Seen & Heard Around Murray

Murray has more young lawyers today than at any time we can remember.

How to spot a communist, fellow traveler or extreme liberal: when they start hollering that human rights have precedence over property rights. The reason is that the right to own property is a basic fundamental of human rights.

That is one reason folks came over to this country in the beginning, so the common man could have something he could call his own, add to it year by year, then retire on his earnings or holdings.

Fire Hurts

Each and every day in the United States, tragic and very often avoidable fires take this grim toll:

- 33 lives
- 1,677 homes and apartments
- 23 schools
- 10 churches
- 21 hospitals and nursing homes
- 149 farm buildings
- 126 industrial plants
- 208 stores, restaurants and offices

According to information from the National Fire Protection Association, in a single year residential fires claim at least 6,500 lives — substantially more than half the nation's total of about 12,100 fire deaths per year.

Respect for property is part of the basic structure of our civilization as we know it in America.

The longer we live, the more we are convinced that the primary purpose of man's being on earth in the first place, is to serve in whatever capacity his abilities will allow, to aid other people. Sounds corny maybe, but can you think of a better reason?

Summer is getting short. You can tell by the size of the Grasshoppers. They are big and rough looking and can jump like crazy. Someone said the Grasshopper is long on energy but short on direction.

Murray High's first football game is with Fulton County here at Holland Stadium. Murray State's first grid encounter is on September 20 with East Michigan here at Cutchin Stadium.

Murray High has two home games in a row, the second with Paris. Murray State has four home games in a row, East Michigan, Tennessee Tech, Morehead and SE Missouri.

Labor Day is next Monday Monday which is another cue that summer is waning.

Then too the Robins are flocking together which is indicative that they no longer maintain property lines incident to the breeding season. However we did see a Sparrow busy with a piece of paper apparently on the way to a new nest.

Regan's Business Destroyed At Columbia, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mercer, 1000 West Main Street, have received word that their daughter and family in Columbia, Miss., are safe after the storm, however the business of their son-in-law was completely destroyed.

Their daughter is Mrs. Shelby P. Regan, Jr., and her dress shop there was not damaged. Mr. Regan's monument business building and equipment was completely destroyed.

Some pine trees were blown across their house, but the building was not damaged; however Mrs. Regan told her mother on Friday night that they still did not have any lights.

The Regan's daughter, Mrs. Danny Ladner and Mr. Ladner, are also safe and only the TV antenna on their house was blown down.

Mrs. Regan, the former Laron Mercer, told her parents that the buildings across the street were damaged considerably as the storm seemed to strike the city in twister form.

Don Walker Korte Completes Camp

Don Walker Korte, Jr. has completed the nation's only basic ROTC summer camp as a member of B Company, Sixth Battalion.

Korte is a member of the ROTC at Murray State University and is in the graduate school in Biology at Murray State. He is married to the former Mary Hurn daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hurn, 1512 Dudley Drive, Murray.

Two Car Collision Occurs Saturday

A two car collision occurred Saturday at 8:06 p. m. at South 12th and Story Avenue, according to the report filed by the investigating officers of the Murray Police Department.

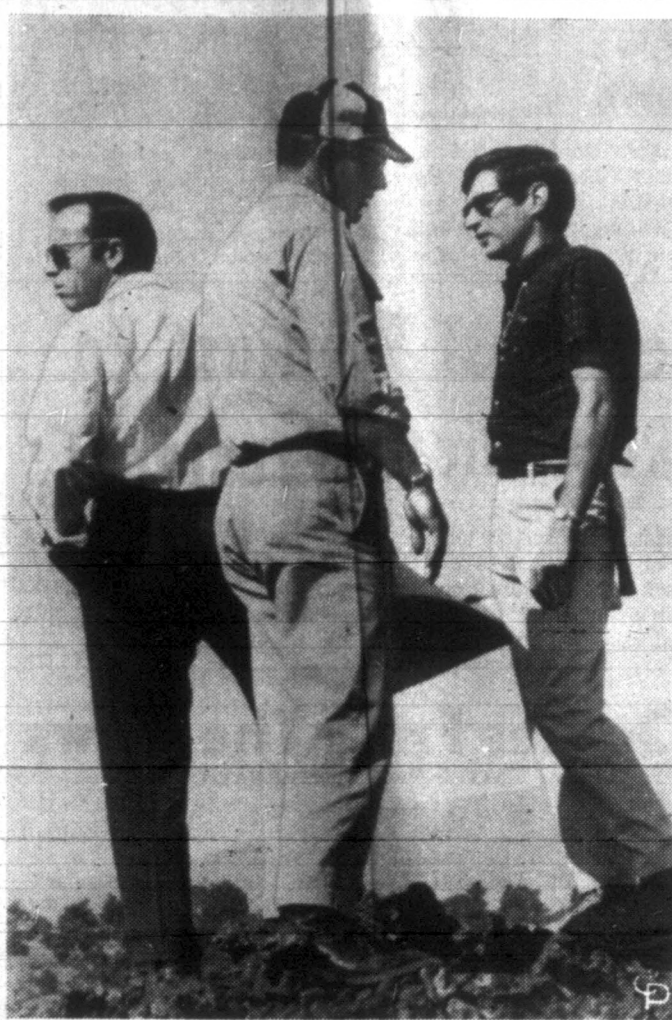

Jimmy Lee Herndon, 314 North 6th Street, was stopped for the stop sign at 641 and Story. Thomas Monroe George of Murray, driving a 1968 Ford two door, told the police that he saw the Herndon car stopped but thought he had started across the intersection, according to the police report.

Both cars had been moved when the police arrived. Damage to the George car was on the front end and to the Herndon car on the rear end.

Wranglers Meeting Set For Thursday

Thefts Are Reported

Sheriff Fannie Stubblefield reported today that a break-in occurred at Crawford's Shell Station at Lynn Grove sometime Saturday night.

Missing from the station were sixty cartons of cigarettes, carton Cord cigarette lighters, carton Zippo cigarette lighters, two boxes of new tools, 3/8-inch set, one box new tools, 3/8-inch set, Elgin 21 jewel watch, one knife, and ten combs, according to the list given to the Sheriff's office.

Deputy Sheriff Calton Morgan was called to the station Sunday morning about four o'clock when the owner came to the station to get some aspirin for his wife and discovered the robbery.

This morning eighteen cartons of cold drink bottles were reported taken from on the outside of Paul D. Jones' Store at Kirksey.

Sheriff Stubblefield said they were four of Pepsi-Cola, four of Coca-Cola, four of Sundrop, four of RC, and two of orange and chocolate mixed, according to the call from the store owner.

Burton Young Is Moved To Baptist

Stubblefield To Be Principal Speaker At PO Dedication

HERNDON, Ky. (UPI) — Kentucky's two Senators, John Sherman Cooper and Marlow Cook, are scheduled to participate in a ceremony Sunday dedicating the new post office in this Christian County community.

The senators are to present an American flag that has flown over the U. S. Post Office Department in Washington. U. S. Rep. Frank Stubblefield, D-Ky., will be the principal speaker at the 2:30 p. m. ceremony. The dedicatory address will be delivered by Paul L. Smith an official of the regional Post Office headquarters at Cincinnati.

Four Taxing Districts Get $26,000

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Gov. Louie B. Nunn has announced four Calloway County Taxing Districts will receive nearly $26,000 as their share of the Tennessee Valley Authority's payment in lieu of property tax.

