Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

If you want to see something that is really pleasing to the eye, drive by and take a look at the Dogwood just below the clinic.

The tree is at the peak of its blooming period.

The fact that the tree is alive and healthy attests to the care that many people have taken to preserve it.

When the old house on the corner was torn down, care was taken by all those involved not to damage the tree. Then when the city worked in the area to fix the bridge over the street and the clinic filled in the lot and poured a new sidewalk, more care was exercised.

You just don't find a Dogwood of that size and beauty everywhere.

State Head Of FHA Will Speak Tonight

Raymond Fleming, State Director of the Federal Housing Administration, will be in Murray tonight to speak before the Murray-Calloway County Builders Association at the meeting at the Southside Restaurant.

John Hill, Chief Architect from the state office will also be here to conduct, along with Mr. Fleming, a program outlining the plans and procedure of the FHA.

In the past, the builders of Murray and Calloway County have not participated extensively in the FHA home mortgage insurance program. Since the formation of the Builders Association, efforts have been under way to become more involved in these programs. It is the aim of the Murray-Calloway County Builders Association to provide better housing at lower costs to the people of the community; and by becoming better acquainted with the FHA standards and procedures, it will be better possible to do this, a spokesman said.

Charles Dennis, FHA appraiser for this area of Kentucky and a resident of Murray, is responsible for bringing Mr. Fleming to Murray to present the program.

Wells Electric will host a social hour which will begin at 6:30 p.m., and dinner will follow immediately.

This will be a most important program and all members of the Murray-Calloway County Builders Association are requested to attend.

Both Bands At MHS Are Rated As Superior

Both the Senior High and Junior High Bands of Murray High School won top superior ratings from all three judges in the Regional Music Festival at Murray State University this past weekend. Philip Shelton is director of the Senior Band and David Berry directs the Junior High group.

The three judges for the festival were K. V. Bryant, Mt. Vernon, Illinois, Tom Sawick, Paris, Kentucky and Leo Silva, Olathe, Illinois.

In judging the Murray Band, Mr. Bryant described the tone excellent, intonation, impeccable and the technique great. He wrote, "I'm glad you have a good band. It is so much easier to judge good bands. Your school and community should be proud of you." He also gave the group a quadruple plus on discipline.

Mr. Silva judged intonation exceptional and to be envied. He thought the technique was well taught, concepts very apparent and the musical effect excellent in every detail. He wrote, "You are truly a musical organization in the strictest sense of the word. I have judged this band three times in recent years and it has steadily improved. This year it is great."

The third judge, Mr. Sawick said the intonation in general was as fine as can be expected from the finest bands in the land. I've heard many bands in recent weeks and your playing ranks as the finest from one end of Kentucky to the far east of our great state.

Mr. Shelton's Band has 66 members. The hours and work spent by these students culminate a contest time each year and this year's reception and honor achieved this week is most rewarding to them.

The Senior Band will play in concert and march in the Cotton Carnival parade on May 13 in Memphis. They will also conduct a candy sale during the third week in April to finance this trip.

Mr. Berry's Band has 64 members. The judges praised their performance highly and declared this was a "Superior" Junior Band. They ranked highest in their classification winning superior from all three judges.

Are today's high schools better than they were 10 years ago? Dr. James Bryant Conant, noted educator and president emeritus of Harvard University in a new book, "The Comprehensive High School: A Second Report to Interested Citizens," confirms his original conclusions which were released in 1956.

The comprehensive high school is still the answer to the needs of American public high school education. "It is called comprehensive because it offers, under one administration and under one roof or series of roofs, secondary education for almost all the high school age children of one town or neighborhood. It is responsible for educating the bright and the not so bright children with different vocational and professional ambitions and with various motivations."

What did Dr. Conant find in his study? The staffing in certain courses such as English is better than it was 10 years ago. The situation in modern foreign languages, mathematics, and natural sciences is substantially better. Out of the 2,000 schools surveyed, advanced math is offered in 816 schools, advanced biology in 822, and "new" chemistry in 822. And 1,299 of the schools offer four years of a modern foreign language.

