SMALL BOY KILLED SUNDAY ABOUT NOON

MURRAY

We knew that the Ledger and Times ads had great pulling power, but the other day one pulled all the way from California.

His Douglas said that some one came in and bought a plow from him for someone in California. The buyer in California had placed a call locally to go down to his place and get the plow.

Mrs. Medye Christensen writes in the following on "How to Preserve a Husband". It was written by Emma White.

"Be careful in your selection; do not choose too young, and only take such as have been reared in good moral atmosphere. Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, while others keep them in hot water. This only makes them grow hard and sometimes bitter. Given hard varieties may be more sweet, tender and good by giving them with patience, well sweetened with smiles, and flavored with kisses to taste. Then, wrap them in a mantle of charity, keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion and serve with bread and cream. When thus prepared they will keep for years."

Those first-five words are mighty important ladies.

The above is good advice of course, but the modern idea seems to be not to preserve the husband, but just to trade him in on a newer model.

Sign seen in the window of a New York store over a display of American flags: "These colors do not run."

We picked up the following from the First Baptist Church Bulletin yesterday. We have run this before, but some things are well worth repeating.

Lord, Thou knowest better than I know my self that I am growing older, and will someday be old.

Keep me from getting selfish, and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking that I must say something on every subject and on every occasion.

Release me from craving to try to straighten out everybody's affairs.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details, give me wings to get to the point.

I ask for grace enough to listen to the tales of others' paths. Help me to endure them with patience.

But seal my lips on my own aches and pains — they are increasing, and my love of resting them is

Oil Strike Reported In East Kentucky

CELINA, Tenn. (AP) — Drilling reports have reported that an oil strike in Kentucky near here may be the biggest in almost a decade and may even spill over into at least two counties in Tennessee.

The strike, located on land leased from Homer Spess by Robert Hestard about seven miles southeast of Tompkinsville, Ky., is said to be already pumping 120 barrels of oil a day. Hestard said production is steadily increasing by ten to 15 barrels per day.

Another well, on Kettle Creek in Clay County, Tenn., has reportedly started showing gas and observers have predicted it will soon begin producing oil.

Hestard, who has drilled 40 wells in the last 12 years, labeled his strike "possibly the best made in Kentucky since 1958."

In 1968, oil was discovered in Greenburg in Green County, Ky., that produced 30,000 barrels a foot.

Clemente Crowned NL Batting Champ 3rd Time in Four Years

By JOE CARNICELLI UPI Sports Writer NEW YORK 99 — Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente batted .367 in 1967—and that was good enough for his fourth National League batting title and third in the last four years.

The Puerto Rican outfielder had 359 hits—most in the league—in 585 trips to the plate to record his highest lifetime batting average. Clemente, named the National League's most valuable player in 1966, the only season since 1964 in which he did not take honors, maintained a virtual dominance of the league batting title by Pittsburgh's hitters.

The Pirates have won the individual batting title in six of the last eight seasons with Clemente taking honors in 1961, 1964, 1965 and 1967.

In fact, it can be very traumatic at times. Just ask Coach John Drano of Louisville, Ted Owens of Kansas and Dean Smith of North Carolina.

All three coaches watched their highly-rated squads suffer defeat Saturday night at the hands of teams who believe that five good players are better than just one sensational player.

The second-ranked Cardinals were upset 88-83 by Loyola of Chicago 83-73 and the Tarheels fell to Vanderbilt 89-78.

Alcindor, Maravich and Murphy made their debuts in the UCLA-Memphis game, top-ranked UCLA continued to pour it on victoriously.

Ball State and Tennessee State battled to a 14-14 tie in the 1968 post-season game.

Eastern Kentucky quarterback Jim Guice, named the game's most outstanding player, threw two touchdown passes and ran four yards for another score.

Ted Taylor got the Colonels' other touchdown after stealing a handoff from Ball State quarterback Don Heath and racing 26 yards to the end zone.

TIME OUT

by GALE GARRISON

The Calloway County Christmas Tournament opens up this Wednesday night, and from the teams that are in it, it should be one of the best that has been held at the school.

For those of you who might be interested here is a little history of the annual affair.

The tourney was first played at Calloway in 1961, after one year at Mayfield when it was decided that the Redbirds' court would not hold enough fans.

Wingo was the champion that year, defeating Carlisle County 52 to 47 in the finals.

The tourney opened on Thursday afternoon with Sedalia winning over College High 81 to 24, in the first game and Wingo defeating Murray High in the second game 38 to 36.

In the night session Calloway defeated Hickman County 74 to 60 and South Marshall lost to Carlisle 62 to 53.

On Friday night in the semi-finals Calloway advanced with a win over Sedalia 63 to 47, and Hickman put Mayfield out 79 to 58.

In the consolation game, Saturday night, Sedalia defeated Mayfield 79 to 58, and Calloway took the championship of their own tourney, 55 to 37, over Hickman.

The Murray High Tigers were defeated in the first game of the 1967 tourney, by Sedalia 65 to 52.

Mayfield advanced to the semi-finals with a win over Fulton City, 75 to 63.

In the Friday night games, Ballard upended Symsonia 71 to 62, and Carlisle County defeated Calloway County 88 to 72.

The semi-final games were played on Saturday afternoon with Mayfield winning over Sedalia, and Ballard winning over Carlisle County 57 to 55.

That night in the consolation game, Sedalia defeated Carlisle 97 to 70 and Mayfield took home the big trophy with a win over Ballard 61 to 59.

There was a break in the tournament in 1964, when Calloway went to the Trigg County tourney.

Action resumed in 1965 with Murray High winning the opener 55 to 49 over the Hopkinsville Altucks, and Trigg County taking the second game 82 to 61 from Sedalia.

Carlisle took the first game on Thursday night from Mayfield 65 to 69, and host Calloway was put out of their own tourney by Benton 49 to 44.

The Tigers advanced to the finals with a win over Trigg 66 to 56, and Carlisle was the one to meet them as they defeated Benton 57 to 48. Murray High was the runner-up that year as Carlisle defeated them eight points 64 to 56.

