BARE SOUL TO COMPUTER?

(Jackson Sun)

At least one private citizen thinks Americans are overreacting to threats of invasion of privacy by government or other agencies.

"Secrets are for sharing," says Boston University psychologist Chester C. Bennett in an article in "Psychology Today" magazine.

The emergence of privacy as a social and political issue is a modern phenomenon, claims Bennett—a function of the population explosion, urbanization and technological "progress."

In an earlier, rural and less complex age, there was security in knowing one's neighbors and being known by them, he says. But as life becomes more crowded, privacy becomes elusive and, therefore, treasured.

We need to share experiences, he feels, to understand each other's views and aspirations as groups and institutions and individuals. It is the withholding of information, not its disclosure, that produces tension and misunderstanding, in other words.

The right to privacy is not absolute, Bennett points out. There are many situations in which, by law, the general welfare demands disclosure of personal information.

He predicts that in the foreseeable future it will be possible to collect biographical information for entire populations in computerized master files, permanently stored and instantly retrievable.

Our interdependence on each other will force us to become ever more sophisticated in the use of this information, he says. "Our lives will be fully programmed toward 'the greatest good for the greatest number.'"

"The technology is at hand. Will we be enslaved in fear and suspicion? Or shall we use our fast communication skills to foster trust and confidence that secrets can be shared, that personal information will be treated with respect and understanding for the benefit of man?"

That would seem to depend on a number of other questions, such as:

Will government ever be able to reciprocate and begin sharing its secrets with us?

Can bureaucrats shed their traditional suspicion and condescension toward those they supposedly serve, not to mention overcoming their talent for boondoggling that not infrequently results in the least good for the greatest number?

Until such time as these questions are answered in the affirmative, most Americans will quite understandably cling to their belief that some secrets are definitely not for sharing—at least not with an all-knowing computer run by "planful programmers."

Bible Thought for Today

He is not here: for he is risen, as he said.

—Matthew 28:6

The resurrection is the ground of our faith in God who is sufficient for this life and the next.

Kerner Study Ignored Says Badillo

New York: No improvement seen, Herman Badillo, Bronx borough president, said "The Kerner report has been totally ignored."

The Rev. Milton Galamison, Negro vice president of the Board of Education, said "There have been no substantial changes which would appreciably reduce racial tensions and the possibility of future riots."

Boston: Racial divisiveness seen as the continued problem, Ruth Bateson, a black community leader, said "the confrontation has gotten worse in many ways."

Mayor Kevin White said "...There will be no security and no fulfillment to be found in Boston as long as white and black remain symbols of groups in conflict. The highest aspiration of the administration will be to reconcile this city's people."

Houston: Progress, starting before the Kerner report, was reported, Blair Justice, Human Relations aide to the mayor, cited a long list of public community relations, youth employment and ghetto business programs, among others, as helping. Roger Rosenberg, Sr., a Negro community leader, said "I look for a cool pleasant summer with no racial trouble in the near future if things keep improving."

Cleveland: No improvement seen, and more trouble predicted, Lewis G. Robinson, cofounder of the Jomo Freedom Kennedy House, said "It looks as if America has a suicidal tendency where blacks are just a separate country and it is actually getting worse."

Edwards Katalinas, a white city councilman, said "unemployment, education and housing in the problem areas are worse today than eight months ago during the Glenville riot."

Atlanta: A mixed report, Dan Sweat, aid to Mayor Ivan Allen, listed a series of programs aimed at easing tensions, adding "our response to the Kerner report was the key factor to our not having any disturbances last summer."

But Negro state Rep. Julian Bond, while praising Allen, said "I don't think too much of anything has been done to implement the recommendations."

Newark: Some progress seen, Phillips E. Schragar, a Negro anti-poverty agency official, said "there has been a substantial reduction in tension and substantial progress made against those factors that contribute to an overt riot situation."

Kennedy Shaw, city administrator in nearby Plainview, N. J., said the Model Cities program, with heavy Negro involvement, was the principal activity over the past year aimed at cooling off community tension."

