WASHINGTON, Ky. - Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, striving feverishly to flag down a nationwide railroad strike one minute after midnight, conferred with union and management leaders today and reported "both want an agreement very badly."

But the railroads announced they were imposing a freight embargo at 12:01 a. m. (EST) Friday in anticipation of a strike to be called by the rail unions.

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

The tree the firemen planted seems to be doing well. It's a little maple about 20 high and it is beginning to bud.

Reading the other day that when women are out for a walk they seem to be more interested in who is behind them than who is ahead of them.

Rob Hule is getting ready to build a whale of a water tank down on East Elm. It will be above the ground, but below the street level.

I am not afraid of tomorrow, for I have seen yesterday and I love today - William Allen White.

Muscle is the only language in which you cannot say a mean or sarcastic thing - John Erskine.

Clyde Steele has made an explanation of something which has bothered us for some time.

We always figured Clyde did an excellent job at the courthouse. Things are always shining, the lawn is well cared for, he conducts his activities with surety and dignity befitting his office.

What threw us, however, was the fact that for a week at a time you would enter one of the double doors at the court house with the other one locked.

Then all of a sudden, without any warning, you would push at the accustomed door and almost throw your shoulder out of joint. This time the door you usually open would be locked and it was the other door that would open.

Clyde says that a little catch of some kind breaks, and they have to be ordered, then installed by the door people. Naturally that door has to be locked and the other one used.

This explanation helped and now we approach the doors with caution until we see which one is working.

Body Of MacArthur Lies In State Under Capitol Dome

WASHINGTON, Ky. - The body of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur lay in state today beneath the great dome of the Capitol, symbol of the nation he served for most of his long life.

His simple gray steel casket - a standard Army issue - rested in the Capitol Rotunda on the back catafalque that a century ago bore the body of Abraham Lincoln and less than five months ago that of John F. Kennedy.

The remains of the 84-year-old hero were brought to Washington Wednesday on the second stage of the journey to his final resting place. The body will be flown to Norfolk, Va., later today, where it will lie in state until burial Saturday in the MacArthur memorial - a 114-year-old former city courthouse.

Pay Respects The famous and the obscure of the nation's capital paid their respects. More than 20,000 persons had viewed the body by midnight (EST), and authorities ordered the Rotunda kept open to the public through the night until noon today. The casket will be removed at 1 p. m.

President Johnson planned to be on hand at Washington National Airport at 2 p. m. (EST) today when MacArthur's body was to be flown to Norfolk. But the chief of staff declined to say whether the Chief Executive would attend Saturday's burial ceremonies.

The casket, due to arrive at Norfolk at 3:30 p. m., will be borne by horse-drawn caisson through the streets of the Virginia city - birthplace of his mother and her long-time home - to the memorial. The body will lie in state in the memorial until shortly before funeral services at St. Paul's Episcopal Church at 11 a. m. Saturday.

Johnson led official Washington in paying homage to MacArthur Wednesday in the solemn ceremony reserved for America's most illustrious sons.

Borne On Caisson The general's flag-draped coffin was borne to the Capitol on a horse-drawn caisson to the sound of muffled drums. Behind the caisson came the traditional riders horse, symbol of a fallen chief.

Despite the steady April rain, police estimated that about 100,000 persons lined the broad avenues of the capital to watch the cortege. The same procession was being repeated today, with the caisson carried by caisson on Constitution Avenue to a point between 12th and 14th Streets for transfer to a Fifty Air Force B-100 Voodoo jet fighters, grounded by the weather Wednesday, were to fly over the procession today to honor the old soldier.

Physician Cleared In Malpractice Suit MAYFIELD, Ky. - A verdict of acquittal was directed here Wednesday in a $176,000 malpractice suit against a Mayfield physician and the Mayfield Hospital.

Seven Records Set At Western Meet

MOORHEAD, Miss., 878 — Seven records were set Wednesday night at Western Kentucky State College of Bowling Green won the North Dakota State University Invitational indoor track title.

Western Kentucky rolled up 75 1/2 points in winning the title for the second straight year. Host North Dakota State was second with 25 1/2 points.

Ron Landbloom of Moorhead State College set a record in the high jump with a leap of 6' 4". Gary Inmel of Western Kentucky broke the pole vault record with a jump of 13' 7 1/2".

