PROFITS ESSENTIAL
 It takes free people a long time to determine policies that are best for themselves and future generations, but we have never been even slightly doubtful about our ability to survive.
 It is surprising that so many of us risk chances of getting hurt by insisting on moving towards a better standard of living so rapidly, but somehow we seem to be able to muddle through any and every emergency and we don't believe it is in the Divine plan for man to destroy life on this planet, even with the scientific means we have at long last developed that may be capable of doing so.
 That belief is based on the assurance that Good will overcome Evil and if it were possible to take an objective view of matters we believe we could see we have made more progress in the right direction in the last fifty years than in all the time this old planet has been revolving around the sun up until the twentieth century.
 There has never been anything wrong with private enterprise which relies on profits for its existence. It has accomplished more good for more people than any other economic system.
 It has, however, been abused by both management and labor, at times, and the present discord has resulted.
 Students of history tell us every such period of misunderstanding offers political charlatans an opportunity to promote their own selfish interests. And millions have surrendered freedom on the promise of security.
 Americans are not going to do it because they have paid a high price for freedom.
 Higher manufacturing costs, whether they are due to taxes, wage increases, or cost of materials and equipment, means higher prices at the market place, regardless of "guide lines" laid down by bureaucracy or promises by politicians to get votes. And anything politicians do to change the law of supply and demand for the protection of any minority group will lead to disaster.
 An increase in the price of steel will cause an increased price of things made of steel. It is just as simple as that and it is just as important for stock-holders of steel manufacturing plants to make a decent profit on their investments as it is to pay steel workers decent wages and provide them with decent working conditions.
 President Kennedy seems to realize that and we believe it will be best for all concerned.

Hank Aguirre Wants To "Prove Self"
 By MILTON RICHMAN
 Hank Aguirre has gone track-minded.
 "I have to prove to myself," says the Detroit Tiger southpaw, "that I'm not a one-year flash." Maybe the 31-year old change-up specialist from Azusa, Calif., hasn't convinced himself of that yet, but he's starting to make a dent on the rest of the American League.
 Aguirre enjoyed his greatest year in baseball last season when he turned in a 16-8 record for a two-and a half season record for a two-average that stamped him the most effective pitcher in the circuit.
 So far he has been even better this year.
 His 5-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox Sunday was his third route-going triumph without a loss and his earned run average stands at a remarkable 1.40.
 Aguirre, who struck out seven and gave up eight hits, held the Red Sox scoreless until the seventh when Bob Tillman nicked him for a two-run homer. The Tigers had clinched the victory before then, however, on Norm Cash's three-run homer off Bill Monbouquette in the fourth.
 The win snapped Detroit's three-game losing streak.
 Indians, Orioles Split
 The Cleveland Indians ended Baltimore's four-game winning streak with a 2-0 nightcap victory after the Orioles won the opener, 7-0.
 The New York Yankees shaded the Washington Senators, 7-6; the Los Angeles Angels downed the Kansas City Athletics, 8-0, and the Chicago White Sox beat the Minnesota Twins, 8-0, after losing the opener, 7-0.
 In the National League, the New York Mets swept a twin-bill from the Milwaukee Braves, 8-5 and 9-2, and the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Houston Colts twice, 11-3 and 6-5. The Chicago Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants, 4-1, but lost the nightcap, 2-2; the Philadelphia Phillies downed the St.
 Louis Cardinals, 4-3, in 10 innings, then dropped the second game, 10-5, and the Cincinnati Reds overcame the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-3.
 Steve Barber struck out 11 batters and held the Indians to four hits as he posted his third victory for the Orioles, who were stopped on four hits themselves by Dick Donovan in the nightcap. Jackie Brandt homered for Baltimore in the opener and Woodie Held for Cleveland in the nightcap.
Fresh Stars For Yanks Tom Tresh drove in three runs with a homer and two singles and Bobby Richardson also contributed three hits in the Yankees' triumph over the Senators as Jim Bouton picked up the victory in relief of Ralph Terry.
 Home runs by Felix Torres and Leon Wagner paced the Angels to victory over ex- teammate Ted Bowsfield of the A's. Don Lee gained his second win of the year with Jack Spring's help in the ninth.
 Rookie left-hander Jim Roland, aided by a five-run rally in the fifth inning, won his second game for the White Sox in the first game of a doubleheader. Bob Allison and John Coffy honored for Minnesota.

Ole Casey Trembling Out Of Sheer Happiness After His New York Mets Climb From Cellar

By MILTON RICHMAN
 (United Press International) Casey Stengel actually was trembling out of sheer happiness.
 The 73-year old manager who guided the Yankees to 10 pennants with hardly more than a wink was now wide-eyed with unabated excitement because his Mets had won four straight games.
 "Tea-riffic!" he said, his voice breaking a bit. "I think I'll get me a beer."
 Casey was king again. His amazing Mets had just climbed out of the National League cellar by taking a doubleheader from the Milwaukee Braves, 8-5 and 9-2, for a four-game sweep of the series and their longest winning streak in their short history.
 "I kept saying we were better in spring training," Stengel reminded.
 "Now do you believe it?"
 The improvement Casey referred to certainly wasn't evident while the Mets were losing their first eight games of the season but it showed clearly Sunday to the delight of 26,775 frenzied fans.
Hickman Stars at Bat Jim Hickman drove in seven runs during the double-header, whacking a grand slam off Claude Raymond to climax a five-run rally in the eighth inning of the opener and homering again with one on off run outburst in the eighth inning of the nightcap.