The breakdown is as follows: Calloway County Common School District will receive $14,887.95; Calloway County will get $9,007; Murray Independent School District will receive $1,448; and the City of Murray will get $404.55.

The total payment amounted to $22,139,910.24 for the 1968-69 fiscal year, an increase of $359,023.24 over the previous fiscal year. It also marks the first time payments have exceeded $2 million.

The TVA returns to the state 5 per cent of what TVA Distributors pay TVA for electricity power.

Kentucky Revised Statutes 96.895 designates 30 percent of the total payment to the Commonwealth's General Fund and the remaining 70 percent to the local taxing jurisdictions.

The distribution of payments to local taxing units is based on book value of TVA property located in the taxing jurisdiction multiplied by the appropriate property tax rate.

By virtue of the increased payments, 41 school districts will receive $1,154,964, an increase of more than $190,000 over the 1967-68 fiscal year.

One hundred-two taxing districts received increased payments while two districts received reduced payments because of a decrease in the local tax rate.

The state's General Fund will receive $664,173, while 41 counties will get $384,444. Eleven independent school districts involved will receive $5,621 while 14 cities will get just over $4,700.

Fire Department Is Called Last Night To Western Auto

The Murray Fire Department answered a call last night at 8:15 to the Western Auto Store on the east side of the Court Square.

Firemen said the fire was due to a short in the air-conditioner and was out on arrival of the firemen. Damage was reported to the motor and wiring of the air-conditioner. The fire was noticed by one of the men who works there as he was driving by the store, according to the firemen.

Saturday at 11:25 p. m. the firemen were called to Adams Shoe Store where the awning was reported on fire. The City Police had noticed the fire from a cigarette thrown on the awning and called the fire department. CO2 was used to extinguish the small fire.

LUNCHEON CANCELLED

Enrollment In Two Systems Is 137 Over Last Year's Total

Four thousand two hundred and fourteen children are enrolled in the Murray City Schools and Calloway County Schools, according to figures released by school officials.

William B. Miller, superintendent of Calloway Schools, and Charlie Lassiter, Calloway Director of Pupil Personnel, said that the present enrollment in the six county elementary centers and the high school is 2425. The enrollment at the end of the term last year was 2366, Lassiter said.

Fred Schultz, superintendent of the Murray City Schools said the present enrollment for the six grades at Murray High School and the six grades and two special education classes at the three elementary centers is 1789. Last year the enrollment was 1711, he said.

Calloway County High School with its four grades has an enrollment of 687 compared with 690 last year.

Murray High School with its top six grades has enrolled 873. Austin has 168 students for the six grades and special education class, Carter has 359 for the six grades, and Robertson has 389 for the six grades and special education class.

Last year the elementary grades in the City Schools had an enrollment of 886, and the upper six grades in the city school had 825 students.

Enrollment for the six county elementary centers as compared to last year is as follows:

	Present	Last Year
Almo	382	387
Kirksey	317	324
Faxon	308	287
New Concord	272	270
Hazel	230	222
Lynn Grove	229	205

Calloway Superintendent Miller said that forty buses were being used to transport the children to the county schools. Thirteen of these buses make routes to the six elementary centers and then to the Calloway County High School.

Miller said six new buses are in operation this year. Last year the county purchased six new buses also.

The county schools opened Monday morning with each of the schools holding opening exercises. The first full day of school at both the Calloway High School and the six elementary centers is being held today.

Murray High School held registration on last Thursday and Friday. The seventh graders registered on Thursday and grades eight through twelve

Persons Are Giving Aid For Victims

Food, water, and medical supplies are continually streaming into Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama to be distributed by Red Cross disaster workers to the victims of Hurricane Camille.

"This is the largest outpouring of goods and services since the Eastern States floods in 1955," said Robert Pierpont, National Director of Red Cross Disaster Services. "It is one of the most difficult relief operations in Red Cross history, but the response from chapters and communities across the country has been unbelievable."

The initial Red Cross activity will be to provide food, clothing, and medical care for the victims. Then, as individual families are able to begin planning for their recovery, the Red Cross will assist those lacking resources for their own rehabilitation with funds for building and repair of their homes; replacement of household furnishings and occupational equipment and supplies; food, clothing, and temporary maintenance; and long-term medical care.

All of this will be outright gifts, provided by contributions to the Red Cross through regular funds and special emergency appeals.

Those who have already contributed locally, according to Mrs. Jean Blankenship, Chapter Executive, are: Finis Grif, fifth, Preston Jones, Roxie Jones, Mrs. J. H. Carter, Charles P. Lamb, Rue Overbey, James Blalock, Robert O. Miller, John Pocock, Louis Wilcox, Rubin James, Mrs. Harold V. Hill, Estelle Spiceland, Mrs. Jessie Houston Roane, La Verne Doores, Inez Claxton, Mrs. Bobby Grogan, Roy Irvin, Mrs. Grace Irvin, Herman Darnell, and the Pleasant Valley Church of Christ.

Contributions may be made at the chapter office in the courthouse, by mail to Box 488, or be given to Chmn. Lester Nanny at the postoffice, or Marvin Wrather, Disaster Chairman.

Fighting For A Cause

The power of the Internal Revenue Service to make and revise regulations on income taxes has been questioned from time to time, but few have ever gotten very far with their objections.

Anyone who has been around for a few years may recall Miss Vivien Kellems, the Connecticut industrialist. She has been carrying on a long battle against the inequities of the national income tax, but by and large, it has been a losing battle.

But undaunted at the age of 72, she is again standing up for her convictions and is fighting for the return of more than $73,000 which she feels is due her as a result of taxes collected illegally from her because she has no husband.

"There is no law that says single people must pay at a higher rate than married people," Miss Kellems says. "Congress never has, nor does it dare pass such a law; even the Supreme Court would have to declare it unconstitutional. If you can tax me because I am single, you can tax me because my eyes are gray, my hair is white, or I am 72 years old. I have no more control over these conditions than I have over my marital status. How many eligible, single men, age 72 or thereabouts, do you know?"

While Miss Kellems will have the support and sympathy of many taxpayers, we would say she doesn't have much of a chance of getting a refund of her $73,000. The rules are frequently being changed by the Internal Revenue Service without authorization by Congress. And they make it stick.

We have often wondered, for example, about the constitutionality of making an employer deduct income taxes from his employees' wages. Every employer must do this and must send the government a check for what he has withheld on a weekly, by-weekly, monthly or quarterly basis, determined by how many employees he has and the total amount of his payroll. The employer is held accountable by the IRS for performing this tax-collecting chore. He has no choice.

