Looters And Black Marketeers Plagued Hurricane Victims

By WILLIAM L. VAUGHN PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss.

National Guardsmen under stern orders hunted for looters and black marketeers today along the storm-ravaged Gulf Coast as authorities fought a monumental sanitation problem. The remnants of Hurricane Camille, meanwhile, brought new deaths in Virginia. Rescue crews have recovered 240 bodies from the water, mud and rubble of the 600-square-mile area lashed by the strong-est hurricane ever to hit the U. S. mainland.

At least nine persons died in flash flooding in Virginia, where squalls from the dying storm dumped up to 10 inches of rain.

Camille, which struck inland with 190-mile-per-hour winds late Sunday night, dealt the heaviest loss of life in a tropical storm since Hurricane Audrey claimed 430 lives in Texas and Louisiana in 1957. Camille's damage might exceed $1 billion and officials feared the death toll may surpass 500.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew toured the disaster area Wednesday and predicted federal relief funds would be the greatest on record for a disaster.

Misery Along Coasts The misery along the Mississippi and Louisiana coasts was stark.

Donations Being Accepted For Hurricane Victims

The Calloway County Red Cross Chapter is accepting donations for victims of the Hurricane Camille which has ravaged the Mississippi Gulf Coast, according to Lester Nanny, Chairman.

The Red Cross is presently sheltering approximately 40,000 victims, and preliminary surveys indicate that at least six million dollars will be spent by the Red Cross in this major disaster relief operation.

Any funds sent to the local chapter, Box 488, Murray Kentucky will be immediately forwarded.

"We are attempting to raise $422.00 in Calloway County," a spokesman said, "which will be a small amount compared to the $4,356.00 which was sent to us during the tornado of 1968. Please help us to meet our share."

Families Are Reported Safe In The Storm

Local families having relatives in the Biloxi, Miss., area devastated by Hurricane Camille have received word that they are alright.

Shortly after midnight today word was relayed to Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jetton of Lynn Grove Route One that their daughter, Mrs. Roger Mitchell and Mr. Mitchell are safe. Mrs. Jetton was finally able to get through by telephone to some friends of the Mitchells that they were alright. Roger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Mitchell of Murray Route Two.

Mark Blankenship Attends Conference

Mark Blankenship, son of Mr. and Mrs. Macon Blankenship, attended the Kentucky Youth Conference from Calloway County this past week.

The conference, held at Western Kentucky University at Bowling Green, hosted approximately 600 delegates from August 10 through 13.

This year's Conference focused on the involvement of young people in the political and educational institutions of society. Programs with speakers alternated with seminar groups of eight to ten students each as delegates sought an understanding of campus disorder, campaign strategies, governmental processes and effective political action by amateurs. Delegates from each county will now return to plan and begin clubs and projects within their home communities based on the knowledge they acquired at the Conference.

Two Persons Injured Here In Accident

Two persons were reported injured in a two vehicle collision Wednesday at 9:36 a. m. at the intersection of South 12th and Poplar Streets.

Mrs. B. Melugin of 719 Poplar Street was admitted to the Murray-Calloway County Hospital and is listed in fair condition by the hospital authorities this morning.

Albert Cassidy, Sr., of Murray Route One was treated for an abrasion to the right hand and arm at the emergency room of the hospital, the officials' records show.

Vehicles involved were a 1966 (Continued on Page Six)

The Miller Family Together For First Time In 3 Years

Major and Mrs. Frank C. Miller and children, David, Tom, and Anne, will arrive in Kentucky on August 22 for a thirty days' visit.

Dr. Miller has completed a four year residency in obstetrics and gynecology at Tripler General Hospital in Honolulu, Hawaii. The Millers left Honolulu August 16 on the Matson luxury liner, Lurline. After a brief stopover in San Francisco they will go by plane to Memphis, Tenn., where they will be met by Dr. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude L. Miller of Murray.

The next assignment for Dr. Miller will be as assistant chief of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Second General Hospital in Landstuhl, Germany.

Also arriving on Friday for a ten days' visit are Mr. and Mrs. Mitt Miller and boys, Steve and Jeff, of Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Miller is an engineer in the Dispensing Division of the Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and son, Matt, of Columbia, Mo., have been the guests of the Claude Millers and Mrs. Miller's parents, the Joe Pat Farleys, since August 2.

They will be returning home on August 26 where Mrs. Miller is employed as fourth grade teacher in the Columbia school system. David, a doctoral student, will be returning to the University of Missouri at Columbia where he will begin his second year as a research assistant in Industrial Education.

Mr. and Mrs. Cary Miller and two sons, Cary II and Mark Allen, have recently moved to Murray where he will be connected with the State Life Insurance Company.

This will be the first time in more than three years that the entire Miller family has been together. The Millers extend a cordial invitation for the friends of their sons to visit them at their home on the Martins Chapel Road.

Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

PASS CHRISTIAN, Miss. - Plaquemines Parish County Deputy Sheriff Herman Schoenberger reflecting on Hurricane Camille: "The wind must have been 240 miles an hour that night, I'm not kidding. It's God's honest truth. I could see barges, boats and houses just flying by the whole time. Even the dredge would have turned over if they didn't ground it."

WASHINGTON - Vice President Agnew, surveying the hurricane damage scene: "Is there anything to do immediately? Is there anything we're not doing that we should?"

HAZEN, Ark. - Mayor Jerry J. Screenton, commenting after ordering barricades erected in preparation for a peaceful march through town by eight Negroes: "We are not nigger haters. We are determined they shall not ravish our town."

MIAMI - The weather bureau, on the progress of Hurricane Debbie: "If that turn northward comes as expected, the island of Bermuda could be affected late Thursday. All interests in Bermuda should keep in close touch with later advisories."

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

READERS WRITE ABOUT STIGMA AND MENTAL ILLNESS

Are we still casting stigma upon those who have or had a mental illness?

Readers' letters and comments are most helpful in preparation of these articles for Mental Health Matters because they forcefully call to attention specific human problems which may too often be overlooked. One of these is the matter of attaching stigma and shame to a past or present victim of mental disorders.

A reader writes of difficulties a member of the family suffered. As a consequence of having been stricken with mental illness while in high school, he was locked down on and jobs were denied him. He finally moved to another town, where he obtained and successfully held down a good job.

