Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

What is a "Conservative" is the concern of a group called the American Economic Foundation in New York.

A bulletin issued by the Foundation says that "the political labels placed on groups of people are never completely accurate because no two people are in complete agreement on everything."

"However the intellectual community and the predominantly liberal press, television radio communications consistently paint an almost lifeless caricature of the people called conservatives which, incidentally from the election results, includes at least 40 per cent of the American voters."

"We believe that people should be judged, not by labels, but by the things they want to do. We would, therefore, like the readers to look at what most conservatives want to do, and then decide whether they are good or bad for the country."

1. Conservatives believe that the Constitution is a flexible instrument, but they also believe that changes should take place through legal amendments, not by arbitrary administrative or judicial decisions.

2. Conservatives believe that the concentration of political and fiscal power creates inefficient, unresponsive, wasteful, and arrogant government.

3. Conservatives believe that relief programs should be judged and administered by local boards who know, who can see and talk to the people getting the relief. They also believe that the people receiving relief should be in genuine need of it.

4. Conservatives believe that the policy of collecting local tax money to be gathered together in Washington and then returned, in part, to the localities in the form of Federal Aid is an immoral and wasteful method of buying people's votes with their own money.

5. Conservatives are against all forms of unregulated monopoly; against the existence of any single source of an essential commodity or service when that source has the power to force its will upon others.

6. Conservatives are against the covert levying of taxes through inflationary additions to the money supply which reduce the value of everybody's dollars, regardless of ability to pay.

7. Conservatives believe in equal rights for every person or group, but not in preferential rights based on emotionally conceived "social justice."

8. Conservatives believe in the use of taxation for revenue purposes, not for the "leveling down" of the exceptional rewards to exceptional people who make exceptional contributions to the economy.

9. Conservatives believe that every enterprise should stand or fall on the willingness of the free customer to buy or not to buy what it has for sale.

10. Conservatives are against the tax policy of taking so much of the people's earnings that government tends to become the chief dispenser of charity.

11. Conservatives do not believe that international cooperation can be bought with gifts to nations which, being older and more sophisticated, consider that there

Two Accidents Are Reported Yesterday

Two accidents were reported by City Police yesterday.

At 9:45 p. m. William Robert Harrison of 1405 Main street, Apartment 3A, was proceeding south on 15th street in a 1965 Volkswagen two door. Bradley K. Green of Hart Hall driving a 1965 Chevrolet two door, was parked on 15th street. She was driving a 1969 Ford two door.

Police said that Harrison dropped a match in his lap and lost control of his car striking the car of Green which in turn was knocked into the car of Miss Taylor.

Harrison received head injuries in the collision. The front bumper and right front fender of his car was damaged. The left rear fender and trunk and rear bumper of the Green car was damaged and damage was inflicted on the rear end of the Taylor car.

Patrolmen Joe Pat Witherspoon and Dale Spann investigated the accident.

At 10:52 p. m. yesterday Paul Maggard of 929 Beale street was traveling south near the southern city limits in a 1967 Pontiac four-door, Frank Kodman, Jr. 1503 Glen-dale Road was going north in a 1968 Mercury four door.

Police said that Kodman made a left turn into the Holiday Inn as Maggard approached at a high rate of speed. Maggard struck the left rear of Kodman's car with the front end of his car. Maggard was given a citation for reckless driving.

Officers Wilson and Spann investigated.

Home Saved By Members Of Saddle Club

A house owned by Lassiter Hill a short one-half mile southeast of Providence caught fire yesterday about 6:30 p. m. but with the help of about fifty neighbors and the Saddle Club which was meeting at Providence at the time, the house was saved and all the furnishings in the house were saved.

Deputy Sheriff Curt Willoughby said that the house is occupied by Lonnie Brittain and that apparently a buffet was too close to a heater and caught fire. The flames spread to all the rooms, but with the help of the Saddle Club and a large number of neighbors all the furnishings were taken from the house, and the fire was extinguished by passing buckets of water.

The water truck of Boyce McCutson arrived on the scene also with a pump on it and this added to the fire fighting equipment. The fire got into the attic, but water buckets were passed around and the fact that they were meeting at the time was credited with providing a lot of manpower when it was needed the most.

Three Are Injured In Friday Wreck

An accident was reported yesterday afternoon at 4:20 by Sheriff's Deputies Curt Willoughby and Hardie Kelo.

They reported that Mrs. Alice Marie Davis was proceeding north on US 641 in a 1966 Ford two-door and Fred Wilson Rose was proceeding south on US 641 in a 1962 Chevrolet pickup.