Last year Murray was put out the first game by Mayfield 68 to 40, and Carlisle was defeated by Hickman 80 to 64. On Thursday, in the lower bracket Sedalia defeated Fulton County 67 to 62, and Calloway defeated Lowes 63 to 40.

In the finals, Mayfield won over Hickman 63 to 53, and Calloway over Sedalia 77 to 52.

On Saturday night Calloway won their own tournament, for the second time, by beating the Cards 58 to 53.

Three of the teams that are playing in this year's tournament have won it before: Calloway, twice; Carlisle, once; and Mayfield, once.

Murray High has made it to the semi-finals once, in the four years they have played. Hickman also has made the semi-finals once. Lowes and South has only played one time each in the tournament and were put out the first game.

The best way in the world to find out if you have any readers it to make a mistake. I made one last week, and sports fans, the Ledger & Times has several readers all over the country, and a whole bunch in Marshall County.

I said that Murray and Tighman were the only two teams that were to play in the Calloway Christmas Tournament that were undefeated. I found out (by way of about 14 different people) that South Marshall was undefeated at that time.

He who said there were no warning lights at this intersection. Damage to the Cadillac was on the front end.

Saturday night at 11 p.m. another one car accident occurred at the 121 Bypass and 641 intersection as Allen Russell Pryor, 2115 Hazel Street, Hopkinsville, driving a 1967 Plymouth two door hardtop, was going east on the 121 Bypass.

Patrolmen Martin Wells and Ed Knight of the Murray Police Department said Pryor failed to stop for the stop sign at the intersection of 121 and 641 highways and went across Highway 641 head on into the back knocking down the stop sign with red warning lights on it.

Pryor was reported not to have been injured, according to the police report. The car was damaged on the front end.

Sunday at 6:25 p.m. a two vehicle accident occurred at North 6th and Chestnut Streets, according to the report filed by Patrolman Dale Spann.

Vehicles involved were 1967 Ford 1/2 ton truck driven by Donald R. Thorn of Almo Route One, and a 1965 Mustang two door hardtop driven by William Jones of 812 Lynn Drive, Lexington.

Police said Jones was going west on Chestnut, stopped for the stop sign, and said he looked both ways and did not see the Thorn truck going south on the Thorn street.

Jones struck the Thorn truck in the left rear side with the front end of his car, Police said.

Damage to the truck was on the left rear side and to the car on the front end. No one was reported injured.

A two car collision occurred Saturday at 6:18 p.m. on Highway 641 South and was investigated by Sgt. James Brown and Patrolman Russell Phillips.

Kim Eddie Pennington of Murray Route Three, driving a 1965 Chevrolet two door hardtop, going south on Highway 641, was going to make a left turn but was over in the right lane, Police said.

Pennington told Police he did not see the 1961 Ford two door hardtop driven by Rousseau Don Miller of 215 North 2nd Street, Murray, that was in the left lane and Pennington struck the Miller car in the front fender, according to police.

Damage to the Pennington car was on the left front fender and to the Miller car on the right front fender. No injuries were reported.

The intersection of North 4th and Walnut Streets was the scene of the three car collision Saturday at 12:45 p.m. that was investigated by Patrolmen Dwayne Ekins and Dale Spann. No injuries were reported.

Cars involved were a 1961 Chevrolet four door BelAir owned by Clara Stubblefield and driven by Carolyn Louise Stubblefield of Almo Route One; a 1964 two door hardtop driven by James Melton of 809 Joy Street, Paris, Tenn.; and a 1962 Buick four door driven by Mrs. Ethel Miller of 1106 Mulberry.

Police said the Stubblefield car was on the right rear fender, the Melton car on the front end, and to the Miller car on the left rear quarter panel.

Murray Lions Will Visit Arlington Club

The Murray Lions Club will visit the Arlington Lake Club tonight, December 11, President George H. Ligon announced.

All interested Lions are asked to meet in the parking lot in front of the Business Building of Murray State University on North 16th Street at 6:00 p.m. No reservations are needed. President Ligon pointed out that this trip is in connection with the district governor's contest.

All-new Mercury Montego has 4 extra inches of riding comfort in every 2-door hardtop.

Three competitive car lines fall considerably short of Montego this year. As the chart shows, they give you 4 inches less wheelbase. Less rear passenger room. Less trunk space. Montego doesn't think you want to be sold this short. Besides, we're solidly committed to the Fine Car Touch inspired by the Lincoln Continental. Which means giving you more.

Compare 1968 2-door hardtops.

becoming sweeter as the years go by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally it is possible that I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet: I do not want to be a saint—some of them are so hard to live with—but a sour old person is one of the crowning works of the devil.

Make me thoughtful, but not moody; helpful, but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all—but Thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

Bernie A. Shively Dies Sunday Evening

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The University of Kentucky today mourned the loss of athletic director Bernie A. Shively, who died suddenly Sunday evening after suffering a heart attack. He was 64.

Shively suffered a stroke at his home about 4 p.m. and was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital here. He died after a second heart attack about two hours later.

Shively, a Cincinnati Rise all-America guard on the famed Illinois team of the Red Orange era, became Kentucky's athletic director in 1956 and led the Wildcats teams into big time competition.

Basketball coach Adolph Rupp said, "Shively and I were as close as any two men during the past 15 years, and we must have talked a thousand times about retiring together."

"This comes as such a shock. He was first in his field and his contributions to the NCAA were possibly greater than any other man's."

Shively served on several NCAA tournament and bowl committees and was tournament director in 1966.

Rupp said there had been a possibility that a game Tuesday with North Carolina may be called off, but later said the game would be played as scheduled. Funeral services were tentatively set for 10:30 a.m. EST, Wednesday.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Blanche Parker; 19 grandchildren; two great grandchildren.

The J. H. Churchill Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Lots of Husbands Are Faithful

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I suspected my husband of being untrue to me, so I went to a lawyer about a separation or divorce. My husband denies any unfaithfulness, and he wants us back together again. (We have children.)

My lawyer told me that every man is untrue to his wife at one time or another, and my husband is no exception. He said the more trusting a wife is, the better it is for her husband. It makes cheating easier.