San Francisco: Like Atlanta, two views, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto said "There may have been a cooling of tensions because substantial progress was made in overcoming social ills in ghetto neighborhoods."

But Negro councilman Terry Francois, while noting "some significant steps," in the job and housing fields under Alioto, said "police-community relations have worsened" and there is unrest in the schools.

Detroit: Progress reported on jobs, but police-community problems and other remain, Negro editor Russell Jackson said industry is "trying harder" to solve problems than in most cities, "but I still don't think there's been a great deal of improvement. Tom Johnson, of the state civil rights agency, spoke of "some progress," especially on jobs, but like Jackson saw police relations as the critical issue.

Milwaukee: Open housing cited as progress, but problems remain. Mrs. Vel Phillips, a Negro city council member, said open housing legislation "had a good effect in reducing tensions," but lost "some of its meaning" because of relocation problems due to urban renewal. Her white council colleague, Clarence Miller, also mentioned job programs and changes in school courses, adding "I think if we continue along the programs we have now and also accelerate them we can forestall any future riots."

Washington: Opposite views from black and white, The Rev. Channing Phillips, a Negro, said "I haven't seen any evidence of any significant change." He said police-community, education, employment, and housing problems were basically untouched. But former city council chairman John W. Hechinger said progress had been made in consumer protection, citizen involvement in government and police community relations.

Boston Celtics Are After Their 11th Championship

By STU CAMEN
UPI Sports Writer

Like vintage wine, the Boston Celtics improve with age. Spurred by 35-year-old player-coach Bill Russell, the Celtics, seeking their 11th National Basketball Association playoff championship in 13 years, took another step toward attaining that goal Sunday afternoon by beating the New York Knicks, 108-100.

Unfortunately for the Knicks, who were coming off an impressive four-game sweep of Baltimore in their playoff opener, Russell wants another championship and he doesn't intend to let New York stand in his way. The second game in the series is at Boston Wednesday night.

In the only other playoff series, Atlanta moved to within one game division semifinal series against San Francisco in six games, Los Angeles dropped the first two of the best-of-seven series, but rebounded with four straight triumphs, the clincher coming Saturday night, 118-78.

John Havlicek's 25 points, including a key three-point play late in the final quarter, sparked the Celtics' offense. The Knicks, behind Walt Frazier's career-high 34 points, had out a 15-point Boston lead to four at 94-90 but Havlicek then sank a driving hook shot and was fouled on the play by Bill Bradley.

Unsold Gets Rookie Of The Year

WASHINGTON UPI — A man no longer in his prime playing a game that's supposed to be dying accomplishes what all the statesmen in the world cannot today when, for a few hours anyway, he unites two countries that don't even speak to each other anymore.

The man who'll do this is Camillo Pascual, a member of the Washington Senators, a native of Havana, Cuba, and at 35, still one of the best pitchers in baseball on any given day.

Pascual officially opens the 1969 baseball season by making the first pitch to Horacio Clark, leadoff batter for the New York Yankees, and when he does, President Nixon and Cuban Premier Fidel Castro are among those who'll be rooting for him even if they don't come right out and say so.

The President will be on hand personally at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium and he'll be pulling for Pascual and the rest of the Senators for any number of reasons. Primarily, who ever heard of anybody going out to the ballpark and not rooting for the home team?

Sentimental Favorites

Then, too, the Senators are sentimental favorites, the same way they always have been since the inaugural here. They are all the more so this year because Ted Williams is making his managerial debut and outside of the Yankees, nobody wants to see him lose. Not that first one, anyway.

As for Castro, he loves baseball, openly admits it and, like so many others in Cuba, still follows the progress of the major leaguers. Especially the Cuban major leaguers. And when Camillo Pascual goes against the Yankees, whom do you imagine he's going to root for?

During Pascual's time in the big leagues, with Washington and Minnesota, he has won 170 games and struck out 2,102 batters. Only Jim Bunning and Don Drysdale among those still active have struck out more.

