New Postoffice Will Be Constructed Here At Fourth And Olive

Plans to acquire a new Post Office in Murray were announced today by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski.

"The new building," Mr. Gronouski said, "is designed to carry out the Post Office Department's objective of a more efficient postal service combined with improved working conditions for our employees."

"President Johnson has asked us to exercise frugality in conducting our governmental operations, and we are doing so. New construction, therefore, is being authorized only when it is demonstrated that the need is urgent and no other alternative is available."

"The alternatives," Mr. Gronouski explained, "would involve remodeling of the existing building or moving into other suitable quarters in the same community."

located on the northeast corner of N.E. 4th Street and Olive Street extended, across Olive from Superior Cleaners.

Construction of the new building will have a beneficial economic impact on Murray which is located in an area eligible to take part in the Area Redevelopment Administration's program of assistance to areas of chronic unemployment and underemployment. The Postmaster General said. Not only will the project provide jobs during the construction period, he pointed out, but the new facilities will increase the community's attractiveness for industry and commerce. This, in turn, can be translated into new economic opportunities for Murray.

"This is in line with President Johnson's directive that the full weight of the Federal Government be brought to bear on the problems of these areas," Mr. Gronouski said. The Postmaster General said the building will be constructed under the Department's Lease Construction program, with the government's capital investment limited to postal equipment.

John A. Gronouski

Plans and specifications for the new building, as well as bidding forms and other pertinent data, will be made available to prospective bidders at an early date, at which time the Department will advertise for bids.

The site option will be assigned to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, construct the building and lease it to the Department.

Postal space in the Federal building on the southeast corner of 4th and Maple Streets will be available for other purposes.

The lot which is proposed as the site for the new postoffice is about 100 feet on North Fourth Street and runs about 400 feet to the east along Olive Extended. It is owned by John and Tom McElrath.

Lester Narney, local postmaster, said that no other information is available on the new postoffice at this time. Such matters are normally handled by the postoffice department, he indicated.

It is not known just how the present postoffice building will be used on completion of the new postoffice. It may be used as a Federal building to house the various government agencies which have offices here in the city. Federal agencies here include several farm agencies, Selective Service Board, Army Reserve Center. Other Federal agencies make calls in Murray also such as the Armed Forces recruiting teams, Social Security representatives, etc.

The present postoffice has been in use for some years and only recently underwent modernization at the cost of over $100,000 including air conditioning.

Business at the postoffice has also increased to a great extent.

The proposed new postoffice apparently will be constructed with some growth in the future in mind.

Nothing has been released as to how the building will appear, except that the loading docks will be on the east end of the building.

Olive Extended was constructed only last year and extends east to North Second Street. The extension of North Third Street at the same time to meet the Olive extension was also carried out.

The story on the new postoffice was received last Sunday with the release date this afternoon. Many rumors about the postoffice have been heard during the week.

Here is the site of the new proposed postoffice for Murray. You are looking east along Olive Extended. That is the Tappan Company in the background.

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

You will find it difficult to meet a nicer young lady than Miss Catherine Berry. She has a grasp of the life which far exceeds the maturity of her years.

Life is filled with frustration and pain, sorrow and tears. You make what enjoyment there is in it.

Oddly enough you achieved it through two diametrically opposed methods. One is to concentrate on your own pleasures, desires, feelings and needs putting others out of your mind and the other is to forget your own needs, feelings, emotions, etc. and concentrate on others. One has its price and the other its sacrifice.

N. B. Ellis brings us a pound of cheese from Jasper, Indiana, which is something good. It is some kind of hoop cheese about seven inches in diameter cut into slices.

It is sort of a checker but more of a loose texture than Longhorn, and has a rich taste.

Yesterday was one of those days which seemed to be more hectic than others.

At Least Six Die In Plant Explosions

By CHARLES PENTECOST United Press International LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rescue workers prepared today to enter a devastated Dupont chemical plant where explosions and fire killed at least six persons, left five others missing and presumed dead, and injured 30 more.

Nearly 300 area residents evacuated from their homes as a safety precaution awaited an all-clear signal to return.

"We don't think there is any additional danger," a DuPont official said.

Jaycee Tournament Begins September 4

The Murray Calloway County Jaycee Junior tennis tournament will start Saturday, September 4 at 8:30 a.m. and will conclude on Sunday afternoon, September 5. Matches will be held at the College tennis courts adjoining Chestnut Street. Balls will be furnished. Participants must bring own racket or borrow one. There will be no mixed matches.

There will be an entry fee of $2.00 for each person in each racket. The public is invited to attend. All entries must be turned in by September 2 to the following: Murray Cleaners, Joe Albreiten, Murray Cleaners, Keith Hill and the Factory Outlet Store, Bob Allen.

The age bracket for both boys and girls are: 12 and under, 13 to 16, 16 to 18, 18 and over, and doubles for men and women.

Two Weeks In Appalachia Stirs Local Girl Deeply; Destitution Is Beyond Compare

Miss Catherine Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Berry refused to let a full schedule of studies interrupt a volunteer trip to the destitute Appalachia area of Eastern Kentucky, to aid in CAP, Christian Appalachian Project, this summer.