Is this true, Abby? I just can't believe it. My husband is a good father, and he said he was happy with me in every way. My lawyer says I have two choices. Go back to my husband for the children's sake and put up with his cheating, or divorce him and raise my children alone. Please say something to help me. I love my husband, but I am so confused.

M IN FLA.
 DEAR M: There are plenty of faithful married men, and your husband could be one of them. The only thing you can be sure of is that your lawyer cheats on his wife. Give your husband another chance.

DEAR ABBY: I work, and make a pretty good salary. The guy I go with is still in college, and he holds his regular meeting at the club room at seven p.m.

Friday, December 15
 District 17 of the KSA-LPN will have a Christmas party at the Holiday Inn in Murray at 6:30 p.m. For reservations call Sade Shookmaker.

I have no objections to that except sometimes she doesn't get home until 1 o'clock in the morning. In the meantime I sit alone. She takes the car and picks up some of the others, and at her age her reflexes could be slowing down and if she gets into an accident, that is all I need.

She says it is her "diversion." I say, "Why can't we do something together for diversion?" She thinks I'm selfish. Well, if I'm selfish, please print this with your answer, but don't use my name or town. I will be governed by your advice.

DEAR SELFISH: Are you honestly worried about your wife? Or are you a little jealous because her "diversion" does not include you? Don't expect your wife to give up her playing after all these years. Occupy yourself on those nights, and you won't be so lonely, resentful, and worried.

Mrs. Masako Cornell Of Hawaii Speaker At Hawaiian Luau Held First Baptist Church

"Whether you are eating or whether you are drinking, you are to do it all for the glory of God" I Corinthians 10:31 (Monday) was the scripture printed on the first page of the "palm tree" program used at the "Luau" Hawaiian feast or banquet, given by the First Baptist Church for Baptist students attending Murray State University on Monday, December 4, at eight p.m. in the church fellowship hall with eighty-seven in attendance.

Each one was greeted by Hawaiian hosts with the traditional "Aloha" and presented a lei for their neck and a hibiscus flower for their ear. While awaiting the program's arrival, games were played around the room by Hawaiian boys, Ralph Tessenor III, Chris Kerlock, David Hill, and Terry Hart. These included throwing darts at a swinging pineapple, pitching leis at a stake, and jumping the bamboo rhythm sticks.

Dr. H. C. Chiles, pastor, asked Rev. W. H. Rone, Sr., pastor of Bellevue Baptist Church, Owensboro, to lead the invocation.

The "Aloha" (welcome) was given by Robert Charles Miller, Youth Director at First Baptist, who introduced the following guests, at the "Head Luau Table":

Dr. and Mrs. Chiles; Rev. and Mrs. Rone, Sr.; Mrs. Ernest Kirtley of Livermore, mother of Mrs. Rone; W. R. Howard, minister of music, and Mrs. Howard, Sunday School teacher of freshmen and sophomore University girls; Rev. Earl Warford, associational missionary, and Mrs. Warford; Marvin Harris, chairman of the Deacons, and Mrs. Harris; Rev. Lloyd Cornell, BSU Director, and Mrs. Cornell, guest speaker from Hawaii; Mrs. Ralph A. Tessenor, Sunday School teacher of the Junior and Senior University girls; William C. Adams, Sunday School teacher of the University boys, and Mrs. Adams; Gil Mastin, University Training Union Leader; Mrs. John Bowker, church organist, and Mr. Bowker; Mrs. Edgar Sharley, WMU president, and Mr. Sharley; King Kamehameha I (Kamehameha) and his sister (Linda Adams) whose comical skit introduced the entertainment for the evening.

Providing entertainment were "The Royal Decemner," Dennis Goodwin, on the organ; "Aloha Chant," The Court Singers, Hawaiian songs by all the guests; "The Royal Contest," four University boys trying to get his over their shoulders.

Burtana Brown came from a high pineapple to twist her fire basket to the song, "Hawaiian for High girls wearing Hawaiian mums who were instructed by Mrs. Bernice Wiestart, Mrs. Barbara Robertson, Mrs. Robin James, and Mrs. Robert Miller. Ladies who prepared the meal courses were Mesdames Noel Melugin, Jack Kennedy, Owen Burlington, S. L. Horn, Ragan McDunnie, John Kael, Charles Mercer, Sr., and R. A. Stinker.

The tables and decorations were authentically Hawaiian. Cross covered the floor where the guests sat around the triangle shaped tables with King Kamehameha's throne at the apex of the triangle. Down the center of each section of tables were magnolia leaves interspersed by Apeleleia and orange blossomed crossroads.

In the center of the triangle was a pool with leis floating in the water where coins were thrown into for the Little Moon Christmas offering. Next to the pool was a large blue plastic boat filled with iced cold drinks. On the walls were maps, travel folders, pictures of Hawaii, surf boards, hats, flowers, grass skirts, and a seine which held eels and the hibiscus flowers given at the door. Hawaiian plants enhanced the candlelight room.

The King and his sister wore traditional Hawaiian clothes. The guests came as beehive-haired or wore mums.

Robert C. Miller, Youth Director, said he would like to thank everyone who contributed Hawaiian articles, flowers, grass, and especially their time and talent to the success of the Luau.

Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

We've read the following before, but it appeared again in the recent issue of the Woodmen magazine.

"E. F. Kenyon tells of a movie producer whose hobby was collecting rare books. He became such a nut that it associates decided to take him down a bit. They hired an unknown actor to join them at lunch in the studio commissary, introducing him as 'Dr. Medic, an old country doctor from the valley.'"

"The producer, as expected, soon got onto the subject of old books. 'Personally, I can't stand them,' said the doctor. 'They always smell. Fact is, I just threw out an old German Bible that's been around the house for years. Where's it certainly was stinky!'"

"'Old German Bible?' echoed the rare-book fiend, pricking up his ears. 'Who printed it?'"

"'Oh, I don't know,'" answered the doctor. 'German name — Guten — something or other.'"

The producer's face turned an apple-red. "N-n-oot Guten-berg!" he managed to ask.

"That's it — Gutenberg," "Good grief, man!" shouted the producer. "You threw it away! Come on, we'll hire a plane. We've got to find it! It's the Gutenberg Bible. It's irreplaceable!"