Bob Bowers, Mayville (N.D.) State chalked up a new Moorhead field-house mile record in 4:23.6.

Gatlinburg Ready For New Season

GATLINBURG, Tenn., 878 — This resort city high in the Smokies has just finished one tourist season and is set to begin another.

Bermuda shorts and swimers will replace bright hooded jackets and ski boots as city dwellers begin their exodus to the mountains.

Although weekend crowds will gradually grow as the weather warms, the big vanguard of summer tourists does not begin arriving until around the first of June, chief promoter Tom Eba said today.

The local Chamber of Commerce reports that 5.2 million persons visited Gatlinburg in 1963.

More than 100 conventions are scheduled here this summer and fall, including 15 next month. The annual spring wildflower pilgrims will be held April 23, 24, 25.

University of Tennessee students from nearby Knoxville are always among the earliest spring visitors with weekend treks for partying, hiking and sightseeing.

Signaling the arrival of spring are the mountain flowers. "This week we had daffodils in bloom where all the old farmsteads were," said ranger Eba. "The mountaineer families left their mark by bushes and trees growing where the old homesteads were."

Trout season in area streams opens May 16.

Chamber of Commerce officials say the city has living accommodations for 500 more persons than it had last summer. Gatlinburg now has 127 motels—63 with swimming pools, 41 restaurants, 4 hotels and 2 lodges.

Gil Hodges Says Senators Will Not Finish In Cellar Again

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 17th of 20 dispatches on the 1964 prospects of the major league baseball teams.)

By LEO H. PETERSEN

UPI Sports Editor

POMPANO BEACH, Fla., 878 — Manager Gil Hodges, too nice a guy to finish last, vows the Washington Senators will not finish in the American League cellar in 1964.

He isn't finding many baseball experts agreeing with him. They again see the Senators as a rag-tag outfit destined to finish 10th for the third year in a row.

Hodges is the first to admit that the outlook is not at all rosy, but he insists there is hope.

He claims the Senators have helped themselves "100 per cent" over last year, although their two main additions are first baseman Bill Skowron and relief pitcher Marshall Bridges.

"They are used to winning," Hodges points out, "and they should help our players to get rid of their defeatist complex. And they also will help us defensively."

Lack Pitching Power They should help, all right, but it still looks like the Senators will be short changed again in the pitching and power departments. They have problems everywhere although Hodges contends he is not concerned about his outfield.

It will feature Chuck Hinton, Don Lock and Jim King as regulars with Ken Hunt and rookie Fred Valentine in reserve.

Lock is the big hope in that setup although Hinton probably is over the best all-around player in the group. Lock hit 27 home runs and batted in 82 runs in 1963 although his batting average was only .262. But he struck out 181 times.

Hinton hit 269 with 15 HR's and 55 RBI's while King's average was .231 with 24 HR's and 62 RBI's. Hunt had a dismal 1963 season with the Los Angeles Angels because of a shoulder injury, but if he shakes off he is capable of hitting the long ball. Valentine batted .208 at Rochester last year, hitting eight homers and knocking in 34 runs.

Skowron Will Help Hodges thinks Skowron will help a lot although he also fell off sharply in 1963 when he hit only 203 with the Los Angeles Dodgers. But he came alive in the World Series to help defeat his old teammates, the New York Yankees, and Hodges hopes Skowron will get back to his old form now that he is back in the American League.

Only one other infield post is set — Ed Brinkman at shortstop, a fine glove man who batted only .228 last season. But the Senators label him a real corner.

The veteran Don Blasingame and

Chuck Cottler, a fine fielder and weak hitter, are the leading second base candidates and with Don Zimmer hurt, John Kennedy, who spent most of 1963 in the minors, has the third base job. Zimmer is out with a broken hand but could take over when his injury mends.

The Senators feel that rookie Mike Brumley, who hit .202 at Spokane last season, could solve their catching problem. Behind him are holdovers Don Leppert and Ken Retzer, who have not been imposing either as receivers of hitters. Leppert batted .236 last season and Retzer .242.

