Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

The poet said "The saddest words of tongue or pen are those, it might have been" but among the happiest words are these, "no castles in the air."

Over to Dr. Wallace's yesterday for a check up and the happy word.

Mrs. Johnny McCage calls to say they have bought the Ray Brownfield home on South 16th Street and they are down the bank in the front yard. We did not even know that Ray had sold the house. We found out that Ray and his family now live in the George Hart home on North Fourth Street.

At any rate it was a decided improvement. That's one thing about owning your own home, you can do whatever you want to with it except burn it down.

You can paint it any color you want also.

Paderewski once visited a small town in upstate New York. While strolling along one afternoon, he heard a piano, and following the sound, came to a house on which was a sign reading:

"Miss Smith, Piano lessons 25 cents an hour."

Pausing to listen he heard the young woman trying to play one of Chopin's nocturnes, and was succeeding very well. Paderewski walked up to the house and knocked. Miss Smith came to the door and recognized him at once. De-lighted, she invited him in and he sat down and played the nocturne as only he could, afterward spending an hour in correcting her mistakes. Miss Smith thanked him and he departed.

Some months later he returned to the town, and again he took the same walk. He soon came to the home of Miss Smith, and looking at the sign, he read:

"Miss Smith, Piano lessons $1.00 an hour."

Citations Are Issued By City Police

The Murray Police Department was called yesterday at 4:18 p.m. to the Murray State University campus to investigate an automobile accident. Patrolmen Martin Wells and Ed Knight made the investigation.

Phyllis Devine Hill of Beaver Dam, driving a 1966 Simca four door owned by Marion D. Hill of the same address, was going south on North 16th Street making a left turn onto the University street between 16th and 15th streets in front of the administration building.

Police said the Hill car hit the 1964 Chevrolet two door hardtop owned by Charles Joseph Sadron of Union Pier, Mich., in the left rear quarter panel as she was making the turn onto the street. The Simca car was packed up to the curb on the University street headed east.

Three persons for public drunkenness and one person for driving while intoxicated were arrested by the Police on Wednesday. Citations were also issued to one person for reckless driving and to two persons for speeding, according to "Miss Smith," radio operator for the City Hall.

Calloway, Marshall, Graves, and McCracken counties compose the four county organization. The grant is earmarked for program development and the Purchase group now has funds to prepare and study poverty programs.

The grant marks the beginning of joint development of poverty programs for the counties. Dr. Ray Moffel of Murray is the head of the organization.

The headquarters for the four county organization will be in the West Kentucky Vocational School at Paducah.

Several projects will be discussed at the meeting. Each county will have its own poverty directing board, but control of the federal funds will be within the four-county organization.

Christ Was Already Exhausted By The Time He Was Brought Before Pilate For A Trial

By LOUIS CASSELL

It had been a long night, and He was already exhausted when they brought Him before the Roman governor for trial.

He had been betrayed by one of his disciples and deserted by the others. There had been a rowdy preliminary hearing at which His captors slapped Him around and shouted at Him.

Now, though the head of fatigue, He heard Pontius Pilate pronouncing the most dreaded sentence a Roman court could impose: Crucify Him.

Imperial Rome was not noted for its gentleness with condemned men. But even the Romans had qualms about this horrible method of execution which they had learned from the Persians. No Roman citizen could be put to death by crucifixion, whatever his crime. It was reserved for slaves and fomenters of revolutions.

Final Presentation Of Civic Music Association Last Night

By John C. Winter

The Beaux Arts Trio of New York appeared last night in the final concert of this year's season of programs presented by the Murray Civic Music Association. While the college auditorium held fewer listeners than is usual for the Civic concerts, those who were generally interested in chamber music were gathered for a rewarding evening.

The reputation of the artists as individuals had preceded them: the violinist, who had long been concertmaster with the great Toscanini; the gifted cellist, who had studied with the eminent Pablo Casals; and the pianist, who had won decided honors and reputation.

The audience was not disappointed. The Beaux Arts Trio is a group of highly skilled professional musicians whose ensemble playing is "impossible." One is amazed at how well the musicians play together, especially since, except for summer, they do not teach, or even live, in the same community. Performed by the group were the Beethoven Trio in C minor, Op. 1 No. 3 and the Mendelssohn Trio in D minor, Opus 49.