Also in his time, Pascual has

Baseball's 100th Year Starts Today, Nixon To Throw First Ball

By United Press International
President Richard M. Nixon and Ted Williams, two of Washington's prominent new arrivals, were the key figures today when baseball, newly structured this year with four sixteen-division teams opened its 100th season.

President Nixon was called on to observe a tradition dating back to 1910—throwing out the first ball at Washington, where the Senators, under new Manager Williams, baseball's last 400 hits, play host to the New York Yankees to initiate the American League season.

More than 44,000 persons were expected to watch as the President continued the tradition last observed by William Howard Taft 59 years ago.

Williams, undertaking the strenuous task of lifting the Senators from the American League cellar, nominated Camillo Pascual, 35, as his starting pitcher, opposing New York's Mel Stottlemyre.

Gary Nolan, who won't be 21 until next month, was tabbed as the Reds' starting hurler against the Senators, under new Manager Nolan, hampered by an arm injury early last season, bounced back late in the year to win nine games. Drysdale, set a major league record last season, pitching 58 consecutive scoreless innings while compiling six straight shutouts.

The Dodgers, without center fielder Willie Davis, had rookies Ted Sizemore at short, Bill Sudakis at third and Willie Crawford in center in their opening lineup.

Ace right-hander Juan Marichal will be on the mound for the Giants against the Braves' Pat Jarvis. Marichal won 26 games last season with only nine losses. Jarvis was 16-12.

In Sunday's exhibition finale, Cincinnati downed Detroit 5-3. Cleveland shut out Montreal 3-0. Philadelphia blanked Baltimore 5-0. Pittsburgh beat Washington 5-2. St. Louis edged Kansas City 6-5. The Chicago White Sox beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3. San Francisco ripped the New York Yankees 8-1 and Houston topped Boston 3-0.

Also, the New York Mets ripped Dodger ace Don Drysdale. Nolan, hampered by an arm injury early last season, bounced back late in the year to win nine games. Drysdale, set a major league record last season, pitching 58 consecutive scoreless innings while compiling six straight shutouts.

Orioles Have Best Exhibition Record

By United Press International

The Baltimore Orioles, expected to battle for World Championship Detroit Tigers for supremacy in the American League's Eastern Division, compiled the best exhibition record inspiring training.

The Orioles won 19 of 24 games to finish with a stunning .792 percentage. The Tigers, who had troubles this spring, finished fifth with a dismal .347 mark.

The Chicago White Sox took honors in the Western Division with a 14-12 mark, barely nosing out Minnesota 12-12.

St. Louis and San Francisco, predicted by many experts as the national League's playoff contenders, justified that confidence in pre-season play. The Cardinals were tops in the East, posting a 16-9 mark to edge out the surprising New York Mets, while San Francisco easily took Western honors with a 19-7 record.

Murray State Stops Purdue Friday 7-0

Behind the five-hit pitching of David Gourieux, the Murray State baseball team beat Purdue University 7 to 0 Friday afternoon to run their record to 8 and 1 for the season. The second game Friday and both games Saturday, scheduled with North Dakota University were rained out. The "Bred" were leading North Dakota at the end of 3 1/2 innings, 5 to 1, in the second encounter Friday when rains forced cancellation of the game.

The Racers jumped off to a 3 to 0 lead against Purdue in the first inning, due primarily to the wildness of Dan Wirt, the starting Bollermaier pitcher. Murray received 4 bases on balls sandwiched between singles by Mike Fitzgerald and Bill Cole.

The Racers added another run in the second inning on singles by David Gourieux and Mike Fitzgerald, and an infield out by shortstop Tim Mappin. With a 4 to 0 lead, Murray added the icing in the fifth inning. Gourieux hit a long home run following a single by Stan Holman. Holman's base hit had plated Phil Hayden who had walked and stolen second base.

In the meantime, Purdue was finding Gourieux extremely stingy with base hits. Only in the last two frames did they get a man to third base and on both occasions Gourieux arose to the occasion by shutting the door without further damage.