Pitching Poses Problem Pitching poses a lot of problems, but that is the one department which Hodges thinks could lead the Senators out of the wilderness. It depends largely on whether Tom Cheney and Dave Stenhouse are healthy.

After winning his first four games last year, Cheney hurt his back and saw little action after mid-July, winding up with a 8-9 record. Stenhouse, troubled by bone chips which have been removed, was 3-9 after winning 11 games the year before.

If they are okay, they will lead the two right-handed starters. A third right-handed starter will be Bennie Daniels (5-10).

Left-hander Claude Osteen could well be the ace of the starting staff. He was 9-14 last year.

Sox Break Camp; Minnie Is Happiest

By SANDY PADWE

United Press International

The Chicago White Sox broke camp Wednesday and the happiest person aboard the northbound train was Minnie Minoso, who was heading "home" again.

The all-time White Sox favorite was signed Wednesday by General Manager Ed Short just two years after Chicago had traded him to St. Louis for Joe Cunningham.

But at age 40, Minoso still had enough left to stretch his back, even though a series of injuries at St. Louis and Washington threatened his colorful career.

"I'm back home again. I never expected it. It's like a dream," Minoso said as a wide grin crossed his face. "Legs fine, I feel I can still do it."

Utility Duty Short said that Minoso, a free agent this spring, would be used as a spare outfielder and a pinch-hitter.

"If he has one more year left, he's more likely to have it in Chicago," Short said.

Minoso's signing was about the biggest news from Grapefruit and Cactus land Wednesday although the Cleveland Indians might tend to disagree.

The Indians hit three home runs in Fresno, Calif., off Billy O'Dell to beat the San Francisco Giants, 14-4, for the first time in 10 games this spring.

Max Alvis and Leon Wagner hit two-run homers for Cleveland and Johnny Romano added a solo shot. Orlando Cepeda homered for San Francisco.

Cubs Nip Red Sox A single by Dick Bertell gave the Chicago Cubs a 7-6, 11th-inning victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Ed Bressoud, Frank Malzone and Lu Chaston hit home runs for the Red Sox while Andre Rodgers and Ernie Banks connected for the Cubs.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Yankees in St. Petersburg, Fla., when Julian Javier lured a two-run homer off rookie relief pitcher Pete Mikkelsen in the eighth inning.

The Los Angeles Dodgers split their squad in two Wednesday and wound up losing both games. One team lost to Pittsburgh, 11-1, while the other lost to Philadelphia, 11-4. Home runs by rookies Alex Johnson and Richie Allen accounted for five of the Phillies' runs. Dick Schaffel, Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell hit home runs for the Pirates in the other contest.

Mets Hang On The New York Mets built up an early 9-0 lead and then in typical fashion had to struggle for an 11-9 victory over the Kansas City A's. The Mets had 15 hits, with Ron Hunt and Ed Kranepool collecting three each. Catcher Bill Bryan had four of Kansas City's 16 safeties.

Pinch-hitter John Goryl hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth and gave the Minnesota Twins a 5-4 victory over the Houston Colts.

Home runs by Russ Snyder, Luis Aparicio and John Powell helped the Baltimore Orioles defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 8-1. Milwaukee's Hank Fischer went nine innings and threw a five-hitter as the Milwaukee Braves defeated the Washington Senators, 5-2, in a night game at West Palm Beach, Fla. Claude Osteen was the losing pitcher, allowing all five runs.

Heavy Rains Puts Damper On Fishing

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Heavy rains during the weekend raised the water, and lowered the prospects of the white bass run, at Herrington Lake.

The state Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources said today the annual run of whites would be delayed for at least several days by the high and muddy water.

Black bass and crappie fishing, however, is generally fair to good in most Kentucky impoundments, the early-week fishing report noted.

A quick look at the lakes:

Kentucky Lake — Bank fishing for yellow bass is best on worms. Several good catches of crappie are being taken on minnows. The lake is too turbulent to test jigging.

Kentucky Lake, Below the Dam — Several catches of white bass and crappie being taken in the swift water by casting white doll flies. Ten gates are open. The water is murky to muddy, stable, and 52'.

Lake Cumberland — Crappie fishing is good at 2 to 5 feet with minnows. Black bass ranges from fair to good by casting medium runners and jigging with minnows and nightcrawlers at 18 to 30 inches. The water is clear to muddy, stable and 46' to 50'.

