Seen & Heard Around Murray

Congratulations to 19 Holland on being named president of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association Board of Control. It's a good man.

J. Edgar Hoover says America is NOT a sick society. "No, our society is NOT sick. But I suggest we check the pulse of the self-styled diagnosticians who see a social malady from every snafu," he says.

There were just a pulling weeds and grass right out of the ground. Thought sure it was a weed. When we saw what it was, we just dug ourselves a little hole, plunked the Sultana back in the ground, watered it and today it has seven pink blooms on it. These are hardy plants which came up from the seed and they are not easily defeated.

Good luck to former correspondent Mrs. Lynnville out on the Hazel route. Says she has arthritis and can't write any more. We appreciated her comments.

The FBI bulletin gives this routine of a bunch of artists. They go through the motions of checking the gas pipe system in a house and when the homeowner is not looking he squirts lighter fluid on a joint, then with the homeowner looking on lights a match. Naturally the lighter fluid burns and the match says there is a leak and signs the homeowner to a contract for an immediate, expensive and unnecessary repair job.

If we do not do anything else next Spring we are going to plant some giant Sunflower seed. We planted a short row this Spring, but the Jay Birds cleaned them out before they had a chance to come up.

Hats off to the local Reserve Unit now in training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Fort Jackson was the first army post we were assigned to in WWII. (Of course that was 400 years ago).

We respect any man, regardless of his color or station in life, who is honest, decent and is making an honest effort to maintain a better way of life.

Wealth has nothing to do with it, but integrity has everything to do with it.

Nothing can replace in a man the attributes of integrity, honesty, decency, and sense of fair play.

Other programs encouraged delegates to return home and begin community action projects designed to combat local juvenile delinquency.

Mandatory Meal Tickets Are Out At Murray State

Mandatory meal tickets for dormitory students are a thing of the past at Murray State University.

Students enrolling at the university in September will have an option about whether to buy a semester meal ticket or not. In addition, the tickets will be transferable for the first time.

The new plan was approved by the board of regents during the spring upon the recommendation of President Harry M. Sparks. It will be the first time in the university's history a voluntary meal ticket plan has been in effect.

Announcement of the change in policy in March was met by an overwhelmingly favorable response from students.

Students who prefer a meal ticket have the choice of a five-day per week rate or a seven-day per week rate. Semester rates are $172 for the five-day plan and $212 for the seven-day plan.

Individual meals for students without meal tickets will be 60 cents for breakfast, 80 cents for lunch, and 90 cents for dinner. A la carte service will also be offered.

The cafeterias are available on the campus, offering a total seating capacity of almost 1,700. Winslow Cafeteria seats about 1,000 and the Waterfield Student Union Building Cafeteria seats almost 700.

Old Store Stocks History

SCOTTSDALE, Ore. (UPI)—Hedden's store in this small Oregon town is good for supplies and history — there are plenty of both.

The 117-year-old business stocks the usual groceries, work clothes and dry goods. But also on hand are tortoise-shell hairpins, whalebone casing for corsets, straight razors and a pan used for finding gold.

The nostalgic items also include boot jacks, butter molds, a moustache iron, a 400-year-old clock and a wooden body cradle.

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 13, the 226th day of 1968 with 140 to follow.

Readership

LA PLATA, Argentina (UPI)—About one in four inhabitants of La Plata, which has a population of about 300,000, buys a newspaper daily, according to David Krauseburd, director of the newspaper El Dia de La Plata.

Krauseburd said this average puts the people of La Plata on a par with the French in newspaper buying and gives them one of the highest rates of newspaper buying in the world.

Sharp Decrease Noted In Russian Birth Rate

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russian birth rate is falling fast and the nation faces the prospect of a static population in the 1970s, a leading demographer warns.

Social economist V. Perevedentsev said in the weekly Literaturnaya Gazeta (Literary Gazette) that official Soviet statisticians were hiding the facts from the country.