Expressing the heartfelt wish that the stigma of mental illness could be done away with and that "everyone would accept it as any other disease," our reader correctly says that most of the mentally ill get well or can be greatly helped.

"If society doesn't treat them right and let them work as other individuals who have been sick and got well, we will always be in the dark ages," the reader adds.

Writing of the interest in these articles, another reader tells of the history of mental illness in a family and some of the many problems that beset them.

While pointing out the difficulties in finding solutions to individual cases, such as getting job rehabilitation services, the writer was emphatic in the viewpoint that we are not going backward, but forward.

"Thank God for the progress made in helping the mentally ill," the writer said.

Although there is, unfortunately, still some stigmatizing associated with mental illness, progress is also being made against it; and attitudes and opinions are changing for the better.

Each of us can play a part in advancing this progress by learning facts and replacing the superstitions, fancies, and fables about mental illness with true information based on today's knowledge.

There is a very real challenge to and opportunity for all of us in pitting knowledge and understanding of mental illness against neglect and ignorance.

Is your garage safe? company lists hazards

NEW YORK (UPI) - A maker of automatic garage door opener systems has listed five major hazards that can make the home garage dangerous to life and limb.

They are, according to Alliance Manufacturing Co., Alliance, Ohio:

- Flammable materials and supplies improperly stored.

"Too often," an Alliance spokesman said, "leaking gas cans from the power lawn mower, for instance, are put next to those stacks of newspapers we keep meaning to throw out, but don't."

- Misaid lawn and garden equipment and refuse. The spokesman noted how easy it is to trip over a shovel or hoe set too close to a doorway, or puncture a tire with one nail tossed away or lost.

- Casually stored poisons. The spokesman advised high shelves or locked cabinets to place insecticides, fuels and cleaning fluids out of the reach of curious children.

- Infrequently cleaned floors. Frequent detergent washings, the Alliance spokesman said, can eliminate dripped or spilled motor oil and gasoline that make danger spots on garage floors.

McColgin Wins At Mayfield Tri-State

MAYFIELD, Ky.—A 19-year-old Southern Illinois University golfer won the season's final Women's Tri-State Golf Tournament at the Mayfield Golf and Country Club with a 10-over-par 81 Wednesday.

The annual tournament, shortened to a one-day event because of rain Tuesday was won by Linda McColgin of Metropolis. Playing in her first Tri-State of the season, Miss McColgin edged Mrs. Betty Vowell of Fulton by one stroke to take the championship.

Lowest scorer in the tournament was posted by Pat Park of Metropolis with her 37-41-78, but a rules technically kept her from taking the crown.

Miss McColgin, who will be a sophomore member of the SIU women's golf team next spring, had nines of 37 and 41 over the par 34-37-71, 5,133-yard Mayfield course. She posted eight pars and two birdies in the winning round.

"I wasn't quite as consistent in keeping the ball in the fairways," Miss McColgin said of her seven-over back nine score. "I had trouble with my drives, but putted better than I have all year."

Mrs. Vowell, who had nines of 37 and 45 also had trouble on the back side. "I was a little wild off the tee on the back. On the front, I started poorly, but then played one under for the next seven holes." Even with a triple bogey-7 on the 320-yard second, she made the turn at three over, tied with Mrs. Park and Miss McColgin.

Mrs. Vowell, always a contender, won the Murray tournament earlier this season. Third place in the championship flight went to Alice Fisher of Paducah with a 38-45-83 and fourth was won by Mayfield's Jane Ann Nall with a 41-42-83.

Two other entrants—Ann Hoffman of Mayfield and Mary Jane Harris of Paducah—also had 83s, but lost out to Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Nall in a draw.

Only four places in each of five flights were awarded silver prizes.

Mrs. Hoffman had nines of 42-41 while Mrs. Harris came home with a 37-46 tally sheet. Wanda Mullinax of Paducah and Virginia Harp of Mayfield each posted 85s, also finishing out of the prize category.

First flight winner was Dot Simmons of Paducah with a 42-46-88. Francis Hulse of Murray placed second with a 43-46-89. Joan Fowler of Metropolis was third with a 48-42-90 and Catheryn Brooks of Village Greens was fourth with her 45-45-90.

Winner in the second flight was Caroline Copeland of Mayfield with an 89. Sandy Weintraub of Mayfield placed second with a 90. Barbara Murphy of Mayfield finished third at 91 and Imogene Sively of Paducah was fourth at 92.

Ruth Pace of Mayfield was third flight winner with her 98. Alice Byars of Mayfield was second at 99. Nancy Lyles of Paducah was third, also with a 99, and Carolyn McDaniel of Mayfield was fourth at 100.

Evelyn Barlow took the fourth flight honors with a 100. Ann Skjyka of Mayfield was second at 101. Dorothy Dreher of Paducah came in third with a 103 and Rita Hinds of Paducah placed fourth at 107.

Mrs. Eleanor Griffin of Paducah, president of the Tri-State, presented silver to flight winners following play. Mrs. Dutch Bryant of Paducah served as tournament director for the 82 entrants.

Gil Hodges, who was publicly berated earlier this year by one of his ex-players still, rates high marks from a couple of current players—Jim McAndrew and Art Shamsky.

McAndrew pitched a two-hitter Wednesday night and Shamsky clubbed a homer and double to drive in four runs as the New York Mets blanked the San Francisco Giants, 6-0, the second whitewash in two nights for the Mets over the Giants.

McAndrew said Hodges had had a "father-to-son talk" with him, when he was ineffective that had helped him regain his confidence. However, the pitcher admitted that he had hidden

Florida Gators Year Away From Greatness; Not 1968

By DAVID MOFFIT
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Florida Gators are a year away from expected greatness. Unfortunately, especially since it didn't pan out, the year of great expectations they'll finish that high this time around.

Most of the seers, with no exception here, picked the Gators to win the Southeastern Conference last year and they wound up tied for sixth. Now, it's questionable they'll finish that high this time around.

But one should proceed with more caution than last year before condemning the Gators. There's still a chance that quarterback Jackie Eckdahl, now a senior, will return to pre-injury form and there are nine returning starters on the defensive unit.

Eckdahl, son of a member of the University of Florida faculty, had been billed as an equal to Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier after a sensational freshman season. He got off to a fast start as a sophomore in '67, gaining 500 yards his first three games—then was lost for the rest of the season with a broken leg.