"Hold on, son," said the doctor calmly. "Even if it is the Gutenberg Bible, it ain't worth anything now. Some character called Martin Luther has scribbled his name all over it!"

The man who directs the "war on poverty" Barnek Shriver and his five principal assistants are each paid more than General William C. Westmoreland, our Vietnam Commander. Yearly, Mr. Shriver gets $30,000, his Deputy Director $28,500, three Assistant Directors $27,000 each and another Assistant Director $26,000. General Westmoreland's salary is $24,023 a year.

High Winds, Tornadoes Rake Wide Area; Fulton Is Hit

by United Press International

Some residents of Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana today cleaned up tornado and high-wind damage while much of the rest of the nation braced for a wintry onslaught of adverse weather.

Winds described as at times, forces struck the twin city area shortly before noon Monday, causing considerable property damage in South Fulton and in East Fulton.

No injuries have been reported. The main force of the storm apparently struck in the vicinity of the South Fulton Baptist Church, where the steeple was destroyed, a huge tree uprooted and thrown across the home of Jimmy Jones and other houses extensively damaged.

Damage in East Fulton, as far as could be determined, consisted of downed trees, bent aerials, and broken windows.

A wintry storm bearing snow and northerly winds blew across the northern Rockies into the Plains where the Weather Bureau warned of cold wave conditions possible for tonight and Wednesday.

Report Issued By Breathitt On Four Years In Office

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A 100-page report to the people of Kentucky was issued Friday by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt detailing accomplishments of his four-year administration which ends today.

The booklet includes virtually all aspects of state government.

In a preface, Breathitt said he has tried to demonstrate that state government can face up to its responsibilities and problems and that it is still a vital function in the federal system.

"For four years, our objective in state government has been to move Kentucky forward with vigor and imagination, to make it a leader in American activity and progress," Breathitt said.

He said the government has concerned itself with both physical advances and human resources development.

"Not only have we made significant advances in road-building and in capital construction throughout the commonwealth," Breathitt said, "but we've also emphasized progress in education, equal opportunity, jobs, public health, mental health and welfare."

In addition he added that he has kept our pledge not to increase state taxes.

Inaugural Ceremonies Give Capital A Festive Atmosphere

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Conservative Republican Louie B. Nunn, who campaigned against the Johnson administration and the war in Vietnam, became the first GOP Kentucky governor in 20 years today in inaugural ceremonies at the state Capitol.

Nunn, 43, a country lawyer from Glasgow, will be only the seventh Republican in the history of the Bluegrass State to become governor.

He was scheduled to take the oath of office at 2:30 p.m. EST following a four-hour parade and two church services.

About 20,000 to 40,000 persons were expected to view the inauguration on the steps of the Capitol building.

Nunn's elevation to the $30,000-a-year position gives Republicans a 26-24 edge in the nation's statehouses.

The Republican return to Frankfort will not be complete, however, as being sworn-in alongside Nunn will be Democrat Lt. Gov. Wendell H. Ford, 43, of Owensboro, a past national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Ford will have the advantage of having a Democratic-controlled state legislature. Democrats also won three of the seven remaining statewide offices, including attorney general.

The oath of office to be administered to Democratic Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford in front of the Capitol today also will be a return. Ford was sworn in at a private ceremony last night in the Frankfort home of a friend, druggist Samuel F. Horst.

State troopers and Frankfort policemen were on duty at 6 a.m. today to direct visitors to parking areas, first downtown and then to designated parking areas on the outskirts. Free shuttle bus service between the outlying parking areas and downtown will be provided all day.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

On Monday night, December 4, our young Siamese cat was playing in our yard, as he often did. When we called him, he was not to be found. Despite the fact that he was wearing a collar and a tag on which was plainly printed our phone number and despite the fact that we have offered a reward in the newspapers and on the radio for the past week, we have heard nothing. We have reason to believe that someone has taken our cat since this cat was given to us four months ago as a wedding present and since he was an ideal pet and a wonderful companion, we would greatly enjoy his return. However, the purpose of this letter is not to demand our personal loss. It is, instead, to warn other pet owners who perhaps are not aware, as we, being college students who are not full-time residents of Murray, were not aware of the vast number of pets stolen in this town. This was brought to our attention during our search during the last week. We hope that by your being aware of this situation you can avoid the unhappy experience we have had recently.

We don't expect this letter to make any impression on the person who has our cat; none of us would like to ask the help of any of you who might have any information whatever concerning this young black and white cat. Perhaps you have noticed a strange cat in the last week. If so, any information before Friday of this week would sincerely be appreciated, as we are leaving at this time for two weeks in our home town. We had looked forward to taking the cat with us, as we always do.

May you who have our cat have a Merry Christmas. Ours could have been merrier.

Cattie Lou Miller To Be Assistant Of Wendell Ford

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Lt. Gov.-elect Wendell Ford announced Friday that outgoing State Public Information Commissioner Cattie Lou Miller will be his administrative assistant after he takes office Tuesday.

Miss Miller, 44, of Frankfort, currently serves as special assistant to Gov. Edward T. Breathitt in addition to her public information duties.

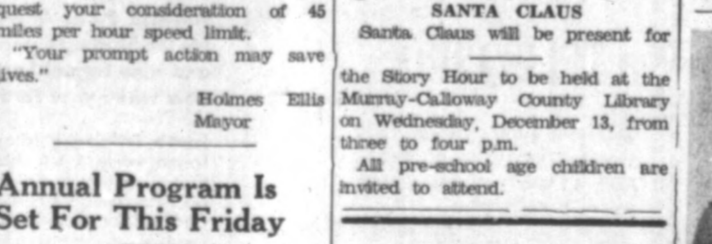

She has spent 18 years in various executive positions in state government and business.

Ford said both he and Republican Gov.-elect Louie Nunn "are in agreement that Miss Miller's services should not be lost to the citizens of Kentucky."

Under Miss Miller's guidance, her department has won several national awards for promoting tourism in Kentucky.

The Rest of the News

The Almanac

by United Press International

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 12, the 340th day of 1967 with 19 to follow.