He said the net growth in population had plummeted from 18 per thousand in 1926 to 13 in 1966—to a higher standard of living, a better education, the population will cease to grow by the early 1970s, and then start to decline," he said.

The Soviet Union would be faced with an aging population, with the effective work force becoming an ever-smaller proportion of the population, and the percentage of pensioners rising sharply.

Reasons
Perevedentsev attributed the drop in the birth-rate—down from 44 per thousand in 1926 to 13 in 1966—to a higher standard of living, a better educated population, the growth of urbanization, and the increasing participation of women in the country's economic and public life.

Soviet scientists, he said, rejected the ease with which abortions are available in this country as a major cause of the decline.

However, he added, demographers need much more information about family planning in the Soviet Union, about the number of children couples plan to have and their reasons for limiting their families to one or two.

He complained the central economic planning commission, Gosplan, and the central statistical agency had failed to include questions to elicit this information in the forms prepared for next year's general census.

He called for starting family bonuses from the state with the first or second child, instead of with the fourth, as is done now.

Lieutenant Zimbalist graduated from Harvard in June with a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics and received a commission in military intelligence through the U.S. Army ROTC program.

A record number of nearly 18,000 new college graduates received U.S. Army officer commissions in June through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program.

ROTC, the largest single officer-producing program for the Active Army, enables a college student to earn both a degree in the field of his choice and a second lieutenant's commission at the same time.

Many of the new officers who were commissioned from the 247 colleges and universities that have ROTC programs attended school on full-tuition ROTC scholarships.

Each year the Army awards 800 four-year scholarships to outstanding high school graduates and more than 800 two-year awards to selected college sophomores who have completed the first two years of ROTC training.

All ROTC students receive an allowance of $50 a month during their junior and senior years of college. Except for scholarship and flight training students and graduates commissioned in the Regular Army, the active duty obligation for ROTC graduates is two years.

Painting With Sand

Mrs. Joseph Phetteplace poses with some of her paintings.

The glint in this grosbeak's eye really is a grain of sand.

By RAY BARTH

Central Press Association Correspondent
WAUKEGA, Wis.—A single grain of sand forms the glint in the eye of an evening grosbeak and a star in the American flag in the incredibly painstaking art of Mrs. Joseph Phetteplace.

Where the Wisconsin and Kickapoo Rivers wash sand down to the sea, Mrs. Phetteplace, with the same timeless patience, paints sand pictures in bottles.

The number of sand bottle artists in the world isn't known. It is certain there are not many.

With spoons, some scarcely thicker than a toothpick, Betty Phetteplace "paints" a picture layer upon layer, using 36 hues of sand she finds in the river bottoms.

Loose and dry, the sand is held in position by tamping it down so gently that not a grain moves out of place.

The picture is about a quarter-inch thick and forms a continuous scene around a bottle. The center space is packed tight with sand to reduce settling. No glue or other stabilizer is used.

Unable to teach the art to others, Mrs. Phetteplace says it can only be done by doing. A picture in a jelly jar took six weeks, "every day and half the night."

She tried a hypodermic needle to get individual grains in just the right places, but it didn't work.

Sometimes a grain of sand is too big and she hammers it into pieces to achieve finer detailing. No glue or other stabilizer is used.

Satchel Page Will Try To Make The Big Leagues Again

By RABUN MATTHEWS
ATLANTA (UPI)—Ageless Satchel Paige, who may be 70 years old, set out today to win a pension plan and see if he can still get major league batters out.
There were some observers who figured this was a good year for him to try. Far younger men than Paige are having little trouble.
Paige was signed Monday by the Atlanta Braves as an "adviser" and, perhaps, part-time pitcher.
"We expect Paige to get into shape and be ready to pitch when called upon," said Braves President William C.
Bartholomay.
Paige's last appearance in the big leagues was in 1965, when he donned a Kansas City uniform and pitched three innings of scoreless ball against Boston. Since then he has worked as a deputy sheriff in Kansas City.