Hampered again by injuries last season, he still led the Gators in total offense with 746 yards.

But coach Ray Graves has a lot of offense to replace before gunning for his eighth straight winning season. Larry Smith, probably the best runner in the South; All-America guard Guy Dennis; Larry Rentz, Eckdahl's alternate at quarterback; massive tight end Jim Yarbrough and Tom Christian, who teamed with Smith to give the Gators the best 1-2 running punch in the SEC, have all departed.

Guy McTheny, the Gators' leading receiver, returns and Graves is counting on junior Jerry Vinesett and sophomore Tommy Durrance.

A couple of other sophomores being counted on are quarterback John Reeves and receiver Carlos Alvarez, who averaged seven catches per game as a freshman and nine per scrimmage in the spring.

Of Alvarez, who came from Cuba eight years ago, Graves quips: "If Castro has any more like this boy to run out of the country, I hope he sends them to Florida, too."

Reaves, another 200 pounder, was rated even with Eckdahl at the end of spring drills.

Florida has an All-SEC candidate at cornerback in the person of Steve Tannen, a 6-foot-2, 194-pound senior from Miami who has intercepted nine passes, blocked three punts and recovered a fumble.

A 9.7 speedster who held Ron Sellers in check in Florida's 9-3 win over Florida State, Tannen, who also excels on punt returns (scoring on an 82-yard run against Vanderbilt and a 64-yard run against the Air Force), will be used at split end some this fall.

Graves has been doing some juggling to revamp the defensive line and cites a need for sophomore depth to back up his experienced linemen.

"We're moving a lot of people to new positions," said Graves. "But, we think all these boys are good athletes who can play wherever we put them."

Graves noted that Florida ran "dangerously short" of linemen at times last season and added that building depth there is a top priority.

"Linemen are the key to our defense," he said. "They are in on more tackles and do a lot of running on pursuit and pass coverage. This takes its toll."

There are three key changes in the Gator schedule from last year's 6-3-1 slate. Florida opens against explosive Houston instead of the Air Force and must play Auburn and Miami on the road.

Mickey Lolich's Talents For Pitching On The Rise

By GREG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

Mickey Lolich doesn't play the organ or fly airplanes but his talent for pitching the baseball is rising to the same plateau as his flamboyant teammate Denny McLain.

The stocky southpaw, who gets his kicks by riding his motorcycle, struck out 14 batters Wednesday night en route to his 16th victory of the season as the Detroit Tigers edged the Seattle Pilots, 4-3.

Lolich was in top form against the Pilots as he scattered eight hits while raising his record to 16-6, but he needed a run-scoring single by Don Wert in the ninth inning to pull out the victory.

Other AL Action
In other games Boston defeated Minnesota, 7-6, Washington downed Chicago, 4-1, Kansas City shut out New York, 5-0, Oakland edged Cleveland, 2-1, and California topped Baltimore, 3-2.

In the National League Atlanta defeated Chicago, 6-2, Pittsburgh blanked Houston, 1-0, Los Angeles beat Philadelphia, 8-5, New York shutout San Francisco, 6-0, St. Louis edged Cincinnati, 2-1, and Montreal outslugged San Diego, 11-10.

Tony Conigliaro scored Mike Andrews from second base with a two-out single in the bottom of the ninth inning as the Red Sox downed the Twins. Boston jumped to a 6-1 lead as George Scott and Syd O'Brien hit home runs. But the Twins rallied behind homers by Harmon Killebrew, his 35th, and Cesar Tovar to tie the game in the eighth.

Paul Casanova went three-for-three and knocked in three runs to pace the Senators over the White Sox. Darold Knowles bailed out winner Dick Bosman, 9-5, with 1-2-3 innings of hitless relief.

Butler Pitches Shutout
Bill Butler pitched a four-hit shutout for his seventh victory and Joe Foy and Jerry Adair drove in two runs apiece as the Royals blanked the Yankees, 5-0.

John "Blue Moon" Odom hurled a six-hitter to win his first game since the All-Star break and Dick Green blasted his 10th homer of the season to break a 1-1 tie as Oakland downed Cleveland, 2-1.

Austin Peay Coach At Pepperdine

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Fred Overton, assistant basketball coach at Austin Peay, has resigned to become assistant coach at Pepperdine College in Los Angeles; it was announced today.

Overton played three seasons for Austin Peay before graduating in 1961. He coached the Austin Peay freshman team in 1962-63 and then coached one season at Columbia High School before becoming assistant varsity coach in 1964.

Overton also served as head tennis coach at Austin Peay.

Dear Abby

Cats pose no danger to kids

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for two years and am expecting my first baby in about a month. We are both excited about it as this was a planned baby. My mother-in-law who lives out of the city came to visit us last week, and when she saw that I had a cat she said, "Of course when the baby comes you will get rid of the cat?"

I told her "Fluffy" had been with us since she was a kitten and I had no intentions of getting rid of her. Then she went into a big long speech about how cats give babies ringworm, and they have also been known to jump into the crib and suck the breath from a baby, suffocating it.

Can you tell me if she is right? If there is any danger in having a cat in my house, I will give Fluffy away.

EXPECTING

DEAR EXPECTING: Your mother-in-law is repeating an old wives' tale which has been circulating for years, but my experts on cats tell me there's not a word of truth in it. Being affectionate creatures, they will "snuggle" close to a baby, so it's best to be sure the cat can't get into the baby's crib, but cats are scrupulously clean, and do not carry ringworm.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23, and have been dating a divorcee for the past two years. We are very much in love. She is 27, but looks much younger. She has a 2-year-old child, and Abby, I couldn't love that little girl more if she were my own flesh and blood.

My problem is my mother. She doesn't approve. She hasn't given this girl a chance, she just doesn't like her. She says she has three strikes against her. One, she's a divorcee, two, she has a child, and three, she's older than I am.

I love my mother and don't want to hurt her, so what do you think I should do? Marry this girl without my mother's blessings and hope my mother accepts her later on? Or give up this girl and try to find a girl my mother approves of?

DEBATING

DEAR DEBATING: If your mother calls the above-mentioned set of circumstances "strikes," she wouldn't make a very fair umpire. I can't tell you whether or not to marry this woman, but I can tell you that if you are "debating" you're not ready to get married yet.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the wife who wanted to hear from single girls who are having "back alley intimacies" with married men.