The Thoroughbreds, who are currently 8 and 1 for the season, enjoy a three day rest before reporting back to practice on Wednesday prior to journeying to Tennessee to play Chattanooga University on Friday and a conference double-header with Middle Tennessee on Saturday.

Littler Wins Greensboro In Sudden Death

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UPI) — "If Jack Nicklaus is playing good, we don't even have a chance there," Tom Weiskopf was saying Sunday about the Masters tournament after he had lost the Greater Greensboro Open GGO championship in a sudden death playoff to Gene Littler — the second time he had been beaten in the GGO in a playoff.

But Weiskopf added "I don't know how Nicklaus is playing now." The prestigious Masters gets under way this week in Augusta, Ga. Nicklaus, as well as Arnold Palmer, passed up the GGO to practice at Augusta for the Masters.

Littler beat Weiskopf, PGA champ Julius Boros and Army veteran Orville Moody in the playoff Sunday to win $35,000 in first prize money in the GGO to go with the more than $54,000 he had won in previous events this year, making him golf's leading money winner in 1969.

But the 38-year-old Littler, who had finished the GGO's regulation four rounds in a tie at 10-under-par 274 with the other three players, had to go through five playoff holes before he connected on the 12-foot 442-yard, par-four 15th hole.

The win made Littler the only two-time winner this year. He won the Phoenix Open in February.

Boros, Moody and Weiskopf got $12,373 in prize money.

Dear Abby

Is Housework in the Nude O.K.?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We are ordinary married people with no big problems, but there is a little one which gives me trouble. I like to do my housework in the nude. I don't know why, but I just enjoy the freedom of not having any clothes on. I am no nudist, and wouldn't think of appearing that way in front of anybody but my husband. Is that so peculiar?

My husband knows this, and he doesn't think it is right, so I have to start getting dressed just before he gets home from work.

Don't tell me it's bad for the children because we don't have any. My husband bowls once a week and belongs to the Knights of Columbus, and I don't say anything about his preferences, so do you think it's fair for him to say anything about mine?

NETTIE

DEAR NETTIE: If you keep your shades drawn, what you do within the privacy of your own home strikes me as being your own business. However, I'd suggest you put an apron on while frying bacon.

DEAR ABBY: I am nearly 19 years old and do not have my driver's license yet. The reason is my mother. She says I am too "nervous" to drive. Abby, I admit, I am nervous, but that's because I don't drive and I'm always begging rides off my friends or asking my mother to please drive me some place.

My mother has her own car, but she is always too busy to drive me. Will you please tell me how I can convince my mother that if I drove I wouldn't be so nervous?

WANTS TO DRIVE

DEAR WANTS: You don't say whether you are in school, working, or under treatment for your "nervousness." If you are in good health, and qualify for a driver's license, take a course in driver-education. If you pass the tests, there will be no question about whether or not you are qualified to drive.

DEAR ABBY: "Ella," a waitress in Newark, wrote that she can always tell whether a man is with his wife or his girl friend by the size of the tip he leaves, because a man is always more generous when he's with his girl friend.

Well, if we ever go to New Jersey, I must remember to ask my husband to forego his usually generous tipping habits. I'd hate to have the waitress conclude that we were traveling in sin.

C. K. H. [DODGE CITY, KAS.]

CONFIDENTIAL TO "INSIDER AT BERKELEY": I can best answer you by suggesting you take a good look at yourself; then try to understand these brilliant words from Rite Hoffer's "The Passionate State of Mind":

"Intolerance is the 'do not touch' sign on something that cannot bear touching. We do not mind having our hair ruffled, but we will not tolerate any familiarity with the tresses which covers our baldness."

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 6976, Los Angeles, Cal., 90029 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR ABBY'S NEW BOOKLET "WHAT TEEN-AGERS WANT TO KNOW," SEND $1.00 TO ABBY, BOX 6976, LOS ANGELES, CAL. 90029.