Mr. Daniel Gualès, the violinist, played the solo, Adagio by Nardini and "From the Homeland" by Smetana.

Mr. Menahem Pressler, a pyrotechnical pianist, played the Prelude in D minor, Opus 28, No. 24 by Chopin, and "Mephisto" Waltz by Liszt.

Outstanding solo performance of the evening was given by Mr. Bernard Greenhouse, cellist, who played "Prayer" from "Chassidic Life" by Ernest Bloch and Pampelona No. 2 by Alberto Gnaessler. Certainly the greatest asset of the group is that they can utilize Mr. Greenhouse among their members. His tone, taste and style were superb.

Mr. N. Durbin, Bismarck, Illinois, fishing without a license, Department of Fish and Wildlife, fined $15.00 and costs of $15.00.

James Emmitt Washington, Fort Campbell, D.V. State Police, made bond of $150.00 to appear on April 18.

Gerald L. Allen, 405 North 16th Street, fishing without a license, Department of Fish and Wildlife, fined $15.00 and costs of $15.00.

Charles L. Winters, 405 North 16th Street, fishing without a license, Department of Fish and Wildlife, fined $15.00 and costs of $15.00.

Eddie R. Poole, 405 North 16th Street, fishing without a license, Department of Fish and Wildlife, fined $15.00 and costs of $15.00.

Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

PICKENS, N.C. — Mrs. Essie Johnson, a Negro woman who has had one of her three sons killed in Viet Nam, another missing, the third wounded, commenting on the Southeast Asia war:

"No war is good, but I feel real strong about this one, even before Charlie died. And if ain't right for three sons to have to go, I don't think any of our boys should be there fighting."

NEW YORK — Actress Maureen O'Sullivan, 55, denying that she intends marrying a 23-year-old rabbinical student: "When you go out with someone and you're in the public eye, you are bound to be the object of such stories. It's deeply embarrassing to me and deeply embarrassing to him."

BERLIN — The Soviet news agency Tass, charging that the Western Allies were callous in forbidding the Soviets entry to West Berlin to guard the wreckage of a Soviet plane that crashed in the Western sector Wednesday:

"Noteworthy is the strange behavior of the Western occupation authorities . . . who did not let representatives of the Soviet armed forces come to the place of the accident and pay last honors to the dead servicemen."

MOSCOW — An editorial in China's Peoples' Peking Daily, charging that the Soviets are practicing only "nominal" socialism leading to the enrichment of the "privileged stratum" of managers and technicians:

"The industrial and mining enterprises and collective farms have been turned into instruments whereby they (the privileged class) make profits and get rich."

A Bible Thought For Today

And they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was with power. — Luke 4:32

The word doctrine means "teaching," and indeed the power of Jesus' teaching is recognized by all who read the Gospels. No one is really educated who does not know His teachings.

The Rest of the News

The Almanac

by United Press International
Today is Thursday, April 7, the 97th day of 1966 with 268 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning star is Venus. The evening star is Jupiter.

English poet William Wordsworth was born on this day in 1770.

On this day in history:

In 1897, the first successful long distance demonstration of television was held between New York and Washington.

In 1954, the American and British troops in North Africa were joined at Tunis.

In 1947, millions of Americans were without telephone service as telephone workers called the nation's first country-wide strike.

There has been freedom of beauty since the strike lasted 23 days.

In 1964, Gov. George Wallace of Alabama polled 39 per cent of the vote in the Wisconsin Democratic presidential primary, considered by many a referendum on the civil rights bill.

A thought for the day - Norwegian author Henrik Ibsen: "There is no freedom or beauty about a home life that depends upon borrowing or debt."

Willie Davis Plays Important Role In Cleveland Flag Hopes

By CURT BLOCK
UPI Sports Writer

Cleveland has a Willie Davis of its own and though he's not as fast as the Dodger original he plays an important role in the Indians' pennant hopes.

To avoid any further confusion, Cleveland's version is most popularly known as Bill, plays first base and at 23 is two years younger than the Los Angeles centerfielder.

