GUN EXPLODES, BOY INJURED

Carlton Yates, age 24, of this city, is at the city hospital suffering from a concussion of the brain, on account of an accident which occurred Saturday afternoon.

He was hunting, in the bottom east of Mayfield. He was using an old gun that had not been shot in about a year. He wanted to discharge the old load, so he got behind a tree and held the gun around on the other side. He pulled the trigger two or three times and the weapon did not discharge. Then he stepped into the open, pulled the trigger, and an explosion occurred. The gun barrel flew into the air and a piece struck him over the right eye, penetrating both the outer and inner skulls and causing a concussion of the brain. He was removed to the city hospital, where a portion of the bone was removed by Drs. Hunt, Dismukes and Walker.

The doctors say Yates will recover.

New Homes Must Have Mail Boxes or Get No Mail

Washington, Aug. 18.—The campaign of the Postoffice Department to hasten the delivery of mail by having all homes provided with mail receptacles in which carriers may deliver letters or other mail matter, was augmented today by an announcement by Assistant Postmaster General Gartlett that in the case of construction of new dwellings not so equipped they will be refused carrier delivery.

In a message to postmasters throughout the United States he urged that every effort be made to induce citizens to install mail boxes or receptacles at their front doors so that city carriers would not have to stop and ring door bells and be otherwise detained in delivering the mails. He declared further that their absence not only tends to inconvenience the patrons themselves, but is directly responsible for inferior service through delaying the carrier in making the rounds of his route.

This is the first step ever taken by the Postoffice Department to enforce the installation of mail boxes or receptacles at residences or dwellings by a direct refusal to deliver the mails in case they were not provided.

Flappers Lower Spirits As Spinsters Looms

New York, Aug. 20.—The flapper race is dying out simply because men refuse to marry scantily garbed girls.

It's the wish of long skirts that sways men into marriage.

In the interests of matrimony—the ultimate aim of every girl—modern femininity is bundling up so it can again mystify man into a trip to the altar.

MRS. CARRIE GRIFFITH DEAD; BURIAL TODAY

Mrs. Carrie Griffith, widow of the late R. E. Griffith, passed away at the city hospital Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock. Her death was caused from a complication of diseases, from which she has suffered for the past several weeks.

She was removed to the hospital from her home, in the south part of the city on August 10th, and her condition had since been considered critical.

The funeral service was held at the family home at the intersection of South Seventh and Prairie street, in south Mayfield, this afternoon at four o'clock. The Rev. A. S. ## BIG EVENT SCHEDULED HERE FOR WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Laundry Men Here; May Locate in City

L. G. Barnett and Wm. Sykes of Evansville were in the city Sunday and today looking over the field here with a view of establishing a first class laundry and dry cleaning establishment. They liked the looks of Mayfield very much and declared this morning that they probably would return here within a short time, after which they would have a more definite statement to give out regarding their plans.

Interest throughout the county is centered on the appearance here Wednesday afternoon of Aaron Sapiro, organizer of the dark tobacco cooperative sales proposition.

Preparation is being made for the accommodation of an immense crowd at the old Western District warehouse in West Mayfield, just across the railroad. Mr. Sapiro speaks there beginning at one-thirty o'clock. Seats are being placed there today.

Mr. Sapiro will discuss fully the organization of the dark tobacco district.

He will enter Kentucky at Murray and will deliver a talk there at ten o'clock Wednesday morning. A large delegation of Graves county farmers will meet him at Murray and accompany him to Mayfield. He will arrive here about noon.

The Mayfield merchants, through their interest for the farmers, have indicated that they will close their stores from one to three o'clock, so that everyone can hear the plan discussed by Mr. Sapiro. Farmers from every part of the county are expected to attend in large numbers.

HOPPERS BREAK EVEN WITH LOCALS

In a listless game at Fancy Farm Sunday afternoon, Rudy Hulswitt's Pantmakers defeated Art Wilson's Hoppers 6-4. The locals counted three runs in the third frame when, with two on and the bases drunk, Harris tripled. They also counted again in the fifth and sixth frames. The Hoppers scored the run in the first, two in the third and one in the fifth as a result of the hitting of Longnecker, Higbee and Moore.

Score: Pantmakers 6, Hoppers 4.