How long has it been since you took the trouble to spend one fun-filled hour with your husband? I am not speaking of "physical fun." I mean the fun of sharing a silly joke, dancing around the dining room table, or just relaxing with conversation and maybe a glass of beer. How long has it been since you told your husband you loved him? And appreciated him. And tried to lift his spirits and take his mind off his every day troubles?

This is what goes on between married men and their "back alley" girl friends. I should know.

Moyer Home Scene Of Bridal Shower For Bride-Elect

The home of Mrs. Robert Moyer on Dogwood Drive West was the scene of the bridal shower held in honor of Miss Janice Dene Wilkerson, August 21 bride-elect of Edgar L. Howe, Jr.

Mrs. Moyer and Mrs. Joe Keeslar were the gracious hostesses for the bridal occasion held on Tuesday, August 12, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Keeslar and asked to sign the bridal book. Mrs. Moyer invited them to the living room.

Miss Wilkerson chose to wear from her trousseau a red and white linen dress and was presented a corsage of red roses by the hostesses.

The honoree's mother, Mrs. Robert Wilkerson, had a hostesses' gift corsage of yellow roses, and the honoree's mother-in-law to be, Mrs. Edgar L. Howe, Sr., wore a hostesses' gift corsage of pink roses.

Games were played with the recipients of the prizes presenting the gifts to the honoree. Miss Wilkerson opened her many lovely gifts which had been placed on a table covered with a white linen cloth. Arrangements of roses and other garden flowers were used at vantage points throughout the house.

Refreshments of chocolate cake, ice cream, and coffee were served by the hostesses to fifteen persons present.

Mrs. David Henry Presides At Meet Of Circle I WSCS

Mrs. David Henry, circle chairman, presided at the meeting of Circle I of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church held on Tuesday, August 19, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The chairman opened the meeting with a reading entitled "Let's Take Time". She presided at the business session.

The introduction to the program on "Letter From A Young Churchman of Nigeria" was given by Mrs. Burnett Waterfield who used maps and special hand-made articles given to her by Mrs. M. D. Steddi who left recently with her family to return as missionaries to Nigeria after living in Murray for a year.

Mrs. Claude Farmer, assisted by Mrs. Robert Smith, presented the program on the topic taken from the magazine, "Response". Mrs. Farmer led the closing prayer.

A going away gift was presented to Mrs. Herman Brunk, a member of the circle, who is leaving with her family to reside in Mansfield, Ohio.

Mrs. Carl Rowland and Mrs. Aubrey Farmer, hostesses, served refreshments to the seventeen members and two guests, Mrs. Brunk and Mrs. Ann Cain.

The color of the egg yolk is dependent on the feed the hen eats. Birds that have access to grass, pasture, or have yellow corn or alfalfa in their diet, tend to produce dark-colored yolks. Since commercial laying hens are confined, lighter and more uniformly colored yolks are being produced for home consumption.

Dynamism Urged For Church Union

NEW YORK (UPI) - The church that results from the proposed union of nine major Protestant denominations must be "equipped for service in a rapidly changing world," says The United Church Herald, monthly periodical of the 2 million-member United Church of Christ.

Referring to the Consultation of Church Union, the formal effort to bring about such a union, The Herald said:

"The massive tasks facing the churches in the 70s - the need for renewing congregations in small towns and suburbs as well as in the inner city; the need for self-giving service to starving, suffering humanity; the need for ministering to the lost and lonely - may be overlooked completely if the nine denominations become preoccupied with putting a structural jigsaw puzzle together."

Social Scene

Air bubbles in varnish make it almost impossible to obtain a smooth finish, reports the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Here's how to avoid creating bubbles: do not stir clear varnishes. When loading the brush, do not drag bristles across rim of the can to remove excess varnish. This will cause tiny air bubbles to form under the tips of the bristles. Instead, tap bristles lightly against the inside of the container just above the surface of the varnish.

Household Shower Given In Honor Of Mrs. Randy Young

Mrs. Randy D. Young, nee Zetta Hale, was complimented prior to her recent marriage, with a household shower held at the Community Center on Monday, August 11, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening.

The gracious hostesses for the bridal event were Mrs. Genny Hargis, Mrs. Louise Chadwick, Mrs. Martha Jo Hale, and Mrs. Janice Hale.

The honoree chose to wear for the occasion a pink dress with a corsage of pink carnations. Her mother, Mrs. Coy L. Hale, wore a blue bonded crepe with a corsage of blue and white carnations. Her mother-in-law to be, Mrs. Robert Young, wore a grape colored voile dress with a corsage of pink carnations.

As the guests arrived they were asked by Mrs. Hargis to sign the register at the table covered with a mint green satin cloth with pink daisies.

The bride elect opened her many lovely gifts which had been placed on a table covered with green under a white lace cloth and centered with a pink floral arrangement flanked by candles.

Refreshments of individual cakes, punch, nuts, and mints were served from silver and crystal appointments at the beautifully appointed table centered with an arrangement of pink carnations.

Forty persons were present or sent gifts.

Bridal Couple Is Honored Saturday At Houseboat Party

Miss Patricia Anne Doran and James Gardner Weatherly whose marriage will be an event of Saturday, August 30, at the First United Methodist Church, were the honored guests at a houseboat party held on Saturday afternoon.

The hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hutson on their houseboat, "The Un-Huh".

For the special lake event Miss Doran chose to wear a green terry cloth short outfit. The couple was presented with a lovely wedding gift by Mr. and Mrs. Hutson.

During the afternoon the group enjoyed skiing, swimming, etc., and were later served supper on the boat. Five other couples attended the pre-nuptial event.

Miss Zetta Hale Becomes Bride Randy D. Young In Ceremony At Grace Church

Miss Zetta Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy L. Hale, College Farm Road, Murray, became the bride of Randy D. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of Almo Route One, on Friday, August 15.

Bro. Connie Wyatt, great uncle of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony at eight o'clock in the evening at the Grace Baptist Church in the presence of the immediate families and close friends.

Miss Nancy Allen was the pianist and played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and the recessional. The altar of the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with baskets of white gladioli and greenery flanked by the two seven branched candelabra holding the tapers which were lighted by Kenny Hale and Ted Hale, youngest brothers of the bride. Greenery was used in the background to add to the decorations of the church.

