Guy Jennings, Engineer Writes On Safety at Railroad Crossings

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 23, 1923.
Mr. Scott Lemon, Editor Mayfield Messenger, Mayfield, Ky.

Dear Sir:—
In view of the campaign now under way to promote safety at railway and highway grade crossings all over the country, I as a locomotive engineer engaged in regular train service on the Illinois Central System, desire to make a personal appeal to the public through the columns of your newspaper.

Accidents at crossings are apparently increasing in number every year. The greater majority of these are easily preventable.
In most cases crossing accidents are due to lack of reasonable precaution by drivers of motor cars.
No matter how watchful an engineer may be, it is beyond his power to avoid striking an automobile which speeds up on the track in front of a train running as trains must run in order to make their schedules. If the speed of all trains were reduced to fifteen or twenty miles an hour in the country it might be possible to stop them in time to prevent many fatalities. But the country would be demoralized by such a procedure. Speed is an essential to prompt dispatch of passengers, mails, express and perishable commodities or products of field, factory and mine urgently needed. Delays of the transportation machine cause public losses that cannot be accurately calculated.

It therefore devolves on the public to assist in preventing accidents by exercising greater care at crossings. There are between 250,000 and 300,000 highway grade crossings on the railroads of the United States. Elimination of all of these cannot be sensibly considered in the present generation.
It is estimated that the average expense of such elimination if the problem were undertaken as a whole would be about $50,000 each involving the expenditure of about twelve and a half billions of dollars. It would also occupy fifteen or twenty years' time to complete the work. The remedy for accidents must be found in some other way. The public must assume its share of responsibility by taking care that the way is clear before attempting to cross a railway track.

More than 9,000 persons have been killed outright and more than 24,000 others injured in crossing accidents involving trains and automobiles during the past five years. It is not unreasonable to say that 90 per cent or more of these accidents were due to carelessness or downright reck-read this communication to ally themselves with the cause of Prevention of Accidents at Railway Crossings. Let's every one of us think Safety First, talk it, argue it, live it. Whenever anyone of us comes within view of a railway crossing, let the thought be uppermost in our minds, "Stop-Look-Listen." No precautions taken will be time or trouble wasted. Even to relieve a little of the nervous dread that lurks in every engineer's breast is well worth while. We engineers never know when we start out on our runs but what that day or night may be our turn to undergo the ordeal of death at a crossing.

Very sincerely yours,
GUY JENNINGS.

Valter and Spies Milling Co. Appoint Ed Mohundro Exclusive Distributor

Valter and Spies Milling Company of St. Louis, Mo., manufacturers of Dainty Flour which has gained a most wide and favorable reputation, and incidentally the largest manufacturers of soft wheat flour in the World, have appointed Ed Mo-hundro, local wholesale grocer, as their exclusive distributor for Mayfield and territory. To do full justice to this famous mill and excellent flour would require the whole paper so we will have to be content to tell the facts in a manner as brief as possible.

Dainty Flour is no strange product to Mayfield and Graves county housekeepers, hotel proprietors and restaurant owners.
It has been one of the leading sellers in Mayfield for several years and its quality, put to the most severe tests in fine baking has never been questioned.

Dainty Flour, manufactured in the St. Louis Mill of Valter and Spies, which Mill has a capacity of 5,000 barrels per day. There are twelve sacks of Dainty Flour sold to any other brand of flour sold in this town. DAINY FLOUR is a high grade FLOUR and is of pure, plain soft wheat from the very heart of the richest wheat growing region in the World. It's undisputed quality has made it a prime favorite of a majority of the Southern housewives and it is far from unpopular in any part of the United States.

This is a proven fact as it is a fact that every time another manufacturer sells one sack of flour, Valter and Spies sell a dozen sacks of DAINY.
Nothing goes into the manufacture of DAINY FLOUR except pure No. 1 soft wheat and to procure this wheat the Dainty Mills have twenty huge grain elevators located in Illinois, Indiana and Missouri.