The wicked willow swung by Buster Brown and Art Wilson were the main factors in the Hoppers' victory over the Pantmakers at Cyclone park Saturday. Brown had a double and triple, each blow scoring Wilson, who had singled ahead of him. The Hoppers counted one in the first on Moore's double and Higbee's long hit to right, which Holder misjudged. They chalked up another tally in the seventh and two in the ninth. The locals' only run came in the third, when Longnecker pooted Schneller's grounder and went to second on a wild throw, scoring later on Kirkwood's single.

Score: Pantmakers 100, 000, 102, 4; Hoppers 001, 000, 001, 4.

SMALL THIRD MONDAY CROWD

This is Third Monday, but there is so little doing in a business way that the day could not be recognized were it not for some little unusual activity around the court house.

The crowd today is unusually small on account of the big amount of work the farmers have before them on the farm.

Emmett Hughes of Murray was in the city Saturday to see the ball game.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY.

"Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another," but let him labor diligently to build one for himself."—Lincoln.

"UNEASY LIES THE HEAD THAT WEARS A CROWN."

What with the rail strike, the mine strike, the tariff bill, the soldier bonus, the President is sure "up a tree." All these "confounded" puzzles shoved upon the presidential mind at one time, is one of the things that makes the old editorial room back at Marion look so inviting at this time.

It would be so much nicer to sit in the old easy chair and write scathing comments on the mis-conduct of the Administration, than to sit in the presidential throne-room, and be torn to pieces by the other fool editors. "Heavy, heavy hangs over your head," Warren G.

SHIRT-SLEEVES.

The Supreme Court of Oklahoma has been called to pass a "gentleman's question of whether a man may eat in a public dining-room without his coat."

Fie, fie, gentlemen, leave it alone in the courts. Let every man decide for himself whether he shall obey Mother's immutable law of wearing his coat at the table, or violate the code of ethics of the Anglo-Saxon race, that is as old as civilized dress.

We see nothing immodest in a gentleman without his coat, at table or elsewhere. On occasion we have voted for gentlemen to appear in mixed assemblies and public dining-rooms coatless—and the vote carried by a handsome majority. But there were few men who availed themselves of the privilege thus accorded them.

The truth of it is, most men, from an age-old sense of courtesy—or chivalry—or whatever it is—just will wear coats in the presence of ladies. Right now we can hear Ma saying, though she has slept under the violet canopy in the family burying-ground many a year—"Son, get your coat. Don't come to the table in your shirt-sleeves."

It's a gentle voice we hear, but for all that it is as commanding after all these years, as one of the Ten Commandments.

We don't know what the judges on the supreme bench will say—but we do know that some men will wear their coats at table and there will be a lot of fellows to keep them company—because Mother's is more sacred than that of the Supreme Court of Oklahoma, or of the United States.

ANOTHER WORD TO THE TOBACCO GROWER.

We understand there are some tobacco growers who intend to sign up with the Dark Tobacco Association, but who are holding back to see if the necessary two-thirds of acreage will be signed up.

This is only delaying the work. Every farmer who intends to sign should do so as promptly as possible. If the required two-thirds is not signed up, there will be no Association, which would automatically cancel all signed obligations.

In order to facilitate matters, every man who believes in it should aid in the organization, by signing the agreement himself, and then proceeding to explain the plan to his neighbor, and help him to sign, thus making an endless chain of signers until the organization is complete.

Another thing, some growers may feel that by staying out of the Association, they will have an opportunity as independents to secure better prices. This, too, we think, is poor reasoning. Since all tobacco-growing sections, both in this state and others, have already entered co-operative marketing, it goes without saying, that buyers and manufacturers firms both at home and in foreign countries will depend upon the Association for whatever supply they may desire.

The independent grower being in the minority, would be compelled to follow general market prices, and would be devoid of the advantages of organized pooling in the handling of it.

So nothing is to be gained by staying out. On the other hand, much will be lost, either by staying out, or holding back from prompt signing up.

TARIFF MEASURE THROUGH SENATE; GOES TO HOUSE

Washington, Aug. 19.—The administration tariff bill, officially "the tariff act of 1922," was passed late today by the Senate after four months' debate. It now goes to conference. The vote was 48 to 25.

Senator Borah of Idaho was the only Republican to vote against the measure. Three Democrats—Broussard, Kendrick and Hittens—voted for it. The roll call showed Senator Ernst of Kentucky, Republican, voting for the bill and Senator Stanley of Kentucky, Democrat, against it.

Immediately after the passage of the bill, Senator Cummins of Iowa, president pro tempore, announced the appointment of the Senate conferees.