 Ken MacKenzie, "My Yale fella," as Casey calls him because he's an alumnus of Old Eli, was credited with the Mets' first game victory and also saved the finale for Calen Cisgo by holding the Braves hitless over the last three innings.
 The San Francisco Giants clung to first place by beating the Chicago Cubs, 2-2, in the second game of a double-header after the Cubs won the first game, 4-1. The Philadelphia Phillies won their opener with the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, in 10 innings but dropped the nightcap, 10-5. The Cincinnati Reds routed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-3, and the Los Angeles Dodgers swept a pair from the Houston Colts, 11-3 and 6-5.
Yanks Beat Senators
 In the American League, the New York Yankees shaded the Washington Senators, 7-6; the Los Angeles Angels clipped the Kansas City A's, 6-2; the Detroit Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox, 5-2; the Baltimore Orioles downed the Cleveland Indians, 7-0, in the opener but lost the nightcap, 2-0, and the Minnesota Twins defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7-0, but dropped the second game, 8-0.
 Tom Haller singled home the winning run for the Giants in the fourth inning of the nightcap against the Cubs after Willie Mays led off the inning with his fourth homer of the season. Willie McCovey also hit his fourth homer in the second. Billy O'Dell hurled a six-run rally in the fourth.
 Ken Hubbs drove in two runs for the Cubs in the opener with three hits, including a home run, as Dick Ellsworth posted his second victory with help from Barney Schultz.
 Tony Gonzalez' 10th inning double off Ed Bauta gave the Phils their opening game win over the Cards, who then overcame a four-run deficit to win the nightcap with a six-run rally in the fourth. Don Hoak hit a three-run homer in the first inning of the nightcap and Don Emeter Oliver, Curt Flood and Don Demeter each homered in the opener. Dallas Green and Hitty Panok were the winning pitchers.
Reds Slug Pirates
 The Reds slugged four Pirate pitchers for 16 hits, including four by Eddie Kasko and three apiece by Frank Robinson and John Edwards. Lozer Al McBean yielded eight of Cincinnati's hits during the 2 1/2 innings he pitched. Jim Maloney was the winner.
 Don Fairly drove in three runs for the Dodgers in their first game of the custom made shirts sold at Todd Gilbert's men's shop in Chicago. That's an extra collar sewn on the tail of the shirt. The idea is, the extra collar gets the same laundering as the rest of the shirt, and when the time comes to replace the collar, this one will be the same hue.

CHAPTER 32
 IT RAINED on Sunday, July third, as it must, fat drops more wet than usual nudged our way toward Man-tauk in the damp segmented worms of traffic, feeling a little grand and helpless and lost, like caged birds set free, and a frightened freedom shows its teeth. Mary sat straight, smelling of fresh-ironed cotton. "Are you happy—are you gay?" I asked. She smiled and nuzzled close. "It's good, Ethan, but I still listen for the children." We had a doll's house to ourselves, fresh and ginghamy, and twin beds fat as muffins. We dined in greasy dignity on broiled Main lobsters slobbered down with white sauce—lots of white wine to make Mary's eyes shine. Later, she drowsed with her head on my arm and made small yawny sounds, but as the dawn came up with any thunder, I didn't hear it. All golden green it was when I came to it, dark of heather and pale with fern as yellow red with wet dune sand, and not far away the Atlantic glittering like hammered silver. A curving gravelled path led among the small township of doll houses to the bungalow that had spawned them all. Here were office, postcards, gifts, stamps, and also dining room with blue-checked tablecloth. In time I toted a giant napkin-covered tray along the gravelled path and set it on a rustic bench while I picked a bouquet of microscopic field flowers to grace the royal breakfast of my dear. Perhaps she was awake, but she opened her eyes anyway and said, "I smell coffee. Oh, Oh! What a nice husband—and—flowers." We breakfasted and coffee and coffee again, my Mary propped up in bed, looking younger and more innocent than her daughter. My time had come. "Get comfortable. I have news both sad and glad." "Good! Did you buy the ocean?" "Marulla is in trouble." "What?" "A long time ago he came to America without asking leave." "Well—what?" "Now they are asking him to leave." "Deported?" "Yes." "But that's awful." "It's not nice." "What will we do?"

Dear Abby..

A Learned Answer!

Abigail Van Buren

There have been many attempts to prove that Christ was a total abstainer. Such attempts involve an ignoring of Jewish social custom and the obvious meaning of the Greek and Hebrew words involved. No reputable scholar would take these suggestions seriously. References include St. Matthew 11:18, 19; John 2:3 ff; Luke 5:39 and Luke 7:34, which indicate that there were overly pious people who criticized even Christ himself.

Sincerely yours,
The Rt. Rev. Allen W. Brown, D.D.

DEAR ABBY: Please convey this message to the woman who wrote to you and signed herself "Cheated" because her husband never gave her a wedding ring. I still have the wedding ring my husband put on my finger 31 years ago. You can have it if you want it. Two years ago my husband left me for another woman. I finally gave him a divorce. So you see, a wedding ring doesn't mean a thing.

"ANNIE"

"Dear Miss Van Buren: I am not sure that I qualify as one of the learned people to whom you have access, but I am happy to give you such information as may be helpful. Your correspondent's neighbor has John the Baptist confused with Christ. Nowhere in the New Testament does it say that 'Christ drank only grape juice'."