There are only 516 of the 2,000 schools in which the English teachers have 120 or less students. In a vast number of the schools the guidance counselor load is over 200 students. This leaves much to be desired.

Dr. Conant writes, "A comprehensive high school should be a minimum meet the following five criteria:

1. Provide instruction in calculus.
2. Provide instruction in a modern language for four years.
3. Arrange the schedule so that a student may study in any one year English, mathematics, science, a foreign language, social studies, physical education, art or music.
4. Provide one or more advanced placement courses.
5. Have enough English teachers so that the average pupil load is 120 or less. I stand by my recommendation in the American High School Today that the student load should be no more than 100, as I make clear later."

Why should an academically talented student elect a wide program? Dr. Conant states, "If a student were not made toward developing the specialities of a student in high school graduate who had no exposure to mathematics or science beyond the 9th grade is going to be in an impossible position if he tries to elect courses in college in those subjects. Without realizing it, the advisers of such a boy or girl have foreclosed in high school further exploration of whole areas of knowledge at the college level. Careers in engineering, science, and mathematics become almost inaccessible when the decision has been made in high school to avoid mathematics and science as much as possible."

These courses should be available, but not required of all students, since "the essence of a comprehensive school lies in the principle of electives."

As the examines the returns from different schools and different states, it becomes apparent that the American ideal of education opportunity is far from being realized," Dr. Conant charges. "What emerges is a challenge to each community and each state."

Time Out

By GALE GARRISON

The dunk shot has been outlawed. This is one of the best things that the National Basketball Committee has done in the last few years. It was nothing but a show-off shot anyway, and something that only big men and a few little men could do.

There is not any way to block the dunker and to me this is taking unfair advantage of the team that is on defense. This would be like drawing a circle on the floor and saying that any player who is shorter than six feet and is in that circle cannot be guarded.

The new ruling brought a lot of reactions from around the county. Adolph Rupp said that he liked the idea. He doesn't allow his players to dunk the ball anyway.

Johnny Wooden, coach of UCLA, said that he was "a little disappointed". I guess if I had a seven foot player I would be disappointed too.

Clifford Fragan, secretary of the N.B.C. said a safety factor was involved in the committee's decision. "Many of the baskets were being bent out of shape and many times the glass backboards were shattered."

Stan Key was voted the number one player in the First Region in two different polls, but was on the second team in the latest. The difference is that the latest was on a statewide basis. And when you consider the fact that he was the only player in the First Region to be voted that high I guess he is still number one.

Keith Hill, from Mayfield, and Charlie Hamilton were voted to the third team.

The National Broadcasting Company will open "Major League Baseball" telecasts with a National League game between the Dodger and the Cardinals, April 15.

The 1967 TV schedule covers 25 Saturday afternoon games and three Monday night prime-time games to be televised on June 5, July 3 and September 4.

What do you do when you have a baseball field, but don't have a fence to go around the outfield and the school doesn't have the money to buy one?

There are two ways to get the fence. You can ask the parents and fans to buy it for you or you can go out and earn the money yourself.

The last way is how the baseball team at Calloway County got their fence, and they didn't get it the easy way. They hauled hay every day after school for a week, and all day Saturday fall all to earn the money.

Then a week ago last Saturday they worked all day putting the fence up. You have to want a fence awfully bad to haul hay to get it.

The project was started by one of the players, Mark Cunningham, and he deserves a lot of credit for it being a success, according to the other boys on the team.

Several of the boys on the team are shown below with a couple of rolls of the fence, as they prepare to erect it.

They will play their first game today as they take on the University School Colts at 3:30, then take on the South Marshall Rebels on Friday.

Here is the complete 1967 Calloway Baseball schedule:

MSU Takes Two-Games On Saturday

By GALE GARRISON

Murray State and Purdue finished up one game Saturday and played another with Murray taking both games with Don Lee taking both wins.