Think of twenty grain elevators any one of them larger than the average flour mill, stored to capacity with pure No. 1 soft wheat and the Dainty Mills at St. Louis always running full capacity. Does this not prove the popularity of the flour.

One flour is a favorite here, another there, but anywhere you go where biscuits are made and the proper distribution arranged, you will find that DAINY FLOUR IS THE FAVORITE. It is backed by a TEN MILLION DOLLAR CONCERN which prides itself in the manufacture of the highest grades of flour.
Call for Dainty Flour, insist on it and see that you get it, if you have not used it previously you will benefit by this article for once a user, always a user. If you use it now this article is wasted on you for we doubt it will be much if anything could change you. You will find it all

B. Y. P. U. Training School Begins Monday

PAUL STUMB IN FORM AND LOCALS WIN THE SECOND GAME 2 TO 1

Paul Stumb, college hurler extraordinary, returned to the fold yesterday after a few days absence and gave up but four hits in nine innings to the Cairo Traditional who were vanquished 2 to 1 in the second game of the series. The Vanderbilt lad struck out 7 of the Rivermen and but for an error by Mike Ciresi at third base in the seventh inning would have sussed the team that put the 1 in the K. I. T. league with whitewash.

Mayfield secured eight hits off Connors, pitcher-outfielder and except for five fast double plays and a bit of fisherman's luck would have made a race track out of Bridges Park. With the bases loaded in the fifth inning and one out, Herb Thelen hit one a mile-minute past second base but the shortstop who had just returned from covering the bag was luckily caught out of position and he sugged the drive, doubling the runner off second. Two other times with plenty of runs in sight a double killing knocked Mayfield's chances for a row of Billikens.

The final game of the season with Cairo will be played this afternoon. "Buster" Ross or Joe Poets will do the hurling for the locals and will probably be opposed by Elliott or Tewell. A goodly sized crowd of Mayfield fans including many of the fair sex made the trip to Cairo today to cheer Tige Garrett and his hustling tribe of pennant aspirants.

Mayfield comes home tomorrow for a week's stand on the home field with Dyersburg and Fulton.

Score—
Mayfield: 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 2-3-4 Cairo: 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1-4-3

Anti-Klan Meeting at Court House Sunday

There will be a mass meeting at the court house Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. This meeting will be called for the purpose of organizing against any further attempts of the Ku Klux Klan getting a foot-hold in Mayfield.

If you are against them be at this meeting and express yourself. Everyone invited. If you are for or against you are invited to represent. Speeches are to be delivered by many of the prominent officials, giving their reasons for not wanting a Klan in Mayfield or Graves county.
It is the understanding of many that there will not be any church services in Mayfield Sunday night, that their members will attend this meeting.

Is The Messenger a Grocery Store?

The office force of The Messenger is beginning to wonder if a grocery is being operated in this large office.

The editor received an order this morning for some Irish potatoes and surprised the customer by saying "You have the wrong number."

Later this morning a retail groceryman called and wanted a grab box and two bags of sugar "right away."

So you see we are getting calls for groceries, but cannot fill the order.

A THOUGHT FOR THE DAY.
I have such an inveterate confidence in the ultimate triumph of truth, that I feel with old Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, that the truth is no invalid, and you need not mind how roughly you handle her. She has got a splendid constitution and she will survive every trial, tribulation and labor.—Woodrow Wilson.

Plant lilies and lilies will bloom.
Plant roses and roses will grow.
Plant hat, and hate to life will spring.
Plant love and love to you will sing.
Dr. Willett.

NO HIDING BEHIND WORDS.
It doesn't matter what is written in the creed of the Ku Klux Klan—actions speak louder than words. A creed may be disguised to keep "within the law." If ever words were chosen, albeit clumsily, to hide the meaning of the sentence, it is in "A Klansman's Creed."