Dale Hollow — Black bass is best by casting rocky points and inlets and bays with medium deep running lures. Crappie fishing is fair to good by still-fishing minnows in treets at five feet. The water is clear to murky, rising, and 48'.

Gust Creek Lake — Scattered catches of bream and crappie reported on worms and minnows. Nothing much of good size reported. The water is muddy in the main lake and murky in the extreme upper section, stable, and 51'.

Nash Reservoir — Black bass fishing from the bank is extremely good in the headwaters where the water is clear to murky. The rest of the lake is muddy with very little activity from the fishermen reported.

Herrington Lake — Black bass is best by jigging nightcrawlers at one foot. Some bluegill are being taken on worms at the heads of creeks. Crappie fishing is slow. The water is muddy in the main body and murky in the creeks, falling, and 55'.

Tough River — Some black bass reported taken by jigging nightcrawlers. Scattered catches of crappie on minnows being harvested at 15 to 20 feet. The water is clear to murky, falling and 54'.

Lake Elmer Davis — Several anglers are out trying but the fish are not cooperating. The water is muddy, stable, and 47'.

American Male Not Dominated Says Divorcee

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Another voice is heard in the great debate — whether American males are dominated by American females.

"I think they are not," said a Viennese woman who's pioneered a career in her homeland in the man's world of film-making.

"They're emancipated," she said. "The men have their own shoe stores!"

The tongue-in-cheek observation comes from Martha Fottl, a tiny, blue-eyed blonde who has spent the last five months on a private U.S. tour to show college groups, women's clubs and film societies documentaries on Austria.

Gives Her Impressions

It is Mrs. Fottl's first visit to the United States and as she prepared to fly home to Vienna she spoke of some of her impressions and some of her mistakes in a foreign land.

"Aren't there any American souvenirs," she said. "Everything you pick up seems stamped 'made in Japan' or 'made in Hong Kong.'"

"I did not know what was a hamburger at first," she said of this beefy bit of Americana. "Now I have counted up. There are at least 28 styles."

Mrs. Fottl said that her college-trained English improved as she criss-crossed the country but she had trouble understanding Southern accents and some U.S. idioms confused her. On a bus ride from New York to Ithaca for an appearance at Cornell University she kept noticing signs saying "Body shops," "Body repair."

Dawns On Her

"In Vienna, these would be beauty shops," she said. "It took a while for it to dawn on me that here they're for cars."

Mrs. Fottl, a divorcee, believes she is the only woman in Central Europe running a film company. Her "Fottl Film Production" produces advertising, educational, industrial and documentary films.

It was with a group of 15 documentaries on Austria that she toured. Four her firm had produced; the others were borrowed from competitors.

AVOID THE CROWDS

CHICAGO (AP) — If you don't like crowds, stop your favorite supermarket on Mondays through Wednesdays, advises Super Market Institute. Those three days together account for only 27 per cent of the average week's business. Friday accounts for 29 per cent of the business, Saturday 28 per cent, and Thursday 16 per cent.

Cumberland Gap was a strategic point during the Civil War because the army holding it would be in a position to invade enemy territory. After several battles it was captured by the Union army under General Ambrose E. Burnside in September, 1863.

Mr. & Mrs. Barnett Honored At Shower Saturday Evening

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Barnett were the guests of honor at a shower given for the bride and groom at the home of Mrs. Bobby Stark on Saturday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

Mrs. Ruby Logan, Mrs. Debra Grogan, and Mrs. Nancy Barnett were the hostesses for the special occasion.

The honored couple were married March 10. Mrs. Barnett is the former Jeanette Fursan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Fursan. Mr. Barnett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnett.

Following the opening of the gifts by the couple refreshments were served. Mrs. Barnett wore a teal blue dress with a white corsage. About fifty persons were present or sent gifts.

Billington Home Is Scene Of Ruby Nell Hardy Circle Meet

The home of Mrs. Bob Billington was the scene of the meeting of the Ruby Nell Hardy Circle of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held on Monday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

Mrs. Jackie Fortune presented a most interesting program on the "Jewish Religion" in which she demonstrated the Passover supper. Her lesson was well given.