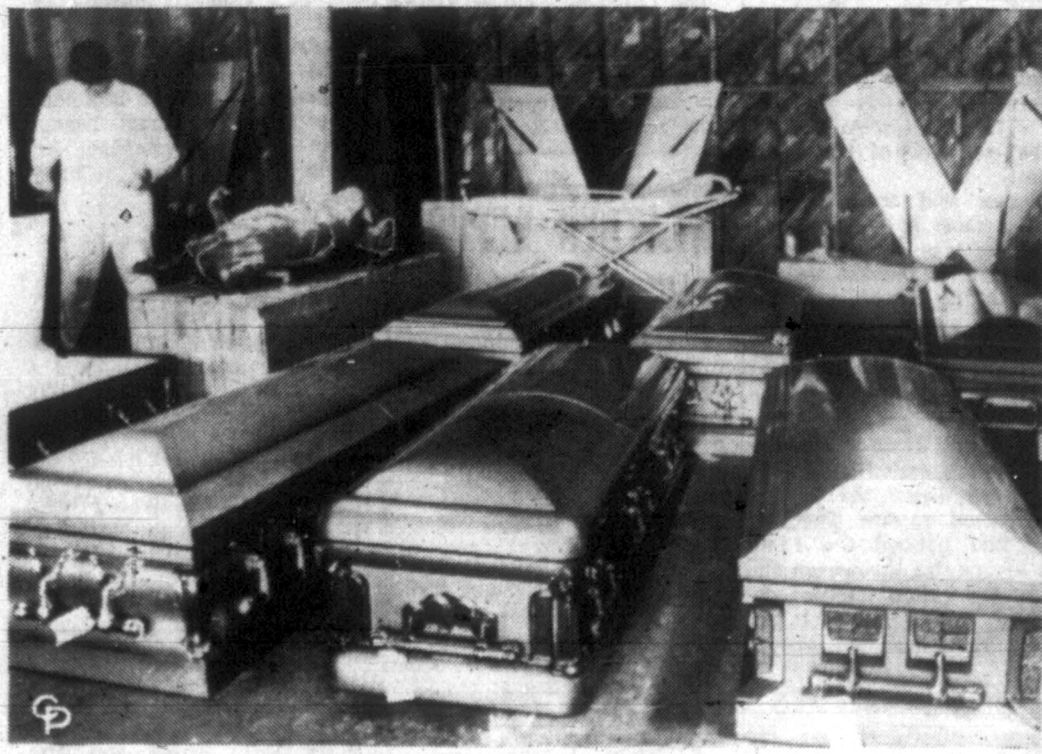

Many employers find that collecting income taxes from their employees for Uncle Sam, and keeping books on it, filling out forms, etc., has become an expensive procedure. Bookkeepers and accountants spend a good deal of their time keeping up with this sort of thing. . . work that the government should be doing. Employers get no pay for doing all this bookkeeping for Uncle Sam, not even a "thank you."

Miss Kellems doesn't believe the IRS has the legal right to make her pay more taxes simply because she has no husband. Seems to us there are many bureaus of the federal government which have usurped a lot of authority, without going through channels of getting a law passed in Congress.

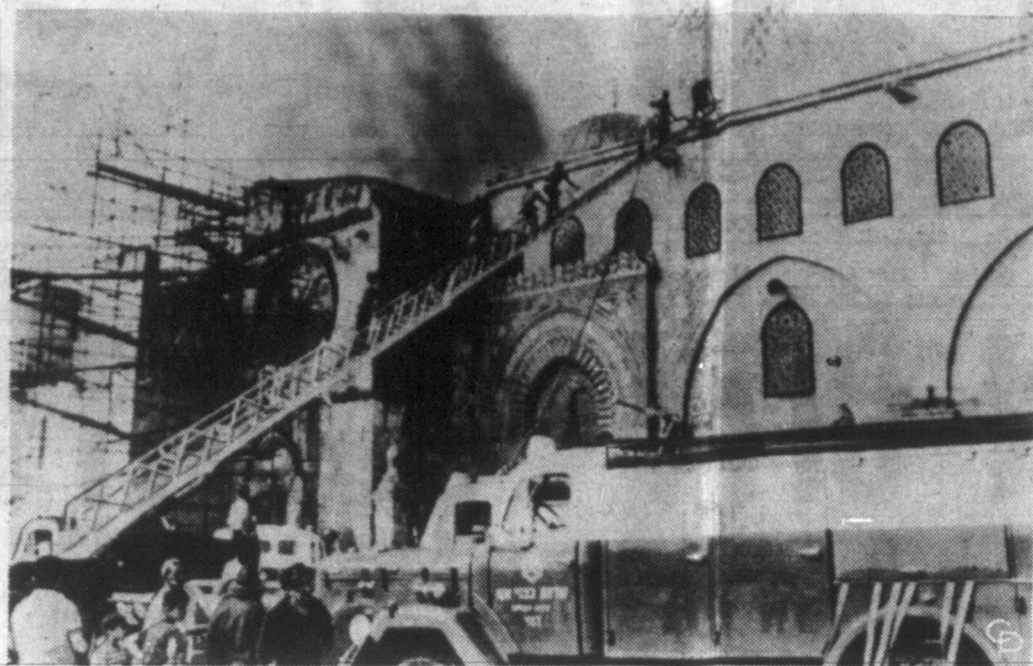

We salute Miss Kellems for her courage in fighting for a cause she believes to be right, doomed to failure though it may be.

Everett Dirksen Must Readjust To Life With A Republican President

By STEVEN GERSTEL
WASHINGTON (UPI)—After

eight years as the pampered partner of two Democratic presidents, Everett McKinley Dirksen is adjusting to life with a Republican in the White House. It's not quite the same.

So long as John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson were running the country, the wily old Senate Republican leader had the best of all worlds.

Quite often, when they were strapped for votes on critical issues, the Democrats would reach Dirksen in his ornate Capitol office to woo and, quite often, win the margin of victory.

Then, also, he eagerly eased into the GOP's leadership vacuum and, with low-keyed help from House leaders, became the spokesman for the party out of power. If it was not the best image the Republicans could project, it was the only one they had.

Learning Difficult Role
It may be difficult after all those heady years but Dirksen is painfully learning the role of a supporting actor in an all-Republican cast.

Instead of those major, televised news conferences where he used to articulate Republican positions, programs, and protests, Dirksen has been reduced to a conveyor of news.

At frequent but very informal news gatherings, he passes on bits and pieces of what Nixon is thinking, planning, and doing.

And even this sometimes backfires. Recently Dirksen told reporters firmly that Nixon would announce a nomination to the Supreme Court on a specific date. As to who the man was, Dirksen's lips were sealed.

Announcement Not Made
Fewer than 24 hours later, everyone knew it was Clement F. Haynsworth and Dirksen squirmed out of his self-imposed silence to confirm it. But the announcement was not made on the date Dirksen predicted.

This does not mean Dirksen has fared badly in the Nixon administration. On the contrary. As the Senate leader, he is part of the GOP inner group and his relations with Nixon are considered excellent. Many of his recommendations for government posts have been accepted and he is credited with blocking the nomination of Dr. John H. Knowles as assistant secretary for health, rejected in favor of Sen. John G. Tower's man, Hilary Sandcheck at the White House. His choice for head of the Small Business Administration was unsuccessfully an Illinois judge for the Supreme Court.

Moon Rocks Are Found To Be Billions Of Years Old

By EDWARD K. DELONG
UPI Space Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo 11 moon rocks, scientists have found to their surprise and excitement, date back much farther than expected—"billions of years,"—and perhaps to the birth of the solar system.

This discovery, announced Sunday, indicates the moon is more ancient and that its surface features developed more slowly than most scientists had expected.

The moon rocks are at least as old as the most ancient rocks found in the earth's crust, which date back about 3.3 billion years, said Dr. Wilmut N. Hess, chief scientist at the Houston Space Center.

They might be as old as the solar system itself, which scientists believe was formed some 4.5 billion years ago. And for "hundreds of millions of years," Hess said, they have rested within a few inches of the lunar surface or on the surface.

Hess said the dating of the lunar rocks was done by four scientists working in the Houston laboratory where the 54 pounds of moon rock and dirt, scooped from the surface of Tranquility Base July 20 by Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin, are locked in quarantine.

"These age estimates are important in understanding the origin of the moon and the solar system," Hess said.