Miss Berry, 18 graduated from St. Mary's Academy in Paducah on June 3, then entered the summer session at Murray State College on June 14. The term ended on August 6 and on August 7 she was on her way to an area near Lancaster, Kentucky to volunteer her services with the organization which is set up to bring some relief to the poverty stricken families of the area.

CAP is an organization composed of a number of people of different faiths, which grew out of the original efforts of the Catholic church. It is a non-sectarian organization with the purpose of lifting up the people of Appalachia. In the philosophy of CAP it is believed that betterment of the area lies in two fields, land with its natural resources and potentialities, and man himself "with his state of divine intelligence."

"The principal base of operation is Jackson County, Kentucky with other branches in Garrard, Madison, Boone, Boone, Lee and Johnson counties."

Miss Berry arrived on the scene as a temporary, non-paid worker, with a desire to help in any way she could. Her duties ranged from picking strawberries and beans, to cooking for the staff, to keeping the children of destitute families while they were taught trades or were engaged in other programs.

The staff at her particular location is housed in five large trailers, with some adjoining buildings.

She related that her experiences would be difficult to fully comprehend unless one actually saw the living conditions under which residents of the area live, work and play.

"Destitution (a step below poverty) haunts every valley," reports a writer of the area. "Unemployment and often unemployable men sit on too many rickety porches whitening countless curls from cedar stumps. Hunger strikes at the majority of families, hiding first the children but leaving its permanent course on the adults. Sickness, the

Paris Girl Is Not Afraid Of Operation

PARIS, Tenn. — Sixteen-year-old Sharon Allen said Wednesday she is not afraid of a delicate heart operation she is to undergo Sept. 3.

Miss Allen, daughter of grocer Stanley Allen of the nearby Springville community, is scheduled to have an opening between the two upper chambers of her heart repaired at Le Bonheur Children's Hospital in Memphis.

"The girl, who will be a junior at Springville High School this fall, said she was in the Memphis hospital several weeks and 'found everybody so friendly' that her fears disappeared.

"A blood drive to raise '30 pints or more' for the operation is under way in Paris. Sharon's physician said the blood is needed to operate the heart machine, which takes the place of her heart, during the actual surgery.

Despite her ailment, she is an active girl and just last week was named a maid in the Henry County Fair contest.

Paw Paws Brought To Newspaper Office

Gaylon Myers of near Stella brought two Paw-paws to the Ledger and Times office this morning. Mr. Myers said he got them from a tree in his yard.

The tree is about fifteen to twenty feet tall and the fruit, shaped somewhat like a watermelon and about four inches long, is produced by the tree.

The fruit smells something like a pear or May Pop and is edible.

Damage Is Caused As Car Strikes Goat

James H. McKinney of Murray route one struck a goat on Highway 121 west about one-half mile from the city limits.

Mr. McKinney reported to police that he was traveling east on 121 when the four goats walked across the highway in front of him. He attempted to raise the goats, but struck one of them by the left front side of the car, causing damage estimated at about $600.

Damages included the car fender, tire, hub cap, brake, bumper, parking light and hood. The goat was killed.

The incident occurred at 2:10 p.m. on Tuesday. The goats are the property of Mrs. Cyrene Hall. Deputy Dale Spann said.

Bids To Be Received, Faxon-Newburg Road

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 26 — Bids for bituminous concrete surfacing on the Faxon-Newburg Road in Calloway will be received by the Highway Department on September 17, Governor Edward T. Breathitt and Highway Commissioner Henry Ward announced today.

The project will begin at Ky. 94 approximately 6.5 miles northeast of Murray and extend northwesterly to the George Matis Road at Faxon, a distance of 2.9 miles.

New Chassis For Sanitation System Truck Is Obtained

Res Billington, Superintendent of the Murray Sanitation System drove one of the system's vehicles to Louisville on Monday to replace the chassis on the compaction type garbage disposal truck.

The body will be repaired and painted and will be installed on a new truck chassis. The council approved this action some time ago, but the factory was not ready to receive the truck until last Monday.

At the time the purchase of a new body and chassis was considered, but after investigation it was found that the city could save money by continuing to use the body and purchase only the new chassis.

During this week an open type truck has been used in some areas for garbage collection. Billington said that the crew has kept up fairly well by using four tipper and one man on the truck for loading.

The new truck is expected to be in service next week.

Any delays this week will be caused by the use of the flat bed truck. Billington said since so many trips to the land fill site are being made necessary.

Normally the garbage is compacted by the modern trucks which makes fewer trips necessary.

Civil Rights Workers Cut Out Man's Tongue

GREENSBORO, Ala. (AP) — Police today feared an elderly Negro farmer may die before he can point out the terrorists who cut out his tongue — possibly as a warning to other Negroes who might resist the civil rights movement.

Perry Snow, 55, an outspoken critic of civil rights demonstrators and pickets, was critically beaten and mutilated in his farm home last Saturday. Someone clubbed him on the head so hard with a sickle that the frying pan broke. The blow also fractured his skull.

Authorities did not disclose the attack until Wednesday.

Two young Negroes involved in the civil rights movement have been arrested as suspects, FBI police said the pair was taken into custody only because friends of the elderly farmer said he feared them.

David Holloway, Hale County deputy sheriff, said doctors did not expect Snow to live. He has been in a coma since the attack.