Bride's Dress

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely for the wedding in her street length dress of white bonded crepe under white lace. The lace was scalloped in the back and the sleeves and hem were edged in daisies. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a headpiece of self material daisies.

She carried a white Bible topped with a yellow throated orchid tied with white streamers in lovers knots.

Mrs. Mike (Linda) Wyatt was the matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a blue tulle dress with a pale blue veil with a matching bow in her hair. Her accessories were navy and she wore a corsage of blue and white carnations.

Mike Wyatt, cousin of the groom, was the best man for Mr. Young.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Hale chose to wear for the occasion a pink double knit two piece ensemble with rose accessories and a corsage of deep pink roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Young, wore a navy blue dress with navy accessories and a corsage of deep pink carnations.

Reception

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the private dining room of the Triangle Inn. The bride's table was overlaid with a white lace cover of mint green and centered with a lovely arrangement of mums and daisies flanked by the candles in silver candelabra.

The three tiered wedding cake was placed on a cake stand of the bride's great grandmother. Punch, cake, mints, and nuts were served by Miss Sheila Stallions, Miss Nancy Allen, Mrs. Alfred Jones, and Mrs. Dwight Hale.

Miss Bonita Jones kept the register at the table overlaid with a mint green satin cloth and centered with a silver candelabra holding six yellow candles.

After the reception the couple left for an unannounced wedding trip with the bride wearing a beige knit dress with red accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Young attended Calloway County High School and will be a December graduate of the Ezell Beauty School. Mr. Young, a graduate of Calloway County High School, attended Murray State University and is now employed at Jim Adams IGA Store, Murray.

The bridal couple is now at home on South Eighth Street, Murray.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan, and sons, Michael and Randall Lee, and Mrs. Lela Dorthey, all of Detroit, Mich.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

FOR THE first year or two of life, baby is constantly before the camera. His every move is chronicled. But, somehow, as he gets older picture-taking sessions get fewer and farther between. It's a mistake—as parents realize years later when the family album has great gaps and there's nothing that can be done to fill them in.

Make picture-taking a habit for a photographic record of those growing-up years, a record you'll treasure forever.

- Load the camera and keep it handy, not just for special occasions but for everyday shots—children taking a bath, choosing a candy from a tempting assortment, building castles in the sandbox, taking a dip in the wading pool, playing under the sprinkler, enjoying a doll or a truck or a coloring book. These are shots that show children as they really are, the way you will want to remember them.

- For fun pictures, supply some props. Turn your little girl loose with high heels, an old hat of yours, some other finery. Let Junior try on Dad's homburg. Hand a child a bouquet of flowers, a musical instrument, an ice cream cone, a kitten, some cotton candy. Then photograph his natural reaction.

KEEP YOUR CAMERA on the ready so you can focus on a scene such as this one. The best shots are those that show children unselfconsciously doing what comes naturally.

- Sometimes an offbeat prop gets great results. A piece of sticky tape on a child's fingers will keep him busy and make for amusing snapshots.

Any object that captivates or absorbs a child's interest can make a memorable photograph.

- Don't hesitate to make like Cecil B. DeMille with suggestions: "Listen to the clock", "Hug your dolly", "How does it work?"

- Take your camera with you to the beach, the playground, the zoo, to the children's barber shop, to birthday parties and Grandma's house.

The children in snapshots never grow up, and that's their charm. Tomorrow they'll bring back all the happy "only yesterdays" of years that have long since past.

PLAYGROUNDS offer countless photo-taking possibilities as children jump and play or, like this one, merely relax.

Record Israel tourism
 JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel's income from tourism in the first three months of 1969 set a record, according to Minister of Tourism Moshe Kol.

Kol said such income in the January-March period totaled $17.1 million, compared with $16.8 million in the first quarter of 1968. Israel earned a record $200 million from its tourist industry in 1968, Kol said.

Largest mahogany tree
 FLAMINGO, Fla. (UPI) — The largest mahogany tree in the continental United States, more than 41 feet in circumference, grows in Everglades National Park. Vacationers can view the mammoth tree and an array of showy vegetation from an elevated boardwalk trail at Mahogany Hammock, located about halfway between the Park's major entrance southwest of Miami, and the Flamingo tourist center on Florida Bay.

Western art on view
 TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Thomas Gilcrease Institute of American History and Art here has a collection of Indian and western art, documents and objects valued at more than $16 million.

Mexican visitors to U.S.
 MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Mexicans outnumber all other Latin American tourists visiting the United States, according to the U.S. Embassy here.

In 1968, the United States was host to 1,071,790 visitors from the western hemisphere, of whom 494,131 were Mexicans. The overall total was a 13 per cent increase over 1967.

Breaks terminal tradition
 NEW YORK (UPI) — El Al Israel Airlines has broken with terminal tradition in establishing a second departure facility at John F. Kennedy Airport. Departing flights now alternate between the new $750,000 Orange Terminal behind the International Hotel and the Blue Terminal in the International Arrivals Building. Color coded ticket jackets and baggage tags direct passengers to the terminal from which their flight departs. They then are bused directly to the waiting aircraft.

NBC Will Carry Miss America Pageant On Saturday, Sept. 6

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI) — "There She is, Miss America" — and Albert A. Marks Jr., would be delighted if some day the familiar song introduced a black beauty on the stage of the Convention Hall in Atlantic City.

But once again this year the local pageants, which sifted more than 70,000 co-eds, did not choose a black girl to represent any of the 50 states in the annual Miss America Pageant which NBC-TV will cover on Sept. 6.

"I suppose we'll have epithets hurled at us that we're still lily white," said Marks, who is executive producer of the two hour program. "But we have no influence on the judges—some of them black—of the 3500 local pageants. We are only able to take what's passed up to us from their levels."

"Nothing would give me more pleasure than to have a number of black girls among the 50 finalists; we've been leaning over backwards to give black girls every opportunity. Some came close. Miss Paterson, the second runner-up in New Jersey was a lovely, magnificent and gracious girl by any standard."