During the time they were on or near the moon's surface, the rocks underwent a constant bombardment of atoms of so-called "rare gases" that boil off the surface of the sun and stream through space. Many of these solar particles were trapped in the rocks.

Dr. S. Oliver Schaeffer and John Funkhouser, both of State University of New York; Dr. Joseph Zähringer of the Max Planck Institute, Heidelberg, Germany; and Dr. Donald Bogard of the Space Center staff measured these trapped atoms to determine the age of the lunar material.

Scientists said the new finding does not rule out—or strongly support—any of the theories about how the moon was formed.

It does indicate, they said, that the moon has remained relatively undisturbed in the ages since it and the earth were formed. Because of this, they said, the moon may contain clues about its own formation and that of the earth which can be equaled on the earth, where many geological clues have been obliterated or made inaccessible by recent activity.

"For men who have made studies of the moon their life's work, this is exciting news," one Space Center source said. Another called it "the most important news yet" from the studies of the lunar rock.

Jets Drop Game To Raiders Last Night

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

The New York Jets lost a battle Monday night but managed to prevent a war.

The defending American Football League and world champions dropped a pre-season game to the Oakland Raiders, 24-6, but were able to avoid any serious injuries to key personnel by going with substitutes for most of the way.

Because there has always been hostility between the Raiders and the Jets, Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Jets decided to play his regulars only sparingly and used quarterback Joe Namath for only one quarter. During that brief time Namath hit on five of seven passes for 50 yards.

Unable Take Control

Many of the other Jets saw only part-time duty, also, yet even with the Jets second line units in the game the Raiders were not able to take control of the game until the final quarter.

It wasn't until 41-year-old George Blanda entered the game in the final quarter that the Raiders' offense got moving. Blanda guided the Raiders 65 yards in only three plays four minutes into the final period and capped the drive with a 23-yard scoring pass to Charlie Todd.

The Raiders added 10 quick points in the final 67 seconds with Blanda kicking a 16-yard field goal, and Daryle Lamontica hitting rookie Drew Bile with a six-yard TD pass with 14 seconds remaining in the game.

In one other pre-season game Monday night the Detroit Lions defeated the Boston Patriots, 22-9, in an inter-league game at Montreal.

Errol Mann, a castoff from the Cleveland Browns and the Green Bay Packers, sparked the Lions' victory by booting five field goals. His longest was a 28-yarder and his shortest a 12-yarder. Mel Farr of the Lions scored the game's only touchdown on a two-yard run. Gino Capelletti accounted for all the Boston scoring with three field goals.

Other Developments

In other developments Monday, Tom Sestak announced his retirement from the Buffalo Bills after nine years as one of the AFL's top defensive tackles. Sestak, 33, will remain on the Bills' payroll as a scout.

The Bills also reduced their roster by cutting flanker Ed Rutkowski, the team's most valuable player of a year ago. Rutkowski was a veteran of six seasons.

The Pittsburgh Steelers released four players, including veterans Booth Lusteg and Bob Wade; the Houston Oilers dropped seven players, including veteran receiver Glenn Bass and the New York Giants placed veteran Gary Wood on their taxi squad after the 27-year-old quarterback cleared waivers.

Palmer's Hip Is Feeling Better

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, after firing a one-under-par 71 Monday in his first round of golf since withdrawing from the PGA two weeks ago, said his bursitis-plagued right hip felt a little better but not good enough to return to the pro tour.

"The hip wasn't real good, but it's feeling better and that's a good sign," Palmer said. "I'm not going to push it. I'm not even going to think about the tour until it feels real good."

Palmer said he would play again today and make a golf film later in the week and "then I won't have to play any more for a month or so."

Palmer teamed with Jack Nicklaus Monday to defeat Byron Nelson and Jug McSpaden, who were known as the Gold Dust Twins on the pro circuit in the 1940s, two-up in a benefit exhibition match.

Palmer and Nicklaus spotted their older opponents 50 yards on each hole, playing McSpaden's Dub's Dread course at 8,101 yards. Nicklaus fired a three-under-par 69, but it was Palmer who set the pace on the front nine that gave his team a three-up lead at the turn.

Palmer, with five birds and four bogeys, wound up with 34-71. Nicklaus, who missed only one green, had four birds and one bogey for a 35-34-69. McSpaden finished at 37-34-71 and Nelson carded a 38-34-72.

As Palmer drove away Monday, a fan yelled: "We want you back on the tour, Arnold!"

"I want to come back too," Palmer smiled.

MANN TOPS LIST

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Carol Mann has replaced Kathy Whitworth atop the standings of leading money winners on the LPGA tour.

Miss Mann, who earned $3,000 for her sudden death victory in the Tournament of Champions last weekend, has earned $35,547 on the tour this year while Miss Whitworth has accumulated $33,504. Sandra Haynie is third in earnings with $24,605.

PARTTIME COWBOYS

AUBURN, Maine (UPI)—State troopers Hollis Dixon and Raymond Curtis could exchange their patrol cars for Stetson and Lariat.

While patrolling the Maine Turnpike Saturday night, Dixon spotted six horses, escapees from a pasture four miles away, galloping down the median strip.

He and Curtis stopped their cars, blue lights flashing, to warn oncoming motorists. A posse assembled spontaneously and quickly captured three animals that crossed the southbound lanes.

The others, with Dixon and Curtis in pursuit, fled back to their pasture.

NBA and ABA Merger Talks Broken Off

By PETE ALFANO
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Walter Kennedy, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, and President Jim Gardner of the ABA are experiencing a failure to communicate and it looks as though the NBA may pay the price.

Kennedy announced in a news conference held in New York Monday that merger talks between the two leagues have been broken off with no plans to resume them.

Gardner, who is owner of the Carolina Cougars in addition to serving as ABA president, said in Greensboro, N.C., however, the two leagues may merge "within two weeks."

Gardner held his news conference to announce the signing of Billy Cunningham of the Philadelphia 76ers of the NBA to a three-year contract with the Cougars which will take effect after the former North Carolina University star plays out his option in 1970.

Some 20 other NBA players are said to be negotiating with the rival ABA, the most prominent being Earl Monroe of the Baltimore Bullets.

Kennedy said these actions and the switching of the Oakland franchise to Washington, D.C., was "breach of faith in negotiating procedures."

"I told Gardner that under the circumstances I did not believe an accommodation between the two leagues could be affected and I was asked... to have no further meetings with the representatives of the ABA," Kennedy added.

Gardner, however, disagreed and said "If we are going to have a merger it may come within the next couple of weeks. We have had several meetings and everyone seems agreeable there should be a merger. We each have some problems but they can be worked out."

Falcon Streak Ends

By RABUN MATTHEWS

ATLANTA (UPI)—A familiar-looking pass "defense" and a shadow from Norm Van Brocklin's playing days have ended the Atlanta Falcon's two game winning streak.

When the firing was over in Atlanta's only home exhibition game this season, the Falcons had been whipped 24-7 by Washington.

That much aligned pass defense that Falcon fans have been suffering through for three seasons allowed 17 completions in 22 attempts and two touchdowns.

And it was Sonny Jurgenson that picked the secondary apart for 205 yards, Jurgenson, who played behind Van Brocklin when the Falcon coach was a Philadelphia quarterback in 1960, threw touchdown passes to Jerry Smith and Gerry Allen. The pass to Smith, in the third quarter, covered eight yards and put Washington in front 14-0 and the final loss, a 37-yarder, put the game out of reach at 24-7. There was not a Falcon defender anywhere near either Allen or Smith.