Even the title itself is ambiguously stated. While it purports to be that of the Klan, it is just as easily construed referring to the belief of "a Klansman."

Such tommy rot! The idea of the Press of this country, including the Associated Press, being bought up and held in leash by the Roman Pope, is the reduction ad absurdum of the whole Ku Klux propaganda, and its self-appointed task to take charge of the government affairs of communities, cities and states.

It is easy to see why they are after the press—not because it is subsidized by the Pope—but because it can't be subsidized by the Ku Klux. They are under the necessity of promoting and publishing their own papers because they cannot get space in legitimate papers for exploiting their propaganda and activities. The average newspaper man's viewpoint has not been specially complimentary to the Klan. On the other hand, so far as we have been able to glean, the general press has been a combination of every thing Klonian from the "invisibleness" of its "imperial" potentate to the "wizardry" of its gathering in of the coin from unsuspecting, gullible citizens who really belong to the 100 per cent American Gump family.

The Klan has been able to inundate a good many otherwise reputable citizens into joining for the sake of protection, they were afraid not to do so. They have succeeded in different states in making individuals and whole communities afraid—but never the press. The press has been the Klan's stumbling block.

Hence, they have been compelled to resort to their own publications of the type of the "Flory Cross," several numbers of which have been surreptitiously slipped to our desk, lately.

But ancient the whole matter, at any rate, Mayfield and Graves county have let it be known positively, unequivocally, decisively that they want no Ku Kluxing within their borders.

One of our most industrious, enterprising, honorably esteemed citizens, is a great Catholic community, that for a hundred years has helped to make Graves what it is in wealth and good citizenship.

The Negro element of Mayfield and of the county is one of peaceable, law-abiding men and women, ex-slaves and humble friends of the pioneer families of the old Jackson Purchase; they are indispensable factors in the economic welfare of the community, and dependable citizens at all times. They are our only household servants in the sense of high obligation. The negro in the ward of this nation Mayfield and Graves county are capable to assume, and make good their part of that responsibility without any outside help.

Furthermore, we feel that the officials of our city and county governments are entirely and altogether competent, trustworthy, and able to handle our affairs justly, equitably, efficiently. And in an emergency, if they should need any assistance, at any time, we have confidence born of past experience, that our citizens have the courage and the willingness to lend that aid, and in broad daylight without masks on their faces, protect the sanctity of the laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, in the domain of Graves.

The Devil's Grip.
A strange malady, known as the "Devil's Grip" has been for some time epidemic along the Atlantic coast, and more recently in Virginia, and the doctors are unable to determine its cause, or diagnose its course to run.

Our understanding widely gleaned from reading and cursory observation, is that the same disease has long been prevalent and pretty general in the human family in most parts of the world—and no more have the learned doctors and savants of other places and other ages, been able to cope with it.

A hundred and sixty-five New York detectives, seventy-five college students of community service and several thousand interested citizens, all searching for a lost three-months old baby, is a pretty and remarkable picture of mere human sympathy in that conglomerate old city.

But think of the thoughtlessness of the mother who would leave the baby parked in front of a department store in New York, while she went in to shop.

The latest bootlegging device is that of a gasoline station apparatus, which instead of being filled with fuel for the driver, is tanked up with fluid of the moon shine variety. We mean this device was—but it isn't.

Did You Ever See A Sewing Machine Like This

This is the Free-Westinghouse Sewing Machine. When not in use for sewing, the Free-Westinghouse is an artistically designed and useful piece of furniture, a writing desk, or serving table, as you prefer. It fits in anywhere in the home, and is a real part of the furnishings. The Free-Westinghouse strikes a new note in an old industry.

As a sewing machine it is a distinct advance over anything on the market. For example, the motor instead of being merely an attachment, is built right into it—thus always in place and never in the way.

There is no treadle or no pedal to push. The speed is regulated easily, and surely by a slight pressure of the knee, and 75,000 stitches are obtained at a cost of one cent. It marks a new step forward in sewing machine development.