Marks, a broker who has been unpaid director of the pageant, one of the nation's top rated shows, for years, said color had not caused many complications in the process of selecting finalists though there was one eye-goggling situation. Indiana University did not choose a candidate apparently because the anthropological department argued that different standards ought to be set for black and white girls. Last year the Womens Liberation Front burned their brassieres in protest against the pageant. There also was a rival Miss Black America contest which will be held again this year in three cities—Asbury Park, Miami Beach and New York.

"There is absolutely no criticism on our part of Miss Black America," Marks said. Marks who dropped the "There She is, Miss America" theme song last year "and got my skull stove in as a result" has contritely brought the song back for host Bert Parks, whose 15th pageant this will be. The hostess will be Debbie Bryant Wilson, 23, Miss America of 1966.

"There are big changes this year," Marks said. "We were getting too traditional, too stuffy, perhaps. This year the girls will be allowed to wear miniskirts. We've had all kinds of rock music specially composed and the sets will be more colorful and slightly psychedelic. The featured rock song is titled 'The Sound of Young, Our lead dancer, Don Correia, is only 17.'"

This will be the 49th Miss America Pageant. Since 1945 finalists have been awarded $6,800,000 in scholarships. Of the grants helped beautiful hostess Debbie graduate Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Kansas.

"We are delighted to have a teacher of Mrs. Russell's background and experience in the coming year," Mrs. Lyon said.

"Our program offers all of the advantages of the usual preschool program," she added, "and because of its cooperative nature offers a developmental experience for both the child and the mother."

The school, a non-profit and non-denominational group, is organized and administered by parents of preschool-age children and is operated by them under a teacher trained in preschool education.

Last year 25 children were enrolled in the school-11 in the three-year-old group and 14 in the four-year-old group. Applications are now being accepted for this year's school, which will start Monday, September 8.

Sessions are held three times a week at the Newman Streets-Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays Facilities for the school are provided without charge by St. Leo's Catholic Church.

Mrs. Lyon expressed great satisfaction with the progress made by the school in its first full year of operation and emphasized that parents interested in enrolling children should contact her without delay at 753-1604.

Vacancies exist in both the three and four-year-old groups.

Hendon's wife, Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Crisp, also of Murray, is still with friends in Biloxi. The family was evacuated to a shelter at Biloxi after the storm. Their home was boarded up for the storm and only wind damage was reported to their house as the waves did not reach that far.

Major Hendon was able also to relay definite word to Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Elkins that their daughter, Diane Gooch and family were alright. Diane's husband is a doctor with the military personnel at Keesler Air Force Base where Hendon also serves as a dentist and Mitchell is an enlisted man.

Hendon said he was called to the hospital on Sunday afternoon at Biloxi to help with the injured in the storm. He said he was able to get out of the area on Tuesday by using the side roads as none of the main highways were open.

Also coming to Mayfield with Dr. Hendon were the wife and two children of Dr. Harde-man, also stationed at the Air Force Base.

Hendon will leave Friday to return to Biloxi, but the children will remain in Murray with their grandparents.

drinking water, food and communications in the area. Sanitation problems posed health dangers. Silt trenches were dug for bath rooms. Mosquitos and flies swarmed by the thousands. A stench rose from decomposed bodies—those not yet found and those "piled knee deep" awaiting removal.

Refugees scavenged for food, hunting for cans in the debris of stores. Starving dogs roamed in packs. Snakes and rats slithered about.

Looters and black marketeers took advantage of the chaos. State Adj. Gen. Walter G. Johnson, enforcing limited martial law and a 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. curfew, ordered his soldiers to bring in looters "dragging or standing."

"A looter is one of the vilest type people, as bad as a grave robber," he said. Liquor stores, groceries and homes have been looted, he said.

Johnson also vowed to clamp down on some stores, still able to operate, who "are raising the price of food, especially milk, sometimes as much as 100 per cent. Under martial law, this will not be allowed." He said some persons were selling fresh water for $1 a gallon.

There was little organized searching for bodies. Most of those found were easily spotted or turned up by bulldozers. A thorough search would come later.

The cleanup was largely in the towns. The beaches were untouched.

The dispatcher laughed. Smith said he was serious, so the radioman asked for a description of the runaway in question.

Other policemen were sent to the scene and succeeded in chasing the cow into a field only to have it escape again when they attempted to corral it.

U.S. military officials said the helicopter became lost Sunday and accidentally flew over North Korean territory. The last message from the craft said it was under fire and was going down.

It was the third incident in Korea involving downing of U.S. military aircraft. A U.S. helicopter was shot down by North Korea May 17, 1963. The crew was released a year later.

North Korean jet fighters shot down a U.S. EC121 reconnaissance plane April 15 over the Sea of Japan, killing the 31 men aboard.

Ri said the helicopter penetrated deep into North Korea before it was shot down.

"Since you have now admitted shooting down this helicopter, I now repeat my request for your cooperation and request that you inform the United Nations Command, UNC by reporting to this commission at this time the status and physical condition of our personnel and indicate the date and place where the three personnel and the helicopter will be returned to our side," Adams said.

"Answer this question," Ri said. "For what purpose did your side dispatch the aircraft to our side?"

"You have just completely distorted the truth about the fact in a silly attempt to cover up your act of aggression."

Ri refused to give any information about the helicopter or crew.

The area where the helicopter was last heard from was 25 miles northwest of Seoul and on the western tip of the truce line separating North and South Korea.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market showed much strength last week after ignoring unfavorable news and staging a brisk rally, according to Standard & Poor's Corporation. The company says that while the action was "impressive," some further testing may lie ahead. It says that "while there is no need to hurry to fill out portfolios, selected purchases should work out well over the next year or so."

A "great buying opportunity" is on the way, according to the Dines Letter which adds that "it would be a mistake" to try to buy the stocks which have lost the most since they will suffer the most from tax-loss selling during the rest of the year. The analyst suggests that investors would be "wise" to take tax losses during the next rally "before the mob remembers about taxes."

The Super Market and Group Trend Letter says that "despite recession glimmerings, the course of the overall economy... is strong." It says a slowdown is the "probable" outcome of government maneuverings, adding that it would "greatly alleviate investor fears and could stimulate a broad and active stock boom next year."

Although the market's bright performance last week was "not entirely conclusive," it seems to be at least an indication of better times ahead, according to Shearson, Hammill & Co. It adds that if prices continue to improve and that averages can surpass the recovery levels of several days ago "this would be a favorable technical sign."