A sellout crowd of 56,990 watched.

"Fumbles, interceptions, poor tackling, mental mistakes—that's what beat us," shrugged Van Brocklin, "which means we beat ourselves."

Randy Johnson started at quarterback and fumbled away the ball once and was intercepted twice before Bob Berry went in late in the third quarter and ignited the only scoring drive for Atlanta. Berry moved Atlanta 73 yards in 9 plays for a score, passing the final 32 yards to Jerry Simmons. At that point the Falcons trailed only 14-7, but following a 57 yard punt return by Rickie Harris, Curt Knight kicked a 27 yard field goal and Jurgenson quickly passed to Allen for the final score.

"The Dutchman taught me a great deal about the passing game," acknowledged Jurgenson, "and no one knows any more. I have a lot of respect for him and I have no doubts he will do a great job with the Falcons."

Washington's new coach, Vince Lombardi, said the game "was important to us. Frankly, we haven't come as fast as I had expected and we had to get something started. When I went back to coaching at Washington I had forgotten you had to start from the beginning."

"We went back to the beginning after our first two games and that's why this game was so important."

In a parting word, Lombardi said Atlanta is "a spirited, young team with its future ahead of it. I have a great deal of respect for the Dutchman and consider him a hell of a football coach."

U.S. And Cuba Meet In Amateur Baseball Today

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—

The United States and Cuba will meet today for the third time in the last three years for the championship of an international amateur baseball tournament.

In the two previous times, the United States emerged the winner, spoiling Cuba's opportunities of using those victories in baseball in their political propaganda against the United States.

The first time was in the fifth Pan American Games in Winnipeg, Canada, two years ago, where the United States, coming from behind, in a three-game playoff, beat Cuba in the last two games to win the baseball crown for the first time since the start of those games in 1951. Before that Cuba had won two of four Pan American titles, in 1951 and 1963.

The other international meet was a four-team invitational tournament held in Mexico last year, shortly after the Olympic Games, in which the United States beat Cuba in the last game.

Squad To Have 48 Returnees From Last Year and 50 Frosh

From Joe Tom Erwin

A squad of 48 returning squadmen and some 50 freshmen prospects will open fall football practice, Thursday, Aug. 28 at Murray State University with picture day.

Two-a-day practice sessions will begin the next day in preparation for the Racers' opening game with Eastern Michigan, Sept. 20.

Among the returning squadmen will be 24 lettermen, 12 of whom were starters on last year's team which won 7 games, lost 2, and tied 1 and tied for second place in the Ohio Valley Conference. Several key players from that team will not be returning, however. Gone by graduation will be quarterback Larry Tillman, the OVC's "Player of the Year" last season; safety Don Veatch and offensive guard Tony Sims, who were both all conference.

Barry Says He Will Not Leave

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Oakland Oaks basketball star Rick Barry is planning to stay in the Bay area, regardless of where the Oaks go.

Barry met Monday with his attorney, Robert Rubin, and Earl Foreman, who is negotiating to buy the team with the intention of moving it to Washington, D.C.

After the session, Foreman read a tersely worded joint statement issued by him and Barry:

"On behalf of the Washington Capitols I have asked Rick Barry to honor his contract with Oakland Basketball Inc. and play basketball for the Washington Caps."

"Rick has stated that he does not wish to leave the Bay area and it is his belief that he is not required to do so."

Barry, a 6-foot-7 star who was rookie of the year in the National Basketball Association and the league's scoring leader in his second season before jumping to the Oaks in the American Basketball Association, owns 15 per cent of the Oaks and would get an estimated $400,000 for his share in the $2.6 million sale.

Foreman's troubles do not end with Barry's refusal. Also declining to make the move is Oaks Coach Alex Hannum, with whom Foreman planned to meet tonight.

Hannum, who decided he liked the West Coast and quit the Philadelphia 76ers in 1968 to sign an eight-year contract with Oakland as coach and executive vice president, said he isn't going to Washington, no matter what Barry does.

Baseball Roundup

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Gil Hodges once watched Leo Durocher give the classic textbook example of how to pull a team from behind down the stretch to the pennant.

Now Hodges would like to show that he learned from the master how it's done.

Hodges was playing first base for the 1951 Brooklyn Dodgers when Durocher managed the New York Giants for 13 1/2 games back on Aug. 11 to the pennant on Bobby Thomson's famed homer.

Race Seems Over

Now Durocher is managing the Chicago Cubs and Hodges is managing the New York Mets and just 10 days ago, the race was all over. The Mets were 9 1/2 games back on Aug. 14, in third place and a game behind St. Louis. On Aug. 16, both the Mets and Cards were 8 1/2 back.

But, suddenly, there's a race again and it's the Cubs who are fading.

Despite a four-run rally in the ninth inning Monday, the Cubs were beaten by Cincinnati, 9-8, in the only National League game. That cut the Cubs' lead to 4 1/2 games over the Mets and just two in the "all important"

Dear Abby

Clothes make the couple?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a junior executive in a large firm. Last summer one of the senior partners invited us to spend the week-end at his summer place at the lake. We went and were treated very graciously.

My husband told me that they are inviting us again this year, and here is my problem. Last year during the daytime we all sat around in bathing suits, robes, etc. However, on Saturday night they took us to a nearby nightclub which turned out to be very swanky. All the women (including my hostess) wore dressy dresses, and all I had was a summer shift and a sweater. Naturally I felt inferior and embarrassed, but I wasn't told in advance that I would need a dressy dress. Actually, I don't own any dressy evening clothes.

I don't want to offend this couple, but I don't want to go into debt to buy clothes for one week-end which I probably won't wear anywhere else. I hate to deny my husband this opportunity to socialize with his bosses, but what can I do? Don't suggest borrowing clothes. I'm not the type.

SIMPLE FOLKS

DEAR SIMPLE: All you need is a little imagination and a lot of self-confidence. No one expects you to compete in a fashion show. If you don't own a sewing machine, rent one and discover the joys of sewing. If you're all thumbs, surely you have a friend who isn't. If not, do a little bargain hunting. By all means, go, and have a good time. I admire your unwillingness to go into debt or to "borrow." And I'll bet if you were to wear the same summer shift you wore last year, nobody would know the difference or care.

DEAR ABBY: Now I've seen everything! Coffee dispensers that look exactly like filing cabinets!

KAY IN SEATTLE

DEAR KAY: Beautiful! They'll match up perfectly with lots of coffee drinkers who look exactly like office workers.

DEAR ABBY: Our son was killed in Viet Nam early in 1968. He left a widow (I'll call her Annie) and three small children. Annie was a good wife to our son and we love her very much.

We recently had a letter from Annie telling us that she plans to marry a captain in the air force. She wants us to come to the wedding, which will be very small, and she has asked my husband to give the bride away. [Her own father is dead.] Annie's fiancé also wrote us a very nice letter, asking for our blessings.

My husband and I would like to go because we want to meet the man who will be the "father" to our son's children.

The problem is our eldest daughter. She claims that there was something between Annie and this captain while our son was in Viet Nam, and she says if we attend the wedding it will show that we have no respect for our dead son's memory.

She has raised such a commotion that it has left me sick. We can't believe that there is any truth to what she says about Annie. Under the circumstances, what would YOU do, Abby?

TORN

DEAR TORN: I would go to Annie's wedding.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the woman who got all upset because her husband called her other feminine names in his sleep. The solution is so simple I'm surprised she didn't think of it herself. This is what I did.