Snowmobile Boom

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An estimated half million snowmobiles will be grinding over the slopes by 1970, taking snow enthusiasts through areas too dangerous for normal hiking.

But the snowmobile has certain limitations, warns the National Automobile Club, and motorized hikers should be prepared.

Riding with only two persons to a snowmobile is best, since the heavier the load the less performance from the machine.

And snowmobiles should travel in pairs, because if one breaks down, the other can save its occupants from trying to struggle on foot in deep snow and possibly perishing from cold and exhaustion.

Duante Hosts

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Jimmy Duante will play host for three of this season's "Hollywood Palace" shows.

Future Teachers of America Chapter Hold Meeting

The Colliery County High Chapter of Future Teachers of America held a special executive meeting, Tuesday, April 1, at 9:00 p.m. in Room 129. Those present were seven officers, eight committee members, and the sponsor, Mrs. Obara Miller.

The president announced the date of April 17 as Teacher Appreciation Day when the sponsor members on the executive committee will serve the teachers refreshments after school.

The council elected Kathy Jo Stubblefield as a candidate for the state office of president. The date of April 8 was set aside by the council as the day to resume cocktail sales for a period of one week. The date of the next executive meeting was changed to April 21.

Talks and Chatters

If you are contemplating purchasing a sewing machine, you will find good information in a U.S. Government Bulletin, "Buying Your Sewing Machine," that may be obtained by calling your County Extension Office or writing to Catherine C. Thompson Area Agent in Charge and Postmaster, P.O. Box 876, Hickman, Ky. 40120—Catherine Thompson.

SIX LAUNDRY BASICS — 1. Save and read tag tag instructions. 2. Don't overfill. Never wash whites separately (especially nylon) with full-colors. 3. Treat stains promptly. 4. Always measure detergent or soap and use correct amount for your particular washer. 5. Follow appliance manufacturer's directions for using machine cycles. Do not over-load washer or dryer. 6. When bleaching, check correct type of bleach for fabric. Bleach carefully. — Mrs. Burdette Wrafter.

If foods "just don't taste the way they used to," it may be partly because your senses of taste and smell have grown less sensitive as you've grown older. Previous research has demonstrated that the sense of taste deteriorates; now USDA scientists have conducted a test that indicates the sense of smell does, too. — Mrs. Monica Griffin.

The next time you buy a record, consider a bargain set. Otherwise, although the price per pound may be lower, consider how much time and waste you are buying. The price per serving is often less for a business deal. In addition, the business deals are easier to carry.

Street Scene Squared HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—More than 20 stunt men were signed for a riot scene in Norman Jewison's "Gaily, Gaily."

Fracture HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actress Kathryn Hays broke her wrist in a fall from a horse while doing a scene for an episode of video's "The FBI."

Lovely Bridal Tea Honors Miss Susan Downey

A lovely spring affair was the bridal tea given by Mrs. W. F. Cary and Mrs. Jerry L. Webb, in honor of Miss Virginia Susan Downey, bride-elect of James Gary Nichols.

Saturday afternoon, March 29, guests were seated in the Cary home between the hours of three and five by Mrs. Cary, Mrs. Webb, Miss Downey, Mrs. Lacey E. Downey, mother of the honoree; Mrs. Edwin Nichols, mother of the bridegroom-to-be; and Mrs. David Mitchell, sister of the bridegroom-to-be. There is the receiving line with single rose corsages in the bride's chosen color, pink.

More than thirty guests from the Parkway and Park areas were invited to the register desk by Miss Virginia Susan Downey. Her desk was adorned by a single pink taper surrounded by spring tulips.

The serving table was covered with a duo of pink overleaf with white network and was centered with a lovely arrangement of fresh pink tulips, white snapdragons and pansies, were flanked by single pink tapers in sterling candlesticks. At either end of the table Miss Frances Cary and Miss Nancy Barry served the guest's choice of hot special tea or cranberry punch. The guests also enjoyed individual cakes and minis adorned with pink icing, roses, gelatin foam, and mixed nuts.