They collided at Almo Heights near the Starks automobile business location. Apparently no one is sure just how the accident occurred. Mr. Rose told police he did not know what happened. Mrs. Davis said she thought that Mr. Rose either spun in front of her or turned, she did not know, police said.

The left front of the Davis car struck the right rear of the truck, and both vehicles ended up on the east side of the highway. Both vehicles were damaged extensively.

Mrs. Davis was skinned and bruised and her thirteen year old daughter Betty was also skinned up and received a cut hand. Mr. Rose struck the rear window of his pickup truck with his head two times, breaking out the glass and inflicting a cut on his forehead. Ambulances brought all to the hospital for examination and treatment.

Scores Of Children Are Missing As Winds Strike Schools, Busses

By JAMES SHANKS
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI) — The death toll in the worst weather disaster in northern Illinois history climbed today as workers uncovered bodies of victims, many of them children, buried by 18 tornadoes that smashed dozens of communities.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Sykes of Murray are anxiously awaiting word from their son and his family who live near Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Sykes live between the school which was struck by tornadoes at Oak Lawn, Illinois, and Homewood, Illinois, which was leveled by tornadoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykes have four children, and Mr. Sykes works for the GAF Manufacturing Company in Oak Lawn. Byron Sykes said that he has attempted to get through by telephone since last night, but thus far has been unsuccessful. Mr. Sykes is Circulation Manager of the Ledger and Times.

Authorities counted at least 55 dead, nearly 1,000 injured and feared the death toll would rise even higher.

The tornadoes came out of the west late Friday and spread death and devastation from the Mississippi River to Chicago.

Gov. Otto Kerner and his aides planned to tour the stricken areas today. Officials were expected to dig out the children, most caught in school busses that were crushed like so many matchboxes, were dead.

Count Dead
Belvidere counted at least 20 dead. Oak Lawn, a southern suburb of Chicago, had at least 28 dead.

Cook County Sheriff Joseph Woods said the death toll in the immediate Chicago area alone probably would exceed 100.

Scavengers prowled through debris in Belvidere and Oak Lawn. Woods said National Guardsmen were ordered to shoot looters on sight.

Two people drowned in the turbulent waters just below main stream powerhouses, and two others in the swift currents farther below dams. Incomplete records show at least 10 other people nearly lost their lives in boat accidents in these dangerous areas near dams.

In addition to the 55 drownings in 1966, our records show at least 41 other people were involved in water mishaps and were rescued by others, or were able to save themselves," Notting said. "Many others undoubtedly were involved in near-drownings which were not reported."

These officers will be installed prior to the music program of Robertson School on May 5 at the high school.

Other business of the evening included the election of officers for the coming year who are as follows:

Mrs. Charles Outland, president; Don Alley, first vice-president; Mrs. Betty Crogan, second vice-president; Mrs. Earle Scarborough, secretary; Gene Steele, treasurer.

Mrs. Howard Giles, president, gave a brief resume of the questionnaire sent to parents. Some of the needs listed by the parents were sidewalks along 16th Street, more indoor and outdoor play equipment, and a cooling system for the school.

Mrs. Kenneth Adams urged all parents to sign the Murray petition.

As the new officers will be installed at the music program, a meeting of the PTA will not be held in May at the school.

National Guardsmen were mobilized to patrol against looters in Chicago's suburbs and to clear debris and search for bodies.

The 100-mile-an-hour storms destroyed hundreds of homes and injured thousands as they ripped 175 miles from west to east.

Fearful parents patrolled the streets of Belvidere and Oak Lawn with police today, hoping to find children alive and unharmed. The storms smashed high schools in both cities. Many of the dead were teenagers.

55 Drown In 1966 Using TVA Lakes

Fifty-five people drowned in 1966 while using TVA lakes for recreation, 10 fewer than in the previous year but still too high a toll, D. E. Notting of the TVA Safety Branch said today.

"This was a rate of about one drowning for each million recreation visits to the lakes, where the rate 30 years ago was six per million, so emphasis on water safety has clearly paid off," he said. "The 1966 record of 55 deaths has shown how high a price we still pay for the occasional careless act."

The same hazards continue to show up in drowning reports, he said. The 1966 records show the following causes or factors in at least the number of deaths indicated:

Boating: 18 had no life preserver on; 8 inexperienced or unsafe operation of boat; 8 standing up in boat, or lost balance; 8 boat out in rough water; 2 drinking and other unsafe conduct; 3 unsafe boat or motor; 2 fire.