Snow, a "well thought of" Negro landowner, was seen in Greensboro Saturday and had spoken out against the picketing of downtown stores by civil rights demonstrators.

The next day he was found sprayed with bleeding and near death in the doorway of his small-farmhouse near here by relatives.

Snow's tongue had been pulled out as far as possible and cut off with a sharp instrument "all the way back to his tonsil," the deputy said.

Gov. George Wallace posted the maximum state reward of $1,000 and dispatched a state investigator here. FBI agents also were on hand.

Holloway said "I believe there are more people involved in this" than the two suspects. David Lee McAlpine, 19, and Roosevelt Long, 21, who were jailed on suspicion of assault but had not been charged.

Eight Days Are Assured As Two Begin 6th. Day

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR. United Press International

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two of the maneuvering rockets on the Gemini 5 spacecraft failed today shortly before astronauts Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad set a world's endurance record. There was no danger, but they were ordered to cut experiments and conserve fuel.

The trouble came when the pilots turned on the capsule's turning rockets to begin experiments. This occurred at 8:07 a.m. EDT.

Both thrusters, mounted on the large rear of the conical-shaped craft, were used for turning the nose to the left. Cooper and Conrad can perform the maneuver by using a combination of other thrusters.

At 10:53 a.m. EDT, Gemini 5 entered its 7th orbit and the astronauts had traveled more than 2 million miles.

There was no doubt they would go for the full eight days, despite the thruster problem. A Sunday splash-down time was set.

Photography "scrubbed" Most of the photography scheduled over big cities and there hand-made was "scrubbed" to save fuel. Plans to view a rocket sled run at Holloman Air Force Base, N.M., were cancelled because of the "sticky" thruster.

Believe Support For Tax Bill Proposal Can Be Mustered

By CAROLE MARTIN United Press International

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — House leaders believe substantial support can be mustered for the administration's property tax proposal if a limit, of perhaps two years, is set on its 10 per cent "safety valve" provision.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has expressed willingness to accept such a limitation.

Breathitt recommended to the legislature Monday night that taxing units cut back rates in direct proportion to increased assessments after which fiscal courts and school boards would be permitted to hike the rates as much as 10 per cent a year.

Initial reaction to the 10 per cent proposal was unfavorable, as many legislators calculated that this could make a 100 per cent increase in tax rates possible in less than 10 years.

Some legislators said they could accept the governor's bill if the 10 per cent proposal was held to one or two years. Then some future legislature could reassess the situation and extend the provision if it felt such action necessary.

At a news conference Wednesday, the governor said he felt a two-year limitation on the 10 per cent proposal would fit in with the only criteria he set for a satisfactory solution to the problems arising from the state Court of Appeals' full assessment ruling: that it require the taxpayers without crippling the schools.

The governor said he felt he was fulfilling his responsibility to the people by making his recommendations, and was willing to go along with anything the legislature decides as long as it meets that basic criteria.

Breathitt has been invited to appear before the House Rules Committee — which has possession of the administration bill — after a public hearing on the proposal today.

The governor said he was confident that the legislature will pass some type of bill to meet his specifications.

"These people are not going home without assuring the taxpayers," Breathitt said.

COIN Collectors' Corner

By ROBERT STEVENSON

"MR. LINCOLN, WHERE ARE YOU?" I keep telling readers of this column that there are more valuable coins in hiding than there are in circulation. By hiding, I mean around the house.

Many believe I get prove the point. A letter from a gentleman in San Jose, (Calif.) says that after reading this column in the San Francisco Examiner, he remembered time around American homes. One way to add a little zest to these seasonal chores is to search every nook and cranny for some long-forgotten coins. Maybe your attic is hiding a fortune.

People have a way of putting coins aside and then forgetting about them. Old trunks, furniture drawers that have been stored away and even old flower vases and sugar bowls are great places to look.

Circulation "Finds" With the present coin shortage and the large number of people collecting coins now, it would seem almost impossible to find anything good in daily change. Yet, this is not the case. Remarkable finds are showing up all the time.

A recent coin publication reports these finds each week and is amazing how many people find valuable coins in their super-market change. Things like 1860-D Nickels, 1864 Washington Quarters with Mrs. Marks. Some of these coins are worth $5 to $20 each.

Certainly, it takes a sharp eye, a little knowledge and lots of patience—but isn't that part of the fun of collecting coins, or anything else for that matter?

"COIN COLLECTOR FOR INSURANCE AND PROFIT" is the title of a fast-filled booklet that tells how to collect and invest in coins profitably. Gives examples of collections and investments. For copy, send 50¢ (coin) to Dept. 250, P. O. Box 2691, Hollywood, Calif., 90028.

Billy McCool Is Helping To Keep Cincinnati Cool As The National League Race Gets Hot

By FRED DOWN, UPI Sports Writer

The National League race gets hotter and hotter but the Cincinnati Reds are keeping cool with up-and-coming Billy McCool.

A 21-year-old sophomore southpaw who chews bubble gum like a little boy, McCool is turning out to be quite a man coming out of the bullpen for the Reds in their drive to sustain 11½ games of the NL lead.

