The questions of those telephone rates you'll have to pay in Kentucky—and whether there will be enough natural gas to provide heat this winter—still hang in the balance.

As you already know, the state public safety service commission turned down the Southern Bell Telephone Company's request for a rate hike which would increase its annual income 12 per cent.

But the company didn't give up the fight so easily. It has gone to the Franklin circuit court in an effort to obtain permission to raise those rates.

The firm has obtained a temporary court injunction restraining the public service commission from forcing its order that the company go back to the rates it charged before July 16.

You will recall that the company posted bond and raised the rates in July. If it loses its fight, the company must pay back the increases collected since July.

That restraining order will remain in effect until circuit judge William B. Ardery can decide whether it should be permanent or dissolved.

So, it looks like we still will have to wait while to find out what that phone bill will be next month. As for the supply of natural gas in Kentucky—the public service commission says it still will be critical this winter. But for the 1949-50 season the outlook is much brighter, according to the commission.

The commission says a survey shows that the average daily demand will exceed the known supply by 10,000,000 cubic feet in this winter's temperatures are the same as last year's.

The report says the general outlook for the state is still critical. The larger gas distributors must maintain their restrictions on space heating consumers and industries as well as all other conservation measures, according to the commission. It adds that the use of gas by industry is expected in many localities.

But, the commission says, if the hard-pressed utilities in Kentucky can get through the coming winter without serious difficulty, the future supply of natural gas will be greatly increased.

There are cheering reports from one source though.

The U. S. Agriculture department reports that Kentucky's estimated tobacco and corn crops will be larger than those of 1947.

As a matter of fact, the total tobacco crop is estimated at 409,000,000 pounds for 1948, compared with 385,000,000 pounds for 1947. Of this total, burley is estimated at 347,000,000 pounds for 1948.

The department estimates the 1948 corn crop at 98,000,000 bushels compared with 76,000,000 produced last year.

Incidentally, representatives of the eight burley tobacco belt states have gone on record as favoring retention of the 1948 quota.

Some 100 tobacco men met in Lexington last week, and voted in favor of keeping the 1948 quota.

Retiring senator John Sherman Cooper, Somerset Republican, addressed the group. He told them that the farm issue in the next congress won't be one of whether to continue price supports—but rather whether a sliding scale or 90 per cent of parity will be given.

There were a number of accidental deaths in Kentucky during the week just ended.

Two Danville women were drowned in the Kentucky river near Nicholasville. The car in which they were riding plunged off a ferry landing into the river.

At Mount Sterling, a nine-year-old child died of injuries received when she was struck by a car. A Lexington child also was a traffic victim, and at Ashland, Mrs. Katherine Carr, 53, who was prominent in civic affairs, died when a fast passenger train struck the car which she was driving.

And now, briefly, here's a summary of other events in the state during the week.

A spectacular fire destroyed a large storage warehouse at Paris. Damage was estimated at $30,000 dollars in the blaze which destroyed two new tractors and a quantity of other new and used farm machinery.

The University of Kentucky has hired four Frankfort attorneys to teach the one Negro law student enrolled at Kentucky State College. Dr. H. L. Donovan, University president, says the four will replace the seven university professors who had been going to Frankfort to teach the student, John W. Hatch of Springfield.

MANY BUSES are needed to transport the growing number of children in the consolidated schools of Calloway county. Pictured above are 17 of the 29 buses now in use. The bus service in this county, although still not adequate, is much better than it has been in the past, according to Prentice Lassiter, superintendent of county schools. Five new buses were added this year, three last year, and still more will be purchased next year. The 17 buses pictured here cost the county approximately $58,000.

Baptist Churches To Donate For Children's Homes

The annual Thanksgiving day is again going out to all Baptists in Kentucky to give "One Day's Pay" toward maintenance of the two Children's Homes, at Glendale and at Louisville. The home at Glendale is known as the Kentucky Baptist Children's Home, and the one at Louisville is called Spring Meadows.

Both institutions are undertaking large building programs, according to Mr. V. V. Cooke of Louisville, Chairman of the Joint Thanksgiving Offering Committee.

Mr. Cooke pointed out that the need is far greater this year than ever before since the cost of building has increased tremendously in recent years.

The Thanksgiving Offering is taken in all Baptist churches on Thanksgiving Day or on the Sunday preceding or following, but contributions may be sent direct to Kentucky Baptist Children's Homes, 1022 South First Street, Louisville.