This machine is made in portable models for those who desire this type.

Come in and ask to see the Free-Westinghouse and have the new features fully explained to you.

AS I HEARD IT.

By Mr. E. Dropper.

Oh, Lordee! I never got to go of the place. Soon after I married, the children were all little and were so much trouble to look after that I could not keep them clean enough to go anywhere. And now, since they've grown up, there's always a house full of company here and a lot of coming and going. Frank and Sue married a few years ago, and they come back home pretty often with a lot of children; I don't know what we will do when the rest of the children marry. The last time they were here, some had to sleep on pallets.

Speakin' o' wraasin', makes me think o' when I was a boy. I wust a purty good man back then; I could take a hand stick and press the knuckles in the ground of anybody in our neighborhood. One day at road-workin' there was a feller there that claimed he was the best wraasin' in the whole countr'. Some o' em put after me to wraasin' with 'im. I told 'em I didn't know nothin' about wraasin', but the kept on until this feller bragged about how he could throw me. Well, sir, I throwed that feller so hard that he never come back to that neighborhood as long as I lived there. (Every old man was a hell-cat when he was a boy.)

No, there is nothing the matter with this horse's eyes. He has been eating hay out of a stack and got some of the hay seed in his eyes. No, there is absolutely nothing wrong with his eyes; they will clear up in a few days. (A He that is as old as the horse tribe.)

Byron Hester Delivers Address to Students

Commerce, Texas, Aug. 23.—The commencement sermon for the sixth summer graduating class at East Texas State Teachers' College was delivered at 11 a. m. Sunday morning by the Rev. Byron Hester, pastor of the First Christian church at Electra, before an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the auditorium.

He used as subject matter a text taken from the Biblical story of Joseph, "Behold this dreamer cometh, we shall see what becometh of his dreams," and delivered what is hailed here as the best baccalaureate message ever heard at East Texas State Teachers' College. He stirred his audience with his eloquence and rational logic as few men have ever done here.

In introducing him, R. B. Binion of the college said he was a young man, but deeply experienced, and that he served as chaplain in the United States Army during the recent World War.

"Paducah Day" During Mayfield and Graves County Centennial

"Paducah Day" of the Mayfield Graves County Centennial the week of October 8, is expected to attract as equally large a crowd as any day or single attraction of the week's celebration.

The executive committee, we are informed, has granted our neighborly the privilege of a day during the week's festivities which will be designated as "Paducah Day."

The Rotary Club, the fast growing organization of that city will have charge of the program during the day and the celebration during "Paducah Day" will be worth attending.

Here's hoping that all citizens of McCracken and the other counties of the Purchase and state will come to Mayfield and stay during the entire week of the one hundredth birthday of this city and county.

Miss Peggy Logue will entertain this evening with a gypsey tea in honor of her visitor.

Dunk Botts, Roy Maddox and Will Arnold Stars in Ball Game Won by Legion

Stars of the diamond met at Cyclone Park yesterday afternoon, one side representing the local post, American Legion and the other the Mayfield All-Stars, the game going to the Legion 11 to 7 in seven innings. The game was scheduled as a nine inning affair but in the absence of a scorer, the game was called at the end of the seventh, each side thinking they had played at least 25 innings.

Dunk Botts, known to his friends as George Bingham, a conductor of nonsense columns in principal newspapers, was one of the All-Stars' best outfielders and his batting, except three times, was a feature of the game.

Will Arnold, a blind man im-pired the first inning of the game and the opinion was general that he is the best umpire who ever worked at Cyclone Park. He did not make a mistake, calling balls and strikes with perfect precision and calling close plays at the bases like they should have been called.

His greatest accomplishment was the fact that not a single player argued over a single decision which is the best indication of fairness. Bob Humphries played right field for the Legion until the game became close when he went in to umpire and the Legion won by a wide margin.