About 22 years ago, when we had been married only 5 years, my husband called me "JOANIE" in his sleep. The following night I called him "SALVATORE." His name is "ERIC." We are Swedish. Thank you for your column.

Miss Judy Parker, Bride-elect Is Honored At Shower

Miss Judy Parker, bride-elect of Earl Byars, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Thursday, August 14, in the evening at the Kirksey Elementary School.

Hostesses for the event were Mesdames Jean Tucker, Marilyn Bazzell, Phyllis Price, and Miss Rosemary Redden.

The honoree was attired in a sleeveless yellow knit dress with black patent accessories. At her shoulder was pinned a yellow carnation corsage, a gift of the hostesses.

Mrs. Parker, mother of the bride, chose for the occasion an orchid knit sheath with black accessories. Mrs. Byars, mother of the groom, wore a beige knit dress with patent accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages, gift of the hostesses.

The guest register table was covered with a white floor-length cloth and overlaid with white net. A single white candle flanked with daisies and green net nestled in a fan-shaped crystal bowl complimented the table.

The gift table was covered with a green floor-length cloth overlaid with green net. A bride doll placed on a white net stand completed the arrangement.

Assisting in the opening of the gifts were Miss Rosemary Redden and Carol Darnell.

The games were conducted by Mrs. Marilyn Bazzell. Game prizes were won by Mrs. Lenna Fulton, Miss Becky Burchett, and Mrs. Anna Bell.

Refreshments of punch, cake, nuts, and mints were served from a table decorated with green floor-length cloths and net. The centerpiece was a bouquet of white roses arranged in a cut-glass ice bucket.

Mrs. Jean Tucker and Mrs. Marilyn Bazzell presided at the refreshment table.

Approximately forty persons attended or sent gifts.

Two easy-care favorites—terrycloth and vinyl—team up in an all-occasion reversible tablecloth. The rough side is for card playing, patio, picnics, and beach. The slick printed side is for informal meals or children's parties. It is available in many colors and sizes, including round with a zipper and umbrella hole. Zippered totes, a new design for picnic baskets or lunch boxes are covered in gay, brightly patterned vinyl and equipped with a swinging handle. In single or double sizes, to accommodate a thermos alone or thermos-plus-lunch, they look more like gadget bags from lunch pails. The sleek vinyl is easy to keep sparkling clean. — Miss Irma Hamilton, Court House, Mayfield, Ky. 42066 Telephone: 247-2334.

Vegetables cooked in covered pans retain more vitamins. Covering the pan helps to retain some of the vitamins because the vegetables can be cooked in only a little water. — Miss Patricia Everett, Court House, Benton, Kentucky 42025 Tel.: 527-6601.

Be a fussy fabric shopper. Less expensive fabrics are not always good bargains. Buying fabric at the beginning of the season gives the shopper more choice, however, many prefer to buy expensive fabric on sale rather than cheap ones at regular prices. Whenever you buy, look for wearability, easy-care features—check the grain of the fabric—read your labels—be sure it's flattering in color, texture and design for you—and that it will fit into your overall clothing plan. — Mrs. Catherine Thompson, Post Office Building, Hickman, Kentucky 42050 Telephone: 236-2351.

Rooms have an emotional, mood-creating impact. Some rooms make us feel gay and relaxed while other depress us. Lighting is the most powerful ally or enemy in creating mood or destroying it. Whether natural or artificial, you can control light to make the colors in your rooms more expressive of the mood you desire. In the proper light, color creates mood; it can be brilliant and exciting, dispel gloom, sparkle like a jewel or lull the senses by making the colors look so delicate that they are almost unrecognizable. The mood you give to a room is a reflection of your temperament. — Mrs. Juanita Amonett—Court House, Paducah, Kentucky 42001 Telephone: 442-2718.

Properly stored, many summer and fall vegetables will keep for several months, warm. A warm, dry place is best for storing pumpkin, squash and sweet potatoes. "Warm means 40 to 50 degrees. Beans, peas and onions should be stored where it is cool (25-32 degrees) and dry. A cool, moist location is the place for carrots, turnips, cabbage, celery, and rutabagas. A temperature of 32 to 36 degrees is best for these vegetables. Cabbage should be stored away from other vegetables because of the odor.

Store only clean, mature vegetables that are free of bruises and blemishes. The old saying about one rotten apple spoiling the entire barrel holds true when storing most fruits and vegetables, so keep only the best products. — Mrs. Maxine Griffin, Federal Building, Clinton, Kentucky 42031 Telephone: 653-2231.

Any home today can have good light plus smart styling in lamps. Short squat lamps are for decoration only and should be supplemented with other lamps for reading, sewing or other close work. To determine whether your lamp is good for reading, measure the distance from the top of the table to the bottom of the lamp shade plus the height of the table. The distance should be 38 to 42 inches. And will equal the level of the seated eye.

Maximum benefit will be obtained when the lamp base is placed in line with the shoulder and about 20 inches to the right or left from center of reading material. — Mrs. Mildred W. Potts, La Center, Kentucky 42056 Telephone: 665-5671.

A REMINDER: All detergents are now biodegradable. Since mid-1965, all household detergents manufactured for use in the United States have been composed of biodegradable (soft) materials. This voluntary industry-wide conversion was a major accomplishment in the interest of clean water. Today's detergents break down (decompose) readily in modern sewage treatment facilities.

Incidentally, it makes no difference whether or not you prefer a regular-sudsing or low-sudsing detergent in your laundry. The biodegradability factors come into play after a detergent has done its job in the washing machine or dishwasher. And don't be concerned if your favorite detergent is not specifically labeled biodegradable. Generally, this is not indicated on packages. — Mrs. Bartlett Wraether, 209 Maple Street, Murray, Ky. 42071. Telephone: 753-1452.

Mushroomy

Mushroom rice pilaf takes only minutes to make. In large skillet, melt 2 tablespoons of butter or margarine; add 1 cup of chopped celery and 1/4 cup of chopped onion. Cook until tender. Add 1 (1 1/2-ounce) envelope of beef-flavor mushroom mix, 1 1/2 cups of packaged pre-cooked rice and 2 cups of water. Bring quickly to a boil. Simmer.

Mrs. Vernon Gantt Honored At Shower At Usrey Home

The home of Mrs. Robert Usrey was the scene of a bridal shower held in honor of Mrs. Vernon Gantt, a recent bride, on Tuesday, August 19, at seven-thirty o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. Usrey, Mrs. Bobby Joe Sims, Mrs. Marshal Brandon, Mrs. Buel Hargis, Mrs. Whilmes, Mrs. Hoyt Cleaver, Jr. and Mrs. Kenneth Starks were the hostesses for the occasion. Miss Bettie Usrey assisted at the gift table. Miss Mary Jane Usrey assisted at the gift table. Miss Mary Jane Usrey assisted at the guest register.

For the special event, the honoree chose to wear a dress of brown and white print linen. She was presented a gift corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Wilson Gantt, the honoree's mother-in-law, was attired in a blue knit dress. She was also presented a gift corsage of white carnations.

The serving table was covered with a white linen cloth. The centerpiece was a golden cherub holding an arrangement of multi-colored roses. Other appointments were in crystal.

Twenty-five persons were present or sent gifts.

Cottage Grove Couple To Observe Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Emerson of Cottage Grove, Tenn. will observe their 50th wedding anniversary with open house at their home in the New Boston Community, Sunday, August 31st, between the hours of 2:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. No invitations are being sent, but a cordial invitation is extended to all friends and relatives who wish to attend.