Swimming or wading: 11 poor or inexperienced swimmer; 9 swimming alone, or inadequate supervision; 8 tried to swim beyond experience; 7 facts unknown; 7 stepped in hole or deep place; 6 unsafe acts (includes drinking, or unaware of hazards; 2 cramps).

Two people drowned in the turbulent waters just below main stream powerhouses, and two others in the swift currents farther below dams. Incomplete records show at least 10 other people nearly lost their lives in boat accidents in these dangerous areas near dams.

In addition to the 55 drownings in 1966, our records show at least 41 other people were involved in water mishaps and were rescued by others, or were able to save themselves," Notting said. "Many others undoubtedly were involved in near-drownings which were not reported."

must be a hidden selfish motive in every "something-for-nothing" handout.

12. Conservatives believe history proves that, in a basically how the world, no nation, however strong, can safely abandon the principles of patriotism, nationalism, protection of its sovereignty, or the primacy of the welfare of its own citizens.

Conservatives also believe that because profitable production in the private sector is the sole support of the welfare state, every thoughtful liberal should give his support regardless of his personal attitude toward business.

We repeat: people should be judged by the things they want to do. Generally we endorse the above. Americans are prone to seek labels and believe what the label says.

For instance check on most of the "pink" organizations and they have high sounding patriotic names like America Always, American First, Americans for Democratic Action, or what have you. The natural inclination is to think they are fine groups.

Also even though the tenets, beliefs and policies of an organization or group might change, it still carries the old label with it.

Today more than ever, it behooves an individual to be as perceptive as possible, to think for himself, to formulate an opinion based on fact, to be wary of promises by candidates who may not deliver, to question moves which might tend to weaken the rights of the individual citizen or reduce his freedom of choice.

Born on this day in 1797 was British novelist Henry Fielding, best known for the novel "Tom Jones."

In 1944, allied forces invaded Dutch New Guinea.

Veal Could Have Touched Vital Point

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

Pitcher Bob Veale may have touched off the blaze that will propel the Pittsburgh Pirates to the top of the National League.

Veale, a lucky flame-thrower, became the first Pittsburgh pitcher to go to the eighth when Bill Robinson hit the eighth-inning home run to tie the game.

The ace of a comparatively weak Pittsburgh pitching staff, Veale surrendered only a home run to Adolfo Phillips and a single to Randy Stanky in the second inning. The bespectacled left-hander, who appeared to be in pain after straining his back in the third inning, rebounded to strike out live in pitching his second victory of the season against no defense.

Dubile Play Experts
The 6-foot-6 fastballer walked six but escaped as the tight Pirates infield turned in four double plays.

In other games, New York downed Philadelphia 5-3 and Cincinnati beat Houston 3-1. The Los Angeles St. Louis game was postponed because of rain, marking the first time a Dodger game has been postponed since the team moved from Brooklyn in 1958, a span of 77 games.

The San Francisco-Atlanta game also was cancelled because of rain after a half inning.

In American League action, Boston beat New York 6-1, Detroit routed Minnesota 12-4, California edged Cleveland 6-5, Washington nipped Chicago 4-3 and Kansas City downed Baltimore 3-1.

The Pirates put together a 14-hit attack, featuring first homers of the year by their stellar keystone combination of Bill Mazeroski and Gene Alley.

Pitcher Hilt Double
Pitcher Jack Fisher plated a two-run double to highlight a five-run second inning outburst against longtime nemesis Jim Bunning as the New York Mets completed their season-opening series since they were organized.

Bunning, who had an 8-0 record against New York at Shea Stadium, was routed in the above. The Mets bunched four doubles and three singles to knock the Phillie ace out for the first time at their home field.

The victory evened the Mets' record at 44-4, the best they have ever been at this stage of the season.

Vada Pinson tripled in the 10th inning to drive in Darrell Osteen and Tommy Harper and lift Cincinnati over Houston.

Houston had taken a 1-0 lead in the first on a pair of errors by third baseman Tony Perez, but the Reds tied the game in the fifth when Tommy Helms raced home as Jim Wynn lobbed Don Pate's single to right center.

Red Sox Down N.Y. Yankees 6-1 Last Night Howard Gets Only Yankee Hit; Rohr Gets Win

By GREG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

Pre Bill Rohr there is only one thing wrong with this year's new-look Yankees—veteran catcher Elston Howard.

The lanky 21-year-old left-hander, who had his no-hitter broken by Howard with two out in the ninth inning last week, lost his bid for a shutout Friday night when Howard singled home the only Yankee run in the eighth inning as the Red Sox scored a 6-1 victory.