Drug Store Opening
Shows City's Progress

The newest "new look" in Murray was displayed to hundreds of townspeople today when the traditional corner drugstore, Dale and Stubbins, opened its doors.

The $28,000 job of redecorating began last summer while the firm took temporary quarters in the old Purdon hardware building. Side-walk kibitzers fondly remember the bulldozers and trucks calmly at work excavating for the basement.

As though a business property speckling a truckload of dirt were a common sight in Murray.

The completely remodelled store now takes its place as one of the most modern drugstores in Kentucky. Everything is new, from the floor to modernistic lighting, from the soda fountain to the prescription department.

The present firm had its beginning at the turn of the century when Vernon Stubbins, Sr., started working for Martin Dale and Co. in the same location. In 1908 he bought into the company and was a partner. The firm name was then changed—to Dale and Stubbins which it remains today. In 1935 two sons, Vernon, Jr., and Frank Albert, bought the share of the business belonging to Mr. Dale and he retired in California where he still lives.

Both Vernon, Sr. and Vernon, Jr., are registered pharmacists, and the firm enjoys a reputation of dependability in pharmaceutical work.

The store this morning was filled with many congratulatory bouquets from Murray well-wishers who expressed their appreciation for this newest evidence of progress in the community.

Hot Watermelons—ST. LOUIS (EP)—Anthony Ingolia put in a frantic call to the fire department. A fire was threatening the contents of his watermelon truck. After firemen extinguished the blaze, they returned to the engine house laden with tokens of Ingolia's gratitude—eight watermelons.

Tigers Have Tough Foes For Thanksgiving Day Game Here

The Murray High Tigers will be up against some tough opposition in their annual Turkey Day game here this year, according to reports.

The opponents will be Central High of Nashville, Tenn.

Central is considered one of the better teams in Nashville, having broken even in their games to date. They have played such outstanding teams as Isaac Litton, Middle Tennessee (the top ranking high school team in Tennessee), Rather Ryan and other Nashville powerhouses.

Two weeks ago they defeated Cohan high school by two touchdowns, and last week lost to Chattanooga Central, 13 to 12 in Chattanooga.

Murray coaches who have scouted Central were impressed with their passing attack and also their defensive play. They believe the Tigers will have to play their best game of the year but have a chance of winning.

Murray will carry a seven won, two lost record into the game, but it is conceded that Central, with four won, four lost, one tie, has played the toughest schedule.

This will be Murray's first clash with a Nashville school. Game time has been set for 2:00 p.m.

Kentuckians therefore may be consoled in the fact that taxes per average are much lower in Kentucky than in the group of all other states.

In 1913, 80 per cent of all our taxes in Kentucky were based on property but by 1947 the property-based tax dropped to 41 per cent.

Dr. Martin stated that, "although local government taxes in Kentucky have risen in the past five years, this rise has not been as fast as in the average of all states."

The expert declared that, "Property assessments are so low in certain areas that the effect is to cut the rate restrictions to one-third or one-half those provided by law. The valuations are so unequal as to make heavy property taxes highly discriminatory."

Whether Mr. Truman persuades Marshall to remain—whether he uses the right words in asking him to remain—only the President and Marshall will know of course.

But aside from foreign policy, domestic problems will claim a good deal of time from the President now that he's back in Washington. He has to get up three important statements for congress in the next six weeks—his report on the state of the nation; his economic report; and his budget report.

The President at Key West did preliminary work on the first two. But the budget message will be the most difficult to prepare. From all indications, the budget message may call for record peacetime spending.

The big question here is whether new tax increases will be needed. It's almost certain that the President will not favor the government running into the red again. He'll have to do with about $5-billion dollars less in government income because of the tax cut approved over his veto. And if budget estimates top expected income, there's little question there will be tax recommendations in the President's message.

China, then as secretary of state for many years. He frequently has talked of his desire to get out from under when things look ripe and be rid of official duties.

The Secretary took no part in the political campaign. He felt it was out of his place because of the bi-partisan character of our foreign policy. But it's no secret that he looked forward with pleasure to retirement. If President Truman were defeated in the elections.

RECORD BREAKING
YULETIDE MAIL

Postmaster Harry Sledd today appealed to local residents to plan to mail all Christmas greeting cards and gift packages "just as early in December as possible."