"I'll just have to see if I can unfurl," said Paige. "If I can throw half as good as I could last year," when he appeared in a few exhibitions, "then I know I can still get 'em out."
But the chief reason for signing Paige appeared to be philanthropic. Bartholomay said Paige will be kept on the active roster through this year and in one capacity or another through 1969, long enough to give him the 158 more days he needs to qualify for a major league pension.
"Satchel Paige is one of the greatest pitchers of all time," said Bartholomay. "Baseball would be guilty of negligence should it not assure this legendary figure a place in the pension plan."
Paige, a victim of the longtime ban on Negro players, didn't make the majors until 1948, when he helped Cleveland win the American League pennant with a 6-1 mark. He also worked for the St. Louis Browns, and later was a reliever for the Miami Marlins of the International League, where he presided over the bull pen in an easy chair.
Estimates of his age range from 60 to 70. He was born in Mobile, Ala., but he said the "midwife died and all the books burned up," destroying any record of his birthdate.

TIME OUT

—by—
GALE

Ron Hansen is wondering what else can happen, after a week in which he made an unassisted triple play, struck out six straight times, hit a grand slam homer, and was traded for a player he had been traded for earlier.

Hansen was filling in at shortstop for the Senators while they were playing at Cleveland, when he made the unassisted triple play. Dave Nelson of the Indians led off with a single to center and Russ Snyder walked.
They were running on a 3 and 2 count when Joe Azcue lined to Hansen, who stepped on second, doubling Nelson, and moved two steps to tag Snyder as he came into second.

It was the first unassisted triple play in 41 years and only the seventh in regular-season history.

Three of these have occurred in Cleveland, and Cleveland has been involved in all five pulled in the American League—they were the victim three times.

Of the three that happened in the National League,
two happened at Pittsburgh.

Jimmy Cooney was involved in two, once when he was put out by Glen Wright and once, two years later when he made his own unassisted triple play.

All the plays were made with runners on first base and second base.

Two were made by first basemen, one by a second baseman, and five by a shortstop.

Two were made on successive days, May 30 and May 31, 1927.

Here is a review on the unassisted triple plays.

Neal Ball, Shortstop, Cleveland vs. Boston at Cleveland, July 19, 1909. He put out Amby McConnell, Heinie Wagner and Jake Stahl.

William A. Wambgsrass, Second baseman, Cleveland vs. Brooklyn, in world series game at Cleveland, October 10, 1920, in the fifth inning. He retired Clarence Mitchell, Pete Kildo Kilduff and Otto Miller.

George H. Burns, First baseman, Boston vs. Cleveland at Boston, on September 14, 1923, in the second inning. He retired Frank Browerby catching his line drive, tagged Frank Lutzke off first base and then ran to second and reached that bag, before Joe Stephenson could return from third.

Ernest K. Padgett, shortstop, Boston vs. Philadelphia at Boston on October 6, 1923. He retired Cotton Tierney, Walter Holke and Cliff Lee.

F. Glen Wright, shortstop, Pittsburgh vs. St. Louis at Pittsburgh on May 7, 1925 in the ninth inning. He retired Jim Bottomley, Jimmy Cooney and Rogers Hornsby.

James E. Cooney, shortstop, Chicago vs. Pittsburgh on May 30, 1927 in the fourth inning. He retired Paul Waner, Lloyd Waner and Clyde Barnhart.

John H. Neun, first baseman, Detroit vs. Cleveland at Detroit on May 31, 1927. He retired Homer Summa, Glen Jamieson and Charlie Myatt.

Ronald L. Hansen, shortstop, Washington vs. Cleveland at Cleveland, on July 30, 1968 of which you already know the details.

The night Hansen made his play he also fanned four straight times and added two more times the next night in Detroit. But three games later during the fourth game at Detroit he came up with the bases loaded on one out and he crashed the ball into the seats in left field for a grand slam.