Rohr, who is relatively calm for a youngster in his first major league season, shrugged off Howard's run-scoring hit in the clubhouse after he had beaten the Bombers for the second straight time. "I don't care about the run," Rohr said. "We were chased by-ah and I just wanted him to hit the ball."

The 6-foot-3, 170-pounder has been rough on the Yankees this year. He has a tricky delivery in which he pauses during his windup and appears to be throwing from rightfield.

Athletics Down Orioles
In other American League action, California downed Cleveland 6-5, Kansas City topped Baltimore 4-1, Washington routed Chicago 4-0 and Detroit downed Minnesota 14-4.

In National League games, New York beat Philadelphia 6-3, Pittsburgh outscored Chicago 6-1, Cincinnati trounced Houston 3-1 in 10 innings and St. Louis at Los Angeles and Atlanta at San Francisco were postponed because of rain.

The Red Sox gave Rohr all the runs he needed in the fifth when they routed the Yankees' starter Mel Stottlemyre for three runs. After Dalton Jones had singled, Carl Yastrzemski, George Thomas and Tony Horton all belted doubles off the short leftfield wall. Jones hit a two-run homer in the eighth and Razo-Petronec doubled home another run to account for the final three rallies.

The Yankees tagged Rohr for eight hits and struck for their lead run in the eighth when Bill Robinson singled, advanced to second on an infield out and scored on Howard's single.

Ken Harrison's bases-loaded single after two were out in the ninth inning gave the Washington Senators a come-from-behind victory over the White Sox.

Ward, Agee Homer
Home runs by Pete Ward and Tom Agee gave the White Sox a 3-1 lead but the Senators battled back to gain a victory.

ALER held the Orioles to four hits as the Athletics struck for five doubles and Jim Conger's homer to defeat the defending World Champions.

Jim Fregoso's two-out homer over the leftfield fence gave the Angels their dramatic victory over the Indians. The win stopped the Angels' losing streak at four and snapped the Indians' four-game win skid.

Chuck Hinton and Fred Whitfield had hit back-to-back homers in the third to boost Cleveland into a 4-0 lead.

Home runs by Jim Northrup and Bill Freehan sparked a seven-run fourth inning that propelled the Tigers past the Minnesota Twins in a rain-delayed game.

GOT THE SACK
The win gave Detroit sole possession of first place in the American League. A downpour delayed the game for 18 minutes in the eighth inning. Tony Oliva hit one into the seats in the ninth but lost credit for an earlier homer when he passed teammate Cesar Tovar on his way to second base.

Fashionettes

United Press International Hairdressers aim for a home-run with their summer hair fashions, inspired by the shape of a baseball diamond. From the front, the new hair style has the shape of a slender diamond with curved corners at the bases. Visualize home plate located where the tip of your nose is. Width in the hair style flares out softly at the sides just above the eyebrows, and then tapers in again to a soft curve at the top where second base would be located. The National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association says this is the small head look. To make sure this is retained, hair must be dressed closely to the head, near the face and at the nape area.

Make way for the Greek Boy wig, inspired by recollections of the sun-browned locks of the young Greek Adonis. You thought it impossible, but the wig is styled, Van Arthur Creations captured the casual, carefree look in a wig razor cut to hug the head. The hair is styled to comb forward from the center, feathered hang, side quiches slant down to the cheek. The back hugs the head low to the neck in a feathered manner.

A BIT FROM THE BIBLE

by GEORGE M. LANDIS

Text: "One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life" (Psa. 27:4).

There is great weakness in divided interests. The Lord Jesus said: "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

Many Christians are trying to be friends with both Christ and the world which crucified Him. James shows the impossibility of this in the words: "Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Whosoever, therefore, will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God." The apostle of love emphasizes the same truth in his first epistle: "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." We hear sometimes of "one-track minds." Here is a one-track heart, a heart which sets its affections on one supreme object—Christ.

Christian reader, how many things you desire of the Lord? How many objects are you currently seeking after? Many of us desire that one good portion, to be constantly at His Master's feet and the Lord Jesus commended her for it. So David's great desire was to be ever in the presence of his Lord.

The psalmist not only possessed a single desire, but he diligently pursued that desire, as indicated in the words, "I will seek after." Too many are content merely with desire and make little effort to realize that desire. His seeking was after the Lord, who should be the sole aim of our desires. He is the well of all refreshment and the bank where all spiritual resources are stored, ready to be handed out in response to the check of faith.