At the close of the game he called a runner out at home who was safe a mile and both sides promptly mobbed him.
The saddest part of the mob scene was Will Cresson's new straw hat which the umpire was wearing and it was crushed to nothing by the first blow. Roy

The All-Stars might have won had Delbert Wyatt stayed in the game for the whole time he played centerfield not a ball was hit there. Del looked like a real star with a checkered cap and a real big league swagger. Two base umpires were thrown out on base when they were mistaken for runners. Clothing business is also on the increase today, because of the sliding.

Cliff Hicks hearing the bombardment of Earl Swift in the early innings thought they were having artillery practice and arrived late in his army uniform. He played center shortstop for the Legion nine.

Robert Budke got hit on the hand in the first inning and limped painfully to first base. Will Norman ran for him. Carlyle Carter pitched a no hit, no run game while he was in the box, no hit off him being for less than three bases and no less than three runs scoring at one time.
He played on first base the last part of the game and did not make an error, because he did not get a chance. The Tea Room Radio set sent out several S. O. S. calls to the park but the two old Leaguers, Carter and Budke had heard the call of the wild and the lure of the diamond and did not return to the Tea Room until dusk.

The box score of the game is not available because of the extra number of players used on both sides and the scarcity of adding machine at the ball park.

Great excitement prevailed about mid afternoon when a small boy turned on the big hydrant at the park and the diamond was threatened with flood before Dugan arrived on the scene.

The same teams play again next year for the championship.

Swift Will Protest; Says Umpiring Was 'Bad'

In a statement made to the press at noon today, Earl Swift, slow manager of the Mayfield All-Stars, said that he would protest the game between the All-Stars and Legion team, which was played at Cyclone Park yesterday afternoon.

He bases his grounds of protest on the umpiring of Bob Humphries, who, after playing for a while in the outer garden of the Legion's nine, came in and handled the indicator as official and undisciplined umpire of the day.

Earl says that Bob's decisions were "bad."

Swift, it is said, wants to appoint a committee of several who did not so much as see the contest, and let the committee decide the winner of yesterday's seven-innings contest.

Dr. T. M. Broughton is a professional visitor in Paducah today.

Maddox at bat in the seventh in- ning for the All-Stars, closed his eyes and batted in swing at the ball and batted out one of the longest hits of the game, a long double to left center.

Walter Ellis, one of the players for the All-Stars, introduced an innovation in baseball by the peculiar style with which he swung a bat. It reminded one of an inexperienced lady driver steering her first automobile.

Noble Harris played shortstop for the All-Stars and stopped one ball when he stumbled and the ball hit him in the side. He promptly threw it to first base and hit a colored fan sitting in the bleachers. Willie Norman, shortstop for the Legion nine, was in form, dropping a fly ball, missing two grounders, throwing two over the grandstand and getting hit twice by the pitcher. Orb Grant playing third base, will be able to sympathize with third basemen who let hot liners get by them, while Frank Mannanberger, established a world's record of dropping every ball hit or thrown in his direction and striking out nineteen times.

Father Thompson, of Fancy Farm, caught for the Legion team and his work was of the best order. His batting was done in the first inning with Will Arnold umpiring. Another feature of the game was a novelty introduced by George Bingham, who had an assistant felder in left field to run down the long hits and throw them to him. He played just inside the grass behind shortstop and the first hit past him hit the left field fence. Doyle Hutchinson played a remarkable game at second base but was responsible for the longest delay of the fast game when his suspenders broke. Fred Shaw won a foot race in the seventh inning from the box to home plate with a runner on third. Fred caught for the All-Stars and went to the box to confer with the pitcher with a runner on third and the plate empty. Earl Swift, pitch-

The smaller fire truck is back in working order today at Station No. 2.

The truck was placed in one of the local garages several days ago and two expert painters have coat of paint—red, trimmed with golden.

was celebrated by a run made to South Seventh street at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. When the firemen arrived at the supposed scene of the fire, no blaze could be found and the truck returned to their respective stations.