Then on Friday, manager Jim Lemon came into Hansen's room and informed him he had been traded back to the White Sox for Tim Cullen.

Underwood Captures Sun-Democrat Crown

By DANA COOK
Sun-Democrat Staff Writer

Ron Underwood of Murray broke Charles Champion's five-year domination of the men's singles of the Sun-Democrat Open Tennis Tournament Sunday at Barkley Park.

Underwood, former tennis star at Murray State, scored a 6-2, 6-3 victory in the finals over Champion, the top seeded and five-time defending champion.

The finals late Sunday afternoon marked the end of a marathon day of tennis for both finalists. It was the sixth match of the day for Underwood and the fifth for Champion.

In what was perhaps the most exciting match of the tournament, Champion struggled to a 13-11, 4-6, 6-3 victory over John King of Hopkinsville in the semi-finals.

Underwood breezed into the finals with a 6-0, 6-0 win over Henry Baughman of Murray.

in between his semi-final win over Baughman and his final match with Champion, Underwood teamed with Paul Rowton of Paducah to win the men's doubles, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3, over Baughman and Jesse Spencer of Murray.

The 18-and-under singles title was captured by Norman Parnakoff of Granite City, Ill. He defeated 14-year-old Alan Spencer, 6-0, 6-0, in the finals. Parnakoff and Spencer combined to win the 18-and-under doubles, 6-0, 6-0, over Steve Baker and Larry Crawford, both of Paducah.

Charles Wadlington of Paducah, a vacationer at Kentucky Lake, defeated Ricky Hall of Gilbertsville, 6-1, 6-3, to win the 14-and-under singles title.

Spencer and Hall teamed to win the 14-and-under doubles, 6-0, 6-1, over Bill Conyer and Craig Smith of Paducah.

Sunday's schedule of play was loaded up by rain Saturday afternoon, which washed out a full round of matches.

Tournament Director Paul Rowton said the entry total of 118 for the three divisions was the largest ever of the tourney.

"We had 32 entries in the men's singles alone and we had the best caliber of play ever," Rowton said.

The tourney director thanked participants for their cooperation and their understanding of the problems created by the rain.

been playing the month of August.

Larry Jaster allowed nine hits and five runs in 5 2-3 innings in losing his eighth game in 16 decisions but hit a solo homer in the fifth his second in the major leagues.

Felipe Alou triggered a six-run first inning outburst off George Cuyver with a leadoff double and capped it with a run-scoring single as the Braves blasted the Reds, Mike Lum's two-run single was the key blow of the inning which saddled Cuyver with his 12th loss. Rookie George Stone, with seventh-inning relief help from Cecil Upshaw, gained his third triumph.

"We'll never rest until we knock the Cardinals out of their nest," laughed Mr. Cub, Ernie Banks, after Chicago had flattened the Cards 7-3 Monday.

A widely cheering crowd of 30,693 believers saw home runs by Bill Williams and Jim Hickman and the eight-hit pitching of Bill Hands enable the Cubs to post their eighth win in the last 11 games and their 28th in the last 38.

In the only other National League game, the Atlanta Braves battered the Cincinnati Reds 9-2.

Denny McLain notched his 24th victory as the Detroit Tigers defeated Cleveland 6-3. Baltimore edged Oakland 3-1. Washington blanked Minnesota 2-0. Boston nipped Chicago 2-1 and New York topped California 5-2.

Durocher Is Trying For Another "Miracle Drive"

Leo Durocher

By JOE GERGEN
UPI Sports Writer

Four million people in Chicago would like to see Leo

Durocher do it again.

Durocher, the tough-talking manager of the Chicago Cubs, commanded the New York Giants during their famous "miracle" drive of 1951 in which they overcame a 13 1-2 game deficit and overtook the Brooklyn Dodgers to win the National League pennant.