The moon is between the first quarter and full stage.

The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1722, Ludwig von Beethoven, 22, paid 10 cents for his first music lesson.

In 1901, a wireless message was sent across the Atlantic Ocean for the first time. Guglielmo Marconi in Newfoundland intercepted the letter "G" sent by Morse code by an operator in the British Isles.

In 1947, John L. Lewis withdrew his United Mine Workers from the American Federation of Labor for the second time.

In 1958, the Ford Foundation gave $500 million to the nation's private hospitals, colleges and medical schools. It was the largest single philanthropic act in world history.

A thought for the day — American historian Henry Wheeler Shaw once said: "It is better to know nothing than to know what ain't so."

UCLA Gets 35 Votes By UPI Coaches

By SANDY PRISANT
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Undefeated UCLA, stinging with ease in both ballgame and basketball, received an overwhelming vote of confidence from the nation's coaches today who gave the Bruins all 35 first place votes as the country's top college team after the second week of the 1967-68 season.

Coach Johnny Wooden's Bruins, who also received all 35 first place votes in pre-season voting and then slipped slightly last week after a tight battle in the season opener against Purdue, came back with another perfect report card and 350 points—one point more than a week ago—in this week's balloting by United Press International's Board of Coaches, based on games through Dec. 9.

Last week the Bruins looked a lot more like the team riding a 37-game winning streak, the longest in the nation. Friday night they clinched Wisconsin State 129-96 and came back 24 hours later to rip Iowa State 121-50. The Bruins have not lost at Pauley Pavilion since the building was constructed three years ago.

Louisville, which last week received the only first place vote that hasn't gone to UCLA this season, dropped from second to fourth after being upset by unranked Northwestern 86-53 Saturday night, lowering the Cardinals' season mark to 2-1.

Houston, with its awesome scoring and rebounding power, moved up a notch into the runner-up spot by garnering 293 points—21 more than a week ago—40 trail UCLA by 50 points. The Cougars increased their record to 4-0 after stopping Illinois 94-46 Saturday night in the first real test of the campaign.

Vanderbilt Moves Up

Vanderbilt, largely on the strength of its 89-78 upset triumph over previously fifth-ranked North Carolina, made the biggest gain of the week, vaulting all the way from 11th to third. The Commodores, 3-0, drew 282 points to beat out Louisville, which picked up 133.

Boston College jumped four spots up to fifth after smashing victories over Connecticut and Dartmouth in the Eagles' first two games of the season.

Close behind came Kentucky and Princeton. Adolph Rupp's Wildcats 4-0 scored from 129 a week ago to sixth with 112 points—just barely enough to move ahead of Princeton 3-0, which received 31 points more than a week ago but remained seventh with 111.

After losing to Vanderbilt, North Carolina 2-1 slipped from fifth to eighth with 74, barely ahead of Davidson 4-0, which moved up three places to ninth with 72 and Tennessee 1-0, which was idle but received 80 points—15 more than last week—to retain 10th place.

Quotes From The News

WASHINGTON — DELEGATE SERVICE head Louis Hershey says the time consumed in mandating strict cases in the courts could cut into the nation's manpower, since an individual is ineligible for the draft when he is in custody of the courts.

"We would have had quite a time at Lexington if someone said he was going to enjoin Paul Revere from waking him up because he didn't want to shoot at something red."

SAIGON — Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., talking to newsmen about a Communist mortar and rifle attack that pinned him and four others down for about 20 minutes early Tuesday: "I can assure you I never got lower to the ground in my life."

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — AFL-CIO President George Meany, telling delegates to the AFL-CIO convention he strongly favors President Johnson's foreign policies: "Do you know why missiles are not coming? It is because we have got the missiles to throw back."

MADRID — Edelmirto Garcia, one of seven Spanish repatriates who spent almost 13 years in North Vietnam, saying there is no such thing as "thought" among the North Vietnamese people: "What can they think? They can't think. All they want is freedom and they don't have any. The government has them completely tied up."

A Bible Thought For Today

O let the nations be glad and sing for joy; for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and govern the nations upon the earth. —Psalm 67:4.

Racers Lose To Bradley 83-78 Monday

By GALE GARRISON

The Murray State Racers fell to defeat for the second time in a row as they lost to Bradley 83 to 78, in a game played at Peoria, last night.

Bradley pulled out to a 12 point lead at the half time mark, then fought off a Racer comeback to win by the five point margin.

The Braves held their longest lead with just over 15 minutes left in the game, 59 to 43, but the Racers began their drive, with Billy Chamber getting hot on his jump shot, and cut the lead to four points, 73 to 69, in the next ten minutes of play.

Murray could get no closer than four points, but did get within four points twice more, only to run out of time before they could massage a drive that would take them into the lead.

This was the fifth victory for Bradley, and the third loss for Murray, against four wins.

Both teams hit a good percent. Bradley connected on 31 of 38 from the field for 83.4 per cent. The Racers hit 82.7 per cent as they hit 36 of 47 attempts.

The difference came from the free throw line as Bradley hit 21 of 24 and Murray hit only 6 of 13.

The rebounds hurt also as big Dick Cunningham pulled in only six, some 15 or 16 under his game average. Bradley had 32 in this department while only got 25.

The Racers had four players in double figures, with Billy Chamber leading the way, with 20. Tom Moran scored 15, Ron Hornum had 14, Dick Cunningham had 13, and Don Fumestran ten.

All Smith of Bradley took several hours for the night with 22 followed by L. C. Brown with 21, Willie Betts and Joe Allen each posted 15.

The Racers return home Wednesday night to play Culver Stockton. Game time is 7:30.

Murray High Will Face Trigg Tonight

Coach Bob Toon's Murray High Tigers will face a formidable foe from Trigg County tonight in the Murray High gym.

Some of the B-Team game will be 6-45 with the victory game following immediately. Murray fans should see the Tigers in action tonight since they are showing improvement with every game of the season.

Trigg has a 3-1 record for this year and the one loss was in an overtime. They have a fast team and this will be a tough test for the Tigers tonight. "If we can beat this club, it will mean we have improved over the start of the season," Coach Toon said.