Tube pilot Billie Tubbs was determined to give the Graceville, Miss., native a long look this spring when the two Davis' occupied opposing dugouts merely reinforced his opinion of the 6-foot-1, 200-pound rookie.

What Tubbs saw Wednesday was the two Davis' occupied opposing dugouts merely reinforced his opinion of the 6-foot-1, 200-pound rookie.

It was Davey Bill Smith's first single off Bob Miller that drove home Dick Howser with the game winning run as the Indians topped the champion Dodgers 6-5 at Tucson, Ariz., giving the Tribe its fifth straight win against big league competition on the Cactus League circuit.

A Cincinnati five-game losing streak were broken Wednesday as the Reds topped the Twins, 3-2. Tommy Harper's ninth inning infield single scored Devon Johnson with the winning marker. Tony Oliva drove in both Twin runs with a homer and a triple.

Minnesota moved to strengthen its defense by obtaining infielder Chuck Schilling and catcher Russ Nixon from Boston for leftfielder Dick Johnson and a minor league player to be named later.

Frank Robinson closed his eighth home run of the spring and Baltimore pitcher Jim Palmer, Eddie Watt and Stu Miller combined to shut out the New York Yankees 4-0 on two hits.

Baltimore's runs came on Robinson's line drive over the right field fence after Curt Bleiberg led off the sixth inning with a double. Palmer did not permit a hit in five innings on the mound.

Good News At Public Library

Good News at the Murray-Calloway County Library! Every year the State Department of Libraries send the counties participating in a library program a State-Aid Check. The amount varies according to the requirements met during the year; such as the amount of local support obtained, and the number of hours the library is open, etc. From this State Aid Check, the State Department of Libraries does require that a minimum of one half be spent for books. That is the Good News; there are literally hundreds of new books now ready to be checked out.

For all you fiction readers, there are books written by your favorite well-known authors. Wilma Dykeman, author of "The Tall Women", has a new novel, "The Far Family", written in a southern setting. Victoria Holt has written another one of her romantic suspense stories, "Mistress In The Morning." Another new novel by Allen Drury of "Advice and Consent" fame is "The Summer". More copies of Jesse Stuart's latest book, "Daughter of the Legend" have been purchased due to the great demand of the library patrons. Taylor Caldwell's new novel is "No One Hears But Him". One of the new authors added to the fiction shelves is Mary Wallace who has written three new novels about a heart warming Irish-American family.

Some new non-fiction books have also been bought. For all cooks who are interested in trying out new recipes, there are some new famous cook books. One is entitled "Cooking With Hogen" written by Richard Hogen of Boone Tavern fame in Kentucky. Another is "The Shaker Cook Book", a book of recipes on Shaker Cookery with the "old fashioned" ideas about food which made their communal kitchens known throughout the land.

New Devotional books have been added to the religious section and some new Philosophy and Psychology books were bought. Biographies of famous people such as Fanny Brant, the novelist; George Eastman, famous football player; and Ingrid Bergman, the film star are new.

There are many new gardening and flower growing books such as: "Clean and Simple Gardening Handbook" by Samm Bakera. Several children's books were bought, particularly those suitable for the very young child.

Again, you are welcomed to your Public Library where almost 6,000 registered patrons are finding material for pleasure and information.

Love Is Where You Find It

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for the understanding you showed when someone asked what you thought of a 62-year-old woman marrying a "boy" of 25. I know something of that kind of marriage, having been married for five years to a fascinating woman who is my mother's age. We met when I was 20 and she was 55. She had been a widow for 20 years. For the next five years I dated all the young chicks and I ended up marrying her. She has 10 grown children, 30 grandchildren, and two great-grandsons. I have always had the feeling that my wife and I knew each other in another life somewhere in the 18th century. When I was a small boy I kept having recurring dreams in which I would promise an unidentified little girl playmate that I would come back to her years later, when my wife showed me a picture of herself as a little girl, it proved to be the childhood playmate in my dreams. You may see my name. I want to continue to increase this capacity on record as equating that being married to an "older" woman is wonderful. Sincerely yours,

DAVID S. SASSO
DEAR ABBY: You keep insisting that men want to marry "older" girls. That idea went out with World War II. Don't get me wrong, Abby. I am still a "nice" girl, but I'm beginning to wonder if it's smart. I get harassed when I go out with a fellow I think is different, and when he leaves I am not about to play his game he says. "I'm not wasting my time with you. What do you think I look you out for?" Then I have to fight him off, and I have the bruises to prove it. While I continue to cling to my high principles, I keep reading in the newspapers that follow me I look off as marrying girls I know had fast reputations. Then I could kick myself. What is a girl supposed to do anyway?