The circle chairman, Miss Erma Whalen, was presented a going away gift by the members. Miss Whalen who has been the church secretary for the past three years will leave April 15 for Hannibal, Mo., where she will be employed at the Hannibal-LaGrange College.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Others present were Mrs. Tommy Alexander and Mrs. Jerry Groves.

Mrs. Vernon Nance Hostess For Meet Of Circle Group

Mrs. Vernon Nance opened her home on the College Farm Road for the meeting of the Annie Armstrong Circle of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held on Monday evening at seven-thirty o'clock.

"Baptists Emerge into Modern History" was the theme of the program presented with Mrs. W. J. Putman in charge.

Assisting in the presentation were Mrs. Edgar Shirley, Mrs. Nance, Mrs. Lloyd Horn, and Mrs. George Ligon.

The chairman, Mrs. Paul Lyons Jr., presided at the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nance.

Hasseltine Class Has Dinner Meet At Boren Home

The Ann Hasseltine Class of the Memorial Baptist Church met Monday evening at six-thirty o'clock at the home of Mrs. Clarence Boren on Story Avenue for a dinner meeting.

Mrs. Quinton Gibson presided over the business session. Mrs. Lester Garland gave an inspiring devotion with Mrs. Voris Sanderson leading in a most impressive prayer.

A delightful dinner was served by the hostess culminating an attendance contest.

Those enjoying the hospitality were Mesdames Lester Garland, Cross Spain, Voris Sanderson, Thyrna Crawford, Lloyd McKeel, Lucy Featherstone, Mary B. Cathey, Laura Jennings, Essie Carter, Claud Miller, L. E. Arrin, Quinton Gibson, J. O. Reeves, Oscar Hale, and Clarence Boren.

Mrs. A. G. Wilson Gives Lesson At Homemakers Meet

Mrs. Ben Trevathan and Mrs. A. G. Wilson were hostesses for the meeting of the Town and Country Homemakers Club held Thursday evening at seven-thirty o'clock at the Murray-Calloway County Library.

The main lesson on "Foundation Planning" was presented by Mrs. Wilson who used the blackboard for special illustrations in her interesting and informative presentation of the lesson.

Mrs. James Johnson, president, presided. Mrs. Wilson, reading chairman, gave the devotion. The Blood Mobile program was discussed with ten signed for the program.

Refreshments were served to the seventeen present including one guest, Mrs. J. P. McCoy of Rialto, California, and Murray.

Dear Abby... She Sees Red! Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In 1969 my husband lent a man $500. He was so sure that he was good for it that he didn't ask for any title or anything. He has given away millions, yet his own brother-in-law has owned a man $500 for four years. I told my husband to get in touch with this rich brother-in-law and ask him for the money. It would be like five cents to him, but it is a lot of money to us. My husband refuses to do it. I am tempted to contact him myself. Would that be wrong?

C'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Yes. No man, rich or poor, is responsible for his brother-in-law's debts. In cases such as this, it is probable that he has already given his brother-in-law all the help he intends to, and has washed his hands of him (which is his privilege). Stay out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband started accusing me of things I never thought of doing. My hand on a Bible, Abby, I never looked at another man in the 34 years we have been married. He kept at me and kept at me until I finally "confessed" just so he would leave me alone. Now he is worse than ever. I have tried to tell him that I am not guilty, and I only said I was so I could get some peace and quiet, but he doesn't believe me. Life is not worth living any more. If it weren't for our children and grandchildren I would know what to do. Can you help me?

MISERABLE
DEAR MISERABLE: Try to get your husband to your family physician for a "checkup." If he refuses to go, call your physician and tell him your problem. Excessive suspicion, without cause, is a common symptom

Mrs. Richard James Honored At Stork Shower Recently

Mrs. Richard James was honored with a stork shower at her home near New Concord on Tuesday, March 31, at seven o'clock in the evening.

The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Willie Smith and Mrs. Guy Wilson who directed appropriate games with Mrs. Billy McCusiston, Mrs. Byrd Esell, and Mrs. Gro-er James as the recipients of the prizes.