McCool, who has appeared in 49 games so far this year, came through in magnificent style for the second straight game Wednesday night when the Reds scored a 7-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

It was the second straight game in which he was called upon to preserve a ninth-inning lead—and for the second straight game he retired the side on strikeouts.

McCool's heroics — following a three-run ninth-inning homer by Tony Perez—made the Reds the only Wednesday night winner among the four chief contenders. The first-place Los Angeles Dodgers were beaten 7-5 by the last-place New York Mets; the third-place San Francisco Giants played a rain-out; the second-place Philadelphia Phillies lost 7-6 to the Houston Astros.

The Chicago Cubs whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-3 in the other NL game while in the American League Minnesota defeated New York 5-4, Baltimore edged Chicago 2-1, Kansas City blanked Detroit 5-0, Boston grabbed Washington 4-3 and Cleveland defeated Los Angeles 6-3 and 4-2.

McCool, the NL's rookie of the year in 1964, has only a 7.7 walk rate but he has saved the last three Cincinnati victories in his last four appearances. He has faced 15 batters and struck out six.

Bank Aaron struck, stole second and scored on Ed Mathews' single to produce a 4-4 tie in the eighth inning but he was stopped by McCool's single and a walk to Johnny Edwards got two runners on with two out and steep Perez decided for Gene Garmon but he decided three-run homer of Billy O'Dell.

Sunny Ellis received credit for his 17th victory against seven losses while Dan Gullett was the losing pitcher.

Wins Second Straight

Ex-cardinal left-hander Gordon Richardson pitched four-hit, one-run ball for 6.23 innings to win his second game of the season and give the Mets their second straight decision over the Dodgers. Joe Chicago phered in three runs with a homer and two singles, and Ed Kranepool knocked in a pair with a single and a triple for the Mets.

The Giants scored two runs in the top of the 10th to take a 6-3 lead but rain then forced a delay of an hour and 46 minutes before the umpires ended the game. The score reverted back to the end of nine innings at which time the score was 3-3 and the game was rescheduled as part of a two-nighter tonight. Donn Glendon had homered for the Pirates and Jim Hart had made two hits for the Giants.

Ernie Banks hit his 20th homer and a single, and Don Landrum, Joe Amalfitano, Billy Williams and Don Kessinger also had two hits to lead the Cubs' 14-run attack which brought Don Ellisworth his 19th win. Bob Gibson was stumped for 12 hits in seven innings and saw his record reduced to 15-40.

SECURITY SOCIAL

Question: Does the recent change in the social security law making provision for payment to full-time students age 18 to 22 only apply to children of deceased workers?

Answer: No. Full-time student children age 18 to 22 of workers either receiving an old-age insurance benefit or disability insurance benefit from social security may also qualify.

Question: I understand that the social security law has been changed so that a widow can receive benefits on her deceased husband's work at age 60 instead of waiting until age 62. Is this true and if so, is there any difference in the amount she will receive?

Answer: It is true that effective with September 1965 widows' benefits can be payable at age 60 or at any time between 60 and 62, but if a benefit is claimed before age 62, it is reduced by 5.9 of 1 percent for each month she is under age 62. This amounts to 13.5 percent reduction if claimed at age 60, or 6.4 percent if claimed at age 61.

Question: Although I worked a short time in work covered by social security and am now 73 years old I have never been able to draw any social security. Did the recent amendments make any changes that might make me eligible for benefits?

Answer: The 1965 amendments to the Social Security law made it possible for some persons over 72 to receive benefits on as few as three quarters of social security work. You should contact your social security office and file an application.

PITTSBURGH — The United Steelworkers executive board will meet Wednesday and it was believed they will consider a new contract offer from the nation's leading steel producers. It was reported the offer included a 13-cent hourly wage increase, 4 cents higher than the first made by the producers but 5 cents less than that sought by the union.

WASHINGTON — A congressional investigating committee charged the Aerospace Corp., a non-profit, government-owned research company, was lax in its security measures, was inefficiently managed and wasted federal money by paying high salaries and employing a public relations firm.

An investment in Your Future ATTEND CHURCH WORLD WIDE INTEREST

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

Many good organizations are working with our youngsters, developing an interest in other lands and the ones who dwell there. The church through God's word also teaches us about our neighbors and what our attitude should be toward them. The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Miss Barbara Flynn Presides At Meet Of Rainbow Girls

Murray Assembly No. 19 Order of the Rainbow for Girls held its regular meeting at the Masonic Hall with Miss Barbara Flynn, worthy advisor, presiding and Miss Diane Taliaferro, recorder, reading the minutes.

Plans were discussed for the Masonic Fraternal Day at Paducah on September 19 when the Rainbow Girls will have charge of the benediction.

The girls planned a slumber party for Monday, August 23.

Members present were Barbara Flynn, Diane Taliaferro, Connie De-Prise, Linda Stealer, Sharon Nor-worth, Kay Sykes, Rosetta Robert-son, Vicki Singleton, Sherri Out-land, Anna Flynn, Lynn Watson, Carolyn McNeely, Linda Dunn, Kathy Bushing, and Vickie McKeel.

Eastern Stars and Masons present were Mrs. Frances Churchill, mother advisor, Mrs. June Orider, Mrs. George Williams, and Danny Roberts.

An initiation will be held at the next regular meeting to be held Tuesday, September 7, at seven p.m. at the Masonic Hall.