An even heavier flood of Yuletide mail is expected this Christmas than during the record-breaking 1947 holiday season, when the local post office cancelled 339,420 pieces of mail.

"If you postpone mailing to the last minute this year," the Postmaster warned, "you risk disappointing your friends. Your holiday messages and gifts may be caught in the rush and perhaps not delivered until after Christmas."

All packages should be mailed before December 10 to assure delivery before Christmas Day, he said. Christmas cards for out-of-state delivery also should be mailed by December 10 and cards for local addresses should be in the collection box at least a week before December 25.

Early Christmas mailing is extremely vital, the Postmaster said, because handling the Christmas mail load is divided into three phases. First, the mail for out-of-town must be collected and dispatched by rail or air. Then, delivery of Yuletide greetings being exchanged locally becomes the big job. Finally, there is the last-minute flood of cards and packages from out-of-town to be handled.

"Whenever these three operations overlap, there's a jam in the post office and deliveries are delayed," the Postmaster declared.

The post office is already making emergency preparations to meet the Christmas rush. The Postmaster said they are training extra mail clerks and carriers, dusting off uniforms, oiling up the stamp-cancellation machines, opening new service windows, and collecting and overhauling delivery trucks.

There are even new pen points in the famed post office pens, and the post office has stocked up with thousands of bright new postage stamps for the Christmas mail.

"We would appreciate it if people would stop in next week and purchase the extra stamps they're going to need," the Postmaster said. "This is one phase of Christmas shopping that everyone can contribute to and thus avoid the last-minute crowds at post office windows."

Flower girls were Sandra Sue Ross, Jeanette Tabers, Janice Pace, and Anna Pearl Hopkins.

Late Bulletins

WASHINGTON—The plane carrying Secretary of State Marshall and his party from Paris landed at Washington at 10:05 a.m. EDT.

President Truman was at National Airport to meet the secretary.

WASHINGTON—President Truman has a series of important meetings scheduled today. The most important conference will be his talk with Secretary of State Marshall who returned from Europe this morning. Mr. Truman also will meet with roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and possibly Defense Secretary Forrestal.

Incidentally, the President walked to work this morning. The Trumans are living in Blair House, across from the White House, while the executive mansion is being repaired. However, the President's offices still are being used despite the extensive alterations to the rest of the mansion.

PARIS—The President of the UN Security Council—Juan Ramon Fernandez—is expected to get answers to a questionnaire on Berlin from the Big Four today. The answers to the

The three-day annual convention of the Kentucky Farm Bureau federation opened in Louisville this morning, with some 3,000 persons expected to attend.

A large delegation from Calloway county had planned to attend the meeting. Named as official delegates were B. H. Dixon, secretary of the county organization; directors, Hansford Doran, Lynn Grove; E. L. Kuykendall, Hazel; Taz Zell, Kirksey; Herman Darnell, Farmington; and Paul Blalock, Hazel; also C. O. Bonduant of the county extension office and Buell Edmonds, manager of the Calloway County Co-op.

The Associated Women's department also is in session. Delegates from the county are Mrs. Hansford Doran, chairman, Lynn Grove, and Mrs. Stark Erwin, vice-chairman, Hazel.

Jackson Darnell of the Coldwater community, is attending the convention as a prize for winning the 1948 Corn Derby in this county.

Barkley Jones, Murray State college student from Lynn Grove, will represent the First District at the Rural Youth Talk Meet. He will speak extemporaneously on some phase of the general topic, "Rural Health Problems Facing America." Jones received first place in the Farm Bureau district speaking contest in Mayfield.

Today's features on the program will include farm commodity conferences.

Tonight Lewis F. Allen of Bowling Green, federation president, will deliver an address. The Farm Bureau's beauty queen also will be chosen tonight.

Almo High
Crowned Queen

Coronation of the basketball queens at Almo high school took place Friday night when the Warriors played Melber high school.

Yvette Bagwell, sophomore, was crowned senior queen, and Joyce Bizzle, fifth grade, was crowned junior queen.

Attendees to the queens were Lalah Alice Henderson, senior; Doris Jean Miller, junior; Betty Sue Ahart, freshman; Betty Lou Henderson, eighth grade; Evelyn Jones seventh grade; Martha Shepard, sixth grade; Ola Mae Burken, fourth grade; Wanda Taylor, third grade; Peggy Cleaver, second grade; and Nancy Lovins, first grade.