And Durocher may be doing just that, at least on the surface. It may be just a coincidence but the 1951 Giants trailed the Dodgers by 13 games on the night of Aug. 12 and the 1968 Cubs trailed the front-running St. Louis Cardinals by the same margin on the same date.

Dear Abby

Even 'Respectable' Kids Are Human

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am absolutely furious and don't know where to turn. My son, Dick, is 23 and has been out of the service for 2 months. Dick met a girl about a month ago and he's been seeing a lot of her. She is 22. Now he tells me that he's driving to the west coast [we live in Ohio] and this girl is driving along with him [just the two of them] as she has never seen the west. Dick said that the girl's mother is all for it. I wondered just what kind of mother would be "all for" a trip like this, so I rang her up and she said, "I raised my daughter to be a respectable girl, and if you raised your son to be a respectable boy, what do we have to worry about?" I was speechless. How would you have answered her?

"SPEECHLESS"

DEAR SPEECHLESS: I would have said, "To send a couple of healthy, normal kids who are obviously physically attracted to each other off alone together on a cross-country trip is asking for trouble. No matter how 'respectable' they were in Ohio, a little hanky-panky can be expected about the middle of Missouri."

DEAR ABBY: The other day you printed a letter about a couple who stayed together because of their kids. As far back as I can remember my parents' hated each other, but refused to separate. As a matter of fact, one of my earliest recollections was watching my father try to kill my mother. I was about 3 at the time.

Dad was an alcoholic. He was insufferable when drunk. He wasn't much better when he was sober.

When my teacher asked our class to write a composition titled, "Why My Father Should Be Chosen Father of the Year," I smiled a little smile and asked if there were any alternate assignments.

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column the other day where a girl wrote in and said her family was much happier now that her parents got divorced than they were when the parents were trying to stay together for the sake of the kids.

Well, my parents have been divorced for 5 years now, and they tried to stay together for a few years before that. I don't know which was worse. Them together or them apart. It is really terrible for us kids, but I guess maybe they just weren't meant for each other.

All I can say is I hope to God more couples think more before getting married 'cause if they did it would sure save the kids a lot of unhappiness.

"I KNOW" [age 11]

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BARBARA": I disagree with you. It is NOT always better to have "loved and lost." Many would have chosen never to have loved, if they could get back what they lost.

Mrs. Crawford Is Program Leader At The WSCS Meeting

The Faith Doran Circle presented the program at the August meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. F. E. Crawford, chairman of the circle, introduced the program on the subject "Americans Abroad." The study was designed to help understand that as laymen we are in mission wherever we are, and that overseas we have great opportunities and responsibilities, and to encourage American Christians to give themselves in mission in secular capacities in countries all over the world, Mrs. Crawford said.

The study material was presented in the form of questions and answers with Mrs. Crawford as moderator. She was assisted in the program by Mrs. Bun Swann, Mrs. Jack Wilcox, Mrs. Autry Farmer, Mrs. John Sammons and Mrs. Leonard Vaughn who represented laymen who have worked overseas in various secular capacities.

A number of the questions that are being asked almost daily of Americans abroad were discussed. Included were such questions as "Are Americans like the people we see in your movies? What does it mean to be a Christian? Why is there a high divorce rate in America? Why are people afraid to walk on your city streets at night? How is the Christian faith unique, and why are you in our country?"

Those participating in the program discussed the various ways in which persons living or traveling overseas may answer such questions in a Christian manner.

Mrs. R. A. Johnston led the devotion using scripture references from Romans 12th chapter, 1st Corinthians, 12th chapter, Ephesians 4th chapter.

The program was concluded with the singing of the hymn "More Love to Thee, O Christ" with Miss Frances Sexton, accompanist at the piano.

Mrs. Goldia Curd, president, presided at the business session of the general meeting and at the executive committee meeting. She read the "Proposals of the Women's Society of Christian Service."

Reports were given by representatives of the circles on the work done during the last year. Mrs. Rue Overby reported on the Conference Prayer Retreat which was held at Jackson, Tennessee.