Elm Grove WMS Has Circle Program

"The Offering - Maximum Re-sponse" was the theme of the pro-gram presented at the circle meet-ing of the Women's Missionary Society of the Elm Grove Baptist Church held at the church.

Mrs. Bart Lee was the program leader and had the call to prayer from Psalms 67:1-2.

Taking part in the program dis-cussion were Mrs. Charles Burkton, Mrs. Carvel Houston, and Mrs. Pur-don Lassiter.

The opening and closing prayers were led by Mrs. Burkton and Mrs. W. A. Farmer.

Others present were Mrs. Bill Harrell, Mrs. Alfred Williams, Mrs. Glen Hale, Mrs. Aubrey Cook, Mrs. Billy Outland, Mrs. Alfred Keel, Mrs. Gary Wicker, and Mrs. Walton Pulkerson.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Jack Sykes returned home by plane after a visit in Florida. She accompanied her son, David Sykes, to Haines City, Fla., where he will begin his second year as in-structor of world and American history and assistant coach at the high school there. David has spent the summer with his parents while he studied toward his master's degree at Murray State College. Mrs. Sykes also visited her daughter and fam-ily, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones and children, Shannon and Deanna, of Winter Haven, Fla. Mrs. Jones (Nancy Sykes) teaches art and history at the West Wood School in Winter Haven.

Crawford-Hughes Vows Solemnized In Ceremony at Lynn Grove Methodist Church

Mrs. Wayne Herbert Hughes

Miss Susan Victoria Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crawford of Lynn Grove, became the bride of Wayne Edward Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Hughes of Murray, at six-thirty on Saturday evening, August 14, at the Lynn Grove Methodist Church.

Rev. John Archer performed the double-ring ceremony before an al-tar decorated with lighted tapers and baskets of white gladioli, full geraniums, and daisies. Palmes were in-terposed throughout the ceremony. The wedding vows were marked with heavy satin ribbon bows.

Mrs. J. W. Jones was the organist and she played several selections including the traditional wedding marches for the processional and re-cessional. Dan McDaniel sang "They'll Walk with God," "Blessed Be Not to Leave Thee," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The young bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding a formal gown of magenta white silk tulle. The fitted waistline featured a suggestion of empire bodice, accented with appliques of pea de anger lace. It had a high scoop neckline and short sleeves. A demure A-line skirt was accented with two side pocket plaits with the front of the skirt embellished with reembroi-dered pea de anger lace. The chapel length train flowed gracefully from a Dée bow attached at the back waistline. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Her veil of silk illusion was beau-tifully tiered and attached to a pea de anger pillbox, accented with a front bow which was embellished with seed pearl fringe trim.

The bride's bouquet was a crest-ent style bouquet of white gar-denias with ivory satin ribbons.

The only attendant, Mrs. James Leslie Street of Murray, was attired in a formal gown of pale beige crepe and gold trim silk-faced velvet. The groom's suit was a classic two-piece suit of beige crepe, featuring a hi-riple neckline on a bodice of rust velvet. A scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves accented with a bias ruffle were other points of interest. Her head piece was a miniature pillbox fashioned of crepe, with tiny tiers of rust velvet in the back with a shoulder length veil of silk tulle. Her bouquet was a cluster of large bronze chrysanthemum tied with dark velvet ribbons.

The flower girl was Miss Ida Freeman of Nashville, Tenn., cousin of the bride. She wore a short shift style dress of pale beige crepe, which featured short sleeves, a deep front pleat and a back bow which hung to the hemline. Her basket was decorated with bronze pom-pom nooses and yellow ribbons and she scatter-ed yellow rose petals as she proceed-ed the bride down the aisle.

Herbert Hughes served as his son's best man. Ushers were Ronnie By, cousin of the groom, from May-field, Eddie Outland, Jimmy Bevin and Kelly Woods, all of Murray.

Master Kelly Freeman, Nash-ville, Tenn., cousin of the bride, was ring bearer and carried the rings on an ivory satin pillow with a small arrangement of bronze pom-pom streamers.

The mother of the bride was at-tired in a costume dress of anti-que azure green silk linen which featured a turquoise silk chiffon bodice, with which she wore acces-sories.

Mrs. Luck Burt and Mrs. Miller, children and their families un-able to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shoemaker and children, Pam and Tim, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith and sons, Mike and Kenny, of Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Scott and children, Deborah, Nancy, Karen, and Clif-ford, of Virginia.

Betty Crutcher Is Honored At Shower At The Story Home

Betty Crutcher, whose mar-riage to Edward Moreland will be an event of Saturday, September 4, at seven o'clock in the evening at the Looney Grove Baptist Church, was complimented with a bridal shower on Thursday, August 17.

The charming hostess for the oc-casion was Miss Anna Story and the event was held at her home on the Fanny Road.

For the nuptial event the hon-oree chose to wear a blue gown from her trousseau. Her corsage was of white carnations, gift of Miss Story.

Mrs. W. H. Crutcher, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Howard Moreland of Cuba, mother of the groom-elect, were presented with "love's" gift corsages of pink carna-tions.

Games were played with Mrs. Linda Russell and Mrs. Dorothy Moreland being the recipients of the prizes. Mrs. Russell also won the door prize.