Mrs. Emerson is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. L. (Bob) Olive of Cottage Grove, Tenn.

Mr. Emerson is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John L. Emerson of Cottage Grove, Tenn.

The couple was united in marriage August 27, 1919 at Paris, Tenn. with the late Rev. D. T. Spaulding officiating.

They have spent their entire married life on Route 1, Cottage Grove, where Mr. Emerson continues to farm.

They are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Mary Lois Emerson of Dearborn, Michigan.

Deronda M. Sheeks And Ben F. Riley To Be Married

Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Sheeks of Cunningham announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Deronda Martha, to Ben Franklin Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley of Farmington, Tenn.

Deronda is a 1967 graduate of Carlisle County High School and is now employed at the International Shoe Company in Paducah.

Mr. Riley is a 1967 graduate of Farmington High School and is now attending the Institute of Electronic Technology in Paducah. He will graduate August 29 with the degree of Electronic Engineering Technician.

The wedding will be solemnized on Saturday, August 30, at seven o'clock in the evening at the Bethlehem Baptist Church, Cunningham, with a reception in the basement afterward.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Chattanooga, the bride was wearing a black and white voile dress, with white accessories. She wore the orchid from her bouquet.

They are now residing at Buchanan.

IN MEMORY

Should You Go First

Should you go first and I remain to walk the road alone. I'll live in a memory's garden, dear.

With happy days we have known.
In Spring I'll wait for roses red,
When fades the lilac blue;
In early fall when brown leaves call,

I'll catch a glimpse of you.
Should you go first and I remain to finish with the scroll,
No lengthening shadows shall creep in to make this life seem dull.

We've known so much happiness,
And memory is one gift of God that death can not destroy.
Should you go first and I remain for battles to be fought,
Each thing you have touched along the way,
Will be a hallowed spot.
I'll hear your voice, I'll see your smile.

Though blindly I may grope, the memory of your helping hand
Will buoy me on with hope.
Should you go first and I remain,
One thing I'd have you do:
Walk slowly down the path of death,
For one day I'll follow you.
I'll want to know each step you take,
That I may walk the same.
For some day down that lonely road
You'll hear me call your name.
Mrs. Annie Johnson

GAME CLOWN

EAST GREENWICH, R.I. (UPI) — Not everybody loves a clown.

It was the old carnival game in which spectators throw baseballs at a clown perched on a target in efforts to dump him into a bucket of water.

Someone threw a rock instead.

Bozo was hit in the head and tumbled into the water, sustaining minor injuries Saturday.

A game clown, he was perched on the shelf again Sunday.

Police said spectators saw a youth throw the rock and run.

FLOOD HAVOC—"I have lost everything, but I guess that's God's will," is the comment of 80-year-old Bland Harvey as he stands near his overturned house at Roseland, Va. The rampaging James River flood left it on its side in a sea of mud.

Cleanup Operations Continue In Virginia, Gulf Coast, Today

By WILLIAM T. VAUGHN

GULFPORT, Miss. (UPI)—As rescue and cleanup operations continued 1,000 miles apart today, there were indications Hurricane Camille's rains may have been as deadly as its 190-mile-an-hour winds and 30-foot tides.

The Gulf Coast, where the hurricane struck in full force, has counted a death toll of 139 known dead in Mississippi and Louisiana, with an undetermined number of persons missing.

In Virginia, where Camille left the mainland as a squall which dumped up to 10 inches of rain, the toll from devastating flooding in mountain towns along the Ames River reached 80 known dead, with 109 persons missing. The damage from the flooding was estimated at more than $132.5 million, well below the predicted $1 billion or more predicted for the Gulf Coast.

Many residents along the Gulf Coast returned to their shattered homes Monday to salvage what they could of their belongings.

George Hastings of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, heading federal aid operations, said it would be four or five weeks before residents could resume "normal" living—but he said it would take another two years to get back to

"where we were before the storm."

Busy crews of soldiers, prisoners, Seabees, and National Guardsmen and reservists guide a fleet of machines through the streets collecting debris and sometimes bodies from the thick woods around the towns.

More bodies were found Monday, said Billy Joe Cross, state game and fish director, who is in charge of the central morgue. Cross said there were 120 Mississippi deaths in three counties.

Cross also warned the toll might rise. He said the first day he called for a missing person report, he received a list of 46 names.

In Washington, the Agriculture Department said the Farmers Home Administration would make available 3 percent loans to farm families in 25 Virginia counties in the James River Basin. The low interest, emergency loans may be used to restore farms damaged by landslides and flooding.

In Richmond Monday night, state Agriculture Commissioner Maurice B. Rowe said preliminary estimates showed farm losses in Virginia's worst flood in more than a century would likely surpass $8 million. He said damage to livestock, peach and apple crops would be "devastating."

He Won His Bet

A Square Tomato?

KIMBERWORTH, ENGLAND (UPI)—Sandy Tomlinson, 50, won a bet and confounded friends at his local tavern when he grew a square tomato.

"I thought it could be done by letting a young tomato grow into a plastic mold," Tomlinson said while collecting on the bet. "The idea proved very successful. Now I am planning to grow more square tomatoes."

Joppa Trio Is Bound To Grand Jury

MAYFIELD, Ky., Aug. 25—Three Joppa, Ill., teenagers, charged with the murder of a 17-year-old Mayfield youth, were bound over to the grand jury this morning in a preliminary hearing in Graves County Court.

The commonwealth will seek indictments of murder for Robert Winn Conder and Dennis Lewis, both 19, and Jackie Surrett, 18, when the grand jury starts deliberation Nov. 10.

The trio is charged with the beating death of Wayne Lindsey, son of Mrs. Ruby Wilford, 610 James Road. Lindsey was beaten to death at Hicks' Drive-In on the night of Aug. 17.

Graves County Judge Dick Castleman, who presided at the 10-minute hearing, ordered the three to be held in the county jail without bond, as they have since they waived extradition Aug. 18 and were returned to Mayfield. Representing the three youths is Mayfield attorney Malcolm R. Boaz, who was appointed by the court.

The courtroom was filled to capacity, with many spectators lining the walls in the back. When the motion to waive preliminary hearing was granted many of those present were visibly angry.

At this point Judge Castleman told those present, many of them friends and relatives of the dead youth, that it was the defense attorney's right to waive the preliminary hearing.

The trio was extradited from Metropolis, Ill., following a hearing in Massac Circuit Court on the morning of Aug. 18. They had been arrested by the Massac Sheriff's Department earlier that day.

Witnesses at the drive-in told authorities that the three youths called Lindsey outside and began beating him about the head and face. Some of the witnesses said that several objects were used to administer the beating.

Graves County Sheriff Wayne Carr said Conder's wife was inside the restaurant at the same time Lindsey was. The sheriff said Lindsey had been sitting with Conder's wife.

Lindsey, an employee of a brick company, was quoted by witnesses as saying that he did not know the girl was married.

Sheriff Carr said the girl told him she had informed Lindsey that she and Conder "had broken up."

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)

Man Loses Four Sons; Looks For The Youngest One

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (UPI)—Every Sunday for the last six months a lonely man has driven a motorcycle along the banks of the Santa Ana River looking for his son.

Wilber Philpott lost three of his four boys before they reached their teens. He knows that the fourth, Benny, 12, is dead, too, but the compulsion is such he cannot give up the search.