This Girl Had Connections; She Made It

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — This girl gets off the airplane in Los Angeles, see, and decides she wants to be a movie star. Happens every day.

But this girl had connections. She knew a florist in Santa Monica.

The guy with the flower shop, in fact, is the only soul she knows west of Greenville, Ind. It so happens—and this is true—the florist knows a guy at MGM. He takes the girl over there and the MGM guy sees a potential. So he calls an agent, Max Arnow.

Arnow looks over this pretty little blonde from Louisville, Ky., and figures the fella from MGM is no dummy.

Arnow takes the girl who is all of 22 years old to Filmways where, within two weeks, she is asked for a role in "The Moonshine War." It is the lead feminine role opposite Richard Widmark and six other girls have been tested.

The florist, the MGM guy and Arnow are happy to learn the Kentucky girls wins in a breeze. Her parents back in Indiana are not so happy. They had moved from Kentucky and hoped their daughter would settle down and marry a nice dependable guy.

Up until she came to Hollywood the girl was pretty dependable herself. She was a drama coach and assistant instructor at Depauw University in Indiana and was engaged to marry a nice doctor.

Her folks refused to help finance her trip to Hollywood except a one-way ticket back to Depauw.

"I'm the black sheep, I guess," the girl said the other day.

Her name is Sue Zan Zenor. Not Suzanne or Susan, Sue Zan—which is not a very Kentucky or Indiana name.

Speaks With Clarity
She speaks with crystal clarity, having studied Latin and Greek and taught public speaking, debating and drama at Depauw. She picked up some acting experience with a repertory company in Louisville.

"Would you like to hear me say something in ancient Greek?" she asked.

Sue Zan splined off a familiar episode from Euripides' "The Trojan Woman" which caused a Brown Derby waiter to check the spelling on the menu. It was supposed he was of Greek origin.

"I have to go now," Sue Zan said. "I have to sign my contracts."

Mother's Pilgrimage
ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Mrs. Robert Mass, wife of an attorney, wanted to see her 24-year-old son Gary in the Peace Corps in Rampur, Nepal, so she signed on a pilgrimage of the Methodist Federation for Social Action for a world tour. Mrs. Mass was one of five Jews among 39 persons to make the trip. She found her son demonstrating modern methods of agriculture to villagers.

Rough rector
GLOUCESTER, England (UPI) — A man who told a rector he wanted to object to his son's marriage banns testified before a church court that the rector barred him from their church and said he would knock him into a grave. The rector was charged with unbecoming conduct and neglect of duty.

Glass Road

ROLLA, MO. (UPI) — No driver likes to roll his car over broken bottles in the street, but a discovery by a student at the University of Missouri at Rolla may have everyone driving on broken bottles.

The broken bottles won't be scattered haphazardly on the streets. Raymond Joplin, an undergraduate student of ceramic engineering, has found a way to make them part of the road.

Joplin crushed several hundred soda bottles and mixed the fragments with asphalt. He used the mixture to patch a hole in a campus parking lot.

Dr. Delbert Day, Joplin's instructor, said, "We've gone out of our way to drive over the patch as much as possible. It has stood up under traffic and bad weather. It wears as well as the limestone-asphalt combination and there's absolutely no harm to tires."

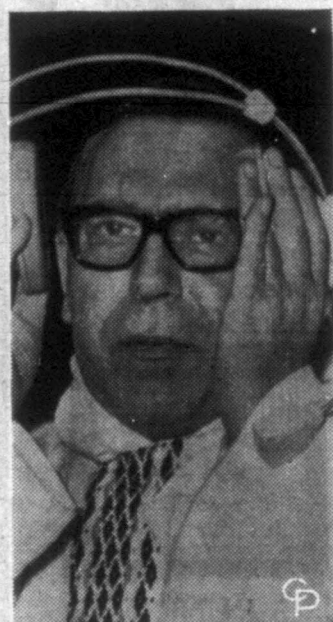

Limestone has been the traditional material to mix with asphalt, but Day says using broken bottles could be a double saving to cities. "It would save the city a considerable amount of money by allowing it to use glass refuse for street mixtures rather than shelling out money to dispose of the glass and buying limestone and gravel for streets," he said.

The next test for the new paving material will be a 600-foot long and 20-foot wide strip of pavement on the Rolla campus. The strip will be tested for durability, skid-resistance and wear on tires.

If the test and other such tests prove as successful as the patch in the parking lot, American motorists in many cities may be driving over broken bottles.

Long distance moving is easier than before

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (UPI)—You're moving — from Corvallis, Ore., to Chicago; from Chicago to Baton Rouge, La.; from New York to Houston or Houston to Portland, Me.; from Madison, Wis., to Orlando, Fla.; from San Francisco to Washington, D.C., or perhaps just from Philadelphia to Baltimore.

Yours is one of 10 million families who will move this year, one of 2 million who will move interstate. Quite likely your move is job-connected — four-fifths of all interstate moves are.

You are among those the industry considers the "moving elite," mostly because it is quite likely your employer is paying a substantial portion of the costs of your move.

A recent study by Burnham Van Service of this "moving elite" found: —Most family heads were in the 25-45 age group and were employed in retail chains, aviation and space, chemical, electronics, computers, instruments and optics, oil, gas and electrical companies and utilities, automotive, food, insurance, banking, plastics, drugs, rubber, pulp and paper, hotel chains, metals, liquor, soft drinks, soap, shoes, textiles, paint, office equipment and car rentals.

—Half the families moved less than 500 miles, a quarter between 500 and 1,000 miles and the rest more than 1,000 miles.

—Half the families had less than a month to prepare for their move.

—73 per cent of the families had made two or more moves in 10 years; 60 per cent moved on the average of every five years, some 14 per cent expected to area into which it is moving, and are particularly adept at long distance house hunting.

In the case of Inter-City, for instance, as soon as a member realtor in your present community is on the job to sell the house you own, he puts you in touch with a fellow member of the service in the community to which you are moving. You are asked to outline your requirements and then are mailed photos and key information about prospective homes and communities, including facts on schools, churches, shopping, transportation, clubs, community organizations, etc.

When you are ready to inspect in person, the Inter-City representative acts as your guide, making reservations, meeting your plane or train.