Lee pitched only one inning to win the first game 6-5 to finish a game that had been started Friday night and was called because of darkness.

In the regularly scheduled game Lee went seven innings and came out with a 13-7 victory.

The Racers picked up 12 hits off the four pitchers used by Purdue in the first game. Roger Fields had two singles, Tommy Toot two singles, Walter Andzel had a single and a two run homer. Phil Hayden hit a home run in the fifth with one man on.

Denny Brady was the leading hitter for Purdue with a double and a home run.

The one inning game had ended in a 3-3 tie on Friday when it became too dark to play. Purdue opened up the game on Saturday with two runs but Murray came back with 3 in the bottom of the 12th to win the contest.

Murray won all three games of the series as they defeated the Boll-weavers 7-3 on Thursday.

Southwest Missouri took a 77-67 decision over the Murray State track team at Cutchin Stadium Friday night.

Southeast Missouri picked up nine first places, while Murray was getting eight.

Murray failed to place in the Broad Jump and SMOG picked up nine points in it and the Triple Jump also.

The Racers were able to take all the points only in the relay races where points are given for first place only.

Things Rough For Dodgers, But They Still Have Knack

By FRED McMANE

Things have been very trying for the Los Angeles Dodgers this spring, but they still haven't lost that knack of squeezing water from a stone.

The defending National League champions, whose "power puff" attack had produced only two runs in 35 innings through last Saturday, managed only five hits in 17 innings Sunday but showed mid-season form by downing the Houston Astros 4-3 when they scored the winning run on a wild pitch.

Although it was the Dodgers first victory in nine games against National League teams this spring, it was the kind of triumph the team has been used to the past four seasons and indicated the Dodgers may not be as dead most of the critics are predicting.

Sound On Mound

After losing Sandy Koufax through retirement and Matur Wills and Tommy Davis in trades, the Dodgers haven't even resembled a first division team this spring. Yet the strong pitching turned in by Don Drysdale, Phil Regan, Bill Singer, Bruce Brubaker and Dick Egan Sunday shows the Dodgers are still very sound on the mound.

Perhaps the soundest of all the pitchers at this stage of exhibition season is Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals. The strong right hander allowed only one hit in six innings and struck a two-run homer while leading the St. Louis Cardinals to a 2-0 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Gibson struck out 10 and walked only two in limiting the A's to a blood single. Joe Hoerner pitched the final three innings for the Redbirds, surrendering two hits.

Al Kaline went three-for-five and struck a key two-run triple to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 7-5 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Kaline connected off southpaw Gary Peters for his triple to highlight a four-run seventh inning and help Joe Sparano to the victory.

Mick's First Clout

Don Clendenen stroked two home

runs and Gene Alley hit another as the Pittsburgh Pirates belted the New York Yankees 9-3. Clendenen and Alley each got four hits in the contest and accounted for eight Pirate runs. Mickey Mantle had a two-run homer for the Yankees, his first of the spring.

The Minnesota Twins belted old teammate Camilo Pascual for seven hits and six runs in six innings while turning back the Washington Senators 9-6.

George Scott and rookie Reggie Smith hit homers and drove five runs between them to power the Boston Red Sox to an 8-2 victory over the New York Mets. The Red Sox tagged Jack Fisher for seven hits and four runs in seven innings and added four runs off Chuck Estrada in the final two frames.

The Mets did get some good news, however, when righthander Ralph Terry was signed following his fine performance against the Philadelphia Phillies last Saturday. Terry had been with the club as a free agent and has compiled a nice 1.93 earned run average in 14 innings this spring.

Oracles Fly High

The Baltimore Orioles erupted for their second seven-run inning in the last three games to defeat the Atlanta Braves 8-1. Jim Palmer, who had pitched only two and two-thirds innings all spring because of a shoulder ailment, went the first five innings for the Orioles and allowed only three hits and one run.

