators it has now. Five is better than none."

"That bugged Sen. Martin J. Duffy, D-Louisville. He had been willing to settle for seven senators, but he wasn't willing to wait until 1965 for them."

Doubts Court OK

"The crying need for representation centers around Jefferson County," he said. "That's the reason we're here. If the Senate is going to deny Jefferson County at least one additional senator this year, I have great doubts that the federal court will uphold what we do here."

In other amendments made on the floor Wednesday, the Senate agreed to move Grant from the 26th to the 30th District, Breckinridge from the 10th to the 7th and Clark from the 30th to the 28th. It beat down an amendment to move Carlisle from the 1st to the 2nd.

The movement of Breckinridge gave Sen. Paul Fuqua a better chance for re-election and the switching of Clark did the same.

Conference of states to help solve the problems of Eastern Kentucky speedily and completely for all time."

Chandler said that this was not his complete platform; that further details would be forthcoming in later campaign speeches.

Sharing the platform with Chandler were his running-mate for lieutenant governor, Harry Lee Waterfield; his long-time political enemy, former Sen. Earle C. Clark; state Treasurer Thelma St. Vall; candidate for secretary of state, and campaign chairman Mack Walters.

Speaking on his program for education, Chandler said:

"Just as educated reached new peaks and pinnacles under each of my previous administrations, so also will it reach new peaks and new pinnacles in my next one. . . . I do not move without plan. I know whereof I speak. I have balanced budgets and progressively raise the standards of education in Kentucky each time I have been charged with that responsibility. The next time will be no exception."

At the noon meeting Waterfield scoffed at suggestions that he might either openly or covertly desert Chandler and align himself with the administration candidate, Edward Ned Beahatt.

Waterfield said that while he was glad to be everybody's candidate, "I have changed political horses several times, but never in the middle of the stream."