The Tigers play next in the Calloway County High Tournament in the first game on Thursday night against Mayfield. "We're looking forward to meeting Mayfield again and we feel we have a good chance of beating them this time," the Murray coach said.

Murray High needs a good turnout of students and boosters for the tournament game to be held in the Calloway High gym.

Miss Linda Kay Dibble Becomes Bride Of Orville Jack Haskins In Lovely Ceremony At The First Christian Church In Murray

MRS. ORVILLE JACK HASKINS

The sanctuary of the First Christian Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Linda Kay Dibble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Dibble of Murray, to Orville Jack Haskins, son of Mrs. William Haskins and the late William Haskins of Falconer, New York, on Saturday, November 25.

Rev. William Porter, minister of the church, performed the double ring nuptial ceremony at five o'clock in the evening.

The altar was flanked with white Grecian columns holding urns of white chrysanthemums with three antique white candelabra on either side holding candle-like candles. At the center of the altar flanked by two white candelabra, were brass candel sticks holding tall white lighted candles standing at each side of the kneeling bench. The communion table was centered with a single tall white candle that was lighted simultaneously by the bride and groom. Each then extinguished their individual candle symbolizing the uniting of two lives into one.

The pews were marked with single candle holders entwined with leather leaf and white mums. The windows of the sanctuary were lighted with tall cathedral candles entwined with leather leaf and white mums.

The church register was kept by Mrs. David Dunson at the table covered with a white linen cloth and graced by a colored portrait of the bride and a crystal bud vase of pink roses.

Miss Ann Kay Sanders greeted the guests as they entered for the reception which was in the following hall of the church following the wedding.

The beautifully appointed table was draped with white satin overlaid with white net and skirted with a double ruffle of white net. Swags of white net were tacked up in the center and corners with pink carnations and pink satin ribbons. An arrangement of white tulip chrysanthemums, pink roses, and pink feathers in a gorgeous sterling silver container centered the table. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with pink and white frosting. Placed at the rear of the reception table were candelabra holding tall white lighted tapers which shed a soft glow over the table.

Miss Betsy Sprunger presided at the silver punch bowl and Miss Judy Howard and Mrs. Larry Wade cut the cake. Miss Barbara Sue Dowdy, Miss Millie Lester, Miss Ann Bradley, Mrs. Audrey Schaller, Mrs. W. L. Polly, Mrs. Colman McKel, and Mrs. A. C. Sanders assisted with the reception.

Miss Jane Bason played background piano selections during the reception.

Following the ceremony the couple left to the accompaniment of singing church bells for an unannounced wedding trip. Before departing on their trip the bride and groom joined the wedding party and out of town guests for a buffet supper at the Kenlake Hotel.

The bride's going away costume was a camel tan three piece wool suit, featuring a finger tip cape. Her hat and accessories were black and pinned at her shoulder was a gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Haskins are now residing at 39 Carlton Street, Falconer, New York, where Mr. Haskins is coaching athletics and Mrs. Haskins will soon begin her chosen field of work as an elementary school teacher. Both Mr. and Mrs. Haskins are graduates of Murray State University.

Get Gang's Help for Handicapped

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school freshman and belong to a church group which meets every Friday night. There is a boy in this group who is handicapped and I am not sure how to help him. I am not saying this to be mean, Abby, I really do. Everyone makes fun of him but me.

My problem is, he keeps hanging around me asking me to do weird things, like telling him if he blinks his eyes, etc. I don't want to have a good time, and I can't with this kid bothering me all the time. I don't want to tell him to get lost or anything like that because I hate to hurt his feelings. But what can I do? He keeps following me around.

I have even considered dropping out of the group, but I don't want to because it could be a lot of fun if it weren't for this kid. How can I get rid of him nicely?

DEAR MOTHER: Allow your daughter's fiancé "X" number of guests, and let him invite whom-ever he wishes.

DEAR ABBY: I know you've had several letters on this subject, but will you please answer it again, and this time a little more specifically?

What can I do about people who come right out and ask me how old I am? I know there must be several ways to avoid answering this rude question, but I am so stumped when someone asks me, I always blurt out the truth.

It's not that I am ashamed of my age, Abby. I just resent the nerve of those people who ask me and get away with it.

Please come up with a razor-sharp answer. I'm sure lots of women like me will listen you for it.

DEAR GOING: Lean over, and in a very confidential manner ask, "Can you keep a secret?" The inevitable reply will be, "Yes." Then you say, "Well, so can I."

Those present were: Marion Palumbo, Sherrie Owen, Joyce Wright, Lillian Blackwell, and Berta Link.

CONFIDENTIAL TO G. G.

Her formal gown, designed and created by her mother, of ivory silk and wool otoman was fashioned with a simple scoop neckline and long fitted sleeves with tiny covered buttons that closed at the wrist. The empire waistline was accented with a bias band and the skirt was fashioned into a slight A-line. The wrists of the sleeves as well as the skirt front panel were exquisitely accented with French re-embroidered Alencon lace that was hand applied forming a point over the hands and a pyramid design extending up the front panel. The bottom of the gown was designed with a scalloped border of matching Alencon lace.

Her cathedral length Spanish mantilla, also designed and created by her mother, of ivory English silk illusion was bordered with scalloped re-embroidered Alencon lace. The center bottom of the veil featured hand applied lace in a pyramid design identical to that of the gown with additional applied designs extending up the veil and along the sides. Her mantilla, attached to a pillowbox of ivory silk and wool otoman, flowed gracefully into a cathedral length train.

An opal pendant, a gift from the groom, was her only jewelry. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias tied with white satin ribbon and streamers of pearls which symbolize love.

Attendants
Miss Deborah Dibble, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and wore a floor length gown of olive green crepe designed with a scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves featuring an empire waist-

Veterans Questions & Answers

Q - I expect to graduate from college next spring and go into service for at least three years. Throughout college I have received a monthly check from the Veterans Administration under the War Orphans Assistance Act. When I complete my military service, will I again be eligible for VA educational assistance as a veteran? A - Not under existing law. If you were a full time student in college and received a War Orphans Educational Assistance allowance for 36 months, you will not be entitled to further educational benefits as a veteran. The maximum entitlement of any person to Federal assistance for full time education is 36 months. Any additional education for which the person would receive an allowance from the U. S. Government would constitute "duplication of benefits," which is prohibited.