On recommendation of the Executive Committee, Mrs. William Britton was elected delegate to the Conference School of Mission to be held August 19-23 at Jackson, Tennessee. One new member, Mrs. Mary Caudill, was recognized.

Mrs. Lois Newport Elected President Of Hazel WSCS

The general meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Hazel United Methodist Church was held Tuesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock at the church.

Mrs. Koska Jones presented a very impressive installation service for the following new officers:

Mrs. Lois Newport, president; Mrs. Olga Freeman, vice-president; Mrs. Claude Anderson, secretary; Mrs. J. B. Herning, treasurer; Mrs. Lois Smotherman, Arra Dunn circle chairman; Mrs. E. Whitmore, Carolyn Circle chairman.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Newport. It was announced that the officers training day will be held August 27 at Trinity Church, Paris, Tenn. Mrs. Koska Jones will be the delegate to the School of Missions at Jackson, Tenn. August 19-23.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. S. Miller and Mrs. J. R. Taylor.

The gray flannel suit seems to have moved from advertising row on Madison Avenue to garment center row on Seventh. Every ready-to-wear firm seems to have run in some gray flannel in women's wardrobes for fall. It shows in sportswear, daytime costumes, casual wear, and dinner dresses. Designer Jacques Tiffau does numerous tunic-type daytime costumes, some belted, some smooth fitting in the flannel. Some are tunic tops combined with wide-legged trousers either in the same fabric or in taupe brown for contrast.

The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association recommends that after sanding you dampen a clean mop in mineral spirits and clean the floor before refinishing. Miss Carolyn Jean Wilson Becomes Bride Of Alfred Arthur Farrell In Ceremony

MRS. ALFRED ARTHUR FARRELL

The wedding of Miss Carolyn Jean Wilson and Alfred Arthur Farrell was solemnized in the Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ in Murray on Saturday, August 3, at half past six o'clock in the evening. Brother William Threet performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wilson of Murray. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farrell of Stamford, Conn. Both young people are summer graduates of Murray State University.

Prenuptial music for the occasion was provided by a vocal trio composed of Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Cleo Grogan, and Mrs. John Scott. Their selections were "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me," "Whither Thou Goest" and the traditional wedding march, Dr. Josiah Darvall sang "The Lord's Prayer" following the exchange of vows.

Harold Shoemaker and Joe Ginn lighted the candles preceding the approach of the wedding party who assembled in a setting of tranquil dignity before an altar highlighted by two eight tiered candelabra entwined with greenery.

A circular arch of greenery formed the setting for the exchange of vows with large baskets of white gladioli and yellow fuji mums completing the wedding scene. The family pews were marked by large white satin bows and tall tapers.

Bride's Dress
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal chapel length gown of white silk organza fashioned in the cage mode over semi-fitted peau de soie. The gown was enhanced by appliques of Venice lace over the skirt and formed the jewel neckline of the gown. Her gown was designed and made by her mother, Mrs. Wilson, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Hurt.

Her chapel length veil of silk illusion fell from a petal shaped tiara of seed pearls and crystal. Her only jewelry was seed pearl earrings, a gift of her grandfather, J. B. Hurt.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony the reception was held at the Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Harold Shoemaker presided at the guest register and assisted in greeting the guests. The bridal table was graced by linen cloth with twin arrangement of yellow gladioli and white gladioli. The five tiered wedding cake was crowned by cream white roses matching the bride's bouquet and the entire cake was encircled by greenery.

Guests were served by Mrs. Ed Wisner, Mrs. Cheryl Hicks, and Mrs. Joe Ginn.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip at Cumberland, Falls State Park. The bride chose to wear for traveling an aqua linen oriental styled dress with tiny white daisies down the sides. Her costume was completed by matching shoes and bag.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrell will be at home after August 30 in Stamford, Conn., where both have teaching positions for the coming school year.