"TOO NICE"
DEAR NICE: She's supposed to behave herself. And almost without exception, the girls who have to fight off men, and have the bruises to prove it, prove only that they are leading the men on a bit too far.

DEAR ABBY: I had been going with a young lady for almost five years. Altho our engagement had never been officially announced, it was understood that we would be married this summer. Recently, while she was away at school, I met another girl, with whom I fell in love and married. Abby, do I owe the young lady I was going with before my marriage an explanation?

ROBERT
DEAR ROBERT: NOW, you're asking? Since it was "understood" that you and she would marry, you certainly do owe her an explanation. But you should have told her BEFORE your marriage that all was finished between you, and you were planning to marry another.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GON-FUSED" IN GREAT FALLS, MONTANA: Marriage is a variety of things to many people. The famous psychiatrist, Dr. William C. Menninger defines it as "the capacity to love, to care about other people in the broadest sense . . . and to continue to increase this capacity beyond our families to the community, to the state, to the nation, and to this shrinking little world."

Problem? Write to Abby, Box 67000, Los Angeles, Cal. For a personal reply, include a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Write to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 67000, Los Angeles, Cal. for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

ARRIVES FOR TALKS

LONDON 69 - Premier Dudley Senanayake of Ceylon flew here Sunday for a week of talks with government leaders, including Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Queen Elizabeth.

The Ceylonese official also planned to meet with representatives of the World Bank to discuss a loan of $50 million.

With over one million drivers in Kentucky, it is logical that some will finally lose their privilege to drive. Over 600 drivers a month are grounded for driving under the influence of alcohol on Kentucky streets and highways. The Division of Driver Licensing, Kentucky Department of Public Safety, offers a word of advice: If you drink, don't drive. If you drink and drive, that's our business.

CHAPTER 29

ONE DAY at the post office in Coyote Creek I picked up a letter to Shagnasty Smith from this widow by the name of Rose O'Hara. Herb Newman told me, "Since Shagnasty can't read nor write I took the letter out to his cave and read it to him and wrote an answer. That woman is going to be here in a few days and I know what to do about it. The big mistake I made in the deal was not to send her my picture. "Four pictures," I said. "Why would you want to do that? She's coming to marry Shagnasty. "Shagnasty, sell! Herb exclaimed. "I'd never marry that cave living cadger. "Shagnasty Smith," I said, puffing out my chest, "is a friend of mine. He's a nice man. "Well, I'll be a short horned steer here, saying, "I'm going to work at the house job that there who has a chance of a woman like Rose O'Hara marrying a man like Shagnasty. "What will she do?" "She'll turn right around and marry the character she has the picture of - JESSE HOOKER. She'll get married in a minute. Now if I'd only sent her my picture everything would be fine. "She?" I said. "Hell, yes," Herb said, swinging up on his horse and whirling it around to leave. "From the picture she said anybody could see that Rose O'Hara is a real looker. For that kind of a female I'd take up a woman and get married myself. "When Herb rode off I started driving the cows home, anxious to tell Pa about all this. I reckoned that Pa was the only man in the country smart enough to figure out this real deal that Shagnasty was getting. Here he was supposed to get a look at the picture and then Herb Newman who didn't even know his picture had been sent out of town on horseback.

two now widely stressed fields: camps for underprivileged children, and advanced training for counselors in job placement for handicapped persons. In the past 15 years $87,500 has been given to provide training to some 300 persons giving vocational guidance to handicapped people. In 1962 a library for cleft palate research was established at Syracuse University. Beginning in 1964—the Alpha Gamma Delta Rehabilitation Project was established in cooperation with the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Seven colleges and universities participated in the program during its first year.