Curt Simmons and Bob Hendley combined for a four-hitter as the Chicago Cubs edged the California Angels 3-2. The 37-year-old Simmons worked four and two-thirds innings before allowing a hit and took a shutout into the seventh before losing it on a triple by Jim Fregosi and a single by Jose Cardenal. Sammy Ellis and young Gary Nolan of the Cincinnati Reds combined to shut out the Philadelphia Phillies 2-0. Nolan, 18, also socked a double off lefty Grant Jackson to touch off a two-run eighth inning that helped the Reds to their 14th exhibition victory against eight losses.

SEEN & HEARD

that James Billington was showing.

If we had hired out this past weekend to dig, we would have made fifty dollars at least.

Wife was directing the operations and we did the digging. We planted things, moved things, dug holes, filled them up. By the time the weekend was over we had had it.

Even drove down toward New Concord and got some sandstone rocks for a flower bed.

That type of work will get you in shape fast.

Speaking of flowers, drive by and see Mrs. Eph Hule's Azaleas. She has some huge ones and they are at their peak also. T. Siedt's Azaleas are also in full bloom. Also those by the Bank of Murray Drive-in bank.

The Red Buds all over Murray are in full bloom.

If you happen to wonder why there are so many Red Buds in Murray, it is because of what L. D. Miller did several years ago when he was Executive-Secretary of the Murray Chamber of Commerce.

L. D. put on a drive in Murray and sold the Red Bud trees at cost and urged everybody to plant a Red Bud. Hundreds of trees were sold and planted and today we are reaping the benefits of this promotion.

The Red Bud blooms before the leaves come out. The leaves however make a fine tree. They are heart shaped and provide good shade.

Our Ginkgo tree stood the transplanting well and the buds are swelling.

The biggest bud we have seen yet is the bud on the Hickory Tree. It is enormous. And, it seems that the smaller the tree, the larger the buds.

The Azaleas Mrs. Dick gave us is blooming with all its might.

The S & H Green Stamp Company has assets of $236,378,000.

'Hams' Stand Up for Their Rights

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is to thank you for telling that woman who insisted that a Ham Operator in her neighborhood was interfering with her TV reception to get her set checked—that she needed a FILTER COIL!

Whenever it becomes known that there is a Ham Operator within ten miles, every time there is trouble with a hi-fi, stereo radio, or television set, the Ham gets blamed. After an investigation, the trouble is usually traced to a faulty electric blanket, refrigerator, incandescent lights (about to burn out), thermostat on a tropical fish tank, even a hearing aid in the home of the complainant!

I stood right in the living room of a lady who insisted that my Ham Radio was ruining her television, so she KNEW I couldn't very well be operating my set, but she said, "I don't care what you say, I can see your radio tower from here, and I KNOW that's what's causing my trouble!" So, go right City Hall.

J. J. S., KAPZU

DEAR ABBY: This is for "RECEPTION RUINED," who insisted that a Ham Radio operator in her neighborhood was ruining her TV reception. I hope you have your TV set checked as Abby suggested, because if it picks up my signal, the trouble is your own, if properly constructed, should be able to reject unwanted signals.

You called all Ham Operators "useless nuts." Perhaps you didn't know that Ham Radio is more than a "hobby," it is frequently the only means of communication in a disaster area in cases of floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, earthquakes, sinking ships, and in locating people in saragway places where there is no electricity or telephone.

In order to become a licensed Ham, one has to study hard to pass the examinations, and then serve by the rules of the Federal Communications Commission. My "rig" is also inspected and monitored by the FCC to be sure it is safe. There are over 200,000 licensed hams in the world today. We buy our own equipment and use it constantly as a public service without cost to anyone. Thank you, Abby, for letting me get out of my chest.

A HAM SINCE 1948

DEAR ABBY: Please advise RECEPTION RUINED that among jims of this "useless nuts" who fool around with Ham Radio are Gen. Curtis LeMay, Herbert Hoover Jr., Arthur Godfrey, and Barry Goldwater.