The honoree opened her many gifts after which refreshments were served from the beautifully ap-pointed table overlaid with a pink cloth under white lace and centered with a bride and groom statuette under a wedding arch. An arrangement of red and pink roses also adorned the table.

Miss Carolyn Miles and Miss Car-olyn Parks assisted Miss Story in serving the guests.

Those present were Mrs. Patsy Orr, Mrs. Linda Rogers, Mrs. Linda Russell, Mrs. Dorothy Moreland, Mrs. Fustus Story, Mrs. Helen Jones, Miss Alice Payne Hicks, Miss Janis Southard, Miss Jackie Washer, Miss Betty Ferguson, Miss Carolyn Miles, Miss Carolyn Parks, Miss Debbie Johnston, Miss Sue Ann Story, the honoree, the mothers, and the hos-tesse. The honoree's fiancé, Edward Moreland, and Harold Crutcher were also present for the event.

Dear Abby . . .
It All Depends, Lady!
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is a teacher (more appropriately, a recent widower) who is enjoying a burst of popularity as the "contra man" in our town. Since the number of ex-traneous women outnumber the men, when he is invited to a dinner party, the hostess usually has a partner in mind for him.

This man accepts willingly, and then adds, "Do you intend if I bring my own lady?" Of course, no prop-er hostess will say she minds, even if she does.

Invariably his "lady" is much younger than the other ladies present, and she doesn't fit in very well. How can this situation be tactfully handled?

ONE HOSTESS

DEAR ONE: Are you inviting this man because he is your friend and you want to entertain him? If so, let him bring whom he will. But if you want only a "male" to fill out your table, or hope to "mate" him with one of your unattached female friends, level with him and see what happens.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend's mother is really too much! She's only 33 years old, but she looks 20. She has a fantastic figure and long red hair and she had to get mar-ried. You know the type. She's di-vorced and looks it. I'm around with young kids. I think it's sweet for me to be young and all that, but this one should not be. She goes around the house in stretch pants, short skirts or a bikini. (Anything to show off her figure.)

Once when I was there with a bunch of kids she yelled, "CLOSE YOUR EYES, I'M COMING THRO-UGH," and she walked through the room with only her bra and panties on! Everybody almost died. I don't know what she's trying to prove. I am not jealous of her. I am only disgusted. What is your opinion of a mother like this?

GREEN EYES

DEAR GREEN: Her conduct would hardly qualify her for "Mem-ber Of The Year," but if you find her disgusting, don't go to her home and you won't have to put up with her.

DEAR ABBY: I am probably old enough to be your mother, but I don't mind to be your mother, but I don't mind to be your mother. On our block is a woman known as "The Visitor." She rings at your home with a bunch of flowers from her garden, or some "goodies" she has baked. Anything, just to get into your house. Once she's in, your day is shot! She stays until your husband comes home for supper. The only way I have been able to get rid of her is to tell her that I have an appointment (doctor, dentist, a meeting). Then I have to get all dressed up and actually drive off in my car.

My husband says I am a slinky to go to all his bother. But, Abby, I can't bear this lady's feelings, as some others have, by telling her I haven't time for her. But how can I get rid of her? She's so sensitive, a bad soul and she is very sensitive.

BOPT-HEARTED

DEAR SOFT: Your neighbor is "sensitive" only in her OWN feel-ings, which in plain English is selfishness. Quit going through the motions of keeping an appoint-ment you don't have and tell The Visitor (as gently as possible) that you don't have as much free time to visit as she.

CONFIDENTIAL TO B. G. IN CHARLOTTE: It isn't enough for a gardener to love flowers. He must also hate weeds.

Rev. J. C. Lewis Speaks At First Baptist WMS Meet

Rev. J. C. Lewis was the guest speaker at the general program meeting of the Women's Mission-ary Society of the First Baptist Church held at the church.

The speaker shared his work with the Mission Board at New Orleans, La., where he has now completed his work and moved to Paducah where he will be working with the West Union Association.

Rev. Lewis read the scripture from Isaiah 61:1-2. His wife and children accompanied him to Mur-ray.

Mrs. George T. Moody of the Do-rosky Orphan introduced the speaker and his family.

The president, Mrs. E. C. Jones, presided at the meeting which was opened by the group singing the theme song, "O Worship The King."

Mrs. Edgar Shirley, prayer chair-man, gave the call to prayer and announced the week of prayer for state missions programs to be held at the church each morning during the week of September 13-17 at 9:30 except for Wednesday.

The group voted to serve luncheon to the college students in Septem-ber and also voted to have all general program meetings in the morning at 9:30 at the church.

Mrs. Velma Wisheart of the pon-ingating committee read a list of the state of officers for the new church year.

Miss Hamrick And Mr. Ferony To Be Married Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Hamrick of Murray will be in Arlington, Vir-ginia, this weekend for the wed-ding of their daughter, Miss Sandra Lee Hamrick, to Walter Nicholas Ferony.

Miss Hamrick, who is employed by the National Academy of Sciences in Washington, D. C., resides at 2010 N. Chelver St., Apt. 14, Arling-ton, Va.