Chairman McCumber and Senators Smoot of Utah and McLellan of Connecticut, Republicans, and Simmons of North Carolina and Jones of New Mexico, Democrats, goes to House today.

The measure will be returned to the house Monday with a formal request for a conference. American valuation will be the biggest issue in conference, but the general belief at the Capitol is that the house will yield on this, accepting the senate "flexible-tariff" plan as a substitute.

Chairman Fordney said today he would hold out for American valuation, asking instructions from the house. Under this plan the house would decide the issue by a direct vote and the conferees would then proceed with their work of adjusting the 2,000 odd points in dispute between the two houses.

Mr. Fordney thought the work could be completed within a month and the same view was entertained by Senate leaders.

First in 13 Years. This measure is the first Republican protective tariff to be written in thirteen years.

Chairman McCumber of the finance committee, who piloted the measure through the senate, said in a formal statement tonight reviewing its provisions, that it was estimated that it would yield more than $400,000,000 in revenue during the first year it was in operation. This is $500,000 more than has been yielded by any tariff in the history of the country.

"The application of the rates in this act to the imports that will come during the first twelve months of its life," said Mr. McCumber, "is estimated to show a lower average equivalent ad valorem rate of duty than any under any recent Republican tariff."

How It's Summed Up. Summing up, Mr. McCumber said the bill as passed by the Senate will:

"First—Insure employment for American labor and payment of a living wage.

"Second—Permit establishment and continuance of industries vital to the welfare of this nation.

"Third—Protect alike the producer of raw materials and the manufacturer.

"Fourth—Permit re-adjustment of rates without general tariff revision, to meet changing economic conditions.

"Fifth—Require the ascertainment and submission to congress of facts affecting competitive conditions."

How Democrats See It. Senator Simmons of North Carolina and Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, chief among the Democratic leaders of the tariff fight, presented a different picture in a formal statement. They described the measure as "one of the most abominable legislative acts of an American congress."

What the American people must pay under the operation of this bill is stupendous," they said. "It will reach into the billions. Foodstuffs, clothing, practically all of the essentials and necessities of life are bearing the highest duties ever before levied, and all of this while the people are demanding reductions in the cost of living and capital is deflating wages.

"This bill takes billions of dollars from the pockets of the public and distributes this vast sum to those who enjoy sufficient influence to receive an invitation to thrust their hands into the plunder pile."

Features of Bill. Outstanding features in the Senate bill are:

"Flexible" tariff provisions giving the President broad authority to increase or decrease tariff duties within a radius of fifty per cent until July 1, 1924.

The agricultural and provision schedule carrying rates generally higher than those ever before proposed on foodstuffs, meats, vegetables, fruits, grains, milk, cream, eggs, butter, nuts and others.

The sugar schedule, carrying a duty of 23 cents a pound on sugar, three-tenths of a cent a pound above the emergency tariff rate and the house proposal, 1.05 cents above the Payne-Aldrich act.

The wool schedule, proposing a duty of 33 cents a pound on the scoured content of raw wool, eight cents above the house rate and nearly double the actual rate in the Payne-Aldrich act.

Changed Most Rates. With the exception of the agricultural schedule and the raw wool schedule, the Senate committee in-its process of rewriting while the bill was in the senate, changed rates in most of the schedules. A number of reductions were made in the rates in the metal schedule and the cotton schedule, with a maximum limitation of 45 per cent on cotton cloth and 60 per cent on cotton gloves.

In the case of the woolen manufacturers a maximum limitation of 50 per cent was approved, representing a cut of five per cent in the case of higher grade cloths, knit fabrics, pile fabrics and fabrics with fast edges.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite
 Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Evans Drug Co.—Adv.

RAIL STRIKE NEAR END ON SENIORITY, REPORT
 AS EXECUTIVES YIELD

New York, Aug. 19.—It was revealed tonight that a proposal, which to use the language in which it was expressed by several of the labor leaders, "would assure the strivers of all their seniority rights unimpaired, without necessitating a retreat by the executives from their stand for protection of "loyal and new men" was accepted by the rail chiefs when yesterday's conference ended. The executives, it was declared, had fully accepted such a solution of the seniority question, in behalf of the full membership of the Association of Railway Executives whom they represented.

This agreement, it was said, was the basis on which Mr. Cuyler, in a long distance telephone conversation with Senator Watson of Indiana, as reported by the senator at Washington, said early today that prospects for an early settlement were bright.