A Column For Women

A Better-Half Speaks

Take it from actor Melvyn Douglas—about 50th the husband of a glamorous lady politician can't do is learn to keep his mouth shut.

Douglas, who's married to Democratic congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas of California, is getting ready to see the beautiful missus through a third term. Douglas says:

"People feel sorry for movie queens' husbands. That's nothing.
 At least they can see when enemies of their wives get too insulting."

The actor says that the gossip and name-calling that goes on in Hollywood is kindergarten stuff to politics. And don't think Douglas says that they stop with eggs with either.
 Her enemies have plenty to say about the guy she's married to.

The actor says that since the missus quit acting to go into politics in 1944, their social life has been making a beeline.

That's not so bad, he says, but he got a scare last June when there was talk of Mrs. Douglas for the vice presidential nomination.

Douglas says it didn't work out, but he kept thinking of what that would make him—second lady of the land? Or vice-presidential consort?

Narrow Escape

There's an unwritten law of the theater that the show must go on.
 Well, musical comedy star Dorothy Sarnoff says she sees nothing unusual about that. And she proved it last night.

Miss Sarnoff was kneeling, singing a prayerful song in the broadway musical "Magdalena" when a flood-light directly over the stage exploded. It showered bits of hot glass and pieces of red hot filament on her.

A woman in the audience screamed. "Her hair's on fire!" and there-rose to their feet in excitement.

But Miss Sarnoff kept singing, while the leading man, John Ruff, rushed across the stage to beat out the fire with his hands.

And the show went on—minus a patch of Miss Sarnoff's hair, and with a few blisters adorning the hands of her leading man.

For a Snowy Sleep

If you're one of the thousands who spend winter weekends on ski slopes, you'll be interested in a brand new fashion on ski apparel.

It's a steal from the Swiss milkman and his spouse.

A group of colorful embroidered, free-swinging smocks in wind-breaking poplin are included in a new ski collection at the New York store. Some are imported from Switzerland and others are American adaptations of Alpine styles.

December Plentiful

The Department of Agriculture puts four new items on the December list of plentiful foods which the department says usually give you more for your dollar than an alternative scarce item.

The additions are canned peas,
 grade B eggs and cheese.

Carry-overs from the November list include these fruits—table grapes, winter pears, grapefruit, oranges, cranberries, prunes, raisins, and apples. Other carry-overs are cabbage, carrots, onions, potatoes and dried figs. Other carry-overs are corn products, corn meal, grits and corn syrup, pecans, peanut butter, honey, and fish.

Christmas Shopping Tip

There are 29 more shopping days until Christmas, including today, and here is the gift suggestion of the day.

It's an apron for baby. It's made of wipeable plastic, with baby's name painted in front. Cost is around one-dollar.

Household Hint

Here's today's household hint—one for the thrifty cook. When jelly has turned to sugar, it can be made into a delicious syrup for waffles or pancakes. Add one-half glass of water to one glass of jelly, and heat just long enough to make it dissolve.

 Laughton, British actor who plays the lead in "The Man on the Eiffel Tower," first full-length American picture to be filmed in France, talks over a proposed Arab nightclub scene with Aziza Nery, a miss from Gabes, Tunisia, and one of the Orient's most famous dancers.

Homemakers At New Concord Meet With Mrs. Patterson

The New Concord Homemakers Club met Nov. 18 at 1 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Taft Patterson.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Charles Stubblefield in the absence of Mrs. Farris, president, who was at the bed-side of her little daughter, Judith.

The devotional was given by Miss Erin Montgomery.

The roll-call was answered by telling how Thanksgiving was observed in childhood.

The minor project lesson, Letter-
 Cues, was given by the leader, Mrs.
 Charles Bury.

The major project lesson was given by the leaders, Mrs. Charles Stubblefield and Miss Erin Montgomery. The subject was Selection and Buying Woolen Materials.

The next meeting will be Dec. 17,
 10:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs.
 Charles Stubblefield.

Each member is to bring a covered dish and a gift to be exchanged with a fellow-homemaker.