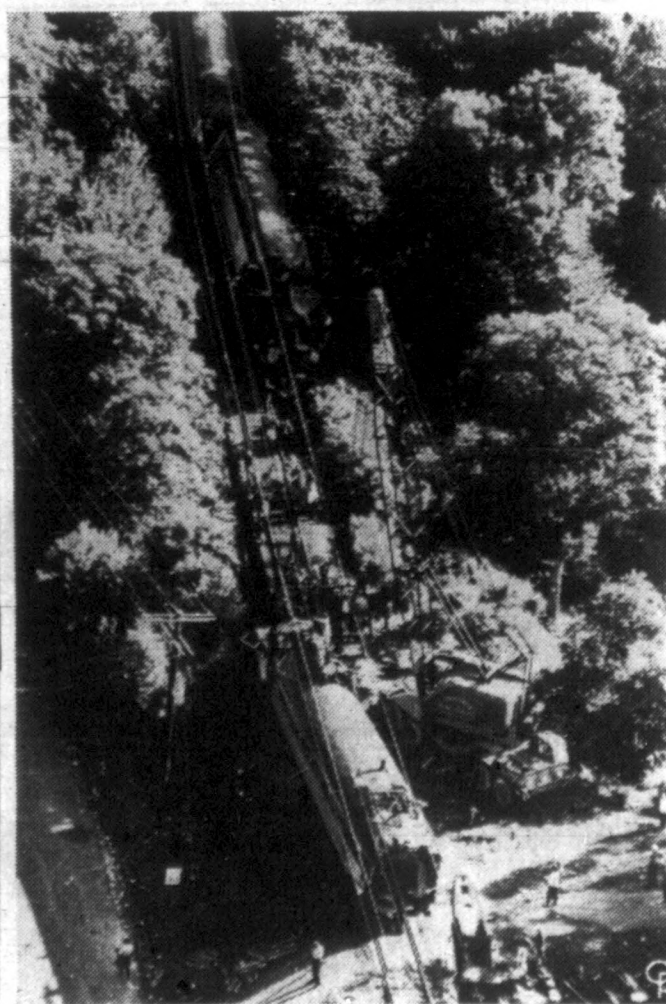

Benny was swept through a culvert and into the river Feb. 25 during the heaviest rains California had experienced in 80 years. Philpott, a garage mechanic, was helping pull cars out of the floodwaters only 500 feet away at the time. He did not know until he came home at 9 p.m. his son had been lost. The next morning, Philpott frantically roamed the river banks, hoping to find the boy alive. Those chances soon faded away but the father could not give up.

He bought a two-wheel-drive trail bike with huge tires which can be driven through water, mud and the toughest terrain. Philpott has to work through the week but every Sunday, usually with a friend and his boy's dogs, he goes searching. His three other sons died of a liver disease and are buried together.

"I've got to do this to satisfy my own mind. I may break up when I find Benny. But that's the way life is. You've got to do what you think is right."

SIX KILLED IN TRAINS' COLLISION Workmen struggle to clear the wreckage after two Penn Central Railroad commuter trains collided head-on, killing six persons and injuring 32 others near the fashionable New York City suburb of Darien, Conn. The collision occurred on a single track about 250 yards north of a siding where one of the trains was supposed to wait until the other passed.

$1,700 Taken In Water Valley Bank Robbery

WATER VALLEY, Ky., Aug. 25—$1,700 in silver was taken from the Citizens Bank of Water Valley during an early-morning burglary last Saturday.

Mrs. Murrel Stephens, cashier of the bank, disclosed the amount taken today following a thorough check of the vault.

Twenty lock boxes inside the vault were also ransacked, and it may be several weeks before it can be determined how much and what was taken from the boxes.

Milford Jobe, Commonwealth's Detective, of Water Valley, said no arrests have been made in the case. Two men reportedly are being sought for questioning.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Stephens said the bank will be open for business as usual Tuesday morning after being closed today.

The burglars were unable to get into the inner-section of the vault because of a time lock. Most of the money is kept in that portion of the vault, bank spokesmen said.

MAY RUN FOR SENATE

Theodore C. Sorenson (above), a former aide to the late President John F. Kennedy, said in New York that he is "very seriously considering" running for the U.S. Senate from New York. He added he would be happy to accept all the "disadvantages" of his Kennedy associations "if I can have all the advantages."

False Arrest Suit Filed By Garretson

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—William Garretson, 20, who was arrested, questioned about the Sharon Tate murders and then released for lack of evidence, has filed a $1,250,000 suit against the City of Los Angeles for false arrest.

Garretson was the caretaker at the estate where the actress and her four guests were murdered and he was the only person alive when police arrived Aug. 9.

Garretson was questioned for two days and then released. He told detectives he knew nothing of the murders until police forced their way into the guest house where he lived and arrested him.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Mary Garretson of Lancaster, Ohio, on behalf of her son. It charged Garretson was falsely arrested, unlawfully imprisoned, and subjected to an invasion of privacy that exposed him to "unwarranted and notorious and undesired publicity."

DUFF SIGNS CONTRACT

MONTREAL (UPI)—Veteran winger Dick Duff, who has played with the Toronto Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers, signed his 1969-70 contract with the Montreal Canadiens Monday.

Duff, beginning his 15th National Hockey League season, scored 19 goals and 21 assists in helping the Canadiens to capture last year's Stanley Cup.

GOBS OF HELP—Reportedly symbolic of the goodwill fostered by the visit of Soviet ships to Cuba, Russian sailors help cut sugar cane during a recent visit to Matanzas Province, according to an official Soviet news agency.

Let Me Write

by Darrell Shoemaker

I have seen more progress in my fifty one years than any other man could have experienced had he lived to be five hundred years old so long as he picked his time before my birth.

Our only mode of transportation in my early years was a rubber tired buggy pulled by a faithful horse named Dan. Just think of living through the automobile, jet age and seeing men land on the moon and return to earth.

Murray and Calloway County has had a growth far more fantastic than any county in Kentucky considering population.

This fantastic growth was not, nor continues to be, an accident, it surely is in a great part a result of great men who possessed a rare quality of visioning into the future and gave much of their time, talents and, yes, money to put productive ideas into action.

Pause for one moment and consider the stalwart influences of such men as Bub Doran, George Hart, Rainey T. Wells, Dean Carr, Lee Clark and Ralph Woods just to mention a few. Dr. Woods being the one survivor to see things mature that were merely dreams thirty five years ago.

Time nor progress did not stop with those that have expired but let us admit that they are surely missed and should have been given more recognition during their life times.

It was not a new breed that took up where they left off but a group of capable men that at some future date will be compared with the above and others that are not mentioned at this time in my column.

For a good start take a good look at people like Jim Garrison, Glen Doran, Joe Dick, Harry Sparks, Max Hunt and other leaders that I should like to discuss later.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 26, the 238th day of 1969 with 127 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history: In 1883 a total of 36,000 died when the great volcano at Krakatoa in the Netherlands East Indies erupted.

In 1920 the 19th amendment to the U. S. Constitution gave women the right to vote.

In 1946 Mildred Elizabeth Gillers, known as "Axis Sally," was flown to the United States to face charges of espionage and treason for wartime radio broadcasting for Nazi Germany. In 1964 President Lyndon Johnson and Senator Hubert Humphrey were nominated in Atlantic City to head the Democratic presidential ticket in November.

A thought for the day: Sir John Buchan said, "We can only pay our debt to the past by putting the future in debt to ourselves."