Later, however, Senator Watson reported another telephone talk with Mr. Cuyler after today's conference had begun, in which he was said to have declared prospects were not so bright. Labor leaders asserted Mr. Cuyler's optimism vanished when other members of the executives' committee announced they had reconsidered and were unwilling to commit themselves to such a settlement.

While the committee was willing to accept in behalf of its members, they hesitated to commit the whole membership of their association, it was said. This was the reason put forth by labor leaders for issuing a call for a general meeting of the association next week.

BARKLEY TIPPED IN GOVERNOR'S RACE

Talk of Congressman Alben W. Barkley of Paducah seeking the Democratic nomination for Governor was revived Friday following his declaration, "I have never stated that I would not run," says the Louisville Times.

Mr. Barkley, who was in Louisville on his way to Washington, had previously been regarded as "gubernatorial timber," but for several months the impression prevailed that he would not be a candidate for the office. This opinion grew out of a statement he had made, "I am a candidate for Congress."

The authorized statement Friday of Mr. Barkley, who has been in Western Kentucky in the interest of the dark tobacco organization, was: "I appreciate very deeply the many expressions which have come to me from Democrats all over the State urging me to run for Governor. All that I feel at liberty to say at this time is that I have never stated that I would not run, nor have I ever reached any such decision."

The indefinite statement was regarded by his friends and political advisers here to mean that he will become a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination following his reelection to Congress in November. He has a legion of supporters in the Democratic party in Louisville and Kentucky. One of his warmest advocates is Wilye B. Bryan, federal fuel administrator for Kentucky during the World War.

Until Mr. Barkley issued his statement Friday political talk has centered on the probable candidacy of Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell of Georgetown, who has not declared himself on the matter.

Mr. Barkley, who is ranking Democratic member of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, will have represented the First District ten years at the completion of his present term. He succeeded the late Ollie James when Mr. James went to the Senate. When elected to this sixth term, Mr. Barkley will have attained an honor held by no Kentuckian except Congressman Lynn Boyd, a speaker of the House of Representatives prior to the war between the States.

WARNING TO STRIKERS IS HARDING'S KEYNOTE

Washington, Aug. 18.—President Harding laid the whole story of the rail and coal strikes before the American people today with a pledge that whatever the cost, "government by law will be sustained."

Summing up before a joint session of the Senate and the House his efforts toward industrial peace the president asserted that neither employers nor employees could escape responsibility for the present situation and that no "small minority" would be permitted by armed lawlessness, "conspiracy" or "barberity and butchery" to override the paramount interests of the public.

"We must reassert the doctrine that in this republic the first obligation and the first allegiance of every citizen, high or low, is to his government," said the president. "No matter what clouds may gather, no matter what storms may attend or what sacrifice may be necessary, government by law must and will be sustained."

"Wherefore, I am resolved to use all the power of the government to maintain transportation and to sustain the rights of men to work."

To strengthen the hand of the administration in dealing with present and future coal troubles, Mr. Harding asked for authorization of a national agency to purchase, sell and distribute coal and for creation of a commission to inquire into "every phase of coal production, sale and distribution." No Emergency Rail Legislation.

No similar request was made for emergency rail legislation, the president asserting that although the railroad labor board had inadequate authority, other agencies of the government were armed with statutes to prevent conspiracy against interstate commerce and to insure safety in railway operation.

"It is my purpose," he continued, "to invoke these laws, civil and criminal, against all offenders alike."

One other legislative enactment, a law to permit the federal government to step in and protect aliens where state protection fails, was advocated by the chief executive as a result of what he termed "butchery of human beings, wrought in madness," at Herrin, Ill. Despite the protest of foreign governments whose nationals suffered in the Herrin mine battle, he said, federal officials were powerless to take in hand the situation created by "the mockery of local inquiry and the failure of justice in Illinois."

Members of the Senate and House received the pronouncements of the president with respectful salutes of applause and the leaders of both branches announced later that no time would be lost in putting his legislative recommendations into effect. Generally, the address was applauded from all elements in Congress, although some Democratic members were inclined to criticize the chief executive's utterances as capable of a double construction.

May Use Anti-Trust Laws.

At the White House, it was indicated that Mr. Harding's reference to invocation of existing statutes against conspiracy related to the Sherman anti-trust law, under which the department of justice already has directed an investigation of the acts of some members of non-striking rail unions who walked out in the far west. Officials of the administration were unwilling to go into cases tonight, however, saying the president's announcement of his determination to enforce the laws must speak for itself.