The hostess, Mrs. Patterson, assisted by Mesdames Sheltch Can-tady and Charles Stubblefield, served a party-plate to the following members: Mesdames Bill Kingius,

Amos McCarty, Charles Bury,
 Wade Roberts, Marvin Winchester and Miss Erin, Mary, Ruth Montgomery. One visitor, Mrs. Rhodes, Murray.

The club is glad to report three new members this year: Mesdames Linus Speland, Rainey Ivins and Shelton Canady.

Mt. Hebron WSCS Meets Wednesday

The Mt. Hebron W. S. of C. S. met Wednesday afternoon.

Thirty Million Americans Are Going to Church This Week

THIS WEEK thirty million Americans will attend services of the Churches and Synagogues of the nation. Each in his own way will be showing his faith in God, the same faith on which our forefathers founded this nation.
 All of us need that faith. It can give us the strength and purpose necessary for these times. Without faith, hope is lost; with it, we can find peace and happiness.

GO TO CHURCH THIS SABBATH! Join the thirty million Americans who will be expressing their faith in God! And support your Church liberally.

REMEMBER?

By B. W.

Remember a long, long time ago, in a land way across the Atlantic Ocean, there were some people called Pilgrims?

If your children do not know this, tell them. The story should be told to every American child.

These people lived under a king of the wicked type who wouldn't let them do what they wanted to do. They wanted to worship God in their own way, and he would not let them.

So they got together, first in one home—and then another, and they locked the doors, and they talked—so that no one outside could hear—about what they ought to do. And they decided to rig up a ship and sail to the other side of the world. They decided to sail to America.

After many weeks on the water, they arrived on strange shores. The woods were all about them, and not even the promise of food. Yet they got down on their knees and thanked God that they were safe. The men went into the woods and cut trees and built homes. Some of them were killed by Indians, others became ill and could not recover. Then winter came, growing cold, and many of the band died. But the others carried on. And in the spring they planted seeds for food for their wives and children and themselves to eat. That year when the harvest was in, they all knelt and thanked God for being so good to them. They had their troubles, but at least they had their freedom. They felt that nothing was better than freedom—and nothing is.

It has been a long time since the Pilgrims first came here. But every fall we still have Thanksgiving. For no matter what happens—whether we have war, or sickness, or trouble of any kind—just like the Pilgrims, we can still do what we want to do here in America. We still have freedom.

And that's why we have Thanksgiving, for nobody else in the world has quite what we have, here in America.

Some day maybe everywhere in the world they'll have Thanksgiving, because maybe some day, everywhere else in the world, they will have what we have here in America.

"We do not think it would hurt us, right now, not only to thank God for what we have, but to pray to him that everybody, everywhere in the world, can some day be just as lucky as we are.

Don't you think we ought to?

Mr. W. E. Hutten of Dickson, Tenn., was a week-end visitor in the city. Mrs. Hutten, who had been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Gladys Holland, Mrs. Minnie Jones and Mrs. Garnett Jones for a week, accompanied him home, Sunday.

What do we have to be thankful for?

Just three short years since V-J Day — and once again the headlines talk of war and the threat of war.

Prices have skyrocketed — and even for the bare necessities of life, a dollar goes hardly half as far as it once did.

Tens of thousands of families are still doubled up — or living in trailers because of the critical housing shortage.

Brother, it may be Thanksgiving — but what do we have to be thankful for?

What do we have? Listen...

We have a land where we can yawp to high heaven about our very troubles — and DO something about them.

We have a land where we can leave the shades up at night — and meet in more than two's and three's — and discuss politics, religion, personalities or anything we please.

We have a land where we can go to the church of our choice, send our children to schools where we know they'll be taught the truth, pick and choose the job that we like best — and leave it if it doesn't live up to our expectations.

We have a land where the police tip their hats to US, where we can cross state lines without submitting to inspection by border guards, where what we buy is not determined by whether we belong to the governing political party or not.

We have a land where the Four Freedoms are not a distant hope but a present reality.

What do we have to be thankful for? Brother — our AMERICAN HERITAGE.

LET'S NOT LOSE IT!

Peace of Mind all through the Night

with a convenient Extension Telephone within arm's reach

Sleep is sounder and nights are safer when an extension telephone is on guard.

This is one of the many advantages an extension telephone provides for the home and family. An extension saves time and steps. It improves your service and makes your telephone more valuable by increasing its usefulness. Extension telephones can now be installed in homes at small cost. You don't need to write us or come to the office. Just call our Business Office.