Adequate Wiring Is A Must For Today's Modern Home

By NANCY CRASS
Home Economist
Murray Electric System

Times have changed and so has home wiring. No longer can a handy man string up an extension or two and tell you that you are ready to use your new electric equipment.

It takes a wiring specialist who knows electric equipment and its need for an adequate supply of electricity for operating effectively and economically.

Electric cooking and heating, the charm of good lighting, the richness of wadaday draperies, the freeing of foods, the washing of dishes, and many other household chores depend on the kind of wiring a specialist can install for you. The pleasure of radio, television, and your record player all also depend upon the proper kind of wiring.

Modern wiring also helps you enjoy garden and yard lighting, outdoor use of plug-in cooking equipment, power tools, and a host of other appliances that make your work easier or give you pleasure.

Adequate wiring starts with a service entrance large enough to supply each appliance or electrical device in your home the electricity it needs for top performance. Most often recommended today is the 200-ampere service entrance, with provision at the main panel for the various kinds of circuits.

To the service entrance are added the branch circuits that carry electricity to lights, small electric appliances, and the individual major appliances. There are guidelines from a number of sources for helping the homeowner determine the number of circuits he needs. In the kitchen, laundry, and home planning areas, for instance, one source recommends 18 circuits for trouble-free operation of appliances on day-to-day activities.

Nine of these circuits are heavy duty, supplying electricity for such needs as drying clothes, cooking and baking. The other nine circuits furnish electricity for refrigeration, small appliances, lighting, and convenience outlets. With this wiring, each appliance in these areas gives you its top performance.

From the list of circuits recommended just for day-to-day household work, it is readily apparent that today's home needs a great many circuits to be modern. Still, to be added to the 18 in the areas above are the circuits for living and dining areas, bedrooms, bathroom, study center, outdoor living area, home workshop, and circuits for heating and cooling the house.

Don't Be Called Beautiful and Dumb

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a beautiful widow, 50 years of age, but I look much younger. I lost my husband a few years ago and to be perfectly honest with you, I want a man.

I have been going with a married man who is much younger than I. I really don't care very much for him, but I make him believe I do, because I feel it is better to have him than no man at all.

I am financially very well off so I don't have to work, but I am almost ready to get a job somewhere so I can meet some men. Can you solve my problem?

BEAUTIFUL BUT UNWANTED
DEAR BEAUTIFUL: Drop the married man unless you want to be known as both beautiful and dumb! Beyond that—a job, yes. But soft-pedal our bank account or you'll end up with the kind of man that will make you wish you were single and celibate.

DEAR ABBY: I was sitting with my son, my daughter-in-law and my husband when I made the remark that I thought I had been a good mother.

This was followed by a dead silence. Don't you think someone could have spoken up and said something?

DEAR HURT: In that crowd, you're lucky you didn't get an argument.

DEAR ABBY: I know you won't believe me, but God be my judge, I am telling you the gospel truth, so here goes:

My mother is a widow with seven living children. We are three girls and four boys. All of us married. Mom stays all night with us girls quite often. The problem is Mom rarely ever takes a bath. You can smell her from one room to the next. She hasn't washed her hair in a year, and it looks it. When she gets into a car, the whole car stinks. (Excuse me, Miss Abby, but I must speak plainly.)

When she gets up in the morning, she never washes her hands, but goes straight into the kitchen to help with breakfast. I don't think we are all at the end of our rope, she owns a tooth brush, say-so.

We are good Christian folks and wouldn't hurt our mother's feelings for the world. What can we do? We hate to be disrespectful, but she's getting worse with age.

SISTERS IN W. VA.

DEAR SISTERS: In a subtle, organized campaign remind your mother that she must bathe, shampoo her hair regularly and wear fresh clothing. Her advancing age probably has something to do with her carelessness, but she should be "reminded"—not ignored. When your sisters needed help your mother helped you. Now it's your turn.

DEAR ABBY: After your advice to "HUNGRY FOR LOVE," I am SURE you are a man. That picture you run with your column doesn't fool me a bit.

NOT FOOLED
DEAR NOT: Watch "THE GO SHOW" on ABC at 7 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time) on Sunday, April 23d. The gal who plays "ABBY" is the same one who writes this column.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ATTEND CHURCH

GREEN THUMB

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Coleman Adv. Ser.

GREEN THUMB... is the way of describing those that have a way with plant life. The ones, who are so gifted, will tell you that to be successful with plants, you must see that they have plenty of water. God knows too, that a soul must be watered in order for it to mature and grow.

"... and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." Isaiah 58:11