The honoree opened her gifts after which refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Those present or sending gifts were Mesdames Bill McCusiston, Mack McCusiston, Danny McCusiston, Billy McCusiston, Byrd Esell, Ronald Ray, Grover James, Cleve James, Joe McCusiston, Charlie Stubblefield, Taft Patterson, Stanley Wilson, Charles Williams, Jim Valentine, B. For the 3rd time in three years, Fred Lorenzen takes the grueling Atlanta "500" at the wheel of his Ford.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

Latest win gives Ford 11 out of last 12 NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed... and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thrifter in the long run. They're built for total performance.

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

Statistics On Suicide In Public Schools Is Released

By JOHN N. HALL
United Press International
TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The average public school pupil who commits suicide in New Jersey is a white boy who lives in a rural area, has no close friends, few extra-curricular activities, no older brothers and sisters, gets poor grades, but is above average in intelligence.

This was the finding of an extensive study of the problem by the state Education Department.

The report, released Wednesday, showed at least 41 public school students took their own lives by hanging, shooting, poison or drug burning or choking between September, 1960 and June 1963.

"At least an equal number of deaths listed as accidental could be classified as suicide," director of remedial education, Dr. James Jan-Tausch, wrote. He said there are nine suicide attempts for each successful one.

Sandals Are For Perfect Feet, Model

By GAY FAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — All those new, open cut shoes are fine — if you have perfect feet, says a former model whose career now is manufacturer of women's footwear.

But avoid them if callouses, bunions and corns are part of your daily ache in getting around.

"I think the cardinal sin women commit in shoe selection is putting sandals on bad feet," said Silvia Sappia Baldi. "Sandals are for perfect, and so few of them are!"

Mrs. Baldi, a statuesque brunette born in Ridgefield, N.J., now is designer, stylist, production manager and president of Florentina, a firm with headquarters in Florence, Italy, and sales outlets in western Europe and most large U.S. cities.

Prominent Customers

She said among her customers she counts the Kennedy women, Princess Stanislas Radziwill, the former Mrs. Henry Ford II and her two daughters, Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller, Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Joan Fontaine, Greta Garbo and Barbra Streisand.

Mrs. Baldi got into shoe manufacturing after modeling for one of Fifth Avenue's specialty stores (Bergerdorf Goodman), doing window display, styling for commercial photography, and department store styling in Italy.

"I went to Italy on a vacation," she said, during one of the semi-annual visits she and her husband make to their New York store, "and decided to stay. I got into shoes because I could never buy the ones that suited me. I started having them made."

Has Own Factories

"By sheer good fortune for us, I found a lot of women were having the same trouble I was."

The first shoes produced were by contract with Italian cobblers. But now she and her husband, Jacques, who handles the company finances, operate two factories — one in Florence, one in Milan.

Trademark of Florentina designs are low backs, high ramps and straight sides. Mrs. Baldi makes all heel heights but said she personally prefers the two and one-quarter inch and lower. The bulk of sales currently is the one and three-quarter inch heel, she said.

"More women are accepting the lower heel," she said, "now that they've found they can walk and look well at the same time."

Findings Of Study

Here are some of the facts gleaned from Jan-Tausch's story:

—There were only nine girls in the 41 suicides. But Jan-Tausch said about four times as many girls try to commit suicide and fail as boys. Girls usually try overdoses of barbiturates or aspirin.

—All but one of the 41 suicides were white. Negroes, as a general rule, "express their hostility outwardly rather than inwardly." Furthermore, they generally live in cities, which seem to provide factors which lessen the incidence of suicide.

—Eight of the 41 came from the city, nine from suburban or small communities and 24 from rural areas.

—Thirty, or three-fourths, were the first born of the family, including "last" children who need to be identified with an older person may be an important factor in satisfying his need for psychological support in times of stress."

Could Do Better

—Two were retarded, 24 normal and 15 superior in intelligence but three were superior, nine were average and 29 poor in academic achievement.

—There was an almost unanimous evaluation of each child by his teachers and parents as one who was capable of doing better."

—Only nine belonged to a chorus, a team, a club or any other extra-curricular activity. Jan-Tausch said "participation in extra-curricular activities is a good deterrent of suicide."

—None of the 41 had any close friends. "The critical difference between the attempter who failed and the one who succeeded was the presence in the case of the one who failed of someone to whom he felt close, someone who shared his inner thoughts, someone who accepted him as he was."