Orders for main telephone service are sometimes delayed because of shortages of central office and other equipment, which are not involved in the installation of extension telephones. That's why you can now get extension telephones, though there may still be delays in furnishing main telephone service.

Girl Scout Stamp Presented

ONE of the first sheets of the Juliette Gordon Low Girl Scout commemorative three-cent stamp was presented to L. C. Stowell, president of Underwood Corporation by Gladys Moore, 12 year old Girl Scout, of 419 York Street, Burlington, New Jersey. This stamp, first issued through the Savannah, Georgia post office, honors the founder and organizer of Girl Scouts in the United States, and Miss Moore was especially selected to make this presentation.

A friend of Lord Robert Powell, who originated the scouting idea for boys and girls, Mrs. Juliette Low, a native of Savannah, observed the work of the Girl Guides in England and introduced the movement to this country. The more than a million and a half Girl Scouts and leaders, plus millions of friends and former Girl Scouts, carry on the work and spirit of this organization.

Ave, Ava!

AVA GARDNER, M-G-M's alluring new queen of glamour was hailed to the stellar ranks when she began her role opposite Robert Taylor in "The Bribe," new romantic mystery story. Born in North Carolina, Ava hit the star trail when a photographer sent her picture to the studio. Result: a test!

EXOTIC—Reminiscent of a Tanagra figurine is this white-satin gown with harem-draped skirt and a strapless bodice trimmed with blister pearls and diamonds. Designer Jacques Fath completes the costume with wide satin scarf.

SCARF DRAMA—A brick-red jersey scarf that ties beneath a collar of heroic proportions distinguishes Jeanne Lafaurie's casual coat for travel or for town wear. The full-cut coat of yellow and velveteen cloth depends upon the scarf to keep it closed.

Dexter News

A "PEACE PLATE" FOR TODAY

Save Wheat! Save Meat! Save the Peace!

TUESDAY PEACE PLATE

Today's Peace Plate features a fluffy omelet — one of those delicious dishes which thrifty French homemakers have long used to keep down meat bills. The French have two types of omelets. There is the simple omelet, in which eggs are slightly beaten, liquid and seasoning added, and the mixture cooked in melted fat. And there is the very delicate fluffy omelet which is suggested for today.

The French also vary their omelets by adding some touch of bright flavor and color to the golden egg dish. Jelly is fine for this. Try garnishing a fluffy omelet with tart current jelly, and if your jelly supply permits, spread some over the top before folding.

FLUFFY OMELET

4 eggs
4 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon pepper
1 tablespoon cooking fat

Separate eggs and beat yolks thoroughly. Add milk, salt and pepper. Gradually add the egg whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Gradually add the egg whites and beat until stiff but not dry. Cook over low heat until the omelet is lightly browned on the bottom. Finish by baking the omelet in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 10 to 15 minutes or until firm on top. Crease the omelet in the center, fold over.

Eastside Homemakers Meet At Home Of Mrs. Leslie Gilbert

The regular meeting of the Eastside Homemakers Club was called to order at 1:30 p. m. by Mrs. Thomas Parker, chairman. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Leslie Gilbert at 303 S. 5th St.

Mrs. Gilbert gave the devotional and Mrs. Rupert Lassiter led the prayer. The roll call was answered by telling one way in which you observed Thanksgiving as a child. Mrs. Curtis Hays, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Rolly Kelley.

Mrs. Thomas Parker was appointed as delegate for Farm and Home Week which will be held in January. An alternate will be appointed in the event Mrs. Parker cannot attend.

The major project entitled "The Selection and Buying of Woolen Materials" was given by Mrs. Sam Adams.

In the lesson all types of woollens were discussed. The care of woollens, the preferred methods of working with them, and equipment necessary for best results were discussed. Special stress was given to the ways of preserving materials and to preparing sleeves so as to have the desired smooth shoulder.

A minor project lesson was given by Mrs. Curtis Hays. The lesson, in the "Etiquette of Letter Writing" gave the different types of letters and the correct ways of writing them. Both formal and informal letters were studied. The promptness, neatness and sincerity of letters were stressed.

The month's courtesy cues are: No one should open a letter addressed to another person so that person is a member of one's own family.