Mr. Ferony, son of Colonel and Mrs. Louis J. Ferony of Milford, Connecticut, is presently employed as a civil engineer for Mr. Pen-nington and Sons Construction firm.

The wedding will take place Sat-urday, August 28, in Arlington, Vir-ginia.

The thrusters are not used in re-entry from space. A separate rocket system brings the spaceship down.

The thrusters — part of the orbiting attitude and maneuvering system — shift the right and left movement of the capsule and the up and down movement.

The faulty No. 7 thruster was used to make the craft turn to the left.

Possible Freezing

The problem might have been caused by freezing during the night. Deputy Flight Director John Hodge said.

"We could turn the thrusters off and still go eight days," Hodge emphasized.

Space officials said the thruster had stuck open but was not leaking fuel or oxidizer.

Both men were wide awake and anxious to smash the mark. During the 74th orbit they sponsored their watches with Gemini control in Houston and planned to celebrate inside the 300-mile-a-minute ship.

"Do a couple of rolls and a loop," suggested fellow astronaut Elliot S. Sze, speaking from the Houston control site.

Responded Conrad. But both astronauts made it plain they relished the occasion.

Despite itchy beards and a few problems with excessive water from fuel cells, the men were so relaxed and awake they could play jokes and so confident of going the full eight days that detailed orders were being fed to them for a Sunday splashdown.

The Russians cried "spies in the sky." U.S. officials struggled off the charges as sour grapes and concentrated technical-medical data as Cooper and Conrad approached the moment of space medicine truth: Whether man can withstand weightlessness for six and more days. This was vital to preparing Americans for future journeys, to the moon.

Going into their sixth day on the 76th orbit, with 1,900,000 miles behind them, the astronauts were approaching the point of determining whether man can withstand weightlessness for six and more days. This was the vital part of this flight, repairing Americans for future journeys to the moon.

Wife vs. "Other Woman"

The Jealous One

...under the covers, was by now so familiar that she was hardly aware of it anymore. But this evening she read it consciously and attentively for the first time in years.

"Lord, make it mine to read, and the city's peace."

That there shudders a Peace of Thine.

Man did not make, and cannot make."

Jessie's calendar, Jessie's prayer. In the course of her quiet, ordered life, lived apparently in such unchanging calm, had once she felt at times the tumult, the longing for peace? Had she at those moments read and reread the lines on her little wooden cottage, and heard the peace she promised?

With a rush of love, Rosamund was aware of Geoffrey reading the words too, without mockery or condemnation. A tender, happy smile played about his mouth; he, too, must be thinking these same thoughts about the faithful old servant of his childhood. He spoke softly.

"It reminds you of Lindy, doesn't it? She's peaceful in that way. No matter what's going on around her, she still remains at peace, tranquil within herself."

Rosamund could have torn the calendar from the wall and flung it at him. She could have thrown herself on the floor in a passion of rage and weeping. She could have bombarded him with furious argument. But instead she smiled, keeping her eyes fixed on the ceiling, muttering letters, which now seemed to her to be written in fresh, bright blood.

"Yes, there aren't many people like that, are there?" she replied evenly. And a moment later she heard Lindy's car crunching on the gravel. It was time for her to drive them home.

...as a surgeon, trained over the long years to almost superhuman skill and sensitivity, may examine the patient before his hands for the almost imperceptible symptoms of a deadly disease, so did Rosamund, all her faculties sharpened by fury, examine Lindy's face, her posture, for tiny symptoms of some huge, corroding tension; or at least of common or garden impatience.

For Lindy had explained, in arranging to call for them all seven, that she wanted to be home by eight; and yet here she was, at twenty past seven, still smilingly and charmingly listening to Mrs. Fielding's impassioned defense of Evans and all his works in the Palace of Mines.

Never once did her eyes flicker towards the clock; never for one second did she let her interest seem to flag.

Rosamund watched, sharp-

SOON, MY DEAR FRIENDS - YOU WILL BE FREE!

THE TRAFFIC WAS EVEN WORSE than it had been this afternoon. People must have sensed on that sultry warm sunshine of the sea son to swarm to the coast; and here they all were swarming back. As the slow crawling came it last to a total stop some of them began honking with sharp hopelessness.

"Get moving, sister!" yelled the man in the car behind them, sticking his head through his window. Lindy leaned out and threw him an enchanting smile. "So sorry, pal," she called. "but I can't do a thing. We're all in the same boat, right?"

The man grinned apologetically. Geoffrey looked at Lindy with delight.

"There can't be another driver on the whole road who could have worked that!" he said. "This is the most rotten luck for you, I must say, I'm terribly sorry we've gotten into this. There isn't a hope of being back by eight, I'm afraid. Was it something very important?"

"Oh, only our party," said Lindy lightly. "I guess everyone'd be late anyway. You will for one, that's quite certain! And so will Rosie!"

"I didn't know we'd been asked," Rosamund could feel that Geoffrey was smiling in the darkness. "It's the first I've heard of it."

"I only thought of it this morning, and I just called everyone up right away," said Lindy. "I meant to ask you when we started out this afternoon, but it went right out of my head. So I'm asking you now. Will you come to my party on Sunday the 13th of September, at 8:00 p.m. or as soon after as the hostess happens to turn up? No. On second thought let's start it on the dot!"