Among special guests were Miss Virginia Roberts, sister of the bride-elect, and Mrs. W. W. Phillips of Greenville, Kentucky, sister of the hostess Mrs. Cary.

Wide-track LeMans: It proves a car doesn't have to look like a bargain to be one.

LeMans certainly doesn't look like the kind of car you normally associate with budgets and penny-pinching and all that. It looks like someone splurged. Someone did. Pontiac. And not just on the styling. LeMans is as great to drive as it is to look at. Thanks to a rather special way of moving called Wide-Tracking.

And a rather special piece of machinery called America's strongest Overhead Cam Six (with a pair of V-8's available if you want to do a little splurging of your own). So if you're bargain hunting, don't pass up LeMans just because it looks too rich for your blood. It isn't. That's the real beauty of it.

That's a Break Away. See the '69 Wide-Tracks at your local authorized Pontiac dealer's.

MIDDLE EAST TALKERS—The Big Four ambassadors to the U.N. line up in New York on leaving the French ambassador's residence following a session on what-to-do about the Middle East. From left: Charles Yost, U.S.; Armand Bernard, France; Lord Caradon, Britain; Jacob Malik, U.S.S.R. They decided to keep their deliberations confidential.

ON THE OTHER HAND... Negro youths assist policemen in reloading a truck in Chicago after rampaging youngsters disabled it and tried to make off with the cargo.

Technical Points In Decisions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Courts and other judicial bodies sometimes hand down decisions based on technical points rather than coming to grips with the central issues in the cases.

Even the U. S. Supreme Court has done this on occasion. So it would perhaps be unfair to accuse Sydney E. Asher, Jr., a trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), of being chicken.

Nevertheless, Asher recently had the opportunity to render a landmark opinion in one of the great gray areas of labor-marital relations. And in my judgment, he bit it.

SEEN & HEARD

We have a number of reasons for not wanting to leave this world, but one of them is what will happen to all of our junk...er treasure objects.

Now ladies we have a tip for you, for which you will probably be in debt to us for the rest of your natural lives.

How to break an egg when you are getting ready to fry it. We used to bang away at the side of the skillet, dripping yolk, goo, and what have you, all over the place. Pieces of egg shall would fall into the frying pan and great would be the frustration therefrom.

How to do it! Simple. You just bang it on the counter top. Where the egg was once rounded, it is now flat. We have developed a great technique, which we feel sure you can learn with practice.

You see, the egg is still intact, except for this flat side. All the shell is broken and the little membrane inside holds all the goo together.

When you have gone through the above motion, then hold the egg over the pan, part the shell, and let the hen fruit fall into the pan. No mess, no egg shells, no streaming goo from here to yonder.

We feel sure that if you follow this simple innovation in cracking your eggs, you will get much better results.

This is just another tip which we are glad to share with all you egg cooks, wherever you might be.

Sitting out in the den Friday night and listening to the rain coming down and we went to the door and just looked out. The rain was falling gently and a warmth was evident. Smelled so good, we just had to stand there awhile smelling the spring in the air.

We know Spring is here because Earl and Mrs. Littleton are back from Florida. We have not seen Mrs. Littleton, but we ran into Earl up at the drug store. He's looking fine. Lost a few pounds and healthy looking.

The Sixth Grade at Austin Elementary School presented a musical play, "Children Around the World", for the students at Carter, Robertson, and Austin Schools this week. The children planned the play in culmination of a unit of work in Instructional Television and Social Studies. The play was under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Franklin, 6th grade teacher, and Mrs. Polly Bryant, Mrs. Margaret Porter was the musical director. The play will also be presented to the Austin PTA at the meeting on May 6 at 7:30 p.m.

NO CHOICE

HOUSTON UPI - Harris County Commissioners have told four judges that like it or not they've got to take their share of more than $250,000 worth of new furniture when they move into new offices. Judge William Hatten complained the new furniture "is not functional and distracts from the judicial atmosphere." Judge Jack Smith said "I have a recouch in my new office and our attorney asked me where the madame was."