The group's POTERE affiliate offers corporations a guaranteed purchase program for employee homes which is designed to relieve transferred employees of the worry of selling their home, assure them a fair sale of their equity and give them cash within hours to purchase a new home, all without putting the employer in the real estate business.

Homeric, a service which claims more than 1,200 realtors serving more than 4,000 American communities, also serves prospective home buyers without charge deriving its income from a share of the regular commissions paid its associated real estate firms.

In operation since 1955, Homeric recently inaugurated a computer system designed as a community selector for home buyers moving into unfamiliar areas.

Called Community Profile Selection System (CPSS), the new service is capable of printing out profiles of 400 suburban communities in 21 states and the District of Columbia. Through a teletypewriter connection with the computer, Homeric's staff can obtain a set of specific facts about a given community.

These work both with individual families and with corporations in their employee transfer programs. They can be particularly valuable when a family has no knowledge of the

YOUR KENTUCKY HIGHWAYS

A Concise History of the Kentucky Department of Highways

Produced By Office of Public Affairs Kentucky Department of Highways Frankfort, Kentucky 40601

THE OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER

Kentucky's highway commissioner must oversee work of 9,000 employees engaged in maintenance of about 25,000 miles of roadway, construction of another 200 miles and design of an added 1,000 miles.

It takes nearly $400 million a year to keep everything moving.

Any business or agency this size needs constant supervision and policy decisions.

Both must be provided by the commissioner—currently Eugene Goss, a tall, deliberate, slow-talking attorney from Harlan.

Goss insists he enjoys the job, but he often laughs at the demands placed on the commissioner.

After looking over a road improvement program recently, he asked a staff member, "Do you ever get to know all these roads?"

"Sometimes the only description for a project location is in terms of Hog Wallow Road from Jim's barn to where the snake bit John," he complained.

The Commissioner can't possibly commit all such information to memory while, at the same time, devoting sufficient time to policy matters concerning the department.

So he must rely on advice from highway engineers, many of whom have worked in the department over 40 years.

But there remain heavy demands on his time for first-hand looks at specific road projects.

It sometimes seems that each of Kentucky's 3 million residents has a pet road project and each one wants to discuss the problem with the Commissioner himself.

As Governor Nunn once said, "Everyone wants to drink from the head of the branch."

Commissioner Goss recently took an airplane trip to one Kentucky town. Before heading back to the airport, he called to tell his pilot when he planned to take off.

An airport employee, answering the telephone, asked, "Is this the highway commissioner?"

When Goss admitted his identity, the man said, "Commissioner, I've got a road project I'd like to talk to you about."

It was five minutes before the Commissioner was able to get his pilot on the phone. Realizing that much of his time must be taken up with policy matters and meetings with road delegations, Commissioner Goss has reorganized the Highway Department giving more authority to division heads in the day-to-day operation.

He starts off each day with two meetings—one with his administrative staff and the other with the department's top engineers.

"These sessions," the Commissioner says, "keep to a minimum the amount of time departmental executives must spend trying to get together on specific problems."

"At the same time, they allow each division head to keep abreast of what's going on in other divisions."

To aid Goss in the direction of his office duties is an administrative assistant and three deputy commissioners—the Deputy Commissioner of Rural Highways, the Deputy Commissioner for Administration and the Deputy Commissioner for Engineering.

Executive Directors supervise the following areas of re-

A Library From Stamps

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Construction of a library 8,500 miles away at Martin Luther Seminary in Lae, New Guinea, will be aided by $35,000 raised through sale of stamps collected by members of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

A check for that amount was presented by Raymond E. Hodges, president of Stamps for Missions, to the Rev. Dr. Oliver R. Harms, president of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, and co-sponsor of the New Guinea seminary.

Hard to tell

MILLVILLE, N.J. (UPI) — Tony R. Skura was fined $10 for obstructing traffic—over his protest that the "she" he was accused of talking with was a "he."

Skura was ticketed for driving alongside another car at a slow rate of speed and carrying on a shouting conversation with the other driver.

The policeman who issued the ticket testified Skura was talking to a girl in the other car. "That was no girl in the car," Skura said. "It was a boy with long hair."

"These days it's sometimes hard to tell the boys from the girls," Judge Daniel J. Grosso agreed.

Fire Hoisting

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The average American family will buy about 60 tires at a total cost of about $1,400 in the usual 50-year driving span, according to the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

The company says its figures do NOT include the tires that come with new cars purchased during the time period, and its report is based on "today's prices and driving conditions."

Federal Narcotics Agents Make Monday Arrest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal narcotics agents Monday night arrested 20 persons, including two alleged Cosa Nostra figures and a plainclothes policeman, to break up what they called one of the nation's biggest dope rings.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said $200,000 worth of heroin and cocaine were seized during the arrests. Warrants in the case indicated the ring was a major wholesale operation which sold bulk quantities of drugs at $200,000 or $300,000 per buy.

Those arrested included Enrico "Blackie" Tantillo, 53, Port Washington, N.Y., and Carmine Paladino, 53, Paramus, N.J. Mitchell said Tantillo and Paladino, both charged with conspiracy to violate federal narcotics laws, were named by informer Joseph Valachi in 1963 Senate hearings as members of the Cosa Nostra family of Vito Genovese.

Paladino was arrested at a District of Columbia shopping center Monday night along with Robert Verderosa, 35, The Bronx, described by the arrest warrant as a "deliveryman" and "a lieutenant for the organization chieftains," and Lawrence "Slippery" Jackson, 33, Washington.

The arrest warrant described Jackson as a major wholesaler who bought from the alleged Cosa Nostra figures.

Also arrested was Carl W. Brooks, 34, Columbia, Md., identified as a plainclothes detective of the Metropolitan Washington Police Narcotics Squad. The warrant charged Brooks with passing secret police information to Jackson.

Court papers said the operation was "one of the major narcotics trafficking operations" in the nation. The other persons arrested were from the District of Columbia.

Name director for hunger project
RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Dr. Malcolm P. Calhoun, a member of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, has been named director of the denomination's five-year "halt hunger" program.

Dr. Calhoun will work full time on plans in the campaign against world hunger which followed a declaration by the church's General Assembly last April that "world hunger... is a top priority concern of the Presbyterian Church in the United States and that all possible resources... for at least the next five years, must be focused on ways and means of dealing with the problem."