DESERT DESTINY

by JOSEPH CHADWICK

Tracy Hayden has always lived on the Arizona ranch owned by old Senora Maria Garrison. She's a favorite of the old lady, whose only surviving grandson, Phil Garrison, whom she has never seen, she sends Tracy to Baltimore to bring him West, hoping that he will take charge of the ranch. Meanwhile, in Baltimore, Phil is being hunted by Jim Conroy, a man whom he wronged when both were with the Flying Tigers in China. Tracy meets Jim, mistakes him for Phil, and induces him to come to the ranch for a month. As she has had romantic dreams about Phil, she falls in love with Jim and is jealous when Ruth Garrison flirts with him. When she discovers he is an impostor, she's bitter. However, having no disillusion the Senora, she agrees that he should continue the imposture. Then, Phil comes West without knowing that it wouldn't do to reveal that Jim had palmed himself off as Phil Garrison, but she had to say something. "That's why he's at the ranch."

Tracy wondered how much she dared tell him. "Caution suggests that it wouldn't do to reveal that Jim had palmed himself off as Phil Garrison, but she had to say something. "That's why he's at the ranch."

CHAPTER XXIX

WHEN the Mexican boy to whom Tracy had entrusted her note to Phil Garrison returned from Lanassa, he brought her an answer. She opened it and read:

Dear Miss Hayden:—Thanks for the note. I am grateful for the information that James Conroy is at the Garrison ranch. Following your suggestion, I shall postpone my visit until his departure. It was unfortunate that you had to witness that unpleasant scene between Conroy and me. It is possible for us to meet? I should like very much to have a talk with you. I shall be at the hotel this evening if you care to meet me here.

Sincerely, Philip Garrison.

Tracy looked up at the Mexican boy. "Be sure not to tell anyone about delivering these notes," she cautioned. "It is important that no one know. You understand?"

"Si, Senorita," the boy replied. Tracy dismissed him and went up to her room. A fluttery excitement rose in her at the thought that Phil Garrison wanted to see her. Well, she would go to Lanassa this evening and meet him.

THAT evening, when Tracy climbed out of her car in front of the hotel in Lanassa, Phil was on the porch and came down the steps to meet her. She felt her heartbeat quicken. He was handsome and attractive. Surely all that Jim had said about him could be explained—or would turn out to be untrue.

"Hello! I'm glad you came." He spoke as though they knew each other well. "I hope you've forgotten my behavior this afternoon. The waitress at that restaurant hasn't. She sent the sheriff around to see me."

"Oh, I'm so sorry!" Tracy said. "Did he cause you any trouble?"

"Not a great deal, but I had quite a job convincing him I'm a Garrison—one of the Garrisons."

He laughed a little, as though it no longer mattered, and he was looking at Tracy in the interested way of a man looking at a pretty girl.

When they had entered the hotel and seated themselves in a secluded nook, Tracy tried to explain her position at the Garrison ranch. She told Philip that her mother had been a country schoolteacher and her father a Garrison ranch-hand. She explained that she had grown up at the ranch, she had a claim on you, that you were her sweetheart. No man is safe from Ruth!

"My father was killed in an accident, and my mother died shortly afterward," she said. "I was only twelve. Senora Maria, your grandmother, sort of adopted me. I'm almost a part of the family."

SHOPPERS' GUIDE

WHAT'RE YOU SUGGESTING FOR THANKSGIVING?

IT WOULDN'T BE THANKSGIVING WITHOUT SOME OF THE OLD FAVORITES —

TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL
WALDORF SALAD
ROAST TURKEY 'N' DRESSING
OLIVES, CELERY AND PICKLES
MASHED POTATOES - GIBLET GRAVY
CANDIED YAMS - CRANBERRY SAUCE
CREAMED PEAS
ROLLS AND BUTTER
PUMPKIN PIE - MINCE PIE and COFFEE, TEA, OR MILK.

Roast Turkey
(This recipe is for a half-turkey)

Rub inside of cleaned turkey half with salt. Sew wing tightly to body or fasten with a skewer put in firmly at an angle. Sew drumstick to tail.

Make 1/2 to 3/4 of recipe for dressing for whole turkey. Pack cavity with stuffing, and cover with several layers of heavy paper to hold stuffing in place. Place paper side down, not cover pan or add water. Roast in very moderate oven (300 F), basting several times with drippings. Allow 35 to 40 minutes per pound for a turkey weighing 7 to 9 pounds.