She took her hands off the wheel, reached into the glove compartment and drew out a small square bottle and three plastic mugs.

"Vodka," she explained. "To get the party going!"

Pappas Has Been Mowing The Sox Down For Relaxation

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD
UPI Sports Writer

The relaxation Bill Pappas enjoyed in his home town of Chicago White Sox.

Bowling is a hobby for the 28-year-old Baltimore right-hander and the White Sox are supposed to be work but Pappas has been mowing them down like 19 pins ever since he won his first American League game in 1964.

Pappas has beaten Chicago 17 times in his career, losing only four decisions and this season he has whipped his favorite pastime three times and registered both his shut-outs against them.

The White Sox were particularly welcomed nights to Pappas Wednesday night, because he had labored more than a month without a victory. And Chicago, eager to please their old tormentor, bothered Pappas for only four hits and downed six unearned runs for the winning tally in Baltimore's 2-1 triumph.

Twins Up Lead

Minnesota increased its AL lead to 7 1/2 games by edging New York 5-4. Cleveland swept two games from Los Angeles 6-3 and 8-2. Kansas City blanked Detroit 5-0 and Boston outgassed Washington 8-3.

In the National League, New York upset Los Angeles 7-5. Cincinnati beat Milwaukee 7-4. Chicago tripled St. Louis 6-3. Houston shined Philadelphia 7-6 and San Francisco and Pittsburgh played to a 3-3 tie halfted after nine innings by rain.

The triumph for Pappas was his 11th against six defenses and his first victory since July 31. The Orioles scored the decisive run in the third inning. Luis Aparicio opened with a single and scored when center-fielder Ken Berry fumbled John Yonelli's single. The other Baltimore tally came in the first on singles by Paul Blair and Powell and a sacrifice fly by Brooks Robinson.

Clay Peters allowed just five hits in eight innings of work for the White Sox but took his 11th loss compared to eight victories.

The lone Chicago run came in the first when Don Buford led off with a triple and scored home on Floyd Robinson's infield pop-up to second baseman Bob Johnson.

Strikes Out Two

At Washington struck out Herby Lopez and Ray Buckner to end the game and preserve Minnesota rookie Jim Merritt's fourth win in five decisions. Merritt had allowed only two hits until the ninth when Elmer Hunsicker's two-run homer hit Merritt. The Twins had broken a 2-2 tie in the seventh on a two-run triple by Rich Rollins and a double by Earl Beaty.

Knuckle ball pitcher Bob Tiefenauer pitched two hitless innings of relief in each game for the Indians to preserve victories for Steve Harvey, 1-2 in the first game and Ralph Terry 1-1, in the nightcap. Fred Whitfield and Duke Sims homered in the opener for Cleveland and Leon Wagner connected in the nightcap, driving in three Indian tallies. Jack Sanford 1-1 and Fred Newman 11-12 were the losers.

Jim Catfish Hunter, a $75,000 Mike McCormick absorbed the de-his first shutout, allowing Detroit six hits to win his 20th decision against four bases. Ken Harrelson singled home two runs and John Blanchard homered for the A's. Joe Sparta 10-6 was the loser.

Eight home runs scored out of Fenway Park in Boston. Carl Yastrzemski, Tony Conigliaro, Rico Petrocelli, Felix Mantilla, and Bob Fillion homered for the Red Sox and Ken Mullen, Jim King and Frank Howard connected for Washington. Earl Wilson evened his record at 10-10 for the Red Sox, fanning 13 and scattering seven hits.

Mike McCormick absorbed the de-we felt this morning? It must have been because Murray High has a football game a week from tomorrow.

And school is opening.

And the leaves on the Magnolias, Poplars and Sumac are beginning to turn.

And it's almost September.

Anybody heard from the Harveys? They should be about settled in their new home by now.

Reading where a lady from Texas said that we finally have a president who speaks without an accent.

Looks as though Murray is getting a new postoffice.

It will not be so bad going to the postoffice, but coming back up that hill is not too good a prospect.

It will change the complexion of the town, too, and may be the catalyst needed to move business on out North Fourth Street.

Behind every man who lives within his income is a wife who works.

General Sherman was once a guest of honor at a banquet which was followed by a reception. Among the people who shook hands with him was a man whose face was familiar, but whom he could not place.

"Who are you?" the general asked in a whisper, as he heartily welcomed the guest.

"The man's face flushed as he answered, "Made your shirts, sir."

"Ah, of course," exclaimed the general. Then turning to the receiving committee, he said, "Gentlemen, allow me to present Major Shurtis."

They figure it is over 3,000 years old.

Inside the ravaged complex, but they were considered minor.

Eight persons were hospitalized, one in the critical condition, as a result of the devastation. The explosion caused an estimated $5 million to $10 million in damage. Cause of the blast was not known.

Bricklayer - Presumed Dead

Another person was added to the list of presumed dead today. He was a bricklayer doing common work for DePaul inside the plant.

Authorities today set up a mobile morgue at the plant site.

Police and National Guardsmen ordered residents within a sparsely settled two-mile radius to evacuate their homes yesterday when it was feared a huge tank of volatile chemicals would explode. About 90 of the evacuees spent the night in a makeshift shelter at Louisville's Butler High School. Others were put up by relatives and friends.