Jehovah's Witness Convention Set

The Murray Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses were informed by their presiding minister, George R. Bandarra, that the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York has released the program for the three-day circuit convention to be held in Nashville, Tennessee, April 11-13. Bandarra said seven educational sessions will be held for the 1200 delegates expected, beginning on Friday evening at 6:45 p.m. and concluding on Sunday at 6:00 p.m. During the opening session, Watchtower district representative, Nicholas Kovalak, Jr., will highlight the theme "Making Wise Use of the Remaining Time" based on the scripture text at 1 Corinthians 7:19. The program will include a model of the ministry school and ministry development meetings that are held weekly in each congregation. Meetings for field ministry will be held each morning and on Saturday afternoon to give instruction for missionary work. The Saturday afternoon program will provide for the baptism of new ministers. Saturday evening talks and demonstrations will be given to help improve the teaching of the Bible. Bandarra said, Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m., Nicholas Kovalak, Jr., will give the public talk, "Law and Order—When and How?" This will be followed with the summary of the weekly study of the Bible using the Watchtower magazine. K. E. Crist will speak on "Does Your by United Press International Today is Monday, April 7, the 97th day of 1968 with 268 to follow. The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Saturn. On this day in history: In 1927, the first successful test demonstration of long-distance television was made between Washington and New York City. In 1943, American and British troops linked up in Tunisia during the North African campaign of World War II. In 1947, millions of Americans were left without telephone service as a nationwide strike began. It lasted for 23 days. In 1968 Federal troops were ordered into Baltimore to quell racial rioting. A thought for the day—Thomas Mann said, "Opinions cannot survive if one has no chance to fight for them."

RENO, Nev. UPI - A 23-year-old Reno woman complained to police a nearby nude man stepped out from behind a tree on a downtown street and said "Hey, can you help me?" Asked to describe him, she said "he had a pot belly." Zeal Stir Up Others" and the concluding talk will be given by Kovalak, Jr. on "Let Us Not Give Up in Doing What is Fine."

LIVE BETTER

LONDON UPI - Actor Robert Morley reassured fellow party Englishmen today that although people die earlier, "They've live a lot better." Morley offered his comment after the Office of Health Economics reported Monday that people 10 pounds overweight run a greater health risk than those who smoke a pack of cigarettes a day.

GOOD PORTRAITIST

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy UPI - Paolo Mercurio, 18, learned to his dismay Tuesday that although Swiss painter Otto Brundner prefers landscapes, he can also do good portraits. Brundner gave police a sketch of the man he said robbed him of several thousand lire on a lonely beach. Police used it to identify Mercurio.

STRANGE LODGING

WALPOLE, Mass. UPI - Deven Spear Jr. didn't like the sound of his car when he started it Thursday. Neither did the mechanic, who took a good portion of the engine apart before finding a white angora cat lodged between the motor and the body. The cat, apparently unharmed, made a quick getaway when freed.

A message to those Americans who don't happen to think the land of milk and honey is going all sour.

Our country is in a strange mood these days. Uncertainty surrounds us. So what can you do about it? Well, first of all, maybe you should take a long, hard look at this country of ours. Maybe we should look at our healthy side as well as our ills. And maybe, just maybe, you'll find we're not all that bad. Sure we have our problems. And they're not going to go away if you just stand along the sidelines as a spectator. But they might start to go away if you seriously want to do something for your country. A U.S. Savings Bond is one way. Let's say you fork over $18.75 of your hard-earned cash. Through a Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or at your bank. That will give you a Bond that's worth $25.00 in just 7 years. If you did that every month you'd stash away quite a nest egg for yourself. And so would your country. Your country would be economically stronger to find remedies for some of the headaches we have. While it's preserving something called freedom. Something that's hard to appreciate. Until you lose it. Savings Bonds now have a new high interest rate of 4 1/2%. And buying them gives you the privilege of also buying the even higher interest 5% Freedom Shares in combination. However you look at it, it simply makes a lot of sense to invest in your country. After all, it's the only country you've got.