Q - My deceased husband's headstone furnished by the Army has become unsightly because of age. Will the Army furnish me another marker for his grave? A - Each request is decided on its own merits. You should apply for a replacement marker to Chief Support Service, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C. 20315. In your application be sure to give full details concerning the appearance and disrepair of the present headstone.

KIDNEY TRANSPLANT

LONDON (AP) - A surgeon has successfully transplanted a kidney from the test-ear victim of a hit and run accident in a man facing death, it was disclosed Friday. Medical authorities withheld the name of the surgeon and the hospital but said the operation was performed two hours after John Strain, 33, was killed two weeks ago. The boy's mother immediately gave permission, recognizing the doctor as the one who saved her life five years ago.

New best-seller SIEGE in the SUN by MARY PARADISE

CHAPTER 22 DOCTOR MABLEY had seen a red quite unworked about Tom Wheeler's condition - there were more serious cases to interest him - but Elizabeth Willoughby hovered as near as misted as possible, determined to be within call when he returned to consciousness. She was not the only one interested in his return to consciousness, for a little while after admission one of Colonel Baden-Powell's officers came to sit by his bed. He had the matron's permission to do so. Mr. Wheeler might have information for which they were impatiently waiting. So little news had come into the beleaguered town in the last weeks that someone who had got through the lines was of the greatest importance. It was nearly as now before Tom's eyelids quivered. A moment later they lifted, and the dark, quenched eyes looked straight into Lizzie's. "Don't try to talk," she said. "I have some truth for you. Lieutenant Mabley, she went so severely to the officer who was leaning eagerly across the cot, "allow the patient to recover. Be kind enough to leave him until he has some nourishment." "Turning the place already - Miss Lizzie! Got me - captive." "At least, I'm better than the boys," Elizabeth said. There was a brief bitter argument outside the ward. Lieutenant Mabley was complaining of Colonel Hill that he had not been allowed to interrogate a patient for information, for whom the Colonel was waiting. Did she give all her junior nurses such authority? "The patient is healthy," he answered after taking the first nourishment he has probably not for days. I only refused to allow him to be awakened. "The matron's lips tightened. "I happen to know who the patient in question is, nurse. And I appreciate the Lieutenant's urgency." She was reluctant to take the side of a junior nurse and an untrained one at that, who seemed to have become far too uppish, but her own training asserted itself. The patient's good must come first. "But I don't imagine the war will be lost by waiting another hour or so for whatever vital information Mr. Wheeler may have. You must simply inform Colonel Baden-Powell the patient isn't yet regained consciousness. Nurse Willoughby! Will you be good enough to go and help Edward three. One of the nurses has gone off sick. I'm sure you'll find plenty to do." Mr. Wheeler had woken and talked to the lieutenant and fallen asleep again. He was stronger and had asked to be shaved first thing in the morning. The news he had brought back was far from reassuring. Both Kimberley and Ladysmith were under siege. Twenty thousand men under Sir George White were immobilized at Ladysmith, and the Boers were reported to be massing on the Modder River, which would cut off any hope at present of its relief. Such news meant that the relief for Mafeking was even farther away. It would be only the most optimistic now who expected necessities to be over by Christmas. Rather, preparations must be made for a long siege. The threatened rationing would begin, Elizabeth thought. Supposing the food ran out. Supposing one had to watch the children getting thin and weak from malnutrition. A grown man like Tom Wheeler could stand it, but little children, like Henrietta and Fanny and Daisy. Even Tom's face in the dim light looked skeleton thin. She had half dozed herself when she aware of his eyes watching her. "Lizzie! Is that you?" "Yes, it's me." "Am I as bad as that?" "Oh, no. The doctor said you were not bad at all." "Then why are you sitting up with me?" "Because I was so glad to see you safely back," Elizabeth said, too happy for anything but non-sensical. "Steady," said Tom wryly. "I have a bullet wound and I'm dehydrated, and I had to shoot my horse three days ago when he stumbled in a meadow hole and broke a fetlock, and I had a touch of sunstroke, but I suppose you could say I'm safe." "Yes. You are how. Can I get you anything? The doctor said you had to drink a lot." "Fine. I'd like a large whiskey." "Oh, now -" "All right. I'm in a hospital as I suppose I have to behave myself. How am I looking?" "Terrible. That beard." His thin fingers felt it. "I agree. I doubt if even my wife would recognize me." Elizabeth stood up, saying calmly, "I did, so I expect she would. Now I'm going so that you can rest." His weak, hoarse voice followed her. "Do be a good girl and try to get me a whiskey, Lizzie. I've been rethinking about it for days." "Lizzie bit her lips, restraining her angry disappointment. She had been waiting her time with her vigil at his bedside. He woke up and talked of whiskey and his wife. The sound of voices had other patients a-stir. Lizzie said, "Sh!" sharply and uptook out of the ward. Ten minutes later she was back with a medicine glass half full of amber liquid. "It's brandy, not whiskey. I stole it out of the medicine cupboard. Don't blame me if it kills you." "Lizzie!" His weak voice shook with laughter. "You're a worthy successor to Florence Nightingale. But he was too weak to sit up. She had to lift his head and hold the glass to his lips. Which virtually would make her a murderer if the brandy did kill him. It didn't, of course. It merely made him fall instantly asleep. And Corporal Robbins in the next bed was leaning over while peering hoarsely. "Counkin' you give me a nip, too, nurse?" "No, I could not. And if you dare to tell Sister -" "Bless you, love. I wouldn't breathe a word. If you're sweet on the lad, good luck to you." The next day Tom was considerably stronger. The barber had come and shaved him, so that now the hollows in his cheeks were alarmingly visible, but his eyes were bright, and in a day or two, the doctor said, he would be up and about, although it would be longer before he could use his hand. That night Annie Ryan died, and two more children were admitted to the hospital with suspicious symptoms. In addition, Alice Partridge went down with fever. Bertie came to look for Elizabeth. He waited near to nurse Alice. The hospital would have to do without her. It didn't look as if there would be any fighting or any wounded for a few days, because Cronje was moving out. Unexpected as that news was, it was true. A cloud of dust on the horizon marked his departure. Obviously called to another theater of the war, he took two companies and several guns. But General Snyman remained, and so did Cronje to constantly harass the town. The enemy was still very much in view. Nevertheless, the depleted numbers gave heart to the defenders. It was too soon to begin tossing their hats in the air, but at least they could be more optimistic. (To Be Continued Tomorrow.) Elizabeth can't stay away from Tom, even if it is disturbing to see him.