Scholarship grants are made available annually to Alpha Gamma Delta members on both undergraduate and graduate levels through the Founders Memorial Foundation, the unit which administers all of the altruistic and educational grants.

Mrs. James E. Humphrey, Jr., Lexington, and Mrs. Merle King, Memphis will assist Mrs. Gardner in arrangements. Three others will join them in Murray in April.

Other Alpha Gamma Delta chapters in this area are at Memphis State University, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, and the University of Missouri, Columbia.

They drove nails through the palms of His hands to hold Him there. Then they nailed His feet to the upright pole in a position that insured the utmost agony to the muscles of His limp and hanging body.

Some pious women of Jerusalem made a practice of going to crucifixions and administering a healing draught of wine to condemned men to alleviate their suffering. The good women were on hand today. But this prisoner refused their offer.

It was 9 o'clock in the morning when they nailed Him to the cross. It usually took about 12 hours for a crucified man to die from the shock of excruciating pain. The Roman author Cicero records that many of the victims became raving madmen. It was often necessary to cut out their tongues to put a stop to their terrible screams and curses.

But this was a most unusual person. As he looked down from the cross at the people who were laughing and sneering at His helpless plight, He was heard to say:

"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."
"Forgiveness by the scourging. He did not take long to die. Only six hours.

Toward the end, He cried aloud: "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?"

Commentators have been pointing out ever since that these are the opening words of the 22nd Psalm, which devout Jews used as a prayer in extremity. But no amount of scholarly explanation can minimize the sheer human agony of mind and spirit reflected in that pathetic cry.

Even in His final hour however, He did not become preoccupied with His own troubles. He was still concerned about others. He saw His mother weeping at the foot of the cross, and asked a friend to take her home. He spoke words of comfort to another condemned man undergoing the same torture.

At 3 p.m. He said: "Father, into Thy hands I commit my spirit."

It was finished. His father would take care of the rest.

Besides the much publicized health insurance programs, the Social Security Amendments of 1965 provide for payment from the Social Security Trust Funds for costs of vocational rehabilitation services furnished to Social Security disability insurance beneficiaries.

They stripped off all of His clothing. It was part of the humiliation of crucifixion that the prisoner should have there naked. His clothing became the property of the execution squad. They divided some of His garments among them, and cast dice for a seamless tunic which could not be divided.

Now came the worst part. They set Him astride a wooden peg which jutted out from the upright pole of the cross, and made Him stretch out His arms along the

They stripped off all of His clothing. It was part of the humiliation of crucifixion that the prisoner should have there naked. His clothing became the property of the execution squad. They divided some of His garments among them, and cast dice for a seamless tunic which could not be divided.

Some pious women of Jerusalem made a practice of going to crucifixions and administering a healing draught of wine to condemned men to alleviate their suffering. The good women were on hand today. But this prisoner refused their offer.

It was 9 o'clock in the morning when they nailed Him to the cross. It usually took about 12 hours for a crucified man to die from the shock of excruciating pain. The Roman author Cicero records that many of the victims became raving madmen. It was often necessary to cut out their tongues to put a stop to their terrible screams and curses.

But this was a most unusual person. As he looked down from the cross at the people who were laughing and sneering at His helpless plight, He was heard to say:

"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."
"Forgiveness by the scourging. He did not take long to die. Only six hours.

Toward the end, He cried aloud: "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?"

Commentators have been pointing out ever since that these are the opening words of the 22nd Psalm, which devout Jews used as a prayer in extremity. But no amount of scholarly explanation can minimize the sheer human agony of mind and spirit reflected in that pathetic cry.

Even in His final hour however, He did not become preoccupied with His own troubles. He was still concerned about others. He saw His mother weeping at the foot of the cross, and asked a friend to take her home. He spoke words of comfort to another condemned man undergoing the same torture.

"WALKING TRUCK"—This is a drawing of the "walking truck" General Electric is building in Schenectady, N.Y., for the Defense Department. The vehicle stands on six-foot legs, and is manipulated in any direction by controls attached to the operator's arms, legs and torso. It will be able to transport a motor load over extreme rugged terrain.