Listen To Threat

Jan-Tausch said a child who unsuccessfully attempts to end his life actually is less dangerous than

Alert Issued Withdrawal Syndrome

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Physicians have been warned to be on the alert for the "meprobamate withdrawal syndrome."

There's a good chance they won't recognize it with a casual glance but it's a bad actor and can end in death.

Meprobamate is the generic name of the original "happiness pill," better known by the trade-names "Miltown" and "Equanil." It has chemically tranquilized a multitude of untroubled people and has proved remarkably free of toxic side effects when not abused.

But medical science is increasingly aware of the large number of abusers — people who dose themselves heavily day by day and sometimes combine meprobamate with the "pep pill," amphetamine and always without a doctor's sanction, of course.

A continuing heavy taking of many drugs leads to habituation, as people become habituated to narcotics, to the barbiturate sleeping pills, and to tobacco. When their chemical crutch is removed they get physical rebounds which add up to a "withdrawal syndrome."

Watch For Withdrawal

The American Academy of General Practice gave space in its technical journal to Dr. T. C. McCormick Jr., of Austin, Tex., to warn the profession to be alert for the "withdrawal syndrome" of meprobamate. A physician can miss it because "a large number, if not a majority" of people will deny taking drugs in excess.

Meprobamate can be obtained more readily than barbiturates," he said. "Prescriptions for meprobamate are easier to get from the physician and are more likely to be filled by the pharmacist without question. The patient has little difficulty in accumulating the drug from a number of sources."

Persons who are taken to hospital emergency rooms in a stuporous condition with vague symptoms are suspect. Or the syndrome may appear 24 to 72 hours after some persons are admitted to a hospital for surgery or illness. These are all persons "separated from their meprobamate source."

Delusions First Sign

The first sign may be a convulsive seizure or "sudden paranoid delusions and hallucinations," McCormick continued. The electro-encephalogram will reveal abnormal brain wave patterns, he added — "high-voltage, fast wave patterns comparable to those produced by barbiturates."

"Meprobamate must be classified with barbiturates and alcohol in that abrupt withdrawal from excessive intake may produce a syndrome of toxic delirium, convulsions and even death."

The physician must first of all protect the person with the syndrome "from convulsions and the dangers associated with delirium tremens." That, McCormick emphasized, "is urgent." He can do it by administering sedatives and anti-convulsive drugs and then slowly decreasing dosages until they're no longer needed.

Meanwhile, the person's nutrition and chemical balances must be watched closely and a nurse should be near at all times, as part of the precautions against suicide and the other dangers of toxic delirium.

New Books For Young People Here

by Mrs. Richard Chastain

Even when it's too set and gloomy for the youngsters to be outside, they can have the time of their lives with the lovely new books available at the Public Library.

For the small ones there is Charlotte Zolotor's new Quarreling Book, which shows how easy it is to fuss at other people, but how much more fun it is to make up. The ink-drawings of boys and girls and fuzzy dogs and whiskery pussies are delightful.

The White Marble, also by Charlotte Zolotor, is one of the most refreshing children's books to come out in a long time. Together, Miss Zolotor and Lillian Odigodo, who has illustrated in blue and gray, have captured the magic of a hot summer night and a small white marble, shared by two city children in a park. Adults will love reading this one, also.

The fairy tale set will be enchanted by the adventure and mystery of East of the Sun and West of the Moon, a group of Norwegian tales, fairy and otherwise, collected by Peter Christian Asbjornsen and Jorgen E. Moe, who have made the written legends speak with all their folk flavor.

The spell of the mysterious also is cast on the young readers of Dorothy Gladys Spicer's 13 Witches (2 Wizards, the Devil, and a Pack of Goblins), thirteen stories of real witches, or at least of witches thought to be real by people all over the world. Let the youngsters learn how to identify their own special brand of hobgoblin!

Junior high girls will love Virginia, the young heroine of Ruth L. Holberg's What Happened to Virginia. And what doesn't happen to Virginia as she spends a year away from her parents in a small Massachusetts community! She encounters confidence men, experiences a short and disastrous acting career, makes new friends, and, best of all, sees her own secret wish fulfilled.