Out of town guests included Pink Moody, Mrs. Robert Manes and children of Detroit, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wisner of Bowling Green, Ohio, Mrs. Larry McGuire and daughter, Kelly, of Park Forest, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Barry Johnson of Paducah, Mr. and Mrs. John Cochran of Mayfield, Mrs. Charlie Farrell and son, Keith of Millford, Conn.

Rehearsal Dinner
The rehearsal dinner was held on Thursday, August 21, at eight-thirty o'clock in the evening at the Southside Restaurant with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wilson as the hosts.

The T-shaped table was overlaid with a white linen cloth and was appointed with blown glass cornucopia filled with mixed summer flowers in a profusion of color with tall tapers in matching blown glass holders.

The places of the bridal couple were marked with twin loving cups filled with buttonhole size white flowers and entwined together by streaming ivy.

Places were marked for twenty-five persons.

Completing the final look of gracefulness was a bridal bouquet of cream white roses with satin streamers.

Mrs. Steve Tricarico served as matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of golden yellow and beige basketweave satin brocade. The dress was trimmed with yellow daisies and matching velveteen ribbon at the empire waist with tiny covered buttons down the back. Her floor length veil of yellow illusion fell from a large velveteen bow covered with daisies.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Barry Johnson and Miss Belinda Winchester. Their dresses and veils were identical to that of the honor attendant.

Miss Rita Wilson, sister of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. Her dress was of the same fashion as the other attendants except was of white basketweave satin brocade with a floor length white veil.

Short white gloves and old fashioned baskets covered with satin and filled with yellow daisies completed the costumes of all the attendants.

Serving his brother as best man was Charlie Farrell. Groomsman were Larry Wilson, brother of the bride, Rod Farrell, Harold Shoemaker, and Joe Ginn.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wilson chose to wear a pale pink linen A-line dress accented by green and pink emerald broderie trining at the empire waist with matching accessories of the same pale pink. Her corsage was of cream white roses and satin ribbons.

Mrs. Farrell, mother of the groom, chose a pale green crepe dress of sheath fashion and highlighted by a large bow at the neckline. Her accessories were of matching pale green and her corsage was of cream white roses with satin ribbons.

Strawberry mist is an early American recipe from the New England colonies. Crumble 24 stale almond macaroons and combine with 1 1/2 cups of ground toasted almonds. Whip 1 cup of heavy cream and fold in. Chill. Puree 1 quart of fresh strawberries. Pour over macaroon mixture just before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Plain Janes In Chic Paris Jolt French

By JOAN DEPPA

PARIS (UPI) — One of the biggest shocks to Paris visitors is that the legendary chic Frenchwoman has all but disappeared.

She will pay as much as a New Yorker who shops at exclusive specialty shops or department stores but her budget will generally be less than half that of her American counterpart.

The average Frenchwoman has two other alternatives. One, the traditional French seamstress, is becoming scarcer and scarcer, as well as more expensive.

The second is cheap, poorly made ready-to-wear garments primarily aimed at a young market. It is not at all uncommon for a dress in the $20 to $40 range to have an uneven hemline or some other equally blatant flaw that would immediately mark its wearer as badly dressed.

It is not surprising that many Frenchwomen seek a third way out—a quick shopping trip to London where they will have a large choice of dresses between $15 and $30 turned out by the efficient, imaginative ready-to-wear trade.

The greatest boon to the Frenchwomen's wardrobes probably would be Britain's admission to the Common Market, so that they could take advantage of its economy-minded rag trade and perhaps force their own into more realistic standards.

The ACV, one of three being tested by the U.S. Army in Vietnam, is built by Bell Aircraft Corp. of Buffalo, N.Y. The ACV is armed with two .50 caliber machineguns mounted in twin turrets atop the cabin, two M-60 machineguns mounted on either side of the boat and a 40mm grenade launcher on the port bow. The hard bottom of the craft is supported on a four foot cushion of air, enabling it to travel over land, water, mud or marsh.