FINS 'N FEATHERS FRIENDS

Mr. Louis Williams, from the Early Bird Oil Co., went on his first hunt in four years last week. He and Norm Dyson, Murray Route One, and Bob Wright, from Louisville, shared the same blind on the goose hunt last Thursday, December 7th. They were hunting in Ballard County and used 20 gauge shotguns. They bagged 4 geese! Mr. Wright left before our camera arrived and we missed him.

Fins 'n Feathers

A little worse for wear and showing positive symptoms of battle fatigue, we're still battling a 1000. We've missed all sporting events, the winners, any and all pertinent information and what-not. With each passing week it's becoming increasingly difficult to contact anyone, for any reason, at any given time.

While falling miserably at whatever specific mission we embark upon, a number of new friends and hunting dogs met recently add a heaping measure of sunshine to balance the scales. Finding readers in many unexpected places causes Junior to wonder why you find it so difficult to call or come by and visit. We are pleased that you read us, even if we don't hear from you.

Sammy Gafford, of Fitts Block and Ready-Mix Co., is a rabbit hunter. "Rusty" and "Dusty" are his Beagle hounds. While in the office of this company we were intrigued by a number of mottoes, etc., on the wall. This one in particular. To wit: "Do you help with the solution, or are you a part of the problem?" When you visit in their office please notice the one concerning the salesman. Does it remind you of anyone?

Kenneth Lamb, who works at Rubin James' battery shop, is a bird hunter with a pointer named "Lady". His hunting buddy is Jim Farris, of Mayfield. "Spot" is Mr. Farris' pointer. These hunters bagged six on their last hunt.

Rafe Brooks, from Murray Wholesale Co., and Hub Miller were squirrel hunting on opening day of the season. With the able assistance of "Bullet" (a bull dog yet) these hunters limited out in less than two hours.

Will Ed Stokes, of Stokes Tractor and Implement Co., owns two pointers, "Lady" and "Queen". His hunting partner is Hassel Kuykendall, also from the Stokes Co. Monday these hunters bagged 14 quail. According to our reports these hunters would bag more game if Hassel could hit the target more often! Hold your fire friend. Don't get your "dander up". We took your trick and "reved it up" a little. Instead of telling it on radio, we mention it in the L&T where EVERYONE will read it. O.K.?

Bill Etherton and Hill Gardner were cooning Tuesday night and caught one out on South 18th Street. Bill's bluetick "Queen" and Hill's registered black and tan "Big Sam" shared the fun.

David Hudson, Roger Hudson and Tip Miller, with the six Beagles (whose names we couldn't learn) were rabbit hunting Wednesday, December 6th, and bagged 6. They also got 8 quail on the Land Between the Lakes area.

The following hunt Owen Norsworthy and David Hudson bagged 2 ducks. Roger Hudson is 16 years of age, owns a squirrel dog named "Thunder" and is a "seasoned" hunter. These two partners bagged 6 squirrels (3 fox and 3 gray) on their last hunt. Tip Miller labeled Roger "Ole Dead Eye" and he lives up to the name.

C. W. Scott, of Scottie's Standard Station, is a rabbit hunter. If he had the time. He hasn't been hunting yet this year. He has two Beagles, "Red" and "Lady". Scottie, you and the Beagles deserve a day of your own, at least once during the season. We hope you will take a day off and go hunting. This fellow enjoys fishing also.

Tony Gardner took "Jim" and "Moose", the black and tans of Bill Mohundro, and went squirrel hunting last Saturday. The young hunter bagged 4. Must converse with "Mo" about our coon hounds switching game. Tony is a nice youngster and he used some good hunting dogs. Wonder why Bill didn't send our trophy-winning "Blackie". Sorry we didn't get a picture of Tony, his game and the hounds.

Hill Gardner had started duck hunting Thursday, December 6th, when he noticed a pair of unusually large beavers building a dam in the lake. These specimen being larger than a beaver "oughta" be, he brought one in. The beaver weighed 41 pounds and that's no runt, ole friend.

Naturally we're "grinnin'" like a cow eatin' sawbriars" because this is the first opportunity to get this hunter in our sights (camera-wise) in fourteen long months of ceaseless effort. Mr. Gardner is a good match for Doc Arnett. These two gentlemen are among the greatest sportsmen, admired and respected by all, but by thunder they are the most difficult pair when you try for a story or picture.

Joe Pat Jones, Dale Garland, Bill Etherton and Sonny Robbins went back to No. 8 Island Saturday. They brought in 3 coon, with the aid of "Queen", "Champ", "Little John", "Polly" and "Rip Van Winkle". In case you're wondering... these are some of the hounds. Again time has run out and we're "500 miles away from home". Some year we may get the full story on some event, but don't count on it.

The Single Dog Hunt sponsored by the Twin Lakes Coon-hunters Club Saturday night, November 18th, resulted in two trophies earned. 1st place was won by Bill Mohundro and "Blackie", a black and tan. 2nd place trophy went to Ronald Phillips and "Little Joe", a black and tan we haven't met as yet.

Two of the nicest people we have met in many a moon are Roy and Odell Balentine of Roy's Lock and Safe Service. Please check the Ledger & Times each Tuesday for his ad and then share your business with them. We won't give you a "bum steer" on our friends or a place of business. Hope to give you some human interest stories on Mr. Balentine in the near future.

Here is Hill Gardner and that Beaver that he picked up on a duck hunting trip. Old Mr. Flattall weighed in at 41 pounds, which is going some for a Beaver.