Very truly yours,
ANOTHER USELESS NUT

DEAR ABBY: I would like for you to tell Reception Ruined that during January, 1967, the "useless nuts" who operate Ham Radios handled 3,706 phone patches and 5,206 personal messages for the boys in Viet Nam.

Furthermore I just turned off my rig after listening to two of those "useless nuts" secure vaccine for a child who was bitten by a mad dog. Of course all a person would have to do is pick up his telephone and call a doctor, except this occurred in an out-of-the-way village in BENTON, MISSOURI.

Yesterday I helped locate some "eyes" which were donated thru the LEONS EYE BANK and saw to it that they were sent immediately to an eye surgeon who needed them to restore sight to a blind child.

"Useless nuts," indeed!
"C" FOR CHARLIE

DEAR ABBY: Somebody ought to tell RECEPTION RUINED that if the Ham's equipment is really ruining her television reception, it would ruin all the other television sets in the neighborhood.

DEAR ABBY: Anyone who has an "interference" problem and suspects a Ham Radio Operator of being the cause should write to: THE AMERICAN RADIO RELAY LEAGUE, 225 Main St., Newton, Conn. 06451. They will handle it efficiently and promptly.

M. J.: K4NJ

DEAR ABBY: How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal, unimpounded reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069.

Theta Department Completing Second Year, Woman's Club

The following is the fourth in a series of articles written by the chairman of the ten departments of the Murray Woman's Club. These articles are printed so that the public may become acquainted with the civic and benevolent work of Murray's largest women's organization.

Theta Department
Mrs. James Fee, chairman

The Theta Department is completing its second year of organization. We have had a varied list of programs during this year, ranging from cooking lessons to the need for a will. Several of our programs have been given by members of the department who have talents in various directions.

We have cooperated with the General Club in all projects, such as contributions to the library, Red Cross, CARE and various other organizations. During the past year, we have sold notepaper and held a rummage sale to provide money for these projects.

We have also done a great deal of investigating into the possibility of establishing a teenage center here in Murray, but up to this point have found that our small group could not hope to finance such a large undertaking.

The main service project that we completed this year was the distribution and collection of the Cerebral Palsy canisters through the business places of the community. The total collected by our department was $128. The general club donated an additional $2, making a total of $150.

All in all, we feel that we have had a successful year with our eager but small group, and look forward to next year.

A new container called a Thermo Jar really is a miniature job. Its insulation is so efficient that it will keep even a strawberry sundae frosty cold for over four hours, the manufacturer reports. The lid is a permanently sealed hollow filled with pure, distilled water. Put the lid into a refrigerator ice cube compartment or hand freezer and the water inside freezes solid. That's where the "cool" comes from.

CHAPTER 21 GENERAL SKINNER sat in his cottage poring over the notes Dr Parnell had submitted for his inspection. "I won't accept any responsibility for your taking the stuff," Parnell had said. "According to all the data available, the animals were healthy to the end, but they died when they missed the allotted dosage. I cannot test dead animals for side effects. You and that idiot Stockman are responsible for this development. Skinner?" "But the monkeys responded to the drug like they did?" "Of course they can," Parnell said. "I know the world would be populated by monkeys if you and I didn't cut up and eat up our kind." "Why if the monkeys were not available? "The plans is ready now." "FINE. There's the box." He pointed to a wooden box, plainly marked, FRAGILE - THIS SIDE UP. Skinner turned and strode out, the scientist followed, and after him came a servant carrying the box gingerly as if it contained nitro. "Dr Parnell! Can you come here a moment? This is amazing! The most unprecedented result!" Oldham waddled toward them. They returned to Oldham's laboratory to find Stella at the door. She was looking in her hands and her face reflecting subdued excitement and eagerness when she greeted Parnell. She paid attention to Skinner, ignoring
